

HOLY BIBLE

THE AUTHORIZED VERSION;

WITH

NOTES, EXPLANATORY AND PRACTICAL

TAKEN PRINCIPALLY FROM THE

OF THE EMINENT WRITERS OF THE UNITED CHURCH OF ENGLAND AND IRELAND

TOGETHER WITH APPROPRIATE

INTRODUCTIONS, TABLES, INDEXES, MAPS, AND PLANS

PREFACED AND ARRANGED BY

THE REV GEORGE D'OYLY, B D

AND

THE REV RICHARD MANT, D D

DOMESTICK CHAPLAINS TO HIS GRACE THE LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF

THE SOCIETY FOR PROMOTING CHRISTIAN KNOWLEDGE.

---

For the Use of Families.

---

VOL II

---

OXFORD,

PRINTED FOR THE SOCIETY AT THE CLARENDON PRESS,

BY BENNEY, COOKE, AND COLLINGWOOD, PRINTERS TO THE UNIVERSITY

W F G AND J RIVINGTON, BOOKSELLERS TO THE SOCIETY, ST PAUL'S CHURCH-YARD

AND BY ALL OTHER BOOKSELLERS IN THE UNITED KINGDOM.

1817

Omnia Privilegia

to and the altar by conflict, because the altar and sanctuary and the temple were in danger.

18 For the care that they took for their wives and their children, their brethren, and kinsfolks, was in least account with them, but the greatest and principal fear was for the holy temple.

19 Also they that were in the city took not in least care, being troubled for the conflict abroad.

20 And now, when as all looked what should be the trial, and the enemies were already come near, and the army was set in array, and the beasts conveniently placed, and the horsemen set in wings,

21 Maccabeus seeing the coming of the multitude, and the divers preparations of armour, and the fierceness of the beasts, stretched out his hands toward heaven, and called upon the Lord that worketh wonders, knowing that victory cometh not by arms, but even as it seemeth good to him, he giveth it to such as are worthy.

22 Therefore in his prayer he said after this manner; O Lord, thou didst send thine angel in the time of Ezekias king of Judea, and didst slay in the heat of Sennacherib an hundred fourscore and five thousand.

23 Wherefore now also, O Lord of heaven, send a good angel before us for a fear and dread unto them;

24 And through the might of thine arm let those be stricken with terror, that come against thy holy people to blaspheme. And he ended thus.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him came forward with trumpets and songs.

26 But Judas and his company encountered the enemies with invocation and prayer.

27 So that fighting with their hands, and praying unto God with their hearts, they slew no less than thirty and five thousand men: for through the appearance of God they were greatly cheered.

28 Now when the battle was done, returning again with joy, they knew that Nicanor lay dead in his harness.

29 Then they made a great shout and a noise, praising the Almighty in their own language.

30 And Judas, who was ever the chief defender of the citizens both in body and mind, and who continued his love toward his countrymen all his life, commanded to strike off Nicanor's head, and his hand with his shoulder, and bring them to Jerusalem.

31 So when he was there, and had called them of his nation together, and set the priests before the altar, he sent for them that were of the tower,

32 And shewed them vile Nicanor's head, and the hand of that blasphemer, which with proud brags he had stretched out against the holy temple of the Almighty.

33 And when he had cut out the tongue of that ungodly Nicanor, he commanded that they should give it by pieces unto the fowls, and hang up the reward of his madness before the temple.

34 So every man praised toward the heaven the glorious Lord, saying, Blessed be he that hath kept his own place undefiled.

35 He hanged also Nicanor's head upon the tower, an evident and manifest sign unto all of the help of the Lord.

36 And they ordained all with a common decree in no case to let that day pass without solemnity, but to celebrate the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which in the Syrian tongue is called Adar, the day before Mardocheus' day.

37 Thus went it with Nicanor, and from that time forth the Hebrews had the city in their power. And here will I make an end.

38 And if I have done well, and as is fitting the story, it is that which I desired, but if slenderly and meanly, it is that which I could attain unto.

39 For as it is hurtful to drink wine or water alone, and as wine mingled with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste, even so speech finely framed delighteth the ears of them that read the story. And here shall be an end.

COMPENDIOUS VIEW OF THE JEWISH HISTORY

DURING TWO PERIODS,

THE EVENTS OF WHICH ARE NOT RECORDED IN THE BIBLE OR APOCRYPHA

NAMLLA,

- I From the Death of Nehemiah to the Commencement of the History of the Maccabees,
- II From the Conclusion of the Maccabees to the Commencement of the Gospel History.

ABSTRACTED FROM DR HALES'S NEW ANALYSIS OF CHRONOLOGY.

I From the Death of Nehemiah to the Commencement of the History of the Maccabees

AFTER Nehemiah there were no more Persian governors sent to Judca. It was annexed to the province of Coele-Syria, and the administration of Jewish affairs left to the high priests, subject however to the control of the provincial governors.

Jonathin, (or, as Josephus calls him, John,) who came from the bad stock of Eliashib, in the eighth year of his pontificate, atrociously murdered his own brother Jesus, within the sacred precincts of the sanctuary itself, jealous of his superior interest with the Persian governor Bagoses, who intended to make him high priest. On hearing the horrible deed, Bagoses went to the temple, and when the priests attempted to hinder him from entering the sanctuary, he indignantly replied, "Am not I purer than the murdered person there?" For this he persecuted the Jews, and laid a heavy tribute on the lambs offered for burnt sacrifices, which was not remitted till the accession of Ochus to the crown of Persia, B C 358.

Afterwards the Jews incurred the displeasure of this prince, by joining, probably, with the revolted provinces of Phœnicia and Egypt for which he took a severe revenge, for he marched into Judca, besieged and took Jericho, and carried away a great number of captive Jews, whom he transplanted into Egypt southward, and into Hyrcania northwards.

This severity perhaps deterred the Jews from joining Alexander the Great at first when he invaded the Persian dominions. For they declined his overtures, and refused to send him provision while he was engaged in the siege of Tyre. Provoked at this, he threatened to punish them. Accordingly, B C 332 after he had reduced Tyre, he marched towards Jerusalem with his army, but he was met at Sapha, an eminence near Jerusalem which commanded a view of the city and temple by a solemn procession consisting of Jaddua the high priest dressed in his pontifical robes, attended by the priests in their proper habits and the rest of the people in white garments as Jaddua had been commanded in a vision of the night. When they approached Alexander struck with awful respect advanced alone to meet the high priest, saluted him first and adored the sacred name of God written on the front of his robe to the great surprise and disappointment of the Phœnicians and Chaldeans, who attended the king, expecting his orders to destroy the priests and plunder the city. While they stood amazed suspecting that Alexander had lost his senses, Parmenio his confidential friend came up and asked him the reason of his conduct. The king replied, "I adore not the high priest, but the God with whose priesthood he is honoured. When I was at Diis in Macedonia, and considering in myself how to subvert Asia, I saw in a dream such a person, in his present dress, who encouraged me not to delay, but to pass over with confidence, for that himself would lead my army, and give me the Persian empire. Since, therefore, I have seen no other person in such a dress as I now see him, and recollect the vision and exhortation in my dream, I think, that having undertaken this expedition by a divine mission, I shall conquer Darius, overthrow the Persian empire, and succeed in all my designs. Having spoken thus to Parmenio, he presented his right hand to the priest, and went into the city, attended by the priests, and going to the temple, he sacrificed according to the high priest's directions, and treated the pontiff and the priests with distinguished honours. The book of Daniel was then shewn unto him in which it was foretold that one of the Greeks should overthrow the Persian empire pleased at which, and thinking that he was the person meant, he dismissed the multitude. The day after summoning them to his presence, he desired them to ask whatever favours they chose. And, at the high priest's request he granted them the free enjoyment of their national laws, and an exemption from tribute every seventh year. He also promised to permit the Jews in Babylon and Media to enjoy their own laws, and offered to take with him on the expedition any of the people that chose to share his fortune, promising them the free use of their own customs and laws which induced many to join him.

This relation of Josephus is confirmed by Origen and is perfectly credible in itself. The same spiritual high priest who revealed to Daniel the vision of the he goat, and the overthrow of the Persian empire by Alexander the Great might also have thus induced and encouraged the Macedonian himself to undertake the expedition. And surely as an instrument of Divine chastisement, he was as worthy of being favoured with Divine communications as Nebuchadnezzar or Belshazzar.

A fact of such publick notoriety as the change of Alexander's wrath suddenly into mildness, in the presence of such a multitude of spectators, could not have been fabricated without detection nor could it have been more rationally accounted for than by Alexander's relation. The historian Justin seems also to allude to this transaction, where he remarks that "Alexander" was met by many kings of the East with mitres.

When Alexander afterwards wanted to rebuild the temple of Belus at Babylon, and employed all his soldiers in turn to remove the rubbish, the Jews alone refused to assist in the work, and suffered many stripes for their refusal and paid heavy fines, until the king, being struck with their firmness, pardoned and gave vision of victuals, that they behaved themselves rudely toward them that were with Judas, railing and blaspheming, and uttering such words as were not to be spoken

15 Wherefore Judas with his company, calling upon the great Lord of the world, who without any rams or engines of war did cast down Jericho in the time of Joshua, gave a fierce assault against the walls,

16 And took the city by the will of God, and made unspeakable slaughters, inso-much that a lake two furlongs broad near adjoining thereunto, being filled full, was seen running with blood

17 Then departed they from thence seven hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to Characa unto the Jews that are called Iubien.

18 But as for Timotheus, they found him not in the places for before he had dispatched any thing, he departed from thence, having left a very strong garrison in a certain hold

19 Howbeit Dositheus and Sosipater, who were of Maccabeus' captains, went forth, and slew those that Timotheus had left in the fortress, above ten thousand men

20 And Maccabeus ranged his army by bands, and set them over the bands, and went against Timotheus, who had about him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, and two thousand and five hundred horsemen

21 Now when Timotheus had knowledge of Judas' coming, he sent the women and children and the other baggage unto a fortress called Carnion for the town was hard to besiege, and uneasy to come unto, by reason of the straitness of all the places

22 But when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies, being smitten with fear and terror through the appearing of him that seeth all things, fled again, one running this way, another that way, so as that they were often hurt of their own men, and wounded with the points of their own swords

23 Judas also was very earnest in pursuing them, killing those wicked wretches, of whom he slew about thirty thousand men

24 Moreover Timotheus himself fell into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him go with his life, because he had many of the Jews' parents, and the brethren of some of them, who, if they put him to death, should not be regarded

25 So when he had assured them with many words that he would restore them without hurt, according to the agreement, they let him go for the saving of their brethren

26 Then Maccabeus marched forth to Carnion, and to the temple of Alargatus, and there he slew five and twenty thousand persons

27 And after he had put to flight and destroyed them, Judas removed the host toward Ephron, a strong city, wherein Iysias abode, and a great multitude of divers nations, and the strong young men kept the walls, and defended them mightily, wherein also was great provision of engines and darts

28 But when Judas and his company had called upon Almighty God, who with his power breaketh the strength of his enemies, they won the city, and slew twenty and five thousand of them that were within

29 From thence they departed to Scythopolis, which hath six hundred furlongs from Jerusalem

30 But when the Jews that dwelt there had testified that the Scythopolitans dealt lovingly with them, and entreated them kindly in the time of their adversity,

31 They gave them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still unto them and so they came to Jerusalem, the feast of the weeks approaching

32 And after the feast, called Pentecost they went forth against Gorgias the governor of Idumea,

33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot and four hundred horsemen

34 And it happened that at their fighting together a few of the Jews were slain

35 At which time Dositheus, one of Bacenor's company, who was on horseback, and a strong man, was still upon Gorgias, and taking hold of his coat drew him by

26 — (Carnion) Called Carnaim in the first book of the Maccabees, chap v 43 Strabo and Ptolemy mention it by the name of (Carp), a city in Arabia Dean Prideaux — Alargatus] A deity, worshipped in different parts of Syria, under the form of a woman in the upper part, and of a fish in the lower part hence conjectured to be the same as Dagon of the Philistines Dean Prideaux

31 — the feast of the weeks] Namely, the feast of Pentecost, as he presently calls it concerning which see Exodus xxxiv 22 Hadwell

before CHRIST
about 164
|| Or put in his arm or in wound him in the stall or stalk
about 164
about 164

force, and when he would have taken that cursed man alive, a horseman of Thracia coming upon him smote off his shoulder, so that Gorgias fled unto Marisa.

36 Now when they that were with Gorgias had fought long, and were weary, Judas called upon the Lord, that he would shew himself to be their helper and leader of the battle

37 And with that he began in his own language, and sung psalms with a loud voice, and rushing unawares upon Gorgias' men, he put them to flight

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city of Odollam And when the seventh day came, they purified themselves, as the custom was, and kept the sabbath in the same place

39 And upon the day following, as the usual been, Judas and his company came to take up the bodies of them that were slain, and to bury them with their kinsmen in their fathers' graves

40 Now under the coats of every one that was slain they found things consecrated to the idols of the Jamnites, which is forbidden the Jews by the law Then every man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slain

41 All men therefore praising the Lord, the righteous Judge, who had opened the things that were hid,

42 Betook themselves unto prayer, and besought him that the sin committed might wholly be put out of remembrance Besides, that noble Judas exhorted the people to keep themselves from sin, forasmuch as they saw before their eyes the things that came to pass for the sins of those that were slain

40 — they found things consecrated to the idols of the Jamnites] Whence it appeared that these Jews had been worshippers of those idols So great was the force and contagion of superstition, whilst they dwelt amongst idolaters Badnell

41 — to pray for the dead] See the Introduction The Rabbists who in deference to the decision of the Council of Trent admit the canonical authority of this book have produced the last verses of the fourteenth chapter to countenance their notions concerning purgatory and prayers for the dead Dr Cramer

We are to make a difference here between the story that the author relates and the author's own reflections upon it for we ought not to make any great account of his reflections the chief being only his private thoughts And as he has the modesty to ask the reader pardon for his defects, so it is very plain that he often needs considerable allowance What Judas did seems from the relation to be no more than this that he finding some things consecrated to the idols of the Jamnites about the bodies of those who were killed concluded that to have been the cause of their death and upon this he and all his men betook themselves to prayer and besought God that the sin might be wholly put out of remembrance, he exhorted his people to keep themselves by that example from

43 And when he had made a gathering throughout the company to the sum of two thousand drachms of silver, he sent it to Jerusalem to offer a sin offering, doing therein very well and honestly, in that he was mindful of the resurrection

44 For if he had not hoped that they that were slain should have risen again, it had been superfluous and vain to pray for the dead

45 And also in that he perceived that there was great favour laid up for those that died godly, it was an holy and good thought Whereupon he made a reconciliation for the dead, that they might be delivered from sin.

CHAP. XIII

1 Eupator invadeth Judea 15 Judas by night slayeth many 18 Eupator's purpose is defeated 23 He maketh peace with Judas

IN the hundred forty and ninth year it was told Judas, that Antiochus Eupator was coming with a great power into Judea,

2 And with him Lysias his protector, and ruler of his affairs, having either of them a Grecian power of footmen, an hundred and ten thousand, and horsemen five thousand and three hundred, and elephants two and twenty, and three hundred chariots armed with hooks

3 Menelaus also joined himself with them, and with great dissimulation encouraged Antiochus, not for the safeguard of the country, but because he thought to have been made governor

4 But the King of kings moved Antiochus' mind against this wicked wretch, and Lysias informed the king that this man was the cause of all mischief, so that the like sin, and he made a collection of a sum of money and sent it to Jerusalem, to offer a sin offering before the Lord This agrees very well with the Jewish dispensation It had appeared in the days of Joshua how much guilt the sin of Achan, though but one person, had brought upon the whole congregation Josh chap vii and their law had upon another occasion prescribed a sin offering for the whole congregation, to expiate blood that was shed when the murderer could not be discovered, that so the judgments of God might not come upon them, by reason of the cry of that blood And by a parity of reason, Judas might have offered such a sin offering, to free himself and his men from the guilt which the idolatry of a few might have brought upon greater numbers such a sacrifice as this might according to the nature of that law, have been offered but to offer a sin offering for the dead was a new thing without ground or any intimation of any thing like it in their law So that there is no reason to doubt, but that according to the narrative Judas offered this sin offering for the living and not for the dead And we are not much concerned in the opinion which the author of the book had concerning it for as the book is of no authority for the establishment of any doctrine so it is highly probable that Judas's design in the oblation was misunderstood by the historian Bp Burnet

CHRIST
about 164

about 164

the king commanded to bring him unto Berea, and to put him to death, as the manner is in that place.

5 Now there was in that place a tower of fifty cubits high, full of ashes, and it had a round instrument, which on every side hanged down into the ashes.

6 And whosoever was condemned of sacrifice, or had committed any other grievous crime, there did all men thrust him unto death.

7 Such a death it happened that wicked man to die, not having so much as burial in the earth, and that most justly.

8 For inasmuch as he had committed many sins about the altar, whose fire and ashes were holy, he received his death in ashes.

9 Now the king came with a barbarous and haughty mind to do far worse to the Jews, than had been done in his father's time.

10 Which things when Judas perceived, he commanded the multitude to call upon the Lord night and day, that if ever at any other time, he would now also help them, being at the point to be put from their law, from their country, and from the holy temple.

11 And that he would not suffer the people, that had even now been but a little refreshed, to be in subjection to the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had all done this together, and besought the merciful Lord with weeping and fasting, and lying flat upon the ground three days long, Judas, having exhorted them, commanded they should be in a readiness.

13 And Judas, being apart with the elders, determined, before the king's host should enter into Judea, and get the city, to go forth and try the matter in fight by the help of the Lord.

14 So when he had committed all to the Creator of the world, and exhorted his soldiers to fight manfully, even unto death, for the laws, the temple, the city, the country, and the commonwealth, he camped by Modin.

15 And having given the watchword to them that were about him, Victory is of God, with the most valiant and choice young men he went in into the king's tent by night, and slew in the camp about four thousand men, and the chiefest of the elephants, with all that were upon him.

16 And at last they filled the camp with fear and tumult, and departed with good success.

17 This was done in the break of the day, because the protection of the Lord did help him.

18 Now when the king had taken a taste of the manliness of the Jews, he went about to take the holds by policy.

19 And marched toward Bethsura, which was a strong hold of the Jews, but he was put to flight, failed, and lost of his men.

20 For Judas had conveyed unto them that were in it such things as were necessary.

21 But Rhodocus, who was in the Jews' host, disclosed the secrets to the enemies, therefore he was sought out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 The king treated with them in Bethsura the second time, gave his hand, took their's, departed, fought with Judas, was overcome.

23 Heard that Philip, who was left over the affairs in Antioch, was desperately bent, confounded, intreated the Jews, submitted himself, and swaie to all equal conditions, agreed with them, and offered sacrifice, honoured the temple, and dealt kindly with the place.

24 And accepted well of Maccabeus, made him principal governor from Ptolemus unto the Gerihemans.

25 Came to Ptolemus the people there were grieved for the covenants, for they stormed, because they would make their covenants void.

26 Lysias went up to the judgment seat, said as much as could be in defence of the cause, persuaded, pacified, made them well affected, returned to Antioch. Thus it

CHRIST
about 163.

Or
rebell d

Or, had had a better refuge

Or,
Lord

Chap XIII ver 5 — a tower of fifty cubits high ] This was one of the Persian modes of punishing great criminals with death. The manner of it, as here described, appears to have been this. The high tower was filled up with ashes, the criminal from the top thrown down headlong into them, the ashes of a wheel were continually stirred up and raised about him, he was smothered and died. Stat House — made him principal governor from Ptolemus unto the Gerihemans ] From this year, before Christ 163, Josephus dates the accession of Judas Maccabeus to the principality of Judea reckoning from thence to the death of Antigonus the last of the dynasty which was before Christ 37 126 years current, or 127 years complete. Dr Hales

25 — the people there were grieved for the covenants &c ] The cause of their grief and indignation seems to have been the peace made with the Jews, whereby the terms of the peace which the king had made with them, appeared to be violated. Baunell

Before
(CHRIS)
about 163

went touching the king's coming and departing

CHAP. XIV

Alcimus accuseth Judas 8 Nicanor maketh peace with Judas 39 He seeketh to take Raisa, 46 who to escape his hands, killeth himself

about 163

AFTER three years was Judas informed, that Demetrius the son of Seleucus, having entered by the haven of Tiropolis with a great power and navy,

2 Had taken the country, and killed Antiochus, and Lysias his protector

3 Now one Alcimus, who had been high priest, and had defiled himself wilfully in the times of their mingling with the Gentiles, seeing that by no means he could save himself, nor have any more access to the holy altar,

|| Or thought to kill

4 Came to king Demetrius in the hundred and one and fiftieth year, presenting unto him a crown of gold, and a palm, and also of the boughs which were used solemnly in the temple and so that day he held his peace

5 Howbeit, having gotten opportunity to further his foolish enterprize, and being called into counsel by Demetrius, and asked how the Jews stood affected, and what they intended, he answered thereunto

6 Those of the Jews that be called Assideans, whose captain is Judas Maccabeus, nourish war, and are seditious, and will not let the realm be in peace

7 Therefore I, being deprived of mine ancestors' honour, I mean the high priesthood, am now come hither

8 First, verily for the unfeigned care I have of things pertaining to the king, and secondly, even for that I intend the good of mine own countrymen for all our nation is in no small misery through the unadvised dealing of them aforesaid

9 Wherefore, O king, seeing thou knowest all these things, be careful for the country, and our nation, which is pressed on every side, according to the clemency that thou readily shewest unto all

10 For as long as Judas liveth, it is not possible that the state should be quiet

Chap. XIV. ver. 3 — who had been high priest ] Having been appointed by Antiochus Epiphanes after the death of Menelaus but not accepted by the people on account of his crimes committed against the law — Grotius

4 — of the boughs which were used solemnly in the temple ] In the temple were many offerings amongst them certain garden composing imitations in gold of various sorts of trees — Grotius

10 — the town of Dessau ] The situation of it is not

11 This was no sooner spoken of him, but others of the king's friends, being maliciously set against Judas, did more incense Demetrius

about 163

12 And forthwith calling Nicanor, who had been master of the elephants, and making him governor over Judea, he sent him forth, 13 Commanding him to slay Judas, and to scatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high priest of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, that had fled out of Judea from Judas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harm and calamities of the Jews to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Jews heard of Nicanor's coming, and that the heathen were up against them, they cast earth upon their heads, and made supplication to him that had established his people for ever, and who always helpeth his portion with manifestation of his presence.

|| Or were angry to them

16 So at the commandment of the captain they removed straightways from thence, and came near unto them at the town of Dessau.

17 Now Simon, Judas' brother, had joined battle with Nicanor, but was somewhat discomfited through the sudden silence of his enemies

18 Nevertheless Nicanor, hearing of the manliness of them that were with Judas, and the courageousness that they had to fight for their country, durst not try the matter by the sword

19 Wherefore he sent Posidonius, and Theodotus, and Mattathias, to make peace

20 So when they had taken long advisement thereupon, and the captain had made the multitude acquainted therewith, and it appeared that they were all of one mind, they consented to the covenants,

21 And appointed a day to meet in together by themselves and when the day came, and stools were set for either of them,

22 Judas placed armed men ready in convenient places, lest some treachery should be suddenly practised by the ene-

known — Calmet

17 — through the sudden silence of his enemies ] As heretofore the sudden approach of his enemies The cause of the loss sustained by Simon is the sudden arrival of the whole army under Nicanor — Grotius

21 — and stools were set for either of them ] Elevated seats of ivory The same honour was wont to be paid to princes by the Roman consuls — Grotius so they made a peaceable conference.

23 Now Nicanor abode in Jerusalem, and did no hurt, but sent away the people that came flocking unto him.

24 And he would not willingly have Judas out of his sight for he loved the man from his heart.

25 He prayed him also to take a wife, and to beget children so he married, was quiet, and took part of this life.

26 But Alcimus, perceiving the love that was betwixt them, and considering the covenants that were made, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor was not well affected toward the state, for that he had ordained Judas, a traitor to his realm, to be the king's successor.

27 Then the king being in a rage, and provoked with the accusations of the most wicked man, wrote to Nicanor, signifying that he was much displeased with the covenants, and commanding him that he should send Maccabeus prisoner in all haste unto Antioch.

28 When this came to Nicanor's hearing, he was much confounded in himself, and took it grievously that he should make void the articles which were agreed upon, the man being in no fault.

29 But because there was no dealing against the king, he watched his time to accomplish this thing by policy.

30 Notwithstanding, when Maccabeus saw that Nicanor began to be churlish unto him, and that he entreated him more roughly than he was wont, perceiving that such soon behaviour came not of good, he gathered together not a few of his men, and withdrew himself from Nicanor.

31 But the other, knowing that he was notably prevented by Judas' policy, came into the great and holy temple, and commanded the priests, that were offering their usual sacrifices, to deliver him the man.

32 And when they swore that they could not tell where the man was whom he sought, 33 He stretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oath in this manner: If ye will not deliver me Judas as a prisoner, I will lay this temple of God even with the ground, and I will break down the altar, and erect a notable temple unto Bacchus.

34 After these words he departed. Then the priests lifted up their hands toward heaven, and besought him that was ever a defender of their nation, saying in this manner, see to CHRIST about 111

35 Thou, O Lord of all things, who hast need of nothing, wast pleased that the temple of thine habitation should be among us.

36 Therefore now, O holy Lord of all holiness, keep this house ever undefiled, which lately was cleansed, and stop every unrighteous mouth.

37 Now was there accused unto Nicanor one Razis, one of the elders of Jerusalem, a lover of his countrymen, and a man of very good report, who for his kindness was called a father of the Jews.

38 For in the former times, when they mingled not themselves with the Gentiles, he had been accused of Judaism, and did boldly jeopard his body and life with all vehemency for the religion of the Jews.

39 So Nicanor, willing to declue the hate that he bare unto the Jews, sent above five hundred men of war to take him.

40 For he thought by taking him to do the Jews much hurt.

41 Now when the multitude would have taken the tower, and violently broken into the outer door, and bade that fire should be brought to burn it, he being ready to be taken on every side fell upon his sword,

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, than to come into the hands of the wicked, to be abused otherwise than becomed his noble birth.

43 But missing his stroke through haste, the multitude also rushing within the doors, he ran boldly up to the wall, and cast himself down manfully among the thickest of them.

44 But they quickly giving back, and a space being made, he fell down into the midst of the void place.

45 Nevertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being inflamed with anger, he rose up, and though his blood gushed out like spouts of water, and his wounds were grievous, yet he ran through the midst of the throng, and standing upon a steep rock, 46 When as his blood was now quite gone, he plucked out his bowels, and taking them in both his hands, he cast them upon the throng, and calling upon the Lord of life and spirit to restore him those again, he thus died.

Before
CHRIST
about 161

CHAP. XV.

3 Nicanor's blasphemy 5 Judas encourageth his men by his dream 28 Nicanor is slain

BUT Nicanor, hearing that Judas and his company were in the strong places about Samaria, resolved without any danger to set upon them on the sabbath day.

2 Nevertheless the Jews that were compelled to go with him said, O destroy not so cruelly and barbarously, but give honour to that day, which he, that seeth all things, hath honoured with holiness above other days.

3 Then the most ungracious wretch demanded, if there were a Mighty one in heaven, that had commanded the sabbath day to be kept.

4 And when they said, There is in heaven a living Lord, and mighty, who commanded the seventh day to be kept.

5 Then said the other, And I also am mighty upon earth, and I command to take arms, and to do the king's business. Yet he obtained not to have his wicked will done.

6 So Nicanor in exceeding pride and haughtiness determined to set up a publick monument of his victory over Judas and them that were with him.

7 But Maccabeus had ever sure confidence that the Lord would help him.

8 Wherefore he exhorted his people not to fear the coming of the heathen against them, but to remember the help which in former times they had received from heaven, and now to expect the victory and aid, which should come unto them from the Almighty.

9 And so comforting them out of the law and the prophets, and withal putting them in mind of the battles that they won afore, he made them more cheerful.

10 And when he had stirred up their minds, he gave them their charge, shewing them therewithal the falsehood of the heathen, and the breach of oaths.

11 Thus he armed every one of them, not so much with defence of shields and spears, as with comfortable and good words, and beside that, he told them a dream worthy to be believed, as if it had been so indeed, which did not a little rejoice them.

12 And this was his vision: That Onias, who had been high priest, a virtuous and a good man, reverend in conversation, gentle in condition, well spoken also, and exercised from a child in all points of virtue, holding up his hands prayed for the whole body of the Jews.

13 This done, in like manner there appeared a man with gray hairs, and exceeding glorious, who was of a wonderful and excellent majesty.

14 Then Onias answered, saying, This is a lover of the brethren, who prayeth much for the people, and for the holy city, to wit, Jeremias the prophet of God.

15 Whereupon Jeremias holding forth his right hand gave to Judas a sword of gold, and in giving it spake thus,

16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, with the which thou shalt wound the adversaries.

17 Thus being well comforted by the words of Judas, which were very good, and able to stir them up to valour, and to encourage the hearts of the young men, they determined not to pitch camp, but courageously to set upon them, and manfully nanimity, contempt of death, and love of liberty. It comes nearer to what they call true heroism than all the great actions which history has recorded of the Greeks and Roman. Nay, the Jews themselves are willing to place this man in the number of their most illustrious martyrs, and from his example pretend that upon certain occasions self-murder is not only allowable, but highly commendable. But had the martyrs of old thought themselves at liberty to dispose of their own lives upon any emergent danger, or apprehension of suffering, we should have seen little of their being mocked and scourged and tormented, and less of their being stoned and slain. Heb. xi. 26, 27. To judge from the practice of these worthies of old, who obtained a good report through faith, ver. 39, it was not true courage, but the want of it, which in notions of it put Razis upon committing this barbarous cruelty on himself. It was pride, not piety, the proper virtue of martyr, which made him fly to death merely for refuge, against the courage which he had not strength of mind to with stand. Blackhouse

It was in this manner that he put an end to his life by stabbing himself, that he might not fall into the hands of his persecutors.

enemy. But that this sort of magnanimity is not allowed to man nor approved by God, is well understood by all who are pious and fear God, and who know that they ought to endure every reproach and affliction, rather than have recourse to a violent and voluntary death inflicted by their own hand. Razis might have fought bravely, relying upon the strength and succour of God, and so have either escaped or died. But some things are recorded and commended by this writer which ought not to have any great authority with the pious, of which kind is what was before said concerning prayer and expiation made for the dead. These things are to be read with judgment, not are they all to be applied as examples for the regulation of life and conduct, or to be alleged for the proof and confirmation of religion. Badmell

Chap. XV. ver. 5. — And I also am mighty upon earth]. Thus he blasphemously makes himself and his king equal to God, showing that his mind was bent upon the accomplishment of his purpose. "yet he obtained not to have his wicked will done, for God overthrew his impious presumption, and declared him to be the Abominable Lord." Badmell

Before
CHRIST
about 16

WHY do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing? The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the Lord, and against his anointed, saying,

Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.

He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.

Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.

I will declare the decree: the Lord hath said unto me, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.

Serve the Lord with fear, and rejoice with trembling.

12 Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way: when his wrath is kindled but a little, ye shall be counted among the dead. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

PSALM III

The security of God's protection

A Psalm of David, when he fled from Absalom his son.

LORD, how are they increased that trouble me? many are they that rise up against me.

Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God: Selah.

But thou, O Lord, art a shield for me: my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.

I cried unto the Lord with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill: Selah.

I laid me down and slept; I awaked, for the Lord sustained me.

I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about.

Arise, O Lord, save me, O my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone, thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.

On

Heb

an

Heb

Or

Heb

Rev

11

Ver 1. Why do the heathen &c.] That is Why do the Jew and Heathens combine together to attempt what they will never be able to accomplish? Travell

The kings of the earth &c.] The kings and governors of the surrounding nations conspire together to oppose the decrees of Providence and to prevent David from sitting upon the throne of Israel in the same manner as the rulers of the Jews will conspire against Jesus Christ the mounted Saviour Travell

Let us &c.] Let us say they break asunder their fetters and cast away from us their yoke Dr Kennicott

Then shall he speak &c.] Then impious opposition will raise His just indignation as if He had actually spoken to them from heaven and said Notwithstanding all your vain attempt I have mounted David to be king over My people Israel as in future times I will mount One of his posterity to sit at My right hand upon the throne of glory Bp Patrick Travell

Thou art my Son &c.] These words are eminently true of Jesus the Messiah in a prophetic sense who was invested with the royal office when He was raised from the dead and exalted at God's right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour Rom 1 Acts xiii 33 Green

Kiss the Son.] To kiss a person when appointed king was among the eastern people an act of homage Thus Samuel when he had mounted Saul king, kissed him that is, acknowledged him for his sovereign, 1 Sam x 1 Green See the note on Gen xli 16

Kiss the Son that is submit to Him worship and love Him lest He be angry lest He turn that grace and favour which He has offered you into his very displeasure, and ye perish in the way ye be suddenly cut off in the midst of your counsels S Clarke

The confidence which David manifest in this Psalm shows, in general that attempts against the designs of God are vain and that nothing can hurt tho't whom He loves, and has promised to bless But the application which the Apostles make to our Lord of these words, Thou art my Son this day have I begotten thee, engages us more especially to consider the Psalm it relates to the kingdom of Jesus Christ the Son of God which has been established in the world in spite of all opposition from kings and the great men of the earth and will subsist for ever And since this kingdom is established among us and we have the happiness to be Christ's subjects, let us submit ourselves to his glorious King let us serve Him with humility and joy and place all our trust and confidence in His favour and protection O Svald

Psalm III The title of the Psalm explain the occasion of it, and it is impossible an hymn could be composed with greater propriety or nobler sentiments of religion at a time when David was given over by many to absolutely lost and he himself thought it was beyond the power of God to deliver him Dr Chandler

Ver 2 — Selah.] It cannot certainly be known what is meant by this word the most probable opinion is that it is a note in music Bp Patrick

This Hebrew word is found twenty times in the Psalm and three times in Habakkuk One conjecture is that it means the end of a pause and that the ancient musicians put it occasionally in the margin of their psalter to show where a musical pause was to be made and where the tune ended Carmel

— the lifter up of mine head.] David means by this expression that God would remove his distresses, and make him triumph over all his enemies Dr Chandler

— out of his holy hill.] That is out of the tabernacle or place of His religious worship which was at Shiloh called on that account His holy hill Dr Halls

— for thou hast smitten.] The Hebrew properly means Thou art wont to smite Thou smitest continually

— broken the teeth.] As men of violence are frequently reprimanded

Psalm 4:1-4 8<sup>a</sup> Salvation belongeth unto the LORD thy blessing is in thy people Selah

PSALM IV

David prayeth for audience 2 He reproacheth and exhorteth his enemies 6 Man's happiness is in God's favour

To the Chief Musician on Neginoth,
A Psalm of David

HEAR me when I call, O God of my righteousness thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress, have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer

O ye sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame? how long will ye love vanity, and seek after leasing? Selah

But know that the LORD hath set apart him that is godly for himself the LORD will hear when I call unto him

Stand in awe, and sin not commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still Selah led to wild ravenous beasts, so the power or means made use of by such men to oppress others are fitly denoted by the teeth, cheekbone or jaws &c, these being the parts whereby beasts of prey chiefly devour their prey Hence, to break the teeth, cheekbone &c of an enemy is frequently used in Scripture to denote the depriving an enemy of his power to hurt Dr Wells

thy blessing is upon thy people Rather, My Thy blessing be upon Thy people Green

The example of king David in this Psalm should teach us, that all our security depends upon God's protection, of which neither the power nor malice of our enemies can deprive us if we repose our trust and confidence in Him We should therefore pray to Him that He would not suffer us to be misled by any worldly designs or situations but that He would be our shield, our comforter and supporter and make the world see that salvation belongeth only to Him and that His blessing is peculiar to His people Lord Clarendon

Psalm IV When or upon what occasion David penned this Psalm is not certainly known though the matter of it makes it probable it was in the same (or the like) distress wherein he composed the foregoing Bp Patrick

Chief Musician] This is the master or director of the sacred musicians and musicians of the temple of whom see 1 Chron vi 41 and xv 16 Psalm

Neginoth] Stringed instruments played on with a bow Dr Kennicott

By the word To the chief Musician, &c he seems to mean that he gave the Psalm to the care and ordering of the master or director of the sacred music in the temple and him who play not indifferently upon stringed instruments Dr Clarke

O God of my righteousness] O my righteous God I pray thee deliver me On the expression may mean, O God, who art to do me justice to whom I apply for justice Mudge Merrett O God the witness and defender of my righteous cause Dr Wells

Set me free from distress Dr Wells

O ye sons of men &c] O ye wicked men, how long will ye delude me by your calumnies how long will ye carry on your vain attempts and go on in lying and spreading false calumnies against me Dr Wells Otherwise by my glory he may mean "God who is my glory for so God is called Psalm iii

Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the LORD

There be many that say, Who will shew us any good? LORD, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us

Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more than in the time that then corn and then wine increased

I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep for thou, LORD, only makest me dwell in safety

PSALM V

David prayeth and professeth his study in prayer God favoureth not the wicked 7 David, professing his faith prayeth unto God to guide him 10 to destroy his enemies, 11 and to preserve the godly

To the chief Musician upon Nehiloth,
A Psalm of David

GIVE ear to my words, O LORD, consider my meditation

Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God for unto thee will I pray

3 and cvi 20 David was accustomed to glory, and with good reason, on account of his steadfast worship of the true God and of His favour towards him This zeal for God's service was made a subject of disgrace and ridicule by the wicked Dr Wells

Stand in awe, and sin not] The rendering of the Greek is, "Be ye angry and sin not, that is, though you be angry, take care you do not sin" So St Paul (1 Thim iv 5) recites it Dr Wall

Offer the sacrifices of righteousness] That is, act righteously which is the most acceptable sacrifice Dr Wells

There be many &c] This seems to relate to the righteous who, in times of calamity and persecution like the friends of distressed David, are tempted to despond, on seeing no end of their troubles Bp Horn lift thou up &c] Manifest Thy love and favour to me and mine Dr Clarke

Thou hast put &c] Other men do not so much rejoice in their vintage and harvest, when it is most abundant as I do in the assurance of Thy favour towards me Bp Hall

We may learn from this Psalm 1st, That however our enemies seek to oppress us yet God whose power no man can resist hath chosen to Himself, and will take to His love those who are godly and that when they cry unto Him, He will hear them 2dly, That we ought to commune with our own hearts, which in the language of Scripture, is to retire from the world, and give ourselves up to private meditation and reflexion And the design of this self-communion is to restrain us from vice, to cherish and improve the seeds of virtue, to give us leisure for examining into the state of our soul to stamp upon our hearts a love for God and a reverence for His laws to make us in short stand in awe and sin not 3dly, That in God alone is rest, in Him security in Him tranquillity We ought therefore to pray to our heavenly Father, that amidst all the storms and troubles of this life we may lie down and sleep in peace looking up to Him for safety, succour, and protection Bp Nicholson, Bp Porteus

Psalm V David most probably composed this Psalm, when he was persecuted by Saul or Absalom, and then adherents Dr Edwards

Nehiloth,] That is, organs or other wind-instruments Dr Wells

3 My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O LORD, in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up

4 For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness neither shall evil dwell with thee

5 The foolish shall not stand in thy sight thou hatest all workers of iniquity

6 Thou shalt destroy them that speak leasing the LORD will abhor the bloody and deceitful man

7 But as for me, I will come into thy house in the multitude of thy mercy and in thy fear will I worship toward thy holy temple

8 Lead me, O LORD, in thy righteousness because of mine enemies, make thy way straight before my face

9 For there is no faithfulness in their mouth, their inward part is very wickedness, their throat is an open sepulchre, they flatter with their tongue

10 Destroy thou them, O God, let them fall by their own counsels, cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions, for they have rebelled against thee

11 But let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee

12 For thou, LORD, wilt bless the righteous; with favour wilt thou compass him as with a shield

PSALM VI

1 David's complaint in his sickness By faith he triumpheth over his enemies

To the chief Musician on Negemoth || up- || Or, on Sheminith, A Psalm of David up in the city high

O LORD, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure

2 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am weak O LORD, heal me, for my bones are vexed

3 My soul is also sore vexed but thou, O LORD, how long?

4 Return, O LORD, deliver my soul oh save me for thy mercies sake

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee in the grave who shall give thee thanks? Ps 70 9 & 88 11 & 117 17 & 118 17

6 I am weary with my groaning, all the night make I my bed to swim, I water my couch with my tears Isai 38 16 Or every night

7 Mine eye is consumed because of grief, it waxeth old because of all mine enemies

8 Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity, for the LORD hath heard the voice of my weeping Math 7 23 & 26 Luke 13 27

9 The LORD hath heard my supplication, the LORD will receive my prayer — and will look up] Toward heaven, the throne of God from whence I hope for help Bp Wilson foolish] The wicked S Clarke that speak leasing] That make it their business to disperse false and scandalous reports of me S Clarke and me, &c] Guide me, O Lord, in the plain path of righteousness, lest, if I err from it, my enemies rejoice in my fall Travell their throat is an open sepulchre] They utter mischief in mouth, gaping, like noisome tombs, to swallow up the Travell destroy thou them] Concerning passages of this imprecand in the book of Psalms, it is to be observed, that they spoken of private and personal enemies, but of the op-of God and His anointed, nor of any among these, but lamblame and finally impenitent, and this by way of pre-rather than imprecation, which would appear, if the verbs were translated, as they should be, in the future The verse before us would then run thus "Thou wilt them O God, they shall perish by their own counsels it cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions, have rebelled against Thee" Bp Horne four things are remarkable in this Psalm 1st, The fer-and confidence with which good men call upon the Lord in cessities 2d, Their zeal for His service, and the joy and with which they adore Him, in places set apart for pubship 3d, God's abhorrence and detestation of sin, and of pride and deceit, and the punishment reserved for id and unjust And lastly, His favourable protection of that fear Him, and trust in Him Ostervald

VI In this Psalm are described two conditions of the writer in the first, he complains of some grievous disorder heightened by the malicious joy of his enemies from which he pleads to be relieved, in the second, his prayer is answered and he triumphs in the disappointment of his enemies Mudge This being one of the penitential Psalms is appointed to be used on Ash-wednesday and is suitable to the condition of those who are any ways afflicted or distressed, in mind body or estate Travell

— Negemoth upon Sheminith,] The harp of eight strings Bp Patrick

Vers 2 — my bones are vexed] That is shaken or made to tremble Bp Horne My pain reaches to my bones and inward parts S Clarke

3 — but thou O Lord how long?] But thou O Lord how long wilt Thou thus afflict me? Dr Wells

5 For in death there is no remembrance of thee] For the dead are utterly unable to commemorate Thy wonderful works, and propagate the memory of them to posterity Bp Patrick

7 — it waxeth old] That is dim or is grown stiff with weeping Bp Wilson, Green

8 Depart from me &c] Away with your idolatrous insinuations, as if the God of Israel could not deliver His servant He hath heard his prayer, and will deliver him from death, and from your expectation of him plunging in his fall Green

— ye workers of iniquity] Ye that put your trust in idols
Bp Wilson

We are all God's children, and reproof and correction is as due to children from their parents as nourishment they cannot proper without it crosses and afflictions are God's chastisements, without which we cannot be if we are His children Therefore the pious and really man does not must not pray that all things may succeed according to his own wish, and that he may know 6 H 3

10 Let all mine enemies be ashamed and sore vexed: let them return and be ashamed suddenly.

PSALM VII

David prayeth against the malice of his enemies, professing his innocency. 10 By faith he seeth his defence and the destruction of his enemies.

¶ Shiggaion of David, which he sang unto the LORD, concerning the words of Cush the Benjamite.

Or business

about 1062

O LORD my God, in thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me.

† Heb nōt a deli vater

2 Lest he tear my soul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.

3 O LORD my God, if I have done this, if there be iniquity in my hands,

4 If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me, (yet, I have delivered him that without cause is mine enemy.)

5 Let the enemy persecute my soul, and take it, yea, let him tread down my life upon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust. Selah.

6 Arise, O LORD, in thine anger, lift up thyself because of the rage of mine enemies: and awake for me to the judgment that thou hast commanded.

nothing but prosperity in this world: all that he prays is, that those afflictions, which he must pass through may not fall upon him out of God's anger, and that His displeasure may not pursue him beyond that adversity. Lord Clarendon

Psalm VII. David is said to have composed this Psalm concerning the words, or the matter of Cush the Benjamite. Whether Saul or Shimei, or any one else, be intended under this name, it is sufficiently clear that David had been maliciously aspersed and calumniated by such a person, and that the Psalm was written to vindicate him from the imputation, whatever was the nature of it. Bp Horn Shiggaion.] This word denotes a wandering song, or a Psalm ascribed to David, composed by him in the time of his wanderings, when he was falsely accused by his enemies, and hunted by Saul as a partridge on the mountains. Tenuck. Or it may mean a song expressing grief. Dr Kennicott, Street.

Otherwise it is thought to be the name of a certain kind of song, to the tune of which this Psalm was to be sung. S. Clarke

Ver. 2. Let the tear &c.] I set mine enemy tear, &c. Green. — done this.] With which I am falsely charged. Bp Watson

4. If I have rewarded &c.] David probably alludes to the circumstance of Saul's life having been twice preserved by him, when he had been pressed by his attendants to embrace the opportunity of taking it away. See 1 Sam. xxiv and xxvi. Bp Horn

6. — awake for me to the judgment &c.] Inflict that punishment upon mine enemy which thou hast commanded should be inflicted upon malicious oppressors and persecutors. Dr Clarke

So shall the congregation — compass thee about.] So, by sec-

7 So shall the congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore return thou on high.

8 The LORD shall judge the people: judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, and according to mine integrity that is in me.

9 Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end, but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.

10 † My defence is of God, which saveth the upright in heart.

11 † God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day.

12 If he turn not, he will whet his sword, he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.

13 He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death, he ordaineth his arrows against the persecutors.

14 Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, and hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood.

15 † He made a pit, and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made.

16 His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down upon his own pate.

17 I will praise the LORD according to his righteousness: and will sing praise to the name of the LORD most high.

ing justice done to me through Thy special Providence shall the congregation of the people be induced to resort unto Thee to do them justice. Dr Wells. "Compass Thee about with praises for Thy goodness to me, and for the manifold blessings they shall enjoy under my government." S. Clarke — return thou on high.] When God seems to take no notice of the transgressions of men, it is as if He descended from the place of His power, and from His judgment-seat: but when He visits and judges their iniquities, He seems to elevate Himself on high, or to return to His judgment-seat. Edwards

— trieth the hearts and reins.] That is, knoweth intimately the very thoughts and desires of all men. Bp Horn

11. God judgeth the righteous.] The meaning is, God will maintain the cause of the righteous. Dr Wells

12. If he turn not, he will whet &c.] If the wicked will not repent, God will whet &c. Dr Wells. "Whet his sword, prepare and speedily execute His judgments upon him." S. Clarke

14. Behold, he travaileth &c.] See the folly of the wicked plots and contrivances against my life, which shall all miscarry and decay the expectation of this wicked slanderer. Figlii

15. He made a pit,] This alludes to the method of catching wild beasts in pits covered over slightly with reeds or small branches of trees. Dr Shan

We learn from this Psalm, that the wickedness of the ungodly shall come to an end, that God lets them alone, and doth not visit them for a time, but if they persist in their wickedness, He prepares for them the punishments they deserve, and will make the evil which they design for others fall upon their own heads. These are powerful motives to induce us to adore the justice of God, to improve by His forbearance and longsuffering, and to avoid every thing that may expose us to His vengeance. Opi

vald

PSALM VIII

God's glory is magnified by his works, and by his love to man ¶ To the chief Musician upon Gittith,

A Psalm of David

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens

2 <sup>21</sup> Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger

3 When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained,

4 <sup>17</sup> What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?

5 For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour

6 Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands, thou hast put all things under his feet

7 <sup>and of</sup> All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field, 8 The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea, and whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.

9 O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

PSALM IX

David praiseth God for executing of judgment. He maketh others to praise him. He praiseth that he may have cause to praise him

¶ To the chief Musician upon Muth-labben, A Psalm of David

I Will praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart, I will show forth all thy marvellous works

2 I will be glad and rejoice in thee. I will sing praise to thy name, O thou most High

3 When mine enemies be turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence

4 For thou hast maintained my right and my cause, thou satest in the throne judging right

5 Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast put out their name for ever and ever

Psalm VIII The scope and meaning of this Psalm seems only to be this to display and celebrate the great love of God man, not only in his creation, but especially in his redemption Jesus Christ, whom, as He was man, He advanced to the honour and dominion here mentioned, that He might carry on that great and glorious work. Thus Christ is the principal subject of this Psalm, of whom it is interpreted both by Christ Himself 1st xxii 16, and by His holy Apostle, 1 Cor xv 27 Hebr ii

Psalm in a prophetic sense, it is understood of Christ's victory over Satan Recres

This Psalm is suited to the service of the Ascension-day when commemorate so signal a proof of the Divine love, as the exaltation of our nature, in the second Adam to the right hand of Majesty on high Travell

— upon Ullah. Some have supposed this expression to denote, that this Psalm was to be sung to a harp which David brought thither from Gath others to a musical instrument used at the time of the vintage Both may be true the instrument bearing its name might have been used by the people of Gath, and the Psalm might have adopted it from them, and afterwards it might become the favourite instrument amidst the festivity and merriment of the vintage Struel

Ver 2 Out of the mouth &c Thou art pleased to make choice of the meanest and most humble persons, and even very children in us, to sing hosannas to the Son of David, Matt xxi 16 to acknowledge Thy power and majesty And this Thou hast done, that is whose pride makes them resist and despise Thee, may be visibly punished, and the power of the devil destroyed Drimmond

3—6 When I consider &c When, on the one hand, I survey glorious bodies in the heavens, and compare them with man, I am induced to think degradingly of him, and to wonder why he should be the object of Thy care When, on the other hand, I consider the rank of being in which Thou at first placedst man, I consider him but a little below the angels, I correct myself for having made too degrading a comparison of him, and adore Thee for Thy providential care of him at present, and for the dignity to which Thou didst advance him, when Thou madest him the head of the visible creation Green

4 — visited him? With Thy presence and protection Bp Wilson

The following prayer is so well adapted to the sentiments contained in this Psalm, that it may be added in the place of practical reflexion O our God, since Thou hast been so mindful of us, never suffer us to be unmindful of Thee since Thou hast shewed Thy mercy in visiting and redeeming us, never let us shew ourselves unthankful for this Thy visitation and redemption Suffer us not to abuse Thy creatures which Thou hast given us for food, nor Thy gifts bestowed for clothing, nor wantonly and cruelly to make use of our dominion But give us grace so highly to esteem Thy rich mercies, and with such temperance and sobriety to use Thy creatures that Thy name thereby may still be more magnified Thy bounty exalted Thy providence more declared Thy honour enlarged Thy praise glorified, and our souls at last saved by the merits of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ Bp Nicholson

Psalm IX This Psalm consists of two parts a thanksgiving and a prayer Upon what particular occasion it was composed, is not known, probably, to celebrate the victories gained by David over the neighbouring nations after God had exalted him to be king in Zion Bp Horner

This and the two following are the proper Psalms appointed for the fast service on the thirtieth of January

— Muth-labben Some suppose Labben to be the name of a place or chief in the enemy's army and Muth-labben to signify the death of Labben, in celebration of which this Psalm may have been composed Dimock Or it may be the title of a tune or instrument Clarke

Ver 3 When mine enemies &c Rather it was Thou who madest my enemies turn their backs and through the dread of Thee they fell and were destroyed Bp Patrick

Or
The de fith. the my de e me to a joy full end and thou cities hast thou hast yid de I H I 8 8 9
Ps 139
8 H 1 &
11 4 † Heb on hu h place

6 O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end and thou hast destroyed cities, their memorial is perished with them

7 But the LORD shall endure for ever he hath prepared his throne for judgment

8 And he shall judge the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgment to the people in uprightness

9 The LORD also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble

10 And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee for thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee

11 Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion, declare among the people his doings

12 When he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth them he forgetteth not the cry of the humble

13 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, consider my trouble, which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death

14 That I may shew forth all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion I will rejoice in thy salvation

15 The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made in the net which they hid is their own foot taken.

16 The LORD is known by the judgment which he executeth the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands Higgaion Selah

6 O thou enemy, &c.] As for the enemy, they are utterly destroyed they are become everlasting desolations, for their cities thou hast crased, the memory of them as well as themselves is perished Edwards

12 When he maketh inquisition for blood he remembereth them.] When He calls His enemies to account for the blood of His people, which they unjustly shed or coveted S Clarke

To make inquisition for blood is not to inquire after blood spilt but to sit as inquisitor or judge on all capital crimes where the blood of the offender is due to justice. Them refers to the humble or afflicted, at the end of the verse Mudge

14 — in the gates of the daughter of Zion.] That is, in the solemn assemblies of thy people the inhabitants of Zion S Clarke

15 — in the pit.] See the note on Psalm vii 18

16 — Higgaion.] A meditation, or a fit subject of meditation. Fack

On possibly the word here means an interlude of soft whispering notes as Selah another of bolder and louder ones Mudge, Dr Kennicott

17 — into hell.] By the word "hell" in this place is meant the region of the dead and the psalmist seems to foretell that the wicked will descend to the grave by some great and signal overthrow Mudge, Edwards

The psalmist here teaches us, that God will reign for ever and will judge the world with righteousness, that He will render to the wicked according to their works that all those who forget Him shall perish, that He will not suffer the wicked always to 17 The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God

18 For the needy shall not always be forgotten the expectation of the poor shall not perish for ever.

19 Arise, O LORD, let not man prevail let the heathen be judged in thy sight

20 Put them in fear, O LORD that the nations may know themselves to be but men Selah

PSALM X

1 David complaineth to God of the outrage of the wicked 12 He prayeth for remedy 16 He professeth his confidence

WHY standest thou afar off, O LORD? why hidest thou thyself in times of trouble?

2 The wicked in his pride doth persecute the poor let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined

3 For the wicked boasteth of his heart's desire, and blesseth the covetous, whom the LORD abhorreth

4 The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God God is not in all his thoughts

5 His ways are always grievous, his judgments are far above out of his sight as for all his enemies, he puffeth at them

6 He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved for I shall never be in adversity

7 His mouth is full of cursing and he de-

† Heb
In the pride of the wicked he doth persecute

14 7 8 9 16
Prov 3 12

† Heb soul s
Or

the covetous blesseth himself he abhorreth

the 10 4 D
Or

all his thoughts are there is no God

Ps 14 1
8 3 1
† Heb

unto generation and generation

Rom 3 11
† Heb
deceits

prevail, that He never forsakes those that seek Him, and that the expectation of the sorrowful shall not be in vain These are feelings which we should always retain, which should fill us with trust in His name, and strongly engage us to fear Him Ortervald

Psalm X Some have supposed this Psalm to have been occasioned by foreign enemies making incursions into the country and others by domestic ones in the court of Saul Mudge, Rosenmüller

Ver 2 — the poor.] This word here means, the humble the afflicted, and helpless Sp. Wilson

3 For the wicked boasteth &c.] The first part of this verse points out that alarming symptom of a reprobate mind, a disposition to exult and glory in those lusts which are the shame and disgrace of human nature, whether the world or the flesh be their object The latter clause is differently rendered, as implying either that "the wicked blesseth the covetous, whom God abhorreth," or that "the wicked, being covetous, or oppressive, blesseth himself and abhorreth the Lord Either way, in oppressing the worldy spirit is characterized, with its direct opposition to the Spirit of God, which teaches that sin is to be confessed with shame and sorrow, that in God alone man is to make his boast; and that it is more blessed to give than to receive Sp. Hamond

5 His ways are always grievous, &c.] That is, always troublesome and injurious to all about him S Clarke As for God's laws and judgments, he never lays them to heart, and he despises and contemns all his opposers Dr Hammond cent and fraud, under his tongue is mischief and vanity

8 He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages in the secret places doth he murder the innocent his eyes are privily set against the poor

9 He lieth in wait secretly as a lion in his den he beth in wait to catch the poor he doth catch the poor, when he draweth him into his net

10 He croucheth, and humbleth himself, that the poor may fall by his strong ones

11 He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten he hideth his face, he will never see it

12 Arise, O LORD, O God, lift up thine hand forget not the humble

13 Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he hath said in his heart, I thou wilt not requite it

14 I thou hast seen it, for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requite it with thy hand the poor committeth himself unto thee, thou art the helper of the fatherless

15 Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evil man seek out his wickedness till thou find none,

16 The LORD is King for ever and ever the heathen are perished out of his land

10 He croucheth, &c.] He will not only crouch and counterfeit any thing that will serve his purpose, so that the helpless may fall into his power Travell

12 — the humble.] Or rather, the "afflicted," as in the margin Street

13 — I thou wilt not requite it.] The wicked concludes from God's patience that He will never punish him Bp Patrick

15 Break thou &c.] This may be either a prayer, or a prediction, implying that the time will come, when the power of Jehovah will dash in pieces that of the enemy, by the demolition of sin or the sinner, until wickedness be come utterly to an end, and righteousness be established for ever in the kingdom of Messiah Bp Horne

18 To judge the fatherless &c.] Thy gracious assistance shall assert the right of those who are helpless and oppressed, so that their insolent persecutors whose sordid minds cling entirely to this world, may be prevented from doing them further mischief Travell

We may learn from this Psalm, 1st That to behold the righteous cause oppressed, and good men seemingly deserted by heaven, is apt to offend the weak, and oftentimes stagger those who are strong 2dly, That prosperity begets presumption in the wicked and he, who has been long accustomed to see his designs succeed begins to think it impossible they should ever do otherwise 3dly, The long suffering of God, instead of leading such as are prone to repentance only hardens him in his iniquity 4thly, That though the wicked saith in his heart, Thou wilt not requite it, the faithful know assuredly, that God beholds all that avail and vexation which sore afflict, and others sustain, upon the earth, and that He will infallibly recompense to the former their deeds by the latter their sufferings Bp Horne

Psalm XI This Psalm seems to have been composed by David, when, in order to avoid the evil designs of Saul, his friends

17 LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the humble thou wilt prepare thine ear to hear, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear Or establish

18 To judge the fatherless and the oppressed, that the man of the earth may no more oppress Or satisfy

PSALM XI

1 David encourageth himself in God against his enemies

4 The providence and justice of God

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David about 1000

IN the LORD put I my trust how have I to my soul, flee as a bird to your mountain

2 For, lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may privily shoot at the upright in heart Or in darkness

3 If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?

4 The LORD is in his holy temple, the LORD's throne is in heaven his eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men Or Hab 2 20

5 The LORD trieth the righteous but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth

6 Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest this shall be the portion of their cup Or a burning tempest advised him to flee to the mountainous parts of Judea Towards

In the first verse David expostulates with his friends for advising him to fly to the mountainous parts of Judea as the only safe retreat from Saul In the second and third verses he subjoins the reasons which his friends assigned for their advice In the four last, he replies to the advice of his friends, telling them that the God of heaven, who searcheth the heart, would protect the innocent Green

Ver 3 If the foundations be destroyed, &c.] When the fundamental laws of the land, such as stipulate protection to the subject, are subverted by the prince who ought to be the guardian of them what has the persecuted subject to trust to or what can he do but, as in a state of nature fly to the fastnesses of the mountains for security? Green Had David been guilty of any crime, he ought to have had a fair trial by the law But Saul tried to assassinate him, contrary to justice and to the fundamental law of all nations Dr Kennicott

4 The LORD is in his holy temple &c.] The meaning is, that the Lord is the supreme and righteous Ruler of all affairs that He knows the most secret designs of men, and can disappoint them Bp Patrick, Dr Wells

6 — snares,] Or "burning coals" Bp Horne By this word live coals, or supply the lightning, seems to be understood Bp Lenth

— fire and brimstone.] These terms are evidently borrowed from the history of Sodom and Gomorrah St John also at the conclusion of his prophecy Rev xx describing the destruction of the ungodly, refers to the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, which, as St Jude informs us, "are set forth for an example, or figure," signifying the vengeance of eternal fire Jude ver 7 Bp Horne They mean dreadful judgments in this world, and eternal vengeance in the world to come A Clarke

— the portion of their cup.] It being the custom, in old

7 For the righteous LORD loveth righteousness, his countenance doth behold the upright

PSALM XII

1 David destitute of human comfort, craveth help of God 3 He comforteth himself with God's judgments on the wicked, and confidence in God's tried promises

|| Or upon right

|| To the chief Musician || upon Sheminith,
A Psalm of David

|| Or,
Save

|| HELP, LORD, for the godly man ceaseth, for the faithful fail from among the children of men

† Heb an heart and an heart

2 They speak vanity every one with his neighbour with flattering lips and with a double heart do they speak

† Heb great things

3 The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things

† Heb
me with us

4 Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail, our lips are our own: who is lord over us?

|| Or would en-more him
2 Sam 22
11
Ps 18 30 & 119 140
Prov 30 5

5 For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the LORD, I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him

6 The words of the LORD are pure words as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times

7 Thou shalt keep them, O LORD, thou times, to set before each guest a certain portion of liquor for his share: it is very common in Scripture to describe the different allotments, which the providence of God dispenses to good and bad men by the image of a cup. Travell

This Psalm furnishes us with an example of the confidence which the righteous have in the Lord then God, who is their sure refuge even when they are in the most deplorable condition, and know not what will become of them. It also teaches us, that God has His throne in the heavens, that He sees and knows both the good and the wicked, that His soul hates those that love unrighteousness, that He will cause the fire of His vengeance to fall upon them: and, as He is perfectly just Himself, He loves justice above all things and always favours the upright. Osterwald

Psalm XII This Psalm is a complaint of the corrupt manners of the age especially as is probable, of the court of Saul, so that it is hard to find an honest plundering man in whom one might confide. Bp Patrick

It was probably written on the occasion of Saul's evil administration and the persecution of David and other good men. S Clarke

— Sheminith ] See the note on the title to Psalm vi

Ver 2 They speak vanity ] Or falsehood. Mudge

4 Who have said &c ] Who have said, We will prevail by false accusation: we are not bound to speak or affirm what we please, for who can call us to account for what we say, however false it may be. Dr Wells

6 The words of the Lord are pure words ] The promises which God hath made to me and His people have no deceit in them, but shall certainly be fulfilled in their season. S Clarke

shalt preserve them from this generation for ever

8 The wicked walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted

† Heb him that is every one of them

† Heb the vilest of the sons of men are exalted

PSALM XIII

1 David complaineth of delay in help 3 He prayeth for preventing grace 5 He boasteth of divine mercy

|| To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

|| Or courage

HOW long wilt thou forget me, O LORD? for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in my heart daily? how long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?

3 Consider and hear me, O LORD my God: lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death,

4 Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him, and those that trouble me rejoice when I am moved

5 But I have trusted in thy mercy, my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation

6 I will sing unto the LORD, because he hath dealt bountifully with me

PSALM XIV.

1 David describeth the corruption of a natural man

4 He comforteth the wicked by the light of their conscience 7 He glorifieth in the salvation of God

7 — from this generation ] From this kind of scornful oppressors. S Clarke

8 The wicked walk &c ] It must needs be, that wicked men should abound every where, when the worst men are exalted and preferred to places of honour and command. Bp Hall The vile men, whom David here complains of as advanced to power, were probably his persecutors in the days of Saul, such as Doeg, Cush, &c. Green

For the consolation of the afflicted and poor in spirit, God hath promised in this Psalm, to "arise, and set them in safety, or place them in a state of salvation." Such all along has been His promise to the Church, which, by looking back to the deliverances wrought of old for the servants of God, is now encouraged to look forward and expect her final redemption from the scorn and insolence of infidelity. Bp Horne

Psalm XIII In this Psalm David, being in danger from his enemy, entreats the Lord to deliver him, and rejoices in hopes of His salvation. Green

Ver 2 — shall I take counsel in my soul ] That is, Shall I be perplexed in my soul, not knowing which way to turn? Bp Horne

3 — lighten mine eyes, &c ] Give me wisdom to find out proper measures for my safety, and cheer my spirits, lest I go with grief, or my enemy destroy me. Dr Wells

4 — when I am moved ] Or overcome by them. Dr Wells

It is observable, that thus, and many other psalms with a mournful beginning, have a triumphant ending, to shew us the prevailing power of devotion, and to convince us that prayer brings with it the comforts of heaven, and revives our weary spirits, in the gloomy seasons of sorrow and temptation. Bp Horne

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

THE fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good.

2 The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, and seek God.

3 They are all gone aside, they are all together become filthy: there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

4 Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the LORD.

5 There were they in great fear for God: is in the generation of the righteous.

6 Ye have shamed the counsel of the poor, because the LORD is his refuge.

7 Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! when the LORD bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

Psalm XIV. David here complains of the impiety and general corruption of the people who had led the Israelites into captivity, describes their terrors and begs of God to bring back His captive people to their own land. Green

2 The Lord looked down &c.] Contrary to the opinion of the wicked, the Lord has all along "looked down from heaven upon the children of men." Dr Wells

4 — eat up my people as they eat bread,] Theft is, cruelly devour my people without fear or remorse. Bp Hall

5 There were they in great fear &c.] In the parallel place, Ps lxxv, after the words, "There were they in great fear," are added these, "where no fear was," which certainly connect better with what follows, "for God is in the generation of the righteous." David is supposed to be speaking primarily of Israel's defection from him to Absalom, and here to be assigning the motive of that defection in many, namely, fear of the rebels growing power, and distrust of his ability to protect them, which fear, he observes, was groundless, because his cause was the cause of God, who would not fail to appear in its support and vindication. Bp Horne

6 Ye have shamed the counsel of the poor,] Laughed at his dependence upon God. Bp Wilson

7 Oh that the salvation &c.] This pious wish is uttered by David, that it would please God who dwelleth in Zion "between the cherubims," Ps lxxx 1, to send from thence, as from His throne, deliverance to His people, redeeming them from the oppression and captivity under which they laboured. Fenton

The works of God are so visible to all the world, and afford such manifest indications of the being and attributes of the infinite Creator, that they plainly argue the vileness and perverseness of the Atheist, and leave him inexcusable. For it is a sign that man is a wilful perverse Atheist, that will impute so glorious a work, as the creation is, to any thing, yea, a mere nothing, (as chance is,) rather than to God. It is a sign the man is wilfully blind, that he is under the power of the devil, under the government of prejudice, lust, and passion, not right reason, that will not discern what "every one can see, what every man may behold afar off," Job xxxvi 25, even the existence and attributes of the Creator from His works. Dr Dyrham

Psalm XV. In this Psalm the author describes a citizen of Zion, or what is necessary and requisite in the conduct and be-

PSALM XV

David describeth a citizen of Zion.

¶ A Psalm of David

LORD, who shall abide in thy tabernacle? who shall dwell in thy holy hill?

2 He that walketh uprightly, and worketh righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.

3 He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbour, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour.

4 In whose eyes a vile person is counted, but he honoureth them that fear the LORD. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and chingeth not.

5 He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

PSALM XVI

1 David, in distrust of men, and hatred of idolatry, fleeth to God for preservation. 5 He sheweth his hope of his calling, of the resurrection, and life everlasting.

¶ Michtam of David

Or
A golden psalm of David haviour of a member of the Jewish church. Edwards. This seems to be a contrast to the preceding Psalm. It is appointed to be used on the Ascension-day, as it contains the character of one, who should be qualified to ascend into the hill, and dwell in the presence of God, whither our Saviour Christ is gone before. Travell

Ver 1 Lord, who shall abide &c.] O Lord, who is the man that shall be admitted to the tabernacle on Thy holy mountain? or who shall have the privilege of worshipping therein? Travell. Who shall be accounted a true member of the kingdom of grace here, and of glory hereafter? S Clarke

4 — He that sweareth &c.] He that promises by an oath to do a thing, and does accordingly, though it be to his own hurt, and breaks not his oath. Dr Wells

5 He that putteth not out his money to usury,] That is to any poor brother Israelite, God having forbidden usury in this case (see Deut xxiii 19, 20). Dr Wells

— shall never be moved] Shall never fail of God's favour. Dr Wells

The following prayer is a just improvement of the above Psalm.

Gracious God, who hast vouchsafed to let us know upon what conditions we may be received into Thy protection and eternal favour, give us grace to practise those virtues Thou hast enjoined us, make us to love justice in all our actions, and uprightness in all our words, make us as tender in the wrongs and injuries done to our neighbours as if they were done to ourselves, make into our hearts an abomination of all vice, by how great persons soever countenanced, and a love and reverence for virtue, and of virtuous men, in how little esteem soever they are in this world, and let us do all this out of our true love of Thee, and of Thy Son Jesus Christ. Amen. Lord Clarendon

Psalm XVI. In this Psalm David declares his full trust and confidence in God for protection and assistance, and renders Him thanks for his security in this life, and for the hopes of a happy immortality in the next. The latter part contains a clear prophecy of the resurrection of our Lord Christ, to which St Peter and St Paul directly apply in Acts ii 25 and xiii 35. Travell

Michtam] If one may guess from the signification of this word, joined to the Greek translation, it may be, A Psalm to be written.

PRESERVE me, O God for in thee do I put my trust.

* Ps. 50
Job 22
2 & 25 7

2 O my soul, thou hast said unto the LORD, Thou art my Lord my goodness extendeth not to thee,

3 But to the saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent, in whom is all my delight

|| Cr give gifts to another

4 Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another god their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips

* Lam 3 24
Deut 32
† Heb
of my part

5 The LORD is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup thou maintainest my lot

6 The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places, yea, I have a goodly heritage

7 I will bless the LORD, who hath given me counsel my reins also instruct me in the night seasons

* Acts 2 25

8 I have set the LORD always before me because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved

9 Therefore my heart, is glad, and my glory rejoiceth. my flesh also shall rest in hope

† Heb dwelt daily

10 For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption

* Acts 2
& 13 35

11 Thou wilt shew me the path of life in thy presence is fulness of joys at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore

PSALM XVII

1 David, in confidence of his integrity craveth defence of God against his enemies 10 He sheweth their pride, craft, and eagerness 13 He prayeth against them in confidence of his hope

A Prayer of David

HEAR the right, O LORD, attend unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips

† Heb
justice

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence, let thine eyes behold the things that are equal

† Heb without lips of deceit

3 Thou hast proved mine heart, thou hast visited me in the night, thou hast tried me, and shalt find nothing; I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress

4 Concerning the works of men, by the in golden letters and set up, like our Commandments, in some publick place, to teach, (for so it is expressed, Psalm lx) that is that the people might learn it, and be able to join Mudge

Ver 2 — my goodness extendeth not to thee ] Or, my good things are not needful for Thee they would be a sacrifice of no value, else I would give them Thee. The best sacrifice I can offer to Thee is benediction to Thy saints and servants. Green

4 — drunk offering of blood ] This alludes to sacrifices in which the blood of men was offered Sp. Patrick A principal ceremony is here put for the whole of idolatry. Gerard

— nor take up their names into my lips ] David here declares that he will have no conversation with idolaters, nor swear by the name of their gods. Sp. Wilson

6 The lines are fallen &c ] That is, my lot and portion, or kingdom, is appointed unto me in a pleasant country. Sp. Wilson, Dr. Wells They used with cords to measure their grounds in surveys, Amos vii 17 and hence, by a figure, a measuring cord comes frequently to signify any space or portion of land that belongs to a person. Dr. Hammond

7 — my reins ] That is, my inward thoughts and affections. S. Clarke

8 I have set the Lord always before me ] As my God, and my support. Green

9 — my glory ] By this word he meant his tongue. The Psalmist, as applying his own tongue to the best purpose, the praise of God, had reason to call it his glory. Merrick

— my flesh also shall rest in hope ] David here declares that he would lay down his body in the grave, in a certain hope of his resurrection to immortality. Sp. Hall

10 For thou wilt not leave &c ] I know, that Thou, O God, wilt not forsake me in distress now even when I die, wilt Thou suffer me to remain for ever in the grave — So also, when that Holy Person, who shall hereafter submit to death for the sake of mankind, is laid in the grave, I am well assured Thou wilt raise Him from thence, before His body be in the least corrupted. Sp. Patrick, Travell Thou wilt not abandon my life to the grave. This may signify either, Thou wilt not suffer the grave to exert its dominion over me too soon, that is, immaturely, or, to maintain it over me too long. In the former sense David seems to have exempted it of himself in the latter it is applicable to our Lord, whom God raised up the third day, having loosed the bonds of death, because it was not possible He should be holden of it. Green

— thine Holy One ] Meaning David in the literal sense, and in the spiritual the Messiah, in whom the prophecy was fulfilled. See it applied to Him by St. Peter, Acts ii 25, &c. Green

We are here to observe the sentiments of the children of God and their happiness. As to their sentiments, David teaches us, by his example, that they always trust in God, that they love and esteem the pious and virtuous above all, that they avoid the company and errors of the wicked, and adhere inviolably to the pure service of God. As to their happiness, this Psalm teaches us that it is very great, that God Himself is their portion and inheritance, that He is on their right hand that they may never be moved that the sense of their happiness makes them rejoice and praise God continually, and that they are even convinced that God will not abandon them to the power of death. Lastly, this Psalm foretells that Christ should not see corruption, but be exalted to heaven, where He reigneth over all things, and has prepared for all true believers joys that never shall expire. Quervall

Psalm XVII In this prayer David humbly represents to God his innocence in those things whereof he was accused, probably of seeking Saul's life and the kingdom, and therefore beseeches Him to grant him deliverance from his persecutors and calumniators. Sp. Patrick

Ver 1 — out of feigned lips ] Decent and dissembling lips. S. Clarke

2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence ] Let me be tried and judged by Thee to whom I make my appeal from the unjust accusations of men. S. Clarke

3 — in the night ] That is, when the heart is freest from disguise. Green

— shalt find nothing ] Canst find in me no wicked design. Such were the appeals of David to God, for his innocence under the persecution of Saul. And what stronger appeals can be made? Green See the old translation

4 Concerning the works of men, &c ] Though as to what others are wont to do in like circumstances, I know it is usual not to scruple at means for self-preservation, yet from the respect I have word of thy lips I have kept me from the paths of the destroyer

5 Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not

6 I have called upon thee, for thou wilt near me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.

7 Shew thy marvellous lovingkindness, O thou || that savest by thy right hand them which put their trust in thee from those that rise up against them

8 Keep me as the apple of the eye, hide me under the shadow of thy wings,

9 From the wicked † that oppress me, from † my deadly enemies, who compass me about 10 They are inclosed in their own fat: with their mouth they speak proudly

11 They have now compassed us in our steps: they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth,

12 † Like as a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as it were a young lion † lurking in secret places

13 Arise, O LORD, † disappoint him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked, || which is thy sword

~ † || From men which are thy hand, O

LORD, from men of the world, which have their portion in this life, and whose belly thou fillest with thy hid treasure: || they are full of children, and leave the rest of their substance to their babes

10 As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness

PSALM XVIII

David prayeth God for his manifold and marvellous blessings

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David, the servant of the LORD, who spake unto the LORD the words of this song: in the day that the LORD delivered him from the hand of all his enemies, and from the hand of Saul. And he said,

I Will love thee, O LORD, my strength, <sup>2</sup> The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, my God, † my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower

3 I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies

4 <sup>b</sup> The sorrows of death compassed me, <sup>a</sup> Ps 116 3

to Thy commands, I have kept me from following others in using violent and murderous practices for my safety Dr Wells

8 — as the apple of the eye,] By the apple of an eye is meant its pupil Dr Wells See note at Deut xxxii 10

9 — who compass me about ] The allusion here is to huntmen, who, spying game, go round to see how they may most advantageously pitch their nets to take it Dr Kennicott

10 — inclosed in their own fat ] That is, bloated, and puffed up with pride. Bp Wilson The meaning is, that pride is the child of plenty, begotten by self-indulgence, which hardens the hearts of men against the fear of God, and love of their neighbours rendering them insensible to the judgments of the former, and the meries of the latter Bp Horne

10, 11 They are inclosed &c.] By changing the situation of a single letter in the original, which has probably been misplaced by the copyists, these verses may be explained thus "They draw close their cords, with their mouth they speak exultingly, We have succeeded now. They come about me, they set their eyes stooping down upon the earth" The image here is taken from hunters, and the circumstances follow very properly They compassed him about, they inclosed him in their net, "we have succeeded at last," they said, they came round him, they stooped down and looked earnestly at him, their eyes fixed, like a lion that is just lapping at his prey Mudge

13 Arise, O Lord, disappoint him, &c.] The Psalmist, having characterised those who pursued after him to take away his life, now intreats God to "arise," or appear in his cause, to "disappoint," or "prevent" the enemy in his designs; and to "cast him down to overthrow and subdue him The next words may be thus rendered, "Deliver my soul from the wicked by thy sword, from men by Thy hand, O Lord, from the men of the world the expressions, "sword, and hand of Jehovah," being frequently used to denote His power and vengeance. Bp. Horne.

— which is thy sword:] Which is the instrument Thou employest for the execution of Thy judgments. S. Clarke 14 — whose belly thou fillest &c.] Whose bellies Thou fillest with Thy stores, or abundance of temporal blessings, whose children are fed to the full, and who leave the rest of their substance to their little ones Green, Bp Horne

15 As for me, I will behold &c.] He either prays that he may keep on, or is confident that he shall keep on, in a way of righteousness, and enjoy the presence of God, and be satisfied every morning with the image or idea of God Mudge

— when I awake,] He appears to say this with reference to the resurrection of the just Dr Hammond

The confidence with which David calls upon the Lord in this Psalm, and the hope he possessed that God would have regard to his innocence, shows the great happiness of the good since they can in all conditions apply themselves to God with assurance, knowing that He will always be their protector The last words of this Psalm should raise our thoughts to the desire and expectation of eternal life, which the righteous shall enjoy after the resurrection Osterwald

Psalm XVIII The departure of the children of Israel from Egypt, the passage of the Red sea, and the appearance of God on mount Sinai, are subjects from which the Hebrew poets have taken the most sublime part of their imagery and as these historical facts, and the images taken from them, have a common connexion with each other, it often happens that more than one of them are made use of, and they are united and blended together in order to increase the dignity and grandeur of the subject, of which we have an example in this Psalm Bp Lenth, Street The sublimity of the figures used in this Psalm, and the consent of ancient commentators, even Jewish as well as Christian, but above all the quotations made from it in the New Testament, prove that the kingdom of the Messiah is here pointed at, under that of David. Bp Horne There is no doubt that after David had first composed this Psalm, he renewed it, and made some small alterations in it, which is the reason of the trifling differences between this Psalm as it stands here, and as it stands in 2 Sam. xxi Dr Wells

Ver 2. — horn of my salvation,] See note of 1 Sam. ii 1

† Heb
Biblic and the floods of † ungodly men made me afraid

‡ Or
cora 5 The || sorrows of hell compassed me about the snares of death prevented me

6 In my distress I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears

7 Then the earth shook and trembled, the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was wroth

† Heb
by his 8 There went up a smoke † out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured coals were kindled by it

9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down and darkness was under his feet

10 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind

11 He made darkness his secret place, his pavilion round about him were dark waters and thick clouds of the skies

12 At the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail stones and coals of fire

13 The Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave his voice, hail stones and coals of fire

14 Yea, he sent out his arrows, and scattered them, and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them

15 Then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils

Or great
water, 16 He sent from above, he took me, he drew me out of || many waters

5 The sorrows of hell &c.] David here means, that such sorrows as had almost brought him to the grave, compassed him about and his enemies came on so suddenly that he had not time to escape them by flight Dr Wells

the snares of death.] These "snares" or toils "of death, or the grave" allude to the ancient manner of hunting which is still practised in some countries and was performed by surrounding a considerable tract of ground by a circle of nets, (compare Ps cxi 5,) and afterwards contracting the circle by degrees, till they had forced all the beasts of that quarter together into a narrow compass, and then it was that the slaughter began Parkhurst

7 Then the earth &c.] The Psalmist seems here to allude to a dreadful tempest which fell upon his enemies, and made the very earth tremble under them Dr Patrick This and the following verses are highly poetical and must be understood to signify, that the deliverance of David was the effect of the Divine power miraculously exerted Francis

8 There went up a smoke out of his nostrils.] The ancients played the seat of anger in the nose or nostrils, because when the passion grows warm or violent, it discovers itself by the heated vehement breath which proceeds from thence This description of a smoke arising into, and a fire breaking forth from, the nostrils of God, denotes, by a poetical figure, the greatness of His anger and indignation Dr Chandler

10 — he rode upon a cherub &c.] He was attended, and as it were, carried by angels as in a chariot and did move very

17 He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hated me for they were too strong for me

18 They prevented me in the day of my calamity but the Lord was my stay

19 He brought me forth also into a large place, he delivered me, because he delighted in me

20 The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me

21 For I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God

22 For all his judgments were before me, and I did not put away his statutes from me

23 I was also upright † before him, and † Heb with I kept myself from mine iniquity

24 Therefore hath the Lord recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands † in † Heb his eyesight before his eyes

25 With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful, with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright,

26 With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure, and with the froward thou wilt || shew † Or thyself froward with 27 For thou wilt save the afflicted people, but wilt bring down high looks

28 For thou wilt light my || candle the † Or Lord my God will enlighten my darkness lamp

29 For by thee I have || run through a † Or troop, and by my God have I leaped over broken a wall swiftly, yea He did move as swift as the wind, and a rapid wind did accompany His descent Dr Wells

11 He made darkness &c.] The meaning is that He and all His heavenly attendants were surrounded with thick dark clouds Dr Wells

12 — coals of fire.] The word, rendered "coals of fire," signifies living, burning coals Where the lightning fell, it devoured all before it, and turned whatever it touched into burning embers Dr Chandler

15 Then the channels &c.] This alludes to the manner of God's destroying the Egyptians by drying up the channels of the sea, that deep on which the earth is said to be founded, and so engaging them to enter into it, and then bringing the waters upon them This poetical description is preparatory to David's deliverances which follow Fenton

16 — many waters.] Sudden and great calamities are frequently expressed in scripture under the figure of a deluge of waters Dr Patrick

18 They prevented me.] That is, came on me suddenly, unawares, when I was unprovided and helpless Dr Patrick

19 — a large place.] Meaning a state of liberty Dr Patrick

26 — with the froward &c.] That is, to the perverse Thou wilt shew Thyself an adversary Green

28 — light my candle.] Give me light and joy Dr Wilson

29. For by thee &c.] Through Thee I break the troops of my enemy, through my God I leap over walls that is, take the fortresses of my enemies Edwards, Dr Wilson

Psalm 126
119 140
Prov 90 5
Or Deut 31
Psalm 86 8
Isaiah 41 5

30 As for God, his way is perfect the word of the LORD is tried he is a buckler to all those that trust in him.

31 For who is God save the LORD? or who is a rock save our God?

32 It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect.

33 He maketh my feet like hinds' feet, and setteth me upon my high places

34 He teacheth my hands to war, so that a bow of steel is broken by mine arms

35 Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleness hath made me great

36 Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, that my feet did not slip 37 I have pursued mine enemies, and overtaken them neither did I turn again till they were consumed

38 I have wounded them that they were not able to rise they are fallen under my feet

39 For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle thou hast subdued under me those that rose up against me

40 Thou hast also given me the necks of mine enemies, that I might destroy them that hate me

41 They cried, but there was none to save them even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.

42 Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind. I did cast them out as the dirt in the streets

43 Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people, and thou hast made me the head of the heathen people whom I have not known shall strive me

44 As soon as they hear of me, they shall obey me the strangers shall submit themselves unto me

45 The strangers shall fade away, and be afraid out of their close places

46 The LORD liveth, and blessed be my rock, and let the God of my salvation be exalted

47 It is God that avengeth me, and subdueth the people unto me

48 He delivereth me from mine enemies yea, thou liftest me up above those that rise up against me thou hast delivered me from the violent man

49 Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the heathen, and sing praises unto thy name

50 Great deliverance giveth he to his king, and sheweth mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his seed for evermore

PSALM XIX

The creatures shew God's glory 7 The word his grace 12 David prayeth for grace

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

THE heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth his handywork

33 He maketh my feet &c.] He maketh me able to stand on the sides of mountains and rocks, (which were anciently used as fastnesses in time of war) The feet of the sheep, the goat, and the hart, are particularly adapted to standing on such places

34 — so that a bow of steel &c.] Probably this sentence should be read, agreeably to some of the ancient versions, Thou makest my arms like a bow of brass Edwards, Bp Lowth

The ancients had the art of giving a temper to brass which made it as hard and solid as steel, and made various kinds of weapons and armour of bronze Calmet

35 — thy gentleness &c.] That is, Thy kindness maketh me great. Street

36 Thou hast enlarged &c.] David means, that God had opened a free course for him to victory and triumph, and had also endued him with strength to run that course Bp Horne

40 — given me the necks of mine enemies.] The word, here translated "neck," is the back part of the neck, and therefore equivalent to back, as the Greek translates it The passage may therefore be rendered, As for my enemies, Thou givest me their back, that is, puttest them to flight Mudge, Bp Lowth

45. The strangers shall fade &c.] Foreign nations faint with fear and trembling in their strong holds Edwards

48 — from the violent man.] He certainly means from Saul Dr. Kennicott

50 — to his anointed.] To Christ the spiritual David, and to all true Christians, which are His seed. Bp Wilson

From the first words of this hymn we learn, that the Divine favours and deliverances should inspire us with the most tender and sincere affection, and lead us to praise God continually David's account of the extreme dangers he had been exposed to, and the wonderful power of God displayed in his deliverance, shews that into whatever extremities we fall, we should never despair of God's assistance, if we fear Him, that His power is greater than man's, and that He never wants means to deliver those who hope in Him Lastly, David's zeal, expressed in the latter verses of this Psalm, proves that it is not sufficient to praise God in private for His mercies, but we ought to proclaim His praises and lovingkindness to the utmost of our power that His holy name may be glorified by us, and by all men Ostersvall

Psalm XIX This Psalm descends gradually from an opening uncommonly splendid and sublime to a gentler and more moderate strain, and the softest expressions of piety and devotion The whole composition abounds with great variety of both sentiment and imagery The glory of God is demonstrated in His works both of nature and providence The piety of it is so natural, and yet so exalted, so easy to be understood, so adapted to move the affections, that it is hardly possible to read it with any attention without feeling something of the same spirit by which it was composed Bps Lowth and Sherlock

From a citation which St. Paul hath made of the fourth verse it appears, that, in the exposition of this Psalm, we are to raise our thoughts from things natural to things spiritual, we are to contemplate the publication of the Gospel, the manifestation of the Light of life, the Sun of righteousness, and the efficacy of evangelical doctrine In this view the ancients have considered the Psalm, and the Church hath therefore appointed it to be read on Christmas-day Bp Horne

2 Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge

3 There is no speech nor language, || where their voice is not heard

4 || Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race

6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it, and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof

7 The || law of the LORD is perfect, || converting the soul the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple

8 The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes

9 The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever the judgments of the LORD are || true and righteous altogether.

10 More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold sweeter also than honey and || the honeycomb

11 Moreover by them is thy servant warned and in keeping of them there is great reward

12 Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults

13 Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins; let them not have dominion over me then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from || the great transgression.

14 Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD, || my strength, and my redeemer

PSALM XX

1 The church bleaseth the king in his exploits 7 Her confidence in God's succour

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

THE LORD hear thee in the day of trouble, the name of the God of Jacob || defend thee

2 Send || thee help from the sanctuary, and || strengthen thee out of Zion

12 — his errors? That is, sins of ignorance and infirmity, or, as it follows, those secret faults which escape our notice

13 — presumptuous sins.] Wilful and deliberate sins Dr Wells

— the great transgression.] The meaning of this expression may be, rebellion and final apostasy from God Bp Horne Or, idolatry Dr Kennicott Or it may be taken generally, any great transgression Dr Wells

King David here mentions two principal means by which God has made Himself known to us, which are, the works of nature, and His word Let us therefore make a good use of both these means, meditating upon the marvelous works of God, which afford us such proofs of His power and wisdom, but particularly let us apply ourselves to the reading and meditating on His word David's high encomiums on God's word inform us, that it is a sure, evident, and unerring rule of faith and practice, that it is of infinitely more value than the most excellent things of this world, that it was given to enlighten and sanctify us, to rejoice and comfort the heart, that the fear of the Lord procures perfect happiness to those who are possessed with it, and that there is great reward in the keeping of His holy commandments Oster-wald

Psalm XX The first verses of this Psalm are spoken by the people, or rather the priests of the temple, upon the king's coming to offer sacrifice, before he set out upon some expedition in the sixth, the high priest, upon seeing the sacrifice consumed to ashes, joined perhaps with the other usual signals of favour, breaks out in the expression, "Now I know," &c The last again are spoken by the people or priests as a chorus. Mudge

Thus and the following are two of the Psalms appointed to be used in our Inauguration service.

Ver 2 Send thee help &c.] Send thee help from the holy heavens, and from His sanctuary, which is a type and figure thereof, and strengthen thee out of Zion, where He hath by His command appointed the holy ark of His covenant to be placed, and from whence He gives answers and directions to all thy actions Bp Hall. See note at Exod. xxvi. § 3

Or with our voice their voice is heard
|| Heb without their voice
and
|| Rom 10
18
|| Or their rule, or direction

|| Or, d. true
|| Or enduring

|| Heb
truth

Ver 2 Day unto day uttereth speech,] The return of the sun from one day unto another day tells us that there is a God, and the like return of the moon or stars, or darkness from one night unto another night teaches us the same Dr Wells

3 There is no speech &c.] They are not endowed like man, with the faculty of speech, but they address themselves to the mind of the intelligent beholder in another and that when understood, a no less forcible way, the way of picture, or representation Bp Horne

4 Their line is gone out &c.] Rather, Their sound is gone out into all the earth, and their report, &c. Dr Waterland and Old Translation The meaning is, they proclaim the Divine glory in plain and intelligible discourses, to the remotest parts of the earth, as the Gospel shall be proclaimed hereafter by the preaching of the Apostles Rom. x. 18 Travell

— a tabernacle for the sun.] The nuptials of the Jews, and other eastern nations, were celebrated with great magnificence and splendour They were held under a tent, or canopy, erected for that purpose, to which custom David here alludes, as he does in the next verse to the custom of the bridegroom's going out at midnight with lamps and torches The passage will receive great light from our Saviour's parable of the wise and foolish virgins Dodd

8 — pure.] The original word should be translated as it is in the Greek, "clear" or "bright." Bp Lowth, Dr Kennicott

9 — clean.] That is, pure, or free from all alloy of superstition Green

10 More to be desired &c.] The Divine law is far more precious than the richest treasures upon earth, and more delightful to him who practices it, than the most luxurious sensual pleasures.
Travell

— and the honeycomb.] Or as in the margin, the dropping of the honeycomb, which is the choicest part of the honey Green

Pliny says, "In all kinds of honey, that which flows of itself as wine and oil, and is called aceton, that is without sediment, is most commended." And Homer mentions "honey spontaneously distilling," as peculiarly sweet Parkhurst

Heb. turn ashes or, make fast

3 Remember all thy offerings, and † accept thy burnt sacrifice Selah

4 Grant thee according to thine own heart, and fulfil all thy counsel.

5 We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners the LORD fulfil all thy petitions.

6 Now know I that the LORD saveth his anointed, he will hear him † from his holy heaven † with the saving strength of his right hand

7 Some trust in chariots, and some in horses but we will remember the name of the LORD our God

8 They are brought down and fallen but we are risen, and stand upright

9 Save, LORD let the king hear us when we call

PSALM XXI

A thanksgiving for victory 7 Confidence of further success

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

THE king shall joy in thy strength, O LORD, and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!

2 Thou hast given him his heart's desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips Selah

3 For thou preventest him with the blessings of goodness thou settest a crown of pure gold on his head

4 He asked life of thee, and thou gavest

3 — accept] The Hebrew expression is, "turn to ashes, (see the margin,) and if we look to the period under the law, we shall find this the usual method of signifying the Divine acceptance of the sacrifice Dr Magee See the note on Gen iv 4.

5 — in the name of our God] To the honour of God, as the conqueror

— we will set up our banners] In token of triumph, which among other ways was celebrated by the setting up of banners or trophies Poole

9 Save, Lord &c] We ought to read this according to the Greek translation O Lord, save the king, and hear us, when we call Mudge, Calnet

It appears from this Psalm, that a nation should pray for the prince whom God hath set over them, and interest themselves in the advantages or deliverances which God grants to their governors also that it is the favour and protection of God which makes the glory and safety of the people, and of kings, that it is to that favour, and not to their own strength and power, they are to attribute their good success, and therefore, that kings and their subjects should strive above all things to obtain the favour of God Osterwald.

Psalm XXI This is a Psalm of triumph and thanksgiving for victory It is generally considered as describing, under the figure of David, the exaltation, glory, and majesty of Christ, who completely triumphed over death The fourth, fifth, and sixth verses, are indeed particularly applicable to our blessed Redeemer It is appointed by the Church to be used on the Ascension-day Travell

it him, even length of days for ever and ever

5 His glory is great in thy salvation, honour and majesty hast thou laid upon him

6 For thou hast † made him most blessed for ever thou hast † made him exceeding glad with thy countenance

7 For the king trusteth in the LORD, and through the mercy of the most High he shall not be moved.

8 Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies thy right-hand shall find out those that hate thee

9 Thou shalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger the LORD shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them

10 Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men

11 For they intended evil against thee they imagined a malicious device, which they are not able to perform

12 Therefore shalt thou make them turn their † back, when thou shalt make ready † thine arrows upon thy strings against the face of them

13 Be thou exalted, LORD, in thine own strength so will we sing and praise thy power

PSALM XXII

1 David complaineth in great discouragement 9 He prayeth in great distress 29 He praiseth God.

Ver 3 For thou preventest him &c] Didst crown him with manifold blessings both more and sooner than he either desired or expected Poole

4 He asked life of thee &c] David had in the days of Saul only asked for "life," and God had given to him and his posterity, "length of days for ever and ever" Mudge.

9 Thou shalt make them &c.] The meaning is, they shall all certainly perish, as if they were cast into a fiery oven, the Lord, who is justly incensed against them, shall utterly consume with a sharp and unavoidable destruction Bp. Patrick

10 Their fruit] That is, their offspring Green

12 — shalt thou make them turn their back] Or, as in the margin, Thou shalt make them a mark to shoot at Green.

— thine arrows] The judgments of God are called His "arrows," being sharp, swift, sure and deadly Bp. Horne

From this, as from the preceding Psalm, we learn that God defends just and pious kings who call upon Him and trust in Him, whereas He throws down and destroys unrighteous princes, and especially such as oppose the establishment of His kingdom, and the designs of His providence Osterwald

Psalm XXII This Psalm contains a most full and clear prophecy of our blessed Saviour's passion, and the propagation of His Gospel It is entitled a Psalm of David, and I doubt not but that the greatest part of it related primarily to David himself It contains a most pathetic and poetical description of his own sufferings and calamities, but expressed in such figures as were most literally fulfilled in the sufferings of Christ. Archbishop Randolph.

|| Or
the hind of the morn

174 * Matth 27
46

Mark 15
34

† Heb from my salvation.

† Heb there is no silence o
me

|| To the chief Musician upon || Ayeleth Shahar, A Psalm of David

MY God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far † from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?

2 O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not, and in the night season, and † am not silent

3 But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel

4 Our fathers trusted in thee. they trusted, and thou didst deliver them

5 They cried unto thee, and were delivered they trusted in thee, and were not confounded

6 But I am a worm, and no man, a reproach of men, and despised of the people.

7 All they that see me laugh me to scorn, they † shoo out the lip, they shake the head, saying,

8 † He trusted on the Lord that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, || seeing he delighted in him

9 But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou † didst make me hope when I was upon my mother's breasts

10 I was cast upon thee from the womb thou art my God from my mother's belly

* Matth 27
39

† Heb open

* Matth 27
43

† Heb

He called himself on the LORD

|| Or, if he delight in him

|| Or, kept me in safety

It is very properly appointed to be used on Good Friday, as it contains a wonderful prophecy of our Saviour's sufferings and He Himself repeated the first verse of it while He was hanging on the cross Travell

— Ayeleth Shahar. || Or hind of the morning The morning-hind was probably a well-known song, which gave name to a particular tune or instrument, not unlikely of the melancholy kind as possibly it might describe a poor hind pursued by hunters Mudge

V. 1. My God, my God, &c. Christ, the beloved Son of the Father when hanging on the cross, complained in these words, that He was deprived, for a time, of the Divine presence and comforting influence, while He suffered for our sins If the Messiah thus underwent the trial of a spiritual desertion, why doth the disciple think it strange, unless the light of Heaven shine continually upon his tabernacle? Bp Horne — the words of my roaring. He means the words of his complaint Bp Patrick

3 — inhabitant the praises of Israel That is, dwellest in the tabernacle where the praises and thanksgivings of Israel are offered to thee for mercies granted them Edwards, Bp Horne

7 All they &c. I from this verse to the twentieth, the words are prophetic of Christ and literally fulfilled in Him see Matth. xxii. 40 Dimock

12 Many bulls &c. Mine enemies, who are as furious and formidable as the bulls fed in the rich pastures of Bashan, be set me on every side Green See note at Numb xxii. 1 14 I am poured out like water. He means that his flesh has no consistency, or is loose as water Green 15 My strength is dried up &c. In other words, I am quite exhausted and dried up, like a piece of a broken pot so extreme is my thirst that I am scarce able to utter my complaints, but am just upon the point of expiring and returning to the dust of the earth How exactly is this prophecy verified in the person 11 Be not far from me, for trouble is near, for there is † none to help

12 Many bulls have compassed me strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.

13 They † gaped upon me with their † Heb mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion, opened their mouths a gainst me

14 I am poured out like water, and all my bones are || out of joint my heart is like wax, it is melted in the midst of my bowels

15 My strength is dried up like a pot sherd, and my tongue cleaveth to my jaws, and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.

16 For dogs have compassed me the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me † they pierced my hands and my feet

17 I may tell all my bones they look and stare upon me

18 They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture

19 But be not thou far from me, O LORD O my strength, haste thee to help me

20 Deliver my soul from the sword, † my darling † from the power of the dog

21 Save me from the lion's mouth for † Heb thou hast heard me from the horns of the from the horns unicorns

† Heb not a help

† Heb opened their mouths a gainst me

|| Or,
sunb

* Matth 27
35

Mark 15
24

Luke 23
33

John 19
23 37

* Luke 23
34

John 19
23 24

† Heb my darling

† Heb from the horns

of our blessed Lord, when He sweat as it were great drops of blood, and endured all the agonies of the cross! Travell

— my tongue cleaveth to my jaws. Parching thirst, here expressed by the Psalmist, is one of the usual concomitants of extreme grief of mind, or torture of body Dr Hales

16 For dogs have compassed me &c. A multitude of malicious people have beset me fiercely as dogs and got me into their power in order to wound and destroy me Dr Hammond Thus these words may be figuratively applied to David, but they were literally fulfilled in the Saviour of the world; whose feet and hands His enemies pierced through with nails on the cross Green

17 I may tell all my bones &c. The skin and flesh were distended by the posture of the body on the cross, that the bones, as through a thin veil, became visible, and might be counted, and the holy Jesus, forsaken and stript, naked and bleeding, was a spectacle to heaven and earth Bp Horne

18 They part my garments &c. This was so far true of David, that his enemies spoiled his goods, and rifled his substance But it is particularly remarkable, that at our Saviour's crucifixion the soldiers divided His garments among them, and His coat being without seam, they would not rend it, but cast lots for it; and thus, as the Evangelists themselves tell us, this Scripture was fulfilled Such exact agreement in these minute circumstances could not occur casually, and it carries with it a striking proof of the interposition of God, and a strong confirmation of the truth of the Gospel Archdeacon Randolph

21 Save me from the lion's mouth &c. The faith of David was as exemplary as his piety God seems to have inspired him with a comfortable assurance that his prayers were heard. "For Thou hast heard me," says he, "from the horns of the unicorns." Archdeacon Randolph

— unicorns. The animal here meant is probably the rhinoceros It has one horn upon its nose, which is very strong, and * 1st br

12

22 I will declare thy name unto my brethren in the midst of the congregation: will I praise thee

23 Ye that fear the LORD, praise him, all ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him, and fear him, all ye the seed of Israel

24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted; neither hath he hid his face from him, but when he cried unto him, he heard.

25 My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him

26 The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the LORD that seek him: your heart shall live for ever.

* Psal 2
& 72 11
& 86 9

27 All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the LORD, and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee

28 For the kingdom is the LORD's, and he is the governor among the nations.

29 All they that be fat upon earth shall eat and worship: all they that go down to the dust shall bow before him: and none keep alive his own soul

30 A seed shall serve him, it shall be grows to a considerable length Green See the note on Numb xxiii 22

20 — I will pay my vows] That is, offer the sacrifice which I vowed Mudge

26 The meek shall eat &c.] Of this sacrifice the humble or afflicted, he says, should eat, and praise God for the mercy He had shewn to His servant. The latter part of the verse is addressed to them, "your heart shall live for ever" take courage and fear not, God will never desert them that fear Him Mudge

29 All they that be fat &c.] It is here foretold that the "fat ones of the earth, the great, the opulent, the flourishing, the nobles and princes of the world, should be called in to partake of the feast, and join in the Christian worship and service. Rich, as well as poor, are invited, and the hour is coming when all the race of Adam, as many as sleep in the "dust" of the earth, unable to raise themselves from thence, quickened and called forth by the voice of the Son of Man, must bow the knee to the King Messiah Bp. Horne, Archdeacon Randolph

29—31 — and none can keep alive &c.] The Greek version and some other ancient versions probably give the true reading of these clauses "My soul shall live, and my posterity shall serve God. My seed shall be reckoned to the Lord in the generation which shall come. And they shall declare His righteousness to a people which shall be born, for He, the Lord, hath done it. The words thus read and translated are a plain prophecy of the propagation of the Gospel, and calling of the Gentiles Abp. Secker, Archdeacon Randolph

31 — he hath done this] That is, He hath fulfilled His promises and Divine predictions. Michaelis

We are presented in this Psalm with a very plain prophetic description of our Lord's sufferings and profound humiliation. Here we read those very words which He uttered at His crucifixion, "My God, my God, why hast Thou forsaken Me?" Here we see portrayed the insults offered to Him by the Jews while He hung upon the cross, His hands and His feet pierced, His garments divided by lot, and the principal circumstances described of His passion and death. God was pleased that all these things should be foretold by David, so the end that, when they accounted to the LORD for a genera-

Vol I

31 They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done this.

PSALM XXIII

David's confidence in God's grace

A Psalm of David.

THE LORD is my shepherd, I shall not want

2 He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters

3 He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake

4 Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me

5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil, my cup runneth over

6 Surely goodness and mercy shall fol-

* Psal 40
11 Jer 23 4
Isaiah 44
11, 12, 23
John 10
11 1 Pet 2 25
† Heb pastures of green
† Heb valley of quietness Isaiah 3 6
& 118 6

† Heb
maketh fat

lame to press, we might have the clearest proof of His being the true Messiah. The contemplation therefore of this Psalm ought on the one hand to strengthen our faith in Jesus the Saviour of the world, and on the other hand, to quicken our hopes in Him while it sets before us the glory to which God has exalted Him after His sufferings, and which He now enjoys at the right hand of the Father Ostervald

Psalm XXIII The sweetness of many of the Psalms in composition, sentiment, diction, and arrangement, has never been equalled by the finest productions of heathen poetry. And I must confess I never met with any image so truly pleasing and delightful, as the following description of the Deity in the character of a shepherd. Bp. Lenth

Ver 3, He restoreth my soul.] When I am ready to faint, He refreshes me and brings me to life again Mudge

4 — the valley of the shadow of death.] A valley overspread with the horrors of darkness and of death Green

— thy rod, &c.] Thy protection will dispel all my fears Green

5 — thou anointest my head &c.] The overflowing of a cup, and the being anointed with sweet-smelling oils are the usual emblems of a feast, and are made use of in Scripture as the images of plenty and prosperity Travell

The natural homage which such a creature as man bears to an infinitely wise and good God, is a firm reliance on Him for the blessings and conveniences of life and an habitual trust in Him for deliverance out of all such dangers and difficulties as may befall us. The man who always lives in this disposition of mind, when he reflects upon his own weakness and imperfection, comforts himself with the contemplation of those Divine attributes which are employed for his safety and welfare. He finds his want of foresight made up by the omniscience of Him who is his support. He is not sensible of his own want of strength, when he knows that his Helper is almighty. In short the person who has a firm trust on the Supreme Being, is powerful in His power, wise by His wisdom, happy by His happiness. He reaps the benefit of every Divine attribute, and loses his own insufficiency in the fulness of Infinite Perfection Addison

6 K

10 All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies 11 For thy name's sake, O Lord, pardon mine iniquity, for it is great.

12 What man is he that feareth the Lord? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose 13 His soul shall dwell at ease, and his seed shall inherit the earth.

14 The secret of the Lord is with them that fear him; and he will shew them his covenant

15 Mine eyes are ever toward the Lord, for he shall pluck my feet out of the net

16 Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me, for I am desolate and afflicted 17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged O bring thou me out of my distresses.

18 Look upon mine affliction and my pain, and forgive all my sins

19 Consider mine enemies, for they are many, and they hate me with cruel hatred

20 O keep my soul, and deliver me, let me not be ashamed, for I put my trust in thee

21 Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, for I wait on thee

22 Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles † Heb shall love in 9

Prov 32 Or and his cov nant to make them know it † Heb bring forth

† Heb hatred of violence

10 All the paths &c.] They, who observe and keep His commandments will find abundant goodness and faithfulness in the ways of the Lord who will order all things for their good Travell, Bp Patrick

12 — that he shall choose.] That he ought to choose Dr Kennicott

14 The secret of the Lord &c.] The counsel and covenant of the Lord to them that fear Him, is to make known or reveal to them His will Dr Hammond Or by the word "secret," may be meant, God's love and favour, which is called His "secret," Job xxix 4 Prov iii 42, and that very fitly, because it is known to none but him that enjoys it Poole

17 The troubles of my heart are enlarged.] This should rather be translated, 'Relieve the sorrows of my heart.' Dr Kennicott, Bp Ionth

20 — let me not be ashamed,] That is, disappointed Bp Wilson Compare Job vi 20

21 — for I wait on thee.] For I trust in Thee Mudge

22 Redeem Israel &c.] After imploring forgiveness of his sins, that the people might not be visited for his sake, and after expressing his personal penitence and sorrow, David concludes with a prayer for the deliverance of his country

After the example of David, the pious and devout Christian, who really and truth puts his entire confidence in God, is never weary or ashamed of that confidence. If he finds that his prayers are not so graciously heard, as that he receives all that he hath prayed for, he receives yet an unspeakable comfort by having done as he ought to do — and though he prospers not, as he would wish, yet if he prays as he should, he hath made a good progress towards his own deliverance; and hath raised a good defence against any affliction that invades him; nor will he be frightened

PSALM XXVI

David resorteth unto God in confidence of his integrity

A Psalm of David

JUDGE me, O Lord, for I have walked in mine integrity I have trusted also in the Lord, therefore I shall not slide

2 Examine me, O Lord, and prove me, try my reins and my heart

3 For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes and I have walked in thy truth

4 I have not sat with vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers

5 I have hated the congregation of evil doers, and will not sit with the wicked

6 I will wash mine hands in innocency so will I compass thine altar, O Lord

7 That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works

8 Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.

9 Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with bloody men

10 In whose hands is mischief, and their right hand is full of bribes

11 But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity redeem me, and be merciful unto me

12 My foot standeth in an even place in the congregations will I bless the Lord.

† Heb of the tabernacle of thy honour Or Take not away † Heb men of blood † Heb filled with out of his innocence by the promises, or threats, or tyranny of his proud oppressors Lord Clarendon

Psalm XXVI It is generally agreed that this Psalm was composed on account of some injurious charge brought against David by some of Saul's courtiers Dmick

Vers 1 Judge me.] Give sentence in my favour Street

2 Examine me, &c.] David here begs of God who knw the secret thoughts of his mind, and the inclinations of his will, to search deeply into them, and prove his integrity Bp Patrick

4 — vain persons,] False and treacherous persons Bp Patrick

6 I will wash &c.] David means, that he would cleanse his heart and hands from all the impurity of his sins, and then that he would approach to God's altar, and offer his sacrifice Bp Hall

— wash mine hands.] It was a custom among the Jews for those who brought sacrifices to be offered to wash their hands before they laid them upon the heads of the victims Irenus

It was a common usage for the Jews always to wash before prayers, and the priests in particular were not to perform any office in the sanctuary, till they had poured water from the laver and washed in it. It is to this that David here allude Fenton

— compass thine altar.] Among other ceremonies connected with the feast of tabernacles it was usual on the seventh day for the people to compass the altar seven times, carrying branches in their hands, and singing hosannas Levi

8 — the place where thine honour dwelleth.] That is the tabernacle, where God had made His glory to dwell among them Bp Patrick

12 My foot standeth in an even place.] That is, I stand in a sure place, so that I need not fear to fall Bp Wilson

David's earnest desire to serve God in the tabernacle, should stir us up to discharge the duties of religion with the same fer-

PSALM XXVII

1 David sustains his faith by the power of God, & by his love to the service of God, 9 by prayer

¶ A Psalm of David

THE LORD is <sup>1</sup> my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear? <sup>2</sup> the LORD is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid?

2 When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, † came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell

3 Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident

4 One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after, that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold || the beauty of the LORD, and to enquire in his temple

5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me, he shall set me upon a rock

6 And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy, I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD

7 Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice. But the care this pious king took to purify himself before he went unto the altar of God, should convince us, that in order to appear in the presence of God, we should be pure and lead a holy life. Lastly, we should join with David in the prayer which he offers up to God at the end of this Psalm, and beseech Him to preserve us from being like the wicked, lest we share with them in the punishments that are prepared for them. Ostervald

* Psalm XXVII David being persecuted by his enemies, and in danger of his life from false witnesses, testifies in this Psalm his entire confidence in the protection of the Almighty, beseecheth Him to continue His favour, and is persuaded He will never forsake him. Grein He probably composed it upon the occasion of Saul's persecution of him. Rosenmüller

Ver 2 † to eat up my flesh. This expresses the utmost malice of his enemies, assailing him with the fury of wild beasts

3 — in this will I be confident. I will still have confidence in God's assistance. Dr Hammond

4 — that I may dwell &c. David's prayer was, that he might perpetually attend upon the service of God, and enjoy the sweet pleasure the Lord there imparts to His people, and receive His directions from the tabernacle. Bp Patrick

— the beauty of the Lord. By "the beauty of the Lord" he means the cheering countenance of God, whose presence was more conspicuously manifested in His temple. Edwards

5 — pavilion. The word here translated "pavilion," signifies originally a shepherd's cot or hut, made of the boughs and branches of trees, and is applied to any habitation, provided it be private, as a lion's den, a king's palace, and also to the holy tabernacle, as it is in this place. When therefore David says, that God should "hide him in His pavilion," he means that God would keep him as safe, as any one should be, when a king voice * have mercy also upon me, and answer me

8 || When thou saidst, Seek ye my face; my heart said unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I seek

9 Hide not thy face far from me, put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help, leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation

10 When my father and my mother forsake me, then the LORD † will take me up

11 Teach me thy way, O LORD, and lead me in † a plain path, because of mine enemies

12 Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty

13 I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the LORD in the land of the living

14 Wait on the LORD: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the LORD

PSALM XXVIII.

1 David prayeth earnestly against his enemies 6 He blesseth God 9 He prayeth for the people should receive into his tent, so that his enemies would not dare to hurt him. Rosenmüller

¶ A Psalm of David

— in the secret of his tabernacle. That is, in as safe a place as the Holy of Holies, which is called God's secret, Ezek vii 22 Poole

8 — Seek ye my face. These are words which his heart dictated as from God. Mudge

— Thy face, I ord, will I seek. I will apply to Thee by prayer. Bp Wilson

10 When my father and my mother &c. Should all earthly dependences fail me, the Lord would take me under His care. Bps Wilson and Patrick

12 — false witnesses are risen up &c. As this passage is strictly prophetic of the Messiah, much light is thrown on it from Mark xiv 56. Dr Kennicott

13 — in the land of the living. In this present life. Bp Patrick

14 Wait on the Lord. Wait the Lord's time with patience. Bp Wilson

In this Psalm we are to remark, 1st, That those who fear God and trust in Him, are never afraid of men, but are calm and unshaken even when reduced to the most deplorable condition. 2dly, That the most inestimable advantage, and the greatest consolation we can enjoy in this world, is, to meet often in the house of God there to praise and adore Him, and to receive the testimonies of His favour. 3dly, That when God does incline our hearts to seek His face, we should improve the mercy, and not slight the gracious invitation. Ostervald

Psalm XXVIII In this Psalm David intreats God to defend him from the malice and artifices of his heathen enemies, and from the judgments that should fall upon them. He then praises God for the care He had taken of him, trusts in His assistance, and prays for the prosperity of the Israelites. Grein

Or, My heart said unto thee I et my face seek thy face, &c.

† Heb will gather me

1 Paul 25 4 & 86 11 & 119

† Heb a way of plainness † Heb those which observe me

Pa 31 24 Isai 25 9 Hab 2 3

PSALM XXIX.

† Heb. from me
Ps 143 7

UNTO thee will I cry, O Lord my rock, be not silent † to me † lest, if thou be silent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit

|| Or towards the oracle of thy sanctuary
Ps 122
Jer 2, 5

2 Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee, when I lift up my hands || toward thy holy oracle.

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity, which speak peace to their neighbours, but mischief is in their hearts

4 Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of their endeavours: give them after the work of their hands; render to them their desert

5 Because they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands, he shall destroy them, and not build them up 6 Blessed be the LORD, because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.

7 The LORD is my strength and my shield; my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth, and with my song will I praise him

|| Or his strength † Heb. strength of salvation
|| Or,
ult

8 The LORD is || their strength, and he is the † saving strength of his anointed

9 Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: || feed them also, and lift them up for ever

Ver 1 — them that go down into the pit ] Those that are abandoned to destruction Bp Patrick

3 Draw me not away with the wicked, ] Cast me not off with them Bp Wilson

4, 5 Give them according &c ] In these verses, as indeed in most of the imprecatory passages, the imperative and the future tenses are used promiscuously, "Give them — render them — He shall destroy them" If therefore the verbs in all such passages were uniformly rendered in the future, every objection against the scripture imprecations would vanish at once, and they would appear clearly to be what they are, namely, prophecies of the Divine judgments, which were afterwards to take place Bp Horne

8 The Lord is their strength, &c ] It is the Lord who gives courage and strength to His servants, and protects him whom He hath appointed king over His people Bp Patrick

A prayer collected out of the above Psalm O heavenly Father, we humbly beseech Thy goodness, when we cry unto Thee, to hear our supplications, for if Thou turn away Thine ear, and neglect to give us audience in these our pressures and afflictions, the men of Thy hand will prevail against us, and bring down our life into the pit We acknowledge before Thee that our ways have been perverse, our works wicked, and the imagination of our hearts only vain and evil continually yet, O Lord, we desire to be holy, render therefore unto us, not according to our deserts, but according to Thy great mercies Bp Nicholson

Psalm XXIX In this Psalm the supreme dominion of God, and the awfulness of His power, are demonstrated from the tremendous noise, and the astonishing force of the thunder, which the Hebrews, by a bold but very apt figure, denominated "the voice of the Most High" It is enough to say of it, that the sublimity of the matter is perfectly equalled by the unaffected energy of the style. Bp Louth

1 David exhorteth princes to give glory to God, 3 by reason of his power, 11 and protection of his people

A Psalm of David

GIVE unto the LORD, O † ye mighty, give unto the LORD glory and strength 2 Give unto the LORD † the glory due unto his name, worship the LORD || in the beauty of holiness

† Heb. ye sons of the mighty † Heb. the honour of his name
|| Or in his glorious sanctuary
|| Or great awe

3 The voice of the LORD is upon the waters the God of glory thundereth the LORD is upon || many waters

4 The voice of the LORD is † powerful, the voice of the LORD is † full of majesty

† Heb. in power
† Heb. in majesty

5 The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedars, yea, the LORD breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.

6 He maketh them also to skip like a calf, Lebanon and † Sirion like a young unicorn. Deut 3 9 7 The voice of the LORD † divideth the flames of fire. † Heb. cutteth cut

8 The voice of the LORD shaketh the wilderness, the LORD shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh

9 The voice of the LORD maketh the hinds || to calve, and discovereth the forests and in his temple || doth every one speak of his glory

|| Or to be in pain
|| Or, every about of it uttereth, &c.

Ver 2 — worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness ] In other words, Worship ye the Lord in that beautiful and glorious sanctuary, where He exhibits His presence to His people Bp Hall See the margin

3 The voice of the Lord is upon the waters ] That is, the thunder, called here the voice of the Lord, is upon the waters collected in the clouds Green

5 — the cedars of Lebanon ] See note at 1 Kings v 6 6 He maketh them also to skip &c ] This description is figurative and poetical The figures are rather too strong for a modern language, but they are agreeable to that of the Hebrews, in which they have a singular beauty Calmet

7 — the flames of fire ] That is, the flashes of lightning Mudge 8 — the wilderness of Kadesh ] The wilderness of Kadesh was part of that wilderness through which the Israelites passed in their way to Canaan See Numb xiii 26 Bp Horne It was the frontier of Idumea and Paran Calmet

9 The voice of the Lord maketh the hinds to calve, ] The terror of this voice causeth the hinds to cast their calves for fear Bp Hall

— and discovereth the forests and in his temple &c ] The storm strips the trees of their leaves, and opens the recesses of the forest Travell

While His temple remaineth unshaken by these tempestuous blasts, and all His pious worshippers there securely sing the praises of His glorious majesty and power Bp Patrick

Other commentators explain this difficult verse differently. The voice of Jehovah maketh the oaks to tremble, and maketh bare the trees of the woods Bp Louth, Abp Secker

And in His temple every thing proclaimeth His glory By "His temple" may be meant the heavens Bp Hare

The practice of the great duty of praising God for His works and for His mercies, will preserve in our souls a constant and

10. The LORD sitteth upon the flood, yea, the LORD sitteth King for ever.

11 The LORD will give strength unto his people; the LORD will bless his people with peace

PSALM XXX

1 David praiseth God for his deliverance 4 He exhorteth others to praise him by example of God's dealing with him

¶ A Psalm and Song at the dedication of the house of David

I WILL extol thee, O LORD, for thou hast lifted me up, and hast not made my foes to rejoice over me

2 O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me

3 O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from the grave thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit

4 Sing unto the LORD, O ye saints of his, and give thanks || at the remembrance of his holiness

5 For this angel endureth but a moment, in his favour is life weeping may endure † for a night, but † joy cometh in the morning

6 And in my prosperity I said, I shall never be moved

7 LORD, by thy favour thou hast † made my mountain to stand strong thou didst hide thy face, and I was troubled

† Or to the memorial
† Heb there is but a moment in his anger
† Heb in the evening
† Heb singing
† Heb settled strength for my mountain

lively sense of His glorious perfections which will be a means of making us truly religious, and will make all other religious duties easy and pleasant to us. His almighty power will make us dread offending Him the sense of our dependence upon Him, and His continual care over us will incline us to love Him with all our heart and soul and the grateful remembrance of His past mercies will make us put our whole trust in Him for the time to come Bp Watson

Psalm XXX This Psalm of David is plainly expressive of his gratitude to God for delivering him from his foes, and rescuing him from his distresses. And as it appears, 2 Sam v 11 and 1 Chron xiv 1, that Hiram, king of Tyre, sent materials and workmen to build an house for David about the time when the Lord had confirmed him King over Israel, I apprehend that this hymn might have been composed on that occasion Street

¶ Psalm and Song at the dedication &c.] An ode on taking possession of the house built for David Street

Ver 5. O LORD, thou hast brought &c.] When I was just at the point of death Thou hast preserved me from the very brink of the grave Trappell

1 — 2 we thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.] The meaning is Celebrate His holy name Green — is life.] Life is often put for a long and happy time, as in Psal xxxiv 12 and for an eternal and immortal duration, 2 Tim i 10 Jam i 12 Poole

6 — 7 And in my prosperity &c.] There should not be a full stop at the end of the sixth verse but after the words "stand strong in the seventh. The word rendered 'prosperity' denotes peace and tranquillity arising from an affluent prosperous condition. When God had settled him quietly on the throne, he 8 I cried to thee, O LORD, and unto the LORD I made supplication

9 What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the dust <sup>Paul 6 1</sup> praise thee? shall it declare thy truth? <sup>& 88 11 &</sup> 115 17

10 Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon me LORD, be thou my helper,

11 Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness,

12 To the end that || my glory may sing || <sup>that is</sup> praise to thee, and not be silent O LORD <sup>my tongue</sup> my God, I will give thanks unto thee for <sup>or, my soul</sup> ever

PSALM XXXI

1 David shewing his confidence in God craveth his help 7 He rejoiceth in his mercy 9 He prayeth in his calamity 19 He praiseth God for his goodness

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

IN thee, O LORD, do I put my trust, <sup>Ps 22 5</sup> let me never be ashamed deliver me <sup>Isai 49 24</sup> in thy righteousness

2 Bow down thine ear to me, deliver, me speedily be thou † my strong rock, for † Heb an house of defence to save me. <sup>† me for a</sup> <sup>rock,</sup>

3 For thou art my rock and my fortress, therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me

4 Pull me out of the net that they have, laid privily for me for thou art my strength

thought all his troubles were over, and that he should enjoy uninterrupted happiness, that God had "made his mountain so strong that it should never be moved that is, had placed him secure from all danger Dr Chandler

7 — thou didst hide &c.] He means, that when God withdrew His protection, displeased with his presumption, and the security he had fondly promised himself he was immediately disturbed by fresh troubles, and his dream of uninterrupted tranquillity vanished Dr Chandler

9 What profit is there &c.] What service, said I, can I do Thee, when I am dead? Shall my ashes be able to please Thee, or to declare the truth of Thy promises Bp Patrick

This religious song of thanksgiving is particularly adapted to persons who have escaped great danger. Those whom God has thus delivered ought to celebrate His goodness, and invite all men to celebrate it with them. But above all we ought to take notice of the instructions here given us concerning the usefulness of aflictions. Even the best of men sometimes forget themselves in prosperity but God makes use of adversity to inspire them with a holy fear, to bring them to a sense of their duty, and to oblige them to have recourse to Him, and then He is reconciled and hears their cry, changing their sorrow into joy, and their complaints into songs of praise Ostervald

Psalm XXXI David being pursued by his enemies, probably in his retreat from Keilah, 1 Sam xxiii intreats the Lord in this Psalm to deliver him. He then returns thanks that his prayers are heard Green

Ver 3. — for thy name's sake lead me.] The Psalmist here be-seches God to glorify Himself, by guiding his steps so that he might escape the danger which threatened him Bp Patrick

46
v. 1 & 27

5 Into thine hand I commit my spirit thou hast redeemed me, O LORD God of truth.

6 I have hated them that regard lying vanities but I trust in the LORD.

7 I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy for thou hast considered my trouble, thou hast known my soul in adversities;

8 And hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy thou hast set my foot in a large room.

9 Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am in trouble mine eye is consumed with grief, yea, my soul and my belly

10 For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing my strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are consumed

11 I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance they that did see me without fled from me.

12 I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind I am like a broken vessel.

† Heb a vessel that is sheth

13 For I have heard the slander of many fear was on every side while they took counsel together against me, they devised to take away my life

14 But I trusted in thee, O LORD I said, Thou art my God

15 My times are in thy hand deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me

16 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant save me for thy mercies sake

17 Let me not be ashamed, O LORD, for I have called upon thee let the wicked be ashamed, and let them be silent in the grave.

Or let them be cut off for the grave

18 Let the lying lips be put to silence, which speak † grievous things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous

† Heb a hard thing

19 Oh how great is thy goodness which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee, which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men

Isa 64 4
1 Cor 2 9

20 Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence from the pride of man thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues

21 Blessed be the LORD for he hath shewed me his marvellous kindness in a strong city

Or
strong city

22 For I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes nevertheless thou heardst the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee

23 O love the LORD, all ye his saints for the LORD preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer

24 Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the LORD

Ps 27 14

PSALM XXXII

1 Blessedness consisteth in remission of sins 3 Confession of sins giveth ease to the conscience 8 God's promises bring joy

Or,
A Psalm of David containing instruction

¶ A Psalm of David, Maschil

— from the strife of tongues ] From the mischief of contentious and slanderous tongues Pool

1 Blessed be the Lord &c ] When David consulted God whether the inhabitants of Keilah would deliver him up He shewed him distinguished kindness in revealing to him their intended treachery 1 Sam xxiii 12 Green 22 — nevertheless ] Notwithstanding my fears and want of faith Bp Wilson

23 — plentifully rewardeth the proud doer ] Will surely punish in due time the insolent oppressor Dr Wells Bp Wilson

The considerations that make the soul cheerful in the hour of affliction, are, that God is merciful that is He is not ignorant, so neither is He unmindful of our troubles that He is a friend, who knows us in adversity no less than in prosperity that He hath not subjected us to the necessity of being overcome by our spiritual enemies but hath with the temptation, made a way for us to escape Bp Home

Psalm XXXII It is generally supposed that David wrote this Psalm after the pardon he obtained for his adultery with Bathsheba and his murder of Uriah Rosenmüller This being a penitential Psalm is appointed for Ash Wednesday Travel

— Maschil ] This word seems to signify as in the margin a Psalm of instruction or recollection The Psalms which have this title are generally of a moral nature, and are designed to convey some salutary advice, (as this, ver 8) and to dispose the mind to attention and reflexion Mudge

5 Into thine hand I commit my spirit ] David in his distresses might by these words express his resignation of himself and his affairs into the hands of God but it is certain, that Christ actually did expire upon the cross with the former part of this verse in His mouth, Luke xxiii 46 Bp Horne — thou hast redeemed me ] David means, that it was God who had often redeemed him out of his difficulties Bp Patrick

6 — lying vanities ] That is, Gentile practices, of consulting magicians and divinations, which deceive their expectations Dr Hammond Or by this expression may be meant, strange gods
Dr Kennicott

7 — thou hast known my soul in adversities ] Thou hast redeemed me in the lowest condition Dr Hammond

8 — in a large room ] In a place of liberty. Green

9 — mine eye is consumed &c ] My eyes are wasted with weeping and my whole frame is in a manner destroyed. Travel 12 — I am like a broken vessel ] I am cast aside like a broken vessel, quite past all use and regard Bp Hall

15 My times are in thy hand ] He declares his assurance that his life was not subject to the will of his enemies but was at the disposal of God Bp Patrick

19 — before the sons of men ] Publicly, and in the view of the world Pool

20 Thou shalt — secret of thy presence ] As if they were in the secret of God's tabernacle, as it is called, Psalm xxvii. 5 See the note there

— pavilion ] See the note on Psalm xxvii 5

Rom 4 7

BLESSED is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.

2 Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile

3 When I kept silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long

4 For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me my moisture is turned into the drought of summer Selah.

Prov 28

15

Isai 65 24

1 John 1 9

5 I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord, and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin Selah

† Heb

in a time of finding

6 For this shall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found surely in the floods of great waters they shall not come nigh unto him

Paul 7 4

7 Thou art my hiding place, thou shalt preserve me from trouble, thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah.

† Heb

I will count as I thee, mine eye

shall be upon the

Prov 26

3

8 I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go I will guide thee with mine eye

9 Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee

10 Many sorrows shall be to the wicked but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about 11 Be glad in the Lord, and rejoice, ye righteous and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart

PSALM XXXIII.

God is to be praised for his goodness, & for his power 12 and for his providence 20 Confidence is to be placed in God

REJOICE in the Lord, O ye righteous for praise is comely for the upright

2 Praise the Lord with harp sing unto him with the psaltery and an instrument of ten strings

3 Sing unto him a new song, play skillfully with a loud noise.

4 For the word of the Lord is right, and all his works are done in truth

5 He loveth righteousness and judgment the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. Psalm 119.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heavens made, and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth Or mercy 1

7 He gathereth the waters of the sea to-

Viz 3 When I kept silence,] While I neglected to confess my sin I had no rest, my mind and conscience persecuted me day and night Bp Wilson

4 — my moisture is turned &c.] The following description of a Syrian summer by Dr Russel, is the most beautiful comment that can be met with on this passage "From the end of May (if not sooner) not so much as one refreshing shower falls, and scarce a fixtly cloud appears to shelter from the excessive heat of the sun, till about the middle of September The verdure of the spring fades before the middle of May, and before the end of that month the whole country puts on so parched and barren an aspect, that one would scarce think it capable of producing any thing, there being but very few plants which have vigour enough to resist the extreme heat Harmer

6 — in the floods &c.] That is, when calamities (which are here represented under the image of floods of water) are sent abroad into the world, they shall not come near the good man Green

7 — thou shalt compass me about &c.] Thou shalt give me occasion to sing unto Thee many songs of deliverance Dr Wells

8 I will instruct thee &c.] Hearken then unto me, thou that art in search of godly wisdom I will give thee counsel, and direct thee to the wisest and safest course of life, I will have thee continually under my care and inspection Bp. Patrick, Travill

9 — lest they come near unto thee] The rendering should be, agreeably to some of the ancient versions, "else they will not come near thee" Dr Hammond, Green

11 Be glad in the Lord.] It seems probable that this verse ought to be the first of the following Psalm Bp Lowth and Hare, Dr Kennicott

Outward calamities, and inward pangs of conscience, are the strokes of God's hand, designed to humble the sinner, and lead him to confession and in the infliction of these, such severity is sometimes necessary, that the patient is brought to death's door, before a turn can be given to the disease but the pain of a blow upon an ulcerated part, however exquisite, is well compensated if, by promoting a discharge, it effect a cure Encouraged, by the example and declaration of David, to hope for mercy on confession of sin, it is foretold in this Psalm, that humble penitents shall be led to make their prayer unto God in the acceptable time, and in the day of salvation, when He "may be found" that so they may be forgiven, and preserved from great and overwhelming calamities, from the fears of death, and the terrors of judgment. Bp Horne

Psalm XXXIII This Psalm is an acknowledgment of the great power, and wisdom, and goodness of God in His works of creation and providence wherein all are obliged to sing praises to His name, and faithfully to serve and depend on Him Dr Hammond It was probably composed on the occasion of some special benefit received from God Reeves

Ver 2 — with harp — with the psaltery] The harp among the Jews was played upon with a bow, the psaltery with the fingers Rosenmuller He mentions these instruments, because they were used in the publick worship and praises of God in the tabernacle Poole

— with the psaltery and an instrument of ten strings] This should be rendered as it is in the Greek, "on the ten-stringed lute" Green

3 — a new song.] The "new song" shews the Psalm to be composed upon a new occasion This appears likewise from the tenth verse, which speaks of some grand defeat given to the projects of the heathen Mudge

4 — all his works &c.] That is, all His works are done agreeably to His word or promises Dr Wells

6 By the word of the Lord &c.] The meaning is, that the whole body of the heavens, and all that is in them, were created by His bare speaking of the word, commanding that they should have a being Dr Hammond

7 He gathereth the waters &c.] The element of water, though ether as an heap, he layeth up the depth storehouses.

8 Let all the earth fear the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him

9 For he spake, and it was done, he commanded, and it stood fast.

Isai 49 3
† Heb ngaketh frustrate 10 The LORD † bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought: he maketh the devices of the people of none effect.

Prov 19
11 The counsel of the LORD standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart † to all generations

Isai 46 10
† Heb to generation and generation 12 Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD, and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance

13 The LORD looketh from heaven, he beholdeth all the sons of men

14 From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth

15 He fashioneth their hearts alike, he considereth all their works.

16 There is no king saved by the multitude of an host: a mighty man is not delivered by much strength

17 An horse is a vain thing for safety, neither shall he deliver any by his great strength

Job 36 7
Psalm 34 15
1 Pet 1 12
18 Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy,

19 To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine

It be naturally apt to spread itself yet hath He, in His providence and power, gathered up as in one heap, and part thereof, instead of overflowing the face of the earth, He hath confined in the secret receptacles thereof By Hall

15 He fashioneth their hearts &c.] He formed their hearts one and all, and consequently must know what are their thoughts and intentions Mudge

17 An horse is a vain thing &c.] If David was the author of this Psalm, these words may refer to his victory over the Syrians, 2 Sam x 18, where it is said he slew forty thousand horsemen Dmack See the note on 2 Kings x 28

22 — according as we hope in thee.] We desire Thy mercy on no other terms, and in no other degree, but in proportion to the sincerity of our trust Dr Kennicott

This Psalm engages us to make these reflexions 1 That it is a duty highly reasonable, as well as delightful, to praise God, but that none but upright men can discharge it in a becoming manner 2 That we ought to praise God, because He has created the world by His almighty power, and because He governs it wisely and justly by His providence 3 That if it was a great advantage to the Israelites to be the people whom God had chosen for His inheritance; the favour which God has vouchsafed us, in admitting us into His church, and entering into covenant with us, is a still more glorious privilege 4 That God has a perfect knowledge of all that passes in the world, that He sees all the thoughts and actions of men, the recollection of which should engage us to walk before Him in holiness and righteousness Lastly, we should observe that the true way to have God our friend, is to trust in Him, to fear Him, and without ceasing to apply to Him for mercy Osterwald

VOL I

20 Our soul waiteth for the LORD: he is our help and our shield.

21 For our heart shall rejoice in him, because we have trusted in his holy name.

22 Let thy mercy, O LORD, be upon us, according as we hope in thee

PSALM XXXIV

1 David praiseth God, and exhorteth others thereto by his experience 8 They are blessed that trust in God 11 He exhorteth to the fear of God 15 The privileges of the righteous

A Psalm of David, when he changed his behaviour before Abimelech, who drove him away, and he departed

Or Achish
1 Sam 21
15

I WILL bless the LORD at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.

2 My soul shall make her boast in the LORD: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad

3 O magnify the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together

4 I sought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears

5 They looked unto him, and were lightened, and their faces were not ashamed

Or,
They flowed unto him

6 This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles

7 The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.

Psalm XXXIV The title informs us, that this Psalm was composed by David when he was sent away from Abimelech on his feigning himself mad See 1 Sam xxi 13 But the name there given to the king of Gath is Achish Hence Dr Kennicott conjectured, that Abimelech was the common title of the king of Gath (as Pharaoh of Egypt,) and Achish his particular name Street This Psalm, which was perhaps composed for the use of those who resorted to David, contains the noblest encouragements to piety and virtue, from an assurance, that all such are so devoted are the immediate care of almighty God, as all those of a contrary character are His abhorrence, and the sure marks of His vengeance And surely this Psalm, considered in this light, is one of the noblest the best-turned, and best-judged, and best-adapted compositions that ever were penned Dr Delany It should be remarked, that the twentieth and twenty first verses are of particular importance, as containing the famous prophecy that "not a bone of the Just One (Messiah) should be broken" John xix 36 Dr Kennicott

Ver 5 They looked unto him, &c.] The Greek and other ancient versions, render this verse 'Come unto Him, and be enlightened, and let not your faces be ashamed' Dr Hall — and were lightened &c.] The meaning is, that the humble looked unto God for David's protection, and received that light, that is, that comfort and joy from Him upon his return in safety, which diffused itself throughout their whole hearts so that "their faces were not ashamed," or, as the word signifies,

"not put to the blush for shame," by being disappointed as to their hope on his account Dr Chandler

6 This poor man.] Meaning himself Edwards

7 The angel of the Lord &c.] The Divine protection and sal-

8 O taste and see that the Lord is good .
blessed is the man that trusteth in him

9 O fear the Lord, ye his saints for there is no want to them that fear him

10 The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing.

11 Come, ye children, hearken unto me I will teach you the fear of the Lord

12 What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good?

13 Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile

14 Depart from evil, and do good, seek peace, and pursue it

15 The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry

16 The face of the Lord is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth

17 The righteous cry, and the Lord heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles

18 The Lord is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart, and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit

19 Many are the afflictions of the righteous but the Lord delivereth him out of them all

* 1 Pet. 3 10

* Job 36 7
Psalm 31 14
1 Pet. 3 12

* Heb to the broken of heart
* Heb contrite spirit

vation vouchsafed to the faithful, is here signified, whether we suppose that by "the angel of Jehovah," is meant the presence of Christ in the church militant, or the imminution of created spirits to the heirs of salvation, as in the case of Elisha, 2 Kings vi 17 Bp Horne

8 O taste] Seriously consider and make trial, by a steadfast fidelity to God in all troubles Dr Wells

9 — his saints] His servants Bp Wilson

11 — ye children.] Ye that are humbly disposed to be taught as children Dr Wells

21 — shall be desolate] This should be rendered with the Chaldee Paraphrase, "shall be condemned to die." Green, Rosen- müller

This Psalm is among the noblest and most edifying David here teaches us, both by his instructions and example, that when God grants us any favour we should not only thank Him for it, but invite other men to praise Him with us, that the Lord never fails to hear and deliver those who call upon Him in their distress that His eyes are always over the righteous, whom, if exposed to many misfortunes, He delivers at the last, whereas He sets His face against the wicked for their destruction Oster- vall

He who seeketh the Lord shall find Him, and he who hath found Him can want nothing Faith, hope, charity, temperance, purity, patience, and contentment, are the true riches, and the lack of them the poverty most to be dreaded Moreover, God is never wanting to provide for His servants, what He seeth needful and best in matters temporal Bp Horne

Psalm XXXV This Psalm from the contents of it, seems to have been composed by David when he was persecuted by Saul, and falsely accused by Doeg, and others of his enemies, from 20 He keepeth all his bones not one of them is broken.

21 Evil shall slay the wicked and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate Or
shall be

22 The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate

PSALM XXXV.

1 David prayeth for his own safety, and his enemies confession 11 He complaineth of their wrongful dealing 22 Thereby he moveth God against them

A Psalm of David

PLEAD my cause, O LORD, with them that strive with me fight against them that fight against me

2 Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help

3 Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me say unto my soul, I am thy salvation

4 Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul let them be turned back and brought to confusion that, devise my hurt

5 Let them be as chaff before the wind and let the angel of the Lord chase them

6 Let their way be dark and slippery and let the angel of the Lord persecute
them

7 For without cause have they hid for whom he begs of God for deliverance Edwards This Psalm though in some measure applicable to David, the author of it, is more strictly so to Jesus See John xv 25 Danock

Ver 2 — shield and buckler,] The word, here rendered "shield" seems to denote the lesser kind of shield, and that translated "buckler, the great shield Edwards

4 Let them be confounded &c] Concerning this and the like imprecations, which may seem strange and severe, it must be considered, 1 That they did not proceed from any passionate or revengeful spirit in David towards his enemies, from which how-free he was, appears not only from his own words here, ver 12 13 14, but from the whole course of his life, and the frequent instances mentioned in his history of his meek and merciful carriage to his enemies when they were in his power These imprecations, therefore, proceeded from his zeal for God, and for piety and justice, to which they shewed themselves to be constant and implacable adversaries and by the direction of the prophetic spirit of God, wherewith he was endued, which Spirit did exactly know the condition of his enemies, and that those, against whom they were levelled, were hardened and incurable 2 That they contain nothing but a prayer to God, that He would accomplish His own threatenings, and execute His own law of retaliation, of "eye for eye, and tooth for tooth," and so bring upon them the evil which they designed against him Which also was of great and good use, both to glorify God's justice, and to warn and reform other sinners by the terror of their example 3 That they may be taken only for predictions. Poole See the note on Psalm
v. 10

6. Let their way be dark &c] So that none of them may be able to escape on account of the darkness and slipperiness of their way but that all of them may be easily overthrown by the pursuing angel Rosenmüller

Or
shall be

* Psal 40
14 & 70

* Job 21 18
Psalm 1
Isa 29 1
Hos 1 2
* Heb darkness and slipperiness

me their net in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul

† Heb which he I now th not

• 8 Let destruction come upon him † at unawares, and let his net that he hath hid catch himself *into that very destruction let him fall *

9 And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD it shall rejoice in his salvation.

10 All my bones shall say, LORD, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoil-eth him?

1 Feb Main sec of 11 † False witnesses did rise up, † they laid to my charge things that I knew not

† Heb
they ask d

12 They rewarded me evil for good to the spoiling of my soul

† Heb
de m m m m m

19 But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth I || humbled my soul with fasting; and my prayer returned into mine own bosom

† Fleb walked † Fleb as a friend as a brother to me

11 I † behaved myself † as though he had been my friend or brother. I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mo- ther.

1 Heb
1 alt

15 But in mine †adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not, they did tear me, and ceased not

• 16 With hypocritical mockers in feasts, they gnashed upon me with their teeth

+ Feb
only

17 LORD, how long wilt thou look on?
rescue my soul from their destructions, † my darling from the lions one

 Psal 40
 9 10 &

18 I will give thee thanks in the great congregation I will praise thee, among † much people

7 — in a pit,] See the note on Psalm vii. 15

10 All my bones shall say,] By this figure David means to declare, that he would praise God with all the strength of his body, as well as power of his soul. Dr Wells

11, 12 False witnesses—spoiling of my soul] This was never more literally true of David, than it was of the holy Jesus, when, standing before Pontius Pilate, He received no other return from the Jews for all the gracious words which He had spoken, and all the merciful works He had done among them, than that of being slandered and put to death. Bp Horne

12 — to the speaking of my soul ] Attempting to rob me of my life. (Green.

13 — my prayer returned &c. The meaning seems to be, My prayer returned with blessings on my own head. Metrick. The sentence may perhaps be better explained thus, "My prayer rested or, settled, on my bosom, that is, I was never without a prayer for them in my breast. Mudge, Dr Kennicott The Hebrews used various attitudes in prayer; the one here alluded to was that used in great grief at which time they prayed with the head inclined on the bosom." Rosemuller

15 — and I knew it not, J. This may mean, that the perfidy of his enemies was unknown to him, he suspected no such thing from them. Rosenmuller

16 With hypocritical mockers &c ] Together with these were 19 Let not them that are mine enemies † wrongfully rejoice over me: ~~neither~~ let † Heb. <sup>falsely</sup> them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.

20 For they speak not peace but they devise deceitful matters against them that are quiet in the land.

• 21 Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me, and said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it

22 This thou hast seen, O LORD keep not silence O LORD, be not far from me

• 28' Stir up thyself, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cause, my God and my Lord 24 Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness, and let them not rejoice over me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, † Ah, so would we have it let them not † Heb say, We have swallowed him up <sup>ah ah un-</sup> soul

26 Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that rejoyce at mine hurt let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.

27. Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour † my righteous cause yea, let † Heb them say continually, Let the Lord be my righteousness, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.

28 And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness and of thy praise all the day long

PSALM XXXVI

1 The grievous estate of the wicked 5 The excellency of God's mercy 10 David prayeth for favour to God's children

profane flatterers and buffoons, and their rage against me was as violent as if they could have devoured me. By Patrick Or the passage should perhaps rather be rendered, "They vilified me with profane scoffs and taunts", and ceased not to gnash upon me with their teeth. Edwards, Green

17 — my darling from the lion's] Deliver my dear and precious life from these cruel and brutish enemies Rp Hall

19 — that hate me without a cause ] This is applied to Christ by Himself, John xv 25 By Wilson

21 — our eye hath seen it.] They openly avow that they themselves have been eyewitnesses of my treasonable practices. Dr Wells. Or the meaning may be, We have seen what we wished we have had our will, (1663)

24 Judge me } Vindicate me Given

What David in this Psalm says against his enemies, must not be misunderstood. Nor must we believe that we are allowed to wish evil to those who do evil to us, or to rejoice when that evil happens to them. We are to consider, that the enemies of David were enemies to God Himself, and that David, being a prophet, and having an express promise of the Divine assistance, might denounce destruction to them; but, in his heart he did not wish it to befall them, and he was even afflicted at the evil which did befall them, as he himself testifies in this Psalm. (H. terwald)

¶ To the chief Musician. A Psalm of David the servant of the Lord.

THE transgression of the wicked saith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himself in his own eyes, † until his iniquity be found, to be hateful iniquity is hate

3 The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good.

|| Or vanity

4 He deviseth || mischief upon his bed, he setteth himself in a way that is not good, he abhorreth not evil

* Ps 57 10 & 108 4

5 Thy mercy, O Lord, is in the heavens, and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds

† Heb the mountains of God

6 Thy righteousness is like † the great mountains, thy judgments are a great deep O Lord, thou preservest man and beast

† Heb precious

7 How † excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings

† Heb watered

8 They shall be † abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house, and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures

† Heb draw out at length

9 For with thee is the fountain of life in thy light shall we see light

10 O † continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee; and thy righteousness to the upright in heart

11 Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me

12 There are the workers of iniquity fallen they are cast down, and shall not be able to rise

PSALM XXXVII.

David persuadeth to patience and confidence in God, by the different estate of the godly and the wicked

¶ A Psalm of David.

FRET not thyself because of evildoers, † neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity. Prov 29 17 & 24 1

2 For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb

3 Trust in the Lord, and do good, so shalt thou dwell in the land, and † verily thou shalt be fed. † Heb in truth or stability

4 Delight thyself also in the Lord, and he shall give thee the desires of † thine heart † Heb Reft thy way upon the LORD

5 † Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in him, and he shall bring it to pass. Prov 16 3 Math 6 5 1 Pet 7

6 And he shall bring forth thy righteous-

Psalm XXXVI There are three parts of this Psalm the first, in which the author describes the treacherous and false contrivances of wicked men the second is the address of the good man to God, in which he acknowledges all those attributes which are the support of righteous men, to be infinite and boundless, and from thence his assurance of being supported the last, as the consequence of this, represents the downfall of the wicked Mudge

Ver 1 The transgression of the wicked &c ] The transgressions of a bad man shew plainly, in the apprehension of a good one, that the former is destitute of the true fear of God Abp. Secker Or differently, thus, "The wicked man, according to the wickedness of his heart, saith, There is no fear of God before mine eyes Bp Lenth

Or this passage may be rendered, with some ancient versions, "The wicked man hath an oracle of rebellion in his heart The wicked man hath no regard to the oracles of God, he hath one in his heart which dictates nothing but rebellion Mudge, Green.

¶ he flattereth himself &c ] He soothes himself in his own conceit, and cunningly imagines that he shall not be discovered yet at length shall his iniquity come to light, and shake him hateful to all men Bp Patrick

5, 6 Thy mercy, O Lord, &c ] This passage is truly sublime Here the mind of the Psalmist seems to exert its utmost faculties in vain to describe the attributes of God, whose unparalleled magnitude mocks its feeble endeavours, and to this end it employs the grandest imagery that universal nature can suggest and yet this imagery however great proves totally inadequate to the purpose Bp Lenth

8, the fatness of thy house ] By this expression is meant all God's blessings, both temporal and spiritual Bp Hall

9 in thy light shall we see light ] The images of light and darkness are commonly made use of in all languages to imply or denote prosperity and adversity, agreeably to the common sense and perception which all men have of the objects themselves But the Hebrews employ those figures more frequently, and with less variation than other people. Bp. Lenth

10 thy righteousness ] Rather, Thy beneficence or bounty Street

11 remove me ] Or cause me to fall Dr Wells

12 There are the workers &c ] The expression used in the original represents strongly before the eyes the sudden downfall of the wicked Upon the very spot where they practise their treachery, they receive their downfall Mudge

We have here represented to us the behaviour of wicked men, who fear not God, and sooth themselves in their sins, instead of hating them, and the very different conduct of the righteous, who adore the justice of God, and are grateful for His favours The use we should make of this Psalm is, to avoid the sentiments of the wicked, and to cleave to God by a sincere love and holy fear to the end that we may rejoice in Him with the righteous, and say with David, "O God, how excellent is Thy lovingkindness!" Ostervald

Psalm XXXVII In this Psalm David seems to intend to prevent the scandal or offence against religion, which might be taken from observing the wicked in prosperity, and the godly under affliction Dr Wells He may be supposed speaking to himself, or exhorting others to trust in God from his own example. Demock

Ver 1, Fret not thyself &c ] In other words, Be not vexed at the prosperity of the wicked, neither be provoked by it to accuse the providence of God, nor wish thyself in their situation Bp Patrick

5, Commit thy way &c ] We are exhorted here to commend our hearts to God, and to leave the event to Him, in full confidence that He will direct it for the best Travell, Bp Patrick ness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.

† Heb He silent to
the LORD

7 † Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.

8 Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thyself in any wise to do evil.

9 For evildoers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the earth.

10 For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be.

Mat 5

11 But the meek shall inherit the earth, and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.

h Or practiseth

12 The wicked † plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.

Ps 2 4

13 The LORD shall laugh at him: for he seeth that his day is coming.

14 The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation.

† Heb
the upright of way

15 Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.

16 A little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked.

17 For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the LORD upholdeth the righteous.

18 The LORD knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.

19 They shall not be ashamed in the evil time: and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.

† Heb the preciousness of lambs

20 But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be as † the fat of lambs: they shall consume, into smoke shall they consume away.

21 The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous sheweth mercy, and giveth.

22 For such as be blessed of him shall inherit the earth, and they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.

23 The steps of a good man are † ordered by the LORD: and he delighteth in his way. † Or established.

24 Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the LORD upholdeth him with his hand.

25 I have been young, and now am old, yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread.

26 He is † ever merciful, and lendeth, † Heb all the day

27 Depart from evil, and do good, and dwell for evermore.

28 For the LORD loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints; they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.

29 The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.

30 The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment.

31 The law of his God is in his heart, none of his † steps shall slide. † Or, going

32 The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.

33 The LORD will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.

34 Wait on the LORD, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.

35 I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like † a green bay tree. † Or a green tree that groweth in his own soil

36 Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.

10 — thou shalt diligently consider &c.] When thou seest for his place, there shall not be found any footstaps of his prosperity Dr Wells

12 — gnasheth upon him &c.] Could even tear him with his teeth Bp. Wilson

13 The Lord shall laugh &c.] The Lord, who takes notice of all his secret plots, shall laugh him to scorn, for, howsoever the foolish wicked man flatters himself in the conceit of his safety, yet the all-wise God sees that his destruction is at hand Bp Hall

18 The Lord knoweth &c.] The actions of good men are seen, and will not fail of being rewarded by God, not only with the comforts of this life continued to them and their posterity, but with a never-failing possession in heaven Dr Hammond

20 But the wicked shall perish, &c.] They shall vanish away into smoke, as the fat of lambs, which is laid upon the altar in sacrifice, so shall they be suddenly consumed Bp Hall

27 — dwell for evermore.] "Dwell in the land for ever."

That is, enjoy a long and prosperous life in the land, with great tranquillity and peace. Bp. Hare and Patrick Thou shalt never be exiled from the land which God hath given thee Rosenmüller

33. The Lord will not leave &c.] God will find means to clear his innocence, though he be pronounced guilty by his enemies Dr Wells

— nor condemn him.] Nor suffer him to be condemned Edwards

35 — like a green bay tree.] This should rather be rendered, as in the margin, "like a flourishing tree in its native soil." Green is the original; simply signifies, "a native tree, a tree growing in its native soil, not having suffered by transplantation." Such a tree spreads itself luxuriantly. Script. Hist. Expos. Ind.

36 Yet he passed away, &c.] Yet, firm as he seemed to stand, he vanished on a sudden like a cloud. I looked about for him, to see whether he might not, like a tree, be transplanted to some other spot, but there was no such man to be seen Bp. Patrick

37. Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright for the end of that man's peace

38 But the transgressors shall be destroyed together. the end of the wicked shall be cut off.

39 But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD he is their strength in the time of trouble

40 And the LORD shall help them, and deliver them he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they trust in him

PSALM XXXVIII

David moveth God to take compassion of his pitiful case

¶ A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance

O LORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure

2 For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.

3 There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine anger, neither is there any rest in my bones because of my sin

† Heb peace, or, health

38 — the end of the wicked shall be cut off ] They and their posterity shall be destroyed Dr Hammond

The design of this whole Psalm is, to convince men of the justice of God's dealings with all His people, to persuade them not hastily to conclude or judge of the ways of Providence, but to wait to see the end not to depend upon their own reason, but to apply to God for light and satisfaction, for human reason being too short to pass judgment upon the ways of an infinitely wise and just God, would only lead men into doubts and fears, and rash censures of His providence Bp Wilson

The "meek, mentioned at ver 11, are they, who bear their own adversities, and the prosperity of their enemies, without envy, anger, or complaint For these there is a possession in the kingdom and city of the Prince of "peace, which "the Lord the righteous Judge shall give them at that day "Blessed are the meek," saith that Lord and Judge Himself, "for they shall inherit the earth, Matth v 5 In the mean time, they, and they only, possess the present earth, as, they go towards the kingdom of heaven, by being humble, and cheerful, and content with what their good God has allotted them They have no turbulent, repining, vexatious thoughts that they deserve better, nor are vexed, when they see others possessed of more honour, or more riches, than their wise God has allotted for their share But they possess what they have with a meek and contented quietness, such a quietness as makes their very thoughts pleasing, both to God and themselves Bp Horne

Psalm XXXVIII This is another of those Psalms, which are called penitential, and therefore applicable to Ash Wednesday. It was composed by David under some great affliction and anguish of mind It is not certain whether he here describes the state of his mind under various images, chiefly borrowed from bodily diseases and pains or whether he was actually afflicted with sickness very probably he was suffering from both His complaints strongly express the anguish he felt from the conviction of his sinfulness, the displeasure of God, the coldness of his friends, and the insults of his enemies He humbly supplicates the par-

4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.

5 My wounds stink and are corrupt because of my foolishness

6 I am || troubled; I am bowed down greatly; I go mourning all the day long

7 For my loins are filled with a loathsome disease and there is no soundness in my flesh.

8 I am feeble and sore broken I have roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart.

9 LORD, all my desire is before thee, and my groaning is not hid from thee

10 My heart panteth, my strength faileth me as for the light of mine eyes, it also † is gone from me

11 My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my † sore, and || my kinsmen stand afar off

12 They also that seek after my life lay snares for me and they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long

13 But I, as a deaf man, heard not, and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth

† Heb is not with me

† Heb stroke || Or my new wound

don of God, confesses his guilt, and, with patience and resignation declares his hope and confidence to be only in the Divine favour Travell

— to bring to remembrance ] That is either that by this humble and mournful prayer he might prevail with God to remember and pity him, for now He seemed quite to have forgotten him or that, by reviewing this Psalm afterwards, he might call to mind his former danger and misery, and God's wonderful mercy in delivering him from them, which all are too apt to forget And that others also might remember and consider what God had done for him, first in chastening, and then in restoring him and might make use of his example for their benefit Poole

Ver 2 — thine arrows &c.] The arrows, and the hand of God, are His judgments on sin, those internal pangs which pierce the soul, and those external afflictions which weigh down the spirits. Bp Horne

4 For mine iniquities are gone over mine head ] That is, my sins have brought so many evils upon me, that they overwhelm me like a flood Bp Patrick

5 — because of my foolishness ] Meaning, the affliction had been justly brought upon him by his sin foolishly committed Bp Hall

9 — all my desire is before thee, ] That is, Thou knowest all my wants Dr Watts

11. My lovers and my friends &c.] This passage is very similar to the words of Job xix 13, and following verses, in which he complains of being deserted by his friends and companions, many other parts of this Psalm are also like the words and circumstances of Job Rosenmüller

13 — heard not, &c.] The meaning is, that he took no notice of their designs, only in a patient and humble silence commended himself to the care of God Bp Hall

This Psalm offers to our consideration these three things 1 It represents us the sentiments of a penitent sinner, humbled under the load of his sins, and a sense of the Divine displeasure these sentiments are expressed in this prayer, "O Lord, rebuke me not in Thy wrath. neither chasten me in Thy hot displeasure

14 Thus I was as a man that heareth, not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.

15 For in thee, O Lord, do I hope thou wilt hear, O Lord my God.

16 For I said, Hear me, lest otherwise they should rejoice over me; when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.

17 For I am ready to halt, and my sorrow is continually before me.

18 For I will declare mine iniquity, I will be sorry for my sin.

19 But mine enemies are lively, and they are strong. and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.

20 They also that render evil for good are mine adversaries; because I follow the thing that good is.

21 Forsake me not, O Lord O my God, be not far from me

22 Make haste to help me, O Lord my salvation

PSALM XXXIX

1 David's care of his thoughts. 4 The consideration of the brevity and vanity of life, 7 the reverence of God's judgments, 10 and prayer, are his bridges of impatience

To the chief Musician, even to Jeduthun, A Psalm of David

I SAID, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.

2 What is said in this Psalm is very proper for the instruction and consolation of those who are afflicted with pains and diseases, or in any other manner David teaches them by his own example to look upon the evils that befall them, how severe soever they be as a just correction for their sins, and to ask God pardon for them. 3 If they suffer by the malice and injustice of men, they should imitate David in his humility, patience, and meekness; and wait with resignation till God, who never forsakes the innocent, is pleased to deliver them. Ostervald

Psalm XXXIX The foundation of this Psalm is much the same with the foregoing the author laboured under some great illness, he knew it due to his sins, he was afraid therefore to speak in the presence of the wicked, lest he might say any thing of which they might take advantage at last, however, he could hold no longer, but bursts forth into an acknowledgment of the weakness and vanity of man in the hands of God, confessing that, whatever he might think hitherto, he has now no longer any expectation but from God, whom therefore he supplicates for mercy. Mudge This Psalm is with the utmost propriety appointed by our Church to be used at the burial of the dead, as a funeral is indeed the best comment upon it. Bp Horae

Jeduthun. Jeduthun is mentioned as a singer in 1 Chron xxv 1 This Psalm was perhaps composed by David to be sung by that Jeduthun. Street

Vet 2 I was dumb &c. I refrained from speaking what was good, from giving God the glory with relation to my illness, by acknowledging His greatness and justice, and the nothingness and sinfulness of man. This seems to shew that the reason why he would not speak at all before his enemies was, be-

2 I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good, and my sorrow was stirred

3 My heart was hot within me, while I was musing the fire burned then spake I with my tongue,

4 Lord, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is, that I may know how frail I am

5 Behold, thou hast made my days as an handbreadth, and mine age is as nothing before thee verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity Selah

6 Surely every man walketh in a vain show surely they are disquieted in vain he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not, who shall gather them.

7 And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee

8 Deliver me from all my transgressions make me not the reproach of the foolish.

9 I was dumb, I opened not my mouth, because thou didst it.

10 Remove thy stroke away from me I am consumed by the blow of thine hand

11 When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquity, thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth surely every man is vanity Selah

12 Hear my prayer, O Lord, and give ear unto my cry, hold not thy peace at cause he did not care to give them an occasion of triumph, as he must by acknowledging his own weakness and sin but he could not bear this restraint, it grew worse and worse, and therefore he burst out, &c. Mudge There is a time to keep silence, because there are men who will not hear, there are tempers savage and sensual as those of swine, before whom the treasures of heavenly wisdom are not to be cast. This consideration stirreth up fresh grief and trouble in a pious and charitable heart. Bp Horae

4 Lord, make me to know &c. Teach me, O Lord, to consider my end, and what is the measure of my days, that I may be sensible how short my life is. Green

5 — mine age is as nothing before thee. That is, my age is as nothing in Thy sight, or, when compared with Thy duration. Greene, Merrick

6 — in vain. In the pursuit of transitory things. Bp Wilson

7 — what wait I for? What can I depend on for happiness? Bp Wilson

— my hope is in thee. I will not impatiently desire any thing in this world but my hope is in Thee, as the only true and lasting good. Dr Wells

8 — the reproach of the foolish. That is, a matter of scorn and insult to the sneerer and atheist, who is the fool described by the Psalmist, and who is indeed eminently so above all others. Mudge

11 — thou makest his beauty to consume away &c. See the note on Job iv 19

Such as have formed themselves to feel the impressions of resignation are in proportion superiour to all difficulties. Their spirits are calm; and, instead of plunging into deeper distresses and even

Or, thee do I wait for

Heb. for halting

Heb. being living, are strong

Heb. for my help

1 Chron 25 1

Heb. a bridle, or, as for my mouth

Heb. troubled

Or, what time have been

Heb. settled. Ps c. 9 & 144 1 Heb. an image

Heb. conflict

Heb. that which is to be denied in him, to melt away

Lev 23
24 1 Iton
29 1 Ps
11 19 Hebr 11
1 1 Pet
1 11
my tears for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.
13 O spare me, that I may recover strength, before I go hence, and be no more.

PSALM XL.

1 The benefit of confidence in God 6 Obedience is the best sacrifice 11 The sense of David's evils inflameth his prayer

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

† Heb
In waiting
I waited † Heb a pit of noise

I WAITED patiently for the Lord, and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry 2 He brought me up also out of that horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings

3 And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the Lord

4 Blessed is that man that maketh the Lord his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies

|| Or none can aid them unto this

5 Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward || they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered 6 Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire; mine ears hast thou opened burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.

7 Then said I, Lo, I come in the volume of the book it is written of me, 8 I delight to do thy will, O my God yea, thy law is within my heart.
9 I have preached righteousness in the great congregation. lo, I have not refrained my lips, O Lord, thou knowest 10 I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart, I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy lovingkindness and thy truth from the great congregation 11 Withhold not thou thy tender meicies from me, O Lord let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve
me 12 For innumerable evils have compass-ed me about mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I am not able to look up, they are more than the hairs of mine head therefore my heart faileth me

Ps 51 16
Isai 1 11
Ec 66 3
How Hebra
Mat 1
† Heb diged

† Heb in the midst of my bones

† Heb forsake

guilt, as the impatient do, they find their way, if any one can be found, out of every perplexity By excluding eager hopes and high desires of earthly good this pious principle excludes also jealous envy, keen resentment, tormenting fears, bitter disappointments, and final dislike of every thing He that gives himself up into the hands of God, with unfeigned approbation of the Divine conduct in whatever may befall him will act as he ought on all emergencies, with uprightness and alacrity, with courage and honour will suffer with a composed and even temper, will thus give testimony to the efficacy of religion, and vindicate the dispensations of Providence to mankind Abp Secker

Psalm XI In this Psalm David thankfully acknowledges God's goodness to him, in delivering him from some special and imminent danger He then declares his resolution to serve God faithfully and cheerfully, by fulfilling His will to the utmost of his power, and by teaching it to others He commends himself to God's merciful Providence, beseeching Him to finish what He had begun, by continuing to be his deliverer The circumstance of three verses of this Psalm, being quoted in the tenth chapter of St Paul's Epistle to the Hebrews, proves that they are a direct prophecy of Jesus Christ, who only could fulfil the will of God completely, and who came into the world for that very end, as well as to declare His righteousness to the great congregation of the whole world This application of the Psalm makes it highly suitable to Good Friday Travels

Vers 2 He brought me up &c David means, that God delivered him when he was fallen into such deep distress, that he was quite unable to help himself Bp Patrick

3 — shall see it, || Shall see this great deliverance Dr Wells 4 — respecteth not the proud &c The proud and those who incline to lies are, on one side, the haughty daring atheists, who laugh at all application to any power above, and on the other, those who put their confidence in idol superstitions which are all lie and deceit Mudge

6 — mine ears hast thou opened This phrase seems to signify, the fitting and disposing the ear to hear God's will It is remarkable, that the Greek version, as well as the quotation from it in Heb x 5 instead of the phrase, ' Mine ears hast thou opened ' reads, ' A body hast thou prepared me ', intimating the great superiority of Christ's death to the sacrifices of the law Travels Edwards

— burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required This is, considered independent of that holiness of life without which sacrifices never could have been acceptable to a holy and righteous God Dr Mace

7 — Lo, I come &c Lo, I come to make an offering of myself by a sincere obedience unto Thee, as Christ will also actually do, by offering up His body to be a sacrifice for the sins of the world In the volume of the book of the law it is thus written, or required of all truly religious persons, particularly of kings, and so of me in both respects, to be careful to offer a due obedience to Thy will, as well as to legal sacrifices Dr Wells — in the volume Or ' roll, of the book See Jer xxxvi 2, &c It is well known that the ancient Jewish books did not like ours, consist of distinct leaves bound together, but were, as the copies of the Pentateuch used in the Jewish synagogues still are, long scrolls of parchment, rolled upon two sticks, with the writing distinguished into columns Parkhurst

9 I have preached &c I have proclaimed Thy mercy and goodness to me before Thy people, in their full assembly Bp Patrick

12 — mine iniquities He means the evils which his iniquities had brought upon him Bp Hall By this expression, as relating to Christ, is meant, the iniquities of mankind which He had taken upon Himself Bp Wilson
The Church, like her Redeemer, is often poor and afflicted in this world, but Jehovah thinketh upon her, and is solicitous for her support, she is weak and defenceless, but Jehovah is her help and her deliverer With such a Father, and such a Friend, poverty becometh rich, and weakness itself strong In the mean time, let us remember, that He who once came in great humility shall come again in glorious majesty ' Make no long tarrying O our God ' Bp Horne

13 Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me O LORD, make haste to help me.

14 Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seek after my soul to destroy it; let them be driven backward and put to shame that wish me evil.

15 Let them be desolate for a reward of their shame that say unto me, Aha, aha.

16 Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation say continually, The LORD be magnified.

17 But I am poor and needy, yet the LORD thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer, make no tarrying, O my God.

PSALM XLI.

1 God's care of the poor. 4 David complaineth of his enemies' treachery. 10 He fleeth to God for succour.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David.

BLESSED is he that considereth || the poor: the LORD will deliver him † in time of trouble.

2 The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive, and he shall be blessed upon the earth: and || thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies.

3 The LORD will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing: thou wilt † make all his bed in his sickness.

4 I said, LORD, be merciful unto me, heal my soul, for I have sinned against thee.

5 Mine enemies speak evil of me, When shall he die, and his name perish?

6 And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanity, his heart gathereth iniquity to itself, when he goeth abroad, he telleth it.

7 All that hate me whisper together against me: against me do they devise † my hurt.

8 † An evil disease, say they, cleaveth fast unto him: and now that he lieth he shall rise up no more.

9 Yea, † mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath † lifted up his heel against me.

10 But thou, O LORD, be merciful unto me, and raise me up, that I may requite
them.

11 By this I know that thou favourest me, because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.

12 And is for me, thou upholdest me in mine integrity, and settest me before thy face for ever.

13 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel from everlasting, and to everlasting. Amen, and Amen.

PSALM XLII.

1 David's zeal to serve God in the temple. 5 He en-courageth his soul to trust in God.

To the chief Musician, || Maschil, for the sons of Korah.

AS the hart † panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God.

We learn from the third verse of this Psalm that though an exemption from sorrow and sickness is not promised to the children of God, yet strength and comfort are given unto them from above, to support and carry them through their trials, and they who, in the days of their health, have by their alms given rest to the bodies, or by their counsels restored peace to the consciences, of others, shall have the bed of pain made easy under them by the hand of their heavenly Father. Bp Horne. The end of the first Book of Psalms.

Psalm XLII. This Psalm was most probably composed by David, when he was driven by Absalom from Jerusalem. Dr Wells. The author of this elegant complaint, exiled from the temple, and from the public exercise of his religion to the extreme parts of Judea, persecuted by his numerous enemies, and agitated by their reproaches, pours forth his soul to God in this tender and pathetic composition. The ardent feelings of a devout heart are admirably expressed, while the memory of former felicity seems to aggravate his present anguish. The extreme anxiety of a mind, depressed by the burden of sorrow, and yet at the same time impatient under it, overcome by an accumulation of evils, yet in some degree endeavouring to resist them, and admitting, through the dark cloud of affliction, a glimmering ray of hope and consolation, is finely depicted. Bp Imit.

— the sons of Korah. These were probably an eminent order of singers in the house of God. See 1 Chron ix 19 and xxv 1. Poole.

Psalm XLI. It is not improbable that this Psalm was written by David after his sickness, when Absalom conspired against him. Dr Delancy. Our Saviour Himself has taught us to apply the ninth verse to the traitor Judas. See John xiii. 18. Travell.

Vers 1 — heal my soul. I forgive my sins, and restore me to health. Dr Wells.

6 And if he come &c.] If one of them cometh to see me, he gathereth up falsehood against me, and when he goeth forth he immediately spreadeth it. He telleth us that is, his very compliments of condolence are falsehood and lies. Grege.

8 An evil disease, &c.] That is, the punishment of some great crime hath so entirely seized upon him, that he shall not be able to escape from it. Rosenmuller.

9 Yea, mine own familiar friend, &c.] He means either Ahithophel, or some other perfidious counsellor or courtier, who was a type of Judas, as David was a type of Christ, in being thus betrayed. Poole.

— hath lifted up his heel against me.] Has shown great treachery towards me. Edwards. The figure is taken from wrestlers who endeavour to supplant each other with their feet. Rosenmuller.

12 — settest me before thy face.] Raisest me up again to the enjoyment of thy presence. Mudge.

13 Blessed be the Lord God &c.] These words seem to be added at the end of this book of Psalms by the collector of it. Green. See the Introduction.

2 My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God when shall I come and appear before God?

Ps 80 3 My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?

4 When I remember these things, I pour out my soul in me for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the house of God, with the voice of joy and praise, with a multitude that kept holy-day

† Heb bowed down
|| Or give thanks
|| Or his presence is salvation
5 Why art thou † cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted in me? hope thou in God for I shall yet || praise him || for the help of his countenance

6 O my God, my soul is cast down within me therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites, from || the hill Mizar

|| Or the little hill
7 Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy waterspouts all thy waves and thy billows are gone over me

8 Yet the LORD will command his lovingkindness in the daytime, and in the night his song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.

9 I will say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

|| Or, kneeling
10 As with a || sword in my bones, mine enemies reproach me; while they say daily unto me, Where is thy God?

11 Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God

PSALM XLIII.

1 David, praying to be restored to the temple, prometh to serve God joyfully. 5 He encourageth his soul to trust in God.

JUDGE me, O God, and plead my cause against an || ungodly nation O deliver me † from the deceitful and unjust man

2 For thou art the God of my strength why dost thou cast me off? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?

3 O send out thy light and thy truth let them lead me, let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles.

4 Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto God † my exceeding joy yea, upon † Heb the gladness of my joy the harp will I praise thee, O God my God

5 Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God

Vers 3 My tears have been my meat day and night,] He means that his grief at his forced absence from God's house was so great, that he was obliged to vent it by tears continually Dr Wells

4 When I remember &c.] I pour out my soul within me while I call to mind these things, how I went to the tabernacle, walking in solemn pace to the house of God, amidst the multitude keeping holyday, with the voice of praise and thanksgiving Green

5 — for I shall yet praise him &c.] This passage should be read as it is in the last verse of this and of the next Psalm Bp Hare and Lowth

6 — from the hill Mizar] The word "Mizar" signifies little It might be the name of some hill beyond Jordan, or possibly some little hill now in view The general sense of the verse is "I will remember Thee, whatever dangers surround me, and whithersoever I am driven Archdeacon Randolph

7 Deep calleth unto deep] That is, one calamity invites and brings on another Rosenmüller

There is no metaphor more frequent in the sacred poems, than that by which sudden and great calamities are expressed under the figure of a deluge of waters. This metaphor seems to have been remarkably familiar to the Hebrews, as if directly taken from the nature and life of their country, which was subject to sudden and heavy floods Bp Lowth

10 As with a sword &c.] The reproaches of my enemies are as cutting as a sword Bp Patrick

11 — the health of my countenance,] The Restorer of my drooping spirits Bp Wilson

In the first verse of this Psalm the thirst, which the "hart" experienceth when chased in sultry weather over the dusty plains is set before us as a representation of that ardent desire after the waters of eternal comfort, which the temptations, the cares, and the troubles of the world, produce in the believing soul Bp Horne

By due reverence and affection to God's worship, and to His church, we bring ourselves by degrees to that true and entire love of God Himself, to which so many pretend, and so few attain that high value and estimation of Him and of His presence that we really contemn and despise all the pleasure and profit of this world, and the world itself, for interposing and obstructing our immediate resort to His heavenly mansion Lord (Lyndon

Psalm XLIII This Psalm, in all probability, was composed by the same author as the former, and upon the same occasion Bp Patrick Nothing can be imagined more natural to a man David's character, and under the circumstances in which he was placed, than that solemn appeal to the Divine justice, against a vile son, and a wicked people, with which this Psalm begins, or the earnest supplication for relief and restoration which follow it, or that lively expression of hope, and confidence in the Divine protection, which concludes it. Dr Delaney More than thirty manuscripts confirm the opinion of Bp Lowth, that this and the preceding are one Psalm Street

Vers 3 O send out &c.] In other words, O let Thy gracious favour, and the truth of Thy promises, be my sure guide to conduct me to Thy holy mountain, where Thou hast fixed Thy dwellingplace Bp Patrick, Travell

We learn from this Psalm, that if the prophet begged of God to deliver him from the malice of his enemies, it was chiefly with a view to return to the tabernacle, that he might praise God and express his joy, love, and gratitude And the complaint and sighs which he uttered, because he could not come into the house of God, should engage those who have the liberty to serve God in religious assemblies, gladly to improve so inestimable blessing Osterwald

PSALM XLIV.

1 The church, in memory of former favours, 7 complaineth of their present evils 17 Professing her integrity, 24 she fervently prayeth for succour

† To the chief Musician for the sons of Korah, Maschil

WE have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old

2 How thou didst drive out the heathen with thy hand, and plantedst them, how thou didst afflict the people, and cast them out

3 For they got not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favour unto them

4 Thou art my King, O God. command deliverances for Jacob

5 Through thee will we push down our enemies through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us

6 For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me

7 But thou hast saved us from our enemies, and hast put them to shame that hated us

8 In God we boast all the day long, and praise thy name for ever Selah

9 But thou hast cast off, and put us to shame, and goest not forth with our armies

10 Thou makest us to turn back from the enemy and they which hate us spoil for themselves.

11 Thou hast given us † like sheep appointed for meat, and hast scattered us among the heathen.

12 Thou sellest thy people † for nought, and dost not increase thy wealth by their price

13 Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and a derision to them that are round about us

14 Thou makest us a byword among the heathen, a shaking of the head among the people

15 My confusion is continually before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me, 16 For the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth, by reason of the enemy and avenger

17 All this is come upon us, yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant

18 Our heart is not turned back, neither have our steps declined from thy way,

19 Though thou hast sore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the shadow of death

20 If we have forgotten the name of our God, or stretched out our hands to a strange god,

21 Shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart

22 Yea, for thy sake are we killed all the day long, we are counted as sheep for the slaughter

23 Awake, why sleepest thou, O Lord? arise, cast us not off for ever 24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and forgettest our affliction and our oppression?

25 For our soul is bowed down to the dust our belly cleaveth unto the earth

26 Arise † for our help, and redeem us for thy mercies' sake

† Heb as sheep appointed

† Heb a help for us

Psalm XLIV This Psalm appears to have been composed at time when the Jewish state suffered grievously from their enemies and many were carried into captivity, though the state itself still subsisted, and the public worship of God was maintained. It is not unlikely that Hzekiah was the author of it, and that perhaps, soon after the blasphemous message of Rabshakeh, 2 Kings xxiii 18, &c. Mudge

Ver 2 — the heathen] That is, the Canaanites 3 — the light of thy countenance,] That is, Thy gracious and glorious presence, which went along with them Poole

9 But thou hast cast off,] But yet at present Thou permittest us to be dealt with, as if Thou hadst cast us off Dr Wells All that is contained from this verse to the fifteenth, was expressly foretold, Deut. xxxii. Bp Wilson 11 Thou hast given us &c] Like sheep for the slaughter Green.

12 Thou sellest thy people &c] That is, Thou permittest them to be held cheap and vile, and to be sold into slavery by their enemies, for little or nothing; a situation far more to be dreaded than the sword of the executioner Bp Horne

14 Thou makest us a byword &c.] A proverb of wretchedness among the heathen, who shook their heads at them in mere contempt and derision Bp Patrick

15 16 My confusion is &c] I am confounded with the continual marks of our disgrace, and am so ashamed, that I am unwilling to shew my face nor do I hear any thing but reproachful words against us, and blasphemy against Thee O God, such is the insolence of the enemy, and so insatiable is his revenge Bp Patrick, Travell

19 — in the place of dragons,] That is, in the wilderness, in a wild desolate place, where were serpents and other noxious animals The inspired author seems here to refer to some former distress of the Jewish nation Edwards

— covered us with the shadow of death] That is deprived us of all hope of escaping from our misery Rosenmüller

22 Yea, for thy sake &c] But our sufferings for the truth testify our fidelity to Thee, for it is our perseverance in religion which daily exposes us to the horrors of death Bp Patrick, Travell

25 — our soul is bowed down &c] The weight of our misery is so great that it hath sunk us into this dejected condition, so that we have no strength left to help ourselves Bp Patrick, Travell

Like the Israelites of old, we should in our afflictions comfort ourselves with the consideration of the goodness of the Lord, and

PSALM XLV.

1 The majesty and grace of Christ's kingdom, 14. The duty of the church, and the benefits thereby.

Or of instruction

To the chief Musician upon Shoshannim, for the sons of Korah, || Maschil, A Song of loves

† Heb told th or to blisp up

MY heart † is inditing a good matter. I speak of the things which I have made touching the king my tongue is the pen of a ready writer

2 Thou art fairer than the children of men grace is poured into thy lips therefore God hath blessed thee for ever

3 Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty

† Heb 1st per st u vide 11

4 And in thy majesty ride prosperously because of truth and meekness and righteousness, and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things

5 Thine arrows are sharp in the heart of the evident proofs He has in all ages given of His power and mercy. As they acknowledged that their fathers had become masters of the land of Canaan, not by their own strength, but by the power of God we should likewise give God the glory of all the blessings we enjoy. Ostervald

Psalm XLV This is a very remarkable Psalm, supposed to have been originally written on occasion of Solomon's marriage with the daughter of Pharaoh king of Egypt. But indeed many of the expressions in it are of so exalted a nature, that they cannot with any propriety be applied to any one but our Saviour, so that it may well be said, as our Lord doth in another case, "Behold, a greater than Solomon is here." Accordingly it has been generally understood to be a prophetic song, foretelling the marriage of Christ with His spouse the Church. St. Paul (Hebr 1) expressly applies the sixth and seventh verses of this Psalm to our Saviour. It is very properly appointed to be used on Christmas-day, when we commemorate His actual coming into the world. Travell

— Shoshannim,] By this term we may understand all those instruments which had six strings. Bp Patrick

Ver 1 My heart is inditing &c] My heart is full and ready to overflow with an important and glorious subject which I have meditated, and am ready to utter in honour of king Solomon who is but a shadow of that great king whom we expect. Travell

— a ready writer] That is, a well-instructed writer a writer prepared and ready, by a perfect knowledge of the subject he undertakes to treat. Bp Horsley

2 Thou art fairer &c] Thou O king, art lovely above all other persons thy speech is most acceptable and persuasive because the Lord loves thee, and has poured His choicest blessings upon thee yet do these but faintly represent the eternal blessings which He will bestow on that great king, who shall be in favour with God and man, and who shall make all men wonder at the gracious words which proceed out of His mouth. Bp Patrick

3 Gird thy sword &c] Put on thy royal ornaments and the ensigns of thy power, that thou mayest appear with such splendour and majesty, as may serve for an emblem of that sovereign authority, in which the Lord of all the world shall hereafter appear among men. Bp Patrick

4 And in thy majesty &c] May thy kingdom be every way so prosperous, by promoting all mind of virtue among thy subjects, and by terrifying thy enemies, that it may prove a lively emblem of the happy government of the Lord Christ, whose kingdom shall the king's enemies; whereby the people fall under thee.

6 Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre. Hebr 1

7 Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

8 All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia, out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.

9 Kings' daughters were among thy honourable women upon thy right hand did stand the queen in gold of Ophir

10 Harken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear, forget also thine own people, and thy father's house,

11 So shall the king greatly desire thy beauty for he is thy Lord, and worship thou him

12 And the daughter of Tyre shall be prevail over all, when He goes forth like a great conqueror in His triumphal chariot, not to enslave men's persons, but to settle the true faith among them, to make them humble and meek just and charitable and for the accomplishing of this glorious work Thy mighty power, O Lord, shall instruct Thee to perform miraculous and amazing things. Bp Patrick, Travell

5 Thine arrows are sharp &c] Thy power shall be sufficient to subdue thy greatest enemies, so shall the glory of Christ be mightily successful in bringing the Gentile world into subjection to His kingdom. Dr Hammond

6 Thy throne, O God &c] The kingdom of the Messiah never to have an end. And herein is Solomon a type of Him; the kingdom of Judah, now settled on him shall endure till the time of the Messiah's coming, and entering on His immutable kingdom. Dr Hammond

7 Thou lovest righteousness &c] Thou, O Christ lovest righteousness and hatest iniquity, therefore God the Father hath advanced Thee above all angels and men and exalted Thee to reign for ever at His own right hand. And herein also was Solomon a type of the Messiah, whose preference of wisdom to wealth was highly rewarded by God, beyond all other men. Dr Hammond

8 All thy garments &c] Thy wedding garments, worn by thee on this joyful occasion, scatter through the royal apartments richly mixed with ivory, a fragrance of the sweetest perfumes. In like manner shall the heavenly graces of Christ be diffused, as sweet odour over His faithful servants. Travell

— myrrh, and aloes and cassia,] Perhaps these were the drugs, with which the oil for the anointing the kings of Israel and Judah was prepared. Two of them, the myrrh and cassia are the same with those from which the oil for the consecration of Aaron and his sons was commanded to be made. See Exod xxx 23, 24. Strat

9 Kings daughters &c] Thy court was attended by king's daughters, and next to thyself was placed the royal bride, clad in garments embroidered with gold an image of Christ's spouse the Church, which shall hereafter sit with Him in heavenly places, (Ephes 2) arrayed in the garments of righteousness and salvation. Bp Patrick, Travell

10 Harken O daughter, &c] Understand, and consider seriously, O royal bride the happiness of being married to such a prince, and let not the thoughts of thy own country and family dwell too much upon thy mind: in like manner must the true Christian, when brought to Christ, renounce the world, and even his dearest connexions, for His sake. Bp Patrick, Travell

12 And the daughter of Tyre &c] The people of the rich and there with a gift; even the rich among the people shall intreat thy favour.

Heb
by face

13 The king's daughter is all glorious within her clothing is of wrought gold.

14 She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee.

15 With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought they shall enter into the king's palace.

16 Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth.

17 I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations therefore shall the people praise thee for ever and ever.

PSALM XLVI

1 The confidence which the church hath in God 8 An exhortation to behold it

Or / ¶ To the chief Musician || for the sons of Korah, A Song upon Alamoth

GOD is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.

2 Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea;

Heb
the heart of the seas

3 Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof Selah

4 There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most high

5 God is in the midst of her, she shall not be moved God shall help her, and that right early in the morning of earth

Heb

6 The heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved he uttered his voice, the earth melted

7 The Lord of hosts is with us, the God of Jacob is our refuge Selah

Heb
on high place for us

8 Come, behold the works of the Lord, what desolations he hath made in the earth

9 He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth, he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder, he burneth the chariot in the fire neighbouring city of Tyre shall come and bring presents, the most powerful among them shall solicit thy favour, as the kings of the earth shall hereafter bring thee glory and honour into the church Rev xxi 24 Bp Patrick

13 The king's daughter &c] The bride of our prince is no less adorned with all excellent qualities of mind than her body is with rich and splendid attire so the ornaments of those that are born of God in the Christian church shall not be so much that outward adorning of wearing of gold as the hidden man of the heart which is in the sight of God of great price, 1 Pet iii 4 Bp Patrick

14 She shall be brought &c] She shall be brought home unto the king with magnificent pomp, in embroidered raiment, and her virgins, that attend upon her, shall accompany her in like manner shall Christ receive His spouse the Church adorned with a robe of righteousness, and all they who in after-ages shall be acknowledged by Christ as His disciples, shall altogether form the glorious train of attendants Bp Patrick, Travell

16 Instead of thy fathers &c] And may this be the happy fruit of thy marriage, that, instead of thy royal ancestors in Egypt thou mayest be the mother of children, who shall be rulers in all countries subject to king Solomon so shall the Church continually bring forth children unto Christ, whom He shall make kings and priest unto God, and they shall reign on the earth, Rev 10 Travell

17 I will make thy name &c] By this song I will make thy name to be mentioned with honour throughout all age, which shall celebrate thy praise, as long as the world shall last and much more shall the name of Christ, and His blessed union with His Church be celebrated with perpetual praises Bp Patrick, Travell

As we are now apt to consider Christ Himself a right, and therefore may probably fail in prescribing good rules to ourselves for the performance of our duty to Him, so we have as little regard what service we are to do, and what reverence we are to pay to that dear spouse of His the Church many too superstitiously extracting all their devotion to her ivory palaces, and to her raiment of needlework, to outward forms and ceremonies, and to the pomp of Divine worship, without much considering the inward operation and effect of religion, and others as licentiously and profanely under pretence of being all glorious within contemn all outward preparation for, and ornament of, God service and because Christ's Church consists of the multitude of believers and that He looks principally upon the heart as the seat of religion, they will allow Him no other temple to be served in and believe both churches and priests of no use to the exercise of their devotion Whereas, though the king's daughter be all glorious within, her clothing is likewise to be of wrought gold inward sanctity appears the more beautiful, for the outward decency and lustre that attends it And Christ Himself though He expects and requires the duty of the heart and to be served by all persons, and in all places yet He reserves some offices in His service for a peculiar people, more particularly dedicated to it, and vouchsafes more especially to reside in those places which are more solemnly dedicated to, and consecrated for, His worship Lord Charendon

Psalm XLVI This appears to be a thanksgiving Psalm for some victory or deliverance Street Probably it may have been composed in the reign of Jehoshaphat. See 2 Chron xx Rosenmüller

— for the sons of Korah, A Song upon Alamoth] The word Alamoth has by some been understood to signify an musical instrument, which was used to accompany the singing of the Psalm But it also signifies virgins or maidens The meaning of the title therefore may be, "An ode by the sons of Korah together with virgins" Street

Ver 3 4 Though the waters &c] The sense is, Though the numerous forces which are come up against Jerusalem should like a tempestuous sea, roar and rage and threaten her with utter destruction, yet the small forces that guard her, which for their stillness may be compared to the soft flowing stream of Siloah, shall by the help of her God protect her Green

6 The heathen raged &c] How concise and energetick are these expressions of the Divine power! Bp Horne

— he uttered his voice,] Alluding to the demonstration of God's power visibly exerted in the cause of Israel—and the inhabitants of the earth melted, as it were, with fear Rosenmüller

9 — he burneth the chariot &c] Alluding to the heathen custom of burning the arms of those they had conquered, in honour of their gods, and as a sign of peace Bp Loph

10 Be still, and know that I am God. I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth.

¶1 The LORD of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah

PSALM XLVII.

The nations are exhorted cheerfully to entertain the kingdom of Christ

¶ Or, of ¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm for the sons of Korah

O CLAP your hands, all ye people, shout unto God with the voice of triumph

2 For the LORD most high is terrible, he is a great King over all the earth.

3 He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet

4 He shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved Selah,

5 God is gone up with a shout, the LORD with the sound of a trumpet

6 Sing praises to God, sing praises sing praises unto our King, sing praises

7 For God is the King of all the earth sing ye praises with understanding

8 God reigneth over the heathen God sitteth upon the throne of his holiness

¶ Or, every one that hath understanding

10 Be still, and know &c.] In this verse there is a change of person, and Jehovah Himself is introduced, as commanding the world to cease its opposition, to own His power and to acknowledge His sovereignty over all the kingdoms of the nations Bp Horne

As we are continually beset by troubles, either bodily or spiritual so we continually stand in need of a city of refuge and strength, into which we may flee and be safe. Religion is that city, whose gates are always open to the afflicted soul. We profess to believe this do we act agreeably to such profession? Bp Horne

Psalm XLVII This Psalm was probably composed and sung on occasion of bringing the ark, either into the tabernacle on mount Zion by David, or thence into the temple by Solomon. And the ark being a type of Christ, as mount Zion was of heaven the carrying of the ark up to that mount may be considered as a type of Christ's ascension into heaven and accordingly this Psalm is appointed by the Church to be used on Ascension-day Dr Wells Travell

Ver 1 He shall choose &c.] Or, He hath chosen the good land of Canaan to be our inheritance Dr Wells

— the excellency of Jacob.] Meaning the land of Israel Mudge

5 God is gone up &c.] The ark, which is the emblem of the special presence of God is gone up into the holy place on mount Zion with a shout of joy and praise Dr Wells. This carrying up of the ark mystically represents Christ's ascension into heaven, as may be gathered by comparing this with Eph iv 8, where the like words uttered concerning the ark upon the same occasion, Psalm lxxviii 18, are directly applied to Christ's ascension Poole

9 The princes of the people &c.] This verse plainly describes the kings of the Gentiles as according to the Church as becoming with their subjects, through faith the people of the God of Abraham, and a part of the sacred flock Bp Horne

9 ¶ The princes of the people are gathered together, even the people of the God of Abraham for the shields of the earth belong unto God he is greatly exalted.

¶ Or, The voluntary of the people are gathered unto the people of the God of Abraham

PSALM XLVIII.

The ornaments and privileges of the church

¶ A Song and Psalm for the sons of Korah.

GREAT is the LORD, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holiness

2 Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King

3 God is known in her palaces for a refuge.

4 For, lo, the kings were assembled, they passed by together

5 They saw it, and so they marvelled, they were troubled, and hasted away

6 Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, as of a woman in travail

7 Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish with an east wind

8 As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God God will establish it for ever Selah

This Psalm should excite us to praise God and to celebrate His glory with holy transports, as He is the King of the whole earth, and deserves the adoration of all men, but above all because He has chosen us to be His people and His inheritance. But we should also apply this Psalm to the times of the Gospel, and especially to our Lord's ascension to the glory of His kingdom, and to the happiness which the several nations of the earth now enjoy in being accounted the people of God Ostwald

Psalm XLVIII This Psalm is appointed by our Church to be used on Whit-Sunday, because, under images taken from the earthly city Jerusalem, are celebrated the glory, the beauty, and the strength of the Christian Church, that city, and temple of Messiah. Bp Horne

Ver 1 — the mountain of his holiness.] That is mount Zion, the holy spot which He has set apart for the place of His worship Dr Wells, Travell

2 — the joy of the whole earth.] The joy of all the land of Judah then, and afterwards of the whole earth because the law was to come out of Zion Bp Nicholson

— on the sides of the north.] On the north side. Old Translation

3 God is known &c.] God has made Himself known in her towers to be our defence Edwards

5 They saw it, &c.] The meaning is, that when the kings of neighbouring countries had united together and marched their forces against it, they were astonished at its strength and beauty, and, being seized with sudden amazement, they made haste to escape Travell

7 Thou breakest the ships &c.] The meaning evidently is that as the east wind shatters in pieces the ships of Tarshish, so the Divine power struck the heathen kings with terror and astonishment. Bp Horne

8 As we have heard, &c.] In other words, What we have 9 We have thought of thy lovingkindness, O God, in the midst of thy temple.

10 According to thy name, O God, so is thy praise unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of righteousness.

11 Let mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgments.

12 Walk about Zion, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof.

13 Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces, that ye may tell it to the generation following.

14 For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death.

PSALM XLIX

1 An earnest persuasion to build the faith of resurrection, not on worldly power, but on God. 16 Worldly prosperity is not to be admired.

¶ Or of ¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of the sons of Korah.

HEAR this, all ye people, give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world.

2 Both low and high, rich and poor, together.

3 My mouth shall speak of wisdom, and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.

heard from them of old time, we have now seen verified with our own eyes, in the salvation of this holy city, which is the city of the God of the armies of heaven, and which we trust He will protect in future ages. Bp Patrick Travell

10 According to thy name, &c.] Whenever Thy name is known and Thy works are declared there, O Lord, shall Thy praises be extolled over all the world, and the righteousness of Thy judgments shall be everywhere acknowledged. Travell

11 — the daughters of Judah.] All the lesser cities of Judah. Bp Wilson

13 Mark ye well her bulwarks, &c.] Observe the outworks and consider all the stately buildings, and mark how entire they are, and unhurt by the enemies attacks, that the memory of so great a blessing may be recorded to future generations. Bp Patrick Travell

The reflection we are to make upon this Psalm is, that the Church has often been attacked by the kings and nations of the world, who had conspired together to destroy it, but that God has always watched over it, and rendered the conspiracies of its enemies vain, and turned them to their own confusion. This Psalm assures us, that the Church is the dearest thing to God upon earth, that He dwells in the midst of it, that He encompasses it with His protection, and that He will always support it. These promises are still better suited to the Christian than to the Jewish Church, and ought to convince us of our happiness, in being members of Christ's Church, and to fill all sincere Christians with steadfast hope and confidence in God. Ostervald

Psalm XLIX. The object of this very difficult Psalm seems to be, to expose the folly of those who place a confidence in their power and wealth, when, after all, neither of these can ransom their souls from death and their bodies from the tomb, while the author professes himself to believe, that God will redeem his soul from the power of the grave. Striel

Ver 3 My mouth shall speak &c.] I am going to utter things

4 I will incline mine ear to a payable. I will open my dark saying upon the harp. Math 17 Ps 78

5 Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my heels shall compass me about?

6 They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches, 7 None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him.

8 (For the redemption of their soul is precious, and it ceaseth for ever.)

9 That he should still live for ever, and not see corruption.

10 For he seeth that wise men die, likewise the fool, and the brutish person perish, and leave their wealth to others.

11 Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwellingplaces to all generations; they call their lands after their own names.

12 Nevertheless man being in honour bideth not: he is like the beasts that perish.

13 This then way is their folly: yet their posterity approve their sayings. Selah.

14 Like sheep they are laid in the grave; death shall feed on them, and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morn-of most important concern, even weighty matters which my heart has deeply pondered. Travell

I will speak such things as shall teach men to be truly wise, and to judge and determine prudently in all things. Rossmüller

4 I will incline mine ear &c.] I myself will diligently attend to the lesson I am going to unfold and the important instruction shall be accompanied with the melody of music. Travell

5 Wherefore should I fear &c.] Why should I give way to fear and despondency in the time of calamity, when the wickedness of my wealthy and powerful adversaries compasses me about, to supplant and overthrow me? Bps Horne and South — of my heels.] Rather, of my supplanters, of those who endeavour to supplant me. Parkhurst

7 None of them &c.] None of them, with all his wealth and power, can save his dearest friend from the grave, or preserve him alive when God calls him. Bp Patrick

8 (For the redemption &c.) The redemption of a man's life is too difficult and precious a thing for a man to undertake, so that it must ever be a vain attempt. Bp Patrick Travell

11 Their inward thought is &c.] Nevertheless, worldly-minded men secretly please themselves with the hopes, that their habitations and estates shall continue in their family from age to age: they indulge themselves in the idea of an imaginary immortality, by giving their own name to their lands. Travell

13 This their way is their folly.] The practice of labouring to acquire wealth and greatness, which be of no service after death, is doubtless a folly, but it is a folly, which, like many others, is at once blamable and imitated. Bp Horne

14 Like sheep &c.] They must, like sheep driven to the slaughter, become the prey of death, and go in crowds to the grave: and then the just, whom they insulted, shall triumph over them in that glorious dawn of the resurrection: their faded beauty shall moulder away in the silent habitation of the grave. Travell

|| Or, strength
|| Or, the grace being an habitation to every one of them † Heb from the hand of the Lord || Or, h' ||
† Heb 7
1)

ing, and then || beauty shall consume || in the grave from their dwelling.

15 But God will redeem my soul † from the power of || the grave for he shall receive me. Selah

16 Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his house is increased,

17 For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away: his glory shall not descend after him

† Heb in his life

18 Though † while he lived he blessed his soul: and men will praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself

† Heb The soul's light

19 † He shall go to the generation of his fathers, they shall never see light

20 Man that is in honour, and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish

PSALM L

1 The majesty of God in the church 5 His order to gather saints 7 His pleasure of God is not in ceremonies, 11 but in sincerity of obedience

|| Or for Asaph

|| A Psalm || of Asaph.

THE mighty God, even the Lord, hath spoken, and called the earth from the 18 Though while he lived &c.] While men enjoy all the pleasures which their riches afford them, they call themselves the only happy people: and whoever follows their steps will be sure to have the praise of wicked and foolish people. Bp Wilson

20 Man that is in honour, &c.] That man who lives in outward honour, and yet wants true wisdom and understanding to know God and himself, lives and dies like a beast. Bp Hall

Let us seriously lay to heart that our time in this world is but a short eve to an everlasting holiday, and that the world itself is but a barren, steep, and stormy passage, to the most fertile and pleasant land that ever was inhabited, where, if we have behaved ourselves well in the way, more glorious mansions are prepared for us than the greatest monarch of the earth was ever in possession of: let us in our daily morning prayers humbly and earnestly beseech God to root out of our hearts all those immoderate desires and inclinations towards the pomp and pleasures of this life, which intoxicate us, and we shall be ashamed all the day after to entertain any of those proud, and covetous, and ambitious thoughts, that are so contrary to our prayers, and so, by devoutly wishing to be what we ought to be, we shall grow fixed and steady, and superior to those vain temptations. Lord Chandon

Psalm L. This Psalm sets forth, that the Divine favour is not to be concluded by sacrifices, or by any of the external rites and service of religion, but rather by sincere piety, and by the devout disquisitions of a grateful heart: and yet that even these will not be accepted without the strictest attention to justice and every practical virtue. It consists therefore of two parts: in the first the devout but ignorant and superstitious worshipper is removed, and in the second, the hypocritical pretender to virtue and religion. Each part of the subject, if we regard the imagery and diction only, is treated rather with variety and elegance than with sublimity, but if the general effect, if the plot and machinery of the whole be considered, scarcely any thing can appear more truly magnificent.

God is here introduced as entering upon a solemn and publick rising of the sun unto the going down thereof

2 Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined.

3 Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.

4 He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people

5 Gather my saints, together unto me, those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice

6 And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is judge himself. Selah

7 Hear, O my people, and I will speak, O Israel, and I will testify against thee: I am God, even thy God

8 I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices of thy burnt offerings, to have been continually before me

9 I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor he goats out of thy folds

10 For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills:

11 I know all the fowls of the mounaction or pleading before the whole world, against His disobedient people. He summons all mankind from east to west to be present to hear His appeal, and the solemnity is held on Zion, where He is attended by the same terrible pomp that accompanied Him on mount Sinai. Bp Lenth

— Asaph.] Whether this Asaph was the Levite who lived in the same age with David, or some other prophet in aftertimes, cannot be certainly determined. Bp Patrick

Vers 1 The mighty God, &c.] That is, The decree is gone out from God the Father, touching the calling of all nations, by God the Son

2 Out of Zion,] As God in a special manner was present here in His tabernacle, so shall the Son of God, in fulness of time, be visibly present in that place and thence give His commission to reveal the Gospel to all nations. Fenton

4 He shall call to the heavens &c.] The heavens and the earth are invoked as witnesses, which is a pompous sort of expression common with the Hebrew writers. He shall call the heavens from on high, and the earth to the judgment of His people. Bp Lenth

5 Gather my saints &c.] He shall say, Bring those men before Me, whom I have separated to Myself to be a holy nation, and who have made a solemn agreement with Me, confirmed by the blood of sacrifices. Bp Patrick Travell

8 I will not reprove thee &c.] It is not for any defect in thy external and ceremonial service of sacrifices and other appointed offerings that I complain of thee: these have been performed with scrupulous exactness. Travell

9—12 I will take no bullock.] The Jewish folly of doating on the legal offerings, as things in themselves acceptable to God, and concerning justification on man, is reproved in these verses, from the consideration, that the various animals slain in sacrifice were long before, even from the creation of the world, the sole right and property of Jehovah: which, therefore, He needed not to have required at the hands of His people, nor would He have done so, but for some further end and intent signified and represented by such oblations. What that end and in-

† Heb
with me Lxxd 19
Dcut 10 14
Psal 21 1
Job 41 11
1 Cor 10
26, 28

tains and the wild beasts of the field are † mine 12 If I were hungry, I would not tell thee for the world is mine, and the ful-ness thereof.
13 Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?
14 Offer unto God thanksgiving, and pay thy vows unto the most high 15 And call upon me in the day of trouble I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me 16 But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?
17 Seeing thou hatest instruction, and castest my words behind thee 18 When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.
19 † Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit 20 Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother, thou slanderest thine own mother's son 21 These things hast thou done, and I kept silence, thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes 22 Now consider this, ye that forget

God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver 23 Whoso offereth praise glorifieth me and to him † that ordereth his conversation aright will I shew the salvation of God: † Heb that responeth his way

PSALM LI

1 David prayeth for remission of sins whereof he maketh a deep confession 6 He prayeth for sanctification 16 God delighteth not in sacrifice, but in sincerity 18 He prayeth for the church

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David about 1091 vid, when Nathan the prophet came unto him, after he had gone in to Bathsheba

HAVE mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.

2 Wash me thoroughly from mine inquity, and cleanse me from my sin

3 For I acknowledge my transgressions and my sin is ever before me.

4 Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest.

5 Behold, I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me

6 Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom lent was, Christians know, and Jews formerly did know Learn we hence not to dream of any merit in our works and services, since God has a double claim founded on creation and redemption, to all we have, and all we are Bp Horne

14 Offer unto God thanksgiving, &c.] God here declares, that the sacrifice which is truly acceptable to Him is a heart thankful for all the blessings He has bestowed, and the faithful performance of all the vows and promises which have been made to Him Bp Patrick

21 These things hast thou done, &c.] All this wickedness hast thou committed and I have forborne to punish thee, but My forbearance, instead of leading thee to amendment, has made thee consider Me, either as ignorant of thy wickedness, or inclined to evil like thyself but I will now rebuke thee sharply for it, and set all thy evil deeds in order before thine eyes Bp Patrick 23 Whoso offereth praise.] This verse sums up the two principal points of charge "I look upon him only as the man who truly honours Me, that offers before Me a grateful heart, and none but the man that sets himself to order his life aright shall ever find protection and blessing from God" Mudge

The duty of praise is the end of our being, and the very rule and law of our nature. It is the most excellent part of our religious worship, enduring to eternity after the rest shall be done away. It recommends itself to us by several peculiar properties and advantages, as it carries more pleasure in it than all other kinds of devotion, as it enlarges and exalts the several powers of the mind, as it breeds in us an exquisite sense of God's honour, and a willingness to promote it in the world, as it teaches us to be humble and lowly ourselves, and yet preserves us from base and sordid flattery, from bestowing mean and undue praises upon others Bp Atterbury

Psalm LI No one can read this Psalm of David, but must see all the characters of true repentance in the person who wrote it, and the marks of the deepest sorrow and humiliation for the sins of which he had been guilty How earnestly does he plead for mercy, and acknowledge his unworthiness! How ingenuous the confessions he makes of his offences! How heavy the load of guilt which oppressed him! The smart of it pierced through his very bones, and the torture he felt was as if they had been broken and crushed to pieces Dr Chaddock This Psalm is inserted in the Communion service, and so is used with the other penitential Psalms in the service on Ash Wednesday

Vers 2 Wash me thoroughly &c.] The soul, that is sensible of her pollution, fears she can never be sufficiently purified from it, and therefore prays yet again and again continually, for more abundant grace, to make and to keep her holy Bp Horne

4 Against thee, thee only, have I sinned.] I or none else knew it, till Thou madest it known, 2 Sam xii 12 Bp Wilson — that thou mightest be justified &c.] Rather, So that Thou art righteous in Thy sentence, and just in Thy judgment Ldwards

5 — I was shapen in iniquity &c.] I derive from my parents an original corruption, and a natural proneness to evil I will This corruption is here only alleged as the cause of transgressions, not as their excuse, seeing that, the greater our danger of falling, the greater should be our care to stand Bp Horne

6 Behold thou desirest truth &c.] The force of "behold" is "It is too plain, I feel it but too sensibly, the punishment I suffer is evidence sufficient, that Thou art not contented with a superficial appearance of goodness Thou lovest truth and sincerity in the bottom of the heart God was now teaching him this, by the correction He made him suffer The punishment indicates

* Lev 14 6
Numb 19
18

7 Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

8 Make me to hear joy and gladness, that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice

9 Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities

10 Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me

11 Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy spirit from me

12 Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with thy free spirit

13 Then will I teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners shall be converted unto thee

14 Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness

15 O Lord, open thou my lips, and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise

16 For thou desirest not sacrifice, else would I give it thou delightest not in burnt offering

17 The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise

18 Do good in thy good pleasure unto Zion build thou the walls of Jerusalem

† Heb blonds

|| Or that I should be it

* Isaiah 57
15 & 66

dicted tended to give him a right understanding of things, and to work it deep into him Mudge

7 Purge me with hyssop &c.] As the priest is wont to denote unclean persons to be cleansed, by sprinkling them with water mixed with the ashes of a heifer, which sprinkling was performed with a bunch of hyssop, so be Thou pleased to absolve me from the guilt of the great sins I have been guilty of, and restore me to Thy former favour Dr Wells

8 Make me to hear &c.] Renew the joy of my heart, in the comfortable assurance of Thy forgiveness, that so my soul, which is now dejected and justly grieved for my sins, may find cause of rejoicing in Thee Bp Hall

11 Cast me not away &c.] The soul that is truly penitent dreads nothing but the thought of being rejected from the "presence" and deserted by the "Spirit" of God. This is the most deplorable effect of sin, but it is one that in general, perhaps, is the least considered and regarded of all others Bp Horne

12 — and uphold me with thy free spirit.] He prays to be preserved and continued in a state of salvation by the Spirit of God, which might enable him to act as became a prophet and a king free from base desires and enslaving lusts Bp Horne

14 Deliver me from bloodguiltiness.] Deliver me from the punishment due to this crying sin, the murder of a trusty servant, and of several of my servants 2 Sam xii 17 Bp Patrick

16 — thou desirest not sacrifice.] That is not to be understood absolutely and universally as appears from ver 19, but comparatively See the note on Psalm xl 6 Poole

18 — build thou the walls of Jerusalem.] Be favourable to Jerusalem, and let its walls which I have begun to build, 2 Sam v 9, be perfectly finished, 1 Kings iii 1 Bp Patrick

19 — sacrifices of righteousness.] That is, such sacrifices as are offered with true piety of heart. Rosenmuller

19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifices of righteousness, with burnt offering and whole burnt offering then shall they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

PSALM LII

1 David, condemning the spitefulness of Doeg prophesieth his destruction 6 The righteous shall rejoice at it 8 David, upon his confidence in God's mercy, giveth thanks

¶ To the chief Musician, Maschil, A Psalm of David, when Doeg the Edomite came and told Saul, and said unto him, David is come to the house of Ahimelech 1 Sam 29

WHY boastest thou thyself in mischief, O mighty man? the goodness of God endureth continually

2 Thy tongue deviseth mischiefs, like a sharp razor, working deceitfully

3 Thou lovest evil more than good, and lying rather than to speak righteousness Selah

4 Thou lovest all devouring words, || O thou deceitful tongue *|| Or and deceitful
tongue*

5 God shall likewise destroy thee for ever, he shall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling place, and root thee out of the land of the living Selah † Heb beat their down

6 The righteous also shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him

From the third verse of this Psalm, we should learn to correct a propensity in the human mind, which is very general and very natural, yet, at the same time, unfavourable in a high degree to the Christian character, namely, that when we look back upon our lives, our recollection dwells too much upon our virtues our sins are not as they ought to be, before us, we think too much of our good qualities, or good actions, too little of our crimes, our corruptions, our fallings off and declensions from God's laws, our defects and weaknesses. But this is not the true Christian disposition, and it is dangerous to our salvation. We ought rather to let our "sins be ever before us," our omissions, deficiencies, failures, our irregularities of heart and affection, our vices of temper and disposition. These are the things which should occupy our attention, this should be the bent and direction of our thoughts, for they are the thoughts which will bring us to God evangelically Archdeacon Paley

Psalm LII The occasion of this Psalm is to be found in 1 Sam xxii where we read, that Doeg, in order to ingratiate himself with Saul, discovered to him those who were confederate with David, particularly Ahimelech and afterwards, at the desire of Saul, murdered the priests of the Lord Travell

Ver 1 Why boastest thou &c.] The Psalmist thought it strange that any man should value himself for being able to do mischief, when God esteemed it His glory to do good. In vain did Doeg the Edomite boast himself in the mischief he had done, by murdering the innocent priests and their families, since "the good news of God, which is unchangeable, had decreed the preservation of David." Bp Horne

2 — devouring words.] That is, such as are mischievous, and by which the innocent may be destroyed. Rosenmuller

6 The righteous also shall see, &c.] All good men shall see

¶ Or,
substance

7 Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength, but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness.

8 But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God. I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever

9 I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done it and I will wait on thy name, for it is good before thy saints

PSALM LIII

1 David describeth the corruption of a natural man 4 He convinceth the wicked by the light of their own conscience 6 He glorifieth in the salvation of God

¶ To the chief Musician upon Mahalath, Maschil, A Psalm of David

1 &c & 10
4
Rom
10

THE fool hath said in his heart, There is no God Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity there is none that doeth good

2 God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God

3 Every one of them is gone back they are altogether become filthy, there is none that doeth good, no, not one

4 Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread they have not called upon God mark the righteous judgment of God, and shall be confirmed in their fear of offending Him, they shall deride thy folly and disappointed ambition, and shall say, &c Bp Patrick, Travell

8 But I am like &c] As for me, notwithstanding his crafty designs against me, I am, in comparison of him, in a flourishing condition; my unchangeable trust in the goodness of God shall make me grow and increase, like a fruitful olive tree in the courts of God's house Travell

9 — for it is good before thy saints] That is, it is a goodly thing, it carries a good appearance, it looks well before the friends of God, to see me praising Him, and putting my trust in Him Mudge

It very much concerns us to follow the wise man's counsel, and "to weigh our words in a balance, and make a door and bar for our mouth," Eccles. xxi. 23 If licentious and unbridled thoughts will, in spite of all our watches and guard, steal into our hearts, let us be sure that no unruly words break out of our mouth; and if, in the variety of our language and expressions, some inconsiderate, rash, and imprudent words escape from us, at least let them not be malicious and detracting words, to wound the credit and good name of our neighbours let us inform and instruct the weak without insolence, and reprove and advise the wilful without bitterness; let us do all good offices towards advancing the reputation of those who desire to advance God's glory and the publick peace, and all charitable offices towards those who are in misery and distress, by what means soever they fell into it, let us endeavour to strengthen all men with our mouth, and that our speech may drop upon them and then God will bless and protect, and prosper us, against all the violence and all the calumnies which aim at our destruction Lord Clarendon

Psalm LIII This Psalm of David was composed by him at 5 There were they in great fear, where no fear was for God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee thou hast put them to shame, because God hath despised them

† Heb thou f med a fear

6 † Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When God bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad

† Heb Who will like salva tions &c

PSALM LIV

1 David, complaining of the Ziphims, prayeth for salvation 4 Upon his confidence in God's help he promiseth sacrifice

¶ To the chief Musician on Neginoth, Maschil, A Psalm of David, when the Ziphims came and said to Saul, Doth not David hide himself with us?

† 1 Sam
13 & 26

SAVE me, O God, by thy name, and judge me by thy strength

2 Hear my prayer, O God, give ear to the words of my mouth

3 For strangers are risen up against me, and oppressors seek after my soul they have not set God before them Selah

4 Behold, God is mine helper the Lord is with them that uphold my soul

5 He shall reward evil unto mine enemies cut them off in thy truth

† Heb those that observe me

6 I will freely sacrifice unto thee I will praise thy name, O Lord, for it is good.

first, as it stands Psalm XIV and on the rebellion of Absalom But probably upon the new revolt made presently after the death of Absalom, by the Israelites that followed Sheba, David made two or three variations in Psalm XIV and so used it upon this new occasion Dr Wells

— Mahalath.] This word probably denotes some kind of musical instrument, but of what kind it is difficult now to determine Rosenmüller, Edwards

5 — for God hath scattered the bones] God hath destroyed him who thought to oppress thee, O my soul, and his bones lie scattered on the ground See 2 Sam xx 6—22 Bp Patrick

Psalm LIV This Psalm was composed by David at a time of his great distress, and seasonable deliverance afforded him by God, when, hiding himself in the wilderness of Ziph, the Ziphites made discovery to Saul, and he went with forces to seek him, but gave over the pursuit, by reason of the Philistines invading his land See 1 Sam xxiii 14 to the end Dr Hammond The application to Christ and to Christians is plain and easy, for which reason our Church hath appointed this Psalm to be read on Good Friday Bp Horne

— Neginoth.] See the note upon the title to the fourth Psalm Ver 1 — judge me.] Do me justice Green

3 For strangers are risen up against me.] The Ziphites, though David's countrymen, acted the part of "strangers," or "aliens," in seeking to deliver him up to his unjust and cruel enemy Bp Horne

— they have not set God before them.] They have cast off all regard to His presence and authority, and all fear of His judgments Poole.

6 I will freely sacrifice unto thee.] I will sacrifice to Thee a voluntary oblation Dr Hammond The prayers of great men in distress, and their thanksgivings

7 For he hath delivered me out of all trouble and mine eye hath seen his desire upon mine enemies.

PSALM LV.

David in his prayer complaineth of his fearful case 9 He prayeth against his enemies, of whose wickedness and treachery he complaineth 16 He comforteth himself in God's preservation of him, and confusion of his enemies

10.3 ¶ To the chief Musician on Neginoth, Maschil, A Psalm of David

GIVE ear to my prayer, O God, and hide not thyself from my supplication

2 Attend unto me, and hear me I mourn in my complaint, and make noise,

3 Because of the voice of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked for they cast iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me

4 My heart is sore pained within me and the terrors of death are fallen upon me

5 Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath † overwhelmed me

6 And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove† for then would I fly away, and be at rest

7 Lo, then would I wander far off, and remain in the wilderness Selah

8 I would hasten my escape from the windy storm and tempest.

9 Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongues for I have seen violence and strife in the city

10 Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: mischief also and sorrow are in the midst of it.

11 Wickedness is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets

12 For it was not an enemy that reproached me, then I could have borne it neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me, then I would have hid myself from him

13 But it was thou, † a man mine equal, my guide, and mine acquaintance

14 † We took sweet counsel together and walked unto the house of God in company

15 Let death seize upon them, and let them go down quick into † hell for wickedness is in their dwellings, and among them

16 As for me, I will call upon God, and the Lord shall save me

17 Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud and he shall hear my voice

18 He hath delivered my soul in peace from the battle that was against me for there were many with me

19 God shall hear, and afflict them, even he that abideth of old Selah † Because they have no changes, therefore they fear not God

† Heb a man according to my rank

† Heb Who sweetened counsel

† Or with whom also there be no changes yet they fear not God after great deliverances, have always been matter of uncommon delight to curiosity, and men of serious and religious spirits Nor does the glory of any great man ever shine out to their eyes up half the lustre, as when they behold him upon his knees, lifting up his eyes, or stretching out his hands to heaven, or, what is yet greater, prostrating himself before it, in humiliation and acknowledgment Then is the hero seen in all his dignity! Dr Delaney The royal Prophet here teaches us by his example that prayer should always be our refuge in time of danger, that, even when men have conspired our ruin, if we call upon God with a pure heart, He will protect us, and that when He has granted our prayers, we ought to bless Him with all our soul Ostwald

Psalm LV It is generally imagined that David composed this Psalm, when he was forced to flee suddenly from Jerusalem, on the breaking out of Absalom's rebellion, and the treachery of his principal counsellor Ahithophel, of whom he complains bitterly in the fourteenth verse I ravell

Vers 2, 3 Attend unto me &c] Attend unto me, and answer me, while in my complaint I weep and cry aloud because of the insults of the enemy, and the oppression of the wicked for they lay iniquity to my charge, and bear me a violent hatred Green

4 the terrors of death are fallen upon me] That is, I am brought to the very brink of destruction Bp Wilson

8 I would hasten my escape &c] I would hasten away to shelter myself from this fierce persecution, which like a sudden storm threatens utterly to destroy me Bp Patrick

9 Destroy, O Lord, &c] In these words, David beseeches

God to divide confound, and bring to nought the counsels of an iniquitous faction, for so in the history we find him saying, "O Lord, I pray Thee, turn the counsel of Ahithophel into foolishness," 2 Sam xth 11 Bp Horne

10 Day and night they go &c] The "violence and strife," mentioned at the conclusion of the preceding verse, are here described as going their rounds, like in armed watch upon the walls, to guard rebellion, which had taken up its residence in the heart of the city, from the attacks of loyalty, fight, and justice, driven with the king beyond Jordan Bp Horne

12—14 For it was not &c] The many aggravating circumstances of Ahithophel's treason against David, and that of Judas against Christ, are here strongly marked The treachery of pretended friends is generally to the Church, as it was to her Lord, the beginning of sorrows Ingratitude, malice, and falsehood, are ingredients that must always meet in the composition of a traitor Bp Horne

15 Let death seize &c] Let a sudden and unexpected death overwhelm them Rosenmüller. Or, this passage may be considered as a prediction (see the note on Psalm v 10) of the tragical fate of Ahithophel, and of those who followed Absalom The sudden destruction of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, who, for stirring up a rebellion against Moses and Aaron, "went down alive into the pit," seems here alluded to Bp Horne

18 — many with me] Namely, God and His holy angels Dr Wills 19 — Because they have no changes, &c] They experience no change of fortune and therefore will not fear God Green Or,

† Heb
he hath profaned

20 He hath put forth his hands against such as be at peace with him. † he hath broken his covenant

21 The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords

* Psal 97 5
Mat 6 25
Lukel 22
1 Pet 5 7
|| Or suft

22 Cast thy || burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee. he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved 23 But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction. † bloody and deceitful men † shall not live out half their days; but I will trust in thee.

† Heb men of bloods and deceit
† Heb shall not half their days

PSALM LVI

1 David, praying to God in confidence of his word, complaineth of his enemies 9 He professeth his confidence in God's word, and promiseth to praise him

¶ To the chief Musician upon Jonath-elem-rechokim, || Michtam of David, when the Philistines took him in Gath

|| Or A Golden Psalm of David
1 Sam.
21 11

BE merciful unto me, O God for man would swallow me up, he fighting daily oppresseth me

† Heb Mine observers

2 † Mine enemies would daily swallow me up for they be many that fight against me, O thou most high

3 What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee

Because there is no reformation in them, neither do they fear God Street, Archdeacon Randolph

• 20 He hath put forth &c.] This perfidious traitor hath basely lifted up his hands to injure those who were at peace and friendship with him he hath broken his promise and oath of fidelity. Bp Patrick, Travell

21. — drawn swords.] That is, pernicious in their design and consequences Poole

22 (As thy burden &c.) The conclusion of the whole matter is, that amidst all dangers and adversities, whensoever they oppress us, we are to put our full trust and confidence only in His mercy, who delivered David, and the Son of David, out of all their troubles Bp Horne

The distresses and dangers to which we are subject are hardly remediable, when they who by intimate conversation know our nature, and to whom we have communicated our purposes, counsels, and designs, prove treacherous and false to us, and concur with the envy and malice of our enemies, and as the danger is then almost inevitable, so the grief and agony that attends it is sharper and more troublesome than the danger, it bereaves us of that composure, and temper, and serenity of mind, which usually cheeres us in all other accidents. But our comfort is, though we are least able to help ourselves in such exigencies, and against such distresses, we have an Helper, if we call faithfully upon Him, who sees the pangs we suffer, the agony and fear we endure, and hears the just voice of our lamentation Lord Clarendon.

Psalm LVI — Jonath-elem-rechokim,] That is, the silent dove far off David thus styles himself on account of his being at that time in a far country Dr Wells Or, these words may be the name of some well known song, to the musick of which this is directed to be sung Mudge.

Ver 1 — he fighting &c.] He is daily fighting against me, that he may crush me Green

4 In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me

5 Every day they wrest my words: all their thoughts are against me for evil.

6 They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, they mark my steps, when they wait for my soul

7 Shall they escape by iniquity? in thine anger cast down the people, O God

8 Thou tellest my wanderings, put thou my tears into thy bottle are they not in thy book?—

9 When I cry unto thee, then shall mine enemies turn back this I know, for God is for me

10 In God will I praise his word in the LORD will I praise his word.

11 In God have I put my trust I will not be afraid what man can do unto me

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God I will render praises unto thee

13 For thou hast delivered my soul from death wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

PSALM LVII

1 David in prayer fleeing unto God complaineth of his dangerous case 7 He encourageth himself to praise God

4 In God I will praise his word,] By the assistance of God I shall be enabled to praise Him for the performance of His promises Bp Patrick

8 Thou tellest my wanderings.] David's whole life, from his victory over Goliath till the death of Saul, was continually spent in wandering from place to place Dr Chandler — put thou my tears into thy bottle.] This expression seems to intimate, that the custom of putting tears into the lacrymal urns, so well known among the Romans, was more anciently in use among the Hebrews. These urns were of different materials, some of glass, some of earth, they were also of various forms or shapes They were placed on the sepulchrea of the deceased, as a memorial of the distress and affliction of their surviving relations and friends The meaning therefore of the expression, "put Thou my tears into Thy bottle," will be, "let my distress, and the tears I have shed in consequence of it, be ever before Thee, excite Thy kind remembrance of me, and plead with Thee to grant me the relief I stand in need of" Dr. Chasler, Calmet.

12 Thy vows are upon me, O God.] That is, I am bound by vows to Thee

13 — wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling,] This should be rendered as it is in the Liturgy, "and my feet from falling"

By the example of David we are here taught, that, to whatever extremity the children of God are brought, and when even force and artifice are employed against them, they are not moved, that, so firm is their trust in God, they do not fear what man can do unto them, and that even before their deliverance they rejoice in the Lord, and pay to Him their vows and thanksgivings. Osterschild

Psalm LVII The Church, by her appointment of this as one of the proper Psalms for Easter-day, hath instructed us to transfer the ideas to the resurrection of Christ from the grave Bp Horne

|| Or, Destroy not 1 1
24 1

¶ To the chief Musician, || Al-taschuth, Michtam of David, when he fled from Saul in the cave.

BE merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me for my soul trusteth in thee yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast.

2 I will cry unto God most high, unto God that performeth all things for me.

|| Or he reproach-eth him that would smite you me up

3 He shall send from heaven, and save me || from the reproach of him that would swallow me up. Selah God shall send forth his mercy and his truth

4 My soul is among lions and I lie even among them that are set on fire, even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword

5 He thou exalted, O God, above the heavens, let thy glory be above all the earth.

|| Psalm 7
16 & 9 15

6 They have prepared a net for my steps; my soul is bowed down they have digged a pit before me, into the midst whereof they are fallen themselves Selah

|| Psalm 108
1 &c
|| Or prepared

7 My heart is || fixed, O God, my heart is fixed I will sing and give praise

8 Awake up, my glory, awake, psaltery and harp I myself will awake early

9 I will praise thee, O LORD, among the people I will sing unto thee among the nations

|| Psalm 7
5 & 108 4

10 For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds

— Al-taschuth ] “ Destroy not seems to be the beginning of a song, to the musick of which this Psalm is directed to be sung Mudge

Ver 3 — God shall send forth &c ] God, by His deliverance of me, shall manifest His lovingkindness, and the truth of His promises Travell

4 My soul is among lions &c ] I am beset by cruel and bloody enemies whose hearts are inflamed with deadly malice against me, even men given over to wickedness, whose mouths are full of mischievous slanders and reproaches, wherewith they endeavour to wound me to the death Bp Hall

5 Awake up, my glory &c ] Awake, O my tongue, awake, I will all o awake early the psaltery, and harp Green

10 — thy mercy is great &c ] Thy mercy and truth extend over the whole universe Travell

Though we may not be exposed to dangers like those of David formerly, and therefore cannot apply to ourselves all we read in this Psalm, we may nevertheless from hence conclude, in general, that in our necessities we should draw nigh to God, being fully persuaded that He will not fail to send us help from heaven, and deliver us Ostervald

Psalm LVIII A Psalm of David wherem he reproves the judges, the princes of Sauls court, for passing an unrighteous sentence upon him, probably, as guilty of seeking Sauls life, and begs of God to defeat their unjust attempts to destroy him, and openly to shew Himself the Protector of the innocent Green

11 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens let thy glory be above all the earth

PSALM LVIII

1 David reproveth wicked judges, 3 describeth the nature of the wicked, 6 devoteth them to God's judgments, 16 wherem the righteous shall rejoice

¶ To the chief Musician || Al-taschuth, Michtam of David

|| Or, Destroy not,
A golden Psalm of
David

DO ye indeed speak righteousness, O congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye sons of men?

2 Yea, in heart ye work wickedness, ye weigh the violence of your hands in the earth

3 The wicked are estranged from the womb they go astray † as soon as they be born, speaking lies

† Heb fr m the belly

4 Their poison is † like the poison of a serpent they are like the deaf || adder that stoppeth her ear,

† Heb
according to the like muss

5 Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, || charming never so wisely

|| Or asp

6 Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth. break out the great teeth of the young lions, O LORD

|| Or be the char mer not so cunning

7 Let them melt away as waters which run continually when he bendeth his bow to shoot his arrows, let them be as cut in pieces

8 As a snail which melteth, let every one of them pass away like the untimely birth of a woman, that they may not see the sun

9 Before your pots can feel the thorns,

Ver 1 * Do ye indeed speak &c ] O ye assembly of princes and rulers, have you pronounced a righteous sentence against me, and judged me uprightly according to your consciences? Bp Patrick, Travell

3 The wicked are estranged &c ] Such is their wickedness, that they were depraved from the very womb, going astray as soon as they could go and telling lies as soon as they could speak Travell

4, 5. — like the deaf adder &c ] Allusion is here made to that sort of serpents, which, according to some naturalists, were able to make themselves deaf, in order to resist the effect of charms employed for the purpose of lulling them asleep and taking them The meaning is, these incorrigible persons resolve never to hearken to any thing which may induce them to quit their evil ways Dr Hammond The notion of charming serpents with certain sounds, or by uttering particular words, was formerly extremely general, and still prevails over many parts of Barbary Dr Shaw

7 Let them melt &c ] Let them fall away one from the other till they come to nothing, as waters, which not being contained within any vessel or bank, run continually, and spread themselves further and further, till they are all lost or sucked up into the earth. Dr Wells

8 As a snail which &c ] As a snail, which melts or spends itself the further it goes, so let every one of them that are my enemies pass away, or miscarry in their designs Dr Wells

9 Before your pots &c ] Perhaps these words should rather be translated, “ Before your pots can feel the thorns, the tempest

† Heb as living, as wrath

he shall take them away as with a whirlwind, † both living, and in his wrath.
10 The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance he shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.

† Heb fruit of the,
&c

11 So that a man shall say, Verily there is † a reward for the righteous verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth

PSALM LIX.

1 David prayeth to be delivered from his enemies 6 He complaineth of their cruelty 8 He trusteth in God 11 He prayeth against them 16 He praiseth God

¶ Or Des ignot at golden 1 Psalm of David
1 Sam
19 11
† Heb set me on high

¶ To the chief Musician, ¶ Al-taschirh, Michtam of David, † when Saul sent, and they watched the house to kill him

DELIVER me from mine enemies, O my God † defend me from them that rise up against me

2 Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from bloody men

3 For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul the mighty are gathered against me, not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD

† Heb
to meet me

4 They run and prepare themselves without my fault awake † to help me, and behold

5 Thou therefore, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathen be not merciful to any wicked transgressors Selah

6 They return at evening they make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city

7 Behold, they belch out with their mouth swords are in their lips for † who, say they, doth hear?

† Psal 10
11 & 71
11 & 94

8 But thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them, thou shalt have all the heathen in derision

9 Because of his strength will I wait upon thee, for God is † my defence

† Heb my high place

10 The God of my mercy shall prevent me God shall let me see my desire upon † mine enemies.

† Heb mine observer

11 Slay them not, lest my people forget scatter them by thy power, and bring them down, O LORD our shield

12 For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips let them even be taken in their pride and for cursing and lying which they speak

13 Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they may not be and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob unto the ends of the earth Selah

14 And at evening let them return, and let them make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city

15 Let them wander up and down † for meat, and grudge if they be not satisfied

† Heb
to eat

16 But I will sing of thy power, yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble

¶ Or, if they be not satisfied then they will stay all night

17 Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy shall bear them away BIRDS and thorns, when set on fire, are frequently applied in Scripture to represent the rage of the wicked, violent, yet impotent, and of no long continuance. They are applied also to the wicked themselves, as useless and unprofitable, proper objects of God's wrath, to be burned up or driven away by the wind Both these ideas seem to be joined in the above verse Bp Iowth

10 — the vengeance ] The just judgment of God upon wicked men Bp Watson

— he shall wash &c ] This is an allusion to a great conqueror, who dips his feet in the blood of his enemies as he passes over their carcasses Bp Patrick

In general, we see here that all those who harden themselves in their evil ways, without hearkening to the voice of God, are threatened with His vengeance. We learn also from this Psalm, that though the wicked prosper, and good men are afflicted for a while, yet they will always have reason to acknowledge, "that there is a reward for the righteous, and that there is a God who judgeth the earth" Outward.

Psalm LIX ver 5 — awake to visit &c ] Awake to punish all those wretches, who, though they call themselves Thy people, yet are as wicked as even the heathen be not merciful in sparing longer any such notoriously wicked transgressors Dr Wells

6 They return at evening, &c ] The messengers of Saul, coming after David in the evening, besetting his house, and blocking up the approaches to it, are here compared to a set of hungry dogs in quest of their prey Bp Horne See note on ver 14

7 Behold, they belch out &c ] Behold, their hearts are full of malice, which bursts out at their mouths in open threats to kill me, for, Who, say they, shall call us to account for it? Bp Patrick

9 Because of his strength &c ] It is probable that the beginning of this verse should be the same with that of verse 17 Bp Iowth

10 — shall prevent me ] That is, shall make way for my timely escape Dr Wells

11 Slay them not, &c ] Do not utterly destroy them, lest my countrymen lose the remembrance of it but let them remain a just monument of Thine anger Travell

14 — like a dog, &c ] Dogs are found in great numbers in the cities of the East, and crowd the streets They do not appear to belong to any particular persons, as our dogs do, nor to be fed distinctly by such as might claim some interest in them, but get their food as they can, Harmer

15 — and grudge if they be not satisfied ] And murmur because they are not satisfied Dr Chandler See the margin

Nothing gives us such support and administers such confidence and courage to expect a deliverance from God Almighty out of any persecution or danger that invades us, as the consciousness of innocence Not that we may conclude, that guiltless men cannot be oppressed, even to the loss of their lives, as well as their fortunes, or, that evil men cannot prevail against those

PSALM LX.

1 David, complaining to God of former judgment, & now, upon better hope, prayeth for deliverance 6 Comforting himself in God's promises, he craveth that help whereon he trusteth

¶ To the chief Musician upon Shushan-eduth, ¶ Michtam of David, to teach, when he strove with Aram-naharaim, and with Aram-zobah, when Joab returned, and smote of Edom in the valley of salt twelve thousand

¶ Or A golden
Psalm
2 Sam 8
3, 13
1 Chron.
18 9
about 1040
Pa. 44 9
† Heb
broken

O GOD, thou hast cast us off, thou hast scattered us, thou hast been displeased, O turn thyself to us again

2 Thou hast made the earth to tremble, thou hast broken it heal the breaches thereof, for it shaketh

3 Thou hast shewed thy people hard things thou hast made us to drink the wine of astonishment

4 Thou hast given a banner to them that feared thee, that it may be displayed because of the truth Selah

5 That thy beloved may be delivered

Paal 108
6 &c

who are less evil than they we may not only be very innocent in those particulars of which we are condemned and brought into misery, but therefore condemned, because we are known to be innocent, and yet we may be guilty enough in other particulars, to deserve a greater punishment and misery than we undergo and since every sin is in opposition to God's will and directions, it is His usual method to punish sinners by others who are most opposite to the sins they practised Our deliverance therefore may be for a time deferred, till the fire of adversity hath well purged the dross and corruption which our prosperity had contracted, and we shall then find, that our constancy and patience in suffering hath made God propitious to us, and provided a crown of glory for our reward Lord Clarendon

Psalm LX — Shushan-eduth The meaning of this word is quite uncertain

— to teach Either, that David might teach posterity what things he had done, or, unplying that this Psalm was given to the chief musician, that he might teach the inferior ones Rosenmiller

— Aram The Syrians, so called, because they were the descendants of Aram the son of Shem, Gen x 22 Poole

— naharaim Those Syrians that lived between the two rivers Tigris and Euphrates Bp Patrick

— Aram-zobah Those Syrians that lived adjoining to the former, in that part of Syria called Zobah, 2 Sam. viii 5 Bp Patrick

— when Joab returned, &c See 1 Kings xi 15, 16

Ver 2 Thou hast made the earth to tremble, &c These expressions are figurative, and allude to the convulsions of the state, which had lately happened in the war between the house of Saul and David Street

3 Thou hast shewed &c Thou hast inflicted grievous punishments upon us Bp Patrick

— thou hast made us to drink &c Thou hast filled us with no less horror and trembling, than men who are intoxicated with strong and stupefying drink Poole

4 Thou hast given a banner &c But now, Thou hast granted the desires of Thy faithful servants according to Thy promise, Thou hast united them under me then king, to whom they should all repair as soldiers do to their standard. Bp Patrick, Travell ed; save with thy right hand, and hear me.

6 God hath spoken in his holiness, I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine, Ephraim also is the strength of mine head, Judah is my lawgiver;

8 Moab is my washpot, over Edom will I cast out my shoe Philistia, I triumph thou because of me.

9 Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?

10 Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast us off? and thou, O God, which didst not go out with our armies?

11 Give us help from trouble for vain is the help of man

12 Through God we shall do valiantly for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

¶ Or triumph thou on me [by an irony]
† Heb city of strength Paal 44
9 & 108 11

† Heb salvation

PSALM LXI

1 David fleeth to God upon his former experience 4 He voweth perpetual service unto him, because of his promises

6 — in his holiness,] In His sanctuary Mudge

— I will divide Shechem, &c] The valley of Succoth lay on the east side of Jordan in the tribe of Gad, and so probably did the Shechem here mentioned At this time they both seem to have been in the hand of the enemy, and David declares here that, as soon as he had taken them, he would divide them among his own people Green

7 Gilead is mine, &c] Gilead is on my side and Manasseh is on my side Ephraim is the helmet of my head, Judah is my sceptre In this verse the tribes are mentioned, which would accompany him in this expedition Gilead, as it is here distinguished from Manasseh, must mean the tribe of Gad, which was a very warlike tribe. Ephraim seems to have been fixed upon for his helmet to protect his head, as being the most numerous and warlike tribe Green

— lawgiver,] Or rather, sceptre, the word in the original signifies a ruler's staff, or some emblem of authority Judah was another very warlike tribe The patriarch Jacob conveys his prophecy of him under the image of a lion couching upon a sceptre, whom none dare rouse up, Gen xlix 9, 10 Here David speaks of this tribe as his sceptre, as the support of his crown and royal dignity Green

8 Moab is my washpot, &c] Meaning, I will reduce these my enemies to the vilest servitude I will treat Moab as my washpot, I will use the Edomites as slaves, holding forth my shoes that they may pluck them off Bp Patrick, Poole

— Philistia, triumph thou because of me] That is, receive me as thy conquerour with demonstrations of joy

9 Who will bring me &c] Bozrah the capital of Idumea, or Edom, was a fortified town, situated on a rock, deemed impregnable See Obadiah ver 3 Considering therefore the strength of the adversary, David, by this question, acknowledgeth his own impotency, and the need he had of superiour aid in order to achieve this important conquest Bp Horne

As David in this Psalm celebrates the power and goodness of God, who had assisted His people, and given them the victory over their enemies, so should we learn, that the strength and assistance of man is under all circumstances but vanity, and that there is none but the Lord who can help and deliver us in our distress, and in whom we may safely and perfectly confide Osterwald.

¶ To the chief Musician upon Negmah,
A Psalm of David.

HEAR my cry, O God; attend unto my prayer.

2 From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed lead me to the rock that is higher than I

3 For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy.

4 I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever, I will trust in the covert of thy wings. Selah

5 For thou, O God, hast heard my vows thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy name

6 † Thou wilt prolong the king's life and his years † as many generations

7 He shall abide before God for ever O prepare mercy and truth, which may preserve him

8 So will I sing praise unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

PSALM LXII

1 David professing his confidence in God discourageth his enemies 5 In the same confidence he encourageth the godly 9 No trust is to be put in worldly things 11 Power and mercy belong to God

¶ To the chief Musician, to Jeduthun,
A Psalm of David

148. TRULY my soul † waiteth upon God from him cometh my salvation

Psalm LXII ver 2 From the end of the earth] Meaning, probably, from the remotest part of Judea Merrick

— the rock that is higher than I] Or, the rock which is too high for me, that is, to a place of safety, which, as without I see, I am not able to reach, so there my enemies may not be able to approach me Edwards, Bp Patrick.

• 4 — for ever] As long as I live Dr Wells

5 For thou, O God &c] The "vows" of David, made during his banishment, were heard, and he was restored to the possession of his kingdom, in that land which God had given to His people for an heritage, Bp Horne

6 — and his years as many generations] He thus speaks, partly, because his kingdom was not like Saul's, a matter of one age expiring with his life, but established to him and his descendants; and partly, because Christ, who was to spring from him, should actually in His own person possess the kingdom for ever Poole

7 — O prepare &c] O let Thy goodness and faithfulness ever defend him Bp Patrick

It is a great comfort in all our afflictions and calamities, that He, who is best able to succour and deliver us, is always within the reach of our cry, and though He sits above the cherubim, hears perfectly every groan and prayer we pour out to Him from the lowest dungeon of our prison. Let our enemies cast us as deep as they please into bondage. He will both see and hear us, if we pray to Him with that fervour and devotion with which we ought, and He will interpose some shelter and protection between us and the malice and power of our enemies,

2 He only is my rock and my salvation; he is my † defence; I shall not be greatly moved. † Heb. high place

3 How long will ye imagine mischief against a man? ye shall be slain all of you as a bowing wall shall ye be, and as a tottering fence.

4 They only consult to cast him down from his excellency they delight in lies they bless with their mouth, but they curse † inwardly Selah † Heb. in their inward parts

5 My soul, wait thou only upon God, for my expectation is from him

6 He only is my rock and my salvation he is my defence, I shall not be moved

7 In God is my salvation and my glory the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God

8 I trust in him at all times, ye people, pour out your heart before him God is a refuge for us. Selah

9 Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie to be laid in the balance, they are † altogether † Or, alike lighter than vanity

10 Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery if riches increase, set not your heart upon them † Or, strength Job 34 11 Prov 24 12 Jer 92 19 Ezek 7 27 Matt 16 27 Rom 7 6 2 Cor 5 10 1 ph 6 8 Col 25 1 Pet 1 17 Rev 22 12

11 God hath spoken once, twice have I heard this; that † power belongeth unto God

12 Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy for thou tenderest to every man according to his work till He thinks fit to make our deliverance perfect and complete Lord Clarendon

Psalm LXII — Jeduthun,] See the note on the title of the thirty ninth Psalm

Ver 3 How long will ye imagine &c] The prophet expostulates in this verse with his enemies, for continually plotting against him, and foretels that their destruction will happen suddenly and irremediably, like the downfall of a wall that is in a tottering state, or a stone fence, the parts of which are not cemented together Bp Horne

9 Surely men of low degree &c] A reason is here assigned why we should at all times "trust in God" namely, because there is nothing else in which we can trust, which will not in the end deceive us. Weighed in the "balance of heaven the power of man to save is less than nothing Bp Horne

10—12 Trust not in oppression &c] These three verses are directed to oppressors, not to be too eager after ill-gotten power or riches, nor to place their trust in them, since there are two things confessedly against them, the power and the goodness of God by which He will be able and willing to do justice to all mankind, to protect His friends, and defeat their enemies Madge

The comforts which David had found, he exhorteth others to seek, in faith and prayer, in such a faith, as fixeth itself on God, when the whole world is against it, and such prayer, as poureth forth all the desires of the soul into the bosom of the Almighty. How often, in repeating the Psalms, do we declare, that "God is our refuge," yet how very seldom do we recur to Him, as such, in the hour of temptation! Bp Horne

PSALM LXIII.

1 David's thirst for God & His manner of blessing God 9 His confidence of his enemies' destruction, and his own safety.

A Psalm of David, when he was in the wilderness of Judah

O GOD, thou art my God; early will I seek thee, my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is,

† Heb vary † Heb without water.

2 To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary

3 Because thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee

4 Thus will I bless thee while I live I will lift up my hands in thy name

5 My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness, and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips

6 When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches

7 Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice

8 My soul followeth hard after thee thy right hand upholdeth me.

9 But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth

10 They shall fall by the sword they shall be a portion for foxes

11 But the king shall rejoice in God, every one that sweareth by him shall glory, but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped

† Heb They shall make him run out like water by the hands of the sword

Psalm LXIII In this Psalm the royal prophet, an exile in the wilderness, expresses most elegantly the sentiments of tenderness and love. Bp Lowth

— when he was in the wilderness of Judah ] He went through that wilderness when he fled from Absalom. Dr Wells

Ver 1 — in a dry and thirsty land, ] Probably this should be rendered, as in the Syriack version, "as a dry and thirsty land." Abp Secker, Bp Hare

2 To see thy power &c ] My chief desire is, that I may be restored again to worship Thee before the ark of Thy presence, where Thy glorious Majesty resides among us. Travell

4 — I will lift up &c ] That is, in prayer and thanksgiving to Thy Divine Majesty. Dr Wells

5 My soul shall be satisfied &c ] The greatest desires cannot give so much satisfaction to the hungry, as I shall enjoy from the employment of singing Thy praises. Bp Patrick, Travell

8 — followeth hard after thee &c ] Cleaveth unto Thee. Green

9 — the lower parts of the earth ] That is, the grave. Bp Hall

10 — a portion for foxes ] See note at Judges xv 4

11 — every one that sweareth by him ] That is, every one who invokes His name, worships Him, and makes Him the object of religious reverence and fear, all which is implied in swearing, as an oath is an immediate appeal and solemn act of worship to God. Rosenmüller, Poole, Mervick

So soon as religion gains that hold and that possession of the heart, which it must do to become the means of our salvation, it enters our thoughts very frequently. We "remember God upon our bed, and meditate on Him in the night watches." Would we

PSALM LXIV.

1 David prayeth for deliverance, complaining of his enemies 7 He promiseth himself to see such an evident destruction of his enemies, as the righteous shall rejoice at it

To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David.

HEAR my voice, O God, in my prayer preserve my life from fear of the enemy.

2 Hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked, from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity.

3 Who whet their tongue like a sword, and bend their bows to shoot their arrows, even bitter words

4 That they may shoot in secret at the perfect suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not

5 They encourage themselves in an evil matter they commune of laying snares privily, they say, Who shall see them?

6 They search out iniquities, they accomplish a diligent search both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep 7 But God shall shoot at them with an arrow, suddenly they shall be wounded.

8 So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves all that see them shall flee away

9 And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God, for they shall wisely consider of his doing.

|| Or speech † Heb to hide snare
|| Or we are consumed by that which they have thought searched
† Heb a search searched
† Heb their own
shall be

therefore know whether we have made, or are making, any advances in Christianity or not? These are the marks which will tell us. Do we think more frequently about religion than we used to do? Do we cherish and entertain these thoughts for longer continuance than we did? Do they interest us more than formerly? Do they sink deeper? If we perceive this, then, we perceive a change, upon which we may ground our hopes and expectations, if we perceive it not, we have cause for very afflictive apprehensions, that the power of religion hath not yet visited us, cause for deep and fervent intercession with God for the much wanted succour of His Holy Spirit. Archdeacon Paley

Psalm LXIV This Psalm was most probably composed by David when he was persecuted by Saul and his associates, from whom he begs of God to protect him, and afterwards scotels this a sudden destruction should sooner or later fall upon them. Idem This is one of the Psalms appointed for the service of thanksgiving on the fifth of November

Ver 4 — at the perfect ] David thus calls himself, because he was perfectly innocent of what they laid to his charge. Bp Patrick

— suddenly ] That is, when he is not aware. Green

6. They search out &c.] They are ingenious in devising wickedness, and contriving means of executing their bad purposes

8. So they shall make &c.] They shall cause the mischief of the tongues to fall upon themselves. Green

9. And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God, ] Shall declare the righteous judgments of God, acknowledging it to be His peculiar work of vengeance that befalls them. Dr Hammond

10 The righteous shall be glad in the Lord, and shall trust in him; and all the mighty in heart shall glory

PSALM LXV.

David praiseth God for his grace, & the blessedness of God's chosen by reason of benefits

To the chief Musician, A Psalm and Song of David.

PRAISE † waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion and unto thee shall the vow be performed

2 O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.

3 † Iniquities prevail against me as for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away

4 Blessed is the man whom thou chooseth, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple.

5 By terrible things in righteousness wilt thou answer us, O God of our salvation, who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the sea

6 Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains, being girded with power

7 Which stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people

Diligently to mark, and carefully to treasure up in our minds the special providences of the Almighty, is the way to preserve and nourish our faith and hope in Him it furnishes the grounds of our thankfulness and praise, it stirs up our finest feelings and very best affections towards Him, holy joy, humble reverence, and hearty love, it supports us under all our sufferings, and affords us comfort in all our sorrows Bp. Harn.

Psalm LXV This Psalm is a thankful commemoration of God's mercies and deliverances, written probably on the occasion of His restoring plenty, after the three years' famine, 2 Sam xxi Dr Hammond How graceful and animated is that rich and flourishing picture of nature which is exhibited in this Psalm when the prophet, with a fertility of expression correspondent to the subject, praises the beneficence of the Deity in watering the earth and making it fruitful! Bp. Lowth

Ver 1 Praise waiteth &c] It becomes us, O God, to praise Thee in Thy sanctuary, and to pay the vows which we made unto Thee in the time of our distress Bp. Patrick

4 Blessed is the man &c] How happy is the man whom Thou hast chosen, and called to the privilege of being continually employed in Thy service! they, who enjoy this privilege, have abundant satisfaction in those blessings which are dispensed to them from Thy holy habitation. Trevell

5 By terrible things] "O God of our salvation, Thou in Thy righteousness answerest us by doing awful things Thou art the confidence of the remotest parts of the earth and the sea." By "terrible" or "awful things" are meant the works of God's providence, mentioned in the following verses. Green

8 They also that dwell] The meaning is, that the most distant and barbarous people behold the signs of God's power and goodness with wonder and amazement Trevell

8 They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens; thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening || to rejoice.

9 Thou visitest the earth, and || waterest it. thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it.

10 Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly || thou settlest the furrows thereof † thou makest it soft with showers thou blessest the springing thereof

11 Thou crownest † the year with thy goodness, and thy paths drop fatness

12 They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness. and the little hills † rejoice on every side

13 The pastures are clothed with flocks, the valleys also are covered over with corn, they shout for joy, they also sing

PSALM LXVI.

1 David exhorteth to praise God, 5 to observe his great works, 8 to bless him for his gracious benefits, 12 He voweth for himself religious service to God 16 He declareth God's special goodness to himself

To the chief Musician, A Song or Psalm

MAKE a joyful noise unto God, † all ye lands

2 Sing forth the honour of his name make his praise glorious

— the outgoings &c] The successive courses of the morning and evening, or of the sun and moon, which go forth at those times, thereby making the morning and evening both of which are said to rejoice poetically, because they give men occasion of rejoicing Poole

9 — the river of God,] The clouds, those reservoirs of water which are opened and shut at God's pleasure, are here called "the river of God," by showers from which He refresheth the earth. Green 10 — thou settlest the furrows thereof] See the margin.

11 — and thy paths,] God is here represented as going the circuit of the heavens, as making the clouds His chariot See Job xxii 14 and Psalm civ 9 Dr Kennicott

The happy effects of God's visiting the earth with rain, are valleys covered with corn, verdant meads, and thriving flocks All these ideas, in the prophetic Scriptures, are frequently transferred to the times of refreshment and consolation of peace and fruitfulness, in the church, which breaks forth into joy, in the one case, as the world is always ready to do in the other Manifest and marvellous, O Lord, are Thy works, whether of nature, or of grace, surely in wisdom and lovingkindness hast Thou made them all; the earth in every sense, is full of Thy riches! Bp. Horne

Psalm LXVI This Psalm is a solemn invocation to all the world to celebrate the wonderful works of God, as well in the general course of His providence, as for His miracles in favour of the Israelites Trevell It is introduced in our Forms of Prayer to be used at Sea, as a thanksgiving after a storm.

Ver 2 — make his praise glorious] That is, shew forth His praise with due honour and glory Bp. Hare 8 Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies † submit themselves unto thee.

Or, yield forsook obedience † Heb lie

4 All the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing unto thee, they shall sing to thy name. Selah

5 Come and see the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men

6 He turned the sea into dry land they went through the flood on foot there did we rejoice in him

7 He ruleth by his power for ever, his eyes behold the nations let not the rebellious exalt themselves Selah

8 O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard

† Heb
uttereth

9 Which † holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved

10 For thou, O God, hast proved us thou hast tried us, as silver is tried

11 Thou broughtest us into the net, thou laidst affliction upon our loins

12 Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads, we went through fire and through water but thou broughtest us out into a † wealthy place

† Heb
moist

13 I will go into thy house with burnt offerings I will pay thee my vows,

† Heb
opened

14 Which my lips have † uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble

† Heb
married

15 I will offer unto thee burnt sacrifices of † fatlings, with the incense of rams, I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah

5 — he is terrible &c] Astonishing in the works and counsels of His providence Bp. Patrick

6 He turned the sea &c] The prophet, after inviting men to contemplate "the works of God," sets before them for that purpose two great miracles wrought for Israel, namely, the division of the Red sea, and that of the river Jordan, by the former they escaped Egypt, by the latter they entered Canaan Bp. Horne

9 — suffereth not our feet to be moved] Guards us from falling Merrick

11 — into the net,] That is, into the power of our enemies Dr. Wells

12 Thou hast caused &c] Thou hast caused us to be miserably trampled upon by our scornful enemies, and hast put us to all manner of hard trials but at last Thou hast settled us in a quiet plenty Bp. Hall

15 — with the incense of rams,] With the smoke of the fat of rams

18 If I regard iniquity &c] Inwardly regard and cherish iniquity Bp. Horne

If a virtuous and pious life went to receive no reward and advantage in the next world, it were to be chosen for the very pleasure and comfort it administers to us in this there being no delight equal to that which a man feels from doing well, and consequently no joy worthy to be named with that which possesses a man when he is contemplating the greatness and glory of his Creator, and making due acknowledgments for the blessings and 16 Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.

17 I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.

18 If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me

19 But verily God hath heard me; he hath attended to the voice of my prayer

20 Blessed be God; which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me

PSALM LXVII

1 A prayer for the enlargement of God's kingdom, 5 to the joy of the people, 6 and the increase of God's blessings

¶ To the chief Musician on Neginoth, A Psalm or Song.

GOD be merciful unto us, and bless us, and cause his face to shine † upon us Selah

† Heb
with us

2 That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations

3 Let the people praise thee, O God; let all the people praise thee

4 O let the nations be glad and sing for joy for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and † govern the nations upon earth Selah

† Heb
lead

5 Let the people praise thee, O God, let all the people praise thee

6 Then shall the earth yield her increase, and God, even our own God, shall bless us

7 God shall bless us, and all the ends of the earth shall fear him deliverances he hath received from His divine providence and mercy. Lord Clarendon

•Psalm LXVII This Psalm seems to allude to, or rather to foretel, the incarnation of Christ, and the calling of the Gentiles when all the nations of the earth should partake of the heavenly blessing, and become the servants of the Lord Travell It forms a part of our Evening Service, to be read occasionally after the second lesson, and is also introduced into the Marriage Service

Ver 2. That thy way &c.] The sense of the verse is, Deal so graciously with Thy people Israel, that thereby the Gentiles may be allured to join themselves with them, and to embrace their religion Bp. Patrick, Poole

— thy saving health] Thy salvation Merrick

4 O let the nations &c] A very sufficient cause, surely, is here assigned why the "nations" should "be glad, and sing for joy, upon the erection of Messiah's kingdom in the midst of them, namely, because He would "judge the people righteously," breaking the yoke of the oppressor, and the iron rod of the prince of this world, becoming Himself an advocate in the cause of His church, introducing her into the glorious liberty of the children of God, whose service is perfect freedom, and with a sceptre, around which justice and mercy are wreathed together, "governing the nations upon earth" Bp. Horne

7. — all the ends] The remotest inhabitants. Bp. Wilson Let us with that affection and charity which becomes the scr-

PSALM LXXVIII.

A prayer at the removing of the ark. 4 An exhortation to praise God for his mercies, 7 for his care of the church, 19 for his great works.

To the chief Musician, A Psalm or Song of David.

* Numb
10 35.

† Heb from his

† Heb rejoice with gladness

† Heb in a house

LET God arise, let his enemies be scattered let them also that hate him flee † before him.

2 As smoke is driven away, so drive them away as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish in the presence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad, let them rejoice before God: yea, let them † exceedingly rejoice.

4 Sing unto God, sing praises to his name extol him that rideth upon the heavens by his name JAH, and rejoice before him.

5 A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.

6 God setteth the solitary † in families he bringeth out those which are bound with chains but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou didst march through the wilderness; Sabbath

8 The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God: even Sinai itself was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, didst † send a plentiful rain, whereby thou didst † confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.

10 Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, hast prepared of thy goodness for the poor.

11 The Lord gave the word great was the † company of those that published it.

12 Kings of armies † did flee apace and she that tarried at home divided the spoil.

13 Though ye have lien among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered kings in it, it was white as snow in Salmon.

15 The hill of God is as the hill of Bashan, an high hill as the hill of Bashan.

16 Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God desireth to dwell in, yea, the Lord will dwell in it for ever.

17 The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels the

† Heb shake out † Heb confirm it

† Heb army † Heb did flee
† Heb did

† Or, flee, ye hills

† Or, even many thousands

vants of one Master, and the children of one Father, be indulgent to one another in infirmities, and compassionate to one another in weaknesses. This is the way to make the earth yield her increase, such in increase as God takes delight in, in increase of Christian conversation, of brotherly affection, of knowledge, of humility, of justice and of charity, and of all those graces which will prevail with Him to shower down all temporal blessings in this world, and to afford an assurance of eternal in the world that is to come. Lord, Clarendon

Psalm LXXVIII The occasion of this Psalm was most probably the removing the ark to mount Zion by David, or rather it might be composed soon after that transaction, and with reference to it. In the mystical sense (which is authorized by St Paul, 1 Ph 14 8) it refers to the ascension of Christ into heaven, and His session at the right hand of the Father, with the consequent formation and preservation of His church, and the destruction both of His own enemies and those of the church. But almost every part of this noble poem is involved in an impenetrable darkness. It would otherwise have afforded a singular example of the true sublime, the scattered rays of which, breaking forth with difficulty, through the thick clouds which surround it, we yet behold with a mixture of admiration and pleasure. Bp. Lowth It is appointed to be used on Whit-Sunday.

Ver 2. — JAH.] Or, Jehovah. Strat See the note on Exod vi 3.

6 God setteth the solitary &c.] God provides for those that are destitute, and settles them in comfortable habitations. He releases the miserable captives from slavery, and oppression, but those who are obstinate and rebellious He punishes by want and scarcity. Bp. Patrick Here is an allusion to the deliverance from the Egyptian bondage, and the destruction of the murmurers in the desert which brings in with great ease the full subject of the exodus in the next verse. Bp. Lowth

7. — when thou wentest forth before thy people.] In a pillar of a cloud by day, and of fire by night. Green

8 — the heavens also dropped.] The clouds dropped down water. Green

9 Thou O God, didst send &c.] Didst send plentiful showers to refresh thy inheritance, that is the promised land.

10 — hath dwelt therein.] In thy inheritance.

11 The Lord gave the word.] That is, the joyful news. Bp. Lenth

— great was the company of those that published.] The word for "those that published" is feminine in the original, and points out the women who with music, songs, and dancing celebrated the victories of the Israelites over their enemies, according to the custom of those times. See ver 25 Exod xv 20 1 Sam xviii 6. Parkhurst

12 — and she that tarried &c.] The spoil was so great that the women, who staid at home, had their shares in the division of it. Bp. Hall

13 Though ye have lien &c.] That is, Though you were formerly obscure and oppressed slaves, tied down to the drudgery of brickmaking and pottery in Egypt, you shall now be as glorious as you then were contemptible. Dr Delaney

14 When the Almighty &c.] When the all-powerful God dispersed the hostile kings on your account, ye became as splendid and conspicuous as the bright snow on the top of the lofty hill of Salmon. Travell, and Old Translation

15 The hill of God &c.] The hill of Zion, where God has chosen to fix His sanctuary, though low and barren in comparison of the lofty hill of Bashan, is yet far superiour to it in real eminence and dignity. Travell

16 Why leap ye, ye high hills? Bashan, and the mountains about it, are poetically represented as leaping for joy at Jehovah's presence, and ambitious of His abode upon them, as if there was a rivalry among them which should be honoured with it. Green Or rather, the rendering should be, Why look ye with envy on Zion? Bp. Horne

— this is the hill.] Namely, Zion. Bp. Patrick

17 The chariots of God &c.] Here is declared the majesty and Lord is among them, as at Sinai, in the holy place

* 1 phes 4

b

† 114 b
in the man

18<sup>b</sup> Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive thou hast received gifts † for men; yea, for the rebellious also, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

19 Blessed be the LORD, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. Selah.

20 He that is our God is the God of salvation, and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death

21 But God shall wound the head of his enemies, and the hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his trespasses

22 The LORD said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring my people again from the depths of the sea

|| O:
and

23 That thy foot may be || dipped in the blood of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the same

24 They have seen thy goings, O God, even the goings of my God, my King, in the sanctuary magnificence of Jehovah's appearance on mount Zion as a mighty Conqueror of the enemies of His people, riding upon the cherubim, as in a triumphal chariot, with all the hosts of heaven, as it were, in His retinue Bp Horne

18 Thou hast ascended &c ] Thou, O God, hast now taken possession of Thy holy mountain, and hast given us the victory over our enemies, whom by Thy aid we have carried away captive in great numbers, and have distributed their spoils among the people yea, even among those who have transgressed Thy laws, and Thou, O Lord, shalt now have a fixed habitation in this sacred place So shall Christ hereafter ascend up to heaven, and take possession of His glorious kingdom, having led captive His conquered enemies, sin and death, and there He shall receive those precious gifts and graces of the Spirit, which He shall bestow upon His followers, even upon such as had before violated His laws, and rebelled against Him thus shall the Lord God dwell in their hearts, and make His abode with them, Eph iv 8 Israel

20 — the issues from death ] This should be translated, agreeably to the version of the Seventy, "the passages to death, the ways by which death goes out upon men to destroy them, Dr Hammond, Bp Lowth

22 The Lord said, &c. ] Jehovah had promised to repeat in Israel, by David, His glorious acts, to work as signal victories and deliverances for His people, as He had formerly done in the field of Bashan, and at the Red sea, when they saw their enemies dead at their feet, Bp Horne

24 They have seen thy goings, ] Thy triumphal procession and solemn entry into the sanctuary Abp Secker, Green,

26 — in the Lord, &c. ] The "fountain of Israel" is the same with the "stock or family of Israel" See Isa xlviii 1 The sense of this clause therefore is, "Bless the Lord, ye who are sprung from the stock of Israel Bp Horne

27 There is little Benjamin &c. ] The literal rendering of this verse is, "There is little Benjamin their ruler, the princes of Judah their council, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali. In this enumeration of the tribes of Israel, that were present at the removal of the ark, four only are mentioned, Benjamin and Judah, who dwelt nearest to the city of David, Zebulun and Naphtali, who were farthest distant from it, to shew, as Dr Chandler observes, the unanimity of the whole nation, and of all the tribes far and near, in attending this solemnity, to testify their 25 The singers went before, the players on instruments followed after, among them were the damsels playing with timbrels.

26 Bless ye God in the congregations, even the Lord, || from the fountain of Israel.

|| O
that are of the fountain of Israel
|| Or with their company

27 There is little Benjamin with their ruler, the princes of Judah || and their council, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.

28 Thy God hath commanded thy strength strengthen. O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.

29 Because of thy temple at Jerusalem shall kings bring presents unto thee.

30 Rebuke || the company of spearmen, the multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the people, || till every one submit himself with pieces of silver || scatter thou the people that delight in war.

|| Or the beasts of the reeds.
|| Or, he scattereth

31 Princes shall come out of Egypt, Ethiopia shall soon stretch out her hands unto God.

32 Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth, O sing praises unto the Lord, Selah:

willing acknowledgment of David for their king, and the city of David for their capital and where all the great solemnities of religion should be performed, and their annual festivals continually celebrated. Benjamin, though the youngest tribe, is named first, and called the "ruler, because from that tribe sprang Saul the first king of Israel Upon David's accession to the crown, Judah became the royal tribe, and supported the throne by its counsels Zebulun and Naphtali were tribes of eminent learning and knowledge See Gen xlix 21; Judg. v 14 Bp Horne

28 Thy God hath commanded thy strength ] This is an acknowledgment that all the power and strength of the kingdom of Israel was from God Bp Nicholson

29 Because of thy temple &c ] David foretels, that on the establishment of the church and worship at Jerusalem, the kings of the Gentiles should come, and make their oblations at the temple of God, which happened in his days, and those of his son Solomon, as an earnest and figure of that plenary accession of the kings of the earth to the Church of Christ, which was to take place in the latter days, under the Gospel. See 2 Sam. viii 9—11 1 Kings v 1 x. 1, 24 2 Chron. ix. 23 Isa. lx 3, 6 Matth. ii 21. Rev. xxi 24 Bp Horne.

30 Rebuke the company of spearmen, &c ] This verse literally translated runs thus. "Rebuke the wild beast of the reeds, the congregation of the mighty among the calves of the nations, skipping, or exulting, with pieces of silver, scatter the people that delight in war By the "wild beast of the reeds," is to be understood the Egyptian power, described by its emblem the crocodile, or river-horse, creatures living among the reeds of the Nile The "calves of the nations" signify the objects of worship among the Egyptians, their Apis and Osiris, &c. around which the "congregation of the mighty" assembled. And by their skipping with or "exulting in pieces of silver," may either be meant their dancing at their idolatrous festivals, with the tinkling instruments, called "metra, which might be made of silver, or else it may imply their "glorying in pieces of silver," or in their riches The whole verse is a prayer of the prophet to this effect, that it would please God to bring down and overthrow the strength, the pride, and the idolatry of Egypt, that ancient adversary and oppressor of Israel Bp Horne

31 stretch out her hands unto God ] See the note on Psalm xlv 20

33 To him that rideth upon the heavens of heavens, which were of old; lo, he doth send out his voice, and that a mighty voice.

† Heb give,

|| Or heavens

34 Ascribe ye strength unto God: his excellency is over Israel, and his strength is in the clouds.

35 O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places: the God of Israel is he that giveth strength and power unto his people. Blessed be God.

PSALM LXXIX.

1 David complaineth of his affliction 18 He prayeth for deliverance 22 He devoteth his enemies to destruction 30 He praiseth God with thanksgiving

¶ To the chief Musician upon Shoshannim, A Psalm of David.

SAVE me, O God, for the waters are come in unto my soul.

† Heb the man of depth † Heb depth of waters

2 I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing: I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.

3 I am weary of my crying: my throat is dried: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.

4 They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away.

5 O God, thou knowest my foolishness, and my sins are not hid from thee.

† Heb dullness

6 Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord God of hosts, be ashamed for my sake: let not those that seek thee be confounded for my sake, O God of Israel.

7 Because for thy sake I have borne reproach, shame hath covered my face.

33 — send out his voice,] That is, in thunder. Green. We learn in general from this Psalm, that God has at all times displayed His power in favour of His people, by protecting them against their enemies, and showering down His mercies upon them. This He has done for the Christian church, as well as for the children of Israel: and what is said in this Psalm of the protection God vouchsafed to Zion against the assaults of the neighbouring nations, should convince us that the church shall always subsist, in spite of all the attempts of the world and the devil. Ostervald

Psalm LXXIX. The application of many passages of this Psalm to our Lord, made by Himself and His apostles, as well as the appointment of the whole by the Church to be used on Good Friday, direct us to consider it as highly prophetic of our Saviour's sufferings, and indeed many of the expressions are such as were more literally fulfilled in Jesus Christ than in David, who, both in his sufferings and in his advancement after them to a kingdom, was an eminent type or pattern of our Saviour. Travell, Bp Horne

1 Ver 1 — the waters are come &c.] That is, I am almost overwhelmed with calamities. Dr Wells

4 — restored that &c.] The meaning is, that he was contented

8 I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's children.

9 For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up, and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.

* John 9
17 b Rom 15 9

10 When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.

11 I made sackcloth also my garment, and I became a proverb to them.

12 They that sit in the gate speak against me, and I was the song of the drunkards.

† Heb drinkers of strong drink

13 But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O Lord, in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation.

14 Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.

15 Let not the waterflood overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.

16 Hear me, O Lord, for thy loving-kindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.

17 And hide not thy face from thy servant, for I am in trouble: hear me speedily.

† Heb make haste to hear me

18 Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it: deliver me because of mine enemies.

19 Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee.

20 Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness: and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none, and for comforters, but I found none.

† Heb to lament with me.

rather to part with his own right than to quarrel with them. Bp Patrick

5 O God, thou &c.] Thou, O God, who art privy to my felices, and from whom none of my sins can be concealed, Thou knowest that I never did them any injury. Travell

9 For the zeal &c.] My zeal for Thy honour and service is that which made my enemies endeavour to take away my life, and their blasphemies against Thee moved my indignation as much as if they had been against myself. So was the Lord Christ disowned by His brethren, His zeal for God's glory deeply affected Him, and the reproaches which were levelled against God He felt as if aimed at Himself. Dr Wells, Travell

12 They that sit in the gate.] That is, vain and idle persons, that spent their time in the gates, in which there used to be a confluence of people. Rosenmüller

13 — an acceptable time.] Meaning, a time which he hoped God would think the fittest to shew him favour. Bp Patrick, Travell

— in the truth of thy salvation.] That is, according to the promises which Thou hast made of saving me. Dr Wells

19 — mine adversaries are all before thee.] That is, Thou knowest them thoroughly, and all their injurious and wicked devices. Poole

21 They gave me also gall for my meat, * Matth 27 and in my thirst they gave me vinegar 94 48 to drink
 Mark 15

22 Let their table become a snare be-22 John 19 fore them and that which should have been 29 for their welfare, let it become a trap

23 Let their eyes be darkened, that they 1 Rom 11 see not, and make their loins continually 9 10 to shake.

24 Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them

25 Let † their habitation be desolate, † Heb their palace and † let none dwell in their tents † Heb let there not be a dwelling

26 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten, and they talk to the grief of † Heb thy those whom thou hast wounded wounded

27 Add || iniquity unto their iniquity and || Or let them not come into thy righteousness punish' ment of iniquity

28 Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous

29 But I am poor and sorrowful let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high 30 I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving

31 This also shall please the LORD better than an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs

32 The || humble shall see this, and be || Or glad and your heart shall live that seek meek God

33 For the LORD heareth the poor, and despiseth not his prisoners

21 They gave me &c.] These words, which David spake figuratively of himself, were literally fulfilled in the soldiers' treatment of our Lord while He hung upon the cross. Green — gall.] See the note on Deut xxix 18

— vinegar to drink.] Vinegar, in the East was the ordinary refreshment of a slave or of a wretched prisoner rather than of a prince and vinegar or sour wine, mixed with water, was the common drink of the Roman soldiers. Travell

22 Let their table &c.] Their very feast shall become a trap to them, they that eat at their table shall betray them, and their prosperity shall prove their ruin. Bp Patrick In addition to what has been said on the subject of imprecations, in the note upon Psalm v 10, it may be remarked that thus and the following verses to the twenty-ninth inclusive, are strictly prophetic of the wretched condition of the Jews, after their rejection of the Messiah, and the destruction of their city and temple. See Rom xi 9 10 Travell

26 — they talk to the grief.] Rather, agreeably to the version of the Seventy, "they add to the pain." Bp Hare, Mudge 27 Add iniquity &c.] Thou shalt punish their iniquities by suffering them to add sin to sin, and they shall obstinately refuse to partake of Thy proffered mercy. Travell, Bp Horne

29 — set me up on high.] Put me out of the reach of danger
 Bp Wilson

32 The humble shall see this.] That is, the goodness of God towards me. Travell

33 — his prisoners.] That is, such as are persecuted for His sake. Dr Wills

34 Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and every thing that † moveth † Heb therein. creepeth

35 For God will save Zion, and will build the cities of Judah that they may dwell there, and have it in possession.

36 The seed also of his servants shall inherit it and they that love his name shall dwell therein

PSALM LXX

David soliciteth God to the speedy destruction of the wicked, and preservation of the godly

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David, to bring to remembrance

MAKE haste, O God, to deliver me, 2 1 3 40 make haste † to help me, O LORD 13 &c

2 Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul let them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that de-sue my hurt.

3 Let them be turned back for a reward of their shame that say, Aha, aha

4 Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.

5 But I am poor and needy make haste unto me, O God thou art my help and my deliverer, O LORD, make no tarrying

PSALM LXXI

1 David, in confidence of faith, and experience of God's favour, prayeth both for himself, and against the en-mies of his soul 14 He promiseth constancy 17 He

If we are persecuted without a cause by our enemies, and our persecution be the sharper, for our zeal and affection to God service, and our constancy to our true religion, and made so much the more intolerable by the derision, and scorn, and reproaches we see wickedly and profanely cast upon religion and if all these calamities befall us for other men's sakes, so that we bear the punishment of their faults, and of offences which we have not committed we come the nearer to the sufferings of our Saviour Himself, which is a great honour and glory to us, and if we do manifest His meekness, and humility, and patience, in the bearing of them, thus so far imitating Him as He hath put it into our power to do, we shall be sure of such a reward, it may be, reparation in this world, as shall be more than proportionable to the affliction we have undergone. Lord Clarendon

Psalm LXX The words of this Psalm occur, without any material variations, in Psalm xl ver 13 to the end. The reader therefore referred thither for an explanation. It is thought have been taken by David from the other Psalm, and a little altered, in order to be used by him constantly, during his distress in Absalom's rebellion. Dr Wills — to bring to remembrance.] See the note on the title Psalm xxxviii

Psalm LXXI This Psalm was probably composed by David on occasion of Absalom's rebellion which was a great affliction him in his declining age. Travell It is introduced into our service for the Visitation of the Sick, as the greatest part of it prayeth for perseverance 19 He praiseth God, and promiseth to do it cheerfully

1023
* Psal 31 1

IN thee, O Lord, do I put my trust let me never be put to confusion

2 Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape incline thine ear unto me, and save me

† Heb He thou to me for a rock of ha bitation

3 † Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort thou hast given commandment to save me; for thou art my rock and my fortress

4 Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man

5 For thou art my hope, O Lord God thou art my trust from my youth

6 By thee have I been holden up from the womb thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels my praise shall be continually of thee

7 I am as a wonder unto many, but thou art my strong refuge

8 Let my mouth be filled with thy praise and with thy honour all the day.

9 Cast me not off in the time of old age, forsake me not when my strength faileth.

† Heb He thou to me for a rock of ha
bitation

10 For mine enemies speak against me, and they that lay wait for my soul take counsel together,

11 Saying, God hath forsaken him persecute and take him; for there is none to deliver him

12 O God, be not far from me O my God, make haste for my help

13 Let them be confounded and consumed that are adversaries to my soul, let them be covered with reproach and dishonour that seek my hurt

14 But I will hope continually, and will yet praise thee more and more.

15 My mouth shall shew forth thy righteousness and thy salvation all the day, for I know not the numbers thereof

16 I will go in the strength of the Lord God I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only 17 O God, thou hast taught me from my youth and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works

18 Now also † when I am old and grey † Heb headed, O God, forsake me not, until I have shewed † thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come

19 Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high, who hast done great things O God, who is like unto thee

20 Thou, which hast shewed me great and sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth

21 Thou shalt increase my greatness, and comfort me on every side

22 I will also praise thee † with the psaltery, even thy truth, O my God unto thee will I sing with the harp, O thou Holy One of Israel

23 My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing unto thee, and my soul, which thou hast redeemed

24 My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long for they are confounded, for they are brought unto shame, that seek my hurt

PSALM LXXII

1 David, praying for Solomon, sheweth the goodness and glory of his, in type, and in truth, of Christ's kingdom 18 He blesseth God

¶ A Psalm ¶ for Solomon

¶ On 9

proper for a dying person to express his trust in God, the want of His help, &c. Bp Wilson

Ver 1 In thee, O Lord, &c The promises of salvation are made to those, who, renouncing all confidence in the world, trust in God alone for it. For this reason the Psalmist so often begins his prayer with a declaration of his faith, which is to the soul in affliction, what an anchor is to a ship in distress. Bp
Horne

2 Deliver me of thy righteousness. A second argument here used is the "righteousness" of God, who cannot but be faithful and just to His own gracious word. Bp Horne

7 I am as a wonder unto many. That is, My deplorable mi-series have made many consider me as a prodigy of wretchedness.
Travell

20 Thou, which hast shewed &c Great and numberless as my distresses have been, I have ever found relief from Thy goodness, and I doubt not that Thou wilt again draw me out of this extreme danger, which has brought me to the brink of the grave.
Travell, Bp Patrick

We may learn from hence, 1st, That those who trust in God, are never confounded and that they may betake themselves to Him under all their wants, with a perfect assurance of His help, but that this confidence cannot be well grounded, unless they have the same pious sentiments that David discovers in this Psalm 2dly, As this prince for his comfort and encouragement to praise God, called to mind the favours he had received from Him in time past, so should we preserve the remembrance of the mercies God has vouchsafed us from our youth, and through the whole course of our lives 3dly, It is the duty of those who have been exposed to great afflictions, and whom God has happily delivered to join with this holy prophet in admiring and celebrating His great goodness towards them. Ostervald

Psalm LXXII David seems to have composed this Psalm, on his having appointed Solomon to be his successor. Travell

This Psalm describes, in the most beautiful imagery, and most lively colours, the peaceful glories of the Messiah's future reign, His righteousness, or impartial administration of justice the universal homage and worship to be paid to Him; the perpetuity of His dominion "whose name shall endure for ever," in whom mankind shall be blessed, and whom all nations shall call blessed.

1017

GIVE the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's son

2 He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment.

3 The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the little hills, by righteousness

4 He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor

5 They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations

6 He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass as showers that water the earth

7 In his days shall the righteous flourish, and abundance of peace so long as the moon endureth

8 He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth

9 They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him, and his enemies shall lick the dust

10 The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts

11 Yea, all kings shall fall down before him all nations shall serve him

12 For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth, the poor also, and him that hath no helper

13 He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy

14 He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence, and precious shall their blood be in his sight

15 And he shall live, and to him <sup>† Heb shall be</sup> shall be given of the gold of Sheba <sup>† Heb one shall</sup> prayer also shall be made for him continually, and daily shall he be praised 16 There shall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains, the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.

17 His name <sup>† Heb shall be</sup> shall endure for ever <sup>† Heb shall be</sup> his name shall be continued as long as the sun and men shall be blessed in him all nations shall call him blessed

18 Blessed be the Lord God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things

19 And blessed be his glorious name for ever and let the whole earth be filled with his glory, Amen, and Amen

20 The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended

PSALM LXXIII

1 The prophet, prevailing in a temptation, 2 sheweth the Magnificent predictions, utterly inapplicable to Solomon, but truly characteristic of Christ Dr Hal

In this Psalm there is such a variety and beauty of imagery, such a splendor of diction, such elegance in the composition, that I believe it will be impossible in the whole compass of literature sacred or profane to find such in union of sublimity with sweetness and grace Bp South

Ver 1 Give the king thy judgments ] That is, cau him to govern the kingdom according to Thy precepts Rosenmuller

— the king — the king's son ] The king and the king's son are the same person, a character that belongs to none before Solomon, who was the first prince in Israel that was at the same time king and son of a king Mudge

3 The mountains shall bring, &c ] In other words Peace manifested by its consequence, plenteousness shall be upon the mountains and little hills of Judea, by means of that righteous judgment, which Solomon will execute in the land Bp Horne

5 They shall fear thee, &c ] His righteous administration shall redound to his everlasting honour, and shall gain him the esteem and reverence of his people, through all generations so that he shall be a lively emblem of the great king, Christ Jesus, whose dominion shall endure as long as the world remaineth Travell, Bp Patrick

8 He shall have dominion, &c ] From sea to sea that is, with reference to the Messiah over all the earth

9 They that dwell, &c ] The most barbarous nations shall do him homage, and his enemies shall be constrained to prostrate themselves at his feet with the most abject submission Travell

10 — Tarshish ] For Tarshish see note at 1 Kings x 22

— Sheba — Seba ] For the former, see the note on 1 King x 1 the latter was also probably in Arabia Idrie Consult the map of the world for their probable situations

14 He shall redeem, &c ] He shall rescue them from being ruined either by the deceitful wiles or violent attacks of their enemies, nor shall he to gratify his own ambition be prodigal of their precious lives So shall the Saviour of the world redeem the souls of His people from their most cruel enemies sin and death, and so valuable in His sight shall their blood be, that He shall shed His own for it Bp Patrick, Bp Horne, Travell

16 There shall be an handful, &c ] The country shall be so fruitful in his days, that even a handful of corn, sown upon the lofty hills, shall produce a crop that shall shake with a loud noise like the cedars upon mount Lebanon and the people in the city shall be fruitful and populous, like the innumerable blades of grass in a field, which the Lord hath blessed Such, under the reign of the Messiah, shall be the amazing increase of the word when sown in hearts that before were barren such the astonishing multiplication of citizens in the Christian church Travell Bp Horne

20 The prayers of David, &c ] Meaning perhaps, that this is the end of the first collection of Psalms that was made probably under Solomon, for the service of the temple Michaelis

As most of the things mentioned in this Psalm agree more perfectly to the kingdom of our Lord than to that of Solomon, since Jesus Christ was to be the glorious king who was to bring the most distant people into subjection, whose kingdom was to last to the end of the world, and under whose government men were to enjoy complete happiness, and be filled with the choicest blessings of heaven, we have therefore here the description of our own happiness, which should put into our own mouths the praises with which David concludes this hymn, "Blessed be the Lord God, &c Ostervald

The end of the second Book of Psalms

Psalm LXXIII This Psalm, and several which follow were composed by Asaph, they are chiefly filled with sad and melancholy complaints Travell Who this Asaph was is uncertain Some have thought it was Asaph the singer, who was famous in occasion thereof, the prosperity of the wicked 18 The reward given thereby, diffidence 19 The victory over it, knowledge of God's purpose in destroying of the wicked, and sustaining the righteous

¶ A Psalm of Asaph

TRULY God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart

2 But as for me, my feet were almost gone, my steps had well nigh slipped

3 For I was envious at the foolish when I saw the prosperity of the wicked

4 For there are no bands in their death, but then strength is to them

5 They are not in trouble as other men, neither are they plagued like other men

6 Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain, violence covereth them as a garment

7 Their eyes stand out with fatness, they have more than heart could wish

8 They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression, they speak loftily

9 They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth

10 Therefore his people return hither and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them

11 And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most high?

12 Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world, they increase in riches

13 Verily I have caused my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency

14 For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning

15 If I say, I will speak thus, behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children, 16 When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me, 17 Until I went into the sanctuary of God, then understood I their end, 18 Surely thou didst set them in slippery places, thou castedst them down into destruction

19 How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment they are utterly consumed with terrors

20 As a dream when one awaketh, so, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image

21 Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins

22 So foolish was I, and ignorant, as a beast before thee

23 Nevertheless I am continually with thee, thou hast holden me by my right hand

24 Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterwards receive me to glory

25 Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee

26 My flesh and my heart faileth, but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever

David's days. But it seems more probable that it was Asaph the son of Becher who lived in the days of Hezekiah, 2 Chron xxix 30 Dr Wells

Vers 2 But as for me, &c.] Yet, notwithstanding my conviction of this truth, my faith in the Divine goodness began to stagger, and I was in danger of falling into a state of distrust and infidelity. Travell, Bp Patrick

4 For there are no bands in their death.] They are in no peril of death. Old Translation

6 Therefore pride compasseth them about, &c.] Among men who have not the love of God in their hearts, or His fear before their eyes, pride and oppression are the offspring of worldly prosperity. Bp Horne

— as a chain, &c.] Alluding to the prevailing custom of wearing collars, or chains on their necks. See Cant iv 9 Bp Horne See notes on Job xxix 11

7 Their eyes stand out, &c.] Their very countenance expresses the proud swelling of their hearts, which are puffed up by such a constant state of prosperity, even beyond their own sanguine expectations. Travell

8 They are corrupt, &c.] They are so corrupt, that they mock at the rules of justice, and defy those who would oppose them: they haughtily claim to the selves an exemption from the laws of God and man. Travell

9 They set, &c.] They blaspheme the God of heaven, and calumniate His servants on earth. Green

10 Therefore his people, &c.] Therefore God's people saileth off to them, and from them they reap no small advantage. Green This passage is extremely difficult, according to our old translation, the sense of the ninth and tenth vers's may possibly be. They presume to scan the mysterious ways of Heaven with a much clearness and precision as they affect to display in judging of human affairs. This raises their credit in the opinion of ignorant people, which they are sure to turn to their own advantage. Travell

11—14 — Hon doth God &c.] The whole of this seems to be the reflexion of God's people on the apparent prosperity of the wicked, and the despairing interence they drew from it: it was so contrary to the usual face of things under the Mosaic dispensation, and to all they had been taught to expect, that it tempted them to doubt even the first principles of all religion. Dr Ken- nicott

15 If I say, &c.] But if I persevere in such discourse, and speak like these men, I shall betray the cause of all those who are Thy true children, O God. Travell

17, Until I went, &c.] Until I applied to Thee, by prayer and meditation on Thy word. See P I xvi 13

20 As a dream, &c.] Their prosperity is but as a dream when one awaketh, so, O Lord, when Thou shalt sit to punish them, Thou shalt cause all their glory and prosperity quickly to vanish. Dr Wells

21 — I was pricked in my reins.] I was deeply wounded with disquieting thoughts and tormenting passions, envy, sorrow and anger. Poole

23 Nevertheless I am continually with thee.] Notwithstanding these foolish thoughts, I am under the care of Thy good providence. Bp Patrick

27 For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.

28 But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord God, that I may declare all thy works.

PSALM LXXIV

1 The prophet complaineth of the desolation of the sanctuary. 10 He moveth God to help in consideration of his power, 18 of his reproachful enemies of his children, and of his covenant.

¶ Maschil of Asaph

O GOD, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?

2 Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old; the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed, this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.

3 Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual desolation, even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.

4 Thine enemies roar in the midst of thy congregations, they set up their ensigns for signs.

5 A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees.

6 But now they break down the carved work thereof at once with axes and hammers.

7 They have cast fire into thy sanctuary, they have defiled by casting down the dwelling place of thy name to the ground.

8 They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them together: they have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land.

9 We see not our signs: there is no more any prophet, neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.

10 O God, how long shall the adversary reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever?

11 Why withdrawest thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosom.

12 For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.

13 Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength, thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.

14 Thou brakest the heads of Leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.

15 Thou didst cleave the fountain and the flood: thou driedst up mighty rivers.

16 The day is thine, the night also is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sun.

17 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.

18 Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O Lord, and that the foolish people have blasphemed thy name.

19 O deliver not the soul of thy turtle-dove unto the multitude of the wicked: ford Or,

A Psalm for Asaph to give in instruction

¶ Or tribe

† Heb They have sent the sanctuary
into the fire

27 — thou hast destroyed &c ] Thou hast destroyed those who forsaking Thy service, have devoted themselves to the worship of other gods. Bp Patrick. See the note on Exod xxxiv 16.

This Psalm teaches us how we ought to judge of the prosperity of the wicked and the afflictions of the righteous. We ought never to believe that wicked men, who live in mirth and plenty in this world and who enjoy all their wishes, are truly happy, or that the righteous, because they are afflicted, serve God in vain. Asaph has taught us that to resist this temptation we must meditate upon the word of God and the ways of Providence: then we shall find that the felicity of worldly men is vain, and of short duration, and that they are set in slippery places, from whence they fall suddenly. Outward

Psalm LXXIV. This Psalm was occasioned by the desolation of Jerusalem and the temple and the rest of the country of Judaea made by Nebuchadnezzar, or the Babylonish forces. Dr Wells

Ver 2 — the rod of thine inheritance ] The "tribe" or portion of thine inheritance, as in the margin. Bp Horn. See the note on Jer x 16.

3 — Lift up thy feet &c ] God is represented as having withdrawn Himself, and departed afar off. He is therefore entreated to return without delay to view the long lasting desolations of the once highly favoured city and the ravages made by enemies in the sanctuary. Bp Horn

4 — Thine enemies roar &c ] That is, they send up shouts of triumph in those places where Thy people used to praise Thy name. Bp Patrick

— they set up their ensigns for signs ] They erect their standards in token of victory. Bp Patrick

5 6 — A man was famous &c ] It was formerly thought an employment of much honour, to cut down and prepare trees for the building of Thy holy sanctuary. But now every man thinks himself most deserving, that can do the greatest havoc in Thy temple. Bp Hall

9 — We see not &c ] We see not any token of Thy divine presence with us: nor is there so much as a prophet to give us advice or comfort, or to tell us when these calamities will have an end in Israel.

11 — pluck it out of thy bosom ] That is, exert Thy power again for the destruction of Thy enemies, Israel. The hand when unemployed, was usually inserted in the folds of the garment on the bosom. See note at Ps lxxiv 12.

13 — thou brakest &c ] Thou didst confound the great and mighty enemies of Israel in the Red sea. Bp Hall

— dragons ] See the note on Psalm xlv 19.

14 — Thou brakest the heads &c ] 'Leviathan' stands for Pharaoh, or the Egyptian power, represented by the Egyptian animal, the crocodile. The "heads" of Leviathan are the princes of Egypt, the leaders of the Egyptian armies. And the people inhabiting the wilderness, to whom they were given for a prey, are the wild beasts haunting the deserts. Bp Horn

17 — borders of the earth ] The boundaries of the earth, so that the sea cannot overwhelm them. See Jer v 22 Job xxxviii 8, 11. Rosenmüller

19 — thy turtle-dove ] Thy church, which like a turtle-dove simple, defenceless, solitary, meek, timid, and mournful was in danger of being speedily devoured by her inveterate enemies. Bp Horn

get not the congregation of thy poor for ever

20 Have respect unto the covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty

21 O let not the oppressed return ashamed: let the poor and needy praise thy name

22 Arise, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee daily

23 Forget not the voice of thine enemies: the tumult of those that rise up against thee increaseth continually

† Heb as eneth

PSALM LXXV

1 The prophet praiseth God 2 He promiseth to judge uprightly 4 He rebuketh the proud by consideration of God's providence 9 He praiseth God, and promiseth to execute justice

¶ To the chief Musician, || Al-taschith, A Psalm or Song || of Asaph

† Heb
as eneth
† Asaph

UNTO thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy name is near thy wondrous works declare

2 || When I shall receive the congregation I will judge uprightly

† Or When I shall take a set time

3 The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I bear up the pillars of it Selah

¶ Have respect unto &c.] Have regard unto the promises unto which thou didst enter with thy people: for now the land is full of rapine and cruelty: and every dark corner of it is a den of thieves and murderers. Bp Patrick

This Psalm engages us to make these four principal reflexions: 1 That the Church has been in all ages exposed to persecution, and therefore we ought not to wonder, if the Christian Church has been, and still is sometimes persecuted. 2 That as God to punish the Jews for their abuse of His service suffered them to be led into captivity, for the same reasons He has often delivered His church into the hands of persecutors with a design to try it, and to purify it. 3 When God appears the most provoked with His people, He does not quit for sake them, but always remembers His covenant, and delivers them at last. 4 As the prophet was grieved for the calamities of the Jews, and prayed for their restoration: so Christians ought to be sensibly affected with the misfortunes of the church, and to pray continually for its deliverance and prosperity. Osterwald

Psalm LXXV It is not improbable that this Psalm was composed by Asaph on the destruction of the Assyrian army under Sennacherib. Jewell

Ver 2 When I shall receive &c.] The first verse is spoken by many persons, where the speaker is one, and that one is plainly a ruler, who promises that when he shall have received the congregation, or, as some render it 'when he shall have gotten an appointed, or fit time, or season, that is, when he shall be established in power and authority, at a fit time and place, he will judge uprightly, and introduce a thorough reformation into the kingdom. Bp Horne

3 The earth and all &c.] In this verse seem to be the words of God in answer, that 'Now the time was come for Him to do justice, and therefore the earth melted before Him: this it

4 I said unto the fools, Deal not foolishly: and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn

5 Lift not up your horn on high: speak not with a stiff neck

6 For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south

† Heb
desert

7 But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another

8 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red; it is full of mixture, and he poureth out of the same: but the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them

9 But I will declare for ever, I will sing praises to the God of Jacob 10 All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off, but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

PSALM LXXVI

1 A declaration of God's majesty in the church 11 exhortation to serve him reverently

¶ To the chief Musician on Neginah, A Psalm or Song || of Asaph

† Or † Asaph

IN Judah is God known: his name is great in Israel

2 In Salem also is his tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Zion might well do, as 'He had first set up the pillars of it: it stood firm only by His order: and therefore must be dissolved when He pleased. Mudge Dr Kennicott

4 — Lift not up the horn.] Behave not yourselves so insolently. Bp Wilson

5 Lift not up &c.] For illustrations of this expression, see the note at 1 Sam ii 1. To which may be added with a view to the particular phrase here employed, that 'the crooked manner in which the Abyssinians hold the neck, when this ornament is on their forehead, for fear it should fall forward, seems to agree with what the Psalmist calls speaking with a stiff neck, for it perfectly shews the meaning of speaking with a stiff neck, when you hold the horn on high, or erect, like the horn of an unicorn. Bruce

6 For promotion cometh neither &c.] That is success and advancement come not from any earthly quarter: but from God

8 For in the hand &c.] As the choicest of heavenly blessings are frequently in Scripture represented by the salutary effects of wine, so from the obvious and intoxicating qualities of that liquor, when drunk strong, and in too large a quantity, is borrowed a most tremendous image of the wrath and indignation of Almighty God. Bp Horne

— it is full of mixture.] See the note from Bp Lowth on Isa i 22

This Psalm especially instructs us that it is God who establishes and strengthens kings, and gives peace to their dominions: and that it is the duty of kings and princes, and in general of all magistrates, to exercise justice: to restrain the wicked and the proud, and to protect the innocent. Osterwald

Psalm LXXVI This is a song of triumph on God's deliverance of Jerusalem from a powerful army which threatened the destruction of it, probably the army of Sennacherib. Green

3 I have brake he the arrows of the bow, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Selah

4 Thou art more glorious and excellent than the mountains of prey

5 The stouthearted are spoiled, they have slept their sleep, and none of the men of might have found their hands

6 At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep

7 Thou, even thou, art to be feared, and who may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry?

8 Thou didst cause judgment to be heard from heaven, the earth feared, and was still,

9 When God arose to judgment, to save all the meek of the earth. Selah

10 Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee, the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain

11 Vow, and pay unto the LORD, your God, let all that be round about him bring presents, unto him that ought to be feared

12 He shall cut off the spirit of princes, he is terrible to the kings of the earth

PSALM LXXVII

1 The psalmist sheweth what fierce combat he had with diffidence. 10 The victory which he had by consideration of God's great and gracious works

To the chief Musician, to Jeduthun, A Psalm of Asaph

† He to fear

† Or
in his

Ver 4 — than the mountains of prey ] Mountains often stand for great princes, and this may be a figurative expression for mighty conquerors who ravage the earth

5 The stouthearted &c ] The mighty warriors that came up against Jerusalem are spoiled, and have slept the sleep of death, neither were any of these great champions able to resist the destroying angel. Bp Hall

10 Surely the wrath &c ] From the spite and malice of thine enemies, Thou shalt take occasion to win praise and glory to Thy name, and Thou wilt so restrain their power and tyranny, that they shall do no further injury to Thy people. Bp Hall

11 — the spirit ] The pride. Merrick

• Why are the miraculous exertions of Omnipotence recorded in the Book of Life, but to suggest to us this reflection, that God, and God only, is the proper object of our fear, since neither the wisdom of the wise, nor the power of the mighty, no, not the world itself, can stand a single moment before Him, when once He is angry? Yet we continue to die daily of thousands but those of Heaven. Bp Horne

Psalm LXXVII. This Psalm is of that diversified and unequal kind which ascends from a cool and deliberate opening to a high degree of sublimity. The prophet oppressed with a heavy weight of affliction, displays the extreme dejection and perturbation of his soul, and most elegantly and pathetically describes the conflicts and internal contentions to which he is subjected before he is enabled to rise from the depths of woe to any degree of hope or confidence. In the character of a suppliant he first pours forth his earnest prayers to the God of his hope. He next endeavours

I CRIED unto God with my voice, even unto God with my voice, and he gave ear unto me.

2 In the day of my trouble I sought the LORD, † my sore ran in the night, and † He ceased not, my soul refused to be comforted. <sup>† He</sup> <sup>much</sup>

3 I remembered God, and was troubled. I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah

4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking, I am so troubled that I cannot speak

5 I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times

6 I call to remembrance my song in the night, I commune with mine own heart, and my spirit made diligent search

7 Will the LORD cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?

8 Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promise fail † for evermore? <sup>† He</sup> <sup>to genera</sup> <sup>tion and</sup> <sup>generation</sup>

9 Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? Selah

10 And I said, This is my infirmity, but I will remember the years of the right hand of the most high

11 I will remember the works of the LORD, surely I will remember thy wonders of old

12 I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings

13 Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary, who is so great a God as our God?

14 Thou art the God that doest wonders to mitigate his sorrows by the remembrance of former times, but thus, on the contrary, only seems to aggravate his sufferings, by the comparison of his present adversity with his former happiness. Again, recollecting the different methods by which the Almighty seeks the salvation of His people, appearing frequently to shew upon those "in whom He delighteth," reconsidering also the vast series of mercies which He had bestowed upon His chosen people, the miracles which He had wrought in their favour, in a word the goodness, the holiness, the power of the great Ruler of the universe, with all the ardour of gratitude and affection he bursts forth into a strain of praise and exultation ver 13—19. "In this passage we are at a loss which to admire most, the ease and grace with which the digression is made, the choice of the incidents, the magnificence of the imagery, or the force and clearness of the diction." Bp Lenth

Ver 2 — my sore ran &c ] This is rendered more literally by an ancient Greek version, "my hand was stretched out in the night without intermission." Bps Horne and Lenth

6 I call to remembrance &c ] I called to mind the songs I had composed, in memory of Thy signal mercies, I spent whole nights in silent meditation, and in revolving in my mind what could be the cause, that Thou shouldst forsake Thy people. Travell, Bp Patrick

10 — This is my infirmity &c ] My weakness of faith to entertain such thoughts. Dr Wells, Bp Horne. But I will remember that the power of God endureth for ever 13 Thy way &c ] The meaning is, The methods of Thy providence are just and holy. Bp Patrick, Old Translation thou hast declared thy strength among the people

15 Thou hast with thine arm redeemed thy people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah 16 The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee, they were afraid the depths also were troubled.

17 † The clouds poured out water the skies sent out a sound thine arrows also went abroad

18 The voice of thy thunder was in the heaven the lightnings lightened the world the earth trembled and shook

19 Thy way is in the sea, and thy path in the great waters, and thy footsteps are not known

20 * Thou leddest thy people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron

PSALM LXXVIII

1 An exhortation both to learn and to preach the law of God 9 The story of God's wrath against the incredulous and disobedient 67 The Israelites being rejected God chose Judah, Zion, and David

¶ Maschil of Asaph

GIVE ear, O my people, to my law incline your ears to the words of my mouth

2 * I will open my mouth in a parable I will utter dark sayings of old

3 Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told as 4 We will not hide them from their children, shewing to the generation to come the praises of the Lord, and his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done

5 For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, <sup>b Deut 1 9 & 6</sup> that they should make them known to their children

6 That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born, who should arise and declare them to their children

7 That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments

8 And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation, a generation † that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God <sup>† Heb that c</sup>

9 The children of Ephraim, being armed, <sup>† Heb that c</sup> and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle <sup>† Heb that c</sup>

10 They kept not the covenant of God and refused to walk in his law,

11 And forgot his works, and his wonders that he had shewed them

12 Marvellous things did he in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan

13 He divided the sea, and caused them to pass through, and he made the waters to stand as in heap <sup>† Heb that c</sup>

14 * In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire <sup>† Heb that c</sup>

16 The waters saw thee, &c The waters of the Red sea are here beautifully represented as endued with sensibility, as seeing, feeling, and being confounded, even to the lowest depths, at the presence and power of their great Creator, when He commanded them to open a way, and to form a wall on each side of it, until His people were passed over. Bp Horne

17 — thine arrows That is, thy lightnings, or thunderbolts

18 Thy way is &c God walked before His people through the sea though He left no footsteps of Himself behind Him Mudge

A weak man cannot rightly judge of the actions of a man wiser than himself, of whose views and designs he is not master much less can man judge of the ways of God, to whose counsels he is not admitted, and to whose secrets he is a stranger In complaining, the Psalmist followed the natural impressions of passion and impatience in acknowledging the folly of his complaint he spoke not only the language of grace, but of sense and reason But this good man, being well grounded in religion, was able so far to get the better of his doubts and fears, as to pass a right judgment in his own case, and to call to his assistance the proper reflections

Such the great works of Providence administered for the support and confirmation of his hope and confidence towards God Here then was his comfort, here the cure of all his grief Bp Sherlock

Psalm LXXVIII This Psalm pursues the history of the Israelites from the time of their departure from Egypt to the reign of David, particularizing and illustrating all the leading events The style is simple and uniform, but the structure is poetical, and the sentiments occasionally splendid The historical, or rather chronological, order cannot be said to be exactly preserved throughout for the minute detail of so protracted a series of events could scarcely fail to tire in a work of imagination The Egyptian miracles are introduced in a very happy and elegant digression and may be considered as forming a kind of episode Bp Lenth

Vers 2 — parable See notes at Num b xxiii 7 Job xxvii 1 — dark sayings The original word means, a pointed or obscure saying, such as requires, either for the conception or understanding of it considerable ingenuity Bp Lenth But there is nothing obscure in this Psalm, which contains instructive historical truths Therefore the expression should be rendered "pointed truths" Street

5 — a testimony Or solemn charge Mudge 9 The children of Ephraim &c The history here referred to is that of the Israelites going up contrary to God's command to take possession of the land of Canaan, when they were smitten before their enemies See Deut 1 42 The Ephraimites were here specified, probably, as being the most warlike tribe and as having led on, perhaps, the rest of the tribes to the battle Green

12 — in the field of Zoan In the territories that belong to Zoan, a chief city of Egypt, and the court of Pharaoh where these miraculous works would be so much more noted Bp Hall

<sup>Exod 17</sup> 15 * He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.

<sup>Numb 20</sup> 16. He brought streams also out of the rocks, and caused waters to run down like rivers.

<sup>Psal 105</sup> 41 17 And they sinned yet more against him by provoking the most high in the wilderness.

18 And they tempted God in their heart by asking meat for their souls.

<sup>Numb 11</sup> 19 * They spake against God, they said, Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?

<sup>Exod 17</sup> 20 Behold, he smote the rock, that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed, can he give bread also? can he provide flesh for his people?

<sup>Numb 20</sup> 21 Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth: for they had murmured against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel.

22 Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation.

23 Though he had commanded the clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven;

<sup>Exod 16</sup> 24 * And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.

<sup>John 6 91</sup> 25 || Man did eat angels' food: he sent them meat to the full.

<sup>Or,</sup> 26 He caused an east wind to blow in the heaven, and by his power he brought in the south wind.

27 He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea.

28 And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.

29 So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire;

<sup>Numb 11</sup> 30 They were not estranged from their lust. But while their meat was yet in their mouths, <sup>31</sup> The wrath of God came upon them, and slew the fattest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Israel.

18 [they tempted God &c.] They were not content with the bountiful provision which God had made for them, but murmured against him and demanded meat to satisfy their craving appetite. Dr. Patrick, Travell

21 — a fire was kindled against Jacob. Dr. Patrick, Travell

25 [Man did eat angels' food.] That is, manna, which may be called angels' food, as coming from the throne of heaven, the habitation of angels. Dr. Patrick, Travell Or rather, the rendering should be, as in the margin, "the bread of the mighty," or of great men, that is, the body of the people, lived upon excellent food. Rossmüller.

32 For all this they sinned still, and believed not for his wondrous works.

33 Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years in trouble.

34 When he slew them, then they sought him, and they returned and enquired early after God.

35 And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.

36 Nevertheless they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.

37 For their heart was not right with him, neither were they stedfast in his covenant.

38 But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not; yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.

39 For he remembered that they were but flesh, a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.

40 How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert!

41 Yea, they turned back and tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Israel.

42 They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.

43 How he had wrought his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan.

44 And he turned their rivers into blood, and their floods, that they could not drink.

45 He sent divers sorts of flies among them, which devoured them, and frogs, which destroyed them.

46 He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar, and their labour unto the locust.

47 He destroyed their vine with hail, and their sycamore trees with frost.

48 He gave up then cattle also to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.

49 He cast upon them the fierceness of 70 [They were not estranged from their lust.] They obtained the object of their wishes.

33 [Therefore their days &c.] Therefore He never suffered them to come into the land, but made them wander up and down in the wilderness, to no purpose, and consumed them by various plagues. Travell

41 — and limited the Holy One of Israel. This should be rendered according to several ancient versions, "and provoked the Holy One of Israel." Dimock

49 [He cast upon them &c.] Some of the Egyptian plagues having been specified in the foregoing verses, others of them are here thrown together, and the whole scene is affirmed to have his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by sending evil angels among them,

† Heb 50 † He made a way to his anger, he spared not their soul from death, but gave || their life over to the pestilence, 51 † And smote all the firstborn in Egypt; the chief of ~~their~~ strength in the tabernacles of Ham.

52 But made his own people to go forth like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.

53 And he led them on safely, so that they feared not but the sea † overwhelmed their enemies.

54 And he brought them to the border of his sanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.

55 He cast out the heathen also before them, and † divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies.

57 But turned back, and dealt unfaithfully like their fathers: they were turned aside like a deceitful bow.

58 † For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images.

59 When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel.

60 † So that he forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh, ~~the tent which~~ he placed among men, 61 And delivered his strength into captivity, and his glory into the enemy's hand.

62 He gave his people over also unto the sword, and was wroth with his inheritance.

63 The fire consumed their young men; and their maidens were not † given to marriage.

64 Their priests' fell by the sword, and their widows made no lamentation.

65 Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.

66 And he smote his enemies in the hinder part: he put them to a perpetual reproach.

67 Moreover he refused the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

68 But chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved.

69 And he built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath † established for ever.

70 He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds.

71 † From following the ewes great with young he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

72 So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart, and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

PSALM LXXIX.

1 The psalmist complaineth of the desolation of Jerusalem. 8 He prayeth for deliverance. 13 and promiseth thankfulness.

¶ A Psalm || of Asaph

¶ Or,
for Asaph

69 And he built &c.] On this hill Solomon built Him a stately temple, which was not moveable, like His former habitation, but remained perpetually fixed, like the earth on which it stood. Travell

We cannot exercise our devotions more usefully upon any part of the Old Testament, than upon the history of God's wonderful lovingkindness to, and miraculous deliverances of, His own chosen people, the Jews. There we find all the most heightened acts of power, all the transcendent kindness, and bounty, and affection, which the most exalted imagination of man can suppose possible to result from Divinity itself: and that we find the most inexpressible ingratitude and baseness of spirit, the foulest enormities and transgressions, and the most barefaced contempt of that Power which had preserved and protected them, which the malice of the devil himself can infuse into the heart of man. Again we find, on the one hand the patience and mercy of God intending to be too hard for that malice, checking and restraining this people from hurting themselves, or permitting them to hurt themselves, till they grew sensible of their wickedness, and then delivering them, because, and only because they grew sensible; and on the other hand, a perverseness so strong, and an obstinacy so powerful, an iniquity so proud, that it was too hard for that mercy, and drove them from that; and, in the last place, we find the indignation of God kindled, which could not be quenched without scattering this rebellious nation over the face of the whole earth. Lord Clarendon been a full display of wrath and vengeance, executed upon the oppressors of the Church by "evil angels, agents, or messengers," whether by this expression we understand the material instruments of Divine displeasure, or angels employed as ministers of vengeance, or the actual appearance and ministration of evil spirits, sufficed to torment the wicked in this world, as they certainly will do in the next. Tradition seems to have favoured this last opinion, since the author of the Book of Wisdom describes the Egyptian darkness as a kind of temporary hell, Wisd xvii. Bp Horne

51 — Ham.] The father of the Egyptians. Bp Wilson
54 — this mountain,] Zion, which He took from the Jebusites by the hand of David. Bp Wilson

56 Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God,] St Paul says, with reference to the same transactions, "Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, 1 Cor x 9." These texts do both relate to the same rebellious acts of the Israelites in the wilderness. In the former of them, the Person they tempted is called the Most High God, in the latter, He is called Christ: therefore Christ is the Most High God. Jonas of Nayland

61 — delivered his strength &c.] That is, the ark of the covenant, which was the token of God's power and glory, was delivered up to the Philistines, 1 Sam iv 11, 22 and v. 1. Green

67 — he refused &c.] When the ark was brought back, God did not permit it to be placed again in Shiloh, which was in the tribe of Ephraim, the son of Joseph. Bp. Patrick

O GOD, the heathen are come into thine inheritance, thy holy temple have they defiled, they have laid Jerusalem on heaps

2 The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth

3 Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem, and there was none to bury them

<sup>a</sup> Psal 44 13 4 We are become a reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and derision to them that are round about us

<sup>b</sup> Psal 89 46 5 How long, LORD? wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy jealousy burn like fire?

<sup>c</sup> Jer 10 2 6 Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name

7 For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his dwelling place

<sup>d</sup> Jer 61 9 8 O remember not against us || former iniquities let thy tender mercies speedily pity us for we are brought very low

9 Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name and deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake

10 Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our sight by the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed

11 Let the sighing of the prisoner come

Psalm LXXXIX In this Psalm Asaph complains that the Babylonians had destroyed the city and temple of Jerusalem, and beseeches God to be reconciled to His people, and to punish the blasphemers and cruelties of their idolatrous enemies Green It is one of the Psalms appointed for the fast-service on the thirtieth of January

Ver 8 — let thy tender mercies &c ] I extend Thy compassion to us without delay Travell

10 — let him be known ] Or, make Thyself known Green

11 — those that are appointed to die ] Those whom their enemies have condemned to death Bp Patrick

12 — our neighbours ] "Our neighbours" probably respects the Edomites chiefly See Psalm cxxvii 7 Mudge

— into their bosom ] The Arabs join together the two upper corners of their hijab, a garment like the plaid of the highlanders in Scotland and after having placed them first over one of their shoulders, they then fold the rest of it about their bodies The outer fold serves them frequently instead of an apron, wherein they carry herbs, loaves, corn, &c There seem to be several allusions to this in Scripture, as "rendering sevenfold into their bosom" &c Dr Adam

• Affliction hath then wrought its intended effect, when it hath convinced us of sin, and led us to repentance, when, brought back by it, like the returning prodigal, to the house and presence of our heavenly Father we acknowledge our guilt as the cause of our misery, and entreat forgiveness of the one, in order to obtain a release from the other, not pleading our own merits, but the before thee; according to the greatness of thy power preserve thou those that are appointed to die,

<sup>f</sup> Heb thine arm
<sup>g</sup> Heb reserve the children of death

12 And render unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O LORD

13 So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture will give thee thanks for ever we will shew forth thy praise to all generations

<sup>h</sup> Heb to Generations and in all generations

PSALM LXXX.

1 The psalmist in his prayer complaineth of the miseries of the church 8 God's former favours are turned into judgments 14 He prayeth for deliverance

¶ To the chief Musician upon Shoshannum Eduth, A Psalm || of Asaph

<sup>i</sup> Or for Asaph

GIVE ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock, thou that dwellest between the cherubims, shine forth

2 Before Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh stir up thy strength, and come and save us

<sup>j</sup> Heb come for salvation us

3 Turn us again, O God, and cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved

4 O LORD God of hosts, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?

<sup>k</sup> Heb wilt thou smother?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of tears, and givest them tears to drink in great measure

6 Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours and our enemies laugh among themselves

7 Turn us again, O God of hosts, and mercies of God our Saviour, and the glory of His name L Horn

Psalm LXXX The subject of this Psalm has some resemblance to the former it contains an application to God for help under some grievous affliction, describes the former exaltation of His people, and their present depression, under the beautiful figure of a vine, and concludes with earnest prayer to God for continuance of His goodness Travell

Ver 1 — thou that dwellest &c ] Thou that sittest enthroned above the ark of the covenant, shew us some illustrious token of Thy presence Travell

5 Before Ephraim &c ] God is entreated to go forth, in His strength and His salvation, before the tribes of Israel, as formerly in the wilderness Ephraim, Benjamin, and Manasseh are particularly mentioned, perhaps, because, according to the established order, those three tribes immediately followed the ark as cherubim, the symbols of the Divine presence. See Numb ii 1 24 Bp Horne

13 Turn us again ] Restore us to our former happiness L Patrick

5 Thou feedest &c ] That is, we are in continual sorrow and distress, and have no degree of comfort or refreshment but in lamentation. Dr Hammond

6 Thou makest us &c ] The meaning is, Our neighbours extend among themselves, who shall make the greatest prey of us and we are become the scorn and derision of our enemies Travell Bp Patrick

cause thy face to shine; and we shall be saved

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt, thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it

9 Thou preparodst room before it, and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land

10 The hills were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars 11 She sent out her boughs unto the sea, and her branches unto the river.

12 Why hast thou then broken down her hedges, so that all they which pass by the way do pluck her?

13 The bear out of the wood doth waste it, and the wild beast of the field doth devour it.

14 Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts, look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine, 15 And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madest strong for thyself.

16 It is burned with fire, it is cut down, they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance

17 Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself

18 So will not we go back from thee, quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.

9 Thou hast brought a vine &c] The Psalmist, describing the people of Israel as a vine, has continued the metaphor, and happily drawn it out through a variety of additional circumstances. Among the many beauties of this allegory, not the least graceful is that modesty, with which he enters upon and concludes his subject, making an easy and gradual transition from plain to figurative language, and no less delicately receding back to the plain and unadorned narrative. Bp Lowth

11 She sent out &c] Signifying, that Israel extended its dominion from the Mediterranean sea to the river Euphrates. Dr Wells

13 The bear] By this figure, the Psalmist means to represent the fierce and unrelenting persecutor of the people of Israel. Bp Horne

15 And the vineyard] Even the plant thy branch] The family of David. Bp Horne The people of Israel. Rosenmüller

17 — the man of thy right hand] That is, the people of Israel. Rosenmüller Our prince Mudge The Messiah. Bp Horne Let not the Christian church imagine, that the sufferings complained of in this Psalm relate only to her elder sister. Greater mercies and more excellent gifts should excite in her greater thankfulness, and call forth more excellent virtues, otherwise they will serve only to enhance her account, and multiply her sorrows. If she sin, and fall after the same example of unbelief, she must not think to be distinguished in her punishment, unless by the severity of it. Bp Horne

Psalm LXXXI Throughout this Psalm appears an exquisite

19 Turn us again, O Lord God of hosts, cause thy face to shine, and we shall be saved.

PSALM LXXXI

1 An exhortation to a solemn praising of God 4 God challengeth that duty by reason of his benefits 8 God, exhorting to obedience, complaseth of their disobedience, which profiteth their own hurt

To the chief Musician upon Gittith, 1 Psalm of Asaph

Or Asaph

SING aloud unto God our strength, make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob

2 Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel, the pleasant harp with the psaltery

3 Blow up the trumpet in the new moon, in the time appointed, on our solemn feast day

4 For this was a statute for Israel, and a law of the God of Jacob

5 This he ordained in Joseph for a testimony, when he went out through the land of Egypt, where I heard a language that I understood not

6 I removed his shoulder from the burden, his hands were delivered from the pots

Heb
passed a-way

7 Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee, I answered thee in the secret place of thunder, I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah

Exod 17
6

8 Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee, O Israel, if thou wilt hearken unto me,

Or
strife

9 There shall no strange god be in thee, union of sublimity and sweetness. It is an ode composed for the feast of trumpets, (Levit xxiii 24) in the first new moon of the civil year. The object and end of this poem appears to be an exhortation to obedience from the consideration of the paternal love, the beneficence, and the promises of the Deity, and this is accomplished with wonderful art, elegance, variety, and ingenuity. Bp Lowth

Ver 2 — the timbrel] See the note on Exod xv 20

— the psaltery] See the note on Psalm xxviii 2

3 Blow up the trumpet &c] In the Jewish church notice was given of feasts, jubilees, &c by sound of trumpet. All the new moons, or the beginnings of months, were observed in this manner (see Numb n. 2) but on the September new moon, or first day of the seventh month, of the ecclesiastical year, was kept the great festival, called "the feast of trumpets" (Numb xxxv 1) which, probably, is here intended. Bp Horne

5 This he ordained &c] This feast-day is a charge which He gave to Joseph, when he came out of the land of Egypt, where he heard a language which he understood not. Joseph is here used collectively for the sons of Joseph, or rather for the Israelites, to whom Joseph had been a father in the land of Egypt. Green

6 I removed &c] In this verse God reminds Israel of their redemption, by His mercy and power, from the burdens and drudgery imposed on them in Egypt. Bp Horne

7 Thou calledst &c] That is, when the Egyptians followed after thee into the Red sea, in answer to thy prayers, I confounded them with thunder and lightning from the cloudy pillar. See Exod xiv 24, 25. Green

neither shalt thou worship any strange god

10 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it

11 But my people would not hearken to my voice, and Israel would none of me

12 So I gave them up || unto their own hearts' lust and they walked in their own counsels

13 Oh that my people had hearkened unto me, and Israel had walked in my ways

14 I should soon have subdued their enemies, and turned my hand against their adversaries

15 The haters of the Lord should have || submitted themselves unto him but their time should have endured for ever

16 He should have fed them also † with the finest of the wheat and with honey out of the rock should I have satisfied thee

PSALM LXXXII

1 The psalmist being exhorteth the judges, 5 and removed their sentence & prayeth God to judge

A Psalm of Asaph

GOD standeth in the congregation of the mighty, he judgeth among the gods

2 How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked? Selah

3 † Defend the poor and fatherless do justice to the afflicted and needy

4 Deliver the poor and needy and them out of the hand of the wicked

Act 14
16 Or to the heart of their hearts, or, in their imaginations

On yielded themselves unto obedience † Heb they with the law of which it

Or for Asaph

Deut 17
† Heb Judge Prov 4 11

10 — open thy mouth wide &c ] That is, I will satisfy thy desires, be they ever so large Mudge

15 — their time &c ] That is, the Israelites should have enjoyed a substantial and durable happiness Bp Patrick

16 — honey out of the rock ] See the note on Deut xxxii 13

This Psalm should incite us to pay our praises and our homage to God in a most zealous and solemn manner. A duty this which concerns no less all Christians than it did the Jews for if God bestowed very considerable favours on the Jews by bringing them out of Egypt and giving them His law, He hath done incomparably greater things for us in redeeming us by Jesus Christ His Son, and giving us the knowledge of His Gospel Osterwald

Psalm LXXXII ver 1 God standeth &c ] God is present in the judicial assemblies which He has appointed, and He will call the most powerful magistrates to account. The Hebrew word for gods is often applied to princes and magistrates, as representing, in some degree, the power and majesty of God Travell

2 — accept the persons &c ] That is, overlook the merit of the cause and give sentence according to your respect or affection to the person Pool

5 They know not &c ] They will not study the laws of God, but are blinded by bribes so that the very foundations of the kingdom, which are truth and justice are utterly shaken and confounded Bp Patrick

6 I have said, Ye are gods, ] I have given you my authority, and even put my name upon you, John x 34, 35 Bp Wilson

5 They know not, neither will they understand, they walk on in darkness all the foundations of the earth are † out of course † Heb moved

6 I have said, Ye are gods, and all of you are children of the most high, † John 10 34

7 But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes

8 Arise, O God, judge the earth for thou shalt inherit all nations

PSALM LXXXIII

1 A complaint to God of the enemies' conspiracies 9/4 prayer against them that oppress the church

A Song or Psalm of Asaph

Or for Asaph

KEEP not thou silence, O God hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God

2 For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult and they that hate thee have lifted up the head

3 They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and consulted against thy hidden ones

4 They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation, that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance

5 For they have consulted together with one consent they are confederate against thee † Heb heart

6 The tabernacles of Edon, and the Ishmaelites, of Moab, and the Hagarenes, 7 Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek, the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyre,

7 — and fall like &c ] And ye shall fall, O ye princes like any other man Catkins Rosenmüller Dimock

8 — judge the earth &c ] Vindicate mankind from these unpius judges, for Thou hast the rightful dominion over all nations Travell

All magistrates should derive from this Psalm the instruction that it is their duty to do right to all without respect of persons and especially to protect the weak and innocent when oppressed To this end, they should remember that, although they are now placed above others, yet they must die one day like the rest of mankind, and must then appear before the one Supreme Judge to give an account of all that they have done Osterwald

Psalm LXXXIII Several of the neighbouring nations being gathered together to make war against the Israelites the prophet intreats the Lord in this Psalm, to destroy those nations as He had formerly destroyed the kings that assaulted them for their Greed

Ver 3 — against thy hidden ones ] Hebrew, against thy treasured ones, that is, against those whom Thou judgest in the secret place of Thy tabernacle, or in more plain language against those whom Thou protectest Green

6 The tabernacles &c ] The Idomites and Ishmaelites, who dwell in tents, are engaged in this enterprise, and so are the Moabites, and others descended from Hagar, the mother of Ishmael Bp Patrick

7 Gebal, ] Some place Gebal in Phenicia near Tyre, and others in the mountainous country beyond Jordan Rosenmüller

† Heb they hope to be an arm to the children of Lot Judges 7 22 Judges 4
15 24 8 Assur also is joined with them † they have holpen the children of Lot Selah.

9 Do unto them as unto the Midianites, as to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the brook of Kison

10 Which perished at En-dor they became as dung for the earth

11 Make their nobles like Oreb, and like Zeeb yea, all their princes as Zebah, and as Zalmunna

12 Who said, Let us take to ourselves the houses of God in possession

13 O my God, make them like a wheel, as the stubble before the wind

14 As the fire burneth the wood, and as the flame setteth the mountains on fire,

15 So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storm

16 Fill then faces with shame, that they may seek thy name, O LORD

17 Let them be confounded and troubled for ever, yea, let them be put to shame, and perish

18 That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the most high over all the earth

PSALM LXXXIV

1 The prophet, longing for the communion of the sanctuary, 4 sheweth how blessed they are that dwell therein 8
He prayeth to be restored unto it

8 Assur] The Assyrians Dr Wells

This determines the date of this Psalm to the latter times of the Jewish kingdom, for the other nations here mentioned had molested them before but the Assyrians not till towards the end Dr Wall

12 — the houses of God] That land wherein God was pleased to dwell among the Israelites Bp Patrick

13 — like a wheel] Rather, like the chaff whirled about See Isaiah xvii 13 Bp Lowth Alp Secker

14, 15 As the fire &c] Let their destruction be as sudden and violent as the effect of lightning on the trees of the forest, or as the devouring flame on the parched grass that grows on the mountains Travell

The punishments inflicted by Heaven upon wicked men are primarily intended to humble and convert them If they continue incorrigible under every dispensation of merciful severity, they are at last cut off, and finally destroyed, that others, admonished by their example, may repent, and return, and give glory to God Salutary are the afflictions which bring men and happy the men who are brought by them, to an acknowledgment of "Jehovah our righteousness, our exalted and glorified Redeemer, 'the Most High over all the earth, whom all must acknowledge, and before whom all must appear to be judged, in the great and terrible day Bp. Horne

Psalm LXXXIV It is uncertain to what particular time this beautiful composition relates the author of it, under the figure of an Israelite, deprived of all access to Jerusalem and the sanctuary, laments his banishment from the assemblies of the faithful, describes the happiness of those who are blessed with opportunities of frequenting God's house, and beseeches God to make him a partaker of that happiness Travell.

† To the chief Musician upon Gittith, A Psalm † for the sons of Korah † Or of HOW amiable are thy tabernacles, O LORD of hosts!

2 My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the LORD my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found in house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O LORD of hosts, my King, and my God

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thy house they will be still praising thee Selah

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee, in whose heart are the ways of them

6 Who passing through the valley † of Baca make it a well, the rain also † filleth the pools

7 They go † from strength to strength, † Heb every one of them in Zion, appeareth before God

8 O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer, give ear, O God of Jacob Selah

9 Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed

10 For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand † I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness

11 For the LORD God is a sun and shield

Ver 3 Yea, the sparrow &c] The Psalmist is generally supposed in this verse to lament his unhappiness in being deprived of all access to the tabernacle or temple, a privilege enjoyed even by the birds, who were allowed to build their nests in the neighbourhood of the sanctuary It is evidently the design of this passage to intimate to us that in the house, and at the altar of God a faithful soul findeth freedom from care and sorrow, quiet of mind and gladness of spirit, like a bird that has secured a little mansion, for the reception and education of her young And there is no heart, cindured with sensibility which does not bear its testimony to the exquisite beauty and propriety of this affecting image Bp Horne

— the swallow] Rather the dove Bp Lowth, Merrick 5 — in whose heart &c] The meaning seems to be whose heart is bent on travelling the ways to Thy temple Merrick

6, 7 Who passing &c] After many uncertain conjectures offered by commentators upon the construction of these two verses, it seems impossible for us to attain to any other than a general idea of their true import, which is this, that the Israelites, or some of them, passed in their way to Jerusalem, through a valley that had the name of 'Baca, a noun derived from a verb which signifies to 'weep; that in this valley they were refreshed by plenty of water, that with renewed vigour they proceeded from stage to stage until they presented themselves before God in Zion Bp Horne

9 — of thine anointed] He prays for the king as the person in whom the prosperity of his country was enwrapped he was the 'shield' and protection of it under God See Psalm lxxvii 18 and xlvii 9, Mudge

11 — a sun and shield] A light, a glory, and defence Bp Wilson

- Ps. 10* the LORD will give grace and glory. <sup>a</sup> no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly
- Ps. 2 12* 12 O LORD of hosts, <sup>b</sup> blessed is the man that trusteth in thee

PSALM LXXXV

1 The psalmist, out of the experience of former mercies, prayeth for the continuance thereof. 8 He promisseth to wait thereon, out of confidence of God's goodness

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm || for the sons of Korah

|| Or, well pleased

LORD, thou hast been || favourable unto thy land thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob

Ps. 32 1

2 <sup>a</sup> Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin Selah

|| Or, thou hast turned thine anger from warring hot

3 <sup>a</sup> Thou hast taken away all thy wrath || thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger

4 Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger toward us to cease

5 Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?

6 Wilt thou not revive us again that thy people may rejoice in thee?

7 Shew us thy mercy, O LORD, and grant us thy salvation

8 I will hear what God the LORD will speak for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints but let them not turn again to folly

9 Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him, that glory may dwell in our land

There cannot be a greater resemblance to the joys of heaven in any pleasure or happiness that we can enjoy in this world, than in that tranquillity of mind and conscience which naturally attends and accompanies our fervent devotions to God Almighty, when we have deposited all our wishes with Him, and submitted and resigned all our desires to Him. Nor can there be a more lively representation upon earth of the court and company of heaven, than in the assemblies and congregations of religious and pious men pouring out their prayers, and celebrating the praises of their Creator and Redeemer. Isid. Clarendon

Psalm LXXXV In celebrating the return of the Jews from the Babylonish captivity, the Psalmist is carried by a prophetick impulse to foretell a much greater deliverance by the coming of Christ. Democ. This Psalm is appointed by the Church to be used on Christmas day when we celebrate the deliverance of mankind from the captivity of sin, and the introduction into the world of mercy and truth, righteousness and peace. Travell It is also appointed for the fast service on the thirtieth of January

Ver. 4 Turn us, &c.] This word is frequently used in Scripture the metaphor seems to be taken from a shepherd who drives back the wandering sheep and it is applied both to relief from temporal affliction, and return to the paths of duty

8 I will hear &c.] I will wait with patience for God's answer to my prayers. Bp. Wilson

— to folly.] To wickedness

10 Mercy and truth are met together, righteousness and peace have kissed each other.

11 Truth shall spring out of the earth; and righteousness shall look down from heaven

12 Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good; and our land shall yield her increase.

13 Righteousness shall go before him, and shall set us in the way of his steps

PSALM LXXXVI

1 David strengtheneth his prayer by the conscience of his religion, 5 by the goodness and power of God. 11 He desireth the continuance of former grace. 14 Complaining of the proud he craveth some token of God's goodness

¶ A Prayer of David.

BOW down thine ear, O LORD, hear me for I am poor and needy

2 Preserve my soul, for I am || holy O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee

3 Be merciful unto me, O LORD for I cry unto thee || daily

4 Rejoice the soul of thy servant for unto thee, O LORD, do I lift up my soul

5 <sup>a</sup> For thou, LORD, art good, and ready to forgive, and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee Jos. 2 13

6 Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer, and attend to the voice of my supplications

7 In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee for thou wilt answer me

8 Among the gods there is none like

|| Or, A Prayer, being a Psalm of David

|| Or, one whom thou favourest

|| Or, all the day

10 Mercy and truth &c.] How admirable is this celebrated personification of the Divine attributes! How just, elegant, and splendid does it appear, if applied only according to the literal sense, to the restoration of the Jewish nation from the Babylonish captivity! but if interpreted as relating to that more sacred mystical sense, which is not obscurely shadowed under the ostensible image, it is certainly uncommonly noble and elevated, mysterious and sublime. Bp. Lowth

11 Truth shall spring &c.] See note from Bp. Lowth on Isa. xlv 8

13 Righteousness shall go &c.] That is, Reformation of morals shall precede the establishment of Christ's religion

We learn in this Psalm, that, as God makes men, and sometimes His own people and Church, feel the effects of His wrath for the punishment of their sins, and that the end which He proposes by it is to recover them from their errors, &c. when He sees them humbled to becoming feelings of piety, He is ever ready to receive them again into His favour, and to bestow on them His choicest gifts, both temporal and spiritual. Osterwald

Psalm LXXXVI ver. 2 — holy.] The word here translated "holy," properly signifies, "good," merciful, pious, devoted to the service of God. &c. Bp. Horne

8 Among the gods.] That is, among those who are worshipped in the world as gods. Bp. Patrick

<sup>a</sup> Douc 3 24 unto thee, O LORD; <sup>b</sup> neither are there any works like unto thy works

.9 All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O LORD, and shall glorify thy name

10 For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone

11 Teach me thy way, O LORD, I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.

12 I will praise thee, O LORD my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify thy name for ever more

13 For great is thy mercy toward me, and thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest hell

14 O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men have sought after my soul, and have not set thee before them

15 But thou, O LORD, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth

16 O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me, give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the son of thine handmaid

17 Shew me a token for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed because thou, LORD, hast holpen me, and comforted me

PSALM LXXXVII.

1 The nature and glory of the church 4 The increase, honour, and comfort of the members thereof

¶ A Psalm or Song || for the sons of Korah. || Or of HIS foundation is in the holy mountains

2 The LORD loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob

3 Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God Selah

4 I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon to them that know me: behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia, this man was born there

5 And of Zion it shall be said, This and that man was born in her: and the highest himself shall establish her

6 The LORD shall count, when he writeth up the people, that this man was born there Selah

7 As well the singers as the players on instruments shall be there: all my springs are in thee

PSALM LXXXVIII

A prayer containing a grievous complaint

5 And of Zion &c.] So that of Zion, or the Church it shall be said: This and that man: that is great numbers of men in succession, are born in her: alluding to the number of converts under the Gospel the sons of that Jerusalem, "which is the mother of us all" Bp Horne

6 The Lord shall count &c.] In the Book of Life that register of heaven, kept by God Himself our names are entered: not as born of flesh and blood by the will of man, but as born of water and the Spirit by the will of God, of each person it is written "that he was born there, in the church and city of God" Bp Horne

7 — all my springs &c.] And the burden of the song, thus joyfully sung in praise of Zion, was to be this, "All my springs, or fountains, are in thee: In thee, O Zion, is the fountain of salvation, and from thee are derived all those springs of grace which flow by the Divine appointment, while the world lasts, for the purification and refreshment of mankind upon earth" Bp Horne

If "the Lord loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob, so should we for the prosperity, therefore, of the Church, we and all the world ought to pray: And while we pray, for the Church without lips, let it be our unfeigned endeavour to adorn her by our lives: So shall we make the proper return for the mercies we have received, so shall we draw down more and more of the Divine favour continually upon our king, our country, and ourselves, so shall we convince the world of this great and important truth, that the Christian is the loyal subject, and the Churchman the true patriot" Bp Horne

Psalm LXXXVIII This Psalm is a continued detail of melancholy complaints, on account of some grievous sufferings, under which the Psalmist laboured: The extreme severity of those sufferings, and the strong expressions used in describing them, make the whole of it highly applicable to our blessed Lord: on this account it is appointed by the Church to be read on Good Friday, when we are directed to call to mind His unexampled sorrows both in body and soul, His desertion in the day of trouble: His bitter passion, and most painful death Travell, Bp Horne

1, — the lowest hell.] Extreme dangers, the grave Dr Watts, Green

This prayer should excite those who are in affliction and distress to call upon God for help with profound humility, and firm confidence in His mercy and power, beseeching Him not only to deliver them from the evils which press sore upon them, but, above all, to give them grace to please and obey Him: We ought likewise in our troubles to meditate upon God's infinite goodness, and consider that "He is full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth: This will support us under all our trials, fill us with joy and consolation, and afford us, even in the midst of trouble, reason to praise and bless Him" Ostervald

Psalm LXXXVII This Psalm contains a brief comparison, first, between Zion, the place of God's worship, and all Judea besides, and then between it and all heathen countries Dr Hammond

V. 1 His foundation &c.] That is, Zion is of God's founding: See Isa. xiv. 32 and Psalm cxxxiii. 13 Dr Chandler

2 The Lord loveth &c.] The Lord takes more pleasure to dwell in His tabernacle, and His temple, on Zion, than in all the rest of the land of Judah or Israel Bp Hall

4 I will make mention &c.] The accession of the nations to the church is generally supposed to be here predicted. God declares by His prophet, "I will make mention of, or cause to be remembered, Egypt and Babylon, the old enemies of Israel, to or among them that know Me," that is, in the number of My worshippers; behold, also, Philistia and Tyre with Arabia, these are become Mine, "thus," or each of these, "is born here," that is, in the city of God, they are become children of God, and citizens of Zion. Bp Horne

— Rahab.] Meaning Egypt: The Hebrew word signifies proud, and the name is given to Egypt from the pride and insolence of its princes and inhabitants Parkhurst

— Ethiopia,] Rather, Arabia. Dr Wells. See note at Num. xxi. 1

Or of ¶ A Song or Psalm || for the sons of Korah, to the chief Musician upon Mahalath Leannoth, || Maschil of Heman the Ez-rahitte

Or A Psalm of Heman the Ezrahite
Psalm 124

O LORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee.

2 Let my prayer come before thee incline thine ear unto my cry,

3 For my soul is full of troubles and my life draweth nigh unto the grave

4 I am counted with them that go down into the pit I am as a man that hath no
strength

5 Free among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou rememberest no more and they are cut off || from thy hand

Or 6
thy hand

6 Thou hast hid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deeps

7 Thy wrath hath been hard upon me, and thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves
Selah

8 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance far from me, thou hast made me an abomination unto them, I am shut up, and I cannot come forth

9 Mine eye mourneth by reason of affliction LORD, I have called daily upon thee, I have stretched out my hands unto thee

10 Wilt thou shew wonders to the dead?
shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah

11 Shall thy lovingkindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction?

12 Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?

13 But unto thee have I cried, O LORD, and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee

14 LORD, why castest thou off my soul?
why hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up while I suffer thy terrors I am distracted.

16 Thy fierce wrath goeth over me, thy terrors have cut me off

17 They come round about me || daily || Or || like water, they compassed me about to- || all the d gether

18 Lover and friend hast thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkness

PSALM LXXXIX

1 The psalmist praiseth God for his covenant, 5 for his wonderful power, 10 for the care of his church, 19 for his favour to the kingdom of David 38 Then complaining of contrary events, 46 he expostulateth, prayeth, and blesteth God

¶ || Maschil of Ethan the Ezrahite

Or A Psalm for Ethan the Ezra-hite to give instruction
|| Heb
t. generation and generation

I WILL sing of the mercies of the LORD for ever with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness || to all generations

2 For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens

— Mahalath] See the note to the title of Psalm lxx

— I cannot,] This word means “interchangeably” Dr Wells Or according to others, “to create dejections” to raise a pensive gloom or melancholy in the mind Mudge

— the Ezrahite] That is, a descendant of Zerah the son of Judah Dr Wells

Ver 5 Free among the dead,] This is set at liberty, or dismissed from the world, and separated from all communication with its affairs, as dead bodies are Bp Horne

This alludes to the separation of lepers, who were as much removed from all society as if they were really dead Tanton — whom thou rememberest &c] That is, “whom Thou rememberest no more as living objects of Providence upon earth” in this sense they are “cut off from God’s hand, which held and supported them in life Bp Horne

6 Thou hast laid me &c] Thou hast thrust me down into a deep and dark dungeon which I can compare to nothing but a grave Bp Patrick

10 — shall the dead &c] Shall the dead arise out of their graves and live here among men and celebrate thy praises? Bp Hall

12 — in the land of forgetfulness?] In the grave where all things are forgotten Bp Wilson

13 — prevent thee] Come before Thee Bp Wilson, Old Translation

16 — thy terrors have cut me off] Have overwhelmed me Bp Patrick

As the comforts which true religion affords are the only sure support against the evils and calamities of the world, to which every condition of life is more or less exposed, so the terrors of religion, being very grievous in themselves, exclusive of these comforts, add weight to all our miseries, and are a burden too heavy for a man to sustain But surely there is something monstrous in such terrors! They come not from religion by natural birth for it is much easier to believe that all we see is chance and fortune, and religion itself a vain thing, than to believe that an all-wise and all powerful Being has formed us to be miserable And yet, in fact, this is often the case, we see many rendered unhappy by such fears and jealousies and of all the fears incident to man these are the most fearful, and give us the quickest sense of misery, they are what the Psalmist has here described them to be, “distraction Bp Shewell

Psalm LXXXIX Ethan, speaking in the person of his prince describes his reliance on the faithfulness of God to fulfil His covenant with David, and on the power of God to perform wonders for the deliverance of His people He then represents, that, notwithstanding His covenant with David, and His power to deliver His people, the kingdom of Judah was at that time in great desolation being despoiled of its glory, and delivered into the hands of the Babylonians, and implores the Lord to put an end to its captivity and calamities Green

The glorious things here spoken of David, and of his posterity, are prophetic of the Messiah, and can with strict propriety be applied only to Him on this account the Church has appointed this Psalm to be used on Christmas-day Travell

Ver 2, — Mercy shall be built up &c] That is, God’s mercy and His regard to the truth of His promises, are as fixed and unchangeable as the very heavens themselves Travell, Bp Patrick

<sup>6</sup> <sup>7</sup> <sup>Sam 7</sup> 3 I have made a covenant with my chosen, I have sworn unto David my servant,

† <sup>Heb</sup> 4 Thy seed will I establish for ever, and build up thy throne † to all generations Selah

5 And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O LORD: thy faithfulness also in the congregation of the saints

6 For who in the heaven can be compared unto the LORD? who among the sons of the mighty can be likened unto the LORD?

7 God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him

8 O LORD God of hosts, who is a strong LORD like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee?

9 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them

† <sup>Or</sup> 10 Thou hast broken † Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain, thou hast scattered thine enemies † with thy strong arm

† <sup>Heb</sup> 11 The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine as for the world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them

† <sup>Or</sup> 12 The north and the south thou hast created them Tabor and Hermon shall rejoice in thy name

† <sup>Heb</sup> 13 Thou hast † a mighty arm strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand

† <sup>Or</sup> 14 Justice and judgment are the † habitation of thy throne mercy and truth shall go before thy face

† <sup>Or</sup> 15 Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound they shall walk, O LORD, in the light of thy countenance

16 In thy name shall they rejoice all the day and in thy righteousness shall they be exalted

17 For thou art the glory of their strength and in thy favour our horn shall be exalted

3 I have made a covenant &c.] This covenant God made with David by the prophet Nathan 2 Sam vii 12, &c. The covenant relate to David's seed, and to the establishment of his throne in that seed literally in Solomon for a time spiritually in Christ for ever Bp Horne

6 — the sons of the mighty.] The mighty angels Bp Wilson 8 — or to thy faithfulness &c.] O whose faithfulness is equal to thine? Green

10 Thou hast broken Rahab in pieces.] Thou hast overthrown the proud Egyptian in the Red sea Bp Hall

12 — Tabor and Hermon.] These mountains, the first lying on the west and the second on the east of Judea, are here put for the eastern and western parts of the world. Green

15 Blessed is the people &c.] Blessed are the people, whose ears are moved to the cheerful sound of the sacred trumpets of God in their solemn feasts and sacrifices Bp Hall

18 For the LORD is our defence; and the Holy One of Israel is our king

19 Then thou spakest in vision to thy holy one, and saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty, I have exalted one chosen out of the people

20 I have found David my servant, with my holy oil have I anointed him

21 With whom my hand shall be established mine arm also shall strengthen him

22 The enemy shall not exact upon him, nor the son of wickedness afflict him

23 And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him

24 But my faithfulness, and my mercy, shall be with him and in my name shall his horn be exalted

25 I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the rivers

26 He shall cry unto me Thou art my father, my God, and the rock of my salvation

27 Also I will make him my firstborn, higher than the kings of the earth

28 My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him

29 His seed also will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven

30 If his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments, 31 If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments,

32 Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes

33 Nevertheless my lovingkindness I will not utterly take from him, nor suffer my faithfulness to fail

34 My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips

35 Once have I sworn by my holiness that I will not lie unto David

36 His seed shall endure for ever, and his throne as the sun before me

19 Then thou spakest &c.] Thou spakest by way of vision to Thy holy prophet Samuel and saidst I have ordained to give help and victory unto My people by My strong and mighty champion, David Bp Hall

22 — shall not exact upon him.] shall not subdue him Ro immuller

25 I will set his hand &c.] I will extend his conquests and dominion from the Mediterranean sea to the rivers Tigris and Euphrates Dr Wells

27 Also I will make &c.] I will raise him to the highest dignity among those whom I shall call My sons and I will exalt him above all other kings in the world so that he may be a most eminent type of My Son Christ, the King of kings, and Lord of lords Trappell, Bp Patrick

36 His seed shall endure &c.] His family shall never be extinct, but shall hold the royal dignity as long as the sun shineth p Patrick

37 It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witness in heaven. Scilah

38 But thou hast cast off and abhorred, thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.

39 Thou hast made void the covenant of thy servant: thou hast profaned his crown by casting it to the ground.

40 Thou hast broken down all his hedges, thou hast brought his strong holds to ruin.

41 All that pass by the way spoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.

42 Thou hast set up the right hand of his adversaries, thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.

43 Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battle.

44 Thou hast made his glory to cease, and hast cast his throne down to the ground.

45 The days of his youth hast thou shortened, thou hast covered him with shame. Scilah

46 How long, Lord? wilt thou hide thyself for ever? shall thy wrath burn like fire?

47 Remember how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men in vain?

48 What man is he that liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Scilah

49 Lord, where are thy former loving-kindnesses, which thou swarest unto David in thy truth?

50 Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants, how I do bear in my bosom the reproach of all the mighty people,

39 [Thou hast made void &c.] Thou seemest not to regard the covenant made with Thy faithful servant David but hast permitted the authority of his successors to be profaned, and his crown trodden under foot. Bp Patrick Trarill

47 [Remember how short &c.] O let the natural shortness of my life please Thee for mercy: and do not let it appear as if Thou hadst made man only to be miserable and to die. Trarill

50 [Remember Lord thy promise &c.] The Jews who this Psalm was penned were in a few years the very heathen reproached them for vainly expecting their mighty Deliverer the Messiah whom they said God had promised to David, and out of his loins. Bp Wilson

1 [reproached the footsteps &c.] That is, have pursued the steps of Thine anointed with reviling. Mudge Merrick Or according to the Chaldee: Mocked at the tardy advent of Thy Messiah. Jp Horne

The posterity of David were to enjoy God's favour or be deprived of it as they proved obedient or disobedient to His law. When they became rebellious idolaters and profane, the rod was lifted up and due chastisement inflicted, sometimes by the immediate hand of Heaven: sometimes by the instrumentality of their heathen adversaries. Famine and pestilence, war and captivity were it differed times employed to reclaim backsliding Israel. But still the covenant of God in Christ stood sure: the Jewish nation was preserved through all changes and revolutions: till the Seed came to whom the promise was made, nor was 51 Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O Lord, wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed.

52 Blessed be the Lord for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

PSALM XC

1 Moses setteth forth God's providence, & complaineth of human fragility, 7 divine chastisements, 10 and brevity of life. 12 He prayeth for the knowledge and sensible experience of God's good providence.

1 A Prayer of Moses the man of God.

LORD, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations.

2 Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting thou art God.

3 Thou turnest man to destruction, and sayest, Return, ye children of men.

4 For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday: when it is past, and as a watch in the night.

5 Thou carriest them away as with a flood, they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which groweth up.

6 In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.

7 For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.

8 Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.

9 For all our days are passed away in thy wrath: we spend our years as a tale that is told.

Jerusalem destroyed before the new and spiritual kingdom of Messiah was set up in the earth. Christian community and the individuals that compose them are in like manner corrected and punished for their offences. Nevertheless God's loving-kindness will He not utterly take from us: nor suffer His faithfulness to fail. So I am with you always, says the Father: even unto the end of the world: and the gates of hell shall not prevail against My Church. Matth xvm 20 and xvi 18. Nor will the world be destroyed until Christ come again, and His glorious kingdom be ready to appear. Bp Horne

The end of the third Book of Psalms.

Psalm XC. It has been commonly imagined, that this Psalm was composed by Moses when God shortened the days of the murmuring Israelite in the wilderness. cc Numb xiv. It chiefly refers to the mortal and transitory state of man on earth and is therefore adopted by the Church in the Funeral Service. Trarill

Vers 1 — our dwelling place.] Our place of refuge. Mudge Old Translation

2, 3 — and sayest, Return, &c.] That is, Thou restorest men to life. "For a thousand years &c." that is, though the time of their restoration is remote it is equally certain for a thousand years as to Thee as one day.

4 — a watch in the night.] See the note on 1 God xiv 24.

9 For all our days &c.] For we constantly feel one effect or other of Thine anger, whereby our lives decline exceeding fast. Bp Patrick

10 † The days of our years are three score years and ten, and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow, for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.

11 Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.

12 So teach us to number our days, that we may † apply our hearts unto wisdom.

13 Return, O Lord, how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.

14 O satisfy us early with thy mercy, that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.

15 Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years wherein we have seen evil.

16 Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children.

17 And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us, and establish thou the work of our hands upon us, yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

PSALM XCI

1 The staff of the godly. 9 Their safety. 9 Their habitation. 11 Their servants. 14 Their friend with the effects of them all.

I that dwelleth in the secret place of the most high shall † abide under the shadow of the Almighty.

11 His mouth &c]. But who is there that duly lays to heart the effects of Thy anger, and consider that it is proportioned to our perty or disobedience? Travell. Moses here lament the insensibility of the Israelites under the judgment of God. They saw His wrath sweeping sinners away for their sins, and yet none studied to divert it by fearing Him, as they ought.

1 Return O Lord &c]. Return O Lord, it longeth, from Thy civility against us, and let Thy servant feel Thy gracious pardon. Sp. Patrick. Trevel.

to Let thy work &c]. He prays God to shew them and their posterity the glorious works which heretofore He had executed in behalf of His people, and to shew upon and prosper what they were doing. Mud.

17 And let thy beauty &c]. Let the countenance of the Lord on God smile upon us, and prosper Thou the work of our hands.

This Psalm is remarkable for affording us much useful instruction. First we have the governor of a numerous people sequestered from the management of publick affairs to private meditation, from beholding the present outward appearances to consider the real nature and secret causes of things in the midst of all the splendour and pomp of all the sin and tumult about him, he observes the frailty of human condition, he discerns the providence of God justly ordering all, thus he does not only in the way of wise consideration but of serious devotion moulding his observation into pious acknowledgment and earnest prayers to God. Thus doth that great and good man teach us all (more particularly men of high estate and much business) to find opportunities of withdrawing their thoughts from those things which commonly misuse them, (the cares, the glories, the pleasures of this world) and fixing them upon matters more improvable to devotion, the transitoriness of their condition, and their subject,

2 I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in him will I trust.

3 Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

4 He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.

5 Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day, 6 Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness, nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.

7 A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come nigh thee.

8 Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold, and see the reward of the wicked.

9 Because thou hast made the Lord, which is my refuge, even the most high, thy habitation, 10 There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.

11 For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.

12 They shall bear thee up, in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

tion to God's just providence joining it to these meditations suitable act of adoration due acknowledgments to God and humble prayers. This was his practice, and the greatest encouragement that any man could have, and it should also be our. Dr. Barron

Psalm XCI. The subject of this Psalm is the security the mercies and the reward of piety. If my reader will carefully weigh and consider the nature and dignity of the mercy contained in this Psalm having due respect at the same time to the principle of the mystical allegory, I am persuaded he will agree with me that something of a mystical design is concealed under the literal meaning of it. Without a question the poet personifies the king or high priest perhaps who in the literal sense is the principal character of the poem, meant in reality to represent some greater and nobler person. Sp. Patrick

Ver 1 He that dwelleth &c]. To dwell in the secret place of the Most High, is a figurative expression and signifies no more than to put ourselves under the Divine protection. Greene

Surely he shall deliver &c]. Leaving the former sentence unfinished the Psalmist turns and describes the same person whom he had been describing. He indeed shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, from the destroying pestilence. Sp. Patrick

4—7 He shall cover thee &c]. This imagery is beautiful and diversified, and at the same time unobscuredly solemn and sublime. Sp. Patrick

8 Only with thine eyes &c]. The meaning is that the righteous person all along spoken of himself secure from the judgments of God, should in safety behold the destruction wrought by them upon impudent and notorious sinners. Sp. Patrick

12 lest thou dash &c]. Lest any the slightest harm should befall thee. Sp. Patrick. See the quotation of these words at Matth. 18. 6

13 Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet

14 Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name

15 He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble, I will deliver him, and honour him

16 With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation

PSALM XCII

The prophet exhorteth to praise God for his great works, 6 for his judgments on the wicked, 10 and for his goodness to the righteous

A Psalm or Song for the sabbath day

It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most high

2 To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness every night,

3 Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery, upon the harp with a solemn sound

4 For thou, Lord, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands

5 O Lord, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep

13 Thou shalt tread &c.] The most noxious and venomous creature shall have no power to hurt thee, but thou shalt subdue and trample them under foot. So shall Christ triumph over the dragon that old serpent. Rev. xxi. 1. and He shall make His faithful servants victorious over all the power of the enemy.
Luke x. 19. Travell

—the dragon.] See the notes on Deut. x. viii. Psalm xlv.
10 and Jan. xv. 3

14 Because he hath set &c.] In the former part of the Psalm the prophet spoke in his own person. Here God Himself is plainly introduced as the speaker. Bp Horne —because he hath known my name.] Hath acknowledged My power, and relied on that alone for protection. Bp Patrick, Travell

How much man stands in need of the protection of Heaven, appears from a survey of the dangers to which he is continually exposed. Various are the terrors of the night, manifold the perils of the day: from diseases whose infection makes its progress unobserved, from assaults casualities and accidents, which can neither be foreseen, nor guarded against. The soul has likewise her enemies ready to attack, and surprise her at all hours.
Avarice and ambition are abroad watching for her in the day, while concupiscence like a pestilence, "walketh in darkness." In adversity she is disturbed by terrors, in prosperity still more endangered by pleasures. But Jesus Christ has overcome the world to prevent us from being overcome by it. Bp Horne Psalm XCII. This Psalm was appointed by the Jews to be used constantly on the sabbath day, as it was probably composed by David after God had given him rest from all his enemies.

See 2 Sam. vii. 1. Travell

Ver. 3. —thy name.] The following part of the Psalm shews.

6 A brutish man knoweth not, neither doth a fool understand this 7 When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish, it is that they shall be destroyed for ever

8 ¶ But thou, Lord, art most high for evermore

9 For, lo, thine enemies, O Lord, for, lo, thine enemies shall perish, all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered 10 But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oil

11 Mine eye also shall see my desire on mine enemies, and mine ears shall hear my desire of the wicked that rise up against me

12 The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree:
he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon

13 Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God

14 They shall still bring forth fruit in old age, they shall be fat and flourishing,

15 To shew that the Lord is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him

PSALM XCIII

The majesty, power, and holiness of Christ's kingdom that by God's work here, the Psalmist means His providence in the government of human affairs. Rosenmüller

6 A brutish man — a fool.] He who is ignorant of the true issue of things, and attendeth not to his eternal interest, is in Scripture language the brutish man, and the fool who knoweth not the works, neither understandeth the designs of Heaven. Bp Horne

8 — art most high.] The expression is equivalent to God sitting in heaven, and there overruling all the designs of men to His own glory, and the good of His servants. Mudge 10 But my horn &c.] But as the unicorn, a superior in power and strength to other creatures, so shall my authority be exalted above others, and I shall enjoy a continual course of happiness like one who is newly anointed for the enjoyment of a reign. Travell

—unicorn.] See the note on Psalm xlii. 3

13 Those that be planted &c.] Those who like fruitful trees, are firmly rooted in their obedience to God's laws, shall be sheltered under His protection, and shall grow and increase in His service. Travell

Thanksgiving is the duty and ought to be the delight of a Christian. It is his duty, as being the least return he can make to his great Benefactor: it ought to be his delight, for it is that of angels and will be that of every grateful heart, whether in heaven or on earth. The mercy of God in promising salvation, and His faithfulness in accomplishing it are inexhaustible subjects for morning and evening praises, every triumphant should be strung, and every voice tuned to celebrate them until day and night come to an end. But more especially should this be done on the sabbath day, which, when so employed, affords a lively resemblance of that eternal sabbath to be hereafter kept by the redeemed in the kingdom of God. Bp Horne

THE LORD reigneth, he is clothed with majesty, the LORD is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.

† Heb from thence 2 Thy throne is established of old thou art from everlasting

3 The floods have lifted up, O LORD, the floods have lifted up their voice, the floods lift up their waves

4 The LORD on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea

5 Thy testimonies are very sure holiness becometh thine house, O LORD, for ever † Heb in the
d. g.

PSALM XCIV

1 The prophet calling for justice complaineth of tyranny and impiety 8 He teacheth God's providence 12 He sheweth the blessedness of affliction 16 God is the defender of the afflicted

† Heb God is † Heb here forth
O LORD God, to whom vengeance belongeth, O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, I shew myself

2 Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth render reward to the proud 3 LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?

4 How long shall they utter and speak hard things? and all the workers of iniquity boast themselves?

5 They break in pieces thy people, O LORD, and afflict thine heritage, 6 They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless

* P 10 11
13 7 Yet they say, The LORD shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob regard it

Psalm XCIII ver 1 — clothed with majesty See the second note from Bp Sanderson on Job xxix 14

3 The floods have lifted up, &c The meaning is, Our numerous enemies are risen up against us, and threaten to overwhelm us like a furious storm Travell The rage and clamour of the enemies of God's people is frequently represented by the raging and roaring of the sea Cress

4 The Lord on high &c The King of heaven is stronger than all earthly potentates, and will subdue them under His feet Poole

This Psalm teaches us that God rules with glory and magnificence over all the world that His throne is established in righteousness That His power infinitely exceeds that of all created beings from whence we are to conclude that He will reign for ever for the good and advantage of His people, and of all those who serve Him and submit themselves to Him Ostervald

Psalm XCIV In this prayer, the children of Israel represent to God the sad condition they were reduced to by the cruelty of their enemies whose insolence, impiety, and blasphemies they describe The prophet nevertheless adores the wisdom and goodness of God, in the corrections wherewith He visits men, and foretells the deliverance of the righteous and the destruction of the wicked Ostervald This is one of the Psalms appointed for the first service on the thirtieth of January 8 Understand, ye brutish among the people and ye fools, when will ye be wise?

9 He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye shall he not see? <sup>b I x dms</sup> <sup>1 1 1 1 v</sup> <sup>10 1</sup>

10 He that chastiseth the heathen, shall not be correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he know?

11 The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity <sup>Cor 1</sup> <sup>20</sup>

12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O LORD, and teachest him out of thy law,

13 That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity, until the pit be digged for the wicked

14 For the LORD will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance

15 But judgment shall return unto righteousness and all the upright in heart shall follow it

16 Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity? <sup>† Heb</sup> <sup>1 1 1 1</sup> <sup>† Heb</sup>

17 Unless the LORD had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence

18 When I said, My foot slippeth, thy mercy, O LORD, held me up <sup>Or</sup> <sup>quickerly</sup>

19 In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul

20 Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law?

21 They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood

Ver 1 — shew thyself Appear in the defence of thy oppressed servants Travell

4 — hard things That is insolent malicious, contemptuous and threatening words Poole

12, 13 Blessed is the man &c Since therefore the schemes of the adversary are vain and the counsel of Jehovah shall infallibly stand happy is the man who having learned from the Scriptures of truth the lessons of trust and patience enjoy tranquillity of mind in time of trouble while destruction is preparing for the impudent Bp Horne

15 But judgment shall return &c Although the justice of God may seem to be called in question while the wicked flourish and the pious are afflicted yet shall true righteousness and judgment return at the last and all the upright shall follow God, and justify the ways of His providence Travell, Bp Patrick

17 — my soul &c I had been laid in the grave among the silent dead Bp Nicholson

20 Shall the throne &c Can it be possible, O Lord that thou shouldst till the part of oppression and injustice and have up fellowship with those unrighteous judges who oppress thy servants under the pretence of law and justice Bp Patrick Travell

The man who enjoys the world under a sense of religion and of the power and goodness of God will so use the world as not to abuse it, will look upon the uncertainties of life with the uncon-

22 But the LORD is my defence, and my God is the rock of my refuge

23 And he shall bring upon them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own wickedness, yea, the LORD our God shall cut them off

PSALM XCV

1 An exhortation to praise God 3 for his greatness 6 and for his goodness, 8 and not to tempt him

COME, let us sing unto the LORD let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation

2 Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms

3 For the LORD is a great God, and a great King above all gods

4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth the strength of the hills is his also

5 The sea is his and he made it and his hands formed the dry land

6 O come, let us worship and bow down let us kneel before the LORD our maker

7 For he is our God, and we are the

† Heb present his face

† Heb
In sub-
|| On the heights of the hills are his † Heb He is the seas

ceredness of one who knows he has a much nobler possession of which no one can rob him he will part with his riches without torment he will keep them without anxiety and use them so as to make them a blessing to himself and all around him If the course of the world be disordered and threaten the inhabitants thereof with calamity and distress he will maintain his inward peace knowing that the Lord is King he the earth never so unquiet He will look with pleasure on all the scenes of futurity being well assured that the world that now is, and the world that is to come are in the hands of God These are the comforts which in the multitude of sorrows which surround us will refresh the soul of a religious man whilst they who forget God are spending a wretched life in lamenting over the misfortunes of this world and are ending it to begin a more wretched life in the world that is to come Bp Sherlock

Psalm XCV The author of the Epistle to the Hebrews hath taught us to consider this Psalm as an address to believers under the Gospel and he affirms it to be written by David Heb iv 7 Bp Horne

Vers 1 — above all gods] Above all the powers of heaven and earth Bp Patrick

Vers 4 — the strength of the hills] That is, the loftiest and largest hills Bp Hammond

Vers 6 — let us kneel before the Lord] It is most becoming, on all occasions to express religious feelings of the mind by suitable actions of the body and especially, to kneel before the Lord our Maker when we humbly pour forth to His sacred name the tribute of our prayers and adorations

Vers 7 For he is our God &c] For He is our God we are the people of His pasture and the sheep of His hand, if ye will hear His voice to-day that is if ye will be His obedient people He will continue to be your God Or else the word translated "if" may be rendered in the optative form O that you would hear His voice to-day saying unto you "Harden not &c" However this be what follows to the end of the Psalm is undoubtedly spoken in the person of God Himself Bp Horne

Vers 8, 9 Harden not &c] These verses allude to what passed at people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand To day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness

9 When your fathers tempted me, provoked me, and saw my work

10 Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart and they have not known my ways

11 Unto whom I ware in my wrath that they should not enter into my rest

PSALM XCVI

1 An exhortation to praise God 4 for his greatness 8 for his goodness 11 for his general judgment

SING unto the LORD a new song sing unto the LORD, all the earth

2 Sing unto the LORD, bless his name, shew forth his salvation from day to day

3 Declare his glory among the heathen his wonders among all people

4 For the LORD is great, and greatly to be praised he is to be feared above all gods the place called Massah and Meribah from the people the striving with their God notwithstanding all the mighty work which He had wrought for them before their eyes 1 Cor xii Bp Horne

Vers 9 When your fathers tempted me] See the note on Num xiv 22

Vers 10 — they have not known my ways] They have not acknowledged My power and presence among them Bp Wilson

Vers 11 — into my rest] That is, into the land of Canaan which was a type of heaven Dr Wells

The wisdom and piety of the Church hath appointed this Psalm to be used every day in the beginning of our public morning devotions that there may be an union of all in heart and voice in the acknowledgment of God's mercy It is from not acknowledging it all, or not acknowledging together the superiority of God over all the world and His power and justice of disposing of all things in it that we fall in our humility towards Him and in the exercise of Christian duties towards all men and it is from not enough remembering the magnitude and rebellion of our forefathers and the grievous punishments they underwent for the same the forcing God to reverse His own purpose and compelling Him not to let them see the blessing He intended to them, that we are still so much inclined to murmur at His providence, and undervalue His power Iord Clarendon

Psalm XCVI We learn from 1 Chron xvi that on the removal of the ark to the place purchased for it on mount Zion David delivered this Psalm to be sung in commemoration of God's special presence among them It is a solemn invocation to the people to give glory to God to acknowledge and adore Him Both as the Creator of all things, and the supreme and righteous Judge of the world By common consent of Jews as well as Christians this Psalm is applied to the times of the Messiah Bp Horne Trapp

According to the Greek version, this Psalm was used at the dedication of the second temple, after the return of the Babylonian captivity And it was somewhat altered to accommodate it to that purpose Rosenmüller

Vers 1 — a new song] See note at Ps xxxiii 3

5 For all the gods of the nations are idols but the LORD made the heavens.

6 Honour and majesty are before him strength and beauty are in his sanctuary

7 Give unto the LORD, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and strength

8 Give unto the LORD the glory † due unto his name bring an offering, and come into his courts

9 O worship the LORD || in the beauty of holiness fear before him, all the earth

10 Say among the heathen that <sup>b</sup> the LORD reigneth the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved he shall judge the people righteously

11 Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad, let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof

12 Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice

13 Before the LORD for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth

PSALM XCVII

1 The majesty of God's kingdom 7 The church rejoiceth at God's judgments upon idolaters 10 An exhortation to godliness and gladness

THE LORD reigneth, let the earth rejoice, let the multitude of isles be glad thereof

2 Clouds and darkness are round about 6 Honour and majesty are before him &c.] This expresses, in poetical language the general glory, majesty, and perfection of God

9 — The beauty of holiness.] See the note on Psalm xxix. 2

10—13 Say among the heathen &c.] Nothing can excel in sublimity the noble exultation of universal nature in these verses where the whole minute and manimate creation unite in the praise of their Maker Poetry here seems to assume the highest tone of triumph and exultation, and to revel, if I may so express myself in all the extravagance of joy Bp. Tenison

The exhortations in this Psalm are peculiarly applicable to the times of the Gospel and describe the joy which good men should express when they reflect that the several nations of the world are enlightened with the knowledge of the true God, and His Son Jesus Christ These great privileges engage us to praise the Lord with it rejoicing, to worship Him with fear, humility, and joy and to renew by our obedience, that the Lord does truly reign over us Osterwald

Psalm XCVII In this Psalm the gracious assistance which God affords His servants and the vengeance He takes upon the opposers of His laws, are strongly described under the images of fire and tempest But the Psalm is chiefly applicable to the spiritual reign of Christ, who should overthrow the idolatry of the heathen world subdue all His enemies, and make the spiritual daughters of Judah be glad, because of His judgments Travell Thus end the three following Psalms bear the name of David in the Greek version and it is highly probable that they all come from the same hand as the ninety-sixth Green him righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne

3 A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his enemies round about 4 His lightnings enlightened the world the earth saw, and trembled

5 The hills melted like wax at the presence of the LORD, at the presence of the LORD of the whole earth

6 The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory

7 Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols worship him, all ye gods

8 Zion heard, and was glad, and the daughters of Judah rejoiced because of thy judgments, O LORD

9 For thou, LORD, art high above all the earth thou art exalted far above all gods

10 Ye that love the LORD, hate evil he preserveth the souls of his saints, he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked

11 Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart

12 Rejoice in the LORD, ye righteous, and give thanks || at the remembrance of his holiness

PSALM XCVIII

1 The psalmist exhorteth the Jews and the Gentiles, and all the creatures to praise God

A Psalm

SING unto the LORD a new song, for he hath done marvellous things his

Ver 2 Clouds and darkness &c.] His throne is surrounded by impenetrable obscurity, but every thing that issues from it is dictated by unerring truth and justice Travell

3—5 A fire goeth before him, &c.] The judgments of God and their effects upon the world are here set forth under the usual similitude of lightning and fire from heaven causing the earth to tremble, and mountains to melt and dissolve away Bp. Horne

7 — worship him, all ye gods] Let all the so-called gods whether on earth or in heaven acknowledge and adore His so sovereign authority Bp. Patrick

9 — the daughters of Judah] See note at Psalm lvi. 11

11 Light] That is, life, salvation immortality

This Psalm is not so much a description of God's dominion over the Jews as a prophecy of the dominion of Jesus Christ over all nations The Holy Spirit here describes the effect which the coming of that kingdom would produce and the joy which the faithful would feel when it should be manifested wherefore it principally concerns us to improve those affections of zeal and devotion which are manifest in the divine song We here learn, that the best way of praising God and the true character of His worshippers is to love Him to hate evil and to rejoice in Him continually Osterwald

Psalm XCVIII The prophet transported by the Spirit into the times of the Messiah speaks in this Psalm of the great deliverance, as already effected

There is a great similarity between this Psalm and the ninety-sixth It makes part of our Evening Service, to be read after the last lesson right hand, and his holy arm, hath gotten him the victory

<sup>• Is 52 10</sup> 2 The Lord hath made known his salvation his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen

3 He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God

4 Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all the earth make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise

5 Sing unto the Lord with the harp, with the harp, and the voice of a psalm

6 With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise before the Lord, the King

7 Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof, the world, and they that dwell therein

8 Let the floods clap their hands let the hills be joyful together

<sup>• Ps 96 1</sup> 9 Before the Lord, for he cometh to judge the earth with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity

PSALM XCIX

1 The prophet singing for the freedom of God in Zion, with all by the example of forefathers to worship God at his holy hill

Vers 2 — his righteousness &c ] Meaning God's faithfulness in accomplishing His great promise of sending the Messiah Pool

3 — all the ends ] All the countries Ep Walton

6 — cornet ] Or trumpet is the same word is translated at Exodus xix 16 and other places Parham

Let the sea roar &c ] Call upon the whole creation, animate and inanimate to join the universal chorus the sea, and the land and all the various inhabitants thereof Bp Horne Travell

There is nothing that God expects more from us, nor takes as a greater argument of our gratitude to Him than our signal and cheerful joy upon receiving any great benefit from Him nor is the joy of our heart enough though He sees the full extent of it but He will have such a manifestation of it, that the people may know it as well as He They who would stifle all their joy within their own breast and look upon solemn and public manifestations of it as a mixture of too much vanity in the praising and magnifying God, do not conform themselves to David's precepts, or his example Lord Clarendon

Psalm XCIX ver 1 The Lord reigneth &c ] Admiration, as it ever accompanies so it is frequently the cause of sublimity It produces great and magnificent conceptions and sentiments, and expresses them in language bold and elevated in sentences concise, abrupt and energetic Of which this verse affords a striking instance Bp Lenth

— he sitteth between the cherubims, ] He manifests His presence upon the mercy seat between the cherubim Bp Hall

— let the earth be moved ] Let the earth bow down with fear Travell

4 The king's strength also loveth judgment &c ] Although the strength of our King be infinite yet it is never exerted, but in "righteousness" it is just judgment which are His delight they compose the firm basis of His throne, and direct His whole administration Bp Horne

THE Lord reigneth, let the people tremble he sitteth between the cherubims, let the earth be moved

2 The Lord is great in Zion, and he is high above all the people

3 Let them praise thy great and terrible name, for it is holy

4 The king's strength also loveth judgment, thou dost establish equity, thou executest judgment and righteousness in Jacob

5 Exalt ye the Lord our God, and worship at his footstool, for he is holy

6 Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his name, they called upon the Lord, and he answered them

7 He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar they kept his testimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them

8 Thou answeredst them, O Lord our God thou wast a God that forgavest them, though thou tookest vengeance of their inventions

9 Exalt the Lord our God, and worship at his holy hill, for the Lord our God is holy

PSALM C

1 An exhortation to praise God cheerfully, 3 for his greatness 4 and for his power

5 — worship at his footstool ] Worship before and towards His ark, which is His footstool Dr Hall

6 Moses and Aaron &c ] In confirmation of what he had said that God is holy, he mentions Moses, and Aaron, and Samuel as three of the greatest eminence who were devoted to His service to them He had shewn Himself to be God by very remarkable instances of favour, though at the same time He punished the infidelities of the people Mudge

8 Thou answeredst them &c ] The construction of the verse seems to be this O Lord our God Thou didst hear or answer them, that is, the aforementioned typical mediators, Moses, Aaron, and Samuel, Thou becamest a forbearing God for them, or, at their intercession, and that, "even when punishing, or, when Thou didst begin to punish, the wicked deeds of them that is, not of Moses, Aaron, and Samuel, but of the people, who had transgressed, and for whom they interceded This was the case when Moses interceded for the idolaters, Exodus xxxii 32, Aaron for the schismatics, Numbers xvi 17 and Samuel for the whole nation, 1 Samuel vii 9 Bp Horne

In this Psalm we learn, that it is the duty of those who have the happiness to know God, and to be the subjects of His kingdom, to fear Him, to reverence His Majesty, to worship Him with the profoundest humility, and without ceasing to celebrate His name, which is great, terrible, and holy We also see in this Psalm, that God did formerly deliver the Israelites, when Moses, Aaron, and Samuel called upon Him, and that He also took vengeance on them for their sins, when they offended Him The Jews, that as God is always good, He is also just and has sometimes made men feel the marks of His mercy, and sometimes of His wrath, to engage them to love and fear Him Osterwald

Psalm C This is a solemn invitation to all the world to acknowledge, serve, and praise God, the Creator of all men, the guardian of the people, and the merciful performer of all His thanksgiving.

Or
+ Heb
all the earth

¶ A Psalm of praise

MAKE a joyful noise unto the LORD, + all ye lands

2 Serve the LORD with gladness come before his presence with singing

3 Know ye that the LORD he is God it is he that hath made us, || and not we ourselves, we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture

4 Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise be thankful unto him, and bless his name

5 For the LORD is good his mercy is everlasting, and his truth endureth + to all generations

P S A L M C I

David maketh a vow and profession of godliness

¶ A Psalm of David

I WILL sing of mercy and judgment unto thee, O LORD, will I sing

2 I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way O when wilt thou come unto me?
I will walk within my house with a perfect heart

3 I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes I hate the work of them that turn aside, it shall not cleave to me

4 A froward heart shall depart from me I will not know a wicked person

5 Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off him that hath an high look and a proud heart will not I suffer

6 Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me, he that walketh || in a perfect way, he shall serve me

7 He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight

8 I will early destroy all the wicked of the land, that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD

P S A L M C II

1 The prophet in his prayer maketh a grievous complaint 2 He taketh comfort in the eternity and mercy of God 3 The mercies of God are to be recorded 4 He sustaineth his weakness by the unchangeableness of God

¶ A Prayer || of the afflicted, when he is overwhelmed, and poureth out his complaint before the LORD

HEAR my prayer, O LORD, and let my cry come unto thee

2 Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble, incline thine ear unto me in the day when I call answer me speedily

3 For my days are consumed || like smoke, and my bones are burned as an hearth

4 My heart is smitten, and withered like grass, so that I forget to eat my bread

— it shall not cleave to me] No such corrupt principle shall adhere to my soul, or find a place in my affections. Bp Horne

4 A froward heart] That is, a perverse and stubborn heart Edwards

— I will not know] I will not favour Dr Wells

8 I will early destroy &c] The meaning may be I very morning I will be destroying, &c The Hebrew courts of justice were held in the morning see 2 Sam xv 2 Jer xxi 12 Green Or, the word here rendered "early" may mean soon Merrill Or, "assiduously" Rosenmüller

How noble a declaration was this in a great king! and how worthy the imitation of all the princes of the earth! How noble a manner too was this of publishing declarations to the people, in solemn and sublime hymns to thought God — to musick, and sung with joy and transport through the land, it once vindicating innocence, and propitiating pity! Let this be numbered among the felicities peculiar to David Dr Delaney

Psalm CII This Psalm seems by the thirteenth verse, to have been composed about the time that God had promised a restoration to His people from their captivity in Babylon, namely after a term of seventy years it strongly describes the miseries they suffered during their captivity, and begs God at length to take pity on Jerusalem, and restore it, with the temple to its former glory, for this would be such an illustrious proof of His divinity that it would draw all nations to do Him homage and particularly His attention to this prayer of the poor prisoner should be recorded for His honour to future generations Madoc Penitential sorrow being a principal subject of this Psalm, it is suitable to the service of Ash Wednesday Travell

Ver 3 — as an hearth] Literally, as a firebrand Dr Hall
Old Translation

promised through all generations It is used in the daily service of the Church, as a general acknowledgment of gratitude for the Divine blessings, and as an excitement to the congregation to join in the praise of God Travell

Ver 1 — into his gates] That is, into the gates of His sanctuary Bp Patrick

Instructed by this Psalm, we ought ever to pray that all nations of the world may worship the Lord, and glorify His name and that to this end God would be pleased to make Himself known unto them, and give them the knowledge of His Son, Jesus Christ And, in order to excite ourselves to the duty of praising Him we should consider that He is our Creator, that we are His people, and the sheep of His pasture; that He has heaped abundant favours on us, not only of nature, but of grace and given to His Church the clearest tokens of His goodness and mercy Ostrwald

Psalm CI David here appeals to God for his love of mercy, justice, and integrity, and publishes to the whole world his abhorrence of villainy, treachery, calumny, and pride, and then professes that he would, to the utmost of his power, discountenance and destroy all men of that character, as he would, on the contrary, favour and protect all those that were truly religious and faithful Dr Delaney This is one of the Psalms appointed for the inauguration service of our kings

Ver 2 I will behave &c] That is, wisdom shall guide my footsteps, and not suffer my feet to slide from Thy all-perfect way Merrill

— O when wilt thou come unto me?] When wilt Thou come to protect and assist me? Rosenmüller

3 — of them that turn aside,] Of them who in their counsels and their actions deviate from the Divine law, to serve their own interest Bp Horne

Or, <sup>11</sup> <sup>12</sup> 5 By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my skin.

6 I am like a pelican of the wilderness I am like an owl of the desert.

7 I wail, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top

8 Mine enemies reproach me all the day, and they that are mad against me are sworn against me

9 For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping,

10 Because of thine indignation and thy wrath for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down

Isaiah 10 James 1 10 11 My days are like a shadow that declineth, and I am withered like grass

12 But thou, O Lord, shalt endure for ever, and thy remembrance unto all generations

13 Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion for the time to favour her, yea, the set time, is come

14 For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour the dust thereof

15 So the heathen shall fear the name of the Lord, and all the kings of the earth thy glory

16 When the Lord shall build up Zion, he shall appear in his glory

17 He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer

18 This shall be written for the generation to come and the people which shall be created shall praise the Lord

19 For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary, from heaven did the Lord behold the earth,

20 To hear the groaning of the prisoner, to loose those that are appointed to death, <sup>† Heb the children of death</sup>

21 To declare the name of the Lord in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem,

22 When the people are gathered together, and the kingdoms, to serve the Lord

23 He <sup>† Heb afflicted</sup> weakened my strength in the way, he shortened my days

24 I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days thy years are throughout all generations

25 <sup>† Heb 10</sup> Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth, and the heavens are the work of thy hands

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment, as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed <sup>† Heb stand</sup>

27 But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end

28 The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee

PSALM CIII.

1 An exhortation to bless God for his mercy, 15 and for the constancy thereof

¶ A Psalm of David

BLESS the Lord, O my soul and all that is within me, bless his holy name

2 Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits

3 Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases,

4 Who redeemeth thy life from destruc-

5 By reason &c.] Extremity of sorrow causeth the flesh to waste and the bones to press upon the skin, through which they are ready to force their way Bp Horne

6 I am like &c.] The sorrowful man is naturally desirous of returning from the world, to vent his complaints in solitude and to pass the nights in watchfulness and prayer Bp Horne

7 I wail, &c.] If it is cares and sorrows so disturb me that I cannot sleep Rosenmüller

— as a sparrow alone.] The bird here mentioned seems to be the solitary sparrow, which is thus described in Brooke's Natural History It usually sits alone on the tops of old buildings and tops of churches singing very sweetly, especially in the morning, and is an oriental bird Parkhurst

9 For I have eaten ashes &c.] I am so humbled by my affliction that, like a mournful penitent I lie down among the dust and ashes which mingle themselves with my food, as tears do with my drink Isaac! Bp Patrick

10 — the set time is come.] The time fixed for the continuance of the Babylonish captivity which was seventy years, Jer xxix 10 Green

• 14 — take pleasure in her stones,] That is, bear an affection to her ruins Green — and favour the dust thereof.] Rather, “and compassionate her dust

16 When the Lord &c.] From ver 16 to 22 inclusive, the Psalmist seems to speak prophetically of the Messiah

25 Of old hast thou &c.] The application of this and the following verses to Jesus Christ, in the Epistle to the Hebrews is it once a proof of His Divinity, and of the inspiration of the Psalms. See Heb i 10 Travell

28 The children of thy servants &c.] Whatever may be the fate of the present generation, whether they may live to see the accomplishment of all that has been foretold, or not, yet the word of God standeth sure there shall be always a Church, and an holy seed, to whom the promise shall be made good Bp Horne

If we had a true devotion in our hearts to form and compound our prayers and a fervent motion from our hearts to pour them out, we might reasonably as well as piously believe, that every prayer we so send up to heaven would prove effectual, and being down that from thence to us, for which we pray The Church hath provided an excellent form of devotion and prayer for all men to concur in at the publick service and worship of God and whoever reads and considers that form, will find himself best prepared for his private devotions and may vary profitably transplant expressions from thence into his most private and occasional addresses to the Divine Providence Lord Carendon

Psalm CIII In this Psalm David blesses God for His goodness towards himself and the Israelites, celebrates His great mercy and tender compassion towards His people, and invites all creatures to join with him in praising the name of the Lord Green A peculiar strain of tenderness and beauty pervades this Psalm tion, who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies,

¶ Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things, so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.

6 The Lord executeth righteousness and judgment for all that be oppressed

—7 He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel

8 *The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and †plentiful in mercy.

9 He will not always chide neither will he keep his anger for ever

10 He hath not dealt with us after our sins, nor rewarded us according to our in-iquities.

11 For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.

12 As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.

13 Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him

11 For he knoweth our frame, he remembereth that we are dust

15 As for man, his days are as grass as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth

16 For the wind passeth over it, and † it is gone, and the place thereof shall know it no more.

17 But the mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children.

• 18 <sup>b</sup> To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.

19 The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens, and his kingdom ruleth over all

20 Bless the LORD, ye his angels, I that <sup>+ Heb</sup> excel in strength, that do his command- <sup>mighty in</sup> ments, hearkening unto the voice of his <sup>strength</sup> word

¶ 21 Bless ye the Lord, all ye his hosts, ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure

• 22 Bless the LORD, all his works in all places of his dominion bless the LORD, O my soul.

PSALM CIV

1 *A meditation upon the mighty power, 7 and wonderful providence of God 31 God's glory is eternal 38
The prophet voweth perpetually to praise God*

BLESS the Lord, O my soul O Lord my God, thou art very great, thou art clothed with honour and majesty

2 Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain

3 Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters who maketh the clouds his chariot who walketh upon the wings of the wind

1 * Who maketh his angels spirits, his ministers a flaming fire

Ver. 5.—thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.] That is, as the eagle's vigour is wont to be, after it has renewed its feathers. Dr Hall. The youth of an eagle is so otherwise renewed than by the succession of new feathers to old ones. In like manner the serpent was said by the Romans 'to put off old age when it cast its skin.' Rosenmüller

9 10 He will not always chide &c.] God's chastisements are some of the most eminent proofs of His mercy. They are sent to reclaim us from eternal punishment. They continue not always, but are removed when they have done their work, and while they last, are as nothing in comparison of those heavy stripes which our sins have deserved. By Horne

12 As far as the east doth ] That is, He hath entirely remitted the punishment due to our manifold offences. By Psalm 13 I will as a father &c 7, &c Isa xlii 1.

This is one of the most excellent songs of thanksgiving in the whole Book of Psalms. David here seems affected with the highest strains of devotion, and the most lively sense of gratitude. He here teaches us by his example to bless God, not only with our mouth, but with our whole heart and with all the powers of our soul to cherish the remembrance of all His mercies, and to take delight in rehearsing them, and praising Him continually. The prophet here celebrates particularly the infinite mercy of God, who knowing that we are but dust, bears with us, and does not render to us what our sins deserve, and entertains the same compassion and kindness as a father does for his children. But he teaches us at the same time, that the Divine goodness is displayed only in behalf of those that fear Him and reverence Him, and that His mercy extends only to them that "keep His covenant, and remember His commandments to do them." Oswald.

Psalm CIV. This Psalm demonstrates the glory of the infinite Creator, from the wisdom, beauty, and variety of His works. The poet adorns this noble subject with the clearest and most splendid colouring of language, and with imagery the most magnificent, lively, diversified, and pleasing, at the same time clear, and happily adapted to the subject. There is nothing of the kind extant indeed, nothing can be conceived more perfect than this hymn, whether it be considered with respect to its intrinsic beauties, or as a model of that species of composition. Miraculous exertions of the Divine power have something in them which at first strikes the inattentive mind with a strong sentiment of sublimity and awe; but the true subject of praise, the most worthy of God, and the best adapted to impress upon the heart of man a fervent and permanent sense of piety, is drawn from the contemplation of His power in the creation of this boundless universe, His wisdom in arranging and adorning it, His providence in sustaining it, and His mercy in the regulation of its minutest parts, and in ordering, and directing the affairs of men.

Ep Lenth. The similitude between the natural and spiritual creation may, perhaps point out the reason why the Church hath appointed this Psalm to be used on Whit Sunday. Ep Horn. In most of the old versions this Psalm is attributed to David.

Ver 2 — like a curtain ] Or, as a canopy Mudge As the curtain of a pavilion, or tent

3 Who layeth &c.] That is, the clouds make the flooring of His heavens. Mudge :

— u ho maketh the louds his chariot ] See the note on Deut xxxiii 26

4 Who maketh his angels &c. } From the manner in which these words are introduced, and the place where they stand one

† Heb. He hath founded the earth upon her bases

3 † Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever

6, Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a garment the waters stood above the mountains

7 At thy rebuke they fled, at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away

‡ Or The mountains shall be dissolved

8 ‡ They go up by the mountains, they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.

9 Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over, that they turn not again to cover the earth

† Heb. Who sendeth the winds

10 † He sendeth the winds into the valleys, which † run among the hills

† Heb. break

11 They give drink to every beast of the field the wild asses † quench their thirst

† Heb. in a voice

12 By them shall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which † sing among the branches

13 He watereth the hills from his chambers the earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works

14 He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man that he may bring forth food out of the earth,

† Judg. 9 † Heb. to make his face shine with oil or more than

15 And † wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and † oil to make his face to shine, and bread which strengtheneth man's heart

16 The trees of the LORD are full of sap, the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted,

17 Where the birds make their nests as for the stork, the fir trees are her house

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats, and the rocks for the conies should conceive the meaning of them to be that God employs the elements of air and fire, the winds and the lightnings, as His messengers and ministers to execute His commands upon the earth. But the Apostle, Heb. i. 7 informs us that they have a further reference to immaterial angels either because those angels often appeared in the likeness, or because they were endued with the properties, of wind and flame. Intellectual beings of the highest order in the realms above are as ready to fulfil the word of Jehovah, as are the elements of this lower world. Bp Horne

5 — that it should not &c.] These words do by no means imply that the earth is stationary, or that it is eternal but only that it is so constructed as to answer the end, and to last the time for which it was created. Bp Horne

7 At thy rebuke.] At Thy omnipotent word. Bp Patrick

8 They go up &c.] Rather They go up mountains, they go down valleys to the places Thou hast appointed for them. Edwards

15 — and oil to make.] See the note on Psalm xiii. 5

17 — as for the stork &c.] The storks breed plentifully in Barbary every summer. They make their nests with dry twigs of trees, which they place upon the highest part of old ruins or houses in the canals of ancient aqueducts and frequently (so familiar they are by being never molested) upon the very tops of 19 He appointed the moon for seasons the sun knoweth his going down.

20 Thou makest darkness, and it is night wherein † all the beasts of the forest do creep forth

† Heb. all the beasts thereof do trample on the snow

21 The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat from God

22 The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.

23 Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labour until the evening

24 O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all the earth is full of thy riches

25 So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts

26 There go the ships there is that Leviathan, whom thou hast † made to play therein

† Heb. formed

27 These wait all upon thee, that thou mayest give them their meat in due season. 1. sal. 14

28 That thou givest them they gather thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good

29 Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust

30 Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created and thou renewest the face of the earth

31 The glory of the LORD † shall endure for ever the LORD shall rejoice in his works. † Heb. shall be

32 He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth he toucheth the hills, and they smoke

33 I will sing unto the LORD as long as their mosques and dwelling-houses. The fir and other trees likewise (when these are wanting) "are a dwelling for the stork" Dr Shaw

18 The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats,] See the note on Job xxxix. 1 — for the conies] See notes on Levit. xi. 5 Prov. xxx. 26

19 He appointed the moon for seasons.] The greatest part of the Jewish feasts, as the new moon, the passover, the pentecost &c. were governed by the moon. Dimock

26 — Leviathan,] This word, which in Job xii. signifies the crocodile, and in Psalm lxxiv. 14 is used allegorically for the Egyptians and in Is. xxvii. 1 for other mighty oppressors of God's church, appears to be used in this place for a whale, or large fish of the cetaceous kind. Parkhurst

30 Thou sendest forth thy spirit, &c.] That Spirit of Thine which moved, at the first, upon the face of the waters is still sent forth by Thee, for the renewing of those several creatures, whose daily mortality requires the supply of a continual succession and propagation. Bp Hall

32 He looketh on the earth, &c.] At His presence the very earth trembles, and the mountains, as our fathers saw at mount Sinai, are full of fire and smoke. Bp Patrick

Since the works of the creation are all of them so many &c.]

I live I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.

34 My meditation of him shall be sweet I will be glad in the LORD

35 Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more.
Bless thou the LORD, O my soul Praise ye
the LORD

PSALM CV

1 An exhortation to praise God, and to seek out his works.
7 The story of God's providence over Abraham, 16 over Joseph, 23 over Jacob in Egypt, 26 over Moses, delivering the Israelites, 37 over the Israelites brought out of Egypt, fed in the wilderness, and planted in Canaan

O <sup>a</sup> GIVE thanks unto the LORD, call upon his name make known his deeds among the people.

2 Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him talk ye of all his wondrous works

3 Glory ye in his holy name let the heart of them rejoice that seek the LORD

4 Seek the LORD, and his strength seek his face evermore

5 Remember his marvellous works that he hath done, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth,

6 O ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob his chosen

7 He is the LORD our God his judgments are in all the earth

8 He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations

9 <sup>b</sup> Which covenant he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac,

10 And confirmed the same unto Jacob <sup>a</sup> 1 Chron 11 8

Isai 12 4

<sup>b</sup> Gen 17 & 22 16
& 26 3 & 28 13
& 31 11
Luk 1 73
Heb 6 17

monstrations of the infinite wisdom and power of God, they may serve to us as so many arguments exciting to the constant fear of God, and to a steady hearty obedience to all His laws. And thus we may make these works as serviceable to our spiritual interest, as they all are to our life and temporal interest. For if, whenever we see them, we would consider that these are the works of our Divine Lord and Master, to whom we are to be accountable for all our thoughts, words, and works, and that in these we may see His infinite power and wisdom, this would check us in sinning, and excite us to strive and please Him who is above all control, and who hath our life and whole happiness in His power. Dr Derham

Psalm CV The former part of this Psalm was composed by David, upon his having brought the ark to Zion, 1 Chron xvi. And it is highly probable that he afterwards enlarged it, that it might be a more complete commemoration of all the mercies of God to the Jewish nation, from the days of Abraham to their taking possession of the land of Canaan. Edwards

Ver 4 — seek his face evermore ] Approach His presence evermore, that is, the ark of His presence. Green 5 — the judgments of his mouth ] He means, the punishments on their enemies which He, by the word of His mouth, by the exercise of His immediate power, had wrought. Dr Hammond.

for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant

11 <sup>c</sup> Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, <sup>d</sup> the lot of <sup>e</sup> your inheritance. <sup>f</sup> Gen 15 18 <sup>g</sup> the cord

12 When there were but a few men in number, yea, very few, and strangers in it 13 When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people,

14 He suffered no man to do them wrong yea, he reproved kings for their sakes,

15 <sup>h</sup> Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm

16 Moreover he called for a famine upon the land he brake the whole staff of bread

17 He sent a man before them, <sup>i</sup> even <sup>j</sup> Joseph, who was sold for a servant <sup>k</sup> Gen 37 28

18 <sup>l</sup> Whose feet they hurt with fetters, <sup>m</sup> Gen 39 20
† he was laid in iron <sup>n</sup> Heb

19 Until the time that his word came <sup>o</sup> his word the word of the LORD tried him. <sup>p</sup> came into 20 <sup>q</sup> The king sent and loosed him, <sup>r</sup> even <sup>s</sup> the ruler of the people, and let him go <sup>t</sup> Gen 41 14

21 <sup>u</sup> He made him lord of his house, and <sup>v</sup> Gen 41 40 ruler of all his <sup>w</sup> substance <sup>x</sup> Heb

22 To bind his princes at his pleasure, <sup>y</sup> possession and teach his senators wisdom

23 <sup>z</sup> Israel also came into Egypt, and <sup>aa</sup> Gen 46 6
Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham

24 And he increased his people greatly, and made them stronger than their enemies

25 <sup>ab</sup> He turned their heart to hate his <sup>ac</sup> Laod 1 people, to deal subtilly with his servants <sup>ad</sup> 8

6 — ye children of Jacob his chosen ] Ye children of Jacob, whom He chose (rejecting Esau) to inherit the promised blessing, see Gen xxv 2. Bp Patrick

10 — everlasting covenant ] That is a covenant never to be altered, if they steadily kept it. Bp Patrick

15 — Touch not mine anointed ] Do not dare to lay hands upon those whom I have peculiarly consecrated to Myself and My service. Bp Hall See the notes on Levit ii 1 and on Gen xx 15

— anointed, — prophets ] The Patriarchs were considered as priests and prophets, by celebrating the name of Jehovah among the nations, and foretelling a Redeemer of Israel, see Gen xv 7 xxii 8 xlix 10 Dimock 16 — the whole stuff of bread ] All the support of life. Bp Wilson

19. That his word came ] That the word of the Lord came. See Gen xli 25

22 To bind his princes at his pleasure ] That is, he intrusted him with absolute power, to command the rulers of his several provinces at his pleasure. Bp Patrick

23 — the land of Ham ] Egypt

25 He turned their heart &c ] The kindness and love of God to His people "turned the hearts of the Egyptians against them and caused hatred to take the place of friendship. Bp Horne

Exod. 2. 10
 Exod. 7. 9
 Heb. words of his signs
 Exod. 10
 Exod. 7. 0
 Exod. 8. 6
 Exod. 8. 17, 24
 Exod. 9. 23
 Heb. He smote their rain
 Exod. 10. 1
 Exod. 12. 29
 Exod. 12. 15
 Exod. 12. 3
 Exod. 13. 21
 Exod. 16. 1
 Exod. 17. 6
 Numb. 10. 11
 1 Cor. 10. 1

26 * He sent Moses his servant, and Aaron whom he had chosen.
 27 * They shewed † his signs among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.
 28 * He sent darkness, and made it dark, and they rebelled not against his word.
 29 * He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.
 30 * Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.
 31 * He spake, and there came divers sorts of flies, and lice in all their coasts.
 32 * † He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.
 33 He smote their vines also and their fig trees, and brake the trees of their coasts.
 34 * He spake, and the locusts came, and caterpillars, and that without number.
 35 And did eat up all the herbs in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.
 36 * He smote also all the firstborn in their land, the chief of all their strength.
 37 * He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.
 38 * Egypt was glad when they departed for the fear of them fell upon them.
 39 * He spread a cloud for a covering, and fire to give light in the night.
 40 * The people asked, and he brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.
 41 * He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out, they ran in the dry places like a river.

42 For he remembered his holy promise, and Abraham his servant.
 43 And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness.
 44 * And gave them the lands of the heathen: and they inherited the labour of the people.
 45 That they might observe his statutes, and keep his laws. Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CVI

1 The psalmist exhorteth to praise God & He prayeth for pardon of sin, as God did with the fallers. 2 The story of the people's rebellion, and God's mercy. 47 He concludeth with prayer and praise.

1 PRAISE ye the Lord. O * give thanks † unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.
 2 Who can utter the mighty acts of the Lord? who can shew forth all his praise?
 3 Blessed are they that keep judgment, and he that doeth righteousness at all times.
 4 Remember me, O Lord, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people. O, visit me with thy salvation.
 5 That I may see the good of thy chosen, that I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.
 6 We have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.
 7 Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt, they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies: <sup>b</sup> but provoked him at the sea, even at the Red sea.
 8 Nevertheless he saved them for his

28 — and they rebelled not &c.] Some interpreters suppose the word "they" refers to Moses and Aaron. Donock, Rosenmüller

44 — they inherited the labour of the people.] They took possession of the cities, towns, fields, and vineyards, which the labour of others (that is, the Canaanites) had built and planted. By Patrick

45 — Praise ye the Lord.] This is a literal translation from the Hebrew word Alleluia, or Hallelujah, (see the margin.) This word occurs at the beginning or at the end of many psalms. Alleluia was sung on solemn days of rejoicing: "and all her streets (that is, the streets of Jerusalem) shall say Alleluia," says Isaiah, speaking of the rebuilding of Jerusalem, Isaiah xlii. 18. St. John in the Revelation says: "I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying Alleluia: Salvation and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God, oh xix. 1. see also ver. 3, 4, 6." Thus expression of joy and praise was transferred at an early period from the synagogue to the church: and it is still occasionally used in devotional psalmody. Calmel

Who can behold the army of Divine judgments set forth in dreadful array before him, (ver. 28—6) without trembling very exceedingly at that Power which is able to send them, singly or in conjunction, upon a sinful land? Who can reflect upon their number and variety, without admiring that goodness, patience, and longsuffering, which tried so many different methods, and waited so long, to lead the offenders to repentance! By Horne This hymn was designed to perpetuate among the Israelites the remembrance of God's mercies, and to excite their gratitude. Though these events do not directly regard Christians, yet they ought to preserve the remembrance of them, as affording matter for the most edifying and instructive meditations. But it is our duty, above all, to take occasion, from what is contained in this Psalm, to raise our thoughts to the consideration of those signal mercies and spiritual blessings which God has communicated to us, by making with us a new covenant in Jesus Christ, by delivering us from the captivity of sin, of the devil, and of death, and by receiving us into His church. Ostervald

Psalm CVI. This Psalm, written in captivity, may have been intended to confirm the faith of the young, and to encourage their hopes of restoration to their native land. It not only details the judgments inflicted on the disobedience of the Jewish people, but also the frequent instances of Divine mercy which uniformly followed their repentance.

Ver. 6, We have sinned with our fathers, That is, after their example of unbelief and disobedience. By Horne name's sake, that he might make his mighty power to be known.

9 He rebuked the Red sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths, as through the wilderness.

10 And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.

11 And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.

12 Then believed they his words; they sang his praise.

13 † They soon forgot his works, they waited not for his counsel:

14 But † lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.

15 And he gave them their request, but sent leanness into their soul

16 They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the saint of the Lord

17 The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram

18 And a fire was kindled in their company, the flame burned up the wicked

19 They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image

20 Thus they changed their glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grass

21 They forgot God their saviour, which had done great things in Egypt,

22 Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red sea

23 Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.

24 Yea, they despised † the pleasant land, they believed not his word 25 But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the Lord.

26 Therefore he lifted up his hand against them, to overthrow them in the wilderness

27 † To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the lands.

28 They joined themselves also unto Baal-peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.

29 Thus they provoked to anger with their inventions, and the plague brake in upon them

30 Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and so the plague was stayed 31 And that was counted unto him for righteousness unto all generations for evermore.

32 They angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes

33 Because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.

34 They did not destroy the nations, concerning whom the Lord commanded them

35 But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works

36 And they served their idols: which were a snare unto them

37 Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils,

38 And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan and the land was polluted with blood

39 Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a whoring with their own inventions

40 Therefore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, insomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance

41 And he gave them into the hand of the heathen, and they that hated them ruled over them

42 Their enemies also oppressed them,

19 — they waited not for his counsel ] They were too impatient to wait for the full execution of His purposes towards them Travell

14 — and tempted God ] To give them still further proofs of His power Bp. Wilson

15 — but sent leanness into their soul ] This expression refers generally to the diseases inflicted upon the Israelites by Heaven, see Numb xi 33. Rosenmüller

17 The earth opened &c ] Perhaps Dathan and Abiram are mentioned only as being guilty of the greater crime in invading the priestly office, which belonged to the tribe of Levi Dimock

20 — they changed their glory ] They forsook the true worship of God who was their glory Dr Wells

21 Yea, they despised the pleasant land, ] They despised the land of Canaan, so that they would not enter therein and endeavour to take it, when God ordered them so to do, see Numb

26 Therefore he lifted up &c ] That is, He swore unto them that He would make them fall in the wilderness "Lifting the hand" was the usual form of swearing, see Gen xiv 22. Mudge See the note on Deut xxxii 10

28 They joined themselves &c ] See the note on Numb xxv 7 — the sacrifices of the dead ] Perhaps the meaning is, sacrifices which were offered to idols which he calls "dead," in opposition to the true and living God, and by way of contempt, and to note the sottishness of idolaters, who worshipped lifeless things, as stocks and stones, or dead men Poole, Rosenmüller

30 Then stood up &c ] The notes upon many of the passages referred to in the margin will explain several of the following verses

39 Thus were they defiled &c ] Idolatry, which is infidelity towards God, is often represented in Scripture as spiritual fornication or adultery Travell See notes at Exod xxxii 6 xxxiv 16 and they were brought into subjection under their hand 19 ' Many times did he deliver them; but they provoked him with their counsel, and were brought low for their iniquity 20 Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry 21 And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies 22 He made them also to be pitied of all those that carried them captives 23 Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from among the heathen, to give thanks unto thy holy name, and to triumph in thy praise 24 Blessed be the LORD God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting, and let all the people say, Amen Praise ye the LORD

PSALM CVII

1 The psalmist exhorteth the redeemed, in praising God, to observe his manifold providence, 4 over travellers, 10 over captives, 17 over sick men, 23 over seamen, 29 and in divers varieties of life.

* Psal 106 1 & 118 1 & 136 1
 O GIVE thanks unto the LORD, for he is good for his mercy endureth for ever

2 Let the redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy,

3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and † from the south

† Heb from the sea 4 They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way, they found no city to dwell in

47 — gather us from among the heathen,] Restore such of us as are dispersed in foreign lands unto our own country Bp Patrick

If we accustomed ourselves to take a just survey of ourselves of the forwardness and the pride of our natures, we should frequently think it fit and necessary to invert our prayers, to deprecate God's favours and mercies, and pray for His corrections and judgments, or rather we should look upon His judgments and mortifications as His greatest and most transcendent mercies. If men took that view of themselves, which others take of them in their highest prosperities, when God pours down His blessings upon them observed the haughtiness of their looks, gait, and gestures then proud behaviour towards all who have need of them, and their scilicet behaviour towards all of whom they stand in need, which every body else but themselves observes, and considered how very little they used to think of God in those seasons, and then, if they reflected upon their own modest behaviour upon some disappointment they had sustained how often they used to pray to God in their anguish and affliction, and how fervent their devotions have then been, they would confess how much better men they are in the latter than in the former condition, and how much more gracious God hath been to them in the one than in the other visitation Lord Clarendon

The end of the fourth Book of Psalms

5 Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them

6 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses

7 And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation

8 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men

9 For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness

10 Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron,

11 Because they rebelled against the words of God, and contemned the counsel of the most high

12 Therefore he brought down their heart with labour, they fell down, and there was none to help

13 Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses

14 He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder

15 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men

16 For he hath broken the gates of brass, and cut the gates of iron in sunder

17 Fools because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted

18 Their soul abhorreth all manner of <sup>b Job 30</sup> 20

Psalm CVII This Psalm may undoubtedly be enumerated among the most elegant monuments of antiquity, and it is chiefly indebted for its elegance to the general plan and conduct of the poem. It celebrates the goodness and mercy of God towards mankind, as demonstrated in the immediate assistance and comfort He affords in the greatest calamities to those who devoutly implore His aid in the first place, to those who wander in the desert, and who encounter the terrors of famine, next, to those who are in bondage, to those who are afflicted with disease, and finally, to those who are tossed about upon the ocean. The propriety of the argument is occasionally relieved by narration, and examples are superadded of the Divine severity in punishing the wicked, as well as of His benignity to the devout and virtuous, and both the narrative and preceptive parts are recommended to the earnest contemplation of considerate minds Bp Lowth This Psalm is introduced into our Forms of Prayer to be used at Sea, as a thanksgiving after a storm

* Ver 7 — to a city of habitation] That is, to a place inhabited, where they found relief for their necessities Bp Patrick

10 — being bound in affliction and iron,] This passage may be rendered, Being bound in galling chains Dimock, Rosenmuller

16 For he hath broken &c.] That is, made way for men's escape, when their case was desperate, by removing the greatest obstacles Dr. Wells meat, and they draw near unto the gates of death.

19 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses.

20 He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions.

21 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

22 And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.

23 They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters, 24 These see the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.

25 For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.

26 They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their soul is melted because of trouble.

27 They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wit's end.

28 Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses.

29 He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still.

30 Then are they glad because they be quiet, so he bringeth them unto their desired haven.

31 Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!

32 Let them exalt him also in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.

33 He turneth rivers into a wilderness, and a soil abounding with springs into dry ground. Green

34 — yield fruits of increase. The land of Canaan was fruitful beyond measure see Deut. viii 7, &c. Dimock

35 Again, they are diminished &c. At another time, God sees fit to alter the course of His providence, to lessen their numbers, and to humble them by various afflictions and calamities, or by the hands of tyrannical oppressors. Travell, Bp. Patrick

40 — causeth them to wander &c. The meaning is either, He bringeth them into difficulties, so that they know not what course to take, or, He banisheth them from their courts and kingdoms, and forceth them to flee into desolate wildernesses. Poole

42 The righteous shall see &c. Two consequences will follow from this alternate display of the mercy and the judgment of God. The righteous, finding themselves still the object of the former, will have cause to rejoice and give thanks, and the wicked when visited with the latter, will be forced by their silence at least to own that their punishment is just. Bp. Horne

43 Whoso is wise, &c. To take notice of the providences of God is the most effectual way to make men wise, as it is a proof of wisdom. Bp. Wilson

33 He turneth rivers into a wilderness, and the waterspings into dry ground, 34 A fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.

35 He turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into water springs.

36 And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare cities for habitation, 37 And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield fruits of increase.

38 He blesseth them also so that they are multiplied greatly, and suffereth not their cattle to decrease.

39 Again, they are diminished and brought low through oppression, affliction, and sorrow.

40 He poureth contempt upon princes, and causeth them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no way.

41 Yet setteth he the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.

42 The righteous shall see it, and rejoice, and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.

43 Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the lovingkindness of the LORD.

PSALM CVIII

1 David encourageth himself to praise God. 5 He prayeth for God's assistance according to his promise. 11 His confidence in God's help.

A Song or Psalm of David

O GOD, my heart is fixed, I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.

2 Awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake early.

This very instructive Psalm serves to teach us, that God does wisely dispense all that happens to men, and that when they are fugitives and captives, sick, and in danger of perishing, afflicted with famine, or any other distress, it is His will that makes them pass through all those trials, that He may engage them to call upon Him, and have recourse to His power and goodness. It therefore shews us, that it is the duty of persons in affliction to apply themselves to God by humble and fervent prayer for deliverance out of all their misfortunes, that when men cry to God in their distress, and turn to Him, He takes pity on them, and delivers them from all their troubles: and that it is the duty of those who by the help of God, have escaped any great sickness, danger of death, or other afflictions, to shew their gratitude to Him all their lives, and to celebrate His lovingkindness before all. Ortali

Psalm CVIII. This is a Psalm of thanksgiving, in which David praises God for His great goodness to him, in having made him king, and crowned him with victory, and beseeches Him to complete his conquests over the remainder of his enemies. The strain of gratitude and triumph which runs through it, makes it suitable to the service of the Church on the Ascension Day. The

3 I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations

4 For thy mercy is great above the heavens and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds

5 Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens and thy glory above all the earth

6 That thy beloved may be delivered save with thy right hand, and answer me

7 God hath spoken in his holiness, I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth

8 Gilead is mine, Manasseh is mine, Ephraim also is the strength of my head, Judah is my lawgiver,

9 Moab is my washpot, over Edom will I cast out my shoe, over Philistia will I triumph

10 Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?

11 Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our hosts?

12 Give us help from trouble for vain is the help of man

13 Through God we shall do valiantly for he it is that shall tread down our enemies

PSALM CIX.

1 David, complaining of his slanderous enemies, under the person of Judas denoteth them 16 He sheweth their sin 21 Complaining of his own misery, he prayeth for help 29 He promiseth thankfulness

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

first five verses of this Psalm are the same, without any material difference, as the last five of the fifty-seventh Psalm and the rest are the same as the last eight verses of the sixtieth Psalm. The reader is therefore referred to the explanation already given of those Psalms. Travell

Psalm CIX. In this Psalm David having been unjustly accused and violently persecuted by his enemies foretels with a prophetick spirit, the Divine vengeance upon them. St Peter (Acts 1:20) hath taught us to apply the eighth verse to the traitor Judas, and indeed the severity of the judgments, and the extent of the calamities here denounced are suitable to the guilt and punishment of our Saviour's persecutors in general. With respect to the imprecations see the note on Ps v 10. The twenty-eighth chapter of Deuteronomy may be considered as a kind of commentary on this Psalm. Travell There are many passages in the Book of Psalms especially a considerable part of the 109th that have given offence to well meaning persons, as savouring too much of private resentment, and inconsistent with that charity, which peculiarly marks the Christian dispensation. Many attempts have been made to remove this difficulty but the most satisfactory method appears to be, to consider the verbs in the future tense, so that the passages may be looked upon as so many denunciations of the punishments that God would inflict on the general or individual adversaries of His church and people. Thus at the seventh verse, 'When he shall be judged, he shall go forth convicted and his prayers shall be for sin, &c.' Windle

HOLD not thy peace, O God of my praise,

2 For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful are opened against me they have spoken against me with a lying tongue

3 They compassed me about also with words of hatred, and fought against me without a cause

4 For my love they are my adversaries but I give myself unto prayer

5 And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love

6 Set thou a wicked man over him and let Satan stand at his right hand

7 When he shall be judged, let him be condemned and let his prayer become sin

8 Let his days be few, and let another take his office

9 Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow

10 Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places

11 Let the extortioner catch all that he hath, and let the strangers spoil his labour

12 Let there be none to extend mercy unto him neither let there be any to favour his fatherless children

13 Let his posterity be cut off, and in the generation following let their name be blotted out

14 Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the Lord, and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out

The person particularly pointed at, in this Psalm was Achishai, the Edomite, who slew the Lord's priests, and endeavoured to destroy him whom God had anointed king over Israel. 1 Sam xxv. Achishai son of Randolph

Vers 4 For my love &c.] While I pray for them, they in return for my love falsely accuse me. Green

6 Set thou &c.] The true reading probably is, A wicked person shall be set over him, (that is, to judge him,) and an adversary shall stand at his right hand. Dodd

— over him.] That is, either over all his enemies, for the singular number is sometimes used with a plural sense, or rather, over one particular enemy, who was worse than any of the rest, more implacable and inexorable. Poole

— Satan.] An adversary. See the margin

— stand at his right hand.] This is an allusion to the practice of the courts of justice among the Jews, where the accused stood at the "right hand" of the accused. Rosenmüller

7 — and let his prayer become sin.] His prayer would be abomination in the sight of the Lord, as being offered without true contrition and repentance, without faith, hope, or charity. By Horne

9, 10 Let his children &c.] Thus shall his wickedness entail misery upon his wretched widow and his orphan children they shall lead a life of wandering from place to place supporting themselves by begging alms, and seeking relief out of their miserable habitations. Travell

15 Let them be before the Lord continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.

16 Because that he remembered not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart

17 As he loved cursing, so let it come unto him as he delighted not in blessing, so let it be far from him

18 As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment, so let it come, <sup>† Heb</sup> into his bowels like water, and like oil <sup>in the Lim</sup> into his bones

19 Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle where-with he is girded continually

20 Let this be the reward of mine adversaries from the Lord, and of them that speak evil against my soul

21 But do thou for me, O God the Lord, for thy name's sake because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me

22 For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me

23 I am gone like the shadow when it declineth I am tossed up and down as the locust

24 My knees are weak through fasting, and my flesh faileth of fatness

25 I became also a reproach unto them when they looked upon me they shaked their heads.

26 Help me, O Lord my God: O save me according to thy mercy

27 That they may know that this is thy hand; that thou, Lord, hast done it.

28 Let them curse, but bless thou when they arise, let them be ashamed, but let thy servant rejoice

29 Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle

30 I will greatly praise the Lord with my mouth, yea, I will praise him among the multitude

31 For he shall stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him <sup>† Heb</sup> from those that <sup>is with</sup> condemn his soul <sup>judges of</sup> his soul

PSALM CX

1 The kingdom, 2 the priesthood 5 the conquest, and the passion of Christ

¶ A Psalm of David

THE Lord said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool

2 The Lord shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion rule thou in the midst of thine enemies

3 Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness ¶ from the womb of the morning thou hast the dew of thy youth

† Matt 22
† Mark 16
† Luke 21
† Acts 2
† 1 Cor 15
† Heb 1

¶ On more than the womb of the morning in thine shall have
&c

15 — hic nater, &c ] These expressions admirably mark out in adhering rooted curse, which penetrated the body, is the water which one drinks, and is the oil with which one is rubbed they have swallowed cursing like water, see Job xv 6 Prov iv 17 they are punctured by it, as by the oil wherewith they have been anointed (about

19 — a girdle &c ] As the people of the East have ever been accustomed to wear long and loose garments, they are obliged to tuck them up and fasten them by a girdle or sash, wherewith they are travelling or at work See 1 Kings xxiii 40 John xiii 4 Travell

21 — do thou for me ] Take my part Bp Patrick 23 — tossed up and down as the locust ] The swarms of locusts are so large and numerous in Barbary, that they fly in the air like a succession of clouds When the wind blows briskly, so that these swarms are crowded by others or thrown one upon another, we have a lively idea of this comparison of the Psalmist, of being "tossed up and down as the locust" Dr Shaw

Special care should be taken that we do not pervert this Psalm in a criminal and impious manner, by imagining we are at any time allowed to wish that the vengeance of God may fall on those who hate us and do us hurt. David here speaks in the quality of a king chosen by God, and of a prophet, he rather foretold than desired the destruction of his enemies he even returned them good for evil, as he himself says, and love for hatred But, above all, let us remember that a Christian should hate no man, that the character we bear as disciples of Jesus Christ obliges us to love all men, even our greatest enemies, to pray for them with all our heart, and to wish and do them all the good in our power (Osterwald

Psalm CX in this Psalm David prophesieth concerning the

exaltation of Christ the sceptre of His kingdom the character of His subjects His everlasting priesthood His tremendous victories and judgments, and the means of His obtaining both kingdom and priesthood by His sufferings and resurrection Bp Horne This Psalm is with good reason appointed for the service of Christmas day

¶ Ver 1 The Lord said &c ] God the Father, in His eternal counsel said unto His Son Take Thou all power and authority, as the only Mediator and true King of Thy church until I shall utterly have subdued all those that dare to rise up against Thee, then, do Thou deliver up this royal state and kingdom of Thy Mediatorship Bp Hall

— thy footstool ] This expression is borrowed from the eastern custom of conquerors putting their feet upon the necks of their enemies See Josh x 24 The Divinity of our Saviour is clearly deducible from this verse See Mark xii 36, &c Dermock

2 — the rod of thy strength ] The "rod," or sceptre, of Christ's strength is His word accompanied by His Spirit Bp Horne and Nicholson

— out of Zion ] Christ's spiritual kingdom was to begin at Jerusalem Edwards

3 Thy people ] They that are fit for Thy kingdom Fenton
— the day of thy power — holiness ] "The day of His power" is the season of their conversion, when the corruptions of nature can no longer hold out against the prevailing influences of grace and they make a free and voluntary offering of themselves to their Redeemer Then it is that they appear "in the beauties of holiness, adorned with humility, faith, hope, love, and all the graces of the Spirit Bp Horne

— from the womb of the morning &c ] The words should rather be translated, "more than the dew from the womb of the morn 6 T 2

Hebr 7
6 & 7 17

4. The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, <sup>b</sup>Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.

5 The LORD at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath

6 He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies, he shall wound the heads over many countries

7 He shall drink of the brook in the way therefore shall he lift up the head

PSALM CXI

1 The psalmist by his example inviteth others to praise God for his glorious, and gracious works. 10 The fear of God breedeth true wisdom.

Job 1
Habbuk

PRAISE ye the LORD I will praise the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation

2 The works of the LORD are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein

3 His work is honourable, and glorious and his righteousness endureth for ever

4 He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the LORD is gracious and full of compassion.

5 He hath given meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.

7 The works of his hands are verity and judgment, all his commandments are sure

8 They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness

9 He sent redemption unto his people he hath commanded his covenant for ever holy and reverend is his name.

10 The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom || a good understanding have all they that do his commandments his praise endureth for ever

PSALM CXII

1 Godliness hath the promises of this life, and of the life to come 10 The prosperity of the godly shall be an eyesore to the wicked

PRAISE ye the LORD Blessed is the man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his commandments

ing is the dew of Thy progeny that is, Thy children, begotten to Thee through the Gospel shall exceed in number, as well as brightness and beauty the sparkles of early dew which the morning discloseth to the eye of the delighted beholder Bps Lenth and Horne

1 — Thou art a priest for ever &c ] Thy priesthood is everlasting in Thy person and office is and shall be fulfilled that which was figured in the royal priesthood person, and name of Melchizedek, king of Salem, the king of righteousness and peace Bp Hull The Epistle to the Hebrews places the resemblance between Melchizedek and Jesus on the name and title of the former, on his having no father or mother, or priestly descent, or birth, or death or successor mentioned which so far agreed with the latter, as He had no human father nor mother, in the ordinary way of generation nor was of a sacerdotal family, nor began to exist at His birth, nor continued in a state of death nor could have any successor in His office Abp Secker See the note on Gen xiv 18

5 — shall strike through &c ] Jesus destroyed both the Jewish and Roman persecutors, and will destroy all the enemies of His Church Abp Secker See Ps ii 9 and xlv 5 Rev xix 15

6 He shall judge &c ] He shall convince the heathen world but He is their Lawgiver and their Judge He shall take severe vengeance on those who persecute His subjects, and shall crush the supreme power in various countries Bps Patrick

7 He shall drink &c ] By drinking of the brook by the way, allusion seems to be made to the support and refreshment which Christ experienced The phrase relates, it is probable, to those consolations which He received at the beginning of His great conflict with the powers of darkness, particularly in His agony, when there appeared to Him an angel from heaven strengthening Him, Luke xxii 43 Merrick, Bp Lenth

We should remember on reading this Psalm that we have a Priest in heaven who stands continually pleading the merits of His sacrifice once offered on the cross Oblation intercession, and benediction are the three great branches of the sacerdotal office which our great High Priest now exercises for us, and in the exercise of which the Father has condescended in the most awful manner to promise that He will hear Him, and accept Him in our behalf His priesthood is not like that of Aaron transient figurative and successive, but real and effective, fixed and incommunicable eternal and unchangeable He is "a Priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek Bp Horne.

Psalm CXI The author of this Psalm celebrates the majesty and goodness of God displayed in a very eminent manner in the wonderful things He had done for, and the signal blessings He had bestowed upon, the Jewish nation, of which this sacred hymn seems to have been designed as a short memorial Edmuds

This is one of the proper Psalms appointed by the Church to be read on Easter-day

Ver 1 Praise ye the Lord ] These words are the title of the Psalm, and not part of the Psalm itself, as in the beginning of Ps cxii Bps Patrick and Lenth See the note on Ps

7 The works of his hands &c ] In all God's dispensations towards His faithful servants, and towards His impatient adversaries, we admire and adore His "verity" in the performance of His promises to the former, and His "justice" in executing vengeance on the latter Thus the time of fulfilling His promise to Abraham came not till the iniquity of the Amorites was full Bp Horne

9 He sent redemption unto his people ] He means that great deliverance out of Egypt, which was a type and pledge of that greater and higher redemption by Christ Poole

We ought to join our praises to those which are offered to God in this hymn, we have even more reason than the faithful of old had to confess that the works of the Lord are great and wonderful, that He is merciful righteous, and full of compassion, that He has remembered His covenant, and sent salvation and redemption to His people These inestimable blessings should excite us to declare His goodness and marvellous works before men and particularly in the assembly of the faithful Overvald

Psalm CXII This Psalm is a kind of commentary upon the last verse of the former Psalm, enumerating the various degrees of happiness which they enjoy, who fear God and keep His commandments, and concluding with a description of the envy and wretchedness of the ungodly Bp Patrick, Trapp

2 His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.

3 Wealth and riches shall be in his house, and his righteousness endureth for ever.

4 Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.

5 A good man sheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion.

6 Surely he shall not be moved for ever, the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.

7 He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord.

8 His heart is established, he shall not be afraid, until he see his desire upon his enemies.

9 He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor, his righteousness endureth for ever, his horn shall be exalted with honour.

10 The wicked shall see it, and be grieved; he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

PSALM CXIII

1 An exhortation to praise God for his excellency, 6 for his mercy.

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praise, O ye servants of the Lord, praise the name of the Lord.

† Heb. shall praise

1 — righteous ] "Righteous" here seems to include the idea of beneficence and charity, a man generous upon principles of religion. Mudge

2 — the righteous shall be &c.] That is, eminently good men do commonly leave a good name behind them, and transmit a grateful memory of themselves to afterages. Abp. Tillotson

3 — his horn &c.] God shall give him an increase of true honour, and abundantly reward his liberality. Bp. Hall See note at Psalm 111.

The character which the Psalmist here gives of good men is, that they fear the Lord, that they take great delight in His commandments, that they are just and sincere, that they conduct all their affairs with uprightness, that they are kind and full of compassion, and love to give alms to the poor. He afterwards teaches us that those who live thus are perfectly happy, that God blesses them in their persons, in their posterity, and in their possessions, that they enjoy peace of conscience, that they fear no evil, always trusting in the Lord, and that their righteousness and their memory shall remain for ever. These are very important instructions, which should powerfully encourage us to the study and practice of piety. Osterwald

Psalm CXIII. The servants of God are here exhorted to praise Him at all times, and in all places, on account of His power and glory, His mercy in redeeming man, and making the Gentile Church to be a joyful mother of children. This Psalm is appointed to be used on Easter-day. Bp. Horne

Ver. 1. From the rising &c. ] Signifying, either from morning to evening, or from east to west. Merrick

6. Who humbleth himself &c. ] Highly as our Lord is exalted above this system, above this heaven and this earth of ours, yet He condescendeth to regard every thing that passes here, and

2 Blessed be the name of the Lord from this time forth and for evermore.

3 From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the Lord's name is to be praised.

4 The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.

5 Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high,

6 Who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth.

7 He taketh up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth the needy out of the dung hill, 8 That he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people.

9 He maketh the barren woman to keep house, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CXIV

An exhortation, by the example of the dumb creature, to fear God in his church.

WHEN Israel went out of Egypt, the voice of Jacob from a people of strange language,

2 Judah was his sanctuary, and Israel his dominion.

3 The sea saw it, and fled: Jordan was driven back.

4 The mountains skipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.

to make us, the inhabitants of this lower world and for our sakes, all the other creatures in it, the objects of His peculiar care, and paternal love. Bp. Horne

Such is God's mercy to the poor sons of Adam in their fallen state that from the lowest and most abject condition, from the pollutions of sin and from the dishonour of the grave He hath lifted them to righteousness and holiness to glory and immortality. He setteth them on high, with the inhabitants of the heavenly Jerusalem, with the princes of His people, the leaders of the armies above, with angels and archangels, before His throne. What is the exaltation of the meanest beggar from a dunghill to an earthly diadem when compared with that of human nature from the grave to the throne of God! Here is honour worthy our ambition, honour, after which all are alike invited to strive, which all may obtain who strive worthily and lawfully, and of which, when once obtained nothing can ever deprive the possessors. Bp. Horne

Psalm CXIV. This is another of the Psalms appointed by our Church to be read on Easter-day. It celebrates the deliverance of Israel from Egypt, and the miracles wrought for that people, prefiguring the redemption of our nature from sin and death and the wonders of mercy and love wrought for us by Jesus Christ. Bp. Horne

Ver. 1, 2. When Israel went &c. ] When Jehovah delivered Israel from the bondage of Egypt, He chose them for His peculiar people. His presence resided in their camp, as in a sanctuary or temple, and He ruled them as an earthly king exercising sovereignty in his "dominions." Bp. Horne

1. The mountains skipped &c. ] The mountains of the wilderness shook and were moved sensibly at His terrible presence, when He delivered the law to His people, Exod. xix. 18. Bp. Hall

5 What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest? thou Jordan, that thou wast driven back?

6 Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams, and ye little hills, like lambs?

7 Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the LORD, at the presence of the God of Jacob,

8 Which turned the rock into a standing water, the flint into a fountain of waters

PSALM CXV

1 Because God is truly glorious, and idols are vanity, he exhorteth to confidence in God. 12 God is to be blessed for his blessings

NOT unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake

2 Wherefore should the heathen say,

3 Where is now their God?

4 But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased

5 Then idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands

6 They have mouths, but they speak not: eyes have they, but they see not

7 They have ears, but they hear not: noses have they, but they smell not

8 They have hands, but they handle not: feet have they, but they walk not: neither speak they through their throat

9 They that make them are like unto them, so is every one that trusteth in them

10 O Israel, trust thou in the LORD: he is their help and their shield

11 O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD: he is their help and their shield

Landus 17 Numb 20 11

Ps 12 10
8 79 10 1 15 11, 6

Ps 1 15

If the Divine presence hath such an effect upon mankind, matter, how ought it to operate on rational and accountable beings! Let us be afraid with a holy fear at the presence of God in the world by His providence, and by His Spirit in our consciences, that so we may have hope and courage in the day when He shall arise to shake terribly the earth, when "every island shall flee away, and the mountains shall be no more found," Rev xvi 20. Bp Horne

Psalm CXV This Psalm has always been used as an hymn of thanksgiving for victories, from the earliest Christian ages. Dr Delany This and the three following Psalms were sung by the Jews after eating the passover, and were called the great hallelujah. Bp Wilson

Ver 3 — he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased ] He doeth whatsoever He pleaseth. Mudge, Street

10 O house of Aaron ] This expression comprehends the priests and Levites. Travell

11 Ye that fear the Lord ] This seems to comprehend those, all the world over, that worshipped the one supreme God. Mudge

12 The Lord hath been mindful of us ] Rather, The Lord remembereth us. Mudge

From the former part of this Psalm we learn, that God is induced to do good to men, not by any merit on their part, but by

11. Ye that fear the LORD, trust in the LORD: he is their help and their shield

12 The LORD hath been mindful of us: he will bless us, he will bless the house of Israel, he will bless the house of Aaron

13 He will bless them that fear the LORD, both small and great

14 The LORD shall increase you more and more, you and your children

15 Ye are blessed of the LORD which made heaven and earth

16 The heaven, even the heavens, are the LORD's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men

17 The dead praise not the LORD, neither any that go down into silence

18 But we will bless the LORD from this time forth and for evermore. Praise the LORD

PSALM CXVI

1 The psalmist professeth his love and duty to God for his deliverance. 12 He studieth to be thankful

I LOVE the LORD, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications

2 Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live

3 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow

4 Then called I upon the name of the LORD, O LORD, I beseech thee, deliver my soul

5 Gracious is the LORD, and righteous, yea, our God is merciful

6 The LORD preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me

His own pure mercy, which ought therefore to be the foundation of our trust when we direct our prayer to Him. In the latter part we see how happy those are who worship God and fear Him, since the Psalmist assures us that God is the help and buckler of all those that trust in Him, and that His favours are extended to them and their posterity. These glorious promises should prevail on us more effectually to fear God, and to expect all our happiness from His blessing alone. Osterwald

Psalm CXVI This is a Psalm of thanksgiving for some special deliverance from grievous calamity wherein the Psalmist acknowledges his gratitude to the Divine mercy, describes his extreme distress and happy deliverance out of it, and determines from henceforth to serve and praise the Lord, from whom he had received such signal benefits. It is highly applicable to the case of those who have been blessed with deliverance from sickness and distress, and therefore the Church has appointed a considerable portion of it to be used in the solemn Thanksgiving of Women after Child-birth. Travell

This Psalm has frequent and quick changes of scenes and persons. Mudge

Ver. 3 — the pains of hell ] That is, such pains as had almost brought me to the grave. Dr Wills

6 — the simple ] The "simple" are here opposed to the crafty, who use indirect means for their deliverance, whereas the simple

† Heb
uth

† Heb in m, d, l, s

† Ps 18 6

† Heb
j unit m

7 Return unto thy rest, O my soul, for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee

8 For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.

9 I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.

13 <sup>b</sup> 2 Cor 4 <sup>b</sup> 10 I believed, therefore have I spoken
I was greatly afflicted

11 I said in my haste, 'All men are 12 What shall I render unto the Lord? for all his benefits toward me?

18 I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord

14 I will pay my vows unto the Lord
now in the presence of all his people

15 Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints

16 ¶ LORD, truly I am thy servant, I am thy servant, and the son of thine hand-maid: thou hast loosed my bonds

17 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the Lord.

18 I will pay my vows unto the Lord
now in the presence of all his people,

19) In the courts of the Lord's house, in use only such means as God approves, and rely upon Him for the success of them. (211)

10 11 I believed, &c.] In afflictions and distresses those of the spirit and conscience more especially, the soul is tempted to depond, and can only be supported by faith exerting itself in prayer. "I believed, and therefore have I spoken," or therefore spake I, that is as above, ver 4. I called upon the name of the Lord. O Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul. And this I did, though so "greatly afflicted, that I had said in my haste, in my hurry and trepidation, occasioned by fear and amazement, 'all men are liars, there is no credit to be given to their promises of deliverance, I am lost and undone for ever, yet my faith failed not entirely, and, lo my prayer hath been heard, and answered." Bp Horne

13 — the cup of salvation,] This cup of salvation is the drink-offering annexed, to and poured upon the sacrifice, at the time they used to call upon the name of the Lord Ios Medi. Thus phaise is taken from the common practice of the Jews in their thank offerings, in which a feast was made of the remainders of the sacrifices, and the officers, together with the priests, did eat and drink before the Lord, and amongst other rites, the master of the feast took a cup of wine into his hand, and solemnly blessed God for his, and for the mercy which was then acknowledged, and then gave it to all the guests who drank successively of it. See 1 Chron xvi 2, 3. To which custom it is supposed that our blessed Saviour alludes in the institution of the cup, which also is called “the cup of blessing, 1 Cor x 10 which is in effect the same with “the cup of salvation.” I took

15. Precious in the sight &c] That is, good men are so precious in God's esteem, that He will not prematurely deliver them up to the power of death. Dr Wells

16 — thou hast loosed my bonds] Thou hast rescued me from the power of death By Patrick

We should particularly here observe with what sentiments of joy and gratitude the Psalmist celebrates the wonderful deliverance which God had vouchsafed him in the great dangers he had been exposed to, with what zeal he praises him, and vows to the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye

the LORD

PSALM CXVII.

An exhortation to praise God for his mercy and truth.

O 'PRAISE the LORD, all ye nations praise him, all ye people

2 For his merciful kindness is great toward us and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever Praise ye the Lord

PSALM CXVIII

1 An exhortation to praise God for His mercy 5 The psalmist by his experience sheweth how good it is to trust in God 19 Under the type of the psalmist the coming of Christ in his kingdom is expressed

O GIVE thanks unto the Lord, for his good because his mercy endureth
for ever

2 Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever

3 Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever

4 Let them now that fear the Lord say, that his mercy endureth for ever

5 I called upon the LORD in distress the LORD answered me, and set me in a large place

6<sup>b</sup> The LORD is + on my side, I will not fear what can man do unto me.

love and obey Him. From his example we learn, that when God has bestowed any particular favour on us, and especially when He has delivered us from any great danger, it is our duty to love Him, to bless His holy name, and praise Him in the presence of all His people, and above all to walk before Him all the days of our life, and to testify our gratitude to Him, not only by our words, but by all our actions. Ostervald

Psalm CXXVII This short Psalm seems altogether prophetic of the joy that all the world should conceive at the coming of the Messiah, to give salvation, first to the Jews, and then to all other nations. St Paul applies part of it to this purpose, Rom. xv. 11.

By Patrick

Psalm CXXIII. This is a Psalm of triumph of which the four first verses are the preface from thence to the 16th, an account of the victory in which the author seems to have had a narrow escape from death he attributes his deliverance and victory to the particular protection of the Almighty after this is a kind of sacred dialogue David, being come to the temple speaks the 19th verse, they that open the gates, the 20th he again, as he enters, the 21st they with him seem to speak the four next verses, to the 24th the priests of the temple the 26th the first part to the king, the other to the people, the people, the 27th, he, the 28th the 29th is the chorus verse concluding as it began Mudge The triumphant subject of this Psalm makes it applicable to the service of to-day, when we celebrate the glorious victory which our blessed Lord gained over sin and death Travel It is also one of the proper psalms in the thanksgiving on the twenty-ninth of May

Ver 5 — in a large place ] In a state of liberty and freedom from my enemies. Dr Wells

6, 7 The Lord is on my side, &c.] By frequent experience of the Divine power and mercy, from time to time exerted in behalf of Israel that nation was instructed to trust in Jehovah, and, whenever they did so, success and victory never failed to attend their steps. Would not the case be the same with us in all our under-

7 The LORD taketh my part with them that help me therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.

8 It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in man

9 It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in princes

10 All nations compassed me about but in the name of the LORD will I destroy them

11 They compassed me about, yea, they compassed me about but in the name of the LORD I will destroy them

12 They compassed me about like bees, they are quenched as the fire of thorns for in the name of the LORD I will destroy them

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me that I might fall but the LORD helped me

14 The LORD is my strength and song, and is become my salvation

15 The voice of rejoicing and salvation in the tabernacles of the righteous the right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly

16 The right hand of the LORD is exalted the right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly

17 I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the LORD

18 The LORD hath chastened me sore but he hath not given me over unto death

19 Open to me the gates of righteous-takings if our faith was right and stedfast in God, who raised up Jesus from the dead, and who hath promised to make us "more than conquerors?" Bp Horne

10 All nations] That is, all the neighbouring nations Bp Patrick

12 They compassed me about like bees, &c.] Their numbers and rage might be compared to a swarm of angry bees, but their fury was short-lived and died away, like a sudden blaze of thorns, which is quickly extinguished Bp Patrick, Travell

13 Thou hast thrust sore at me] This seems spoken of his enemies generally Rosenmüller

15 The voice of rejoicing &c.] In the tabernacles, that is, the tents of the righteous, is the voice of shouting and triumph, proclaiming that the right hand of the Lord hath done mighty things Green The mention of tents shews that they celebrated their deliverance, not only publicly, but also privately, which was a sign of great and unfeigned joy Rosenmüller

19 — the gates of righteousness] The gates of the sanctuary Dr Wells

22 The stone &c.] No text of the Old Testament is quoted by the writers of the New so often as this, which we meet with in five different places see the margin The sum and substance of the New Testament applications and expositions is, that Jesus Christ is the stone here mentioned, that He was rejected, and set at naught by the chief priests and Pharisees, the then builders of the Church, but that being chosen of God, and precious to Him this most valuable stone thus despised and rejected of men, was at length exalted to be the chief corner stone in the building and a centre of union for the Jew and Gentile the two parts of which it consisted, that this was the work of God, and the admiration of man Bp Horne

ness I will go into them, and I will praise the LORD

20 This gate of the LORD, into which the righteous shall enter

21 I will praise thee for thou hast heard me, and art become my salvation

22 The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner

23 This is the LORD's doing, it is marvellous in our eyes

24 This is the day which the LORD hath made, we will rejoice and be glad in it.

25 Save now, I beseech thee, O LORD, O LORD, I beseech thee, send now prosperity

26 Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD we have blessed you out of the house of the LORD

27 God is the LORD, which hath shewed us light bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar

28 Thou art my God, and I will praise thee thou art my God, I will exalt thee

29 O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good for his mercy endureth for ever

PSALM CXIX

This psalm containeth sundry prayers praises, and professions of obedience

ALFPH

BLESSED are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the LORD

24 This is the day &c.] Of the day on which Christ rose from the dead it may with more propriety than of any other day be affirmed, "This is the day which the Lord hath made" Then it was that the rejected stone became "the head of the corner" a morning then dawned which is to be succeeded by no evening Bp Horne

27 — bind the sacrifice &c.] Bind the sacrifice, or lamb, with cords, (which was done previous to slaying it,) offer it up at the horns of the altar See Exod xxx 10 Dimock — even unto the horns of the altar] The meaning of this passage probably is that the sacrifices offered would be so great that the accustomed place for the victims would not be large enough to hold them, but from their number they would press even to the very "horns of the altar"

This Psalm, which the Jews sang at their feasts should be made use of by Christians in giving thanks to God, not only for the favours and deliverances, whether public or private, which He grants them, but, above all, for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ. The Spirit of God signifies in this Psalm, that the Messiah should be rejected by the chief of the Jews, and that, notwithstanding, He should become the King and Head of the Church which was fulfilled when Jesus Christ was crucified, and when, after His resurrection, He ascended into heaven, and His Kingdom was established in the world Ostervald

Psalm CXIX This Psalm consists of twenty-two staves of eight verses each, beginning with the first letter of the Hebrew alphabet, and ending with the last All the verses of each single staff begin with the same letter, from which it is denominated so that the first eight verses begin with Aleph, the next eight with Beth, and so on Newton It was probably written, for

2 Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart

3 They also do no iniquity they walk in his ways

4 Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently

5 O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes

6 Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments

7 I will praise thee with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned thy righteous judgments

8 I will keep thy statutes O forsake me not utterly

BETH

9 Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word

10 With my whole heart have I sought thee O let me not wander from thy commandments

11 Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee

12 Blessed art thou, O Lord teach me thy statutes

13 With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth

14 I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches

15 I will meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy ways

16 I will delight myself in thy statutes I will not forget thy word

GIMEL.

17 Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word 18 Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.

19 I am a stranger in the earth hide not thy commandments from me

20 My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times

21 Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do en from thy commandments

22 Remove from me reproach and contempt, for I have kept thy testimonies

23 Thinees also did sit and speak against me but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes

24 Thy testimonies also are my delight and my counsellors

DALE I N

25 My soul cleaveth unto the dust quicken thou me according to thy word

26 I have declared my ways, and thou heardest teach me thy statutes

27 Make me to understand the way of thy precepts so shall I talk of thy wondrous works

28 My soul melteth for heaviness strengthen thou me according unto thy word

29 Remove from me the way of lying and grant me thy law graciously

30 I have chosen the way of truth thy judgments have I laid before me instruction of youth Every division of it expresses the excellence of the law, and resolution to keep it, under all circumstances, particularly of distress, when his duty exposed him to danger of reproach and temptation for grace The word laws statutes testimonies judgments precepts &c which occur so constantly, seem here to be used promiscuously Bp Patrick, Green

Ver 5 They also &c] For they commit no iniquity who walk in his ways Green

6 — when I have &c] All the commandments have the same Author, and the same sanction He who thinks to atone for the breach of one, by the observation of another, he who reserves to himself licence of indulging any favourite darling lust, while in general he preserves the appearance of an exemplary conduct, is an hypocrite, and, unless he repent, will be brought to shame if not before men here, yet before men and angels hereafter Bp Horne

9 Wherewithal shall a young man &c] Youth enters upon the journey of life headstrong and inexperienced with a bias of original corruption, and all the passions awake In such circumstances, how shall a young man direct his steps, so as to escape the pollution that is in the world through lust? He must for this purpose take with him the directions to be found in the Scriptures of truth Bp Horne

11 — have I hid] Have I treasured up Green

12 Blessed art thou &c] The meaning seems to be this Thou, O Jehovah, art blessed; what is, art the supreme God, to whom I acknowledge all blessing and adoration to be due, teach me therefore Thy statutes, as being the only laws to which we owe all obedience Mudge

11 I have rejoiced &c] Truth and holiness afford to the sincere believer a pleasure more exquisite, as well as more solid and enduring than that which a miser feels at the acquisition of his dawning wealth Let us no longer envy the joys of worldly men, no longer be chagrined at the prosperity of the wicked The true riches we may always acquire, and surely, as much as heaven is higher than the earth, so much are heavenly joys above earthly in kind, degree and duration Bp Horne

18 — that I may behold &c] That is that I may be able to comprehend the Divine mysteries contained in Thy law Dimock

19 I am a stranger &c] I am a stranger unacquainted with the way, give me Thy commandments to guide me

20 My soul breaketh &c] In it is, My soul is wasted with a continual longing after Thy judgment Edwards

21 Thou hast rebuked &c] Thou rebukest the proud, cursed are they that stray from Thy commandments The proud always me in the contemptuous disregard of God and His laws Mudge

25 My soul cleaveth &c] I am brought exceedingly low by Thy afflicting hand oh, do Thou raise and comfort me, as Thou hast graciously promised Bp Hall

29 — Remove from me &c] It is plain that the way of truth in the latter of these two verses, is opposed to the way of lying, or of falsehood, in the former The one comprehends every thing in doctrine or in practice that is right, and therefore

31 I have stuck unto thy testimonies O Lord, put me not to shame

32 I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge my heart

II E

33 Teach me, O Lord, the way of thy statutes, and I shall keep it unto the end

34 Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law, yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart

35 Make me to go in the path of thy commandments, for therein do I delight

36 Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to covetousness

37 Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity, and quicken thou me in thy way

38 Stablish thy word unto thy servant, who is devoted to thy fear

39 Turn away my reproach which I fear for thy judgments are good 40 Behold, I have longed after thy precepts quicken me in thy righteousness

V A U

41 Let thy mercies come also unto me, O Lord, even thy salvation, according to thy word

42 So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me for I trust in thy word

43 And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth, for I have hoped in thy judgments

44 So shall I keep thy law continually for ever and ever

45 And I will walk at liberty for I seek thy precepts

46 I will speak of thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed

47 And I will delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved 48 My hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved, and I will meditate in thy statutes

Z A I N

19 Remember the word unto thy servant, upon which thou hast caused me to hope

20 This is my comfort in my affliction for thy word hath quickened me

21 The proud have hid me greatly in derision yet have I not declined from thy law

22 I remembered thy judgments of old, O Lord, and have comforted myself

23 Horror hath taken hold upon me because of the wicked that forsake thy law

24 Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage

25 I have remembered thy name, O Lord, in the night, and have kept thy law

26 This I had, because I kept thy precepts

C H E T H

27 Thou art my portion, O Lord I have said that I would keep thy word

28 I intreated thy favour with my whole heart be merciful unto me according to thy word

29 I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies

30 I made haste, and delayed not to keep thy commandments

31 The bands of the wicked have robbed me but I have not forgotten thy law

32 At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee because of thy righteous judgments

33 I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts

34 The earth, O Lord, is full of thy mercy teach me thy statutes

"true" the other denote every thing that is wrong and therefore "false" Bp Horn

32 — when thou shalt enlarge my heart ] When thou shalt enlighten my understanding by thy Spirit God gave to Solomon largeness of heart, 1 King iv 29

36 Incline my heart &c ] By the words "incline not my heart to covetousness, is meant 'suffer not my heart to be inclined to, give it not over to covetousness' Pp Horn

37 Turn away mine eyes &c ] Oh, let not mine eye betray my heart unto vanity let me not be so transported with any earthly objects as to de part from my perfect love of Thee, and desire of heavenly things Bp Hall

— quicken thou &c ] Give me grace to go on with more and more vigour in thy way Dr Wells

45 — I will walk at liberty ] The liberty of the sons of God freed from the fetters of sin

48 My hands also will I lift &c ] I will earnestly employ myself, and all my actions to the performance of what Thou commandest me Bp Hall

19 Remember the word &c ] The Psalmist here instructs us to prefer our petition upon these grounds first that God cannot prove false to His word Remember the word unto thy servant secondly that He will never disappoint an expectation which Himself hath raised, "upon which Thou hast caused me to hope Bp Horn

30 — quickened me ] Revived me in my sorrows Dr Wells

24 — in the house of my pilgrimage ] In all my wanderings up and down 1 Sam xxii 1, 2, 5 and xxiii 13 Pp Patrick

26 This I had ] That is this composure of mind and cheerfulness of spirit Bp Patrick

30 I made haste &c ] No future time that we can live upon will be more convenient than the present is for our reformation On the contrary, the more we defer, the more difficult and painful our work must needs prove, every day will both enlarge our task, and diminish our ability to perform it We should consider that we are mortal and frail and therefore any designs of future reformation may be cut off by death, which is always creeping towards us and may, for all we can tell, be very near at hand Dr Burton in this comfort and

TETH

65 Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O LORD, according unto thy word

66 Teach me good judgment and knowledge for I have believed thy commandments

67 Before I was afflicted I went astray but now have I kept thy word 68 Thou art good, and doest good, teach me thy statutes

69 The proud have forged a lie against me but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart

70 Thou heart is as fat as grease, but I delight in thy law

71 It is good for me that I have been afflicted, that I might learn thy statutes

72 The law of thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver

JOD

73 Thy hands have made me and fashioned me give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments

74 They that fear thee will be glad when they see me, because I have hoped in thy word

75 I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are right, and that thou in faithfulness hast afflicted me

76 I set, I pray thee, thy merciful kindness before my comfort, according to thy word unto thy servant

77 Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live for thy law is my delight

78 Let the proud be ashamed, for they dealt perversely with me without a cause but I will meditate in thy precepts

79 Let those that fear thee turn unto me, and those that have known thy testimony

80 Let my heart be sound in thy statutes, that I be not ashamed

KAPH

81 My soul fainteth for thy salvation but I hope in thy word

82 Mine eyes fail for thy word, saying When wilt thou comfort me

83 For I am become like a bottle in the smoke, yet do I not forget thy statutes

84 How many are the days of thy servant when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me

85 The proud have digged pits for me, which are not after thy law

86 All thy commandments are faithful they persecute me wrongfully, help thou me

87 They had almost consumed me upon truth, but I forsook not thy precepts

88 Quicken me after thy lovingkindness, so shall I keep the testimony of thy mouth

LAMED

89 For ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven

90 Thy faithfulness is unto all generations thou hast established the earth, and it abideth

91 They continue this day according to thine ordinances for all are thy servants

70. Thou heart is as fat &c ] The fatness of the heart implies, in this place, two things in those of whom it is affirmed: luxury, and consequently insensibility to those spiritual and divine truths, which ye not only the study but the delight of temperate and holy persons. Bp Horne

71. It is good for me &c ] There is a class of most important duties which can only be practised in affliction: namely, patience and composure under distress, pain, and affliction: a steadfast keeping up of our confidence in God, and our dependance upon His final goodness even at a time that every thing present is discouraging and adverse, and, what is no less difficult to retain, a cordial desire for the happiness and comfort of others, even then, when we are deprived of our own. The possession of this temper is almost the perfection of our nature. But it is then only possessed when put to the trial: tried at all it could not have been in a life made up only of pleasure and gratification. It is in the chambers of sickness, under the strokes of affliction, amidst the pincings of want the groans of pain, the pressures of infirmity, in grief in misfortune, through gloom and horror, that it will be seen whether we hold fast our hope, our confidence, our trust in God, whether this hope and confidence be able to produce in us resignation acquiescence and submission. Archdeacon Paley

72. When they see me ] When they see me delivered out of all these troubles. Dr Wells

75. I know &c ] I know whatever quarter afflictions come upon us, they are the judgments of God, without whose providence nothing befalls us. His judgments are always right, or just duly proportioned to the disease and strength of the patient: in sending them God is faithful and true to His word: when He hath never promised the crown without the cross: but both on the contrary, assured us, that one will be necessary in order to our obtaining the other: and that they who are beloved by Him shall not sin with impunity, nor go astray without a call to return. Bp Horne

79. Turn unto me ] Turn to my side and become my friend. Bp Patrick

81. My soul fainteth &c ] My soul languisheth with a longing desire of thy salvation, yet still I am sustained by my renewed hope of Thy merciful performance. Bp Hall

83. like a bottle in the smoke ] Bottle among the Jews were made of skins. One of these if exposed to heat and smoke, would become swelled and useless. Such a chance will labour and sorrow cause in the human frame: and the Psalmist here represents that his beauty and strength were gone and the natural moisture dried up, in consequence of which the skin shrivelled, and both colour and vigour departed from him. Bp Horne

85. which are not after thy law ] Who act without any regard to thy law. Mudie

89. For ever, &c ] Or: Thy word O Lord, for ever is firmly fixed like the heavens. God's word and His truth and faithfulness, upon which His laws are founded, are as fixed as the heaven and the earth, for they owe their durability to the same word and truth. Green, Mudie

92 Unless thy law had been my delights, I should then have perished in mine affliction

93 I will never forget thy precepts for with them thou hast quickened me

94 I am thine, save me, for I have sought thy precepts

95 The wicked have waited for me to destroy me but I will consider thy testimonies

96 I have seen an end of all perfection but thy commandment is exceeding broad M F M

97 O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day

98 Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies for † they are ever with me

† Heb it is ever
with me

99 I have more understanding than all my teachers for thy testimonies are my meditation

100 I understand more than the ancients, because I keep thy precepts

101 I have restrained my feet from every evil way, that I might keep thy word 102 I have not departed from thy judgments for thou hast taught me

Ps 19 10

† Heb palate

103 How sweet are thy words unto my † taste! yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth

104 Through thy precepts I get understanding therefore I hate every false way

NUN

Or
sundie

105 Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path

106 I have sworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments

107 I am afflicted very much quicken me, O Lord, according unto thy word

108 Accept, I beseech thee, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O Lord, and teach me thy judgment

95 — I will consider thy testimonies ] I will carefully attend to thy commands Mudge

96 I have seen an end &c ] Of "all perfection in this world whether of beauty wit, learning pleasure, honour or riches experience will soon shew us the end But where is the end or boundary of the word of God? Who can ascend to the height of its excellency, who can fathom the depth of its mysteries, who can find out the comprehension of its precepts, or conceive the extent of its promises? Bp Horne

99 100 I have more understanding &c ] That is the spiritual wisdom in which Thy law instructs me, for conducting myself most advantageously is infinitely to be preferred before all other knowledge Dr Hammond

108 — the freewill offerings of my mouth ] The "offerings of the believer are prayer, praise and holy resolutions and vows, like that of this Psalmist above, to keep God's righteous

109 My soul is continually in my hand yet do I not forget thy law

110 The wicked have laid a snare for me yet I eired not from thy precepts 111 Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever for they are the rejoicing of my heart

112 I have inclined mine heart † to perform thy statutes alway, even unto the end † Heb to do

SAMECH

113 I hate vain thoughts but thy law do I love

114 Thou art my hiding place and my shield I hope in thy word

115 Depart from me, ye evildoers for I will keep the commandments of my God † Matth 7

116 Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live and let me not be shamed of my hope

117 Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe and I will have respect unto thy statutes continually

118 Thou hast trodden down all them that err from thy statutes for their deceit is falsehood

119 Thou hast puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross therefore I love thy testimonies † Heb cause to cease

120 My flesh trembleth for fear of thee, and I am afraid of thy judgments

AIN

121 I have done judgment and justice leave me not to mine oppressors

122 Be surety for thy servant for good let not the proud oppress me

123 Mine eyes fail for thy salvation, and for the word of thy righteousness

124 Deal with thy servant according unto thy mercy, and teach me thy statutes

125 I am thy servant, give me understanding, that I may know thy testimonies judgments, in which he therefore petitions to be more and more taught and instructed by the Spirit of truth Bp Horne Freewill offerings were such sacrifices as were not offered by the law or for any fault, but for the sake of thanksgiving Hornmiller

109 My soul is continually in my hand ] I am exposed to continual danger of my life Bp Hall See the note from Dr Durell on Job viii 44

111 Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage ] That is, as that which will be the means of my enjoying the chiefest good Dr Wells

118 — for their deceit is falsehood ] Because it will fail and ruin those who trust in it Bp Horne

122 Be surety for thy servant for good ] Do thou take my cause upon thee, and stand out for the protection of mine innocence Bp Hall

126 It is time for thee, LORD, to work for they have made void thy law

† Prov 8 11
P 19 10

127 Therefore I love thy commandments above gold, yea, above fine gold.

128 Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right, and I hate every false way

PE

129 Thy testimonies are wonderful therefore doth my soul keep them

130 The entrance of thy words giveth light, it giveth understanding unto the simple

131 I opened my mouth, and panted for I longed for thy commandments

† Heb
according to the custom towards these, &c

132 Look thou upon me, and be merciful unto me, † as thou usest to do unto those that love thy name

133 Order my steps in thy word and let not any iniquity have dominion over me

134 Deliver me from the oppression of man so will I keep thy precepts

135 Make thy face to shine upon thy servant, and teach me thy statutes

136 Rivers of waters run down mine eyes, because they keep not thy law

TZADDI

137 Righteous art thou, O LORD, and upright are thy judgments

138 Thy testimonies that thou hast commanded are † righteous and very † faithful

† Heb righteousness

139 My zeal hath † consumed me, because mine enemies have forgotten thy words

† Heb zeal

140 Thy word is very † pure therefore thy servant loveth it

† Heb
John 17

141 I am small and despised yet do not I forget thy precepts

† Heb cast me off † Heb tried or, refined

142 Thy righteousness is in everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth

126 It is time for thee, — to work ] To shew thy hatred of the wicked courses of men, by executing due judgments upon them Bp Hall

— made void thy law ] The law of God is “made void” by those who deny its authority, or its obligation, by those who render it of none effect through their traditions, or their lives Bp Horne

129 Thy testimonies are wonderful &c ] The Scriptures are “wonderful,” with respect to the matter which they contain, the manner in which they are written, and the effects which they produce Bp Horne

130 The entrance of thy words &c ] That is, Thy word or law is no sooner known, but it enlightens the mind with most useful knowledge Dr Wells

— it giveth understanding unto the simple ] Or, to the most ignorant, so far as to teach them how they may be happy Dr Wells

131 — and panted ] An action expressive of great and affectionate desire

139 My zeal &c ] “Zeal” is a high degree of love, and when 143 Trouble and anguish have † taken hold on me yet thy commandments are ray delights

† Heb found me

144 The righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting give me understanding, and I shall live

KOPII

145 I cried with my whole heart, hear me, O LORD I will keep thy statutes

146 I cried unto thee, save me, † and I shall keep thy testimonies

† Or that I may keep

147 I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried I hoped in thy word

148 Mine eyes prevent the night watches, that I might meditate in thy word

149 Hear my voice according unto thy lovingkindness O LORD, quicken me according to thy judgment

150 They draw nigh that follow after mischief they are far from thy law

151 Thou art near, O LORD, and all thy commandments are truth

152 Concerning thy testimonies, I have known of old that thou hast founded them for ever

RESH

153 Consider mine affliction, and deliver me for I do not forget thy law

154 Plead my cause, and deliver me quicken me according to thy word

155 Salvation is far from the wicked for they seek not thy statutes

156 Great are thy tender mercies, O LORD quicken me according to thy judgments

† Or Many

157 Many are my persecutors and mine enemies, yet do I not decline from thy testimonies

158 I beheld the transgressors, and was grieved, because they kept not thy word

159 Consider how I love thy precepts

the object of that love is ill-treated, it vents itself in a mixture of grief and indignation which are sufficient to wear and consume the heart. This will be the case, where men rightly conceive of that dishonour, which is continually done to God, by creatures whom He hath made and redeemed. But never could the verb be uttered with such fulness of truth and propriety by any one as by the Son of God, who had such a sense of His Father's glory, and of it as sin is no person else ever had Bp Horne

150 151 They draw nigh that follow &c ] If our enemies “draw nigh” to destroy us God is still nearer to preserve us, and how ever His word may be rejected by the wicked, the faithful always find it to be true, to their great and endless comfort Bp Horne

152 — thou hast founded them for ever ] That is, Thy will and plea are firm and steadfast and shall never fail those that depend upon it Bp Patrick

159 160 Consider how I love &c ] It is observable how the Psalmist delights to dwell on these two grateful topics the “lovingkindness of God in promising salvation, and His “truth quickened me, O LORD, according to thy lovingkindness

† Heb
160 Thy word is true from the beginning and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth for ever

§ CIII N

161 Princes have persecuted me without a cause but my heart standeth in awe of thy word

162 I rejoice at thy word, as one that findeth great spoil, 163 I hate and abhor lying but thy law do I love

164 Seven times a day do I praise thee because of thy righteous judgments

165 Great peace have they which love thy law and nothing shall offend them

166 I LORD, I have hoped for thy salvation, and done thy commandments

167 My soul hath kept thy testimonies, and I love them exceedingly 168 I have kept thy precepts and thy testimonies for all my ways are before thee

T A L L

169 Let my cry come near before thee, O LORD give me understanding according to thy word

170 Let my supplication come before thee deliver me according to thy word in the constant performance of that promise, to His Church while she loves and adheres to His precepts. Thus it hath been from the beginning, and thus it will be, until the whole counsel of Heaven shall be fulfilled by the resurrection and salvation of the just. Bp Horne

191 Seven times] That is, in my times, in the day. Bp Hall 165 Great peace &c] To enjoy a peace which sets us above the power of evil, which places us out of the reach of fortune, which inspires us with courage in the midst of danger, which opens our eyes to look through the gloomiest scenes of sorrow to the blessed hope of future glory which establishes our hearts in a patient expectation of God's deliverance, so that nothing can terrify or dismay us, is that which the world can never give and which can only proceed from the blessed Spirit of God, whose promise it is to confirm the faithful to the end and so to run their path that "nothing can offend them." This is that peace of which the Psalmist here speaks and which is the peculiar lot and inheritance of the righteous of him who loveth the law of God. Bp Sherlock — and nothing shall offend them] Or, cause them to fall. Dr. Watts

165 — Love thee] That is perfectly known to Thee. The consideration of God's omnipresence is the best motive to an holy life. Bp Wilson

That this Psalm may be read with improvement, it will be convenient to add to the particular reflections already made these three principal reflexions. 1. That the law of God is most excellent and its effects most wonderful. David teaches us, that the Divine law is the most perfect, that it gives a heavenly light which enlightens us, that it gives understanding, that it purifies and rejoices the heart, that it supports us in afflictions, that it gives us unity, the peace of conscience and that it is infinitely better than all the treasures and riches in this world. 2. In this Psalm we learn to distinguish good men. They are meek and

171 My lips shall utter praise, when thou hast taught me thy statutes

172 My tongue shall speak of thy word for all thy commandments are righteousness

173 Let thine hand help me, for I have chosen thy precepts

174 I have longed for thy salvation, O LORD, and thy law is my delight

175 Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee, and let thy judgments help me

176 I have gone astray like a lost sheep, seek thy servant, for I do not forget thy commandments

PSALM CXX

1 David prayeth against Doeg, reproacheth his honour, complaineth of his necessary conversation with the wicked

¶ A Song of degrees

I N my distress I cried unto the LORD, and he heard me

2 Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue

3 ¶ What shall be given unto thee? or what shall be done unto thee, thou false tongue?

4 ¶ Sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals of juniper

5 Woe is me, that I sojourn in Mesech, that I dwell in the tents of Kedar about 10 s Or what all the deceitful

ten me in the cruel
shall be the Heb ill d Or this with stars a us of the m h man with
c muy

upright in their way they do that which is right they walk in the law of the LORD and meditate on it day and night they love God and His word with all their heart, they abstain from evil and from the company of the wicked, they join themselves to the righteous they are struck with terror at the sight of God's judgments they trust in Him and are calm and patient under affliction. 3. Lastly, this Psalm is full of many excellent prayers which should be continually in our mouths and in our heart, begging God to enlighten our mind to teach us His law, to incline our hearts to obey Him to take us under His care and guide us always by His providence and His Holy Spirit. These are the instructions with which this Psalm furnishes us for which purpose we should do well frequently to read it, and meditate on its contents. Ostervald

Psalm CXX This Psalm is one of the fifteen, which are entitled Psalms of Ascensions; that is, which were sung when the people came up either to worship in Jerusalem at the annual festivals or perhaps from the Babylonish captivity. Bp Lenth The Psalmist here begs of God to defend him from the deceit and calumnies of the wicked, and complains that he is forced to dwell among them. Green

A Song of degrees] Or rather, of ascensions. Bp Horne
Ver 4 Sharp arrows &c] That is All the reward thou shalt meet with shall be a swift vengeance from the Almighty. This is figuratively represented by sharp arrows and burning coals of juniper (or, as some think, the Spanish broom) the wood of which is supposed to burn more intensely than any other. Green Parkhurst

5 Woe is me &c] Mesech was the son of Japhet Gen x 2 and Kedar the son of Ishmael Gen xxi 13. The descendants of both of them were idolaters, remarkable for their barbarity and cruelty, and for being enemies to peace. David is not to be understood as saying that he actually dwelt among these people but only that he lived among people who were of the same tribe.

the great safety of the godly.

PSALMS

David professeth his joy for the church

6 My soul hath long dwelt with him that hath peace

*Or a man
of peace*

7 I am for peace but when I speak, they are for war

PSALM CXXI

The great safety of the godly, who put their trust in God's protection

A Song of degrees

*Or, Shall I cry up unto the hills? for mine help cometh
from the Lord.*

I WILL lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help

2 My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth

3 He will not suffer thy foot to be moved:
he that keepeth thee will not slumber

4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep

5 The Lord is thy keeper: the Lord is thy shade upon thy right hand

6 The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night

7 The Lord shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul

8 The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore poets and musicians with the descendants of Melech and Kedur duards

This Psalm teaches 1st That good men may be exposed to calumny and the malice of men but that God protects and deliver them 2dly That it is a great affliction to good men to live among the wicked and ungodly 3dly That it is the character of the righteous to love peace as it is of the wicked to be addicted to confusion and trouble Osterwald

Psalm CXXI This Psalm is of the dramatick or dialogue form.
It is both concise and elegant. The king apparently going forth to battle first approaches the ark of God, and in the two first verses humbly implors the Divine assistance on which alone he professes to rest his confidence. In the third and following verses the high priest answers him from the tabernacle Bp Lowth

Ver 1 — unto the hills, To the mountains of Zion and Mo-rath where Jerusalem was built where the tabernacle was placed, and from whence Jehovah assisted His people when they were in distress Green

5 — thy shade Thy shelter Dr Wells

6 The sun &c The meaning is, that the good man, during his journey through life, shall be under God's protection at all seasons Bp Hall

8 The Lord shall preserve &c Bishop Lowth refers the words to the king's going forth to battle. But they may be applicable to the preservation of the Jews from their enemies on their going to their feasts at Jerusalem Democ

How happy is that man whose help cometh from the Lord.
Though the whole creation throws upon him and all nature looks black upon him he has His light and support within him, that is able to cheer his mind and bear him up in the midst of any hor-rours which may encompass him. He knows that his Helper is at hand and is always nearer to him than any thing else can be which is capable of annoying or terrifying him. In the midst of calumny or contempt he attends to that Being who who pers better things within his soul, and whom he looks upon as his Defender his Glory, and the Father-up of his head. In his deepest solitude and retirement he knows that he is in company with the Greatest of Beings, and perceives within himself such real sensa-

PSALM CXXII

1 David professeth his joy for the church 6 and prayeth for the peace thereof

A Song of degrees of David

I WAS glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord

2 Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem

3 Jerusalem is builded as a city that is compact together

4 Whether the tribes go up the tribe of the Lord, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the Lord

5 For there are set thrones of judi-ment, the thrones of the house of David

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee

7 Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces

8 For my brethren and companion's sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee

9 Because of the house of the Lord our God I will seek thy good tions of His presence, as we more delighted than any thing to be met with in the society of His creature. Even at the hour of death he considers the pains of his dissolution to be nothing else but the breaking down of that partition which stands between his own soul and the sight of that Being who is always present with him and who will then manifest Himself to him in full of joy Addison

Psalm CXXII The subject of this Psalm is that joy which the people were wont to express upon their coming up in companies to keep a feast at Jerusalem when the Divine services were regulated and that city was appointed to be a place of public worship Joy Home

Ver 2 — shall stand More literally stood or are standing, Abp Secker

3 Jerusalem is &c Jerusalem is compact is to its building, and the inhabitants of it firmly united by mutual harmony and friendship Dr Chandler Jerusalem is built as a city that is placed in the centre of union, that is it was the great seat and centre of religion and justice was the centre of union to all the tribes Myles Dr Delaney

4 — unto the testimony of Israel That is unto the ark of the testimony Dr Wells Edwards, Merrick

6 Pray for the peace of Jerusalem A concern for the peace and happiness of our country is not only a political but a religious virtue a care that becomes us both as we are men, and as we are Christians which stands not upon the narrow bottom of self interest but rises from a more generous principle partaking of the love of God and love of our neighbour, since whilst we seek the publick peace we show our beneficence to the one, and our obedience to the other Bp Sherlock

As we are concerned for the happiness of our country in general so ought we to be for the welfare of the Church in particular. The Kingdom of our Master must subsist as well as other kingdoms and societies do, by the cultivation of peace and unity among those who are the subjects of it. Joined to one common head Christians should be joined likewise to each other, keeping the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace 1 ph iv 3 Bp Home

PSALM CXXIII

1 The godly profess their confidence in God, 3 and pray to be delivered from contempt

¶ A Song of degrees.

UNTO thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwellest in the heavens

2 Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress, so our eyes wait upon the LORD our God, until that he have mercy upon us

3 Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us for we are exceedingly filled with contempt

4 Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud

PSALM CXXIV

The church bleaseth God for a maraculous deliverance

¶ A Song of degrees of David

It had not been the LORD who was on our side, now may Israel say,

2 If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, when men rose up against us

3 Then they had swallowed us up quick, when their wrath was kindled against us

4 Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul

5 Then the proud waters had gone over our soul

Psalm CXXIII This is a short address to God for His special assistance under circumstances of distress, from the proud and insolent behaviour of some haughty oppressors. Travell

Ver 2 — unto the hand of their masters, &c.] The servants or slaves in the East still attend their masters or mistresses with the profoundest respect. Munfell observes this to be the case in Turkey and Bp Pococke says, that in Egypt "every thing is done with the greatest decency and the most profound silence the slaves or servants standing at the bottom of the room with their hands joined before them watching with the utmost attention every motion of their master who commands them by signs. Parthurst

We have never more need of the influence of God's Spirit, than when those who oppress us add contempt and scorn to their injustice and when the spectators of our misery take occasion from thence to deride and despise our persons not in any thing preserve us in those cases from some unwarrantable excesses of grief but the calling up our eyes unto Him from whom all affliction come. Lord Clarendon

Psalm CXXIV This Psalm is an acknowledgment of God's assistance and a thankful commemoration of the deliverances wrought signally by Him. It is appointed to be sung by the Levites after the return from the captivity, and is very suitable to any other eminent deliverance wrought by God for His servants. Dr Hammond This is one of the proper Psalms for the thanksgiving days of the fifth of November and the twenty-ninth of May.

The great lesson which this Psalm from the beginning to the end, inculcates is that for every deliverance whether of a temporal or a spiritual nature, we should, in imitation of the saints

6 Blessed be the LORD, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth

7 Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers the snare is broken, and we are escaped

8 Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

PSALM CXXV

1 The safety of such as trust in God 4 1 prayer for the godly and against the wicked

¶ A Song of degrees

THEY that trust in the LORD shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever

2 As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the LORD is round about his people from henceforth even for ever

3 For the rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous, lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity. † Heb wickedness

4 Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts

5 As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity but peace shall be upon Israel

PSALM CXXVI

1 The church, celebrating her incredible return out of captivity, 4 prayeth for, and propheseth the good success thereof above, ascribe "salvation to our God, and unto the Lamb, Rev vii 10 Bp Horne Psalm CXXV This Psalm, like the preceding is appointed for the thanksgiving on the fifth of November

Ver 2 As the mountains &c.] As Jerusalem is encompassed by high hills, which render it inaccessible by enemies so is the good providence of God a never failing barrier and protection to His people. Bp Patrick Travell

3 For the rod &c.] This implies, that the Almighty will in view to the maintenance of pure religion, will preserve His people from subjection to the power of the wicked

— the rod] The power. Merrick

The clearest and most unquestionable proof that we put our trust in the Lord, is our steadiness and constancy in His precepts that no allurements and invitations of pleasure and profit or apprehensions of terror and misery and calamity, can persuade us in the least degree to swerve from them, in order to compass the one, or to avoid the other, and the sure evidence that He doth accept this our trust in Him, is, when He blesses our constancy, and makes us, as it were, as unmoveable as Himself and as He cannot fail, or be shaken in His resolutions towards us so we cannot be shaken in our confidence in Him, or misled by that confidence. Lord Clarendon

Psalm CXXVI There is little doubt that this Psalm was expressly composed on the return of the Jews from their captivity in Babylon which the Psalmist prays may be fully completed by the entire restoration of the faithful Travell This is one of the proper Psalms for the thanksgiving on the twenty-ninth of May

¶ A Song of degrees

WHEN the Lord † turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing then said they among the heathen, The Lord † hath done great things for them

3 The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad

4 Turn again our captivity, O Lord, as the streams in the south

They that sow in tears shall reap in joy

6 He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him

PSALM CXXVII

1 The virtue of God's blessing 5 Good children are his gift

¶ A Song of degrees, || for Solomon

EXCEPT the Lord build the house, they labour in vain † that build it except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain

2 It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows for so he giveth his beloved sleep.

3 Lo, children are an heritage of the Lord and the fruit of the womb is his reward

4 As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man, so are children of the youth

5 Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them they shall not be ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate

PSALM CXXVIII

The sundry blessings which follow them that fear God

¶ A Song of degrees

BLESSED is every one that feareth the Lord, that walketh in his ways

2 For thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.

3 Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine by the sides of thine house thy children like olive plants round about thy table.

4 Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the Lord

5 The Lord shall bless thee out of Zion and thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life

Ver 1 — we were like them that dream] We could scarcely believe it but thought ourselves only in a dream of so great a happiness Dr Wells

4 Turn again our captivity &c] The joy occasioned by Cyrus's proclamation having been described in the former part of the Psalm we may now suppose some of the Jews ready to set out on their return home at which time and during their journey they prefer this petition to God, that He would be pleased to bring back the rest of their countrymen, who like floods rolling down upon the thirsty regions of the south, might people the land and by their labours put an end to the desolations of Judah Bp Horne

— the streams in the south] This image seems to be taken from the torrents in the deserts to the south of Judah which were constantly dried up in summer, (see Job vi 17, 18,) and as constantly returned after the rainy season, and filled again their deserted channels Bp Lenth

5 6 They that sow in tears &c] These verses pry in general, that God from a melancholy beginning (for such was the restoration it fit), rather the seed of one, than one maturely grown) will grant a happy issue Mudge, Green

This Psalm engages us to reflect on the wonderful things which God has done at all times for His people, by delivering them, contrary to all appearance, from the power of their enemies. It assures us moreover, that if the Church or the righteous, are in affliction and tears, God gives them at last occasion to rejoice in, in general, when men have been tried and humbled by affliction, He makes gladness succeed to sorrow, causing those who sow in tears to reap in joy Ostervald

Psalm CXXVII This is a Psalm which can never be out of season the design of its author being to teach us the necessity of a dependence upon God and His blessing in every work to which we set our hands Bp Horne It is used in our service on the Thanksgiving of Women after Child-birth

Ver 2 It is vain for you &c] That is, it is in vain for you to rise up early to labour to go late to rest and to eat the bread of carefulness unless the Lord bless your endeavours which is He giveth to His beloved even while they sleep Green

4 — children of the youth] Rather as in the old translation, the young children Rosenmüller Street

5 — but they shall speak &c] The gate was the place of resort for public business and justice under the porch that belonged to it Children would support a man there in his contest and pretensions Mudge See the notes on Gen xxiii 10 and on Deut xvi 15 There is said to be a Chinese proverb to this effect, 'When a son is born into a family, a bow and arrow are hung up before the gate this should seem to be a figurative expression, signifying that a new protector is added to the family Merrick

The Psalmist does not certainly intend to say at ver 2, that labour and diligence are vain but that they are so except the Lord be with the labourer the business is not to be done by all the industry and pains in the world without Him which is if His aid be called in if part of our time be spent in prayer, not the whole of it in toiling without prayer our work will become easier, and go on better without anxiety and vexation for success and completion will no longer prey upon our minds by day and break our rest at night we shall cheerfully fulfil our daily tasks, and then with confidence and resignation lay our heads upon our pillows and God will give to His beloved a sweet and undisturbed sleep which shall fit them to return every morning, with renewed vigour and alacrity to their stated employments Bp Horne

Psalm CXXVIII This is generally considered as a marriage-song sung at the marriages of the Israelites, strongly pointing out the happiness of such as are truly religious, and the claim they thereby obtain to be blessed in their person, in their family, and in the prosperity of their country Travell It is introduced into our marriage service

Marriage was ordained by God to complete the felicity of man

6 Yet, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel

PSALM CXXIX

1 An exhortation to praise God for saving Israel in their great afflictions 5 The haters of the church are cursed

¶ A Song of degrees

1 Or Much

¶ MANY a time have they afflicted me from my youth, my Israel now say

2 Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth yet they have not prevailed against me

3 The plowers plowed upon my back, they made long then furrows

4 The LORD is righteous he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked

5 I let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Zion.

6 Let them be as the grass upon the housetops, which withereth afore it groweth up

7 Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand, nor he that bindeth sheaves his bosom

8 Neither do they which go by say, The

in a state of innocence and the benediction of Heaven will ever descend upon it, when undertaken in the fear of the Lord. The vine a lowly plant, raised with tender care, becoming by its luxuriance its beauty and its clusters, the ornament and glory of the house to which it is joined, and by which it is supported, forms the finest imaginable emblem of a fair, virtuous, and fruitful wife. The olive trees planted by the inhabitants of the eastern countries around their tables, or banqueting places in their gardens, to cheer the eye by their verdure and to refresh the body by their cooling shade, do no less aptly and significantly set forth the pleasure which parents feel at the sight of a numerous and flourishing off-spring. Bp Horne

Psalm CXXIX This Psalm was perhaps composed by Ezra or Nehemiah, for the consolation of the Jews at the time that their enemies obstructed the rebuilding of the city and temple. Dimock It is one of the proper Psalms of the thanksgiving day on the twenty-ninth of May

Ver 3 The plowers plowed &c] A figurative mode of expressing severe oppression

4 The Lord is righteous &c] But God, who is ever faithful to His promises, has destroyed the power of these wicked oppressors. Travell

7 — his bosom] See the note on Ps lxxix 12

8 — The blessing of the Lord &c] This is a poetical form of saying I let them be destroyed, as that which is useless, which affords neither the plenty nor the joy of harvest

Both under the Old Testament and under the New, the church of God has often been assaulted, but He has always preserved it, and its enemies have not been able to destroy it. Hence we may rest in sure belief that His Church will ever stand secure, and that those who hate Zion will be "confounded and turned back." Osterwald

Psalm CXXX In the first part of this Psalm the author prays God earnestly to forgive him his sins and to remit the consequences of them, in strong expectation that pursuant to His word, He would grant his prayer in the second he has obtained his request, and encourages therefore all his brethren blessing of the Lord be upon you we bless you in the name of the Lord

PSALM CXXX

1 The psalmist professeth his hope in prayer, 5 and his patience in hope 7 He exhorteth Israel to hope in God

¶ A Song of degrees

OUT of the depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD

2 Lord, hear my voice let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications

3 If thou, LORD, shouldst mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?

4 But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared

5 I wait for the LORD, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope

6 My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning ¶ I say, more than they that watch for the morning which watch unto the morning

7 Let Israel hope in the LORD for with the LORD there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption

8 And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities to put their trust in God for redeeming them from their sins and the punishment of them. Mudge It seems to have been composed, or at least used, upon occasion of the publick penitence of which mention is made in the ninth and tenth chapters of 1271 Rosenmuller This Psalm is appointed to be used on Ash Wednesday, and is one of those which are styled penitential Psalms

Ver 1 Out of the depths] Or deep waters. Troubles and calamities are figuratively represented by deep waters. Green

3 — shouldst mark iniquities] Shouldst charge as with all our sins. Bp Wilson Wilt be extreme to mark what is thine amiss. Old Translation

6 My soul &c] The meaning is, The guards every morning that hasten to their watches are not earlier than I am in my daily addresses to God. By these guards seem to be meant the priests, or some officers of theirs, which were peculiarly appointed, from a tower, to expect the first appearance of break of day, for the purpose of offering the morning oblation. Jr Hammond See the note on Exod xiv 24

8 And he shall redeem &c] He will assuredly rescue them from those distresses and sufferings, which He hath inflicted on them, as a punishment for their iniquities. Travell

The fourth verse of this Psalm should teach us, upon what ground every man is to build the persuasion of the pardon of his sins. It is the temper of most persons, to be more busy about their assurance, than their obedience and to be confident of their reward, while they should be solicitous about their duty. But to discover whether such men's confidence be sound and rational, or vain and fallacious, I should recommend them to this one criterion and mark of trial, namely, to reflect upon and consider what effects this persuasion of God's mercy, works upon their spirits. If men, from the persuasions of mercy, grow impudent and bold in sin, presume upon God's patience, and venture far upon the stock of a supposed forgiveness they must know that they are under the power of a destructive intimation. Mercy was never intended to serve any man in his vice, to smooth him in his sin, and by abused hopes of pardon to strengthen the hand of his corruption. And therefore he that from God's mercy gathers no argument for His fear, may conclude thus much, that there is no freed forgiveness with God, but no forgiveness for him. Dr South

PSALM CXXXI.

1 David, professing his humility, & exhorteth Israel to hope in God

¶ A Song of degrees of David

LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty: neither do I exercise myself in great matters, or in things too high for me.

2 Surely I have behaved and quieted myself, as a child that is weaned of his mother: my soul is even as a weaned child.

3 Let Israel hope in the LORD from henceforth and for ever

PSALM CXXXII

1 David in his prayer commendeth unto God the religious care he had for the ark. 8 His prayer at the removing of the ark, 11 with a repetition of God's promises

¶ A Song of degrees

LORD, remember David, and all his afflictions

2 How he swaie unto the LORD, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob,

3 Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house, nor go up into my bed,

4 I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eyelids,

5 Until I find out a place for the LORD, an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob

6 Lo, we heard of it at Ephrath, we found it in the fields of the wood

7 We will go into his tabernacles we will worship at his footstool

8 Arise, O LORD, into thy rest, thou and the ark of thy strength

9 Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness, and let thy saints shout for joy

10 For thy servant David's sake turn not away the face of thine anointed

11 The LORD hath sworn in truth unto David, he will not turn from it, Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne

12 If thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony that I shall teach them, then children shall also sit upon thy throne for evermore

13 For the LORD hath chosen Zion, he hath desired it for his habitation

14 This is my rest for ever here will I dwell, for I have desired it

15 I will abundantly bless her provision I will satisfy her poor with bread

16 I will also clothe her priests with salvation and her saints shall shout aloud for joy

17 There will I make the horn of David to bud I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed our great joy, hath told us the very place where He will fix His habitation, (1 Chron. xxi. 18, 26) in the territory of Beth-lehem Ephrata (Gen. xxxv. 16, 19) in the fields of that forest, where the angel stood, and directed David to build an altar to the Lord (1 Chron. xxi. 18 and xxii. 1 Bp Horne Jerusalem being situated not far from Beth-lehem, might be comprehended in the region of Ephrata Merrick

7 — we will worship at his footstool] The Lord's footstool here mentioned, was either the ark of the testimony itself, or the place at least where it stood, called the Holy of Holies, towards which the Jews in their temple used to worship For Merck

8 Arise, O Lord, into thy rest] Arise, O Lord, to take possession of thy resting place Green

10 — turn not away &c] Do not reject the prayer of him, whom Thou hast consecrated to be king of thy people Travell

11 The Lord hath sworn &c] That this is a prophecy of the Messiah, we have the authority of St. Peter to say Acts ii. 30 This promise to David occurs, 2 Sam. vii. 12 and hath a twofold sense, relating to Solomon in type and shadow, to Christ in truth and substance Bp Horne

12 — for evermore] The temporal kingdom of David continued in the line of David till the birth of Christ, when the spiritual kingdom commenced in the person of this Son of David, of which there shall be no end Dimock

16 I will also clothe her priests with salvation] I will spread My protection and defence over her priests, which are consecrated to Me Bp Hall

17 — the horn of David &c] The "horn" and "lamp" signify the regal dignity of David No one shall one of his successors fail, but another shall be raised up to succeed him Green The Jews confess that this verse mystically refers to Christ Bp Horne

The vow which David had made to establish a fixed place of

† Heb walk

† Heb wonderful

† Heb my

† Heb from

about 1000

† Heb
salutations

Psalm CXXXI This Psalm was probably intended as a form of humble devotion, to be used at seasons of religious humiliation

Ver. 2 Surely I have behaved &c] The meaning seems to be, I depend wholly upon God's providence for the way and time of bringing me to the kingdom, as the poor helpless infant, when it is deprived of its natural and accustomed food, the mother's milk, takes no care to provide for itself, but wholly relies upon its mother's care for its support Poole

This Psalm expresses the sentiments which all the children of God ought to entertain they are to be humble not rising at high things but resembling little children in innocence and simplicity What David teaches us on this head, is the same with what our Lord more fully recommends in the Gospel when He tells us, that if we become not as little children, He will not acknowledge us for His disciples, nor shall we enter into the kingdom of heaven Waterhouse

Psalm CXXXII Some are of opinion that this Psalm was composed by Solomon at the dedication of the temple, since he includes his prayer upon that occasion with three verses of it (2 Chron. vi. 41, 42) Many parts of it refer so plainly to the Messiah, that it is well adapted to the service of Christmas-day Travell

Ver. 3 I will not come into &c] This is not to be understood literally but as figurative expression of his passionate desire to do this work, which was so earnest that neither his house nor bed, nor sleep, could give him any content till it was completed, or in some forwardness Poole

5 — a place for the Lord] A convenient place for the ark of the Lord, 1 Chron. xv. 1 and xvi. 1—43, Bp Patrick

6 Lo, we heard of it &c] In other words, as Bp Patrick hath paraphrased this verse, "And now, behold, the Lord Himself, to 18 His enemies will I clothe with shame: but upon himself shall his crown flourish

PSALM CXXXIII.

The benefit of the communion of saints

¶ A Song of degrees of David

† He or it ther

BEHOLD, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!

2 It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments;

3 As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the Lord commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

PSALM CXXXIV

An exhortation to bless God

¶ A Song of degrees

BEHOLD, bless ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord, which by night stand in the house of the Lord.

† Or in holiness

2 Lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and bless the Lord

Divine service was a striking mark of his piety. From hence great men, magistrates, and all men in general, ought to learn that they should assist with the greatest fervency, the glory of God and His true worship, and promote them to the utmost of their power. The choice which God had made of Zion for the place of His worship, and the promises with which He had engaged to dwell there for ever to bless and prosper it, are to be applied to the Christian Church, in which He dwells in a more particular manner, and wherein He is to be worshipped and adored unto the end of the world. We ought all of us continually to pray for the preservation of the Church for a blessing on its ministers, and on all its members. Osterwald

Psalm CXXXIII This short but pleasing Psalm was composed either to recommend unity among the tribes of Israel, or to celebrate it when it had taken place. It was fitly used by the first Christians to express their joy for the blessed union of Jews and Gentiles, and may now serve the uses of all Christian societies, whose happiness lie in holy peace and concord. Bps Horne and Patrick

Ver 2 It is like the precious ointment &c ] The happiness derived to all classes of the community from the establishment of unity is here aptly compared to the holy oil which diffuses sanctity and fragrance over the person and garments of the high priest.

— skirt ] The original word does not signify 'skirts' but the upper part of the garment about the neck, near the head. This garment was put over the head, and the neck part or collar where the head came through it is the part meant. Reever

3 — the dew of Hermon, ] Maundrell says, 'We were sufficiently instructed by experience what the holy Psalmist means by the dew of Hermon: our tents being as wet with it as if it had rained all night.'

— the mountains of Zion ] These seem to be those mountains which stood round about Jerusalem. Rosenmüller

— for there &c ] That is, God hath promised all kind of prosperity upon the dwelling of those who live together in unity. Green, Rosenmüller

3 The Lord that made heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion.

PSALM CXXXV

1 An exhortation to praise God for his mercy, 5 for his power, 8 for his judgments, 15 The vanity of idols, 19 An exhortation to bless God

PRAISE ye the Lord. Praise ye the name of the Lord, praise him, O ye servants of the Lord.

2 Ye that stand in the house of the Lord, in the courts of the house of our God,

3 Praise the Lord, for the Lord is good: sing praises unto his name, for it is pleasant.

4 For the Lord hath chosen Jacob unto himself, and Israel for his peculiar treasure.

5 For I know that the Lord is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.

6 Whatsoever the Lord pleased, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places.

7 He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth; he maketh lightnings for the rain; he bringeth the wind out of his treasures.

The colouring of the picture presented to us in this Psalm is much heightened by its being viewed in another light: it is a representation of spiritual unity in the Church. The spirit of heavenly love was that oil of gladness which Jehovah poured without measure on Him who is the High Priest and Head of His Church. Insinuating and healing, comforting and exalting, it diffused from Him over His body mystical even down to the least and lowest members, of His fulness have we all received. Nor did the dew of heaven, in time of drought, ever prove more refreshing and beneficial to the mountains of Judah than are the influences of Grace when descending in soft silence from above upon the Church, in the union and communion of which, God hath commanded the blessing, even life for evermore. L. J. Horne

Psalm CXXXIV This Psalm seems to be nothing more than the alternate cry of the two different divisions of the temple watch. The first watch addresses the second reminding them of their duty: the second answers by a solemn blessing, which addresses and the answer seem both to be a set form which each division proclaimed, or sung aloud at stated intervals, to notify the time of night. Bp Louth

The ministers of God should learn from this Psalm that their night in His temple, and to pray for the people of Israel, but to the ministers of the Christian church, by their office, in a particular manner, called to bless and praise continually God's name and to pray without ceasing for the prosperity of the Church. Osterwald

Psalm CXXXV This Psalm is thought to have been sung by the Levites at the opening of the gates of the temple. Th Wells

Ver 7 — he maketh lightnings for the rain ] He maketh the lightnings to attend the rain. Green Dr Russell, in his description of the weather at Aleppo in September, tells us that seldom a night passes without such lightning in the north-west quarter.

for his mercy, power, &c.

PSALMS.

God's mercies particularly enumerated.

Exod-12

Heb on men into beast

Numb
1 24 25
26 27 28

Heb in a man

Psal 11
4 6 8 10

8<sup>b</sup> Who smote the firstborn of Egypt, † both of man and beast.

9 Who sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants

10<sup>c</sup> Who smote great nations, and slew mighty kings,

11 Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan

12<sup>d</sup> And gave their land for an heritage, to heritage unto Israel his people

13 Thy name, O LORD, endureth for ever, and thy memorial, O LORD, throughout all generations

14 For the LORD will judge his people, and he will repent himself concerning his servants

15<sup>e</sup> The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the work of men's hands

16 They have mouths, but they speak not, eyes have they, but they see not,

17 They have ears, but they hear not, neither is there any breath in their mouths

18 They that make them are like unto them: so is every one that trusteth in them

19 Bless the LORD, O house of Israel: bless the LORD, O house of Aaron

20 Bless the LORD, O house of Levi: that fear the LORD, bless the LORD

21 Blessed be the LORD out of Zion, which dwelleth at Jerusalem: Praise ye
the LORD

but not attended with thunder and that when this lightning appears in the west or south-west points it is a sure sign of the approaching rain which is often followed with thunder Harmer

14 — will judge his people,] Will plead for, or avenge His people — Dr Hammond

— will repent himself concerning his servants] Will be gra-tious unto His servants Old Translation

18 They that make them &c.] They, who form them for objects of worship or who blindly depend upon them for favour and support, are as stupid and senseless, as the very idols themselves
Truill

All the servants of God, they more especially who minister in the temple, are repeatedly in this as in the foregoing Psalm, excited to praise their blessed Master. Two of the reasons assigned why they should do this are first, the goodness of that Master, and secondly the pleasantness of the employment. The latter of these reasons hath a natural and necessary dependance on the former. A sense of the Divine mercy will tune our hearts and voices to praise. We who are upon earth, often find ourselves disposed for the duty of thanksgiving because the concerns of the body, the cares and pleasures of life, extinguish for a time this sense in us, until grace, prayer, and meditation, render it again lively and active. In the inhabitants of heaven who behold God without the veil of matter interposed it is always so, and therefore, they rest not day nor night from singing hallelujahs nor cease one moment to rejoice in God their Saviour Bp Horne

Psalm CXXXVI This is a delightful hymn of praise and

PSALM CXXXVI.

An exhortation to give thanks to God for particular mercies

O<sup>a</sup> GIVE thanks unto the LORD, for he is good for his mercy endureth for ever <sup>a Psal 118 1 & 119</sup>

2 O give thanks unto the God of gods for his mercy endureth for ever

3 O give thanks to the Lord of lords for his mercy endureth for ever

4 To him who alone doeth great wonders for his mercy endureth for ever

5<sup>b</sup> To him that by wisdom made the heavens for his mercy endureth for ever

6<sup>c</sup> To him that stretched out the earth above the waters for his mercy endureth
for ever

7<sup>d</sup> To him that made great lights for his mercy endureth for ever

8 The sun to rule by day for his mercy endureth for ever

9 The moon and stars to rule by night for his mercy endureth for ever

10<sup>e</sup> To him that smote Egypt in their firstborn for his mercy endureth for ever <sup>Exod 12</sup> 11<sup>f</sup> And brought out Israel from among them for his mercy endureth for ever <sup>Exod 13</sup> 12 With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm for his mercy endureth

for ever

13<sup>g</sup> To him which divided the Red sea into parts for his mercy endureth for ever <sup>Exod 14</sup>

14 And made Israel to pass through the thanksgiving to Jehovah God of gods, and Lord of lords for the wonders of creation, of providence and grace which were probably celebrated in due order by one half of the choir while the other half or perhaps the whole in full choirs took up the burden of each verse. For His mercy endureth for ever. A form prescribed by David (1 Chron xvi 41) to be used continually in the Divine service. A form highly proper for creatures, and sinful creatures, to use whose great employment it is now and will be for ever, to magnify the mercy and loving-kindness of their God Bp Horne

Vers 2 — God of gods] That is Sovereign of all the heavenly hosts Bp Patrick See Exod xxiii 11 Dr Mack

3 — Lord of lords] Lord of the kings and princes of the earth Bp Patrick

4 To him who alone doeth great wonders] All the works of God are wonderful and speak Him done to have been given understanding. The established course of the world is in reality no less admirable than are those extraordinary interpositions of Omnipotence whereby it hath been sometimes interrupted and suspended though the latter, on account of their novelty are apt to affect us more than the former doth which is ever before our eyes, and therefore less regarded by us. How many of those for whom the wonders of creation, providence and redemption have been so might think none of them worthy their attention! Angels, administers and alone where man will not deign to cast an eye or imploy a thought Bp Horne

The Sovereign Prince the great Author of nature has in Him all possible perfection as well in kind as in degree so that when we have raised our notion of this infinite Being as high as it is possi-midst of it for his mercy endureth for ever

<sup>Exod 14 28</sup> 15 <sup>† Heb</sup> But <sup>shaked off</sup> † overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red sea for his mercy endureth for ever.

<sup>Exod 17 22</sup> 16 † To him which led his people through the wilderness for his mercy endureth for ever

17 To him which smote great kings for his mercy endureth for ever

<sup>Deut 29</sup> 18 † And slew famous kings for his mercy endureth for ever

<sup>Psalm 135 10 11</sup> 19 † Sihon king of the Amorites for his mercy endureth for ever

<sup>Numb 21 21</sup> 20 † And Og the king of Bashan for his mercy endureth for ever

<sup>Josh 12 7</sup> 21 † And gave their land for an heritage for his mercy endureth for ever

22 Even an heritage unto Israel his servant for his mercy endureth for ever

23 Who remembered us in our low estate for his mercy endureth for ever

24 And hath redeemed us from our enemies for his mercy endureth for ever

25 Who giveth food to all flesh for his mercy endureth for ever

26 O give thanks unto the God of heaven for his mercy endureth for ever

PSALM CXXXVII

1 The consistency of the Jews in captivity 7 The prophet curseth Edom and Babel ble for the mind of man to go, it will fall infinitely short of what He really is. There is no end of His greatness. The most exalted creature He has made is only capable of adoring it, none but Himself can comprehend it. Such He is, when considered by the light of reason and philosophy. But if we would see Him in all the wonders of His mercy, we must have recourse to revelation, which represents Him to us not only as infinitely great and glorious, but as infinitely good and just in His dispensations towards man. We should often refresh our minds with such thoughts of Him, and annihilate ourselves before Him in the contemplation of our own worthlessness, and of His transcendent excellency and perfection. Addison

Psalm CXXXVII This is the woful lamentation of one of the Jewish captives in Babylon, either at the time of their captivity or at their return from it. It contains a mournful reflexion on their banishment from their native country combined with the insolent behaviour of their enemies and foretells the future destruction which awaited the city of Babylon and its devoted inhabitants. Truett

Vt 1 — we sat down ] Sitting on the ground was a posture that denoted mourning and deep distress. See Lam 11 10 Job 11 13 Bp Lowth

4 How shall we sing &c ] Many singers were carried captives, Isa 11 31 These would of course carry their instruments with them and be insulted as here. Their songs were sacred and unfit to be sung before idolaters. But the words, "How shall we sing &c" are not an answer given to their enemies, but the free utterance of the feelings of the Jews amongst themselves. Abp Secker

BY the rivers of Babylon, there we sat about 570 down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion

2 We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof,

3 For there they that carried us away captive required of us <sup>† Heb</sup> a song, and they that I wasted us <sup>† Heb</sup> required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion

4 How shall we sing the Lord's song in a † strange land

5 If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning

6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth, if I prefer not Jerusalem above † my chief joy

7 Remember, O Lord, the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem, who said, † Rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof

8 O daughter of Babylon, who art to be † destroyed, happy shall he be, † that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us

9 Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against † the stones

PSALM CXXXVIII

1 David praiseth God for the truth of his word 4 He propheseth that the kings of the earth shall praise God 7 He professeth his confidence in God

5 — her cunning ] Or, skill to play upon the harp. Dr Wells

6 — if I prefer not &c ] Literally, If I do not exalt Jerusalem above the chief or top, of my joy, that is, if I do not make it the principal subject of my joy. Bp Lowth

7 Remember, O Lord, — day of Jerusalem ] Or, Remember O Lord to the children of Edom the day of Jerusalem, that is, punish them for their cruel insults. Dimock — the day of Jerusalem ] The day on which it was destroyed. Rosenmuller

8 — happy shall he be ] The meaning of these words is He shall go on and prosper, for the Lord of Hosts shall go with him, and fight his battle against the enemy and oppressor of His people. Bp Horne

9 — dasheth thy little ones against the stones ] That the Babylonians probably used this cruelty to the Israelites. see Lam 11 11 and Isa. xiii 16 Dimock

If the law of nature obliges a man to love and reverence his parents who begat him, it also binds him to a vehement affection and concernment for his country, the place of his birth, and the air that nourished him. The happy state and condition of his country is a greater joy and comfort to a true patriot, than his own particular state of wealth and prosperity can be, and he is more afflicted and cast down for any publick misery that befalls it than for any circumstance of it that brings calamity to himself. Lord Clarendon

Psalm CXXXVIII In the Greek version this Psalm is said to have been made use of by Haggai and Zechariah at the rebuilding of the temple. Dr Hammond

¶ A Psalm of David

Psalm 119
16

I WILL praise thee with my whole heart. before the gods will I sing praise unto thee

2 I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name

3 In the day when I cried thou answeredst me, and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul

4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee O LORD, when they hear the words of thy mouth

5 Yea, they shall sing in the ways of the LORD: for great is the glory of the LORD

6 Though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off

7 Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save
me

8 The LORD will perfect that which con-cerneth me: thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands

PSALM CXXXIX

1 David praise God for his allseeing providence, 17 and for his infinite mercies 19 He despiseth the wicked 23 He prayeth for sincerity

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

Ver 1 — before the gods] Probably, in the presence of the princes and nobles assembled at some national solemnity

2 — toward thy holy temple] Wherever the ark was there was the temple of Jehovah. See 1 Sam vi 3. And the Psalmist probably directed himself to that point. See Dan vi 10. Dimock

— for thou hast magnified &c] God, he says, had done honour to His word beyond all that had ever been said or imagined of Him. Mudge. Or the rendering may be, "for Thou hast magnified Thy name and Thy word above all things." Dimock and Old Translation.

5 — they shall sing in the ways of the Lord] They shall rejoice in the doctrine of God delivered by Christ

6 — the proud he knoweth afar off] As to the proud, God knoweth and He detesteth them. He beholdeth and keepeth them at a distance. Bp Horne

In the former part of this hymn, the fervent zeal which animates true believers appears in a strong light, it inclines them to rejoice in God, to worship Him, to sing His praises, and to declare His lovingkindness before all men, even before the great men of the earth that they may learn to fear God, and shew forth His glory. Osterwald. From the last verse we learn that in troublous times and the days of affliction, we must look back on that which God hath already done for us, and from thence draw an argument that He will perfect that which remains and not leave His work unfinished, we must remember that His mercies fail not after a time, but endure forever the same, and when we call to mind that we are the work of His own hands,

O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me

2 Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off

3 Thou || compassest my path and my || Or, lying down, and art acquainted with all my || innominate ways

4 For there is not a word in my tongue but, lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether thine

5 Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me

6 Such knowledge is too wonderful for me, it is high, I cannot attain unto it

7 Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?

8 * If I ascend up into heaven, thou art <sup>a</sup> Amos 9 there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, <sup>2</sup> 3 thou art there

9 If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea,

10 Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me

11 If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me, even the night shall be light about me

12 Yea, <sup>b</sup> the darkness † hideth not from <sup>b</sup> Job 26 6 thee: but the night shineth as the day <sup>c</sup> Habr 4 19 † the darkness and the light are both alike <sup>d</sup> Heb to thee <sup>e</sup> darkness <sup>f</sup> not

13 For thou hast possessed my reins <sup>g</sup> Heb thou hast covered me in my mother's <sup>h</sup> as is the womb <sup>i</sup> darkness, so <sup>j</sup> is the light

how can we think He will forsake us unless we utterly and finally forsake Him? Bp Horne

Psalm CXXXIX. It seems evident from the latter part of this noble and instructive Psalm that the author penned it at a time when he was persecuted and calumniated, as an appeal to the ill-seeing Judge between him and his adversaries. Bp Horne

Ver 2 — as far off] From heaven, Thy dwelling place. Cicero
I sing before thee that is I sing before they are uttered, is the rendering in the Old Translation

3 Thou compassest my path &c] That is Thou watchest and sistest all my actions, both by day and night. Travell

6 — laid thine hand upon me] That is, hast restrained me, that I cannot stir without Thy leave. Bp Patrick

7 — from thy spirit] By this expression most of the ancient fathers, and the generality of modern interpreters, understand the Holy Ghost. It is also clear from Psalm li 13, &c that this Person of the Trinity was well known to the Jews in the time of David. Dimock

8 — if I make my bed in hell] That is, If I lie down in the grave. Bp Secker

9 If I take the wings &c] Could I be transported, with the swiftness of light to the regions of the farthest east, or could I make my dwelling in the remotest western sea. Travell

— the sea] That is, the Mediterranean sea, which was west of Judea. Dimock

10 For thou hast possessed my reins] Or rather, Because thou hast created my reins. This verse contains the reason why

1 I will praise thee, for I am fearfully and wonderfully made. marvellous are thy works, and that my soul knoweth right well

† Heb greatly

† Or in it

15 My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth

† Heb of them

† Or what days they should be fashioned

16 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect, and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them

† Heb
into me

17 How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them!

18 If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake I am still with thee

19 Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloody men

20 For they speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain

21 Do not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?

22 I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies

23 Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts

† Heb ways of mine

24 And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting darkness could not screen him from the Lord because He who fashioned the heart and reins would in every place be able to search them. Dmck Green

11 I will praise thee for I am fearfully and wonderfully made.] The C who were skilled in anatomy among the ancients concluded from the outward and inward make of the human body that it was the work of a Being transcendently wise and powerful. As the world grew more enlightened in this art their discoveries gave them fresh opportunities of admiring the conduct of Providence in the formation of a human body. Green was converted by his dissections and could not but own a Supreme Being upon a survey of this His handy-work. By means of modern discoveries we see new wonders in the human frame. In short the body of man is such a subject as stands the utmost test of examination. Though it appears formed with the nicest wisdom upon a superficial survey of it it still mends upon the curiously and produces our surprise and amazement in proportion as we pry into it. Adanson

15 — in the lowest parts of the earth.] By this expression is meant the womb where by the wonderful power and wisdom of the Divine World in its operating in secret, the human form is gradually fashioned and matured for its birth. Bp Horne

16 Thine eyes did see &c.] When the matter of which I am made, was without form it was visible to Thee how all my body should be framed and accordingly all my members were fashioned and adapted to their several uses. Bp Patrick

17 How precious &c.] How precious unto me O God, are the thoughts of Thee! how numerous are the subjects of them! Green

19 — ye bloody men.] Ye blood thirsty men. Bp Horne, Poole

PSALM CXL

1 David prayeth to be delivered from Saul and Doeg 8 He prayeth against them 12 He comforteth himself by confidence in God

¶ To the chief Musician, A Psalm of David

DELIVER me, O Lord, from the evil man, preserve me from the violent man,

† Heb in his hands

2 Which imagine mischief, in their heart, continually as they gathered together for war

3 They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent, adders' poison under their lips. Selah

† Rom 9:1
Psalm 8:1

4 Keep me, O Lord, from the hands of the wicked, preserve me from the violent man, who have purposed to overthrow my goings

5 The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords, they have spread a net by the wayside, they have set gins for me. Selah

6 I said unto the Lord, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my supplications, O Lord

7 O God the Lord, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battle

8 Grant not, O Lord, the desires of the wicked: further not his wicked device, lest they exalt themselves. Selah

† Or let them not be exalted

9 As for the head of those that compass

The consideration that the Divine Being inhabits infinitude that He dwells among all His works, that He is present to the mind of man and that He discovers Himself in a more glorious manner among the regions of the blessed, should be kept awake in us at all times and in all places and possess our minds with a perpetual reverence and awe. It should be interwoven with all our thoughts and perceptions and become one with the consciousness of our being. It is not to be reflected on with the coldness of philosophy but ought to sink us into the lowest prostration before Him who is so astonishingly great, wonderful and holy. Adanson

Psalm CXL. This Psalm is a prayer of David's for deliverance from his malicious and treacherous enemies, such as Doeg and the Ziphites, who had undertaken to overthrow him and prediction of the evils which should fall upon them, is a reward of their dealings with him. Dr Hammond

Vs 1 — from the violent man.] Thus Saul is characterized Ps xvi 48. Green

3 They have sharpened &c.] That is By their false accusations as by so much poison, they have endeavoured to destroy me. D. Wells

5 The proud have hid a snare &c.] David here describes the subtlety and industry employed by his enemies to effect his destruction by lying in wait for him, as a skillful fowler doth for his game, so that they thought it impossible he should escape their hands. Bp Horne

— gear.] Or traps. Old Translation

9, 10 11 As for the head &c.] The prophet in these three verses, predicted those just judgments which Heaven will inflict on the slanders and persecutors of the righteous. Their lips me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.

10 Let burning coals fall upon them: let them be cast into the fire, into deep pits, that they rise not up again

11 Let not an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.

12 I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor

13 Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name: the upright shall dwell in thy presence

PSALM CXLI.

1 David prayeth that his suit may be acceptable, his conscience sincere, and his life safe from snares

¶ A Psalm of David

LORD, I cry unto thee: make haste unto me, give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee.

2 Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice

3 Set a watch, O LORD, before my mouth, keep the door of my lips

4 Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practise wicked works with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties high uttered mischief against others shall be the means of covering themselves with confusion, when out of their own mouths they shall be judged. Those tongues, which have contributed to the world on fire, shall be tormented with the hot burning darts of eternal vengeance: and they who with so much engines and diligence have prepared pits for the destruction of their brethren, shall be cast into a deep and bottomless pit, out of which they shall never rise. Bp Horne

We are here to observe, that God defends the righteous from the violence of the wicked, that His vengeance pursues cruel and unjust men, and those who slander and deceive their neighbours, at how formidable soever their power may appear, He defeats their designs, and if He suffers the innocent to be oppressed for a while, He shews at last that He is their Protector, and gives them occasion to own and celebrate His power, justice, and goodness. In this view and with such a spirit as this, and not with a spirit of resentment and revenge against them that have offended us, we ought to read and meditate on this Psalm. Orin

Psalm CXLI David being driven out of Judah by Saul, begs God's grace that he may not sin against Him with his tongue, nor be drawn into any sinful compliances by living amongst sinners. He confides in God's help, and prays that He would deliver him from those who sought his ruin. He probably composed this Psalm just before his flight to Achish, king of Gath, when he had a second time spared Saul's life, but could trust him no longer. See 1 Sam. xxvi and xxvii 1. Green Bp Horne

Vers 2 Let my prayer &c.] This verse plainly shews, that the psalmist was then at a distance from the tabernacle, where all the solemn prayers of the Israelites, together with their daily sacrifices, were offered up. And therefore he begs that God would accept of all what it was in his power to perform, namely, the devotion of his heart, and the elevation of his hands in prayer: that

Vol I

5 Let the righteous smite me: it shall be a kindness: and let him reprove me, it shall be an excellent oil, which shall not break my head: for yet my prayer also shall be in their calamities

6 When their judges are overthrown in stony places, they shall hear my words; for they are sweet

7 Our bones are scattered at the grave's mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth

8 But mine eyes are unto thee, O God the Lord: in thee is my trust, I have not my soul destitute

9 Keep me from the snares which they have laid for me, and the gins of the workers of iniquity.

10 Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst that I withal escape

PSALM CXLII.

David sheweth that in his trouble all his comfort was in prayer unto God

¶ Maschil of David, A Prayer when he was in the cave

I CRIED unto the LORD with my voice, with my voice unto the LORD did I make my supplication

2 I poured out my complaint before him, I shewed before him my trouble the one might ascend to heaven, fragrant and well-pleasing as the cloud of "incense" mounting from the holy altar, and the other in conjunction with it, prevail instead of the "evening oblation," for the deliverance of himself and his companions. Bp Horne

4 Incline not my heart.] "O let not mine heart be inclined Old Translation

— let me not eat of their dainties.] Let me not partake of their society

6 When their judges &c.] This passage has been variously rendered. According to our translation the sense may be, "When their judges (the leaders, principal persons of my enemies) are overthrown in stony places, endeavouring to escape into a place of safety, they will hearken to My counsels and offers, which they now despise." Poole

7 Our bones are scattered &c.] Expressing the great danger in which he and his friends were, of being utterly destroyed by their enemies. Junius

The chief security against the fruitless anguish of impatience must arise from frequent reflexion on the wisdom and goodness of the God of nature, in whose hands are riches and poverty, honour and disgrace, pleasure and pain, life and death. A settled conviction of the tendency of every thing to our good, and the possibility of turning miseries into happiness by receiving them rightly, will incline us to bless the name of the Lord, whether He gives or takes away. Dr Johnson

Psalm CXLII This Psalm is entitled, "A prayer of David when he was in the cave, probably of Engedi, or Adullam, 1 Sam. xxiv 1, 2, 3 and xxv 1." It is an earnest supplication to God, stating the utter failure of all human assistance, and humbly praying for the Divine aid. Travell

Vers 1 I cried.] Rather, I will cry. The whole of this Psalm seems to be an actual prayer. Bp Horne

G Y

3 When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path. In the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me.

Or <sup>Look on the right hand, and see</sup> 4 I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me: refuge failed me; † no man cared for my soul.

5 I cried unto thee, O LORD I said, Thou art my refuge and my portion in the land of the living

6 Attend unto my cry, for I am brought very low deliver me from my persecutors, for they are stronger than I

7 Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy name the righteous shall compass me about, for thou shalt deal bountifully with me

PSALM CXLIII

1 David prayeth for favour in judgment, He complaineth of his griefs, He strengtheneth his faith by meditation and prayer 7 He prayeth for grace, 9 for deliverance, 10 for sanctification, 12 for destruction of his enemies

¶ A Psalm of David.

HEAR my prayer, O LORD, give ear to my supplications in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness

2 And enter not into judgment with thy servant for in thy sight shall no man living be justified

3 For the enemy hath persecuted my soul, he hath smitten my life down to the ground, he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me, my heart within me is desolate

5 I remember the days of old, I meditate on all thy works, I muse on the work of thy hands

6 I stretch forth my hands unto thee my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land Selah

7 Hear me speedily, O LORD my spirit faileth hide not thy face from me, † lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.

8 Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning, for in thee do I trust cause me to know the way wherein I should walk, for I lift up my soul unto thee

9 Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies I † flee unto thee to hide me

10 Teach me to do thy will, for thou art my God thy spirit is good, lead me into the land of uprightness

11 Quicken me, O LORD, for thy name's sake for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble

12 And of thy mercy cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul for I am thy servant.

2 When my spirit was overwhelmed &c.] Or, When my spirit is overwhelmed within me, then Thou knowest my path in the way wherein I walk, have they privily laid a snare for me The meaning is, Though my thoughts are so broken and confused, that I am not able to counsel and direct myself in these straits, yet Thou knowest the path wherein I walk, Thou art with me, and wilt preserve me from those who watch all my steps, and lie in ambush for me Bp Horne

7 — out of prison.] That is, out of the cave in which he was confined Bp Patrick

— the righteous shall compass me about.] To join my party and assist me

The state of David in the cave of Adullam was a state of utter destitution, but in that desolate, and seemingly desperate situation, he desponded not He had a Friend in heaven, into whose bosom he "poured forth his complaint and to whom he told the story of his trouble and distress When danger besets us around and fear is on every side let us follow the example of David, and that of a greater than David, who, when the Jews and Gentiles conspired against Him, and He was left all alone, in the garden and on the cross, gave Himself unto prayer Bp Horne

Psalm CXLIII In this Psalm David beseeches God that, passing by his manifold sins, and considering only what he suffered from his enemies, He would be pleased, according to His mercies in times past, to hearken unto his prayer, to conduct him by His good Spirit, and to deliver him from persecution This being one of the penitential Psalms is appointed to be used on Ash Wednesday Travell

V. 2 — for in thy sight shall &c.] For if Thou shouldst proceed according to the rigour of the law, the best man living would not be acquitted at Thy tribunal Bp Patrick

3 — he hath made me to dwell &c.] He hath forced me to seek my safety in holes and obscure places in the wilderness, where I seem to be buried alive, without any hope of a resurrection Bp Patrick

5 — on the work of thy hands.] On what Thou hast done for others in the like distress Bp Wilson

6 — as a thirsty land.] The circumstance of the lands of the East being subject to great dryness, which causes them to crack, affords the foundation of this figure, which is certainly extremely beautiful, for these dry lands have deep chinks, which "thirst" for the rain this may be observed in India more than any where a little before the rains fall, and wherever the lands are rich and hard Harmer

8 — in the morning.] That is, speedily Dmoch

10 — thy spirit is good, lead me.] Let Thy good Spirit lead me Abp Sather

— into the land of uprightness.] Or, "through plain ground" the clause before leads to this sense, and there is an expression much the same, Psal xxvii 11, in which the Psalmist prays God to conduct him in a plain level way, (such was that of God-law,) because, if he went out of that, he should be liable to stumble Mudge

The prayer which king David makes at the beginning of this Psalm, in these words, "Enter not into judgment with Thy servant, for in Thy sight shall no man living be justified," is of such general use, that there is no man who has not reason to make it with humility and fervency, His application to God in the time of trouble teaches us, that, whatever danger we are in,

PSALM CXLIV.

David blesseth God for his mercy both to him and to men. 5 He prayeth that God would powerfully deliver him from his enemies. 9 He promiseth to praise God. 11 He prayeth for the happy state of the kingdom.

A Psalm of David

BLESSED be the Lord † my strength, which teacheth my hands † to war, and my fingers to fight.

2 || My goodness, and my fortress; my high tower, and my deliverer; my shield, and he in whom I trust; who subdueth my people under me

3 || Lord, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him? or the son of man, that thou makest account of him?

4 || Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away.

5 Bow thy heavens, O Lord, and come down: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.

6 || Cast forth lightning, and scatter them: shoot out thine arrows, and destroy them.

7 Send thine † hand from above, rid me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of strange children, 8 Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

9 I will sing a new song unto thee, O God: upon a psaltery and an instrument of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.

10 || It is he that giveth † salvation unto kings: who delivereth David his servant from the hurtful sword.

11 Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.

12 That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth, that our daughters may be as corner stones, † polished after the similitude of a palace.

13 That our garners may be full, affording † all manner of store: that our sheep may bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our streets.

14 That our oxen may be † strong to labour, that there be no breaking in, nor going out, that there be no complaining in our streets.

15 || Happy is that people, that is in such a case: yea, happy is that people, whose God is the Lord.

PSALM CXLV.

David praiseth God for his fame, 8 for his goodness, 11 for his kingdom, 14 for his providence, 17 for his saving mercy.

David's Psalm of praise

I WILL extol thee, my God, O king, and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.

2 Every day will I bless thee, and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.

3 Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised, † and his greatness is unsearchable.

4 One generation shall praise thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.

care of them, and to provide all things needful for them. They have His wisdom to instruct them, His power to protect them, His mercy to pardon them, His grace to adorn them here, and His glory to crown them for ever, and all because they have the Lord Himself for their God, not only for their light, their life, their hope, their help, their strength, their tower, their sun, their shield, and their exceeding great reward, but for their God, which is infinitely more than can be couched under any other expression whatsoever. What can those persons lack who are thus related to and interested in Him that is all things in Himself? By Beveridge.

Psalm CXLV. Hitherto in this Divine book we have been presented with chequered scenes of danger and deliverance, distress and mercy. The voice of complaint hath been sometimes succeeded by that of thanksgiving, and praise, at other times, hath terminated in prayer. But now, as if the days of mourning in Zion were ended, we hear no more of Messiah as a man of sorrows, or of the Church as despoiled and afflicted, after the same example, in the world. Henceforth we seem not to be upon earth, but in heaven, mingling with celestial spirits around the throne, and singing, as in the following Psalm, the praises of our God and King, extolling His greatness, His might, His glory, His justice, His mercy, the majesty of His kingdom, and all His adorable perfections and wondrous works. The general subject of this Psalm makes it suitable to the service of Whit-Sunday when we celebrate that great blessing, the descent of the Holy Spirit. By Horne, Travel.

we ought to seek for security and comfort in prayer, and trust in God, and to this end we should meditate upon His works, and the many proofs He has given in all ages of His lovingkindness towards those that fear Him. But whether we are in affliction, or in any other state we ought above all things to beg of God grace to fear Him that we may feel the effects of His love, and be guided by His good Spirit. Ostervald.

Psalm CXLIV ver 3 Lord, what is man, &c. This is spoken in rapture on the regard God had shewn to his petition. Mudge. 7 — great waters, See the notes on Ps. lxxviii 16 and on Numb. xxiv 7.

— from the hand of strange children, That is, from the Philistines, or from idolaters. Dinwiddie.

8 — their right hand is &c. The forms of oaths, like other religious ceremonies, have been always various but consisting, for the most part, of some bodily action, and of a prescribed form of words. Amongst the Jews, the juror held up his right hand towards heaven, which explains this passage. Archdeacon Paley. See the note on Deut. xxxii 40.

13 — our garners Our storehouses. Green.

14 — no breaking in, nor going out, No hostile invasion, nor going into captivity. Green.

The last verse of this Psalm leads us to reflect, wherein the peculiar happiness both now principally consist, of "that people, whose God is the Lord." Their happiness consists in something far above riches and outward greatness, it consists in having the Lord Himself, the Supreme Governor of the world, to take

5 I will speak of the glorious honour of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous <sup>† Heb things, or, words,</sup> works 6 And men shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts: and I will <sup>† Heb declare it</sup> declare thy greatness

7 They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness

8 The Lord is gracious, and full of compassion, slow to anger, and † of great mercy.
<sup>* Exod 31 6 7 Num 14 18 Ps 86 5 15 & 103 8</sup>

9 The Lord is good to all and his tender mercies are over all his works <sup>† Heb great in mercy</sup>

10 All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord, and thy saints shall bless thee

11 They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power.

12 To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom

13 Thy kingdom is † an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations <sup>† Heb a kingdom of all ages</sup>

14 The Lord upholdeth all that fall, and riseth up all those that be bowed down

15 The eyes of all wait upon thee, and thou givest them their meat in due season <sup>† Heb look unto thee</sup>

16 Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing

17 The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and † holy in all his works.
<sup>† Heb merciful, or, bountiful</sup>

18 The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth

19 He will fulfil the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them.

20 The Lord preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.

21 My mouth shall speak thy praise of the Lord: and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever

PSALM CXLVI

1 The psalmist setteth perpetual praises to God. <sup>† Heb exhorteth not to trust in man</sup> 5 God, for his power, justice, and kingdom, is only worthy to be trusted

† PRAISE ye the Lord. Praise the Lord, O my soul <sup>† Heb Hallelujah</sup>

2 While I live will I praise the Lord: I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being

3 Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help.
<sup>* Psal. 118. A. O. salvation</sup>

4 His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth, in that very day his thoughts perish

5 Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God

6 Which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever

7 Which executeth judgment for the oppressed: which giveth food to the hungry. The Lord looseth the prisoners

8 The Lord openeth the eyes of the blind: the Lord raiseth them that are bowed down: the Lord loveth the righteous

Ver 5, 6, 7 I will speak of the glorious honour &c.] Those works of God which demand to be celebrated by the tongues of men, are here divided into three kinds. First, such as declare His glory, and excite our admiration, whenever we behold them. Of this sort are the shining frame of the heavens, and all the bodies which move therein, the earth, with its furniture without, and contents within, the magnificent and stupendous ocean, which flows around it, the different tribes of animals inhabiting both the one and the other, and above all the construction of man, the lord of this lower world. Under the second class of God's works are ranged all those which the Psalmist styles His "terrible acts," or the exertions of His power against His enemies, such as the destruction of the old world by water, of Sodom and Gomorrah by fire, of Pharaoh and his host in the Red sea, of the Canaanitish nations by the sword, and the victory gained over sin and death by the resurrection of Christ. In the third rank stand those works which have proceeded from the goodness of God, and His righteousness in the performance of His promises. And among these we may reckon all the different provisions which have been made by Him for the bodies of men in the world, and by grace for their souls in the Church. On any of these subjects, meditation cannot be long employed without breaking forth into wonder, gratitude, and praise. Sp Hom

We can never speak too much upon the goodness of God, nor ought we to be ever weary in hearing about it. Yet it is to be feared that this point is not well considered and applied. For how could we be so void of love to God, of gratitude towards Him, of faith and hope in Him, were we thoroughly persuaded, did we seriously consider, that He is so exceedingly good towards us? How can we be so insensible of the benefits we enjoy, so distrustful of finding succour in our need, so dissatisfied and discontented with what befalls us, if we conceive and weigh, that all things are guided and governed by immense goodness? How also, if men have such an opinion of God impressed on their minds, comes it to pass, that they are so little careful to imitate Him in kindness, bounty, and mercy to one another? Dr Isaac Barrow

Psalm CXLVI It is observable that, in the original, this and the following Psalms all begin and end with Hallelujah, that is, Praise ye the Lord. The Psalmist here extols the name of God, and calls upon all men to place their confidence in Him alone, who is the Creator, the Preserver, and the Governour of the universe, the Protector of the helpless, and the everlasting King of His people. Travell

Ver 4 — his thoughts.] All his devices and contrivances. Dr Wall

We may learn from this Psalm, 1 That the best use we can make of our lives is to employ them in praising and glorifying God's holy name. 2 That it is a great folly to put our trust in princes, or in any man, since they are mortal, and therefore are mere weakness, and even as nothing, but to enjoy true happiness, we must confide alone in God, who is the Creator of the world, who loves truth and equity, does right to those that are oppressed, and delivers them, and who will reign for ever for the defence of His people and children. Ostwald

9 The LORD preserveth the strangers; he releaseth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down

10<sup>b</sup> The LORD shall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM CXLVII

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God for his care of the church, 4 his power, 6 and his mercy 7 to praise him for his providence 12 to praise him for his blessings upon the kingdom, 15 for his power over the elements, 19 and for his ordinances in the church

PRAISE ye the LORD: for it is good to sing praises unto our God, for it is pleasant, and praise is comely

2 The LORD doth build up Jerusalem he gathereth together the outcasts of Israel

3 He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds

4 He telleth the number of the stars, he calleth them all by their names

5 Great is our LORD, and of great power his understanding is infinite

6 The LORD lifteth up the meek he casteth the wicked down to the ground

7 Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving, sing praise upon the harp unto our God

8 Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains

9 He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry.

10 He delighteth not in the strength of the horse he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man

11 The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy

12 Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem; praise thy God, O Zion

13 For he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates; he hath blessed thy children within thee

14 He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the finest of the wheat

15 He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word runneth very swiftly

16 He giveth snow like wool he scattereth the hoarfrost like ashes

17 He casteth forth his ice like morsels who can stand before his cold?

18 He sendeth out his word, and melteth them he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.

19 He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel

20 He hath not dealt so with any nation and as for his judgments, they have not known them Praise ye the LORD,

PSALM CXLVIII

1 The psalmist exhorteth the celestial, 7 the terrestrial, 11 and the rational creatures to praise God

PRAISE ye the LORD Praise ye the LORD from the heavens praise him in the heights

larly for granting them, together with His protection the peace and plenty which they enjoyed in the land of Canaan, and giving them His holy word and His law In this respect we have still stronger motives to praise the Lord, in consideration of the spiritual blessings vouchsafed to us, among which the most valuable privilege of all is, to be enlightened by the Gospel, and by the knowledge of His will Ostervald

Psalm CXLVIII In this most beautiful Psalm the whole creation is incited to celebrate the glory of the most high God This hymn is elegantly imitated and put into the mouth of Adam by our countryman Milton (Paradise Lost, b 1) who is justly accounted the next in sublimity to those poets who wrote under the influence of Divine inspiration In truth, if we consider man on his first creation, such as the sacred writings represent him, in perfect possession of reason and speech neither ignorant of his own nor of the Divine nature, but fully conscious of the goodness, majesty, and power of God, not an unobservant spectator of the beautiful fabric of the universe, it is most probable, that on the contemplation of these objects his heart would glow with gratitude and love, and that the effect of such an emotion would be an effusion of praise to his great Creator, accompanied with a suitable energy and exaltation of voice. Indeed we scarcely seem to conceive rightly of that original and perfect state of man, unless we assign to him some of the aids of harmony and poetical expression, to enable him to testify, in terms becoming the dignity of the subject, his devout affections towards his infinite Creator Bp. Lowth.

Psalm CXLVII This is a Psalm of praise by the second, third, and thirteenth verses, it seems to have been composed just after the restoration from captivity upon the rebuilding of Jerusalem Mudge Whether it were composed upon the above occasion or not, it is an earnest exhortation to praise God for the illustrious proofs of His power, wisdom, mercy, and justice towards all His creatures, and more especially for the abundant marks of His kindness and favour, which He bestowed upon His chosen people Travell

Ver 2 The Lord doth build &c It is the Lord that enables us to build up Jerusalem again, Ezra vi 14, and encourages all our brethren, that still remain in foreign countries, to return home Dr Wells

10 He delighteth not &c He grants not His favour to the nations which excel in military power, in cavalry and infantry, but He taketh pleasure, &c ver 11

13 For he hath strengthened &c That is, He hath enabled us to fortify again the city of Jerusalem with walls and gates See Neh vi 15, 16 Dr Wells

15 He sendeth forth &c Whatever His pleasure is concerning His creatures upon earth, it is speedily and effectually accomplished Bp Hall

17 his ice Meaning the hail Street

This Psalm presents us with two grand motives to induce us to love and praise God The first, which is common to us with the Jews, and with all men, is taken from the power and wonderful wisdom by which He governs the world The second is taken from the blessings God bestowed on the Jews, and particu-

† Heb
grafs

† Heb of his understanding
there is no number

* Job 38 41
Psalm 104
27 28

† Heb Who maketh thy bread unto
the fat of wheat

† Heb his words

† Heb Hallelujah

1 Praise ye him, all his angels: praise ye him, all his hosts.

3 Praise ye him, sun and moon: praise him, all ye stars of light.

4 Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, and the waters that be above the heavens.

5 Let them praise the name of the LORD: for he commanded, and they were created.

6 He hath also stablished them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which shall not pass.

7 Praise the LORD from the earth, ye dragons, and all deeps

8 Fire, and hail, snow, and vapours, stormy wind fulfilling his word.

9 Mountains, and all hills, fruitful trees, and all cedars

10 Beasts, and all cattle, creeping things, and flying fowl

11 Kings of the earth, and all people, princes, and all judges of the earth.

12 Both young men, and maidens, old men, and children

13 Let them praise the name of the LORD: for his name alone is excellent, his glory is above the earth and heaven

14 He also exalteth the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints, even of the children of Israel, a people near unto him: Praise ye the LORD

PSALM CXLIX.

1 The prophet exhorteth to praise God for his love to the church, and for that power which he hath given to the church to rule the consciences of men

PRAISE ye the LORD Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise in the congregation of saints.

2 Let Israel rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyful in their King

3 Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.

4 For the LORD taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautify the meek with salvation.

5 Let the saints be joyful in glory: let them sing aloud upon their beds.

6 Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a two edged sword in their hand;

7 To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and punishments upon the people,

8 To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron, 9 To execute upon them the judgment written: this honour have all his saints. Praise ye the LORD.

PSALM CL

1 An exhortation to praise God, with all kind of instruments

Ver 1 — a new song.] An illustrious hymn for recent victory. Fenton

3 — in the dance.] See 2 Sam vi. 16 and the note there

4 — he will beautify the meek with salvation.] Those that meekly depend upon Him, He will make glorious, both with His rich blessings here, and with salvation hereafter. Bp Hall

5 — in glory:] That is, for the honour which God putteth upon them. Poole — upon their beds.] That is, in a state of perfect ease and security. Bp. Horne

6 Let the high praises &c.] That the Jews were wont to sing the praises of God as they advanced to combat; may be seen in 2 Macc xiii 15, and xv 26. Street. See also 2 Chron xx 21.

9 — the judgment written.] The judgment written in the law, Deut vii 23 and xxxii 41—43. Dr Wells. This is added to shew that they do not thus work to satisfy their own malicious or revengeful inclinations, but in obedience to God's commands. Poole

This Psalm should stir up all the true members of the Church to sing and publish the praises of God, and to rejoice in Him continually. And as the Israelites sang hymns of joy, because God had made them triumph over their enemies, and the kings that waged war with them, we ought likewise to praise Him for the great He has taken of His Church, and for all the favours we have received from Him; but chiefly, for subduing our spiritual enemies, and putting in our power to triumph over them ourselves, and to be in all things "more than conquerors," through Christ our Lord. Oakes

Psalm CL. This short concluding Psalm is an exhortation to every creature to declare the glory of God, by the tribute of a grateful heart, and the cheerful sound of musical instruments

† Heb birds of wing

† Heb exulted

Ver 7 — ye dragons,] The word here translated "dragons," probably means whales and other sea monsters. Dimock See note on Lam iv 3

8 Fire.] That is, lightning. Dimock

9 — and all cedars.] Comprehending all forest trees

14 He also exalteth &c.] He hath given strength and power to His chosen people and hath thereby afforded them a constant subject of praise and thanksgiving, even that peculiar people, with whom He made a special covenant, and who are near that sacred spot where His glory resides. Travell — near unto him.] Namely, by special relation, friendship, and covenant, and by familiar intercourse, God manifesting His presence and favour to them and they frequently and solemnly approaching His presence and worshipping Him at His footstool. Poole

The material heavens, through all their various regions, with the luminaries placed in them and the waters sustained by them, though they have neither speech nor language, and want the tongue of men, yet by their splendour and magnificence, their motions and their influences, all regulated and exerted according to the ordinance of their Maker, do, in a very intelligible and striking manner, declare the glory of God: they call upon us to translate their actions into our language, and copy their obedience in our lives, that so we may, both by word and deed, glorify, with them, the Creator and Redeemer of the universe. Bp Horne

Psalm CXLIX. In this Psalm there is a reference to some signal deliverance or victory, which God vouchsafed to His people, whom therefore the Psalmist exhorts to praise the Lord with every mark of joy and gratitude, in expectation of their future complete triumph over all their opponents and persecutors. Travell

† Heb Halleluyah

† PRAISE ye the LORD. Praise God in his sanctuary * praise him in the firmament of his power

2 Praise him for his mighty acts : praise him according to his excellent greatness

3 Praise him with the sound of the || trumpet & praise him with the psaltery and harp.

Travell The Hebrews themselves acknowledge that they do not understand the several sorts of musical instruments mentioned in this Psalm By Patrick

1 — praise him in the firmament &c] That is, Let the angels and heavenly hosts praise Him in heaven, where He clearly shews forth His power Rosenmuller

3 Praise him with the sound of the trumpet, &c] The people of God are enjoined in this Psalm to use all the various kinds of musical instruments, in the performance of their Divine services. Sacred musick, under proper regulations, removes the hindrances of our devotion, cures the distractions of our thoughts, and banishes weariness from our minds. It adds solemnity to the publick service, raises all the devout passions in the soul, and causes our duty to become our delight By Horne

6 Let every thing that hath breath praise the Lord] How can we sufficiently prostrate ourselves and fall down before our Maker when we consider that ineffable goodness and wisdom, which

4 Praise him with the timbrel and || dance || Or praise him with stunged instruments and organs

5 Praise him upon the loud cymbals : praise him upon the high sounding cymbals.

6 Let every thing that hath breath praise the LORD * Praise ye the LORD contrived existence for finite natures! What must be the overflowings of that good will, which prompted our Creator to adapt existence to beings, in whom it is not necessary especially when we consider, that He Himself was before, in the complete possession of existence and of happiness, and in the full enjoyment of eternity! What man can think of himself as called out and separated from nothing, of his being made a conscious, a reasonable and happy creature, in short, of his being admitted as a sharer of existence, and a kind of partner in eternity, without being swallowed up in wonder, in praise, in adoration! It is indeed a thought too big for the mind of man, and rather to be entertained in the secrecy of devotion, and in the silence of the soul, than to be expressed by words. The Supreme Being has not given us powers or faculties sufficient to extol and magnify such unutterable goodness. It is however some comfort to us, that we shall be always doing what we shall be never able to do, and that a work, which cannot be finished, will be the work of AN ETERNITY Addison

THE PROVERBS

INTRODUCTION

THE Proverbs, as we are informed at the beginning, and in other parts of the Book, were written, for the most part, by Solomon the son of David—a man, as the Sacred Writings assure us, peculiarly endued with Divine wisdom. Whatever ideas of his superior understanding we may be led to form by the particulars recorded of his judgment and attainments, we shall find them amply justified on perusing the works which remain, and give testimony of his abilities. This enlightened monarch, being desirous of employing the wisdom which he had received, to the advantage of mankind produced several works for their instruction. Of these, however, three only were admitted into the canon of Sacred Writ by later ages, the others being either not designed for religious instruction, or so mutilated by time and accident, as to have been judged imperfect. The Book of Proverbs, that of Ecclesiastes, and that of the Song of Solomon are all that remain of the writings of him, who is related to have spoken “three thousand proverbs;” whose “songs were a thousand and five; and who spoke of the cedar that is in Lebanon, even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the wall; who spake also of beasts, and of fowl, and of creeping things, and of fishes.” The beautiful and valuable compositions of Solomon have perished; we have reason to be grateful for what still remains. Of his Proverbs and Songs the most excellent have been providentially preserved, and as we possess his doctrinal and moral works, we have no right to murmur at the loss of his physical and philosophical productions.

His Book of Proverbs contains the maxims of long experience, framed by one who was well calculated, by his rare qualities and endowments, to draw just lessons from a comprehensive survey of human life. Solomon judiciously sums up his precept in brief energetic sentences, which are well contrived for popular instruction. The wisdom, indeed, of all ages, from the highest antiquity hath chosen to compress its lessons into compendious sentences, which were peculiarly adapted to the simplicity of earlier times, which are readily conceived and easily retained, and which circulate in society as useful principles, to be unfolded and applied as occasion may require. The inspired son of David had the power of giving peculiar energy and weight to this style of writing, and his work have been as it were the storehouse from which posterity hath drawn its best maxims. His Proverbs are so justly founded on principles of human nature, and so adapted to the permanent interests of man, that they agree with the maxims of every age, and may be assumed as rules for the direction of our conduct in every condition and state of life, however various, complicated, or diversified by circumstances, they embrace not only the concerns of private morality, but the great objects of political importance. The Book may be considered under five divisions. The first part, which is a kind of preface, extends to the tenth chapter. This contains general cautions and exhortations from a teacher to his pupil delivered in very various and elegant language, duly connected in its parts, illustrated with beautiful descriptions, decorated with all the ornaments of poetical composition, and well contrived as an engaging introduction to awaken and interest the attention. The second part extends from the eleventh chapter to the seventeenth verse of the twenty-second chapter, and contains what may strictly and properly be called Proverbs, given in unconnected general sentences with much neatness and simplicity, adapted to the instruction of youth, and probably more immediately designed by Solomon for the improvement of his son. In the third part, which contains what is included between the sixteenth verse of the twenty-second chapter and the twenty-fifth chapter, the tutor is supposed, for a more lively effect, to address his pupil as present. He drops the general style of Proverbs, and communicates exhortations in a more continued and connected strain.

The Proverbs which are included between the twenty-fifth and thirtieth chapters, and which constitute the fourth part, are supposed to have been collected from a much greater number by the “man of Hezekiah,” that is, by the prophet whom he employed to restore the service and the writings of the church, as Malakim, and Isiah, and Shebual, and probably Hosea, Micah, and even Isaiah, who all flourished in the reign of that monarch, and doubtless cooperated with his endeavours to establish true Religion among the Jews. These Proverbs, indeed, appear to have been collected by some collectors after the time of Solomon, as they repeat some which he had previously introduced in the former part of the Book. The fifth part contains the precept and exhortations which Agur the son of Jakeh delivered to his pupils Imiel and Ugal, these are included in the thirtieth chapter. It contains also the precepts which the mother of Lemuel delivered to her son, as described in the thirty-first chapter. Concerning these persons, whose works are annexed to those of Solomon, commentators have entertained various opinions. The original words, which describe Agur as the son of the thirtieth chapter, might be differently translated, but admitting the present construction, the most natural and just, we may observe, that the generality of the fathers and ancient commentators have supposed that under the name of Agur, Solomon spoke for himself, though no satisfactory reason can be assigned for his assuming this name. Others, upon very insufficient grounds, conjecture that Agur and Lemuel were interlocutors with Solomon. The Book has no appearance of dialogue, nor is there any interchange of person. It is more probable that though the Book was designed principally to contain the sayings of Solomon, others might be added by the “man of Hezekiah” and Agur might have been an inspired writer, whose moral and proverbial sentences, for such as the import of the word Musar, founded Piety, were joined with those of the Wise Man because of the conformity of their matter. As likewise the dignity of the Book is not affected, if we suppose the last chapter to have been written by a different hand, and admit the mother of Lemuel to have been a Jewish woman, married to some neighbouring prince, for Abigail the daughter of the high priest Achishai and mother of King Hezekiah, since in any case it must be considered as the production of an inspired writer, or it would not have been received into the canon of Scripture. But it was perhaps meant that by Agur we should understand Solomon, for the name which signifies one belonging to God, might have been given unto him as descriptive of his character, since to Solomon God had expressly declared that He would be a Father to him. Gray

This Book is frequently quoted by the Apostles who considered it as a treasure of revealed morality, from which Christians were to derive their rules of conduct. and the canonical authority of no part of the Old Testament is so ratified by the evidence of quotations

INTRODUCTION.

What of the Proverbs But it is remarkable, that the Wisdom of Jesus the Son of Sirach, which has so striking an affinity to the Book of Proverbs, is not quoted in a single instance by the Apostles and Evangelists and the difference between Canon and Apocryphal, is no where so strongly marked as in this example Michaëlis

This Book is entitled 'the Proverbs,' but what we call Proverbs, properly and strictly speaking, are of a different nature; and more than Solomon's Proverbs, are rather to be called Maxims or Sentences. A Proverb is a short moral sentence which means something other than what the words naturally and literally import; that is to say, it must be expressed in a figurative manner. When Solomon says, 'Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not on thine own understanding; this is no proverb, but moral sentence. When he says, 'Drink, ye are out of thine own cistern,' this is a proverb, and it is not to be confounded with that which belongs to another. The Proverbs of Solomon are a collection of wise and moral sayings, usually plain and concise, they are also of the poetical kind and fit into metre and therefore were the more easily learned and remembered by the people whose language they were written in. Have not that air of smartness and vigour, and yet which modern writers have usually affected in their manner and sentence, but they have just as better (truth and solid good sense). No one subject is long pursued in this treatise of Solomon, nor is there any collection or connexion between its parts. The nature of this sort of writing does not admit it. But though the composition be of the disjointed kind yet there is a general design running through the whole, which the author keeps always in view, and that is to instruct the people and particularly young people at their entrance into public and active life, to give them in a lively and earnest desire of real wisdom, and to lay down such clear rules for their behaviour as shall carry them through the world with peace and credit.

Solomon is the first author that we know of who may be called a moralist, and as such he appears in this Book, as well as in the Ecclesiastes. He says nothing, or very little, concerning the Law of Moses, but he is full of explaining, and applying of it to the Precepts, the Promises, and the Levities. He says nothing about revealed religion, but rather confines himself to natural religion or morality. He wrote under the influence of the Divine Spirit but his no claim in it we perceive, to the title of a prophet, for he does not describe in the prophetic style and manner. He says not, the word of the Lord came to me, and thus with the Lord he foretold no future events, and wrought no miracles. In Latin

CHAPTER.

- 1 The use of the proverb 7 In exhortation to fear God and believe his word 10 To avoid the enticings of sinners 20 Wisdom conplaineth of her contempt 21 She threateneth her contempt

THE proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel; 2 To know wisdom and instruction, to perceive the words of understanding, 3 To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity, 4 To give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion 5 A wise man will hear, and will increase learning, and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels

6 To understand a proverb, and the interpretation, the words of the wise, and their dark sayings;

7 ¶ The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge, but fools despise wisdom and instruction

8 My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother:

9 For they shall be to thee an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck

10 ¶ My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not

Chap I ver 2 To know wisdom &c.] The use of these proverbs is, to give true moral and spiritual wisdom and instruction to those that carefully hear of, and read them. Dr Hall

1 To give subtilty to the simple.] Meaning, that the reading of this book will strengthen and shield all way, flexible susceptible persons, especially the young, who want experience in affairs, and so are and just to be misled and ensnared. Dr Hammond

6 To understand a proverb, &c.] To understand a proverb, and its mysterious sense. This study was much in vogue in the time of Solomon, as appears from the instance of the queen of Sheba, who came to prove Solomon with hard questions. Calumb

A wise writer requires a wise reader, and therefore it is that Solomon in his Introduction to the Book of Proverbs, represents that person a considerable proficient in knowledge, who is able to understand a proverb and the interpretation of it, the words of the wise and their dark sayings. In Latin

¶ In fearing the Lord &c.] The first step on his giving a being stability of the first consideration is that all saying knowledge, which is a practice answerable to that knowledge an obedient perspicacity, obedience to the commands of God, is founded in humble and pious reverence towards God, in the under fear of his glorious Name, and the readiness to receive, embrace, and live up in in honest heart His word and His grace, whatever it shall be revealed and afforded to us. Dr Hammond

The fear of the Lord is not only now and then, but almost every where, in Scripture put for the whole duty of man, for godliness in general; and the reason is, that the true fear of God always qualifies and tempers the mind to all good, and does not do otherwise than please and obey God to the utmost of his knowledge and power. Rp. Barthelemy

8 My son, hear the instruction of thy father, &c.] Listen to the instructions, that shall be the lessons of piety and virtue which the father and mother give thee

9 For they shall be an ornament &c.] Meaning, that a child well instructed is adorned in the wisdom, and virtues, and graces which he wears, they are like a crown covering his head, and a chain embellishing his neck. Calumb

10 ¶ My son, if sinners entice thee, &c.] The next and most important advice is to avoid all company. The whole world lies in wickedness, as the apostle 1 John v. 19, and nothing can be more proper or reasonable than for instructors of youth to caution their inexperienced scholars from bad examples. The wise man here instances in one particular vice, the love of money, a being the most predominant and common of all others, and shows how it leads to the most enormous crimes, and is indeed the very root of all evil. Hagen

Editor
CHRIST
about 1000

Or
in the 1st

Job
P. 11
Chap. 10
Or the prince at part

Job
an ill

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

11 If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause.

12 Let us swallow them up alive, as the grave, and whole, as those that go down into the pit.

13 We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil.

14 Cast in thy lot among us, let us all have one purse.

15 My son, walk not thou in the way with them, refrain thy foot from their path.

16 For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.

17 Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of my bird.

18 And they lay wait for their own blood, they lurk privily for their own lives.

19 So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain, which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

20 Wisdom crieth without, she uttereth her voice in the streets.

21 She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city she uttereth her words, saying,

22 How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scornors delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?

23 Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.

24 Because I have called, and ye refused, I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded,

In 1 m

Heb of the time that to human

Heb
H. m thates at an dun
Chap

1 m
1 c
1 c
1 c

17. Surely in vain the net is spread &c.] The general sense seems to be, Surely a bird has sense enough to fly from the net when he sees it: but these persons are by their wicked deeds bringing a snare for their own lives.

18. And they lay wait for their own blood, &c.] These men are setting a trap for themselves, when they lie in wait to take away the lives of others: for they shall not always escape the hand of justice. By Patrick

19. — which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.] Which (evil men) bringeth destruction on those who pursue it. By Hall

20. Wisdom crieth without, &c.] Men cannot fail to be as well acquainted with the excellent instructions of wisdom, as they are with that which is proclaimed in the streets. By Patrick

Wisdom is opposed to folly, and folly in the sacred style is all imputy: so by wisdom is meant universal piety, or obedience of all sort due unto God: and of the precepts of universal righteousness in those things which wisdom prohibits. Dr Hammond

21. — in the streets — in the chief place of concourse, &c.] Here seems to be an enumeration of all the publick places where proclamations were made: the highways the streets the tops of houses the gate where all go in and out, and particularly the chief city Jerusalem from which all laws were proclaimed and dispensed to the lesser cities and regions. Dr Hammond

22. — the scornors.] Profane persons who mock at religion and piety.

25 But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof.

26 I also will laugh at your calamity, I will mock when your fear cometh, 27 When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind, when distress and anguish cometh upon you.

28 Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer, they shall seek me daily, but they shall not find me.

29 For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsel, they despised all my reproof.

31 Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.

32 For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.

33 But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

CHAP II

1 Wisdom promitteth godliness to her children, 10 and safety from evil company 20 and direction in good ways

MY son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee,

2 So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding,

3 Yet, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding,

27. When your fear cometh as desolation, &c.] When calamities and dangers come upon you which the less they are before expected, will the more frightfully tumultuously and dismally seize you.

The Hebrew word translated 'a desolation' seems to signify an occasion of great noise and tumult, when men are thrown into an alarm of approaching danger, and not knowing what it is are unable to prepare for avoiding it. Dr Hammond

28. Then shall they call upon me, &c.] The awful menace of God's judgment upon unrepentant and hardened sinners as incorporated by the Church into the solemn and impressive exhortation contained in her Communion Service.

1. — be filled with their own devices.] Be gladdened with that which they have chosen, receive the just rewards of their own ways and works. Dr Hammond

2. — the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.] Foolish sinners are hardened in their wicked courses by the sense of their continuing prosperity and are therefore hurried on to their own destruction. By Hall

Chap II vers 1—6. Solomon in this passage teaches us, that God is the only fountain of all true wisdom: and that the only way by which we can draw wisdom out of this fountain is, by studying and practising the sacred law of God. Reading

3. — if thou criest after knowledge, &c.] If thou expressest such a

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

Joh
Isaiah
Eccl & 1401
Micah

Or
of the simple

Heb most of the

- Def<sup>r</sup> 4 <sup>11</sup> If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures,
- 5 Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God
- 6 <sup>11</sup> For the LORD giveth wisdom out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding
- 7 He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly
- 8 He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preserveth the way of his saints
- 9 Then shalt thou understand righteousness, and judgment, and equity, yea, every good path
- 10 ¶ When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul,
- 11 Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee
- 12 To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that speaketh froward things,
- 13 Who leave the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness,
- 14 Who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the frowardness of the wicked,
- 15 Whose ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths
- 16 To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words,

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God

18 For her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead

19 None that go unto her return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life

20 That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous

21 <sup>11</sup> For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it

22 <sup>11</sup> But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it

CHAP III

1 In exhortation to obedience 2 to faith 3 to mortification, 9 to devotion, 11 to patience 13 The happy gain of wisdom 19 The power of and the benefit of wisdom 27 An exhortation to charity and peace 31 and contentment 33 The exhortation to the state of the married

MY son, forget not my law, but let thine heart keep my commandments

2 For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee

3 Let not mercy and truth forsake thee bind them about thy neck, write them upon the table of thine heart desire of it is men do of that for which they have the most urgent affection Bp Patrick

The Childer version expresses "crust" by a word which signifies the impatient crying of a child to its mother, aptly describing that vehement desire of grace and wisdom here, which is a special ingredient in piety Dr Hammond

4 <sup>11</sup> If thou seekest her as silver [ If thou seekest her with as much earnestness is covetous men catch for money Perhaps it is a proverbial expression taken from those who dig in mines Bp Patrick

8 <sup>11</sup> He keepeth the paths of judgment [ He preserves pious men in their integrity, encouraging them not to swerve from the rules of justice or to cease to exercise mercy and kindness, being their Keeper and Defender in all their proceedings Bp Patrick

12 — from the man that speaketh froward things [ Not to suffer thee to be perverted by the mouth of him, who would sub- tly insinuate his evil principles into thee Bp Patrick

13 — to walk in the ways of darkness [ In the melancholy gloomy crooked path that leads to eternal misery Dr Hammond

16 — the strange woman, [ The proper meaning of the Hebrew word is, one who is estranged or alienated in her affections from her husband or her God Dr Duffell

The practice here alluded to was chiefly, and more openly carried on by women who came from neighbouring and heathen countries and these being of another religion if they were of any religion would probably seduce those who frequented them into the idolatrous and heinous crime of idolatry as Solomon afterwards knew by his own woful experience Dr Jortin

17 Which forsaketh the guide of her youth [ The adulteress which forsakes her husband, to whom she was joined in her youth and whom she took for her guide and governor when he was in his greatest warmth, and his wickedly broken the laws of God, and violated the solemn vow of fidelity which she formerly made Bp Patrick

18 — her house inclineth unto death &c [ Various plagues and miseries of this world attend upon the sin which promotes pleasure at a distance, but in reality ensnare men into an abyss of endless evils Dr Hammond

22 But the wicked &c [ The proper portion of the wicked is to be cut off and extirpated, either by the hand of human justice or by the curse of God which inevitably pursues them till they be rooted out Dr Hammond

The happiness of good and bad men in this world has the same and important difference that of the righteous is chiefly internal, less visible perhaps, but more perfect the other is only external more dazzling and conspicuous but never lasting nor sincere When the good man dies he passes to a state of most consummate felicity when the wicked in deeps still his prosperity die with him he changes a more empty show of happiness for real and eternal misery So that he end whenever it comes is indeed a cutting off from the earth earth being the only ground in which his happiness can grow but end is indeed a rooting out Hoan

Chap III ver 2 For her of days &c [ I can give thee all assurance from God Solomon says that, besides the endless advantages of another world, thou shalt thou obtain the blessings of this life the prolonging of thy days here in peace and prosperity not that the pious faithful servant of God will be exempt from afflictions in this world but that in the general course of things such a person will, by God's special blessing, and by the very temper of Christian virtues, have a security of much greater and worldly happiness, than those who use unwholesome arts to obtain the riches and honour of the world Dr Hammond

3 — bind them about thy neck [ Alluding to the custom of

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

Ps 111 10
Or,
Lord sur cea

1 Chron
8

Rom 1
16

1 Heb
m linc
1 Heb watering or moun in

1 Rod 23
19 & 94 26
Deut 26 2, &c Mal 3 Ps &c
Luke 11 13

Deut 28
8
Job 5 17
Hebr 1
Rev 3 19

1 Heb
the man that draw eth out un derstand
in

1 Job 28 15
&c 15 11
10 Chap
8 11 19 & 11 16

4 So shalt thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and 5 Trust in the Lord with all thine heart, and lean not unto thine own understanding

6 In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths

7 Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil

8 It shall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones

9 Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase

10 So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine

11 My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither be weary of his correction

12 For whom the Lord loveth he correcteth, even as a father the son in whom he delighteth

13 Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding

14 For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold

15 She is more precious than rubies wearing on their foreheads and wrists the precepts of the Lord, written on slips of parchment. Dr Isham

5 — lean not unto thine own understanding ] Rely not on thy wisdom contrivances, or artifices, to compass thy designs in this world but keep thyself to the ways and means which God affords thee, and approve and thus beyond all worldly policy will secure to thee a happy and easy passage through the dangers of this life. Dr Hammond

7 Be not wise in thine own eyes ] That is, Do not follow the dictates of worldly prudence in opposition to the commands of God

— fear the Lord and depart from evil ] We find these expressions frequently put together in Scripture, as having nearly the same import, differing only in cause and effect: the proper fear of the Lord producing a departure from evil. bp Tillotson

8 It shall be health to thy navel, &c ] This is the means of preserving a good habit both of body and soul, and of remaining under all circumstances, cheerful, happy, and without defection. These peculiar expressions seem to be merely a metaphorical representation of that firmness, and vigorous health and cheerfulness of mind which virtue imparts. bp Patrick

In the East, it is usual, for the most part, to apply medicines externally, and especially to the stomach. The expression health to thy navel seems to bear allusion to this custom. Hammer

9 Honour the Lord with thy substance ] Honour the Lord in His ministers, by paying them their dues, and bringing oblations to His house at the three solemn feasts, (Exod xxiii 14 15) together with the firstfruits of all that thy estate produces, (Exod xxiii 20, 21) in token of thy gratitude to Him for His blessings. So shall thy barns be filled, &c. So will God pour His blessings upon thee more abundantly and convince thee, by sending a and all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her

16 Length of days is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and honour

17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her, and happy is every one that retaineth her.

19 The Lord by wisdom hath founded the earth, by understanding hath he established the heavens

20 By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew

21 My son, let not them depart from thine eyes keep sound wisdom and discretion

22 So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck

23 Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble

24 When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet

25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh

26 For the Lord shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken

27 Withhold not good from them to seasonable and plentiful harvest and vintage that this is the method, not to diminish, but to increase the possessions which He hath given thee, Deut xxviii 4, 5 2 Chron xxvi 10. bp Patrick

11 My son, despise not the chastening ] Neither disregard the chastening of the Lord nor be impatient under it

15 — than rubies ] The meaning of the Hebrew word is not well ascertained: there are reasons for thinking that pearls are meant by it as they were esteemed at a very high rate not only by the Jews, but by the Romans and even by the Medes, Persians, and Indians. Bochart

16 Length of days is in her right hand, ] Wisdom is here represented figuratively as a queen holding in one hand length of days, and in the other, riches and honours

17 Her ways are ways of pleasantness, ] Thus it is most true that religion gives us the greatest delights and advantages in this life even if there were no life hereafter and hence is most apparent the extreme folly of Atheists who, besides running a most desperate hazard after death deprive themselves here of that very pleasure and tranquillity, for which they so anxiously seek. Dr Bentley When Solomon observes that the ways of wisdom, that is of piety are ways of pleasantness, he means that this is not only the excellence but the peculiar excellence of religion and consequently that the ways of folly and vice, all things considered, are not ways of pleasantness. Thus the cause of this text is that the good will infallibly enjoy a satisfaction and delight, of which the wicked will as certainly be deprived. Dr Jortin See more on ver 9

18 She is a tree of life ] This seems an allusion to the tree of life which God planted at first in paradise, and which was to give to man life, health and immortality. Such is wisdom to those who possess it: it preserves to them a long and happy life in this world, and a blessed immortality in the next. Calmat

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

1 Heb
prepared

1 P 37 24
A 91 11

1 Heb
the crown in 1

Before (H.B.)
about 1000

whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it?

28 Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to morrow I will give, when thou hast it by thee

Or Place se no evil

29 || Devise not evil against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee

30 ¶ Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.

Ps 37-1
Heb a man of violence

31 ¶ Envy thou not the oppressor, and choose none of his ways

Ps 114

32 For the froward is abomination to the Lord but his secret is with the righteous

Mal 2

33 ¶ The curse of the Lord is in the house of the wicked but he blesseth the habitation of the just

1 Tim 4 6
1 Pet 5

34 ° Surely he scorneth the scorners but he giveth grace unto the lowly

Heb culteth in
the

35 The wise shall inherit glory but shame shall be the promotion of fools

CHAP IV

1 Solomon to persuade obedience, & sheweth what instruction he had of his parents, & to study wisdom, • 11 and to shun the path of the wicked 20 He exhorteth to faith, & sanctification

HEAR, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding

2 For I gave you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law

1 Chron

3 For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother

1 Chron

4 He taught me also, and said unto me, I let thine heart retain my words keep my commandments, and live

29 Devise not evil — seeing he dwelleth securely] Let not the quietness of my mind tempt much less the confidence he has in thy honesty and goodness, tempt thee to contrive any mischief against him, for the more securely he relies on thy virtue, and the less mistrust he has of any harm from thee, the greater wickedness will it be to entertain even the thought of doing him an injury. Bp Patrick

32 — the froward] He that perversely departs from all the rules of truth and justice. Bp Patrick — his secret is with the righteous] Rather, "His counsel is with the righteous," as the Hebrew words admit, and as the Greek translators give the sense. Dr Hammond "His secret counsel is with the righteous." Schultens

35 — shall inherit glory] The glory here mentioned as the inheritance of the wise is threefold, the approbation of their own minds of their fellow creatures, and of the Supreme Being, the great Searcher of hearts. Dr J Balguy — shame shall be the promotion of fools] "The branding of infamy ennobles or distinguishes fools." Schultens

(1 p 17 ver. 1 Hear, ye children, &c] So great are the sluggishness and forgetfulness of mankind in their principal concern-ments, that we need not wonder the wise man repeats nearly the same things, and quickens our attention to them in the beginning of this chapter. The very first step to wisdom is to have a mind to be wise. Bp Patrick

5 Get wisdom, get understanding forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth

1 fore
CHRIST
about 1000

6 Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee love her, and she shall keep thee.

7 Wisdom is the principal thing, therefore get wisdom and with all thy getting get understanding

8 Exalt her, and she shall promote thee she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her

9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace || a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee

10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings, and the years of thy life shall be many

11 I have taught thee in the way of wi-dom, I have led thee in right paths

12 When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened, and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble

13 Take fast hold of instruction, let her not go keep her, for she is thy life

14 ¶ Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men

Chap 1
10 1
Ps 11

15 Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away

16 For they sleep not, except they have done mischief, and then sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall

17 For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence

18 But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day

3 — and only beloved] According to some readings of the Hebrew Bible the expression is "only beloved among the sons of my mother." Dr Hammond

8 Exalt her and she shall promote thee] Whatever value or love thou exprestest for this sort of wisdom, shall be abundantly repaid to thee by her. Dr Hammond 12 When thou goest, &c] If thy actions and designs have no other rule than this which I give thee thou shalt be at ease and free from those straits and difficulties with which others meet if thy business should require haste, this will be the safest as well as the most offensive way to accomplish thy end. Bp Patrick 17 — they eat the bread of wickedness] They live by robbery and spoil, having no other meat and drink but that which is the fruit of their rapine and violence and not of their honest labours.

Bp Patrick

18 — the shining light, that shineth more and more &c] The whole course of righteous men the beginning, progress, and consummation, is all unimitable and exemplary, fit to attract all others to it, whether in respect to its inward lustre and excellency, or the present satisfaction and peace which attends it. In all these respects it cannot better be represented than by the light of the sun when it is come above the horizon, continually increasing till it come to perfect noon the day continually arraying and adorning itself, and putting on new lustre till the whole face of nature is fully illuminated, no degree of shade or darkness any where remaining. Dr Hammond

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

19 The way of the wicked is as darkness they know not at what they stumble

20 ¶ My son, attend to my words, incline thine ear unto my sayings

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, keep them in the midst of thine heart

22 For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh

23 ¶ Keep thy heart with all diligence, for out of it are the issues of life

24 Put away from thee a forward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee

25 Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee

26 Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established

27 Turn not to the right hand nor to the left remove thy foot from evil

CHAP V

1 Solomon exhorteth to the study of wisdom 3 He sheweth the mischief of whoredom and riot 16 He exhorteth to contentedness liberality and chastity 22 The wicked are overcome with their own sin

MY son, attend unto my wisdom, and bow thine ear to my understanding

2 That thou mayest regard discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge

1 — [Keep them in the midst of thine heart] Preserve them studiously and lay them up as a most precious treasure, in the closest affections of thy heart Bp Patrick

2 — [Keep thy heart with all diligence] The heart is here used to denote the seat of the affections, passions, and desires, and by the precept to keep our hearts is meant that we should diligently preserve our good dispositions and correct our bad ones for which two things principally are necessary a frequent examination of our own heart and a constant endeavour to wean our affections from this world and to fix them on another Dr Waterland

— [for out of it are the issues of life] The genuine and natural sense of this is that all the actions of a man's life issue and proceed from the heart which is the fountain not only of our natural life but of our moral too so that, as a man's heart is so will his life be if his heart be kept clear and pure his life cannot be wicked and vicious and if his heart be wicked and vicious, his life cannot be kept clean and pure from sin as our Saviour Himself teaches, Matth vii 16—20 Bp Beveridge

21 — [Put away from thee a forward mouth,] Never speak any thing thyself contrary to truth, honesty, and religion nor listen to or converse with those that do so Bp Patrick

22 — [Let thine eyes look right on &c] Let neither thine eyes nor thy other senses, be drawn aside to the right hand or to the left, but let them be directed right, according to the law of thy God Bp Hall

23 — [Turn not to the right hand &c] Let no temptation either of hope or fear passion or interest be able to seduce or divert thee from the straight and even path of virtue but actively and carefully preserve thyself from every thing that is evil Dr Hammond

Chap V ver 3 — [To the lips of a strange woman] The wise man here gives an exhortation against those impure desires which he has before noticed (chap ii 16, 17) as great obstructions to religious wisdom, and he describes their miserable effect by several

3 ¶ For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil

4 But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a two edged sword

5 Her feet go down to death, her steps take hold on hell

6 Lest thou shouldst ponder the path of life, her ways are movcable, that thou canst not know them

7 Hear me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth

8 Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house

9 Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel

10 Lest strangers be filled with thy wealth, and thy labours be in the house of a stranger, 11 And thou mourn at the last, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed, 12 And say, How have I hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof, 13 And have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me

14 I was almost in all evil in the midst of the congregation and assembly apt resemblances ver 4 & 5, which shew how by these vices men lose their honour, then time then health and estates and at last lie down in sorrow, and end their days in an unprofitable repentance Bp Patrick

— [drop as an honeycomb] Are full of sweet enticements Bp Hall

— [Her feet go down to death,] She leads those that follow her steps to certain and inevitable destruction not only here, but in another world Bp Patrick

— [her steps take hold on hell] Rather "Her steps lead on to the tomb By the English term "hell" is commonly understood the place of torment whereas here is meant the grave the place where the body is consumed Dr Hodgson

6 — [Lest thou shouldst ponder the path of life,] The Hebrew words admit of being translated in the third person, "She ponders not the path of life, and this seems a preferable construction Dr Durrill" Her paths are always moveable, wandering, dangerous, unstable according to different versions Dr Hammond She gives herself up to pleasure without reflection her ways are inconstant she has no fixed attachment, has neither knowledge, wisdom or discernment and follows no rule but her passion Calmet

9 — [Lest thou give thine honour unto others, &c] Lest thou put thy reputation in the power of other, and even thy life that is of those who may divulge or revenge thy adultery chap vi 34

11 — [And thou mourn] "Mourn" is too feeble a word to convey the meaning of the original It signifies more properly, "and torment with pain Dr Hodgson

12 — [How have I hated &c] How stupidly foolish have I been in not considering all this sooner how senselessly bent on my own ruin I am amazed to think how I hated the truth and its reproofs which were given me Bp Patrick

14 — [I was almost in all evil &c] Better, perhaps, I was in almost all evil I have plunged myself into all sort of evil, in the midst of my people, being too well known for my vices, and obtaining no compassion Calmet

Before
CHRIST
about 1000
Chap 1
8
Chap 7

¶ Heb
m
to me ¶ Heb al f g ¶ Heb f m and p ness of lips

¶ Or all thy way
shall be Beveridge
¶ Heb Durrill

¶ Heb strengthen

Before
(H.R.) 15 ¶ Drink waters out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well

16 Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets

17 Let them be only thine own, and not strangers' with thee

18 Let thy fountain be blessed and rejoice with the wife of thy youth

19 Let her be as the loving hind and pleasant roe, let her breasts satisfy thee at all times, and be thou ravished always with her love

20 And why wilt thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?

21 For the ways of man are before the eyes of the Lord, and he pondereth all his goings

22 ¶ His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins

23 He shall die without instruction, and in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray

CHAP VI

1 Against suretiship 6 idleness, 12 and mischivousness 16 Seven things hateful to God 20 The blessings of obedience 25 The mischuffs of whoredom

1 Drink waters &c] The wise man having thus represented the danger and wasting miseries of incontinence, gives the reasonable and necessary advice that every man should strictly abstain from wandering lusts, and remain in the society of his own wife. Dr Hammond

16 Let thy fountains be dispersed &c] Besides many other blessings thou wilt hence derive the comforts of a numerous flourishing offspring, which, as streams or rivers from a fountain, will flow from a chaste conjugal bed. Dr Hammond

17 Let them be only thine own] Thou wilt thus have the assurance that the children thou ownest are truly thine. Dr Hammond

19 — as the loving hind and pleasant roe] Rather, as the beloved hind and the favorite roe. The comparison is here very appropriate, for it is well known that all the males of the deer kind are remarkably fond of the females which they have selected for their partners and although timid animals in general will, on their account encounter any danger to the hazard of their lives. Dr Durell

22 — he shall be holden with the cords of his sins] The wicked man engaged in these shameful and illicit pursuits, without foreseeing their momentous consequences he thinks he will be able to disengage himself from them whenever he pleases but he is forging chains for himself which he will not be able to break when he has contracted the habit, he will not have the power to quit it. Calmet

23 He shall die without instruction] He shall die for want of instruction. Dr Waterland

— Chap VI ver 1 — if thou be surety for thy friend] My son, be advised by me not to pass thy word rashly for the money which thy neighbour or friend borroweth of another much less stand bound to a stranger of whose honesty or ability thou art not assured for if thou hast been so incautious as to be drawn into such engagements thou art snared with the words of thy mouth look upon thyself no longer as a free man but hampered and enslaved by dangerous obligations. Bp Patrick

MY son, if thou be surety for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger,

2 Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth

3 Do this now, my son, and deliver thyself, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend, go, humble thyself, and make sure thy friend

4 Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids

5 Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler

6 ¶ Go to the ant, thou sluggard, consider her ways, and be wise

7 Which having no guides overseer, or ruler,

8 Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest

9 How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?

10 Yet, a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep

11 So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man

— if thou hast stricken thy hand &c] To strike hands with another person was a general emblem of agreement bargaining or suretiship. Thus the ancient poets often represent it. Burder Solomon frequently exhorts to the avoiding of suretiship as a most dangerous indiscretion by which he seems to mean, that we should never be bound in behalf of another for more than we can afford to lose, without any considerable detriment to our fortunes or families. Dr Jortin

— go, humble thyself, &c] These words may rather be rendered, Go stir up thyself and prevail with thy companion, give not sleep to thine eyes ver 4, that is without the least delay take this course to disentangle thyself. Dr Hammond

6 Go to the ant thou sluggard, &c] As in the matter just mentioned, the least delay is pernicious so in all things else, sluggishness or negligence of those things which concern us most nearly should ever be avoided and if we need any instructor on this head, we may go to one of the least and meanest of creatures. Dr Hammond

8 Provideth her meat in the summer] The industry of the ant has been frequently noticed by the ancient poets. It has been generally believed that these animals lay up stores of corn for their winter's provision and that they gnaw off the buds of the grains so as to prevent their growing in the earth. This fact is asserted by Pliny. Bochart produces many writers asserting the same. Pluche says A prevailing passion in these little animals is to amass stores of grain and let the humidity of the cells should make the corn shoot up we are told for a certainty, that they gnaw off the buds which grow at the point of the grain. Parkhurst

10 Let a little sleep, a little slumber] By the repetition of the word here seems to be implied sleep and slumber often repeated at different intervals. The change of the person speaking from the preceptor to the sluggard in this verse, is extremely beneficial.

11 — as one that travelleth — as an armed man] As one that travelleth that is, by surprise — as an armed man, with irresistible violence. Bp Patrick, Calmet

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

12 ¶ A naughty person, a wicked man, walketh with a froward mouth.

13 He winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers, 14 Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth mischief continually, he soweth discord

15 Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly, suddenly shall he be broken without remedy

16 ¶ These six things doth the Lord hate yea, seven are an abomination unto him

17 † A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood, 18 An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, † feet that be swift in running to mischief,

19 A false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren

20 ¶ My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother

21 Bind them continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck

22 When thou goest, it shall lead thee, when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee, and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee

23 † For the commandment is a lamp, and the law is light, and reproofs of instruction are the way of life

† Heb cast in fire

† Heb of his soul
† Heb Hm hty 19 5

Rom 3
17

Chap 1 9

Ps 19 8
& 119 10
† Or candle

12 [A naughty person] In the Hebrew, "a man of Belial, denoting, probably an idle foolish wicked man who cares not for God's directions of his tongue or life. "With a froward mouth in the Hebrew, with perverseness of mouth, in the sense of detracting from the actions of other men and so perverting all to the worst sense that is possible. Dr Hammond

13 [He winketh with his eyes, &c.] Such a person, when he has nothing of weight to say against a man, will, by significant gestures of all sorts, intimate matters to his disadvantage, and so persuade others, without laying any particular thing to his charge. Dr Hammond Such a person composes all his parts to deceit every gesture of his tends to find the very motion of his eyes of his feet of his fingers is significant, and expresses some secret intimation of guile. Bp Hall

15 [Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly] Such a person shall be brought to utter ruin when he fancies he has carried his matters so cunningly, that no one discerns his villainy. Bp Patrick He shall be broken without remedy alluding it appears, to an earthen vessel which, when broken into pieces, cannot be made whole again. Dr Wells

16 [These six things &c.] These six things which are commonly found in such profligate persons "doth the Lord hate yea, there is one more and so in all there are seven things commonly found in such persons which are an abomination to him. Dr Wells The seven things are these pride or haughtiness, lying or fraudulence, guilt of blood, malice or projecting of evil, a pleasure in doing mischief, false witness or calumny, a causing of discord or ill will among those who live friendly together. Dr Hammond

22 [it shall talk with thee] Shall suggest good thoughts to thee. Dr Wells

24 To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman

25 Lust not after her beauty in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her eyelids

26 For by means of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life

27 Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burned?

28 Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burned?

29 So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife, whosoever toucheth her shall not be innocent

30 Men do not despise a thief, if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry,

31 But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold, he shall give all the substance of his house

32 But whoso committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul

33 A wound and dishonour shall he get, and his reproach shall not be wiped away

34 For jealousy is the rage of a man therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance

35 † He will not regard any ransom, neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

Chap 2

16 & 5

& 7 5

Or of the strange tongue

Math 1

29

† Heb

the precious life

† Heb

of a man or a man

life

† Heb

heart

† Heb

he will not accept the face of an ransom

25 — with her eyelids] See note at 9 Kings ix 20

26 — will hunt for the precious life] Will bring the adulteress to his grave. See Ezek xiii 18. Dr Isham

The general meaning of this verse and the following is, However odious is the sin of theft, yet if the thief be compared with the adulteress we shall find much difference made in the heinousness of the offence. Men are not wont to be inexorably cruel against him who steals out of pure necessity, but if he be detected, however dearly he may pay for his fault by way of satisfaction, the sum is yet accepted of the injured party, but he who committeth adultery, destroyeth his own soul. Bp Hall

31 — he shall restore sevenfold] The law of Moses does not enjoin a restitution of sevenfold but in a smaller proportion, Levod xxii 1, 4 Bp Patrick Seven seems only put here for a number of perfection the meaning is, he shall make perfect and full restitution according to the law, so far as his substance or estate will reach. Abp Tillotson

32 But whoso committeth adultery &c] The adulteress robs a man of his wife, without any such necessity, and therefore is destitute of all excuse, and must be looked upon as void of all understanding, and when he is discovered, he will be punished, not merely in his estate, but with the loss of his life, Lev xx 10. Bp Patrick

34 For jealousy is the rage of a man] No translation can fully express the force of the original here. The inflammation of jealousy is the setting a man on fire, as much as to say, The jealousy with which a man is inflamed, so heats him and rages within him, that he can never be appeased, but is borne with irresistible violence to the revenge of his defiled bed. Schulken

CHAP. VII.

Before
(112) ver 1
Sept 1000

1 Solomon persuadeth to a sincere and kind familiarity with wisdom 6 In an example of his own experience, he sheweth 10 the cunning of an whore 22 and the desperate simplicity of a young nanton 24 He doth teach from such necessities

MY son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee

2 Keep my commandments, and live, and my law as the apple of thine eye

Deut 10
11 12
Chap 3

3 Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart

Chap 3

4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister, and call understanding thy kinswoman

5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words

11 b
he says

6 For at the window of my house I looked through my casement,

7 And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, a young man void of understanding,

11 b on the even in / the day

8 Passing through the street near her corner, and he went the way to her house,

9 In the twilight, & in the evening, in the black and dark night

Chap 9

10 And, behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and subtil of heart

11 (She is loud and stubborn, her feet abide not in her house)

11 b she strengthen her face and said

12 Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner)

13 So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him,

[Chap VII ver 2 — as the apple of thine eye] Rather, “as the pupil of thine eye” Dr Durell

3 Bind them upon thy fingers &c] It is sufficiently evident that Solomon could not mean this precept to be understood literally, any more than the next expression, which frequently occurs “Write them on the table of thine heart,” yet it was on such texts as these (see Exod xiii 16 Deut vi 6 xi 18) that the Pharisees founded the practice of binding on their foreheads phylacteries, or slips with particular precepts of the law inscribed upon them Dr Durell See note at 1 xod xiii 9

4 Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister,] Be as familiar with wisdom as if she were thy own natural sister Bp Hall The name of “sister” occurs often as the name of friendship, and is employed to express the affection of the husband to his bride Cant iv 9 v 1, &c It here marks the chaste love which we ought to bear to wisdom Calmet

9 In the twilight, &c.] He seems to enumerate the several periods of the night, intending to imply that he had frequently observed the scene which he describes, although he professes to be describing only one particular instance Schultens

11 (She is loud and stubborn,) Translators have differed in rendering these words, “they seem rather to mean “She is prating, peevishly and wandering, running about from house to house” Dr Hammond

14 I have peace offerings with me, &c.] “I have peace offerings with me, that is “I have an entertainment or feast at my house, for in sacrifices of this sort, the person that offered reserved a part of the victim for convivial purposes” Dr Durell This narrative

Vol 1

11 I have peace offerings with me, this day have I payed my vows.

112
CHRIST
1000

15 Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee

16 I have decked my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt

17 I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon

18 Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning let us solace ourselves with loves

19 For the goodman is not at home, he is gone a long journey

20 He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed

21 With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him

22 He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks,

23 Till a dart strike through his liver, as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life

24 Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth

25 Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths

26 For she hath cast down many wounded yea, many strong men have been slain by her is strongly expressive of the woman's character of her levity in making the payment of vows a prelude to sin, and of her shameless falsehood, ver 15

16 — with carved works] Meaning probably figured tapestry or carpeting, from its resemblance to carved work Parkhurst

17 — aloes] See note at Cant ix 14

— cinnamon] It is remarkable that the name of this tree in Hebrew is the same as in English Parkhurst

19 — the goodman] Literally in Hebrew, “the man, meaning her husband In the earlier English writers, “goodman” was a common appellation for the master of a family

20 — at the day appointed] Some interpreters prefer the reading of our margin “at the new moon, or, ‘at the day of assembly,’ which the time of the new moon was amongst the Jews The Greek translators render it, “after many days” Dr Hammond

23 Till a dart strike through his liver, &c.] Thus he yields to his lust, until the revenging husband, actuated by jealousy, give a deadly stroke to the adulterer, or till the just judgment of God seize upon body and soul, being thus heedlessly drawn in as a bird is into the snare not considering that its life is brought into danger Bp Hall

26 For she hath cast down &c.] For many have been the examples of no mean persons, who have fallen in their reputation, their estates, their health, and comforts of life, and in truth have utterly perished by her, innumerable are the mighty men both for valour and wisdom, whom she has brought to ruin Solomon himself as well as Samson, became an example of the “mighty

Before CHRIST about 1000. 27<sup>a</sup> Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death

* Chap. 2
18 & 35

CHAP VIII

1 The fame, 6 and evidency of wisdom 10 The excellency, 12 the nature, 13 the power, 18 the riches, 22 and the cleanness of wisdom. 32 Wisdom is to be desired for the blessings it bringeth

* Chap 1
20

DOETH not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice?

2 She standeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths

3 She crieth at the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors.

4 Unto you, O men, I call, and my voice is to the sons of man

5 O ye simple, understand wisdom and, ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart

6 Hear, for I will speak of excellent things, and the opening of my lips shall be right things

7 For my mouth shall speak truth, and wickedness is † in abomination to my lips

† Heb
the abomination of my lips
† Heb restrained

8 All the words of my mouth are in righteousness, there is nothing † froward or perverse in them

9 They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge

10 Receive my instruction, and not silver, and knowledge rather than choice gold

* Job 28 15
Psalm 19 10
Chap 9 15
& 16 16

11 For wisdom is better than rubies, men here mentioned, who were ruined by bad women Bp Patrick

¶ — the chambers of death ] The Jewish sepulchres consisted of large vaults and caves, in the sides of which were cut out distinct niches for receiving each a dead body Parkhurst

Chap VIII ver 1 Doth not wisdom cry? &c ] We may consider this chapter as connected with the preceding, and forming with it a continued discourse The wise man had before been representing the dangerous seductions of false pleasure He now describes to us wisdom, who invites us to love her by a noble, grand, elevated discourse, and by magnificent promises of substantial good Calmet

A sublime allegory is here introduced, of wisdom standing in the most conspicuous and frequented places of the city, and proclaiming aloud to men those great precepts of truth, religion, and virtue, by which they may rise from the vanities of the world to life and immortality Schullens

10 Receive my instruction, and not silver ] That is receive it in preference to silver Calmet Make no comparison of my instruction with silver and gold, for these are base and corruptible metals, not worthy to be mentioned together with those heavenly treasures which are contained in, and conveyed by, my Divine counsels Bp Hall

12 I wisdom dwell with prudence ] I alone, endow men with real prudence, always giving the most safe and least fallible advice, and directing men to more discreet resolutions in difficult cases than the most subtle head in the world that consults not with me Bp Patrick — and find out knowledge of new inventions ] Implying, that no advice or subtle contrivances can be good, or can have a happy event, which are not agreeable to true piety Dr Wells

14. — I have strength ] I inspire men with true and rational and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it Before CHRIST about 1000

12 I wisdom dwell with || prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions || Or subtilty

13 The fear of the LORD is to hate evil pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate

14 Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom I am understanding, I have strength

15 By me kings reign, and princes decree justice

16 By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth.

17 I love them that love me, and those that seek me early shall find me

18 Riches and honour are with me, yea, durable riches and righteousness * Chap 10

19 My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold, and my revenue than choice silver * Chap 14

20 I || lead in the way of righteousness, || Or walk in the midst of the paths of judgment

21 That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance, and I will fill their treasures

22 The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old 23 I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was,

24 When there were no depths, I was brought forth, when there were no fountains abounding with water courage to persist in good resolutions which are neither rashly taken up, nor wrongly pursued Dr Wells

15, 16 By me kings reign, &c ] Meaning, that all lawful authority, the power of all kings and magistrates are most surely founded in wisdom

17 — those that seek me early shall find me ] This holds true in every useful acquisition youth is the time when the foundation of knowledge, either secular or religious, is to be laid, and they who begin any useful study or pursuit late in life, seldom become great proficient. Dr Jortin

19 — and my revenue ] Rather, “my produce, which answers better to ‘my fruit,’ in the preceding clause Dr Durell

21 That I may cause &c ] That I may cause <sup>on</sup> those who sincerely love and adhere to me a happy settlement in state of eternal peace and substantial satisfaction Bp Patrick

22 The Lord possessed me &c ] The passage which follows is expressed in such magnificent language, that the ancient Christians thought the application of the words was to the wisdom revealed to us in the Gospel by the Son of God, nay to the Son of God Himself, the Eternal Word and Wisdom of the Father Bp Patrick

The wisdom, he says, which directs us to all this is but a ray of that Eternal wisdom of the Father, the Word and Son of God which, in the fulness of time, was to be incarnate, but before all time was present with God, before any part of this world, earth, sea, fountains, hills, mountains, or valleys, were created Dr Hammond God has possessed the Son from all eternity, since “the Word was with God,” from the beginning, John 1 1 Calmet

“The Lord possessed me in the beginning of His way,” rather, “The Lord possessed me when He first went forth, that is, when He first exerted Himself in the work of creation Dr Durell

36 But he that sinneth against me wrong eth his own soul all they that hate me love death

2 She hath killed her beasts, &c.] She hath made a plentiful provision for all hungry and thirsty souls, who will find no less life, and vigour, and strength, and joy communicated to them from her sacred instructions, than the body does when it partakes of a liberal and delicious feast Bp Patrick

12 If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise

12 If thou be wise, &c. If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for the good of thyself, but if thou scornest religion, thou shalt bear the punishment of it Dr. Wells

Before
CHRIST
about 1000
chap 7 11 for thyself but if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it

13 ¶ A foolish woman is clamorous; she is simple, and knoweth nothing

14 For she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city,

15 To call passengers who go right on their ways

16 Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him,

17 Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant

† Heb
f secret

18 But he knoweth not that the dead are there, and that her guests are in the depths of hell

CHAPTER X

From this chapter to the five and twentieth are sundry observations of moral virtues and their contrary vices

Chap 10

THE proverbs of Solomon. A wise son maketh a glad father but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother

Chap 11

2 The issues of wickedness profit nothing but righteousness delivereth from death

Or

3 The Lord will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish but he casteth away the substance of the wicked

Chap 12

4 He becometh poor that dealeth with a 14 — on a seat in the high places ] For the purpose of inveigling passengers. It is related by travellers in the East, that it is still the practice for prostitutes to sit at the doors of their house in the most alluring pomp that they can display. Harmer

17 Stolen waters are sweet &c ] Forbidden pleasures are sweet when enjoyed in secret

18 — he knoweth not that the dead are there ] He considers not all this while that she invites him to his utter ruin both of body and soul, and sinks down all those who accept of her invitation to the pit of destruction. Bp Patrick

Chap X ver 1 The proverbs of Solomon ] Here now properly begins the Book of the Proverbs, as the title of this chapter tells us what has been delivered hitherto being rather a preface to awaken attention, and form sundry arguments to commend the wise instructions which now follow to every one as practice, and to caution those who would receive benefit by these instructions to avoid such things as may hinder their edification in the school of wisdom. Bp Patrick

From this Chapter to the twenty-fifth, are contained more particularly the theorems of the doctrine of morality, which under sundry observations concerning virtue and vice or moral good and evil may form a full and complete system of Divine ethics. The virtues and vices are for the most part set in opposition the one to the other and compared together, that so the wisdom and beauty of the one and the folly and deformity of the other may the more convincingly appear. Wogan

3 — he casteth away the substance of the wicked ] He dissipates or destroys the estate the possessions of the wicked. Dr Hammond

4 — that dealeth with a slack hand ] That dealeth or worketh with a lazy hand. Dr Wells

6 — violence covereth the mouth of the wicked ] Their own wickedness shall violently overwhelm, to their utter confusion, slack hand but the hand of the diligent maketh rich

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

5 He that gathereth in summer is a wise son but he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame

6 Blessings are upon the head of the just but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked

7 The memory of the just is blessed but the name of the wicked shall rot

8 The wise in heart will receive commandments but a prating fool shall fall

† Heb a fool f lips Or shall be beaten

9 He that walketh uprightly walketh surely but he that perverteth his ways shall be known

10 He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow but a prating fool shall fall

Chap 11
Or shall be beaten

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked

12 Hatred stirreth up strifes but love covereth all sins

1 Pet 1
1 Cor 13

13 In the lips of him that hath understanding wisdom is found but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding

† Heb
heart

14 Wise men lay up knowledge but the mouth of the foolish is near destruction

Chap 15

15 The rich man's wealth is his strong those who wickedly defraud and oppress their neighbour. Bp Patrick

8 The wise in heart will receive &c ] It is the part of wisdom to open the ear and heart to all good advice especially to the commandments of God, whereas they who keep no guard on their tongues, frequently discover things which bring ruin and mischiefs on themselves. Dr Hammond

9 He that walketh uprightly walketh surely ] To walk surely, is to be in safe condition, to be out of danger of falling into any extreme calamity and to have our main interest so secured that notwithstanding whatever may happen for a time, yet our chief and great design shall certainly succeed happily in the end. The sum therefore of Solomon's assertion is this. He that in the whole course of his life acts sincerely and justly with a continual respect to the reason of things and the law of God, that carries on his undertakings by fair and equitable means avoiding all fraud and deceit, all base and unworthy practice, this man takes the wisest and surest course to succeed in all his designs, respecting either his present, or his future happiness. Dr Clarke

10 He that winketh with the eye &c ] The double dealing and dissembling person causes much sorrow at the last both to himself and to those who have been deceived by him. Bp Hall

11 The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life ] The discourse of a good man, like a perpetual spring of wholesome water, always tends to the profit, comfort, and refreshment of those who receive it. Bp Patrick

12 — love covereth all sins ] Love induces men to overlook several great offences. Dr Wells See James 1:20

14 — the mouth of the foolish is near destruction ] The fool is always talking, and seldom opens his mouth but it proves a present mischief to himself or to others. Bp Patrick

15 The rich man's wealth &c ] Riches, being a powerful defence to their owners against numerous evils, naturally raise men's

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

city the destruction of the poor is then poverty

16 The labour of the righteous tendeth to life the fruit of the wicked to sin

17 He is in the way of life that keepeth instruction but he that refuseth reproof *err*eth

On anxiety to live

18 He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a slander, is a fool

19 In the multitude of words there wanteth not sin; but he that reframeth his lips is wise

20 The tongue of the just is as choice silver the heart of the wicked is little worth

21 The lips of the righteous feed many but fools die for want of wisdom

† Heb
of heart

22 The blessing of the Lord, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it

Chap 14

23 It is as sport to a fool to do mischief; but a man of understanding hath wisdom

24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him but the desire of the righteous shall be granted

25 As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more but the righteous is an everlasting foundation

26 As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that send him

Chap 11

27 The fear of the Lord prolongeth days but the years of the wicked shall be shortened

† Heb
addeth

28 The hope of the righteous shall be gladness but the expectation of the wicked shall perish

Joh 5 13
E 11 20
Ps 11 10

minds, and make them confident whereas poverty exposes men to injuries and abuses and is apt to depress and deject their spirits Bp Patrick

19 In the multitude of words &c.] There are so many ways of offending God or man by profanations, falsehoods, slanders, &c. that there cannot be a more necessary part of moral wisdom, or wherein the exercise of true piety is more concerned, than the art of restraining the tongue and keeping it within proper bounds, as to all such matters Dr Hammond

24 The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him.] The evil which the wicked fears shall come upon him

26 As vinegar to the teeth, &c.] Vinegar is not more offensive to the teeth, nor smoke more vexatious to the eyes, than a remiss and negligent servant is to him that employs him, and relies on him in a weighty business Bp Patrick

27 — the years of the wicked shall be shortened.] See note at Prov 10 2

This truth here announced is confirmed by the nature of things and the positive appointments of Providence. In the nature of things, men destroy themselves and shorten their days by many kinds of wickedness. By wars and desolations, they unpeople whole countries by private quarrels, they bring each other to untimely ends, by capital crimes, they cause themselves to be cut off by the hands of justice, by luxury and intemperance, they destroy their bodies, by envy and malice, they consume themselves in the

29 The way of the Lord is strength to the upright but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

30 The righteous shall never be removed but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth

Ps 1 1
A 1

31 The mouth of the just bringeth forth wisdom but the froward tongue shall be cut out

32 The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowardness

† Heb froward
ness

CHAP. XI

A FALSE balance is abomination to the Lord but a just weight is his delight

Lev 19
Deut 25
Chap 16
11 8 10

2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame but with the lowly is wisdom

† Heb humility

3 The integrity of the upright shall guide them but the perverseness of transgressors shall destroy them

† Heb perverseness

4 Riches profit not in the day of wrath but righteousness delivereth from death

Chap 16
1 8 11

5 The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness

Chap 10
1 2 3 4

6 The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them but transgressors shall be taken in their own naughtiness

Chap 16
1 8 11

7 When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish and the hope of unjust men perisheth

8 The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead

Chap 16
1 8 11

9 An hypocrite with his mouth de

† Heb 9 1

midst of their iniquity. In like manner, according to the same tendency, by peace and charity men are preserved from destruction, by temperance, their bodies are maintained in health by quiet of conscience and satisfaction of mind, new life is added to their spirits Dr S Clarke

31 — the froward tongue shall be cut out.] That is, he that does mischief with his tongue shall be duly punished Dr Wells

32 — know what is acceptable.] What is pleasing to God and edifying to man. See Eph iv 29 and v 3 4 Dr Isham

Chap XI ver 2 When pride cometh, then cometh shame.] Pride makes men foolish and void of caution, and thus puts them upon doing things which bring them to dishonour Dr S Clarke

7 — his expectation shall perish.] The wicked man, having no other expectation than in his own means of strength, will see all his projects dissipated by death Calmet

8 — the wicked cometh in his stead.] That is, the wicked falls into those very distresses from which the just is happily freed Bp Patrick See 1 Peter vi 9

9 In hypocrite &c.] A dissembling friend with fair and false words, and semblances draws his neighbour into some dangerous inconvenience, but a wise and just man will soon perceive his fraud, and will avoid the mischief plotted against him Bp Hall

Before CHRIST about 1000 stroyeth his neighbour but through knowledge shall the just be delivered

10 When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth and when the wicked perish, there is shouting

11 By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked

† Heb destitute of heart 12 He that is † void of wisdom despiseth his neighbour but a man of understanding holdeth his peace

† Heb He that walketh, being a talebearer 13 † A talebearer revealeth secrets but he that is of a faithful spirit concealth the matter

† 1 Kings 12 1 14 Where no counsel is, the people fall but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety

† Heb shall be sure broken 15 He that is surety for a stranger † shall smart for it and he that hateth † suretyship is sure

† Heb those that strike hands 16 A gracious woman retaineth honour and strong men retain riches

17 The merciful man doeth good to his own soul but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh

18 The wicked worketh a deceitful work but to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward

19 As righteousness tendeth to life so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death

20 They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the Lord but such as are upright in their way are his delight

Before CHRIST about 1000 21 Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered

22 As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman which † is without discretion

† Heb deprecates from 23 The desire of the righteous is only good but the expectation of the wicked is wrath

24 There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth, and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty

25 † The liberal soul shall be made fat and he that withereth shall be watered also himself

26 He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it

27 He that diligently seeketh good procureth favour but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him

28 He that trusteth in his riches shall fall but the righteous shall flourish as a branch

29 He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind and the fool shall be servant to the wise of heart

30 The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life, and he that † winneth souls is wise

31 Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth much more the wicked and the sinner

11 By the blessing of the upright &c ] By God's benediction for their sakes Dr Isham

12 — despoil his neighbour &c ] That is, speaks contemptuously of him, or ridicules him Dr Wells Speaks spitefully and scornfully of him, but a man of understanding conceals his thoughts, and will not utter any thing to the reproach of another Bp Hall

14 — in the multitude of counsellors there is safety ] A country is safe when there are many wise men to govern affairs, for, if one fail, others still remain, and what one or two discover not, others may be able to discern Bp Patrick

16 A gracious woman &c ] Beauty and virtue in a woman advance her to honour, as formidable power and strength in men advance them to riches and, as their principal care is to keep their treasures, so should hers be to preserve her reputation Bp Patrick

21 Though hand join in hand, &c ] Though the wicked man endeavour to strengthen himself and his family by powerful leagues and confederations, he shall not be able to escape the punishment his iniquity deserves Bp Patrick To join hands was anciently, and still continues in the East, a solemn method of taking an oath on making an engagement To this circumstance allusion seems clearly to be made in these words of Solomon

22 As a jewel of gold &c ] Allusion is here made to the Eastern custom of wearing valuable rings in the nostril As such an ornament would be very ill placed in the snout of a swine which grovels continually in the mire, so beauty is equally misplaced in a woman who is without virtue and discretion Bp Patrick See Sir J Chardin's note on Gen xxiv 22

24 There is that scattereth ] That is, that giveth liberally on all proper occasions Dr Wells

25 The liberal soul shall be made fat ] The liberal soul, or the liberal man, soul being often in Hebrew put for man Dr Durell " Shall be made fat, or rich, and he that watereth or giveth plentifully to others, shall be watered, or receive plentifully from God himself Dr Wells

26 He that withholdeth corn ] He that hoardeth up corn in a time of scarcity, on purpose to raise the price Bp Patrick

29 He that troubleth &c ] He that troubleth his own house or family, or whatever else he holds under his authority, by making or fomenting dissensions therein, shall inherit the wind, shall be deceived as to any advantage he may expect thereby, and gain nothing, and the fool of this description shall be, as is often found by experience, " servant to the wise of heart," who manages his affairs after a prudent manner Dr Wells He that troubleth his own house, either by improvidently dissipating his property, or by sowing divisions and discord among the members of his family Culmet

30 — he that winneth souls ] That draws souls to the love of virtue by communicating wisdom seasonably and charitably Bp Patrick

31 — shall be recompensed in the earth ] Shall be recompensed for their righteousness

CHAP XII.

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

WHOSO loveth instruction loveth knowledge but he that hateth reproof is brutish

2 A good man obtaineth favour of the LORD but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.

3 A man shall not be established by wickedness but the root of the righteous shall not be moved.

4 A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones

5 The thoughts of the righteous are right but the counsels of the wicked are deceit

6 The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them

7 The wicked are overthrown, and are not but the house of the righteous shall stand

8 A man shall be commended according to his wisdom but he that is of a perverse heart shall be despised

9 He that is despised, and hath a servant, is better than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel

11 He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread but he that followeth vain persons is void of understanding

12 The wicked desireth the net of evil men but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit

13 The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips but the just shall come out of trouble

* Chap XII ver 4 — is as rottenness in his bones ] Is an incurable grief and vexation, consuming him and all that he hath Bp Patrick

6 — shall deliver them ] That is those whom the wicked seek to destroy Dr Isham.

9 He that is despised, &c ] He is far happier who makes no shew in the world, but has a competent estate than he who appears in great splendour and pomp abroad, but wants bread to eat when he is at home Bp Patrick

10 — The tender mercies of the wicked are cruel ] The very kindnesses pretended by the wicked are intended only for a cover to bring about their mischievous designs the most securely and effectually Dr Wells

11 — he that followeth vain persons ] He that followeth idle persons Dr Wells In some translations it is given, "He that followeth idleness Calmet

12 The wicked desireth the net of evil men ] The wicked man desires to employ those means of fraudulent circumvention, which he sees some crafty oppressors use to their advantage Bp Hall

14 A man shall &c ] A good man shall, by God's merciful retribution, find comfort and benefit, both to himself and others, from the gracious words of holy counsel, which proceed from

14 A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth and the recompence of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him

15 The way of a fool is right in his own eyes but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise

16 A fool's wrath is presently known but a prudent man covereth shame

17 He that speaketh truth sheweth forth righteousness but a false witness deceit

18 There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword but the tongue of the wise is health

19 The lip of truth shall be established for ever but a lying tongue is but for a moment

20 Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil but to the counsellors of peace is joy

21 There shall no evil happen to the just but the wicked shall be filled with mischief

22 Lying lips are abomination to the LORD but they that deal truly are his delight

23 A prudent man concealeth knowledge but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness

24 The hand of the diligent shall bear rule but the slothful shall be under tribute

25 Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop but a good word maketh it glad

26 The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour but the way of the wicked seduceth them

27 The slothful man roasteth not that

His mouth, and also from the holy works of His hands Bp Hall

15 The way of a fool is right &c ] Whoever is wise is apt to suspect and be diffident of himself, and upon that account is willing to hearken unto counsel, whereas the foolish man, being in proportion to his folly full of himself, and swallowed up in conceit, will seldom take any counsel but his own, and for that very reason because it is his own Dr J Balguy

16 A fool's wrath &c ] A fool is soon provoked, and shews his anger in an indecent manner by his countenance, words, or actions but a prudent man "covereth shame," that is, is not transported with passion in an unbecomingly manner Dr Wells

19 — a lying tongue is but for a moment ] A liar is soon detected being apt to contradict himself, and to blast his reputation for ever Bp Patrick

23 A prudent man &c ] A prudent man will not display his knowledge, except on proper occasions, but a fool on all occasions betrays his ignorance and folly Bp Patrick, Dr Duffell

25 — a good word maketh it glad ] The kind and encouraging discourses of a friend raise it and make it glad Bp Patrick

27 The slothful man &c ] The slothful man for want of ex-

<sup>Before</sup> CHRIST which he took in hunting but the substance of a diligent man is precious <sup>about 1000</sup> 25 In the way of righteousness is life, and in the pathway thereof there is no death.

CHAP XIII.

A WISE son heareth his father's instruction but a scorner heareth not rebuke

<sup>Chap 12</sup> 2 A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth but the soul of the transgressors shall eat violence

3 He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction

4 The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat

5 A righteous man hateth lying but a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame

<sup>Chap 11</sup> 6 Righteousness keepeth him that is upright in the way, but wickedness overthroweth the sinner

7 There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches

8 The ransom of a man's life are his riches but the poor heareth not rebuke

<sup>Job 18</sup> 9 The light of the righteous rejoiceth but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out

erioneloses even the fruit of his former labours, but the diligent man sets a just value on it, and converts it to its proper use

25 In the way of righteousness is life &c] This is, as it were the sum and substance of the chapter and a proper conclusion of all that we have been taught in the foregoing maxims of Divine philosophy, namely, that religion and a holy conversation are the only sure and infallible way to happiness. So excellent, and so far beyond every other scheme, is this way of righteousness, that not one of all the actions and pursuits in which it engages us shall ever end in misery and disappointment. "In the pathway thereof there is no death," but, saith the Gospel according to the royal prophet, "All things work together for good to them that love God," Rom viii 28. Hogan

[Chap XIII ver 2 A man shall eat good &c] He that speaks well of others and gives them faithful counsel, shall reap the benefit thereof himself, and they that perfidiously calumniate or deceive others shall suffer themselves the injury which they design to do their neighbours. Bp Patrick

7 There is that maketh himself rich &c] There are those who are rich in their poverty, because they are content, and use generously what they have there are others, who in the midst of their riches are really poor, from their insatiable covetousness or profusion. Calmet

8 The ransom of a man's life &c] The rich, on account of their wealth, are sometimes accused of high crimes, that they may pay a large sum to save their lives, but nobody takes the trouble of finding fault with the poor, or bringing charges against him. Bp Patrick

9 The light of the righteous &c] The happiness of the righteous shines like the sun, and increases to their endless joy, but

10 Only by pride cometh contention but with the well advised is wisdom

11 Wealth gotten by vanity shall be diminished but he that gathereth by labour shall increase

12 Hope deferred maketh the heart sick but when the desire cometh it is a tree of life

13 Whoso despiseth the word shall be destroyed but he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded

14 The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death

15 Good understanding giveth favour but the way of transgressors is hard

16 Every prudent man doeth with knowledge but a fool playeth open folly

17 A wicked messenger falleth into mischief but a faithful ambassador is health

18 Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction but he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured

19 The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil

20 He that walketh with wise men shall be wise but a companion of fools shall be destroyed

21 Evil pursueth sinners but to the righteous good shall be repayed

22 A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just the happiness of the wicked is as feeble as the light of a candle, and will soon be extinguished. Bp Patrick

Or "The lump of the wicked shall be put out the seeming and false mirth of wicked men, with which they are vainly gladdened, will soon be put out and end in sorrow." Bp Hall

12 Hope deferred maketh the heart sick] He speaks of a case when by repeated disappointments the hope seems to be removed farther off from day to day which is justly said to sicken the heart. Dr Durrell

13 Whoso despiseth the word &c] Despiseth the good counsel and admonition that are given him. Bp Patrick

14 The law of the wise &c] The law of God, which is the matter and scope to which all the instruction of wise teachers tends is that fountain from which spiritual and eternal life flows and the only means of delivering the soul from the snares of eternal death. Bp Hall

15 Good understanding giveth favour] A prudent, pious, and regular behaviour, is most amiable and acceptable to all men, but the conversation of those who live by no law but their own lusts, like a rough way, is grievously uneasy. Bp Patrick

20 He that walketh with wise men] That is who chooses wise persons for his companions and loses no opportunity of receiving their advice and instruction. Dr Jortin

21 — to the righteous good shall be repayed] This sentence expresses the general truth that the practice of righteousness is men's true interest, even in the present life; and that wickedness is attended with great misery generally, even here as well as hereafter. Dr S Clarke

22 — the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just] Being transferred from his family to another which is virtuous. Bp Patrick

<sup>Booke</sup> <sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 1000</sup> <sup>† Heb</sup> <sup>the bitter</sup> <sup>ness of his</sup> <sup>and</sup> <sup>Chap 12</sup> 23 <sup>Ps</sup> <sup>10</sup> Much food is in the tillage of the poor but there is that is destroyed for want of judgment.

<sup>Chap 23</sup> 24 He that spareth his rod hateth his son but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes

<sup>Ps</sup> <sup>10</sup> 25 The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul, but the belly of the wicked shall want.

CHAP XIV

EVERY wise woman buildeth her house but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands

<sup>Job 12</sup> 2 He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the Lord but he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him

3 In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride but the lips of the wise shall preserve them

4 Where no oxen are, the crib is clean but much increase is by the strength of the ox

<sup>Exod 20</sup> <sup>1</sup> <sup>& 23</sup> <sup>10</sup> <sup>chap 6</sup> <sup>13</sup> <sup>14</sup> <sup>17</sup> 5 A faithful witness will not lie but a false witness will utter lies.

<sup>Chap 9</sup> 6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not but knowledge is easy unto him that understandeth

7 Go from the presence of a foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge

8 The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way but the folly of fools is deceit

<sup>Chap 10</sup> 9 Fools make a mock at sin but among the righteous there is favour

24 He that spareth his rod &c.] A fond indulgence of children is frequently their utter ruin, and an truth is not love, but strict discipline

25 The righteous eateth &c.] A righteous man never wants a sufficiency, because his desires are moderate, and he makes a temperate use of God's blessings whereas wicked men bring themselves to poverty by riot and dissipation. Bp. Patrick

Chap XIV ver 1. — buildeth her house:] By her diligent and prudent management raises up a family, and increases its riches and reputation Bp. Patrick

3 In the mouth of the foolish &c.] The tongue of the fool is a scourge by which his own pride is lashed, but the lips of the wise are a safe defence to himself. Bp. Hall

4 Where no oxen are, &c.] If the fields lie fallow and neglected, a famine will follow, but good husbandry bestowed upon them makes great plenty — Oxen were the principal instruments of husbandry in Palestine, being employed, not only in ploughing a land, and carrying home the crop, but also in treading out the corn Bp. Patrick

6 A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not:] He that comes seeking after knowledge with a mind to scorn and sneer, shall be sure to find matter enough for his laughter, but none for his instruction Lord Bacon.

9 Fools make a mock at sin &c.] But he who does not deem himself too wise to learn, easily and quickly

10 The heart knoweth his own bitterness; and a stranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.

11 The house of the wicked shall be overthrown but the tabernacle of the upright shall flourish

12 There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death

13 Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful, and the end of that mirth is heaviness.

14 The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways and a good man shall be satisfied from himself

15 The simple believeth every word but the prudent man looketh well to his going.

16 A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil but the fool rageth, and is confident

17 He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly, and a man of wicked devices is hated

18 The simple inherit folly but the prudent are crowned with knowledge

19 The evil bow before the good, and the wicked at the gates of the righteous

20 The poor is hated even of his own neighbour but the rich hath many friends

21 He that despiseth his neighbour sinneth but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he

22 Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good attains the knowledge of things necessary and useful Bp. Patrick 9 Fools make a mock at sin] Wantonly commit sin, think nothing of injuring others.

— but among the righteous there is favour] Righteous men do not injure each other, but mutually confer what kindness they can Dr. Wells

10 The heart knoweth &c.] Every man is best acquainted with his own secret sorrows, and knows where he is inwardly wrong, while the world thinks him happy, as, on the other hand, he may have hidden occasions of joy, which cannot be judged of by others Bp. Hall

14 The backslider in heart &c.] He that is froward and perverse, and willingly falls from his former good purposes, shall be sure to suffer the punishment of his wicked courses Bp. Hall

— a good man shall be satisfied from himself.] A good man hath the pleasure of being wise and acting reasonably, the pleasure of being justified to himself in what he does, and of being acquitted by the sentence of his own mind There is great pleasure in being innocent, because that prevents guilt and trouble it is pleasant to be virtuous and good, because that is to excel others, and it is pleasant to know better, because that is to excel ourselves Bp. Tillotson.

19 The evil bow before the good:] The meaning is, The wicked finally yield the ascendancy in life to the good

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

23 In all labour there is profit but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury

24 The crown of the wise is their riches but the foolishness of fools is folly

Ver 5 25 A true witness delivereth souls but a deceitful witness speaketh lies

26 In the fear of the LORD is strong confidence and his children shall have a place of refuge

27 The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death

28 In the multitude of people is the king's honour but in the want of people is the destruction of the prince

29 He that is slow to wrath is of great understanding but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly

30 A sound heart is the life of the flesh but envy the rottenness of the bones

1 Chap 17 5 Mat 25 40 31 He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker but he that honoureth him hath mercy on the poor

32 The wicked is driven away in his wickedness but the righteous hath hope in his death

33 Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding but that which is in the midst of fools is made known

34 Righteousness exalteth a nation but sin is a reproach to any people

35 The king's favour is toward a wise servant but his wrath is against him that causeth shame

23 — but the talk of the lips &c.] He that spendeth his time in idle talk, and doth nothing, will be certain of coming to poverty Bp Hall

24 The crown of the wise &c.] Riches are a singular advantage and ornament to a wise and virtuous man who knows how to use them, but such is the folly of wicked men, that their wealth makes them the more vile, and serves to render their folly more conspicuous Bp Patrick

29 — he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly.] Exposes his own folly, and makes it apparent to every one. Bp Patrick

Anger is certainly one of the most foolish passions of human nature, and commonly betrays men to the most imprudent and unreasonable things Abp Tillotson

30 A sound heart is the life.] A quiet, honest, contented mind, is the life of the flesh, conduces much to health and happiness Dr Wells

32 — the righteous hath hope in his death.] These words have no sense or meaning except on the supposition of a future state for hope always looks forward, and has respect unto something that is future but, if death puts an end to our being, if, according to the creed of the unbeliever, we die like brute animals, and have no after-existence, what hope can the righteous have in his death, any more than the wicked, or how can either of them have any hope at all? This hope can be built on nothing, but the belief of the soul's immortality, and a future state of retribution Dr Ibbot

33 — resteth in the heart.] That is, is locked up in his breast, till the proper time comes of drawing it forth Dr Isham

34. Righteousness exalteth a nation.] We must enlarge in this sentence the meaning of the word "righteousness" to the general strain of the Book of Proverbs, in which the words wisdom and

CHAP. XV

A SOFT answer turneth away wrath but grievous words stir up anger

2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness.

3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good

4 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit

5 A fool despiseth his father's instruction but he that regardeth reproof is prudent

6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.

7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge but the heart of the foolish doeth not so

8 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord but the prayer of the upright is his delight

9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord but he loveth him that followeth after righteousness

10 Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way and he that hateth reproof shall die

11 Hell and destruction are before the Lord how much more then the hearts of the children of men?

12 A scorner loveth not one that re-righteousness are commonly used very comprehensively to signify all religion and virtue Abp Tillotson

— sin is a reproach.] Brings down calamities and misery Dr Wells This is an admirable sentence, and ought to be engraven in all the most publick places of every nation Calm

35 — that causeth shame.] That disgraces his master's government by his evil and unfaithful management of the trust or office committed to him Dr Wells

Chap XV ver 1 A soft answer &c.] Solomon here gives this general caution, that we should not think it enough never to begin strife and contention, but if others begin it, we should not continue it by rough answers, but endeavour presently to make an end by softening the matter, and yield much for the sake of tranquillity Bp Patrick

3 The eyes of the Lord &c.] A continual sense of the Divine presence is the best and only true restraint from vice, the strongest and most encouraging motive to virtue Wogan

4 A wholesome tongue.] A sound (or a healing) tongue, a tongue which imparts sound advice, or pacifies anger Dr Durell "Is a tree of life," is an incomparable blessing to all within its influence But perverseness therein hurts or wounds the soul Bp Patrick

8 The sacrifice of the wicked &c.] The sacrifice of the wicked, however costly it may be, is an abomination to the Lord, but the bare prayer of the upright, though he be unable to bring any costly offerings or sacrifices, is his delight Dr Wells

11 Hell and destruction &c.] Even the devouring grave, and the lowest depths of the earth, be open to the eyes of the Lord, how much more does he behold the bottom of man's heart Bp Hall See the notes on Job xxxi 6

Before
CHRIST
about 1000 Chap 15

Ver 18
Chap 12
R 13 16
Heb
b lchth or bulb 1
chap 21
Jer 16 17
R 13 16
Heb 1 11
Heb 1 11
the tongue
Chap 16

Chap 21
7 Amos
22 Isai 1
11 &c Jer 6 20
2 2

Or Instruction

Job 20 1

25 — he will establish the border of the widow ] He will pro-

CHAP XVI

Chap XVI ver 1 The preparations of the heart &c] The literal version of this, originally gives the best and truest sense of this text, "No man are the dispositions of the heart, but from the Lord is the answer of the tongue," that is, Man hath a power over his thoughts to propose and dispose, to intend and contrive, but to bring such thoughts to effect, or even to utter them with the tongue especially to utter them wisely, depends wholly upon God. A similar sentence occurs in this chapter at ver 9, also chap xx. 24, &c. Hogan

2 All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes, but the Lord weigheth the spirits

3 Commit thy works unto the Lord, and thy thoughts shall be established

4 The Lord hath made all things for himself: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.

5 Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the Lord though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished

6 By mercy and truth iniquity is purged, and by the fear of the Lord men depart from evil

7 When a man's ways please the Lord, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him

8 Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right

9 A man's heart deviseth his way but the Lord directeth his steps

10 A divine sentence is in the lips of the king his mouth transgresseth not in judgment

11 A just weight and balance are the Lord's all the weights of the bag are his work

12 It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is established by righteousness.

13 Righteous lips are the delight of kings, and they love him that speaketh right

14 The wrath of a king is as messengers of death but a wise man will pacify it

15 In the light of the king's countenance is life, and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain

16 How much better is it to get wisdom than gold? and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver?

17 The highway of the upright is to depart from evil he that keepeth his way preserveth his soul

18 Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall

19 Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud 20 He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good and whoso trusteth in the Lord, happy is he.

21 The wise in heart shall be called prudent and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning

2 All the ways of a man &c.] Every man is apt to think the best of his own actions, and to justify himself in his own courses, but the Lord judgeth and examineth the inward disposition, the soul and spirit of a man Bp Hall

3 Commit thy works &c.] When thou undertakest any thing, implore the Divine blessing and, committing the success of it to God's providence, leave it to Him to give what issue to it He pleases, which is the surest way to have thy honest designs accomplished Bp Patrick

4 The Lord hath made &c.] This text may be rendered, with much better sense, and much nearer to the Hebrew, "God hath ordained every thing to that which is fit to it, and the wicked hath He ordained for the day of evil" that is, The wisdom of God hath fitted one thing to another, punishment to sin, the evil day to the evil doer bp Tillotson

'Even the wicked for the day of evil,' that is, Even the most wicked and the worst of men are under His direction and control however they may be set on mischief, they can proceed no further than God permits, being instruments only in His hands to afflict others, and bring evil upon them Dr Waterland

The meaning is, as Scripture elsewhere expresses "The wicked are reserved to the day of destruction, they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath, Job xxi 30 Dr S Clarke

The wicked are indeed the work of God's hands, as being a part of the creation and He gave them the faculties which they have abused and perverted to a sinful purpose but this power to abuse and pervert is inseparable from the character of a free agent The true meaning of this passage is, that God made all things to display His own glorious attributes, and that even wicked men, whose existence and frequent prosperity may seem scarcely reconcilable with the Divine perfections, will, in the end, be found to furnish the strongest proof of His long-suffering in bearing with their iniquities, and of His power and justice in punishing their incorrigible depravity; upon such men "the day of evil will certainly come Bp Tomline

6 By mercy and truth iniquity is purged.] By a sincere observance of God's law, iniquity is most effectually purged away sorrow for sin may begin repentance, but obedience only completes it Wogan

10 A divine sentence &c.] God is present in an especial manner with a pious king, inspiring his mind with sagacity to penetrate doubtful and obscure things, that all causes may be decided by him so justly and exactly that no man may be wronged in the judgment which he passes Bp Patrick

11 — all the weights of the bag are his work.] That is, God requires exact justice in all our dealings, and therefore it is our duty to take care that the weights and balance be just Dr Wile In the margin, "all the stones — Stones were anciently used for weights Dr Isham

14 The wrath of a king &c.] The wrath of a king strike terror into him with whom he is offended, no less than if the sentence of death were pronounced upon him but a virtuous and prudent man appeases his anger and makes a reconciliation Bp Patrick

— as messengers of death.] It is usual in Turkey, when a warrant for a person's death is procured, for an executioner to carry it to him, and execute it immediately The same seems to have been the case in Palestine, 1 Kings iii 25 Matt xiv 10 This may perhaps be considered as giving peculiar energy to the term 'messengers of death here used Harmer

15 — as a cloud of the latter rain.] As a cloud producing the grateful rain of spring See note at Deut xi, 14 Job uses a similar comparison, to express how he was esteemed and desired by his people, Job xxix 23 Culmer

17 The highway of the upright.] The habitual and accustomed course of the upright Wogan

18 Pride goeth before destruction.] That is, pride and haughtiness commonly bring men to shame and destruction; they lead to it, and generally end in it Dr Waterland Pride makes men rash and peevish, obstinate and insolent, and this seldom fails to bring down ruin upon them Dr S Clarke

19 — to divide the spoil with the proud.] To partake with the proud in the rapine and spoil obtained from the meek and lowly Bp Patrick

21 — the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.] He who

Before
CHRIST
about 1000
Chap 19
14 † Heb maketh wile
Chap 11
2
† Heb
The soul him that laboureth
† Heb loweth us to him
† Heb A man of partial
Chap 1
14, 19 & 5
15 & 11 & 12
† Heb sealeth forth

22 " Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it but the instruction of fools is folly.

23 The heart of the wise teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.

24 Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.

25 " There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.

26 † He that laboureth laboureth for himself, for his mouth † craveth it of him.

27 † An ungodly man diggeth up evil, and by his lips there is as a burning fire.

28 † A froward man soweth strife, and a whisperer separateth chief friends.

29 A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.

30 He shutteth his eyes to devise troward things moving his lips he bringeth evil to pass.

31 The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness.

32 He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.

33 The lot is cast into the lap, but the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD.

CHAP XVII

Chap 15
1
Or
good cheer

BETTER is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith, than an house full of sacrifices with strife.

2 A wise servaut shall have rule over a son that causeth shame, and shall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.

3 " The firing pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold but the LORD trieth the hearts.

4 A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips, and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.

5 " Whoso mocketh the poor reproacheth his Maker and he that is glad at calamities shall not be unpunished.

6 " Children's children are the crown of old men, and the glory of children are their fathers.

7 † Excellent speech becometh not a fool much less do † lying lips a prince.

8 " A gift is as a † precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth.

9 " He that covereth a transgression, seeketh love, but he that repeateth the matter separateth very friends.

10 † A reproof entereth more into a wise man than an hundred stripes into a fool.

11 An evil man seeketh only rebellion therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.

12 Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.

13 Whoso rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.

14 The beginning of strife is when one letteth out water therefore leave off contention, before it be meddled with.

his the powerful charms of eloquence to convey his mind pleasantly to others, adds a greater value to his wisdom, and makes it more diffusive, as well as more instructive to the world. Bp Patrick

26 He that laboureth &c.] A man needs no other inducement to labour than his own profit and necessity, for it is by his labour that he must sustain himself and uphold nature, which craveth it of him. Bp Hall

27 — diggeth up evil.] This expression signifies labouring after evil with toil and application, searching for it as a person searching for a hidden treasure. In his lips there is as a burning fire, he carries on his tongue a burning fire, which spreads on every side destruction and devastation. Calmet 30 He shutteth his eyes.] Expressing the profound study with which he contrives the ruin of others. Bp Patrick 32 — than he that taketh a city.] It is a greater thing, in case of great provocation, to calm a man's own spirit, than to storm and take a strong city. Abp Tillotson 33 The lot is cast &c.] The lots are thrown at random, but the overruling hand of God disposeth of them, how they shall light. Bp Hall

Hence every good man may draw this comfortable reflexion, that he is not left to the caprice or hazard of a blind chance, but that his least, as well as greatest, concerns are under the constant and infallible direction of infinite wisdom, which maketh "all things work together for good to them that love God." Hogan

Chap XVII ver 1 — a dry morsel.] A morsel of bread, without butter or oil, which the Hebrews were wont to use. Bp Patrick — an house full of sacrifices.] When sacrifices were offered in the temple, it was usual for the person to have a feast at home with his friends on the remains of the animal slain. Thus a house full of sacrifices means a house full of good provision. See Prov xii 11. Calmet

2 A wise servant shall have rule &c.] Probity and prudence are so much better than mere riches and noble birth, that a wise and faithful servant sometimes arrives at the honour of being appointed the governor of a son, whose folly and wickedness make him a discredit to his family. Bp Patrick

8 A gift is as a precious stone &c.] Secret gifts are wont to win favour to those who bring them, and, if they fall into the hands of corrupt judges, they have power to draw them on either side, and to sway any cause whatever. Bp Hall

9 He that covereth a transgression seeketh love.] He that con-cealeth within himself in offence done to him by his friend, takes a course to maintain friendship and love. Bp Hall 11 An evil man seeketh only rebellion &c.] An evil man is so refractory, that he has shaken off all reverence to God or to his governors, and is so wholly bent on mischief, that he cannot be reclaimed, therefore a severe execution shall be done upon him, to cut him off in his folly without mercy. Bp Patrick 12 — a bear robbed of her whelps.] The female bear is eminently for maternal affection to her young, and dreadfully furious when deprived of them, as many writers have observed. Bp Hall 14 The beginning of strife &c.] This observation is no less true than the image is lively while passion is kept within its proper channel, all is safe and well; but if once we suffer the

Before
CHRIST
about 1000.

Exod. 23
7 & 8, 23 ch 24 24

1 Chap 18
24

1 Chap 6
1 & 11 15
+ Heb.
heart

1 Heb 7 the froward of heart

1 Chap 10 1

1 Chap 15
13 & 12 25
|| Or, to a medicine

1 Eccles 2 11 & 8 1

1 Chap 10
1 & 1, 20, & 19 13

15 * He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, seeing he hath no heart to it?

17 A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.

18 A man void of understanding striketh hands, and becometh surety in the presence of his friend.

19 He loveth transgression that loveth strife, and he that exalteth his gate seeketh destruction.

20 He that hath a froward heart findeth no good, and he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.

21 He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow, and the father of a fool hath no joy.

22 A merry heart doeth good like a medicine, but a broken spirit drieth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom to pervert the ways of judgment.

24 Wisdom is before him that hath understanding, but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.

25 A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bare him.

26 Also to punish the just is not good, nor to strike princes for equity.

27 He that hath knowledge spareth his words, and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise, and he that shutteth his lips is esteemed a man of understanding.

CHAP. XVIII.

THROUGH desire a man, having separated himself, seeketh and intermeddleth with all wisdom.

2 A fool hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may discover itself.

3 When the wicked cometh, then cometh also contempt, and with ignominy reproach.

4 The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, and the wellspring of wisdom as a flowing brook.

5 It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in judgment.

6 A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for strokes.

7 A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul.

8 The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.

9 He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster.

Before
CHRIST
about 1000.

1 Jam 19
|| Or a cool spirit Joh 13 5,

Or He that separates th himself seeketh according to his desire and inter-meddeth in every business

1 Chap 20
5

1 Chap 24
23 & 19
1, Dent 1 17 & 16 19

1 Chap 10
14 & 12
13 & 13 3
1 Chap 1-18 & 26 22

|| Or like as when men are wounded
+ Heb chambers

banks that should dam it, to be broken down, it roars and rages like a mighty torrent, and overspreads and carries all before it. Dean Stanhope 16 Wherefore is there a price &c.] A wealthy fool doth in vain hope by means of his riches to purchase wisdom, since he has not a heart that is capable of it. Bp Hall

17 — a brother is born for adversity.] To give help in the season of adversity. Dr Wells

18 — striketh hands, &c.] See notes at chap vi 1

19 — he that exalteth his gate.] This seems to be a figurative expression for a haughty carriage in general. Dr Durell

22 — a broken spirit drieth the bones.] Preys upon the strength and eats out the vigour of the constitution. Bp Horn

23 — taketh a gift out of the bosom.] The Hebrews used to carry in their bosom their purse, money, and all valuables. Thus perhaps the expression here may not be intended to convey any idea of secrecy, but merely to mark out something precious and valuable, as being carried in the bosom. Calmet

24 — the eyes of a fool &c.] The eyes of a fool are constantly wandering every where, and his thoughts fix on nothing that may avail to his good. Bp Hall

26 — princes.] Or, "honourable men." Schultens

27 — is of an excellent spirit.] In the margin, "of a cool spirit." A man of understanding is of a well tempered spirit, not too forward in putting himself forth. Bp Hall

Chap XVIII ver 1 Through desire a man, &c.] He that in a fervent desire of knowledge has set himself apart to its continual study, labours to inform himself in all parts of wisdom, so that he may not be a stranger to any kind of learning. Bp Hall

"Having separated himself." — A total separation from society and its pleasures, for the pursuit of wisdom, cannot be the meaning of the text, because that is contrary to the main tenour of the Book of Proverbs, and besides, it is obvious that every one in a sense, however excellent, unless it mixes in society with that of others, always degenerates into singularity and caprice. Seed

2 A fool hath no delight &c.] A fool will never take pleasure in true understanding, but all the design of his studies is to make a vain ostentation of wisdom unto others. Bp Patrick

3 When the wicked cometh.] Whosoever the wicked cometh, he is apt to cast contempt and reproach on others. Bp Hall

4 The words of a man's mouth &c.] This sentence expresses the depth, the abundance, the clearness, and the force of the counsels of the wise man. Calmet

5 — to accept the person of the wicked.] To shew favour or partiality to the wicked. Calmet See Job xix 8, 10

6 — his mouth calleth for strokes.] He increases a difference which may arise between others till from words they come to blows. Bp Patrick

8 — are as wounds.] The Hebrew word here rendered "wounds," occurs no where else in the Bible and translators have suffered much in rendering the verse. "The words of the talebearer inflict a deadly wound on those who are the objects of his calumny, and sink deep into the minds of all who hear them." Bp Patrick The Hebrew word is allied to one in Arabick, which signifies "to swallow quickly or greedily." Thus perhaps the meaning may be, "are like dainties which are eagerly swallowed up by those who hear them." Schultens Otherwise "are like subtle poisons, which insinuate themselves and produce their effects insensibly, for they penetrate into the inward parts of the belly where they are rankling and gnawing the vitals." Dr Durell

9 — is brother to him.] It is better than him that is a great spender, he equally consumes life, estate with which he is entrusted. Bp Hall. See the note on Job xxx 29

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

Pal 16
& 27, 1
& 144

† Heb 15 ver 2
† Chap 10

† Chap 10
15 ver 2
† Heb

† Heb † turneth a noun

10 <sup>a</sup> The name of the Lord is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and <sup>b</sup> is safe.

11 <sup>a</sup> The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as an high wall in his own conceit.

12 <sup>a</sup> Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.

13 He that answerseth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him.

14 The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity, but a wounded spirit who can bear?

15 The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge, and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.

16 <sup>a</sup> A man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.

17 He that is first in his own cause seemeth just, but his neighbour cometh and searcheth him.

18 The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty.

19 A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city, and their contentions are like the bars of a castle.

20 <sup>a</sup> A man's belly shall be satisfied with the fruit of his mouth, and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.

21 Death, and life are in the power of the tongue, and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

22 <sup>a</sup> Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the Lord.

† Chap 17
8

† Chap 12
14 & 13 2

† Chap 19
14

11 The rich man's wealth is his strong city,] This verse seems opposed to the preceding. The righteous rests all his strength on God, the name of God is his strong tower, but the rich man regards his riches as an impregnable fortress. Calmet

14 The spirit of a man &c] A resolute and unbounded spirit is able to bear up against infirmities of mind and body, but if the heart of a man be wounded, and dejected with any crosses which befall him, what means has he of any longer sustaining himself? there remains no remedy, but he must needs droop and yield. Bp Hall

— but a wounded spirit who can bear?] The words admit also of being rendered, "a wounded (or dejected) spirit, who can raise it up?" As both senses are true and pertinent, we may well take the passage in both, for the misery of a broken spirit is, that it is very hard to be borne, and that it is without remedy or support. The words may be understood, not of a wounded conscience merely, but of a wounded spirit in general, wounded by grief, and sinking under its load of troubles, no particular cause of trouble being expressed. They contain a caution against yielding too far to any troubles or misfortunes, against letting our spirits sink, or our courage fail us in our day of calamity. Dr Waterland

16 maketh room for him, &c] Opens a way for him, and procures him admittance before great men. Calmet See note on Gen xxi 27

17 He that is first &c] He that is first in telling his own cause, seems to have justice on his side, but his neighbour cometh and examines what was said by him, and then shews the falsity of it. Dr Wells

23 The poor useth intreaties; but the rich answereth roughly.

24 A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly, and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

† James 2 3
† Chap 17
17

CHAP XIX

BETTER is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

2 Also, that the soul be without knowledge, it is not good, and he that hasteth with his feet sinneth.

3 The foolishness of man perverteth his way, and his heart fretteth against the Lord.

4 <sup>a</sup> Wealth maketh many friends, but the poor is separated from his neighbour.

5 <sup>a</sup> A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape.

6 Many will intreat the favour of the prince, and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.

7 All the brethren of the poor do hate him, how much more do his friends go far from him? he pursueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.

8 He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul, he that keepeth understanding shall find good.

9 <sup>a</sup> A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall perish.

10 Delight is not seemly for a fool,

† Chap 14
20

† Exodus 23 1
Deut 19 16
† Chap 6 19 & 21 29

† Heb held innocent † Heb a man of gifts

† Chap 14
20

† Heb an heart

† Ver 5

18 The lot causeth contentions &c] In some cases of difficult adjustment, the casting of lots is an equal way of determining the controversy, and of putting each party in quiet possession of that which falls to his share. Bp Patrick

22 Whoso findeth a wife] The Greek and almost all the old versions read, "whoso findeth a good wife." Dr Durell The meaning is, "one who truly answers to the character of a wife." Dr Wells "Obtaineth favour of the Lord, hath met with an excellent blessing, and ought thankfully to acknowledge the favour of God in guiding his mind to so happy a choice." Bp Patrick

[Chap XIX ver 1 — than he that is perverse &c] Than he that gathers great riches by fraud and circumvention, which he takes to be cunning, but which will prove folly in the end. Bp Patrick

2 — he that hasteth — sinneth] He that hasteth — stumblETH or falleth. He that comes rashly to his determinations, without weighing all the circumstances, cannot, but stumble and err. Bp Hall

3 The foolishness of man &c] Men commit numberless errors through ignorance or inconsideration, and so miss their ends, and then their heart frets not against themselves for their misfortunes, but against the Lord, as if Providence were unkind to them. Dr Wells

10 Delight is not seemly for a fool] A foolish man is unable to make a good use of pleasures, he will use them without rule and without measure, and will often destroy himself by them. Calmet

CHRIST much less 'for a servant to empire over princes.

11 'The discretion of a man deferreth his anger, and it is his glory to pass over a transgression.

12 'The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion, but his favour is as dew upon the grass.

13 'A foolish son is the calamity of his father, and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.

14 House and riches are the inheritance of fathers, and a prudent wife is from the Lord.

15 Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep, and an idle soul shall suffer hunger.

16 'He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his own soul, but he that despiseth his ways shall die.

17 'He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the Lord, and that which he hath given will he pay him again.

18 'Hasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying.

19 A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment: for if thou beliver him, yet thou must do it again.

20 Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in the latter end.

21 'There are many devices in a man's heart, nevertheless the counsel of the Lord, that shall stand.

22 The desire of a man is his kindness, and a poor man is better than a liar.

23 The fear of the Lord tendeth to life, and he that hath it shall abide satisfied, he shall not be visited with evil.

24 'A slothful man hideth his hand in his bosom, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.

25 'Smite a scorner, and the simple will beware, and reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge.

26 He that wasteth his father, and chaseth away his mother, is a son that causeth shame, and bringeth reproach.

27 Cease, my son, to hear the instruction that causeth to err from the words of knowledge.

19 A man of great wrath &c.] A man that is subject to frequent and extreme passions of anger, cannot avoid many and great inconveniences, which he brings on himself, and if thou do in a friendly manner free him from some dangerous effects of his intemperance, he will do it again, he will repeat the same misconduct. Bp Hall

21 — the counsel of the Lord, that shall stand.] That which God has in His everlasting counsels either determined to do Himself, or to suffer to be done by any of His creatures shall whether we will or not, undoubtedly so come to pass, as He hath appointed. Bp Sanderson

22 The desire of a man is his kindness.] There is nothing more desirable for a man than to have whereof to be kind to others, and to confer obligations on his friends and neighbours. Bp Patrick

— a poor man is better than a liar.] If a wealthy man promise much and perform nothing, a poor man, who is unable to undertake or to perform, is better than he. Bp Hall

24 A slothful man hideth &c.] The word which we translate "bosom" signifies more properly "a pan" or "dish." Thus the verse is rendered by many, "The slothful man hideth or plungeth his hand in the pan, and will not so much as (that is, "it irketh or grieveth him to) bring it to his mouth again." In illustration of which sense it is to be remarked, that, to this day, the Arabs and Moors make use at their meals of neither knives, forks, nor spoons, but only of their hands and fingers, in eating pottage, or what we call spoon meat. To this purpose I. Brown says, "The Arabs in feeding on milk use no spoons. They dip their hands into the milk, which is placed before them in a wooden bowl, and sup it out of the palms of their hands." Parkhurst, Harmer

25 Smite a scorner, and the simple will beware.] Punish severely a despiser of religion, and, even if it do him no good, those incautious persons whom he hath deluded will be awakened by it to greater circumspection. Bp Patrick

27 — that strength to err from the words of knowledge.] By the words of "knowledge" we are here to understand, generally, the precepts of virtue and religion, and the sum of the advice given is, that we should be careful to guard against the arts and insinuations of such as set themselves up for teachers of morality and religion. Bp Sherlock

— much less for a servant &c.] Power is still less suited to a vile slave, who is intolerably insolent when he can wantonly domineer over the greatest persons. Bp. Patrick

12 — as the roaring of a lion, &c.] The roaring of a lion, it is said is so terrible, that, in a wild state, all other animals fly away in consternation at the very sound. In the same manner, cruel and headstrong kings spread on every side alarm and consternation. Cumel

— as dew upon the grass.] In hot Eastern climates, where it rarely rains in summer, the copious dews which fall during the night contribute greatly to the nourishment of vegetables in general. The dew says Hasselquist, speaking of the excessively hot weather in Egypt, is particularly serviceable to the trees, which would otherwise never be able to resist the heat, but with this assistance they thrive well and blossom. Parkhurst

13 — are a continual dropping.] Like a roof which continually drops with rain, implying, that it is not more difficult to live in a house with such a roof, than with a quarrelsome woman. Calmet The old English version explains "continual dropping" by "rain that droppeth and rotteth a house," perhaps the meaning may be, like the continued dropping of the eaves of a house, or any continued gentle falling of water, than which nothing is apt to be more tiresome or distracting. Dr Druil

14 — a prudent wife is from the Lord.] A prudent and virtuous wife is an especial blessing from God. Bp Hall

15 — casteth into a deep sleep.] Insensibly sinks the mind into a dull stupidity and unconcernedness about necessary things. Bp Patrick

16 — he that despiseth his ways.] Cares not in how disorderly a manner he liveth. St Wells

17 He that hath pity &c.] He that hath compassion on the poor, and relieves their necessities, does not impoverish but enrich himself. For the Lord considers that which is given to the poor as lent to Himself, and will not fail to make a full compensation, returning the benefit he hath done to others with large interest and measure of blessings on himself and his posterity. Bp. Patrick

Sir Thomas More, a famous Lord Chancellor of England, used always to say "There was more rhetoric, more persuasive argument, in this little sentence, than in a whole library." Bp Horne

Before
CHRIST
1611 1611 1611

28 † An ungodly witness scorneth judgment and the mouth of the wicked deviseth iniquity 29 Judgments are prepared for scorers, and stripes for the back of fools

CHAP. XX.

WINE is a mocker, strong drink is raging and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.

3. The fow of a king is as the roaring of a lion whose provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own soul

3 It is in honour for a man to cease from strife but every fool will be meddling

4. <sup>b</sup> The sluggard will not plow by reason of the || cold, therefore shall he beg in harvest, and have nothing

5 ° Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water, but a man of understanding will draw it out.

6 Most men will proclaim every one his own || goodness but a faithful man who can find ?

7 The just man walketh in his integrity <sup>a</sup> h/s children are blessed after him

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of judgment scattereth away all evil with his eyes.

9 ' Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin ?

10 † Divers weights, and † divers measures, both of them are alike abomination to the Lord

11 Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right 12th The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the Lord hath made even both of them.

13 <sup>b</sup> Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty, open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread

It is naught, it is naught, such the buyer but when he is gone his way, then he boasts th

15 There is gold, and a multitude of rubies, but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

16 Take his garment that is met for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for a strange woman

17<sup>k</sup> † Bread of deceit is sweet to a man, but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.

18 Every purpose is established by counsel and with good advice make war

19<sup>m</sup> He that goeth about, as a talebearer reueleth secrets therefore, meddle not with him that || fluttereth, with his lips

20<sup>n</sup> Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his || lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness

21 An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning, but the end thereof shall not be blessed

22 ° Say not thou, I will recompense evil, but wait on the Lord, and he shall save thee

23 <sup>p</sup> Divers weights are an abomination unto the LORD, and † a false balance is not good

Chip XX ver 1 Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging ] Excess of wine beguiles a man of his senses, and incites him to wanton wickedness and violence. Bp Hall •

2 — sineth against his own soul] Incurs the danger of death
Dr. Isham

4. The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold ] In Syria they begin to plough about the latter end of September, and sow their earliest wheat about the middle of October. The frosts are never severe enough to prevent their ploughing all the winter.

Dr. Russell

5 Counsel in the heart of man &c } Though the designs and intentions of some men are as hard to be sounded as deep waters yet there are persons of such penetrating understandings, and of so great a reach that they will find means to discover them, and to draw them out. By Patrick

6 — but a faithful man who can find? A faithful man, one who will steadily perform what he has promised and what he has boasted he would perform. Schultens.

8 A king that sitteth in the throne of judgment &c.] A king who acts justly

18. Divers weights, &c] A fraudulent diversity of weights and measures is abominable unto the Lord. Bp Hall

11 Even a child &c] It is not difficult, by the carriage and disposition of a person in childhood, to judge what is to be hoped or feared of him in riper years, either good or evil begins to shew itself betimes. By Hall

12 The, hearing ear, &c ] We are here reminded, that we do - rive from God all that we have and all that we are, and that therefore none ought to take glory to himself for any excellent qualities of mind or body which he may possess. (Admet

13 — open thine eyes,] That is arise betimes in the morning, and follow some honest employment Dr. Hells

14 It is naught, — saith the buyer } That is, the buyer unjustly tries to overreach the seller by disparaging his goods; but when he has obtained them at his own price, he boasts of having tricked him. Dr Wells

16 Take his garment] Take a garment (take the uttermost security thou exist) from him who is so inconsiderate as to become surety for an utter stranger and also take a present pledge of him who has the folly to become surety for a strange or infamous woman. Dr Wells

17 Bread of deceit] Under the name of the bread of deceit may be included all things wrongfully obtained, which, however they may please in the beginning, will bring sorrow and pain in the conclusion. Bp. Patrick

20 — his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness] His comfort and help shall be taken from him when he has most need of it, and he shall be left utterly miserable and disconsolate. Bp Hall

22 Say not thou, I will recompense &c ] Take not revenge for an injury received, where thou art not the proper judge, but leave thy cause to the Lord and expect His righteous sentence. Bp Patrick

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

* Ps 37 25
chap. 10 9
Jer 10 3

* Vir 8 Pr
101 3, &c

|| Or lum]

* Ps 101 1
chap 29 11

* Chap. 10
31

† Heb is a purging medicine against evil

24 * Man's goings are of the LORD; how can a man then understand his own way?

25 It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy, and after, vows to make enquiry.

26 * A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel over them.

27 The spirit of man is the candle of the LORD, searching all the inward parts of the belly.

28 * Mercy and truth preserve the king, and his throne is upholden by mercy.

29 The glory of young men is their strength, and the beauty of old men is the grey head.

30 The blueness of a wound cleanseth away evil: so do stripes the inward parts of the belly.

CHAP XXI

THE king's heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water he turneth it whithersoever he will.

2 * Every way of a man is right in his own eyes: but the LORD pondereth the hearts.

3 * To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.

4 * † An high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked, is sin.

5 * The thoughts of the diligent tend only

* Chap. 10

2

* 1 Samuel

10 24

Isa 1 11

Hos 6 6

Mic 6 7

chap 15 8

* Chap 6 17

† Heb

Hautu

ness of eyes

|| Or

the light of the wicked

24 Man's goings are of the Lord.] No man can take one step towards any thing he designs without the permission of the Lord who sometimes overrules the motions of men unto ends so far distant from their thoughts that it is impossible for them to know what the event shall be of any thing they undertake Bp Patrick

25 It is a snare to the man &c.] That man entangleth his soul in the snares of death, who taketh back to a profane use that which is once consecrated to God, and who, after he has vowed any thing to the Lord, argues within himself how he may alter that holy purpose, and defraud God of His due Bp Hall

26 — and bringeth the wheel over them.] A metaphor, to express the due punishment of the wicked, taken from the custom of threshing corn by means of a wheel drawn over it by oxen Isa xxviii 27, 29 Bp Patrick

27 The spirit of man &c.] The soul is a principle of light to guide and direct man in all his motions, enabling him to reflect, not only on his own actions but on his most secret thoughts, and to discover the good or evil which is in them Dr Wells

30 The blueness of a wound &c.] The meaning seems to be, that a wicked man who has received due correction for his crimes will be cured of them or will not so easily fall into the like again, and that though stripes chiefly affect the body yet they have likewise an effect on (the chambers of the belly) the inward recesses of the mind restraining the offender by the fear of punishment. That this is the meaning, of the Hebrew, rendered "the inward parts of the belly," appears from that elegant comparison of the conscience or spirit of a man ver 27 to a light within him, searching out and discovering his most secret thoughts Dr Gray

Chap XXI ver 1 The king's heart is &c.] It is not in the power of kings, much less of other men, either to do or to design to plenteousness; but of every one that is hasty only to want.

6 * The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.

7 The robbery of the wicked shall † destroy them, because they refuse to do judgment.

8 The way of man is froward and strange, but as for the pure, his work is right.

9 * It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, than with † a bawling woman in † a wide house.

10 * The soul of the wicked desireth evil: his neighbour † findeth no favour in his eyes.

11 * When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.

12 The righteous man wisely considereth the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickedness.

13 * Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.

14 * A gift in secret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the bosom strong wrath.

15 It is joy to the just to do judgment: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.

16 The man that wandereth out of the

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

* Chap 11
2 & 11 11

† Heb spew them out with the

* Chap 11
13 & 25 & 27 1

† Heb a woman contention

† Heb in house society

* James 4

† Heb is not favoured

* Chap 19

* Matt 11

30

* Chap 17

8 & 18 1

what they please, but their very wills are subject to the Lord of all, who directs them as easily from what they intend as inclines them to that which they resolve against, as the garden draws the streams of water, through the trenches he cuts, into what part of the ground he thinks good Bp Patrick

4 — the plowing of the wicked.] The designs and contrivance of the wicked Bp Patrick

5 — that is hasty.] Who hopes to get rich rapidly by improper means

6 The getting of treasures &c.] Wealth acquired by falsehood and lying is altogether uncertain and unstable, and will occasion utter destruction both of soul and body to him who unjustly acquires it Bp Hall "Is a vanity tossed to and fro, is not more durable than heaps of chaff or clouds of smoke, which are soon dissipated by the wind Bp Patrick

8 — and strange.] Alienated from God and goodness D Isham

9 — in a corner of the housetop.] During the summer season it was usual to sleep on the tops of the houses, which were flat and properly guarded by a parapet wall, for which purpose little arbours were formed upon them. Thus, however pleasant in fine weather, must have been much otherwise in bad weather Harm

12 — but God overthroweth &c.] The word "God" is not in the Hebrew, and is inserted to make up the sense still the meaning is sufficiently good without this insert ion, if by the "righteous man," we understand not a private person, but a just and upright magistrate. The sense may then be "A just man makes a prudent but strict scrutiny into all the actions of wicked men & family, that he may so punish them for their rapine, violence, and extortion, as to deprive them of all power to further mischief Bp Patrick

13 — a reward in the bosom.] See note at Ps lxxx 12

Before CHRIST about 1000
Or, report
Chap 11
Ver 9
17 way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead.

17 He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.

18 The wicked shall be a ransom for the righteous, and the transgressor for the upright.

19 It is better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and an angry woman.

20 There is treasure to be desired and oil in the dwelling of the wise, but a foolish man spendeth it up.

21 He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour.

22 A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.

23 Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles.

24 Proud and haughty scorner is his name, who dealeth in proud wrath.

25 The desire of the slothful killeth him, for his hands refuse to labour.

26 He coveteth greedily all the day long but the righteous giveth and spareth not.

27 The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination how much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind.

28 A false witness shall perish but the man that heareth speaketh constantly.

29 A wicked man hardeneth his face but as for the upright, he directeth his way.

30 There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the Lord.

31 The horse is prepared against the day of battle but safety is of the Lord.

CHAP XXII

A GOOD name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.

2 The rich and poor meet together the Lord is the maker of them all.

3 A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself but the simple pass on, and are punished.

4 By humility and the fear of the Lord are riches, honour, and life.

5 Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward he that doth keep his soul shall be far from them.

6 Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

7 The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender.

8 He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity and the rod of his anger shall fail.

9 He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed, for he giveth of his bread to the poor.

17, — that loveth wine and oil ] That loveth eating and drinking

18 The wicked shall be a ransom &c ] It frequently falls out, through the wise and just providence of God, that those calamities which threatened to seize, on the godly and righteous man, fall, in their stead, on the wicked and transgressors Bp Hall

24 Proud and haughty scorner &c ] He that deals proudly in his anger, is worthy to be branded with the name of an insolent scorner Bp Hall

25 The desire of the slothful killeth him ] The slothful man is consumed by vain longings

27 — when he bringeth it with a wicked mind ] When at the very time he is projecting some wicked design which he thinks to sanctify by his sacrifices Bp Patrick

28 — but the man that heareth ] The man who heard, that is who testifies only to what he heard, "speaketh" convincingly so as to carry his point Bate Parkhurst

29 — hardeneth his face ] He hardens his face against shame laughs at correction, and impudently defends the evil he has done. The upright, on the contrary, watches over his ways, and corrects them when he is made aware of his errors Calmet

30 There is no wisdom &c — against the Lord ] Wisdom, counsel, &c avail nothing when they oppose the counsels and decrees of Heaven Bp Patrick

CHAP XXII ver 1 — and loving favour ] The loving favour of good men Dr Wells

2 The rich and poor meet together &c ] The obvious meaning of this proverbial speech is, that the rich and poor are mingled or rather associated together, as members of the same community, under very different circumstances indeed, as to their outward appearance and condition, but with a manifest equality as to their nature and origin, "the Lord is maker of them all" Dean Moser

3 — foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself ] Foresees a calamity before it comes, and withdraws himself from the danger into a place of safety Bp Patrick

6 Train up a child &c ] In these words are contained, 1st, the duty of parents and instructors, "Train up a child in the way he should go, that is, in the course of life which he ought to lead instruct him carefully in the knowledge and practice of his whole duty to God and man, which he ought to perform and observe all the days of his life 2d, the fruit and benefit of good education, that, "when he is old, he will not depart from it" This we must understand according to the moral probability of things, not as if this happy effect did always and infallibly follow upon the good education of a child, but that this very frequently is, and may probably be hoped and presumed to be, the fruit and effect of a pious and prudent education though exceptions may occur, yet they are not sufficient to infringe the general truth of the assertion Abp Illotson

7 — and the borrower &c ] I loses his liberty, and depends on the will and pleasure of the lender Bp Patrick

9 He that hath a bountiful eye ] He who freely gives, and delights to afford pleasure to others, opposed to him who has an evil eye "Is thine eye evil, &c Matt xx 15 Calmet

"Good of eye, as in the margin, denotes kindness or benevolence in heart, which quality is usually accompanied with a good natured benevolent eye or look. On the contrary, "evil in eye," is equivalent to envious, grudging, chap xxii 6 xxviii 2 Parkhurst

10 <sup>Before CHRIS about 100</sup> Cast out the scorner, and contention shall go out; y<sup>e</sup> strife and reproach shall cease 11 <sup>Or and hath grace in his ly</sup> He that loveth pureness of heart, the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend.

12 The eyes of the Lord preserve knowledge, and he overthroweth the words of the transgressor

13 <sup>Chap 6</sup> The slothful man saith, There is a lion without, I shall be slain in the streets

14 <sup>Chap 2</sup> The mouth of strange women is a deep pit he that is abhorred of the Lord shall fall therein

15 Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child, but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him

16 He that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want

17 Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge

18 For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee, they shall withal be fitted in thy lips

19 That thy trust may be in the Lord, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee

20 Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge, 21 That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth, that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee? <sup>Before CHRIS about 10</sup>

22 Rob not the poor, because he is poor neither oppress the afflicted in the gate <sup>Or those and the</sup>

23 For the Lord will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them <sup>each 10 Chap 11 Job 14</sup>

24 Make no friendship with an angry man, and with a furious man thou shalt not go

25 Lest thou learn his ways, and get a snare to thy soul

26 Be not thou one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts <sup>Chap 11</sup>

27 If thou hast nothing to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee?

28 Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set <sup>Chap 2</sup>

29 Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings, he shall not stand before mean men <sup>Or how Heb of some men</sup>

CHAP XXIII

WHEN thou sittest to eat with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee

2 And put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite

3 Be not desirous of his dainties for they are deceitful meat

4 Labour not to be rich cease from thine own wisdom <sup>Tim 9 10</sup>

13 The slothful man saith &c ] The slothful man feigns idle excuses and pretences of danger when he ought to be employed on his business Bp Hall

14 The mouth of strange women &c ] The plausible and smooth tongue of a harlot is no less dangerous than a deep pit fairly covered, into which if a man fall, there is small hope of his recovering himself and it is a fearful sign and effect of God's anger to be given over to her enticements Bp Hall

15 Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child ] There is a foolish & yvishness which is natural to the child and cleaves close to its disposition Bp Hall

16 and he that giveth to the rich ] He that giveth to the rich and powerful, to induce them to wink at his oppression of other Dr Wells

17 Bow down thine ear, &c ] From this verse all interpreters have observed that another form of speech different from the preceding begins and continues to the twenty-fifth chapter From the beginning of the truth chapter to this place, the instructions of wisdom are delivered in short sentences and proverb properly so called which have seldom any connexion But now follow exhortations and precepts in the imperative mood and those comprehended in two three or more verses Bp Patrick

18 they shall withal be fitted in thy lips ] They shall withal be truly upon thy lip Dr Durell So that thou shalt be able to produce them as there is occasion and aptly communicate them for other men's instruction Bp Patrick

22 in the gate ] The gate of the city where publick justice was administered See notes at Deut. xxi 10 xxii 9 xxv Ruth iv 1,

21 thou shalt not go ] Rather Go not for both parts the sentence are expressed in the same tense Dr Durell

27 If thou hast nothing to pay &c ] If thou hast nothing pay, why shouldst thou be so egregiously foolish as only to incense the creditor against thee by taking upon thee to pay what thou art not able, and so provoke him to shew thee no pity but even to take away thy bed from under thee Dr Wells

29 he shall stand before kings ] He shall soon be preferred to the service of his prince, and shall not continue long in the service of a private person Dr Wells

Chap XXIII ver 1 When thou sittest to eat with a ruler ] The foregoing chapter closes with an observation concerning the qualities of a person who is most likely to come to preferment this begins with a caution to him as to his behaviour when he promoted to it Solomon advises such a person to be very considerate on such occasions who and what is before him and to always on his guard lest he commit excess, or betray want of respect Bp Patrick

2 put a knife to thy throat ] Be careful by all means to restrain thy wanton appetite if thou be a man given to pleasure Bp Hall This is a bold & stern phrase expressive of the absolute necessity of restraining the appetite and intimating that there is as much danger in indulging them as there is in using against a knife applied to the throat Dr Durell

4 Labour not to be rich ] Do not too eagerly strive and labour to be rich, and follow not thy own carnal wisdom, which suggests to thee wrong ways to the hasty acquirement of wealth Bp Hall

<sup>Before</sup>
CHRIST
<sup>about 1000</sup>
† Heb
Wilt thou raise thine eyes to fly
upon

5 † Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themselves wings, they fly away as an eagle toward heaven

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire thou his dainty meats

7 For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he Eat and drink, saith he to thee, but his heart is not with thee

8 The morsel which thou hast eaten shalt thou vomit up, and lose thy sweet words

9 Speak not in the ears of a fool for he will despise the wisdom of thy words

10 Remove not the old landmark, and enter not into the fields of the fatherless

11 For their redeemer is mighty, he shall plead their cause with thee

12 Apply thine heart unto instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge

13 Withhold not correction from the child for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die

14 Thou shalt beat him with the rod, and shalt deliver his soul from hell

15 My son, if thine heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice, even mine

16 Yea, my reins shall rejoice, when thy lips speak right things

17 Let not thine heart envy sinners but be thou in the fear of the Lord all the day long

18 For surely there is an end, and thine expectation shall not be cut off

19 Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way

20 Be not among winebibbers, among riotous eaters of flesh

21 For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags

22 Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old

23 Buy the truth, sell it not, also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice and he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him

25 Thy father and thy mother shall be glad, and she that bare thee shall rejoice

26 My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways

27 For a whore is a deep ditch, and a strange woman is a narrow pit

28 She also lieth in wait as for a prey, and increaseth the transgressors among men 29 Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes?

30 They that tarry long at the wine, they that go to seek mixed wine

31 Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright

32 At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder

33 Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things

34 Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth

23 Buy the truth and sell it not ] That is, Spend no cost to purchase truth and sell it not for my gain Di Tbol

27 — is a deep ditch ] From which it is difficult to escape Di Tbol

29 — who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? ] Who is given to idle obscene words? who suffers stripes and wounds in distempered fancies Bp Hall

30 — mixed wine ] The Hebrew word means wine mixed with the lees, which was of a highly intoxicating quality Parkhurst Or spiced wine Michaelis

31 Look not thou upon the red &c ] Suffer not thine eyes to be tempted by beholding with too much pleasure the pure and grateful colour of wine when it flows itself in the cup and sparkles, through the strength and spirit that is in it Bp Hall

— when it is red ] Red wine is more esteemed in the East than white and we are told in the Travels of Olearius, that it is customary with the Armenians Christians in Persia to put Brazil wood, or saffron, into their wine, to give it in his colour when the wine is not so red as they like, is they set little value on white wine Hammer

4 — thou shalt be as he that &c ] Thy head shall be as silly and thy brain as much turned, as if thou wert laid asleep in the midst of the ship, or placed on the top of the tallest mast Bp Hall

5 Wilt thou set thine eyes ] Wilt thou be so intent upon riches, and pursue them with such haste and earnestness, which perhaps, thou canst never catch, or which if thou dost may be gone as fast as they thine, and by all thy care and pains never be recovered?

They fly away as an eagle He sets forth the inconstancy of riches by the flight of an eagle which of all birds is observed to fly swiftest and highest toward heaven Bp Patrick

6—8 Eat thou not the bread &c ] Court not the acquaintance of a malicious person, whatever kindness he may shew thee will be dearly paid for, and all thy friendly language will be lost on him

10 — enter not into the fields &c ] Invasions of the estates of the fatherless for God (ver 11) is in a special manner their Redeemer and Protector, who is mighty above all others Di Wells

13 — shall not die ] It shall be preserved from destruction Di Tbol

18 For surely there is an end ] For surely there shall be a blessed reward of all thy holy endeavours and thy expectation of a joyful retribution shall not be disappointed Bp Hall

20 — among riotous eaters of flesh ] This is a general caution against intemperance and riotous feasting

<sup>Before</sup>
CHRIST
<sup>about 1000</sup>
† Heb
Wilt thou
raise thine
eyes to fly
upon

† Heb Wilt thou
raise thine
eyes to fly
upon

† Heb Wilt thou
raise thine
eyes to fly
upon

† Heb Wilt thou
raise thine
eyes to fly
upon

† Heb Wilt thou
raise thine
eyes to fly
upon

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

† Heb. in the heart of the sea † Heb. I knew it not down † in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of the mast.

35 They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not. when shall I awake? I will seek it yet again

CHAP. XXIV

* Chap. 9
1 ver 19
† Psal 17
1
† Psal 107

BE not thou *envious against evil men, neither desire to be with them.

2 For their heart studieth destruction, and their lips talk of mischief

3 Through wisdom is an house builded, and by understanding it is established

4 And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleasant riches

† Heb. is in strength
† Heb. strengthen eth might * Chap. 11
14 & 15 22
& 30 18

5 A wise man † is strong, yea, a man of knowledge † increaseth strength

6 For by wise counsel thou shalt make thy way and in multitude of counsellors there is safety

7 Wisdom is too high for a fool he openeth not his mouth in the gate

8 He that deviseth to do evil shall be called a mischievous person

9 The thought of foolishness is sin and the scorner is an abomination to men

† Heb. narrow
† Psal 84 4

10 If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is † small

11 If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain;

Before
CHRIST
about 1000

12 If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not, doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works?

* Job 41 11
† Psal 6 1
† Psal 32 19
† Rom 2 4
† Rev 2 12
† Heb. upon thy palate
† Ps 19 10
† Ps 119 103
* Chap 23
18

13 My son, eat thou honey, because it is good, and the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste

14 So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul when thou hast found it, then there shall be a reward, and thy expectation shall not be cut off

15 Lay not wait, O wicked man, against the dwelling of the righteous, spoil not his resting place

16 For a just man falleth seven times, and riseth up again but the wicked shall fall into mischief.

* Psal 94
19 & 24
Job 6 19

17 Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he stumbleth

* Psal 5 15
chap 17 5
Job 31 29

18 Lest the LORD see it, and † it displease him, and he turn away his wrath from him

† Heb. it be evil in his eyes * Ps 37 1
chap 23 17

19 || Fret not thyself because of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked,

|| Or Ac2 not company with the wicked
† Chap 13 5
Job 21 17
|| Or lamp

20 For there shall be no reward to the evil man, the || candle of the wicked shall be put out

35 They have stricken me &c.] This verse describes the drunken man's insensibility to blows

Chap XXIV ver 1 Be not thou envious &c.] The proneness of good men to be dejected at the prosperity of the ungodly, and so to be tempted to imitate them, is the reason that the admonition given in this verse is so often repeated. We find it before at ch iii 31 xxiii 17 and it is repeated at ver 19 of this chapter
Bp Patrick

5 — a man of knowledge increaseth strength] A man of knowledge and understanding imparts a great increase of strength and defence to the whole city or community in which he is Bp Hall

7 Wisdom is too high for a fool] Wisdom is too high for a vain or inconsiderate person duly to value, and consequently to take sufficient pains to attain, whence it is, that he "openeth not his mouth in the gate, never becomes a judge or publick magistrate D. Wells

9 The thought of foolishness is sin] He that is wickedly foolish entertains commonly no thoughts but sinful Bp Hall

— the scorner is an abomination to men] It is worthy of remark that Solomon frequently exhorts us not to be scornors or scoffers in religion. Such persons he considers as the worst sort of sinners, as incurable fools and reprobates. The scorner, if he be in a mean and poor condition, does all the mischief he can in his narrow sphere of action if he be in an exalted station, he is a publick curse and a national calamity D. Jortin

11, 12 If thou forbear &c.] The sum of the instruction conveyed in these verses is, that every man according to his place and power, and especially those who are armed with any publick authority, are bound, both in charity and in justice, to use the utmost of their power, and to embrace all lawful opportunities, by all lawful means, to help those to right that suffer wrong to stand by their poorer brethren and neighbours in the day of calamity and distress, to defend them in their righteous causes, to protect them from injuries, and to deliver them out of the hands of those who are too mighty, or too crafty, for them, who seek, either by violence or cunning, to deprive them of their lives or livelihoods Bp Sanderson

13 — eat thou honey, &c.] The wise man shews with what pleasure the instructions of wisdom should be received, (ver 14) and how profitable also and necessary they are, by the example of honey, which was not only esteemed for its grateful flavour in those countries, but deemed most useful for the support of human life. It was held in great esteem for food for drink, for medicine for preserving of dead bodies, and particularly for infants See Isa vii 15 Leclius xxxiv 26 Hence the ancient Christians used to give a little milk and honey to those who were baptized as persons newly regenerate and born again, because honey, as well as milk, was the nutriment of little children in those countries See 1 Sam xiv 27 Luke xxiv 41, 42 All this may be applied to heavenly wisdom, from which the mind derives the greatest satisfaction, and therefore it ought to be our daily diet from the beginning of our days to the end of them Bp Patrick

16 For a just man falleth seven times,] Rather, "I though a just man falleth seven times, yet will he rise again Dr Durell A righteous man, if he fall into manifold miseries and calamities, yet, through the goodness of God, shall be delivered out of them all Bp Hall

18 Lest the Lord see it, &c.] Lest the Lord see thy inward gladness, which man cannot see, and such a sinful and unreasonable feeling displease Him, and "He turn away His wrath from the wicked man, and transfer it on thee Dr Wells

<sup>Before</sup> <sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 1000</sup> <sup>† Heb</sup> <sup>haurys</sup> 21 My son, fear, thou the Lord and the king and meddle not with † them that are given to change

22 For their calamity shall rise suddenly, and who knoweth the ruin of them both?

23 These things also belong to the wise <sup>Lev 19</sup> <sup>15</sup> <sup>chap 19 5</sup> <sup>28, 21</sup> <sup>Deut 1 17</sup> <sup>16 19</sup> <sup>John 24</sup> <sup>chap 17</sup> <sup>15</sup> <sup>Isa 5 23</sup> <sup>† Heb</sup> <sup>a blessing</sup> <sup>f sound</sup> <sup>† Heb that</sup> <sup>answereth</sup> <sup>right words</sup> — <sup>Chap 20</sup> <sup>22</sup> <sup>29</sup> ° <sup>† Heb</sup> <sup>at my</sup> <sup>heart</sup> <sup>° Chap 1</sup> <sup>9, &c</sup> <sup>21</sup> <sup>My son, fear, thou the Lord and the king</sup> <sup>and</sup> <sup>meddle not with † them that are</sup> <sup>given to change</sup>

24 <sup>He</sup> that saith unto the wicked, 'Thou art righteous, him shall the people curse, nations shall abhor him

25 But to them that rebuke him shall be delight, and † a good blessing shall come upon them

26 Every man shall kiss his lips † that giveth a right answer

27 Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyself in the field, and afterwards build thine house.

28 Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause, and deceive not with thy lips

29 ° Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me I will render to the man according to his work

30 I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding,

31 And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken down

32 Then I saw, and † considered it well I looked upon it, and received instruction

33 ° Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep.

34 So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as † an armed man

CHAP XXV

1 Observations about kings 8 and about avoiding causes of quarrels, and sundry causes thereof

THESE are also proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out

2 It is the glory of God to conceal a thing but the honour of kings is to search out a matter

3 The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unsearchable

4 Take away the dross from the silver, and there shall come forth a vessel for the finer

5 ° Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness

6 † Put not forth thyself in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men

7 ° For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither, than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen

8 Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame

9 ° Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself, and † discover not a secret to another

Chap XXV Here begins the third part of the Book of Proverbs, which is a collection made by some belonging to Hezekiah and acknowledged here, in the entrance of the book, as well as the former, to be Solomon's Bp Patrick See the Introduction

Vers 2 It is the glory of God to conceal &c ] It is the peculiar glory of God as being a prerogative justly due to His transcendent majesty, wisdom, goodness, and justice to conceal a thing, that is, not to make known all the reasons of His providence, or of His decrees or judgments Dr Wells

3 The heaven for height, &c ] It is as impossible for vulgar minds to penetrate into the secrets of state and understand the counsels and designs of wise princes, and the various ways and means whereby they project to effect their ends as it is to know how far it is from hence to the height of heavens, or how far to the centre of the earth upon which we tread Bp Patrick Dr Durell

6 Put not forth thyself &c ] He here admonishes subjects not to be vainly ambitious, nor bold and forward in thrusting themselves into offices that do not belong to them but to be modest, and, according to our Saviour's rule, Luke xiv 8, to be invited to honour rather than to seek it Bp Patrick

9 Debate thy cause &c ] If there be a difference between thy neighbour and thee, take him aside, and in a friendly manner argue the matter with him alone and discover not a secret unkindness to a third person, till thou see no other way of reconciliation. Bp Hall

21 — and meddle not with them that are given to change ] And have nothing to do with those, whose discontent with the present state of things, or continual love of novelty, makes them desire a change of government, and depart from their duty both to God and man Bp Patrick

26 Every man shall kiss his lips &c ] Every good man shall applaud and bless the mouth of him who giveth an upright sentence in judgment Bp Hall

27 Prepare the work without, &c ] Get thy estate in good order, and then go build thy house

28 — and deceive not with thy lips ] The word which we render "deceive" signifies, in the original, any damage, any inconvenience, brought upon a man in the way of slander, calumny, backbiting, or any other injurious manner of representing him We must consider every degree of this sin as forbidden in the precept Dr S Clarke

29 Say not, I will do so to him &c ] That is, whether revenge or any other feeling, be the temptation to the practice, the sin itself is of the deepest dye, and condemned amongst the most detestable crimes, both by reason and Scripture Dr S Clarke

31 — and the stone wall ] Stone walls were frequently used for the preservation of vineyards, as well as living fences Van Egmont and Heyman, describing the country round about Sapphet, a celebrated city of Galilee, tell us, the country round is finely improved, the declivity being covered with vines supported by low walls Harmer

33, 34 Yet a little sleep, &c ] See before at chap. vi 10, 11

Before
CHRIST
about 700

† Heb spoken up on his wheel

4 Chap 1<sup>o</sup> 17

† Heb in a gift of falseness

Gen 32
4, &c
1 Sam 25
24, &c
chap 15
A 16 14

|| Or Let thy foot be still in thy neighbour's house
† Heb ful of the P 120
chap 12 1

10 Lest he that heareth it put thee to shame, and thine infamy turn not away

11 A word † fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver

12 As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reproof upon an obedient ear

13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him for he refresheth the soul of his masters

14 Whoso boasteth himself of a false gift is like clouds and wind without rain

15 By long forbearing is a prince persuaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone

16 Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee, lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it

17 Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbour's house, lest he be † weary of thee, and so hate thee

18 A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow

19 Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint 20 As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon nitre, so is he that singeth songs to an heavy heart

21 If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat, and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink

22 For thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the Lord shall reward thee

23 The north wind driveth away rain, so doth an angry countenance a backbiting tongue

24 It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop, than with a brawling woman and in a wide house

25 As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country

26 A righteous man falling down before the wicked is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt spring

27 It is not good to eat much honey, so for men to search their own glory is not glory

28 He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls

Before
CHRIST
about 700

1 Rod
4 Rom
1 20

Or
The north wind bring eth forth rain so doth a back biting tongue an angry countenance
1 Chap 19
13 & 21

1 Chap 19
32

11 A word fitly spoken &c.] The general design of this sentence is manifestly to express the value and gratefulness of a word of counsel reproof or comfort, delivered in due time and place. Bp Patrick The Hebrew translated in its most literal form, is a word spoken on its wheels as the margin gives it, figuratively expressing a discourse which is grateful which flows smoothly agreeably and without harshness. Calmet

— like apples of gold in pictures of silver.] As oranges or citrons in curiously engraved work of silver. Parkhurst It may be doubtful whether by 'apples of gold' be meant apples that look like gold, or 'apples made of gold' like golden bells or beautiful apples presented in a silver network basket. Bp Patrick Solomon probably alludes to the pomegranates and network in the temple 1 Kings vii 20

12 — an ornament of fine gold.] The Hebrew words seem to mean any costly ornament wrought with great labour and pains. Parkhurst

13 As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, &c.] As the mixing of snow with wine in the sultry time of harvest is pleasing and refreshing, so a successful messenger revives the spirit of his master who sent him, and who was ready to faint from apprehension of his failure. The practice of cooling wines with snow was usual among the Eastern nations. It was derived from the Asiatics and Greeks to the Romans. Plutarch describes the manner in which they preserved the snow by covering it with straw and coarse cloths unshorn. In some hot countries it was often difficult to obtain it and they were obliged to search into the hollow cliffs to collect it. Mount Hebron which was always covered with snow plentifully supplied the inhabitants of the country near it from whence it was often carried to Tyre. Barry

14 Who boasteth himself &c.] He that makes bountiful and deluding promises of great gifts which will never be performed, is like a cloud that makes a shew of rain which it cannot yield. Bp Hall

15 — a soft tongue breaketh the bone.] A gentle and submissive answer softens and renders supple the hardest and most inflexible heart. Bp Hall

16 Hast thou found honey? &c.] Moderation is here recommended in our pursuits and enjoyments. Dr Isham

18 — is a maul.] Or hammer—to beat down a man's time or break in pieces his estate. Bp Patrick

Solomon very fully and elegantly expresses the destructive nature of this sin. He intimates that, among all the instruments of ruin and mischief which have been devised by mankind none is of more pernicious consequence to human society than perjury and breach of faith. It is a pestilence that usually worketh in darkness, a secret stab and blow against which frequently there is no possibility of defence. Bp Tillotson

20 As he that taketh away a garment &c.] He that offends mankind to a man in deep heaviness does it is unseasonably as he that takes away a covering in extreme cold weather. Bp Hall

— as vinegar upon nitre.] By the nitre of the ancients is not meant what we now call nitre or saltpetre, but the (mineral) alkali called soda by chemists which occasions a strong fermentation with all acids. Thus, in the passage before us, the unsuitableness of the singing of songs to a heavy heart is very finely compared to the opposition which subsists between vinegar and nitre. For the nitre of the ancients, see further Jer ii 22 Th. Shaw

22 — thou shalt heap coals of fire &c.] If he have the least spark of goodness in him, it will work a change in his mind and make him throw off all his enmities, or, if it have the contrary effect he shall have so much the sorer punishment, and thou shalt not lose thy reward, which the Lord himself will give thee. Bp Patrick

23 The north wind driveth away rain &c.] It appears from the version given in the margin that these words admit of two opposite senses. Either, 'as the north wind scatter clouds and drives away rain so a severe countenance puts a stop to a slanderous tongue', or, 'as the north wind begetteth rain, so a backbiting tongue raiseth up anger and indignation'. Bp Patrick

27 — is not glory.] Proves at last not honourable, but reproachful, to them. Bp Patrick

28 — that hath no rule over his own spirit.] Or over his passions is thereby exposed to innumerable dangers, like a city without walls. Dr Bell

Before
CHRIST
about 700

CHAP XXVI

1 Observations about fools 13 about sluggards, 17 and about contentious busybodies

As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, so honour is not seemly for a fool,

2 As the bird by wandering, as the swallow by flying, so the curse causeless shall not come

3 A whip for the horse, and a rod for the fool's back

4 Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him

5 Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit

6 He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool cutteth off the feet, and drinketh damage

7 The legs of the lame are not equal so is a parable in the mouth of fools

8 As he that bindeth a stone in a sling, so is he that giveth honour to a fool

9 As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools

10 The great God that formed all things both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth transgressors

11 As a dog returneth to his vomit, so a fool returneth to his folly

12 Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him

13 The slothful man saith, There is a lion in the way, a lion is in the streets

14 As the door turneth upon his hinges, so doth the slothful upon his bed

15 The slothful hideth his hand in his bosom, it grieveth him to bring it out to his mouth

16 The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit than seven men that can reason

17 He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears

18 As a mad man who casteth fire brands, arrows, and death, 19 So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport?

20 Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out, so where there is no title bearer, the strife ceaseth

21 As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire, so is a contentious man to kindle strife

22 The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly

23 Burning lips and a wicked heart are like a potsheerd covered with silver dross

24 He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him;

† Heb his wage
Or Hence † Heb are left d up O
As he that putteth a precious stone in a heap of
Or A man
th cometh
f
th
many
Pet

† Heb returneth his f

Chap XXVI ver 1 As the bird by wandering &c.] The meaning of this verse has been variously explained. Curses which fly out of mens mouths causelessly shall no more fall where they intend, than a swallow which wanders uncertainly or a dove which flies away swiftly will settle according to their direction. Bp Patrick The meaning may perhaps be that evils natural or moral owe not their being to chance, like the accidental flight of birds in this or that direction but are all directed by the will of an all-wise superintending Providence. Dr Duell 3 — a bridle for the ass.] According to our English notions, we should rather say A bridle for an horse, and a whip for an ass. It should be considered however that the Eastern asses, particularly those of the Arabian breed, are much larger more beautiful, and better natured than those in our cold northerly countries and so, no doubt they were anciently in Palestine where, as we find from many passages they were the beasts on which people usually rode. see Job xxxix. Parkhurst

4, 5 Answer not a fool &c.] In the first of these verses the meaning is I enter not into contest with a fool. In the second, suffer not thy folly to go unreproved both to be determined by times and circumstances

6 He that sendeth a message &c.] He that sends a witless man, or one that minds nothing but his pleasure to treat about his business will be sure not only to miscarry in it, but to suffer great damage by his ill management. Bp Patrick

7 The legs of the lame &c.] A wise saying is ill becomes a fool as a lame does a cripple for, as his lameness never so much appears as when he would seem nimble so the others folly is never so ridiculous as when he would seem wise. Bp Patrick

8 As he that bindeth a stone &c.] The application of this comparison to the moral sentiment seems to be sufficiently obvious, the honour bestowed upon a fool is thrown away, as the stone from a sling. Dr Duell Or, the sense of the marginal translation

tion is good and clear, As he that putteth a precious stone in a heap of stones &c. The precious stone in the one case and the honour in the other is thrown away and lost. Parkhurst

9 As a thorn goeth up.] It is no more fit for a fool to meddle with a wise speech than for a drunken man to handle a bush of thorns. Bp Hall

They hurt themselves by the interpretation and application of it and a drunken man does his hand with a hook or thorn, which he has not steadiness to handle. Parkhurst

11 As a dog returneth to his vomit, &c.] As a dog which has often vomited by eating too much food which is noxious to his stomach yet will do the like again and so make himself vomit again, so a fool that is not to be reclaimed returns to his folly though he has suffered often for it before. Dr Wells As it is said that, of all animals the dog is the only one known that will return to eat food which it has vomited. Calmat

12 Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? Pride makes men impatient of good advice and instruction and that renders them incorrigible in their vices. Dr S Clarke

13 The slothful man &c.] See before at chap xxii 13

16 The sluggard &c.] The sluggard will not be beaten out of his sloth, and, however many wise men may endeavour to persuade him out of his dull idleness yet he persists in his error and thinks himself wiser than them all. Bp Hall

19 — the man that deceiveth his neighbours &c.] That is who leads his neighbour into any mischief. Dr S Clarke

21 As coals are to burning coals, &c.] Provoking language quickly passes into quarrels, as dead coals do into burning coals, and wood into fire, when they are applied the one to the other. Bp Patrick

22 The words of a talebearer.] See chap xviii 6

23 Burning lips &c.] Warm lips, that is, lips making warm and eager professions, and a bad deceitful heart. Parkhurst

28 A lying tongue hurteth those that are afflicted by it; and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

1 Observations of self love, 5 of true love 11 of car to avoid offences, 25 and of the household etc

1 Heb
he 1 miss

A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty, but a fool's wrath is heavier than them both.

7 The full soul † loatheth an honeycomb, but † to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.

8 As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place

26 — shewn before the whole congregation } Openly exposed to the view of all the world Bp Patrick Made to appear before a publick court of judicature Dr Wells

28. [Flying to us hateth &c.] A man of a lying tongue hates those whom he has wronged, for a consciousness of his injurious conduct, and from a knowledge that he has deceived their friend By Hal

(chap XXVII ver. 7 — is he wiser than them both) Is more intolerable is more troublesome to bear Edw Hall

5 Open rebuke is better than secret love | He that rebukes others freely when need requires is a more valuable friend than he who from fear of offending his not courage to tell the full of their faults. Ep 1 trust • b — the name of a friend ] The reproofs of a friend however hurt and cutting Dr. Wolfe . . .

8 — That wandereth from his place } From his home or country In Duell

• 10 — neither in my brother's house &c.] Neither go to thy brother's house for help and relief in the day of thy calamity, only because he thy brother finds thou art well assured before hand that he is thy true friend is well is brother for better is a neighbour that is near to one in true friendship and affection than a brother that is only near in kin but lacks affection
Dr Wells

12<sup>t</sup> A prudent man foreseeth the evil, <sup>1 Chap. 22</sup> and hideth himself, but the simple pass on, and are punished

13<sup>f</sup> Take his garment that is surety for <sup>a</sup> Chap. 20 a stranger, and take a pledge of him for a <sup>1c</sup>
strange woman

14 He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him

15<sup>b</sup> A continual dropping in a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike. <sup>1</sup>

16 Whosoever hideth her hideth the wind, and the ointment of his right hand, which bewrayeth itself

17 Lion sharpeneth iron, so a man shuffleth the countenance of his friend

18 Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof so he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured .

19 As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man

20 Hell and destruction are † never full, † Heb ne so ' the eyes of man are never satisfied, † Jer 9: 1 21 * As the firing pot, for silver, and the furnace for gold, so is a man to his praise.

14 He that blesseth his friend &c ] That is I wishes on him flattering and unreasonable commendation D. I shew

16. If hoſeuer hadeth her &c.] A contentious woman can no more be hid than the wind which bloweth on the face or the perfume of the ointment on the hand: these both will be perceived so will the ungnet spirit of a contentious woman. Bp. Hall

17 — so a man sharpeneth the countenance. So a man improves to his friend clarity and pure. Dr. Duerell. So by the conversation of one friend with another are the good parts and faculties of men improved. Bp. Hall

16. It hoso keepeth] It is diligently looks after it and preserves it from injury.

— he that watcheth on his master] He that faithfully defends his master's person or reputation and takes care of his estate, shall be honoured, shall be duly rewarded — Bp. Patrick 19 — so the heart of man to man ] So he that looks into his friend's heart, sees there his own heart. Bp Hall.

20. Hell and destruction &c. Meaning the grave the state of the dead. See the note on Job xvi. 22.

— so the eyes of man &c.] So the eyes of man and those desires are never satisfied, but require some new object to please them. Dr. H. 116.

21. For a man to his man } There is no way so sure of trying a man's discretion and temper as by praising him if he be vain and ugly he will be puffed up with it if he be wise and solid, he will not be moved by it. Bp Hall

Before
CHRIST
about 100 22 I though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him

23 Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds

24 For riches are not for ever and doth the crown endure to every generation?

25 The hay appeareth, and the tender grass sheweth itself, and herbs of the mountains are gathered

26 The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field

27 And thou shalt have goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household, and for the maintenance for thy maidens

CHAP XXVIII

General observations of impiety and religious integrity

THE wicked flee when no man pursueth but the righteous are bold as a lion

2 For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof but by a man of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged

3 A poor man that oppresseth the poor is like a sweeping rain which leaveth no food

4 They that forsake the law praise the wicked but such as keep the law contend with them

5 Evil men understand not judgment

22 — in a mortar among wheat] Before there were any publick mills it was usual for those who could not afford the expense of a handmill in their house to beat their corn with a pestle in a mortar. Calmet The meaning is So incurable is the folly and wickedness of some men that though to reproofs and chidings you should add stripes and blows they would not grow wiser or better Bp Patrick

24 — and doth the crown endure] Even the crown itself will not continue to many generations without due care to preserve its revenue Bp Patrick

25 The hay appeareth] Rather the heritage See the note on Isaiah xv 6

26 — the goats are the price of the field] Are for the price of the field by selling thy goat thou wilt pay for the cultivation of thy land or purchase it for thyself Calmet

Chap XXVIII ver 2 — many are the princes thereof] The wickedness of a land is the cause of many changes in the princes and governors thereof whereby both the people and princes conspiring in evil are punished Bp Hall Many are the princes that is, some reign long or many reign together opposing and thrusting out one another Bp Patrick

A poor man &c] A rich oppressor leaves a man poor but a poor oppressor leaves to him nothing Bp Hall

4 They that forsake the law praise the wicked] They that willfully break and cast off the law of God by so doing give approbation and encouragement to wickedness Bp Hall

5 — understand all things] Understand their whole duty to God Bp Hall

but they that seek the Lord understand all things

6 Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich

7 Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son but he that is a companion of riotous men shameth his father

8 He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor

9 He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination

10 Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray in an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit but the upright shall have good things in possession

11 The rich man is wise in his own conceit, but the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out

12 When righteous men do rejoice, there is great glory but when the wicked rise, a man is hidden

13 He that covereth his sins shall not prosper but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy

14 Happy is the man that feareth alway but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief

15 As a roaring lion, and a raving bear, so is a wicked ruler over the poor people

16 The prince that wanteth understanding

8 — he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor] According to this remarkable saying of the wise man the reason why so many estates are blasted so soon, and brought to nothing is that men do not render to God the duty and tribute which He has charged upon their estates for Himself and the poor and then it is no wonder if God in His providence turn them out of their possession and give their estate to others who will be better tenants, and more careful to pay the duties He requires Bp Beveridge 9 — from hearing the law] That is, from obeying it Even his prayer shall be abomination however men of impious lives may trust to the forms of outward devotion frequenting the church and service of God and hearing His word and receiving His sacrament let them not deceive themselves God is not mocked All this is so far from making need for the impiety of their lives that on the contrary the impiety of their lives poils all the acceptance of their devotions Alp Tillotson

Howe have like He then or Infidels our Christian prayers do but about Gods mercy Foxe's Clarendon

11 — searcheth him out] Discovers his weakness Dr Isham 12 — a man is hidden] Good men are forced to hide themselves Dr Well

13 He that covereth his sins &c] Here the blessing of Gods mercy is declared to sinners, on the condition of their confessing and forsaking their sins and this condition contains the whole nature of that great and necessary duty of repentance, without which none can have a rational hope of the mercy of God Alp Tillotson 14 — the man that feareth] That is, who is cautious always but he that hardeneth his heart, that is who is careless and neglectful, shall fall into mischief Dr Clarke

Before
CHRIST about 7001 xod 21 11

1 Chap 1

1 Chap 1
11

1 Chap 1

11 x 23 1

1 Tim 6 1

1 Or un

1 Chap 1

1 x 23 23

1 Or

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

1 He that

ing is also a great oppressor but he that hatch covetousness shall prolong his days17 A man that doeth violence to the blood of any person shall flee to the pit, let no man stay him18 Whoso walketh uprightly shall be saved but he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once19 He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread but he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough20 A faithful man shall abound with blessings but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent21 To have respect of persons is not good for for a piece of bread that man will transgress22 He that hasteth to be rich hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him23 He that rebuketh a man afterwards shall find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue24 Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression, the same is the companion of a destroyer25 He that is of a proud heart stretcheth up strife but he that putteth his trust in the Lord shall be made fat26 He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered27 He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse28 When the wicked rise, men hide themselves but when they perish, the righteous increase17 — let no man stay him ] Or, "no man shall stay him" Dr Wells. He that murders a man shall never think himself safe being pressed by his conscience, or pursued by the avenger of blood, and shall lead restless life to his grave: all men shall refuse to succour him, and though they see him falling abroad into the pit, they shall not stop him. Bp Patrick21 To have respect of persons &c ] For a judge to incline to consider the quality of the person, and not the merits of the cause that is brought before him, is not good. Bp Patrick22 — hath an evil eye ] Hath a covetous eye and a base niggardly heart, and considereth not, &c that is, know not that through the just judgments of God this his immoderate eagerness will be punished with want and beggary. Bp Hall24 — is the companion of a destroyer ] For the heinousness of this sin, in the next degree to a murderer. Bp Hall25 — shall be made fat ] Shall thrive and abound with plenty of all good things. Bp Patrick26 — he that hideth his eyes ] He that regards not the miseries of the poor, and is not willing so much as to know them. Bp PatrickChap XXIX ver 1 — hardeneth his neck ] Refuses to be guided by reproofs, and to submit to them. The expression is taken from oxen in the yoke. Bp Patrick

CHAP XXIX

Before
CHRIST
about 7001 Observations of publick government 1, and of private 2 Of anger, pride, thievary, covardice, and corruptionHE, that being often reprov'd hundeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy2 When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice but when the wicked be in rule, the people mourn3 Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father but he that keepeth company with hulots spendeth his substance4 The king by judgment establisheth the land but he that receiveth gifts over-throweth it5 A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his feet6 In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare but the righteous doth sing and rejoice7 The righteous considereth the cause of the poor but the wicked regardeth not to know it8 Scornful men bring a city into a snare but wise men turn away with a jest9 If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest10 The bloodthirsty hate the upright but the just seek his soul11 A fool uttereth all his mind but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards12 If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked13 The poor and the deceitful man meet together the Lord lighteneth both their eyes5 — spreadeth a net for his feet ] Is so far from being a true friend as he imagines that he is a traitor to him, and leads him unawares into danger. Bp Patrick6 In the transgression &c ] Rather, "The wicked is snared by transgression," so these words are rendered in chap xxi. 1.
Dr Dwell— doth sing and rejoice ] His always cause to be cheerful on account of his righteousness. Dr Wells8 — bring a city into a snare ] Bring down judgments upon the city where they live. Bp Hall9 — whether he rage or laugh there is no rest ] Whether a wise man deal with him seriously and severely, or jestingly he will not be able to prevail, either for his own peace or the other's reformation. Bp Hall

10 — seek his soul ] Labour to preserve him. Dr Isham

12 If a ruler hearken to lies, &c ] If a prince listen to the false suggestions of others, or too easily believe without any examination all the stories and accusations that are brought to him by others, he will fill his whole court with wicked men. Bp Patrick13 The poor and the deceitful man &c ] The innocent poor man and the crafty gripping usurer meet both together and the Lord causeth his sun to shine on them both maintaining them both in life, doing good outwardly even to the worst deserving Bp Hall

Before
CHRIST
Leut. 10
Chap. 20
Ex. 17
Chap. 10

11 <sup>c</sup> The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever 15 <sup>e</sup> The rod and reproof give wisdom but <sup>h</sup> a child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame

16 When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see them fall.

17<sup>1</sup> Contact thy son, and he shall give thee rest, yet, he shall give delight unto thy soul.

18) Where there is no vision, the people perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.

19 A servant will not be corrected by words for though he understand he will not answer

|| or                    20 Seest thou a man that is hie ty || in in his nat his words? there is more hope of a fool than than of him

21 He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child shall have him become his own at the length.

1 Chap. 1      22    An angry man stirreth up strife, and 1      23    A furious man aboundeth in transgression 1 Chap. 1      24    A man's pride shall bring him low

11 but honour shall uphold the humble in spirit Luke 14 21 Whoso is putner with a thief hateth 11 his own soul: he becometh cursing, and be-11 cometh cursing, and be-

25 The fear of man bringeth a snare but who putteth his trust in the LORD

Thou shalt not be afraid of the reproach of those which despise thee, nor of their reproach, because thou shalt be safe, when thou shalt say, I shall be safe, because I have hid my trust in the LORD.

18 For there is no reason, for  $\bar{\alpha}$  What there is none is nothing

13/ Where there is no vision &c] Where there is none to instruct the people and expound the will of God to them Bp Patrick

19 [ 1 want &c ] A slave and one that as of a servile nature, is not to be ruled by reason and persuasions though he hear and understand too what you say he will not obey till he be forced to it by blows Bp. Patrick

21 He that delicately bringeth up &c 7 He that expresses too much kindness for a servant thereby makes him become saucy so that he will at last assume too much authority. Dr Wells

21 — haleth his own soul | Brings upon him self the same guilt with the thief himself Isa. Patrick

— he heareth cursing and bewrayeth it not } He heareth men urged with oaths respecting the theft, and } yet keeps his wink & counsel, and discovers not the malefactor } By Hall

26 — but every man's judgment cometh from the Lord] Men eagerly solicit the favour and protection of princes, but they forget God, who is the Judge Supreme Both of prince and people (admit

— Chap. XXX ver. 1 — [ign] See the Introduction
 — even the prophecy ] Ev in the weighty sentences Dr
Hells' The lesson or charge Dr Durcell

2 Surely I am more brutish &c.] It would appear that his scholars came to him admiring his wisdom, and desiring to be resolved in many difficulties, to whom Agui modestly and humbly replied Do not call me wise for I am so far from that acuteness which is natural to one excelling in wisdom, that I am stupid in,

27 An unjust man is an abomination to the just: and he that is upright in the way is abomination to the wicked.

CHAPTER XXX

1 Amos's confession of his title 7 The two points of his prophecy 10 The meanest are not to be despised 11
Four nicked generation 13 Four things a sinner 17 Parents are not to be despised 18 Four things hard to be known 21 Four things work with 22 Four things a sinner must 29 Four things stand by 32 What is to be prevented

THIL words of Agur the son of Iakel, even the prophecy the man spake unto Ithiel, even unto Ithiel and Uziel,

2 Surely I am more brutish than any man, and have not the understanding of a man

3 I neither learned wisdom, nor have I the knowledge of the holy

1 <sup>1</sup> Who hath ascended up into heaven, <sup>1</sup> 11 or descended? <sup>2</sup> who hath gathered the <sup>1</sup> 11 wind in his fists? <sup>2</sup> who hath bound the wa- <sup>1</sup> 11 ters in a garment? <sup>2</sup> who hath established <sup>1</sup> 10 all the ends of the earth? what is his name, <sup>2</sup> and what is his son's name, if thou canst <sup>1</sup> 11 tell? <sup>2</sup>

5 Every word of God is true: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him

6<sup>d</sup> Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar

7 Two things have I required of thee, <sup>I do</sup>
I deny me them <sup>with hold not</sup> not before I die <sup>J n me</sup>

8 Remove far from me vanity and lies, <sup>11</sup> March 6 give me neither poverty nor riches, <sup>12</sup> Heb feed me with food † convenient for me <sup>13</sup> f m cl lunatic

comparison with such a person may I cannot arrogate to myself the understanding of a common man. Bp. Butler

— nor have the knowledge of the holy ] The knowledge of Divine things of heavenly truths (abinet

4. Who hath ascended &c. Indeed what can man do? How poor and impotent creatures we all are! Is any of us able to ascend up into heaven, and to descend thence again? Have we power to command any thing in these lower regions? Have we the rule of the winds, the waters, or the earth? Show me the man who can or dares arrogate this power to himself. Sp. Hall

— in his fist 2] The Hebrew word em to me in the two hands considered as joined together and co, o, ou, forming a hollow to enclose any thing. Padhurst

— who hath bound the waters in a garment } Who can confine the water of the sea within their proper limits, as if he had tied them 'in a garment'? Admet

6 — thou be found a liar] be found guilty of the worst of forgeries in counterfeiting Divine inspiration. Dr Wells

7 Two things have I required of thee, &c.] Agur seem here to make a question of his scholars respecting prayer, and enjoins them to pray as he himself was wont to do, I humbly beg only two things of Thee O God, which I most earnestly beseech Thee I may not want, as long as I remain in this world. Bp Patrick

4 — ne me neither poverty nor riches,] We must not consider Agur as praying absolutely against riches or absolutely against poverty, for poverty and riches are of themselves things indifferent, and the blessing of God may go with them both, but

Before CHRIST about 700
 9 'I lest I be full, and † deny thee, and say, Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God.

10 I Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty

11 There is a generation, that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother

12 There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness

13 There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eyelids are lifted up

14 There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men

15 The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four things say not † It is enough 16 The grave, and the barren womb, the earth that is not filled with water; and the fire that saith not, It is enough

17 The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it

18 There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not

19 The way of an eagle in the air, the way of a serpent upon a rock, the way of a ship in the midst of the sea, and the way of a man with a maid

20 Such is the way of an adulterous woman, she catcheth, and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four which it cannot bear

22 For a servant when he reigneth, and a fool when he is filled with meat,

23 For an odious woman when she is married, and an handmaid that is hen to her mistress

24 There be four things which are little it is a prayer of choice or a comparative prayer as if he had said Give me O God if it be Thy will, the middle between both and feed me with food convenient for me For though all the three conditions be so far indifferent that a man may be good, and ought to be contented or resigned in any of them yet if it were matter of choice the middle is the easiest and most desirable Dr Jortin

— feed me with food convenient for me ] With bread sufficient for me in the Syriac with the bread of my sufficiency or convenience Dr Hall

This 'convenient food' in the original the bread of my competent allowance It is even that sufficient bread that daily bread which Christ our Lord in His prayer hath taught us all to pray for By bread or food the Hebrews understand all provisions for the use of life Jos Mede

9 I lest I be full &c ] That is, lest too much plenty make me worldly-minded, profane, and unreligious To say in a contemptuous manner Who is the Lord? is to deny the being or the providence of God We may deny these by our words or by our behaviour To deny them by words is to utter a lie and to deny them by behaviour may be called, to act a lie and a lie of the most detestable kind Dr Jortin

— take the name of my God in vain ] That is, have recourse to perjury to clear myself from the charge of theft Dr Hall I lest covertly tempt me to steal, and stealthily involve me in perjury Abp Tillotson It will illustrate this expression to mention, that the danger of perjury on committing a theft was greater among the Jews than among us, by reason of a custom or law amongst them to tender an oath to the one who were suspected of theft, and who were thus to clear themselves Dr Jortin

10 — lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty ] I lest in the bitterness of his soul he curse thee and God hearing him should punish thy guilt Dr Hall

11 There is a generation &c ] There are four descriptions of men (ver 11—14) worthy of our avoidance and detestation the first is of peevish children who curse their parents the next of false hypocrites and self-deceivers the third of proud men who are exalted in their own opinions the fourth of cruel oppressors who kill and devour the poor &c Dr Hall

13 — O how lofty are their eyes ] Who superciliously overlook other men, as if they were not worthy of the least regard from them Dr Patrick

15 The horseleach &c ] This verse has considerable difficulty in it It seems to contain an answer to a question which the disciples of Agur had propounded to him after the manner of enigmatical discourses or riddles what is most marvellous to which he answers, The horseleach which sucks the blood of other creatures till it bursts, as those wicked men (mentioned at ver 14) do the livelihood of the poor till they ruin themselves And as to this perpetual craving of more the horseleach has two daughters that is there are two things so like to her in this that they may be called her daughters as they always cry Give more Bp Patrick Dr Hall

— There are three things &c ] Thus he expresses after the manner of the Hebrews, who often, when intending to mention several things, separate them at first, beginning with a lesser number and proceeding then to the greater There are examples of this at Apoc 1: 6, 9, &c and also at Prov vi 16 and in this chapter ver 18, 21, &c Bp Patrick

17 — the ravens of the valley shall pick it out &c ] Meaning they shall come to an untimely end and then dead bodies shall be exposed, and become a prey to the ravens and eagles Bp Patrick

18 There be three things &c ] In these words he resolves another riddle which it appears had been proposed to him namely what things are most obscure and unaccountable, though ordinary and common Bp Patrick

19 — the way of a serpent upon a rock ] A serpent seems here to be specified rather than any other animal because he would be more likely to discover him self by the marks left behind him on the dust but upon a rock he leaves no more trace than the eagle in the air or the ship in the sea Dr Druce

— the way of a man &c ] In the Latin translation the words are rendered with a very different sense The way of a man in his youth alluding to the secret and imperceptible manner in which he advances from the feebleness, mental and bodily of childhood to the strength and stature of manhood Cabot

20 — she catcheth &c ] A modest way of expressing her unchastel commerce Dr Druce

22 — a fool when he is filled with meat ] A man of no principles, when puffed up and brought into different circumstances Dr Druce

23 — an odious woman ] A woman whose moroseness, bad qualities, and misdeeds, make her hated by every body Bp Patrick

Before
CHRIST
about 1000 upon the earth, but they are † exceeding wise

† Heb wise made wise * Chap C 25 * The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare then meat in the summer, 26 The comets are but a feeble folk, yet make they then houses in the rocks,

† Heb gathered 27 The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them † by bands, 28 The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings' palaces

29 There be three things which go well, yet, thou art comely in going

30 A lion which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any,

† Or lion
† Heb goeth in the domes 31 A † greyhound, in the goat also, and a king, against whom there is no rising up

32 If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil,
† Heb
lay thine hand upon thy mouth

33 Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife

CHAP XXXI

1 Lemuel's lesson of chastity and temperance 6 The afflicted are to be comforted and defended 10 The praise and properties of a good wife

THE words of king Lemuel, the prophesy that his mother taught him

2 What, my son? and what, the son of my womb? and what, the son of my vows?

20 The comets &c.] See note at Levit vi 5. That the animal meant is Israel's lamb: otherwise called Ashkoko is confirmed by this passage in Proverbs, where they are described to be a feeble folk, an expression probably alluding to their feet, which appear very inadequate to the work of digging holes in the rock: these feet are frequently round and very pulpy or fleshy: notwithstanding which they build houses on the very hardest rocks more inaccessible than those of the rabbit in which they abide 14 greater safety: not by exertion of strength, (for, in Solomon's words they are altogether a feeble folk,) but by their own agility and judgment. Bruce 27 The locusts &c.] See the notes on Exod x 4 and 15 and on Joel ii 9 &c

31 The greyhound.] The words in the Hebrew signify literally "girt or narrow in the loins." Some suppose a horse to be meant. Bochart applies it to the greyhound. Dr Russell says, that the greyhound at Aleppo is of a very light slender make, and remarkably fleet. It is probable they had the same breed in Judah. Parkhurst

32 If thou hast done foolishly &c.] If thou hast felt the emotions of pride, or entertained a wicked thought, add not to thy sin by uttering it

33 Butter.] See note at Judg v 25 So the forcing of wrath &c.] So the earnest provocation of anger is the occasion of quarrels and much strife. Bp Hall

Chap XXXI ver 1 The words of king Lemuel.] See the Introduction

2 What, my son? &c.] "What terms shall I employ, my son?
&c." To shew her on what anxiety she feels to see him wise and happy she expresses that she knows not how to begin to point

3 Give not thy strength unto women, Before CHRIST
about 1000
nor thy ways to that which destroyeth
kings

4 It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes strong drink

5 Lest they drink and forget the law, and † pervert the judgement of my of the afflicted

6 * Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts

7 Let him drink, and forget all poverty, and remember his misery no more 8 Open thy mouth for the dumb in the cause of all such as are appointed to destruction

9 Open thy mouth, † judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy

10 ¶ Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies

11 The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil

12 She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life

13 She seeketh wool, and flax, and work-eth willingly with her hands

14 She is like the merchants' ships, she bringeth her food from afar

15 She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and a portion to her maidens

16 She considereth a field, and † buyeth out to him his duties, and the dangers he ought to avoid 6 Give strong drink &c.] Rather Give strong drink to the man that is dejected in spirit: and not to per him through extremity of affliction. Bp Hall

Open thy mouth &c.] Speak for them that are not able to speak for them elve: and plead their cause for them that are undermined out for destruction. Bp Hall

10 Who can find a virtuous woman?] The instructions of Lemuel seem to end here: and a lesson for daughters begins, ranged in verses according to the letters of the Hebrew alphabet with which each verse successively begins for the convenience of the memory

13 She seeketh wool &c.] She loves to be always employed in some piece of useful housewifery: suitable to her condition. Dr Wells

The description of a virtuous woman consists of twenty-two verses. It is well worthy of observation that eleven of these verses, half the number, are taken up in setting forth her industry, and the effects of it. A variety of magnificent language is made use of to describe her different employments, to recommend simplicity of manner, and make good housewifery and honest labour to be admired in the rich and noble, as well as in the poor and obscure among women. In works of the several kinds here mentioned queens and princesses of old time disdained not to be occupied. Bp Horne

14 She is like the merchants' ships.] By exchange of what is made by her own care at home she procures such foreign goods as her family needs, and her own country does not afford. Dr Wells

Before
CHRIST
about 1015

it with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard

17 She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms

† Heb
She tast it

18 † She perceiveth that her merchandise is good. her candle goeth not out by night

19 She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff

† Heb
She spread eth

20 † She stretcheth out her hand to the poor, yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy

21 She is not afraid of the snow for her household, for all her household are clothed with scarlet

¶ Or double garments

22 She maketh herself coverings of tapestry, her clothing is silk and purple

23 Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land

20 She stretcheth out her hand to the poor ] This is another good effect of her economy and management. She is not only able to provide plentifully for her household, but has always something in store for the poor. A charitable disposition avails little, where vanity, folly, and extravagance have taken away the power to exert it. Bp Horn

21 She is not afraid of the snow &c ] She is careful to provide what is requisite for her family in the severest part of the year, and sufficient clothing in the coldest weather. Dr Wells

— are clothed with scarlet ] Or 'with double garments, as in the margin. The Hebrew word signifies literally "double," and when applied to clothes, signifies either double in quantity and texture, or double dyed. Hence, as the purple and scarlet were the most usual dyes among the Hebrews, the word came to signify a purple or scarlet dye. Parkhurst. As the sentence seems to refer to a security against cold, it seems better to translate here double garments. Dr Durell

23 Her husband is known in the gates ] That is, he is known as her husband, as a man blessed with such a wife, as indebted, perhaps, for his promotion to the wealth acquired by her management at home, for the splendour and elegance of his apparel to the labour of her hands, and, it may be, for the preservation and establishment of his virtue and integrity to the encouragement in all that is holy and just and good furnished by her example as well as by her conversation. Bp Horn

24 — girdles ] Girdles curiously wrought, which she sells to the merchant. Bp Patrick. Curiously wrought or embroidered girdles are still an essential part of Eastern finery, both to men and women. Parkhurst. Maillot informs us, that the Arab women

24 She maketh fine linen, and selleth it, and delivereth girdles unto the merchant

Before
CHRIST
about 1015

25 Strength and honour are her clothing, and she shall rejoice in time to come 26 She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and in her tongue is the law of kindness

27 She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness

28 Her children arise up, and call her blessed, her husband also, and he praiseth her

29 Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all

¶ Or have gotten riches

30 Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain, but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands, and let her own works praise her in the gates have been accustomed to deal in buying and selling things woven of silk, cotton &c and simple linen cloth, which is precisely what is here said of the industrious Israelitish women. Horn

25 Strength and honour are her clothing ] See the note on Job xxxix 11

29 Many daughters have done &c ] Her husband will extol her worth and virtue above other women, saying, Other wives have done and deserved well, but thou surpassest them all. Bp Hall. Happy the children of such a mother, they will be living proofs of the care taken by her in their education, when she taught them to walk, by the paths of honour and virtue, to the mansions of rest and glory. Happy the husband of such a wife, who sees all things prosper under his direction, and the blessing of Heaven derived to his family through her. They will all join in proclaiming, that, among women who do well, honour is chiefly due to the virtuous and diligent wife, the affectionate and sensible mother. Bp Horn

30 Favour ] A handsome shape as a graceful behaviour. Bp Patrick

31 Give her of the fruit of her hands &c ] Let every one extol her virtue. let her not want the just commendations of her labours in the greatest assemblies, where if all men should be silent, her own works will declare her excellent worth. Bp Patrick

The picture which is drawn in this chapter of a good housewife is perhaps the most finished of all antiquity. It is drawn to full length, and equally pleasing in every point of view. Dr Durell

The following Chapters from the Proverbs are appointed for Proper Lessons on Sundays and Holydays

CHAP I	-	1st Sunday after Trinity,	-	Evening
II	-	2d Sunday after Trinity,	-	Morning
III	-	Ditto	-	Evening
XI	-	23d Sunday after Trinity,	-	Morning
XII	-	Ditto	-	Evening
XIII	-	24th Sunday after Trinity,	-	Morning
XIV	-	Ditto	-	Evening
XV	-	25th Sunday after Trinity,	-	Morning

CHAP XVI	-	25th Sunday after Trinity,	-	Evening
XVII	-	26th Sunday after Trinity,	-	Morning
XIX	-	Ditto	-	Evening
XX	-	St Andrew	-	Morning
XXI	-	Ditto,	-	Evening
XXIII	-	St Thomas,	-	Morning
XXIV	-	Ditto	-	Evening
XXVIII	-	St Stephen	-	Morning

ECCELESIASTES;

OR,

THE PREACHER

INTRODUCTION.

THE Book of Ecclesiastes is called in Hebrew "Cohelath, a word which signifies one who speaks in publick and which indeed is properly translated by the Greek word Ecclesiastes or the Preacher. It is unquestionably the production of Solomon, who for the great excellency of his instructions is emphatically styled, "the Preacher" for the writer of it styles himself, the son of David king of Jerusalem, chap i 1, he describes too his wisdom, his riches, his writing and his works, in a manner which is applicable only to Solomon, and by all tradition, Jewish and Christian, the book is attributed to him. It is said by the Jews to have been written by him upon his awakening to repentance, after he had been seduced, in the decline of life to idolatry and sin, and, if this be true it affords valuable proofs of the sincerity with which he regretted his departure from righteousness.

The main scope and tendency of the Book have been variously represented by different writers. It may be considered as a kind of inquiry into the chief good, an inquiry conducted on sound principles, and terminating in a conclusion which all on mature reflection will approve. The great object of Solomon appears to have been from a comprehensive consideration of the circumstances of human life, to demonstrate the vanity of all secular pursuits. He endeavours to illustrate, by a just estimate, the insufficiency of earthly enjoyment not with design to excite in us a disgust at life, but to influence us to prepare for that state where there is no vanity. With this view, the Preacher affirms, that man's labour, as far as it has respect only to present objects, is vain and unprofitable, that however prosperous and flattering circumstances may appear, yet, as he could from experience assert, neither knowledge, nor pleasure, nor magnificence nor greatness, nor uncontrolled indulgence, can satisfy the desires of man that the solicitude with which some men toil and heap up possessions for descendants often unworthy, is especial vexation that it is better far to derive those enjoyments from the gifts of Providence which they were designed to furnish, by being rendered subservient to good actions. Solomon at chap iii 16 proceeds to observe that in this life iniquity usurps the place of righteousness, that man appears in some respects to have 'no preeminence above the beast that perishes, and that the consideration of these circumstances may at first sight lead to wrong conclusions concerning the value of life, but that God should not be hastily arraigned, for that "He that is higher than the highest regardeth that even here, those who 'pervert judgment are not satisfied by abundance but that 'the sleep of a labouring man is sweet," chap iii—vi that though the hearts of men be encouraged up evil by the delay of God's sentence, and though the days of the sinner may be prolonged on earth yet, finally, it shall be well only with them who fear God, chap viii 11—13. Solomon then sums up his exhortations to good deeds and to a remembrance of the Creator in the days of youth, "or ever the silver cord (of life) be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken chap xii 6, 7 when the dust shall return to the earth, and the spirit unto God who gave it. And the inspired teacher bids us 'hear the conclusion of the whole matter which is, to "fear God, and keep His commandments, for this is the whole duty of man." Dr Gray

It has been objected against the Book of Ecclesiastes, that some passages in it savour of irreligion, others of immorality. But these are, in truth either innocent, when rightly interpreted, or else express, not the wise king's sentiments, but the false opinions of others, in whose name he speaks in order to confute them, or, however, are not his deliberate sentiments, but such hasty wrong notions as, during the course of his inquiry after happiness, rose up successively in his mind, and were on mature consideration rejected by him, in order to fix it last on the true basis, "the conclusion of the whole matter, to fear God and keep his commandments." Abp Secker

The doctrine of a future retribution forms the great basis, and the leading truth, of this Book. In it, the Royal Preacher expatiates on the transitory condition of mankind, if considered as confined to the present state of existence, the vanity and vexation of spirit attending all present human enjoyment, which his own experience had so abundantly proved, the apparent inequality of Providence, (except under the Jewish dispensation,) by which there appears one event to the righteous and to the wicked. But in all the difficulties and perplexities, all that vanity and vexation of spirit, which this partial view of human nature implies, the Royal Preacher brings forward the prospect of a future life and just retribution, as the solution and the remedy, the consolation and the cure. See chap iii 17 viii 11 xi 9 xii 14. Dr Graves

The style of this Book is different from that of others, the diction is for the most part plain, but particularly obscure often vague and prosaic, nor is there much of poetick character in the composition and structure of it, which perhaps may be properly attributed to the nature of the argument. The Jews are unwilling to have it reckoned among the poetical books and if their authority availed much in matters of this kind, we might perhaps in this particular be disposed to agree with their opinion. Bp Lowth

The Book may be divided into two general parts the first, comprising the six first chapters in which Solomon shews that all things relating to this world only are vain and perishing and therefore can afford no true, or solid or lasting satisfaction or happiness, the second comprising the six last chapters, in which he shews that piety is the only means, by which we can attain true and lasting happiness. Dr Wells

I cannot but exhort all men to study this Book diligently, and with great intention of mind, both for the author's sake and for the matter of it. For he handles his subject in such a manner as first to draw us from the desire and love of earthly things and from the perverse use of them, and then to lead us to the true and lawful use of them, without either offence to God or injury to ourselves. And he teaches us how we may, without an excessive solicitude and anxiety about events, enjoy all things in the fear of God, with tranquillity and satisfaction of mind at present, and at last by the same fear of God and observance of His commandments, arrive at a never-ending felicity. Bp Patrick

Before
CHRIST
about 977

CHAP I

1 The preacher sheweth that all human courses are vain because the creatures are restless in their courses, 9 they bring forth nothing new and all old things are forgotten 12 and because he hath found it so in the studies of wisdom

THE words of the Preacher, the son of David, king of Jerusalem

2<sup>a</sup> Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities, all is vanity

3<sup>b</sup> What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?

4 One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh, but the earth abideth for ever

5 The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and it hasteth to his place where he arose

6 The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north, it whisteth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits

7<sup>d</sup> All the rivers run into the sea, yet the sea is not full, unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again

8 All things are full of labour, man cannot utter it, the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing

9<sup>e</sup> The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be, and that which is done is that which shall be done, and there is no new thing under the sun

10 Is there any thing whereof it may be said, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us

Chap 12

Isa 31

111 1

Chap 9

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

1

11 There is no remembrance of former things, neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come with those that shall come after

12 ¶ I the Preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem

13 And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all things that are done under heaven, this, he travailed hath God given to the sons of man, to be exercised therewith

14 I have seen all the works that are done under the sun, and, behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit

15<sup>f</sup> That which is crooked cannot be made straight, and that which is wanting cannot be numbered

16 I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten more wisdom than all they that have been before me in Jerusalem, yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge

17<sup>h</sup> And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly, I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit

18 For in much wisdom is much grief, and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow

CHAP II

1 The vanity of human courses in the works of pleasure 12 Though the wise be better than the fool, yet both have one event 18 The vanity of human labour in hearing it they know not to whom 24 Nothing better than joy in our labour, but that is God's gift

more particularly what he said in general words (ver 1) of man's vain endeavour to satisfy himself in worldly designs and contrivances in which he is tired, and comes to no end of his desire, and how indeed should he, when his whole business here is only to enjoy the same things over and over again, as all men have done before us and will do after us? ver 9, 10, 11 Bp Patrick

9 — there is no new thing under the sun ] This expression of the Preacher is only to be understood as a general inference from what he had said, namely, that there is nothing among the appearances of nature which happens now otherwise than it has done for some generations before, and in the moral world men being subject to the same passions and affections as by retorture, it is no wonder the same causes should operate in the production of the same effects. Dr Durell

15 That which is crooked &c ] The shortness of human wit however improved is here represented by two things, first, that it cannot remove what is inconvenient, secondly, that it cannot supply what is deficient in any condition of life. Bp Patrick

17 — to know madness and folly ] Referring perhaps to all the idle speculations in which men of parts and wit are apt to employ themselves. Bp Patrick

18 For in much wisdom &c ] Meaning that though knowledge is the most excellent of earthly goods, yet the possession of it is insufficient for our happiness, and is often attended with trouble and vexation. Bp Patrick

[Chap I ver 1 The words of the Preacher] See the Introduction

— king of Jerusalem ] The Greek renders, King of Israel in Jerusalem

2 Vanity &c ] In the eleven first verses, Solomon lays the foundation of his following discourses, and makes his way to the proof of what he intends, that nothing here can make us permanently happy by showing how empty all things are, how short a time man has to possess them, and that, while this time lasts, he can only enjoy the same empty things over and over again, till he be cloyed with them. Bp Patrick

In this expression that 'all is vanity,' the wise man principally refers to the labours of mankind, about the things of the present world, and must be understood, not as absolutely condemning the things themselves, or our pursuits about them, but only as the one may be in some cases unsuitable, and the other irregular or excessive. Dr J Balguy

4 — but the earth abideth for ever ] That is, constantly, notwithstanding these fluctuations. Script illust

5 The sun also ariseth &c ] The sun in its settled course observes its times of rising and setting, where is man, when he goes down to the earth, cannot like the sun, return again. The author is representing, in this and the two next verses by four comparisons with the earth, the sun, the wind, and the sea, man to be more subject to vanity than other things. Bp Patrick

8 All things are full of labour, ] He now proceeds to consider <sup>Before</sup> <sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 37</sup> I SAID in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure and, behold, this also is vanity.

2 I said of laughter, It is mad and of mirth, What doeth it?

<sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 37</sup> 3 I sought in mine heart to give myself unto wife, yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom, and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven all the days of their life.

<sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 37</sup> 4 I made me great works, I builded me houses, I planted me vineyards.

5 I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits.

6 I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees.

<sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 37</sup> 7 I got me servants and maidens, and had I servants born in my house, also I had great possessions of great and small cattle above all that were in Jerusalem before me.

<sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 37</sup> 8 I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces. I gat me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, as musical instruments, and that of all sorts.

<sup>CHRIST</sup> <sup>about 37</sup> 9 So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy, for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and thus was my portion of all my labour.

11 Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.

12 ¶ And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done.

13 Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.

14 The wise man's eyes are in his head, but the fool walketh in darkness: and I myself perceived also that one event happeneth to them all.

15 Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it happeneth even to me, and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.

16 For there is no remembrance of the wise more than of the fool for ever, seeing that which now is in the days to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man? as the fool.

17 Therefore I hated life, because the work that is wrought under the sun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.

18 ¶ Yea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the sun, because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed myself wise under the sun. This is also vanity.

20 Therefore I went about to cause my Chap II ver 2 I said of laughter.] Meaning excessive laughter, dissolute and fustick merriment. Bp Patrick

3 — and to lay hold on folly &c.] That is, not altogether to follow the study of wisdom nor yet altogether to pursue pleasure but to mix them together till I might see, &c that is, till I might sufficiently try whether herein lay that so much desired good, which men pursue here all their lives. Dr Wells

6 — the wood that bringeth forth trees.] That is, the nurseries of young trees. Desvoeux

7 I got me servants and maidens.] The servants among the Hebrews were chiefly slaves, either bought or taken in war. Dr Hodgson

8 — the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces.] That is, I procured whatever was choice and precious in other kingdoms and especially in those countries which were subject to me. Dr Wells

12 — for what can the man do that cometh after the king?] For who is there that can give a better account than I the king who have had such advantages, beyond any private man, to know the history of former times, as well as my own, so that, I am confident they who come after can pass no better judgment on things than I do now. Bp Patrick

13 — as far as light excelleth darkness.] Meaning, that religion and virtue are as much more excellent and profitable to men than wickedness, as it is possible for one thing to be preferable to another. Dr S. Clarke

14 The wise man's eyes &c.] A wise man looking round him and before him, is cautious and well aware of dangers, into which the fool blinded with the sottish love of pleasure falls rashly and inconsiderately. Yet with all his circumspection, he is not able to avoid many calamities which are common to all mankind. Bp Patrick

17 Therefore I hated life &c.] I became quite out of love with this life, because the toil attending it is grievous, and yet, after all, it affords no solid or lasting satisfaction. Dr Wells

18 — because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.] Solomon seems here to speak with a melancholy reflexion on his own son Rehoboam. Who knoweth, he adds, whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? He appears to speak doubtfully, but he had a very shrewd guess what kind of man his son would make, for he speaks more despondingly in the words which follow and he feelingly expresses how much the very fear and apprehension of this embittered the fruit of all his labour. Bp Tillotson

20 Therefore I went about &c.] Therefore I bent my thoughts to do away all hope of any good issue to all my earthly labours and endeavours. Bp Hall <sup>Before</sup> CHRIST heart to despair of all the labour which I took under the sun.

21 For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity, yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil.

22 For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart, wherein he hath laboured under the sun?

23 For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief, yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.

24 ¶ There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.

25 For who can eat, or who else can hasten hincunto, more than I?

26 For God giveth to a man that is good, and in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy; but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAP III

1 By the necessary change of times, vanity is added to human travail. 11 There is an excellency in God's works. 16 But as for man, God shall judge his works there, and here he shall be like a beast.

TO every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven.

2 A time to be born, and a time to die, a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted, 24 There is nothing better for a man, &c.] He here teaches, that all the benefit of mere human labour is the moderate or sober enjoyment of what we have acquired by it. Dr Wells. I on the truth of which he says in the next verse, you may rely on my experience. Bp Patrick.

[Chap III ver 1 To every thing there is a season, &c.] Solomon proceeds to shew that the vicissitude of the seasons, and of all earthly things teaches us that we should enjoy what we get, as well as labour to get it, and that it also adds to the vanity of all things connected with human life. Dr Wells.

1 A time to kill,] A time, whether in a just war or in a peaceable execution of justice, in which it is warrantable to kill. Bp Hall.

5 A time to cast away stones, &c.] This may signify, 'A time to cast away stones with a sling, and a time to collect them again in a bag' or, 'a time to cast stones on a field to render it barren, and a time to collect stones out of a field to render it fertile' or, 'a time to cast away stones improper for building and to collect proper ones.' Calnet.

7 A time to rend and a time to sew.] The rending here mentioned undoubtedly refers to the oriental mode of expressing sorrow, by rending the clothes. The sewing is designed as the opposite to it, and may mean the making up of new garments, for in the East it is thought essentially necessary for the due

3 A time to kill, and a time to heal, a time to break down, and a time to build up,

4 A time to weep, and a time to laugh, a time to mourn, and a time to dance,

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together, a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing,

6 A time to get, and a time to lose, a time to keep, and a time to cast away,

7 A time to rend, and a time to sew, a time to keep silence, and a time to speak,

8 A time to love, and a time to hate, a time of war, and a time of peace.

9 What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth?

10 I have seen the travail, which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised in it.

11 He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart, so that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

12 I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life.

13 And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the gift of God.

14 I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him.

15 That which hath been is now, and that which is to be hath already been, and God requireth that which is past.

solemnization of a time of rejoicing to put on new clothes. Harmer.

9 What profit hath he &c.] What stability or lasting profit can a man expect from that which he does, since there is such a changeable vicissitude in all actions and events? Bp Hall.

11 — he hath set the world in their heart,] Solomon here declares not obscurely, that God has framed the mind of man as a mirror capable of the image of the whole world, not only delighted in beholding the variety of things and the changes of times, but ambitious to find out and discover the immovable and settled laws and decrees of nature. And, though he intimates that this whole economy of nature (which he calls the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end) cannot be found out by man, it does not derogate from the power and capacity of his mind, but is to be imputed to the impediment of human learning, &c. Lord Bacon.

12 — but for a man to rejoice, and to do good.] So true it is that the pleasure of doing good remains after a thing is done, the thoughts of it lie easy in our minds, and the reflexion upon it afterwards ministers to us, even after, joy and delight. In this passage Solomon, after all his experience of worldly pleasures, pitches a last upon this as the greatest happiness of human life, and the only good use which is to be made of a prosperous fortune. Abp Tillotson.

Before
CHRIST
about 977

16 ¶ And moreover I saw under the sun the place of judgment, that wickedness was there, and the place of righteousness, that iniquity was there

17 I said in mine heart, God shall judge the righteous and the wicked for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work

18 I said in mine heart concerning the estate of the sons of men, || that God might manifest them, and that they might see that they themselves are beasts

19 <sup>1</sup> For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts, even one thing befalleth them as the one dieth, so dieth the other, yea, they have all one breath, so that a man hath no preeminence above a beast for all is vanity

20 All go unto one place, all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again

21 Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward to the earth?

22 <sup>c</sup> Wherefore I perceived that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his own works, for that is his portion for who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

CHAP IV

1 Vanity is increased unto men by oppression, 4 by envy 5 by idleness 7 by covetousness 9 by solitariness, 13 by idleness

19 For that which befallith &c.] Among the passages of this book which, for want of discerning the true design and scope of it, vain and wicked persons would encourage themselves in their follies and impiety, is this, from ver 19 to 21, "that which befallith the sons of men befallith beasts, &c. as if the end of man and beasts were the same and therefore men might lead sensual lives, as beasts do, without concern for the future, whereas Solomon, speaking of 'the estate of the sons of men' (ver 15,) not in the next world but in this pursues his main purpose in shewing the vanity of earthly things and designs that, whatever content or satisfaction men may propose to themselves in this world, all is but vanity they are in many respects like beasts they draw in the same air their breath will fail them, they will die and be turned to dust as well as the beasts. Yea, so vain is man, and so like the beasts is to outward appearance, that, although when he dieth "his spirit shall return unto God, and he shall be judged in order to be rewarded suitably to his deeds (ver 17, and chap xii 7 14) yet no one knoweth "the spirit of man that goeth upward, &c. that is, no one can experimentally, or by sense and reasoning, discern a man's soul that ascends or goes upwards, any more than that of the beast which descends or goes downwards" so great is man's ignorance of such matters. This thought should warn us from too much care for the future, and make us thank God for our portion in this world disposing us to do good with it to others, and to enjoy it without solicitude. Collyer

21 Who knoweth the spirit of man &c.] The sense may be, How few men live as if they knew that the soul of man is immortal and that when the body dies, it goeth upward to God to be judged by Him, and that the spirit of the beast dying with

SO I returned, and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun and behold the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter, and on the † side of their oppressors there was power, but they had no comforter

2 Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive

3 Yea, better is he than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun

4 ¶ Again, I considered all travail, and † every right work, that † for this man is envied of his neighbour This is also vanity and vexation of spirit

5 The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh

6 Better is in handful with quietness, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of spirit

7 ¶ Then I returned, and I saw vanity under the sun

8 There is one alone, and there is not a second, yea, he hath neither child nor brother yet is there no end of all his labour, neither is his eye satisfied with riches, neither saith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my soul of good? This is also vanity, yea, it is a sore travail

9 ¶ Two are better than one, because they have a good reward for their labour

the body, and going downward to the earth, there utterly perishes Dr Wells

22 — that a man should rejoice in his own works.] That he should make a cheerful use of God's good blessings, as the only fruit and alleviation which the earth will afford of all his painful labours here Bp Hall

Chap IV ver 1 So I returned,] He proceeds to consider the power which many times falls into the hands of unjust and cruel men, and to represent the miserable estate of those that are subject to them, as a further argument of the vanity and vexation to which all men are liable in this troublesome world, and having noted some of the principal mischiefs of this sort, he concludes this chapter with some animadversions on the condition of the greatest and best of princes, who are not so happy as the world is apt to think them. Bp Patrick

2 Wherefore I praised the dead &c.] Considering the various oppressions which were so frequent in the world, Solomon considered those persons happier who were out of it, than those who still lived in it. Abp Tillotson

5 — eateth his own flesh.] Consumes his own substance 8 There is one alone, &c.] In opposition to the character of the idler he here introduces (ver 8—12) the character of an indigestible covetous man, who, having nobody with whom to share his fortune, cannot resolve either to leave off heaping up riches, or quietly to enjoy what he has already acquired. Dissonant

9 — because they have a good reward for their labour.] How much wiser Solomon says, is he who not only enjoys what he has himself, but takes others into his society for purposes of common counsel and mutual assistance, and of mutual partici-

John
CHRIST
about 977

10 For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow but woe to him that is alone when he falleth, for he hath not another to help him up 11 Again, if two lie together, then they have heat but how can one be warm alone?

12 And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him, and a threefold cord is not quickly broken

13 ¶ Better is a poor and a wise child than an old and foolish king, who will no more be admonished

1 Heb
who know eth not to be admonished

14 For out of prison he cometh to reign whereas also he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor

15 I considered all the living which walk under the sun; with the second child that shall stand up in his stead

16 There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them they also that come after shall not rejoice in him Surely this also is vanity and vexation of spirit

CHAPTER V

1 Land in divine service, 8 in murmuring against oppression, 9 and in riches 18 Joy in riches is the gift of God pition in the good things which God has given him! Bp Patrick Two are better than one implying generally that society is productive of much comfort and benefit Bp Hall

1 Better is a poor and a wise child &c.] He proceeds to shew that still it is not society alone which will make men happy without wisdom or virtue For who are better attended or guarded than kings? and yet the poorest man that is if he be wise and good is far happier than the wealthiest prince on earth who foolishly abuses his power Bp Patrick

14 For out of prison &c.] For it has been known that he who was poor and abject as the vilest slave in a prison has come to reign by singular prudence, while he that is born of royal ancestors is sometimes through his folly deserted by his subjects, loses his kingdom, and "becometh poor" By the expression "out of prison," it is not improbable that Solomon has here respect to the case of Joseph in Egypt Dr Wells

15 I considered all the living &c.] If what is mentioned at ver 13 14 happen not to a king, I have seen, he adds another great unhappiness which more usually befalls kings, namely, their being left with only the bare title of royalty while the heats and afflictions of the kingdom incline "the second son" that is to the child who was second to him, or heir of the kingdom Dr Wells

16 There is no end of all the people.] There will be no end of this disposition in all mankind so deeply is it rooted in them for it has always been the disposition "of all that have been before them" to be weary of what they have long enjoyed and pleased with novelty and therefore to slight an old king and count his successor so they that come after shall not rejoice in him, that is, shall in like manner slight the present heir when he comes to be old and pay court to his son or heir, as they now do to him Dr Wells

Chapter V ver 1 Keep thy foot when thou goest &c.] Beware how thou treadest, be always on thy guard, in the house of God Let

KEEP thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than to give the sacrifice of fools for they consider not that they do evil

Be fore
CHRIST
about 977
1 Sam 1
2 P 6
8 Prov 1
8 21

2 Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth therefore let thy words be few

Or no Matt 18
Prov 10
18

3 For a dream cometh through the multitude of business, and a fool's voice is known by multitude of words

4 When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it, for he hath no pleasure in fools pay that which thou hast vowed

Deut 3
1 11

5 Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay

6 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin, neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?

7 For in the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities but fear thou God

8 ¶ If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter for he that is higher than the

Heb
at the will or words

thy carriage be adjusted to the ideas of His presence whose courts thou interest let thy whole deportment there be such as best suit the sacredness of the place and the majesty of Him to whom it is dedicated Arcudeacon Sharp — and be more ready to hear, &c.] The meaning is Be more ready to hear practically, that is, to obey the commandments of God a similar expression to that of 1 Sam xv 22 "to obey is better than sacrifice" Have a care rather to approach the Divine Majesty with an offering of an obedient disposition than with the bare rites of outward service. Jos Mede

— to give the sacrifice of fool.] That is hasty to offer outward sacrifice, without giving due care to lead also a holy life Dr Wells

2 Be not rash with thy mouth.] That is when thou art going to pray, recollect thyself consider that thy Creator is great and wise and good above all and thou a poor dependant mortal being, weigh thy expressions think before thou speakest and take heed to use few words, and to ask for nothing improper Dr Tortu

— for God is in heaven and thou upon earth.] God is in heaven a great infinite, eternal, all glorious, incomprehensible Being heaven is His throne, and earth His footstool thou art a poor silly worm a creeping crawling, sinful dust and ashes have therefore a care what thou sayest unto Him, and fear to speak any thing amiss before Him Bp Beveridge

3 For a dream cometh &c.] For, as in a multitude of business, there will be troublesome and confused dreams so in a multitude of words there will be futility and error Bp Hall

6 Suffer not thy mouth &c.] Do not entangle thy life with a rash vow, which the frailty of human nature may impel thee afterwards to break Abp Tillotson

— the angel,] "The Messenger of the covenant," Mal iii 1 Tunnus

8 — marvel not at the matter.] Be not dismayed and amazed at the matter Bp Hall

Before CHRIST about 977 highest regardeth, and there be higher than they

9 ¶ Moreover the profit of the earth is for all the king himself is served by the field

10 He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver, nor he that loveth abundance with increase this is also vanity

11 When goods increase, they are increased that eat them and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?

12 The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep

13 There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt

14 But those riches perish by evil travail and he begetteth a son, and there is nothing in his hand

15 As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand

16 And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?

17 All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he hath much sorrow and wrath with his sickness

18 ¶ Behold that which I have seen and it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the sun † all the days of his life, which God giveth him for it is his portion

19 Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour, this is the gift of God

20 ¶ For he shall not much remember the days of his life, because God answereth him in the joy of his heart

CHAP. VI

1 The vanity of riches without use Of children 6 and old age without riches 9 The vanity of sight and wandering desires 11 The conclusion of vanities

THERE is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men

2 A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it this is vanity, and it is an evil disease

3 ¶ If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, and his soul be not filled with good, and also that he have no burial, I say, that an untimely birth is better than he

4 For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkness, and his name shall be covered with darkness

5 Moreover he hath not seen the sun, not think his life here tedious or irksome because God gives him his very hearts desire in enjoying comfortably the fruits of his honest labours Dr Wells Otherwise it may be rendered, He will not be anxious about the duration of his life since God bleth him with cheerfulness of heart Dr Hudson

[Chap VI ver 2 — God giveth him not power to eat thereof,] God, in His just judgment permits him to be so far overruled by his covetous temper that he has not power or heart to eat thereof for fear he should come to want and so he leaves his wealth, and perhaps a stranger becomes master of it and eateth it, or lives plentifully upon it Dr Wells

— and his soul be not filled with good ] And he will not allow himself what is fitting whilst he lives Dr Wells

— also that he have no burial, ] In opposition to the blessing of a numerous progeny and long life are placed want of contentment in this life and want of burial after death, which, Solomon says are such abatements of happiness, that abortion would have been preferable to life under such circumstances Dr Durell

1 For he cometh in with vanity, &c ] For the stillborn child comes into the world without noise and to no use, and passes away obscurely without notice and, as he lived not to have a name so the memory of him vanishes into darkness and oblivion still (ver 3) 'the stillborn yet than the other, (that is, he is freed by so only a death from those vexations which an old covetous man draws on himself Dr Hall

Job 1: 21
1 Tim 6: 7
Ecc 1: 2

Chap 1: 1

Ch 2: 1
1: 1 Hil thou 1: 1 1: 1 1: 1
1: 1

11 they are increased that eat them ] He implies that it is but a small portion of his wealth that a rich man can enjoy personally since his riches increase he must maintain a greater family and retinue who have a greater share than himself in the daily provision that is made by his expenses Bp Patrick
• 14 But those riches perish &c ] Besides these riches often perish by some disaster so that the son, whom he thought to have left possessed of abundance of wealth hath nothing at all left to support him Bp Patrick

— there is nothing in his hand ] He is a beggar hath nothing in his possession Jos Mede

17 All his days also he eateth in darkness ] He deprives himself of all comfort through the too eager pursuit of wealth and pinches his body, and tortures his mind with many vexations and discontents Bp Hall

18 — it is good and comely — to eat and to drink ] When Solomon utters this expression it is sufficiently obvious his meaning cannot be that we should give way to sensuality and pleasures. We cannot ascribe such a thought to him if we consider what he has just said, of the reverence with which we ought to present ourselves before God, of the judgments which God will pass on those who judge others and of the joy which He shed abroad in the hearts of good men. His meaning is only this that when God gives us wealth, we ought to be content with it to receive it and possess it as His gracious gift, and use it with abstinence and gratitude Ostwald

20 For he shall not much remember &c ] For such an one will

Before CHRIST about 977
† Heb
the number of the days

Or,
Though he give not much yet he is merry last sc

Before
CHRIST
about 977

nor known any thing this hath more rest than the other

6 ¶ Yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, yet hath he seen no good do not all go to one place?

† Heb
soul

7 All the labbur of man is for his mouth, and yet the † appetite is not filled

8 For what hath the wise more than the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?

† Heb than the walking of the soul

9 ¶ Better is the sight of the eyes † than the wandering of the desire this is also vanity and vexation of spirit

10 That which hath been is named already, and it is known that it is man neither may he contend with him that is mightier than he 11 ¶ Seeing there be many things that increase vanity, what is man the better?

† Heb
the number of the days of the life of his vanity
Psal 144

12 For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, † all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as <sup>a</sup> a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

CHAP VII

1 Remedies against vanity are, a good name, 2 mortification 7 patience, 11 wisdom 2, The difficulty of wisdom

7 All the labour of man &c] All the labour of man that is necessary to be taken is only for his mouth, or what is required to sustain him, and yet the appetite of the covetous is never satisfied Dr Wells

8 — knoweth to walk before the living &c] Knoweth to behave himself among men suitably to his condition, and to be contented with it Dr Wells

9 Better is the sight of the eyes &c] The meaning is, It is better to make a wise use of what lies before us, and to enjoy quietly and contentedly what we have, than to let our desires be continually running out after fresh objects, and shifting from point to point such restless pursuits being not only vain and unprofitable but creating abundance of needless trouble and perplexity Dr J Balguy

10 That which hath been &c] The sense seems to be, What if a man be renowned? It is known that he is but man, made out of dust, and therefore subject to much evil which he cannot overcome Bp Patrick

12 — all the days of his vain life &c] The reflexions which Solomon here makes are very proper to moderate the heat of men's pursuit after earthly goods The vanity of their labours appears not only in their not knowing how to enjoy the good things which they so eagerly pursue, but chiefly in this that they often deprive themselves of the greatest blessing of life, which is ease and a contented mind and cannot secure themselves any thing for the future The Gospel gives us clearer directions on this head when we are told that <sup>a</sup> godliness with contentment is great gain 1 Tim vi 6 Ostrald

Chap VII Having discoursed, in the foregoing part of the book, of the courses which men usually take to make themselves happy the Preacher now seems to proceed to prescribe the best remedy, that can be found against that vanity to which we are subject by setting down many wise precepts for our direction, comfort, and support in a troublesome world Of this nature are the maxims which begin this chapter quite opposite to the common maxims of the world, but they are the maxims of true wisdom and policy, which must be laid in order to the settlement of our

Before
CHRIST
about 977

A <sup>a</sup> GOOD name is better than precious ointment, and the day of death than the day of one's birth

Prov 22
1 & 15: 20

2 ¶ It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting for that is the end of all men; and the living will lay it to his heart

3 ¶ Sorrow is better than laughter for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better Or Inge

4 The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning, but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth

5 <sup>b</sup> It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools Prov 15 31 32

6 For as the † crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool this also is vanity † Heb sound

7 ¶ Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad, and a gift destroyeth the heart Deut 16.
19

8 Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit

9 <sup>a</sup> Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry for anger resteth in the bosom of fools Prov 14 17 & 16 12 minds in peace and tranquillity, notwithstanding the vanity that is in all things Bp Patrick

Vcr 1 — and the day of death than the day of one's birth] The day of a good and faithful man's death is better than the day of his birth, for his death puts an end to those miseries which his birth begins, and opens that more perfect happiness, of which the present life is not capable Bp Hall

As death to a good man is more advantageous than life so to a wise man the contemplation of the former is more desirable than all the enjoyments of the latter Bp Atterbury

2 It is better to go &c] When the wise man bids us go to the house of mourning, when he tells us that sorrow is better than laughter, he is not to be understood as prohibiting all mirth, as requiring us to wear a perpetual cloud on our brow, and to sequester ourselves from every cheerful entertainment of social life His true meaning is, that there is a certain temper and state of mind which is of far greater consequence to real happiness, than the habitual indulgence of giddy and thoughtless mirth that, for the attainment and cultivation of this temper, frequent returns of grave reflexion are necessary, that, upon this account, it is profitable to give admission to those views of human distress, which tend to awaken such reflexions in the mind, and that thus, from the vicissitudes of sorrow which we either experience in our own lot or sympathize with in the lot of others, much wisdom and improvement may be derived Dr Blair

3 — as the crackling of thorns under a pot] I like a blaze noisy but soon spent In fact I ast they commonly use the dung of animals for fuel, which burns very slow the burning of thorns and furze affords a striking contrast to this, and it is probably this contrast which gives energy to the comparison Harm

7 — a gift destroyeth the heart] A bribe destroys, or tends to corrupt the heart Dr Wells

8 Better is the end of a thing] Better is it, toward the right conduct of life, to consider what will be the end of a thing, than what is the beginning of it, for what promises fair at first may prove ill, and what seems at first a disadvantage, may prove very advantageous Dr Wells

Before (HRIS 1
about 177
† Heb not f wis dim
Or
as good as an inheritance yea better than † Heb shade

(chap 1 16

† Mich made

† Heb be desolate

† Heb not in thy time

10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this.

11 ¶ Wisdom is good with an inheritance and by it there is profit to them that see the sun

12 For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it

13 Consider the work of God for who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked?

14 In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider God also hath set the one over against the other, to the end that man should find nothing after him

15 All things have I seen in the days of my vanity there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that longeth his life in his wickedness

16 Be not righteous over much, neither make thyself over wise why shouldst thou destroy thyself?

17 Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish why shouldst thou die before thy time?

18 It is good that thou shouldst take hold of this, yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all

[10 Say not thou, What is the cause &c.] Be not discontented and complaining at the present condition of things, so as to murmur at the providence of God for this would be foolish and unjust rather, in a humble thankfulness and submission, make use of the present Bp Hall

[13 Consider the work of God &c.] Complain not of times and events but consider well the wise just and powerful proceedings of God for when He has thought good, for the punishment of men's sins, to give them up to disorder, it is not in the power of human means to rectify them Bp Hall

[14 In the day of prosperity &c.] In the day of prosperity rejoice yet have an eye towards the day of adversity for the Lord hath placed the one near unto the other 'that man should find nothing after him,' that is, that he should be uncertain what next may befall him Dr Hodgson

[15 — there is a just man that perisheth] There is an innocent and just man that miscarries, notwithstanding his righteousness, through the cruelty and injustice of others Bp Hall

[16 Be not righteous over much, &c.] Perhaps the meaning may be, Do not exercise justice with too much rigour Dr Waterland These expressions must by no means be understood as a caution against being too wise or too good, since no man can possibly be wise or good enough, or can use sufficient endeavours to become so But Solomon speaks these words against those, who, when insisting on their own right, or passing judgment on others, proceed with the utmost rigour and severity, not observing the rules of moderation and equity, and are so presumptuous as busily to intermeddle with what does not concern them Oterwald

[17 Be not over much wicked,] Let not impunity tempt any man to grow enormously wicked, and foolish in following the lewdest opinions for this may awaken publick justice, or the

19 'Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city

20 For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sameth not

21 Also take no heed unto all words that are spoken, lest thou hear thy servant curse thee

22 For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others

23 ¶ All this have I proved by wisdom I said, I will be wise, but it was far from me

24 That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can find it out?

25 † I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness

26 And I find more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands † whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken by her

27 Behold, this have I found, saith the preacher, counting one by one, to find out the account

28 Which yet my soul seeketh, but I find not one man among a thousand have I found, but a woman among all those have I not found

Divine vengeance so as to cut him off before he come to the natural term of life Bp Patrick

[18 — he that feareth God shall come forth of them all] The Greek translators render it, "To him that feareth God, all things shall succeed Dr Hall

[26 — the woman, whose heart is snares and nets] The following method of ensnaring travellers, sometime practised by robbers in Eastern countries, affords a lively comment on these words of Solomon They send out a handsome woman upon the road, with her hair dishevelled, and in tears, who seems to be in the deepest distress complaining of some misfortune which she pretends had befallen her She easily draws the traveller into conversation with her, and engages him to assist her, but he has no sooner taken her up on horseback behind him than she throws a snare about his neck, and strangles him, or, at least, stuns him, till the robbers who are lying in wait come running to her aid, and complete what she has begun Therenot

[28 — but a woman among all those &c.] That which Solomon here says should be well understood As the Scriptures often speak of women illustrious for their virtues, and Solomon himself praises such, (Prov xii 1 xvi 2 xxvi 10) he could not mean that a virtuous woman was no where to be found There is, in this respect, no difference between the two sexes But Solomon's meaning is that, having searched out the reason of all the wickedness that passes in the world, ver 25, he had found that there was nothing more dangerous and wicked than a disorderly woman such as he describes at ver 26, whose malice and artifice are scarcely to be conceived nor can they, who have suffered themselves to be surprised by her, without great difficulty escape her snare Solomon therefore does not here speak of women in general but of such as he had been describing One reason, na

Before
CHRIST
about 977
Gen 1 27

29 I.o, this only have I found, 'that God hath made man upright, but they have sought out many inventions

CHAP VIII

1 Kings are greatly to be respected 6 The divine providence is to be observed 12 It is better with the godly in adversity, than with the naked in prosperity 16 The work of God is unsearchable

WHO is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and † the boldness of his face shall be changed

* Prov 17
24
† Heb
the strength

2 I counsel thee to keep the king's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God

3 Be not hasty to go out of his sight stand not in an evil thing, for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him

4 Where the word of a king is, there is power and who may say unto him, What doest thou?

5 Whoso keepeth the commandment † shall feel no evil thing and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment

* Heb
shall know

6 ¶ Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, therefore the misery of man is great upon him

7 For he knoweth not that which shall be for who can tell him || when it shall be?

|| Or how it shall be?

* Job 14

8 There is no man that hath power <sup>b</sup> over the spirit to retain the spirit, neither hath he power in the day of death and there is no || discharge in that war, neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it

|| Or, casting off weapons

doubt which induced him to speak thus, was the fact of his having been himself seduced by evil women, see 1 Kings xi Osterwald

29 I.o, this only have I found, &c.] The sense is, Our depravation is from ourselves, our first parents, created in perfect innocency, having followed the devices of their own hearts, and the suggestions of their common enemy, we their sinful posterity do nothing but devise further means of our own ruin. Bp Hall

Chap VIII ver 1 Who is as the wise man? &c.] What creature under heaven is so excellent as a wise man? He only can find out the secrets of nature and of art his wisdom makes him great and respected of all men it alters and improves his disposition and his carriage, and from rude and harsh makes him gentle and ingenious Bp Hall maketh his face to shine,] Gives him fair reputation and honour

3 Be not hasty &c.] Let not thy passion transport thee to shew the least disrespect to him, if thou hast offended him, let thy care be not to persist obstinately in the error, but to humble thyself, and beg his pardon for his power is so great, that it will one time or other lay hold on thee and punish thee Bp Patrick

5 — a wise man's heart &c.] The heart of the wise man discerneth both the time when every thing should be done, and the best method of doing it Bp Hall

6 Because to every purpose.] Because God has so ordered

9 All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt

Before
CHRIST
about 971

10 And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done this is also vanity

11 Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil

12 ¶ Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him

* Psal 37
11 18, 19

13 But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow, because he feareth not before God

14 There is a vanity which is done upon the earth, that there be just men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked, again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous I said that this also is vanity

* Psal 7
14

15 Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.

* Chap 2

16 ¶ When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth (for also there is that things, that to every purpose there is a proper time, and judgment or proper manner of doing what is intended, and therefore the misery of man is often great upon him, because he does not duly observe the said time and manner Dr Wells

8 There is no man that hath power &c.] No man hath power to keep his soul when God calls for it, neither hath he power to protract the day of death, there is no possibility of avoiding the last conflict, the bold and presumptuous wickedness of men can not deliver them from it Bp Hall

10 — who had come and gone from the place of the holy,] Who had been honoured as gods while they were living, because they were God's ministers, and sat in the judgment seat, in that very place where He Himself is present. Bp Patrick

11 Because sentence against an evil work &c.] Because the punishment does not immediately follow the offence

— therefore the heart — is fully set in them.] In the origins of their heart has filled them, they are presumptuous, to do evil Dr S Clarke

15 Then I commended mirth, &c.] Then I resolved that it is good for man to be cheerful in his calling, and in the good and holy use of God's blessings Bp Hall We must well remember that when he in this manner commends mirth, he speaks of reasonable pleasures, which proceed from a moderate and lawful use of the good things which God has given us, which have nothing in them irregular and contrary to piety Osterwald

Before CHRIST about 977 neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes )

17 Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it, yea farther, though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it

CHAP. IX.

1 Like things happen to good and bad 4 There is a necessity of death unto men 7 Comfort is all their portion in this life 11 God's providence ruleth over all 13 Wisdom is better than strength

† Heb. I gave or set to my heart

FOR all this,† I considered in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God no man knoweth either love or hatred by all that is before them

Mal 9 15
Psalm 73 3, 12 13

2 All things come alike to all there is one event to the righteous, and to the wicked, to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean, to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not as is the good, so is the sinner, and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath

3 This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one event unto all yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead

Before CHRIST about 977

4 ¶ For to him that is joined to all the living there is hope for a living dog is better than a dead lion

5 For the living know that they shall die, but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more reward, for the memory of them is forgotten

6 Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is now perished, neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun

7 ¶ Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart for God now accepteth thy works

8 Let thy garments be always white, and let thy head lack no ointment

9 Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the sun

10 Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might, for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest

¶ 17 — that a man cannot find out &c.] For there is little or nothing that any man can know of the secrets of God's counsels, or of any of His works, which are inscrutable to us, whatever pains we take nay, though the wisest man in the world make it his constant business, he will still be forced to confess his ignorance, and the height of his knowledge will be to know, that God's ways are past finding out Bp Patrick

Chap IX ver 1 — no man knoweth either love or hatred.] No man knows or can know the love or hatred of God towards particular individuals, "by all that is before them, that is, by all that befalls them visibly" Dr Wells

2 All things come alike to all.] There is no certain and constant distinction made between one man and another, in the distribution of things in this world, but they all fare alike in public calamities especially Bp Patrick

— and he that sweareth.] The character of "him that sweareth" is here mentioned as blameable, but Solomon does not mean to disapprove the taking of an oath on any occasion whatever, but only to commend the fearing or avoiding of any oath, whenever it can be avoided, consistently with other obligations Abp Secker

3 This is an evil &c.] There is this evil in all which is done under the sun, that "there is one event unto all men, whence arise errors in their notions concerning the living, and with respect to the dead hereafter" Dr Hodgson

4 For to him that is joined &c.] If we compare the state of the living and the dead, with respect to the present world, that of the living is the best for, while we here live, we may still be in hope, either of amending or of receiving further graces and blessings, both of which are cut off from the dead and according to a common proverb, the most vile and contemptible animal, as a dog, that is alive, is better than the most generous of all beasts, the lion, when dead Bp Hall

5 — but the dead know not any thing.] When men are gone from this world, they become perfect strangers to all things here, and can no longer enjoy any benefit of their labour the fruit of which falls into the hands of other men, who think not what is become of them Bp Patrick

— neither have they any more a reward.] It is not meant that there is no reward after death for the righteous in heaven, but that, after death, there will be no enjoyment of any worldly felicity, as he himself explains in the next verse Collier

7 Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy,] Therefore, shaking off all anxious cares and perplexing thoughts about God's providence, excite thyself, by the remembrance of death to a cheerful enjoyment of those good things present which thou possessest believing, that if thou hast approved thyself to God in the rest of thy works, it is acceptable to Him that thou shouldest thus rejoice in those gifts which His benevolence has afforded thee Bp Patrick Solomon's design is, that we should improve the advantages of life and make a wise use of what we have in possession, but we must beware of abusing this notion, and imagining ourselves to be at full liberty to indulge in worldly joys and pleasures, and to say with the ungodly, "Let us eat and drink, for to morrow we die" Ostervald

8 Let thy garments be always white,] In opposition to the habit of mourners The meaning is, Live not sorrowfully and sadly, but entertain thyself at all seasonable times Bp Patrick

10 Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do,] That is, the work that is before thee, which is most proper for thee to propose to thyself, as the great end and design of thy life, the promise and charge appointed to thee "Do it with thy might;" that is set about it with great care, use all possible diligence and industry for effecting and accomplishing it. He enforces his precept by the consideration that this life is the proper season of activity and industry, of designing and doing those things which tend to our future happiness, and, when this life is ended, there will be no further opportunity of working, and nothing will remain but to receive the recompense of that which we have before done Abp Tillotson

Before
CHRIST
about 977

11 ¶ I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill, but time and chance happeneth to them all

* Proverbs
30 6

12 For man also knoweth not his time as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare, so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them

13 ¶ This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great unto me

14 There was a little city, and few men within it, and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it

15 Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city, yet no man remembered that same poor man

* Proverbs 31 12 ch
7 19

16 ¶ Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard

17 The words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that rucketh among fools

11 I returned, and saw under the sun &c ] I saw and observed that here on earth all things do not fall out according to the probability of second causes, but by the appointments of an overruling Providence the swiftest does not always win the race nor the strong prevail in battle &c but every one in his time hath a several issue according to the determination of the Almighty beyond or contrary to his own hopes Bp Hall

— neither yet bread to the wise ] Meaning that the most learned and able men are not always secured against poverty and want Abp Tillotson

— but time and chance happeneth to them all ] That is there is a secret providence of God which sometimes presents men with unexpected opportunities and interposes accidents which no human wisdom can foresee, which grants success to very improbable means, and defeats the swift, the strong the learned, the industrious and those who are best versed in men and business, of their several ends and designs Abp Tillotson

15 — yet no man remembered that same poor man ] This little parable sets forth the depraved and malignant nature of mankind, who in extremities and straits commonly fly to men of wisdom and courage, whom they before slighted, but as soon as the storm is over, they become unthankful wretches to their preservers Lord Bacon

17 The words of wise men &c ] The words of a wise poor man, though spoken softly, out of a fearful and lowly kind of bashfulness are worthy of more respect than the impetuous loud clamours of him that rucketh among fools Bp Hall

[ Chap X ver 1 Dead flies cause &c ] This is a well known fact, especially in hot climates, that dead insects cause stinks, and other such preparations to ferment and putrefy which makes it necessary to be careful in preventing flies from coming to them Scheuchzer

— so doth a little folly ] In the same manner in however good reputation a man may be for wisdom and honour, yet some 18 Wisdom is better than weapons of war but one sinner destroyeth much good Before

CHRIST
about 977

CHAP X

1 Observations of wisdom and folly 16 of riot, 18 slothfulness, 19 and money 20 Men's thoughts of kings ought to be reverent

DEAD flies cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a stinking savour so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdom and honour

2 A wise man's heart is at his right hand, but a fool's heart at his left

3 Yea also, when he that is a fool walketh by the way, his wisdom faileth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool

4 If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place, for yielding pacifieth great offences

5 There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler

6 Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place

7 I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth

8 He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it, and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him

one foolish humour and weak miserridge of his will mar and stain his reputation Bp Hall A little folly in a very wise man a small sin in an honest man, and a slight indelicacy of manner in a man of courtly behaviour often greatly derogate from their fame and reputation Lord Bacon

2 A wise man's heart is at his right hand ] That is ready to be employed with dexterity and effect Parkhurst Here in a truly wise man's worth is discovered, that his judgment never fails him in the greatest difficulties, in which he not only resolves right but takes things by the right handle whereas a fool mistakes in his aim and stumbles so much in the easiest business, that he commonly miscarries Bp Patrick

3 Yea also, when he that is a fool &c ] Yea let a fool but walk by the way and his very motion and gesture shew what he is, and proclaim his want of sense much more do his words and actions betray him Bp Hall

4 If the spirit of the ruler &c ] If thy prince be angry with thee, quit not the duty of a subject Bp Patrick

5 — an error which proceedeth from the ruler ] An error which proceeds from princes in the ill choice which they make of those whom they promote, for (ver 6) "folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place, that is, those who are truly able, both for their parts and their estates, and are well worthy of eminent places, are neglected and disregarded Bp Hall

7 — servants upon horses, ] In the East, to ride on a horse is deemed an honourable circumstance, and ideas of stateliness are always attached to it The Turks at this day, when they ride on horseback, proceed in a very stately manner it is contrary to their dignity to advance beyond a footpace, and they are attended by a number of servants Harmer

8 — whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him ] By this men are warned, that the overthrowing of an established government and settled laws is often fatal to those that attempt it Other proverbs to the same effect are given at ver 9 Dr Wells

Before
CHRIST
about 977

9 Whoso removeth stones shall be hurt therewith, and he that cleaveth wood shall be endangered thereby

10 If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength but wisdom is profitable to direct

11 Surely the serpent will bite without enchantment, and a babbler is no better

† Heb the man of the
Prov 10

12 The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious, but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself

3 11 11
† Heb grace

13 The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness and the end of his talk is mischievous madness

† Heb his mouth

4 Prov 1

14 A fool also is full of words a man cannot tell what shall be, and what shall be after him, who can tell him

† Heb multiply words

5 Chup
22 6 12

15 The labour of the foolish wearieth every one of them, because he knoweth not how to go to the city

6 Job 3 15

16 Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning

17 Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness

18 By much slothfulness the building decayeth, and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through

7 Psal 104
14

19 A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry but money answereth all things

† Heb maketh glad the life

8 Job 42

20 Curse not the king, no not in thy thought, and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber for a bud of the air shall

9 Or conscience

10 — but wisdom is profitable to direct ] Wisdom will still find out how to make it execute its office In Hodgson Wisdom does as it were, whet the edge of the ax and direct men to do that with ease which otherwise cannot be achieved without much labour Bp Hall

11 Surely the serpent &c ] Surely the serpent will bite, if it be not hindered by enchantments and a babbler, or one that secretly traduces his governours, and irritates the people against them, is no better, for he injures thereby his governours as much as the serpent does one whom he bites Dr Wells

12 — the lips of a fool, will swallow up his self ] The words of a fool will be the occasion of his own undoing Bp Hall

13 — because he knoweth not how to go to the city ] Because out of simplicity he wanders about over untracked ways, and does not so much as know the beaten road to the city Bp Hall

14 — thy princes eat in the morning ] That is, spend in riot and revelling that portion of their time which ought to be set apart for the administration of justice Bp Hall

15 By much slothfulness the building decayeth ] In like manner a whole kingdom is ruined by the sloth and inattention of those who have the government of it Dr Wells

16 A feast is made &c ] There are proper times for the feasting and mirth of kings, and those who have the care of the government, but then care must be taken that too much money be not spent on such occasions, so as not to leave enough for the public supplies of the kingdom Dr Wells

carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter

Before
CHRIST
about 977

CHAP XI

1 Directions for charity 7 Death in life, 9 and the do, of judgment in the days of youth are to be thought on

CAST thy bread upon the waters for thou shalt find it after many days

† Heb upon the face of the waters
Deut. 16
10 Matt. 10
12 Prov
11 17

2 Give a portion to seven, and also to eight, for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth

3 If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be

4 He that observeth the wind shall not sow, and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap

5 As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all

6 In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand for thou knowest not whether it shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good

† Heb
shall be right

7 Truly the light is sweet and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun

8 But if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all, yet let him remember the days of darkness, for they shall be many All that cometh is vanity

9 Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth,

[ Chap XI ver 1 Cast thy bread &c ] Bestow thy beneficence on those from whom there is no probability of a return of kindness for He that seeth in secret will when thou hast forgotten it, restore it unto thee with a happy increase Bp Hall

2 Give a portion to seven, &c ] Be not narrow and confined in thine aims, but bestow them liberally on all that have need Bp Hall See the note on Job v 19

3 If the clouds be full of rain &c ] In this verse, Solomon illustrates the duty of charity, and the reason for the timely exercise of it the former by the clouds, which are a fit emblem of charity in pouring down general plenty on the earth the latter by the trees, which can bring forth fruit no longer than they continue joined to the earth by their roots as man can no more be fruitful in good works, when he has ceased to live Bp Patrick

4 He that observeth the wind shall not sow &c ] Let not every circumstance of vain ten discourage thee from doing good and distributing he, that is too curious in observing every wind that blows will never find an opportunity of sowing Bp Hall

6 In the morning sow thy seed, &c ] That is, take all proper occasions of exercising thy charity, as long as thou livest, for thou knowest not what occasion may suit to do the greatest good to other, and to bring the greatest blessing on thyself, and whether all occasions may prove equally beneficial Dr Wells

9 Rejoice, O young man, &c ] When thou art inclined, O young man, to rejoice in thy youth, &c know, that as remember that for every sin committed "God will bring thee into judgment"

Before
CHRIST
about 977

and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment

Or
miser

10 Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh for childhood and youth are vanity

CHAP XII

1 The Creator is to be remembered in due time 8 The preacher's care to edify 13 The fear of God is the chief antidote of vanity

Proverbs
-2 6

REMEMBER now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them,

2 While the sun, or the light, or the moon or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain

Or the grinders fail because they grind little

3 In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened,

4 And the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is

10 Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart ] Sorrow is here put for the cause of sorrow Live not so in youth as to bring sorrow in old age

Chap XII Solomon to prove that a future state of retribution is the object which he held out through the whole of his exhortation, is the only adequate action of virtue the only sure prop of religion, closes the admirable work with the solemn admonition, "Remember now thy Creator, &c" Then, after describing, with singular beauty and philosophick precision, the symptoms of decay preceding that awful hour, when the dust shall return to the earth as it was, &c he imprints upon the heart, in the two last verses, that great truth which it was his chief object to promulgate and enforce Dr Graves

Ver 1 Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth ] "Remember thy Creator, that is, honour, fear, love, obey and serve Him, in a word, act as becomes one who is mindful of God, and bear Him continually in his thoughts" Top, Lillotson

thy Creator ] The Hebrew is 'thy creators, in the plural The plural is employed to shew the plurality of Persons in the unity of essence, namely, the Father Son, and Holy Ghost For these three Divine Persons consulted together concerning the creation of man, Gen 1 26 Jones of Nayland, Parkhurst

2-7 While the sun, &c ] The striking description of old age which here follows may thus be paraphrased Before thine eyes grow dim with age, so that thou dost not clearly discern the sun, moon and stars And before the evils and miseries of age succeed one another in a woful succession before the time that thine arms which are the guard of this thy house of clay shall tremble with palsies, and thy legs, which are thy strong supporters shall bow themselves, and thy teeth grind slowly and with difficulty, because they are few, and thine eyes, which are as glasses in the windows of the head be dusky and darkened when the street door shall be shut upon thee, is now retired to thine own home, without care of others visits or business, when thy slow feeding shall make thee unfit for other man's tables when every little low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the laughers of musick shall be brought low, Before CHRIST about 977

5 Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets

6 Or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern

7 Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it Gen 3 19

8 ¶ Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher, all is vanity Chap 1 2

9 And moreover, because the preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge, yea, he gave good heed, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs Or the more wise the preacher was &c 1 Kings 4 32

10 The preacher sought to find out acceptable words and that which was written was upright, even words of truth 1 Heb 4 12

11 The words of the wise are as golds, noise, even that of a bird, shall wake thee out of thy sleep and when thy spirits shall be so dull and dejected that thou shalt take no pleasure in hearing the most melodious musick which thy decrepid age shall make thee so unfit to move that thou shalt be afraid of every rub or clod that lies in thy way when the white blossoms of age shall cover thy head, and every light thing (though it be but the weight of a grasshopper) shall seem a burden some to thee, and all those lusts and desires, which haunted thy stronger times, are now gone and past, for there is no way but this one; man goeth to his long home the grave, and the mourner in hired formality go about the streets before all thy natural and vital spirits be utterly exhausted, and all the functions and offices of life be quite discharged, which shall be in the last act of death for, as when the cord is loosed and the bucket broken, and the pitcher broken at the well, or the wheel at the cistern, no water can any more be drawn, so when these vital parts fail, there can be no further prolongation of life when this frame of man's body shall thus be dissolved, then shall the dust, of which it was formed return to the earth, and the soul or spirit shall return to the God who gave it Bp Hall

Hence let us learn to bestow on each part of our composition that portion of our time and attention which, on a just consideration of their relative value, they may be found to deserve Bp Horne

6 Or ever the silver cord &c ] The expressions of this verse are by many understood (in a sense differing from that of Bp Hall just given) to bear allusion to different parts of the human body The "silver cord" is thought to mean the thread of life, the sinew marrow, "the golden bowl" to express the heart, and "the wheel at the cistern" the tubes and arteries about it Bp Horne Dr Hodgson

11 The words of the wise &c ] The words of the wise, and these instructions, are intended, and ought to excite men to virtue as goads excite the ox to go forward and, as nails fastened in board stick fast, so should these instructions stick fast in the minds of men, which they will the less fail to do if duly recommended by "the masters of assemblies, or those who rule and go care to edify.

Before
CHRIST
about 977

and as nails fastened by the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd 12 And further, by these, my son, be admonished of making many books there is no end, and much study is a weariness of the flesh.

very in the sacred assemblies, which masters or teachers are appointed and directed by "one Shepherd" or Supreme Governor, namely, God Dr Wells.

12 And further, by these, my son, be admonished &c] Therefore be advised, my son, (or whoever thou art that shalt read these things, whose happiness I wish as my own,) be advised by me, and not only believe these things, but rest contented with such use of knowledge, and do not trouble thyself with composing or reading many books, for all that is needful to instruct men how to be happy may be comprised in a few wise precepts, and, if thou extendest thy desires beyond this, thou mayest turn over infinite volumes, which are continually increasing, and serve only to distract thy mind and tire thy spirits, and impair thy health,

13 ¶ Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter Fear God, and keep his commandments for this is the whole duty of man

14 For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil

Before
CHRIST
about 977
¶ Or,
The end of the matter even all that hath been heard is
Rom 2
16 & 14 10.
2 Cor 5 10

but yield little profit after the expense of much time and labour
Bp Patrick

13 Let us hear the conclusion &c] Solomon to whom God gave a wise and understanding heart so that before him there was none like him neither shall any like him arise after him who had carefully considered and thoroughly examined, all things under the sun, and was therefore most likely to give a true judgment, gives his clear opinion in this affectionate conclusion of his book "Fear God, and keep His commandments, for this is the whole the whole duty and happiness, of man this is that alone which will carry him securely through the world, and lead him without error to his final happiness Dr & Clarke

The following Chapters from Ecclesiastes are appointed for proper Lessons on Holydays.

CHAP IV	-	-	-	-	St. Stephen,	-	-	-	-	Evening
V	-	-	-	-	St John the Evangelist,	-	-	-	-	Morning
VI	-	-	-	-	Ditto	-	-	-	-	Evening

THE SONG OF SOLOMON.

INTRODUCTION

THIS Book was written by Solomon, to whom it is expressly ascribed by the Hebrew title. It is almost universally allowed to have been a marriage song, of that poem which composed on the celebration of his nuptials with a very beautiful woman, called 'the Shulamite, the daughter of his brethren supposed of Pharaoh and the favourite and distinguished wife of Solomon.

Solomon was eminently skilled in the composition of songs, and he is related to have produced above one thousand 1 Kings iv 32, out of which number, probably this alone was attributed to the suggestion of the Holy Spirit, for this alone has escaped the waste of time, by being preserved in the Sacred Volume, into which it was received as unquestionably authentic, and it has uniformly been considered as canonical by the Christian Church.

The royal author appears, in the typical spirit of his time, to have designed to render a ceremonial appointment descriptive of a spiritual concern, and this song is accordingly considered by judicious writers to be a mystical allegory of that sort which induces a more sublime sense on historical truths, and which, by the description of human events, shadows out Divine circumstances. The sacred writers were by God's condescension, authorized to illustrate His strict and intimate relation to the Church by the figure of a marriage, and the emblem must have been strikingly becoming and expressive to the conceptions of the Jews, since they annexed ideas of peculiar mystery to this appointment, and imagined that the marriage union was a counterpart representation of some original pattern in heaven. Hence it was performed among them with very peculiar ceremonies and solemnity, with every thing that could give dignity and importance to its rites. Solomon therefore, in celebrating the circumstances of his marriage, was naturally led by a train of correspondent reflexions, to consider that spiritual connexion which it was often employed to symbolize, and the idea must have been the more forcibly suggested to him, as he was at this period preparing to build a temple to God, and thereby to furnish a visible representation of the Hebrew Church. The spiritual allegory, thus worked up by Solomon to its highest perfection, was very consistent with the prophetick style which was accustomed to predict evangelical blessings by such parabolic figures, and Solomon was more immediately furnished with a pattern for this representation by the author of the forty-fifth Psalm, who describes, in a compendious allegory, the same future connexion between Christ and His Church.

But though the work be certainly an allegorical representation, many learned men in an unrestrained eagerness to explain the Song, even in its minutest and most obscure particulars have too far indulged their imaginations, and, by endeavouring too nicely to reconcile the literal with the spiritual sense, have been led beyond the boundaries which a reverence for the sacred writings should ever prescribe. The ideas which the sacred writers furnish concerning the mystical relation between Christ and His Church, though well accommodated to our apprehensions by the allusion of a marriage union, are too general to illustrate every particular contained in this poem, which may be supposed to have been intentionally decorated with some ornaments appropriate to the literal construction. When the general analogy is obvious we are not always to expect minute resemblance, and should not be too curious in seeking for obscure and recondite allusions. Solomon in the glow of an inspired fancy, and unsuspecting of misconception or deliberate perversion, describes God and His Church with their respective attributes and graces, under colourings familiar and agreeable to mankind and exhibits their indelible affection under the authorized figures of earthly love. No similitude could indeed be chosen so elegant and apposite for the illustration of this intimate and spiritual alliance, as the marriage union, if considered in the chaste simplicity of its first institution, or under the interesting circumstances with which it was established among the Jews.

This poem may be considered as to its form, as a dramatical poem of the pastoral kind. There is a succession of time, and a change of place to different parts of the palace and royal gardens. The persons introduced as speakers, are the bridegroom and bride and their respective attendants. The interchange of dialogue is carried on in a wild and digressive manner but the speeches are adapted to the persons with appropriate elegance. The companions of the bride compose a kind of chorus, which seems to bear some resemblance to that afterwards adopted in the Grecian tragedy. Solomon and his queen assume the pastoral simplicity of style which is favourable to the communication of their sentiments. The poem abounds throughout with beauties, and presents every where a delightful and romantick display of nature, painted in its most interesting season, and described with every ornament that an inspired fancy could furnish. It is justly entitled A Song of Songs, or most excellent song as being superior to any that an uninspired writer could have produced, and tending if properly understood, to purify the mind, and to elevate the affections from earthly to heavenly things. Dr Gray.

It was the practice of the Jews to forbid their children the reading of this Book till their judgment was sufficiently matured, lest in the fervour of youth they should give too wide a scope to fancy, and interpret to a bad sense the spiritual ideas of Solomon. This was a very prudent and judicious precaution, and may well serve to restrain the practice which has unfortunately prevailed among some Christians of modern times of applying in an indecorous manner the strong figurative expressions which occur throughout this poem. Dr Gray, Edit.

Before
CHRIST
written
about 1011

CHAP. I.

1 The church's love unto Christ 5 She confesseth her de-formity, 7 and prayeth to be directed to his flock 8 Christ directeth her to the shepherds' tents 9 and showing his love to her, 11 giveth her gracious promises 12 The church and Christ congratulate one another

THE song of songs, which is Solomon's

2 Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth for thy love is better than wine.

3 Because of the savour of thy good ointments thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the virgins love thee

4 Draw me, we will run after thee the king hath brought me into his chambers we will be glad and rejoice in thee, we will remember thy love more than wine || the upright love thee

5 I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon

6 Look not upon me, because I am black, because the sun hath looked upon me my mother's children were angry with me, they made me keeper of the vineyards, but mine own vineyard have I not kept Chap I ver 1 The song of songs,] This title denotes the excellence of the song, not only in its structure and composition, but more particularly in regard to the subject of which it treats, as representing the earnest desire of the Church of God, which is the spouse or bride of Christ to enjoy the great blessing of Christ's coming as being her bridegroom, or He, by whose merits all the faithful are blessed or made happy Bp Patrick, Dr Wells

For a general notion of the allegorical sense conveyed by the different parts of this Book, the reader is referred to the heads of the several chapters

2 I let him &c] The bride here breaks out into expressions of tenderness, and addresses him when absent, as if he were present being interrupted at times by the bridesmaids who attend her, ver 4, 5 Bp Percy

3 — the savour of thy good ointments] Fragrant ointments were especially used at nuptials, and on other festival occasions, see Ps xlv 8 Prov vii 17 Amos vi 6 hence the odour of sweet ointments became a common metaphor to express the extensive acceptableness of a good name Bp Percy,

5 — as the tents of Kedar,] Volney says, the tents of the Bedoween Arabs, woven of goats or camels hair, are black or brown Parkhurst The tents of the wild Arabs are to this day of a very dark or black colour, being made of the shaggy hair of their black goats Dr Arden — as the curtains of Solomon] Rather, as the tapestry of Solomon's perhaps comparing her to one of the beautiful figures on his tapestry Dr Hulseon

“I am black but comely, &c” The expressions are to be divided as is sometimes the case in Hebrew diction, ‘I am black as the tent of Kedar, but comely as the curtains of Solomon’ Bp Lowth

6 Look not upon me, &c] Do not despise me by considering my outward hue for my brothers and sisters have done me injury by making me a slave to the meanest employments, in which I was exposed to the rays of the sun, and could not preserve my beauty Bp Patrick

7 — where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon] In hot countries, the shepherds and their flocks are always forced to retire for shelter during the burning heats of noon

7 Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon for why should I be || as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?

8 ¶ If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy flocks beside the shepherds' tents

9 I have compared thee O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaoh's char-riots

10 Thy cheeks are comely, with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold

11 We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver

12 ¶ While the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof

13 A bundle of myrrh is my wellbeloved unto me, he shall lie all night betwixt my breasts

14 My beloved is unto me as a cluster of camphire in the vineyards of Engedi

15 Behold, thou art fair, || my love, behold, thou art fair, thou hast doves' eyes

9 I have compared thee, &c] The bridegroom, seeing perhaps, at some little distance, the bride anxiously seeking for him, here commends her conjugal affection by various compliments to her charms, and the dialogue is thus carried on to chap II 8 in a very poetical, but unconnected, manner Bp Percy — to a company of horses] This comparison will not be deemed coarse or vulgar when it is considered what beautiful and delicate creatures the Eastern horses are, and how highly they are valued It is very remarkable that a Greek poet Theocritus, has made use of a similar comparison to a Thessalian steed, to express the beauty of Helen Bp Percy 10 — comely with rows of jewels, &c] Olearius supposes the headdress of the bride here referred to to be the same with that which is now frequently used in the East He says that all the headdress of the Persian ladies consists in two or three rows of pearls, which are not there worn about the neck, but round the head, beginning at the forehead and descending down the cheeks, and under the chin, so that their faces seem to be set in pearls Hauser

12 — my spikenard] Spikenard, or nard, is a plant growing in the East whose root is very small and slender, it put forth a long small stalk, and has several ears or spikes even with the ground, whence it has the name of spike nard Calcut

14 — as a cluster of camphire] Interpreters have been much puzzled by these words which we translate ‘cluster of camphire’ That which we call camphire was then unknown, and therefore the word is better translated in the margin by ‘cypress,’ not meaning the tree known by that name, but an aromatick plant, (properly called cypripedium) known in the East, which produced a sweet-scented bush of flowers and also berries, not much differing from the fragrance of spikenard These shrubs seem to have been cultivated in Engedi near Jericho, after the manner of vines and hence probably the nurseries of them are here called vineyards.
Bp Patrick

15 — thou hast doves' eyes] To understand the force of this expression we must refer it to our common doves or pigeons, but to the doves of Syria, which have large and beautiful eyes.
Those, who have seen the fine Eastern bird, the carrier pigeon, will require no further commentary on this verse See I Bp Or perhaps, as the dove is always considered as emblematick of

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

16 Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant also our bed is green

|| Or gallies

17 The beams of our house are cedar, and our rafters of fir

CHAP II

1 The mutual love of Christ and his church 8 The hope, 10 and calling of the church 14 Christ's care of the church 16 The profession of the church, her full and hope

I AM the rose of Sharon, and the lily of the valleys

2 As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters

3 As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons

I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste

4 He brought me to the banqueting house and his banner over me was love

5 Stay me with figons, comfort me with apples for I am sick of love

6 His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me

7 I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please

† Heb
I d. lighted and sit down &c † Heb palace
† Heb house of mine † Heb straw me with apples Chap 8 v
† Heb
I adjure you Chap 5
v 8 & 4

conjugal tenderness and affection, the comparison to "doves eyes may be a reference to the soft qualities which the eyes of the bride expressed Harmer But see note at chap v 12

17 The beams of our house are cedar,] Perhaps the translation should be, "The beams of our house are cedar, and fir our roof, and the expression, concurring with that of the last verse may shew, that they were not in a house, but in a grove where the heads of the firs and the cedar are poetically called the beams and roof of their chamber Dr Hodgson

Chap II ver 1 — rose of Sharon,] Sharon, or Saron, was a town which gave name to a spacious and fruitful valley, reaching from Cesarea to Joppa Dr Wells It is meant, "I am a mere rose of the field" The bride now speaks, and seems with becoming modesty to represent her beauty as nothing extraordinary as a most common wild flower thus the bridegroom in the next verse dimes, insisting that she as much surpasses the generality of maidens, as the flower of the lily does that of the bramble Bp Percy

— lily of the valleys] Not the beautiful flowers known among us by the name of "lily of the valley" but probably a Syrian plant of the lily kind, wont to grow in low lands Harmer

3 As the apple tree among the trees] Perhaps rather according to the Chaldee phrase "as the citron tree Parkhurst

5 Stay me with figons,] This verse is a description of one falling into a swoon in which it is usual to call for strong reviving smells Bp Patrick

7 I charge you — by the roes &c] It is a rural form of ad-juring The bride entreats her virgin companions by those delicate and sprightly creatures, which add so much to the beauty of the sylvan scenes, and in pursuit of which as nymphs fond of rural sports they may be supposed to have taken frequent pleasure It is natural to conjure a person by whatever is most affecting dear, or valued Bp Percy

"By the roes" The animal designed seems rather the gazelle or antelope Parkhurst

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

8 ¶ The voice of my beloved I behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills

9 My beloved is like a roe or a young hart behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, shew-himself through the lattice

10 My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and com-away

11 For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone,

12 The flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land,

13 The fig tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grapes give a good smell Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away

14 ¶ O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice, for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely

15 Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines for our vines have tender grapes.

8 The voice &c] The bride here takes up the discourse to chap in 6 Bp Percy

The voice of my beloved I] This would be more intelligible if we were to supply, as in the old version, "It is the voice Dr Durell

— he cometh leaping &c] Allusion is here still made to the roes, ver 7

9 — behold, he standeth behind our wall, &c] The Eastern buildings generally surrounded a square inner court The brick-groom seems here to be described as entering the outward apartments, and gradually seen, as he made his approach first behind the wall, then looking through the window, and lastly putting his head through the lattice Bp Percy 12 — the turtle] This bird is in some sense, and sometimes if not always, a bird of passage, as appears from Jer viii 7, where it is said to "know its time Aristotle, Varro and Cicero say the same Script illust Expos Ind

13 — the vines with the tender grapes] In many versions these words are rendered, "the vines in blossom" That the blossom of the vine may give a fragrant smell in hot countries, is shewn by the practice of the ancients, who used to put the dried flowers of the vine into their new wine, in order to give it fragrantcy and a pure or floridous spirit Bp Percy 14 — in the clefts &c] Solomon having in the language of affection called her his dove, nothing was more natural in an oriental imagination, than the name of the dove comparing of the then residence of the Jewish queen to the rocky clefts, in which then doves were wont to build It appears that doves in two countries usually take up their abode in the hollow places of rocks and cliffs The word, which we translate "steep," occurs but once more, namely in Ezek xxxviii 20 and there is translated "steep places" It might be better perhaps here to translate the word,

"steep places or lofty cliffs" Harmer 15 — foxes, that spoil the vines] As foxes in England do not destroy vines, this passage has sometimes been objected to, but we learn from Dr Shaw that "jackalls on the lesser kind eat roots and fruits, and frequent the gardens every night" So

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

4 Chap 6
1 & 7 10
Chap 4
6 Chap 6
14 Or of duration

16 ¶ My beloved is mine, and I am his he feedeth among the lilies.

17 Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of Bethel.

CHAP. III.

1 The church's fight and victory in temptation 6 The church glorieth in Christ

BY right on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth I sought him, but I found him not.

2 I will rise now, and go about the city in the streets, and in the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth. I sought him, but I found him not

3 The watchmen that go about the city found me to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?

4 It was but a little that I passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me

5 I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.

6 ¶ Who is this that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed

Chap 2 7
6 & 4

Chap 8
5

Hasselquist says, "There is plenty of these animals near the convent of St John, in the desert, about vintage time, inasmuch that the owners are obliged to set guards over the vines, to prevent these creatures from destroying them." These then are clearly the animals, which are here meant Fragments to Calmet

17 Until the day break, "Until the day breathe," literally, or, "till the day blow fresh." There is peculiar beauty in this expression in those warm climates the dawn of day is attended with a fine refreshing breeze, of the most delightful kind Bp Percy

— turn, — and be thou like a roe That is, come to me with the swiftness of a roe or antelope, from thy lurking places. Dr Durell

— upon the mountains of Bethel In the margin, "mountains of division," "ragged, intersected mountains," which is preferable perhaps to considering Bethel as a proper name Parkhurst

[Chap III ver 6 Who is this &c] The dialogue seems to be taken up by the companions of the bride, afterwards (ver 11) by the bride and (chap iv 1) by the bridegroom. Bp Percy
— like pillars of smoke It is customary at Eastern marriages for virgins to lead the procession with silver gilt pots of perfumes. In the present instance, so liberally were these rich perfumes burnt, that at a distance, a pillar or pillars of smoke arose from them; and the perfume was so rich, as to exceed in value and fragrance all the powders of the merchant Burdet

10 — the midst thereof &c The words may be rendered, "the middle of it" (that is, the couch of the palanquin or litter) "spread with love by the daughters of Jerusalem," that is, with needlework or loom-work, wrought by the daughters of Jerusalem with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

7 Behold his bed, which is Solomon's, threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Israel

8 They all hold swords, being expert in war every man hath his sword upon his thigh because of fear in the night

9 King Solomon made himself a chariot of the wood of Lebanon

10 He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple, the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jerusalem

11 Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart

CHAP IV

1 Christ setteth forth the graces of the church 8 He sheweth his love to her 10 The church prayeth to be made fit for his presence

BEHOOLD, thou art fair, my love, behold, thou art fair, thou hast doves' eyes within thy locks thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from mount Gilead

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that are even shorn, which came up from the washing, whereof every one bear twins, and none is barren among them in token of their love and regard to Solomon The Jewish women were famous for these curious works See Judg 19 30 Prov xxxi 22, 24 Parkhurst

11 — the crown wherewith his mother crowned him It was usual with many nations to put crowns or garlands on the heads of new-married people It seems from this passage, that among the Jews this ceremony was performed by one of the parents Among the Greeks, the bride was crowned by her mother With the Greeks and Romans, the nuptial crowns were only chaplets of leaves and flowers With the Hebrews they were sometimes also of richer materials, as gold, silver, &c according to the rank of the persons Bp Percy

Chap IV ver 1 — thy hair is as a flock of goats Thy hair is as fine as that of a flock of goats it seems to be a comparison with the hair of the eastern goats, which is of a delicate silky softness, and bears great resemblance to the fine curls of a woman's hair Bochart Some of them had a fleece so fine, that it was almost as soft as silk such was that spun by the women for the use of the tabernacle, Exod xxxi 26 To this his allusion seems here to be made in respect to its softness, as well as length and thickness Bp Patrick

— that appear from mount Gilead The sense of the whole may be "Thy hair is like a flock of ascending goats, which is a mountainous Gilead" and the point of comparison may chiefly turn on the head being covered with fine flowing locks, as mount Gilead was with the shaggy herd, reaching in an extended line from its foot to its summit Michaëlis

2 Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep By this comparison so admirably expressed the evenness, whiteness, just proportions, and unbroken series of the set of teeth Bp Lenth

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David builded for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men

Chap 7 5

5 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies

Chap 2

17

11 Job

6 Lath

6 Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense

1 Phes.

27

7 Thou art all fair, my love, there is no spot in thee

8 Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, with me from Lebanon look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions' dens, from the mountains of the leopards

Or

taken away

my

11

9 Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse, thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck

Chap 1

10 How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! how much better is thy love than

3 Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet,] That is, thin and slender and of a bright red colour, giving sweetness, and grace to the discourse Bp Lenth

—thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate] Rather Thy cheeks are like a piece of pomegranate within thy locks expressing that her cheeks puttally shaded by her hair, looked more beautiful, like the seeds of the pomegranate (whose colour is white mixed with red) in the midst of the divided and Bp Lenth

4 Thy neck is like the tower of David] Her neck, tall and slender, erect, and moulded according to the most elegant proportions, and adorned with gold and jewels, is happily compared with a tower of well-known elegance and distinction in the citadel of Zion, adorned with every variety of splendid armoury Bp Lenth

6 —to the mountain of myrrh, &c] Myrrh and frankincense were among the most valued perfumes of the East The bridegroom therefore concludes his compliments on the bride's person, by comparing her to an entire heap of those precious essences Bp Percy

8 Come with me — my spouse] Here begins a new representation the style of the bridegroom being altered towards the bride whom he had before called by the name of "love, but now for the first time addresses under that of "spouse Bp Patrick —from the top of Amana] Amana was a part of mount Lebanon Shenir and Hermon were parts of the same ridge of mountain Bp Patrick This invitation of the bridegroom is not to be taken literally but the words are to be understood in a figurative sense He invites the bride to his arms as to a place of safety and encourages her to look down in security amidst any danger with which she was threatened Lebanon Amana, Shenir and Hermon, were all places where some dangers were to be apprehended and it is in usual beauty in poetry, to represent a general idea by particulars that largely partake of it Bp Percy wine and the smell of thine ointments than all spices Before CHRIST about 10

11 Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb honey and milk are under thy tongue, and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon

12 A garden enclosed is my sister, my spouse, a spring shut up, a fountain sealed

13 Thy plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits, || camphire, || Or cypre with spikenard,

14 Spikenard and saffron, calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense, myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices

15 A fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and streams from Lebanon

16 Awake, O north wind, and come, thou south, blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits

CHAP V

1 Christ awaketh the church with his calling 2 The church having a taste of Christ's love is sick of love 3 A description of Christ by his graces

I AM come into my garden, my sister, my spouse I have gathered my myrrh with my spice, I have eaten my honeycomb with 9 — my sister, my spouse,] Or, perhaps, more literally, "my sister spouse" "Sister" seems here used as a term of endearment Bp Percy

—with one of thine eyes,] The words may be translated "with one glance of thine eyes" Bp Percy

—with one chain of thy neck] The Latin translation is more elegant, "with one curl or ringlet of thy neck" Bp Percy

11 Thy lips, — drop as the honeycomb] Expressing her sweet and melting words, a metaphor common to Greek and Orient writers Bp Percy

—like the smell of Lebanon] The trees which grew upon mount Lebanon produced many aromatick gums and pieces, as frankincense among others Bp Patrick

12. — a fountain sealed] This alludes no doubt to what was sometimes practised in the East, in order to secure the water, fountains to the proper owners Parkhurst

13 Thy plants are &c] The bridegroom, having in the foregoing sentence called the bride an "enclosed garden," here carries on the metaphor, and compares her virtues and accomplishments to all the choicest productions of an Eastern orchard Bp Patrick

14 — calamus] Sweet-scented cane Parkhurst

—and aloes,] By "aloes" here seems plainly meant the lign aloes or wood-aloes, the finest sort of which is the most precious of all the woods with which we are acquainted Its scent, when in the mass, is very fragrant and agreeable The smell of the common aloe wood is also pleasant, but not so strongly perfumed as the former. Parkhurst

Chap V ver 1 I am come into my garden, &c] The bridegroom here returns an answer to the invitation of the bride in the latter part of the foregoing chapter and testifies his acceptance by coming to taste and rest upon the fruit of her garden — after the manner of those countries he calls his friends and companions to be partakers of it with him His receiving fruit from the garden is expressed by the words, "I have gathered my myrrh, &c" Then follows the feast, (which they always in a

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

Or
and be drunken with

my honey, I have drunk my wine with my milk eat, O friends, drink, yea, || drink abundantly, O beloved

2 ¶ I sleep, but my heart waketh it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night

3 I have put off my coat, how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet, how shall I defile them?

4 My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved || for him

5 I rose up to open to my beloved, and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with † sweet smelling myrrh, upon the handles of the lock

6 I opened to my beloved, but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone my soul failed when he spake I sought him, but I could not find him, I called him, but he gave me no answer

7 The watchmen that went about the city found me, they smote me, they wounded me, the keepers of the walls took away my veil from me.

8 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, † that ye tell him, that I am sick of love

† Heb.
what when they gathered the fruits of the earth,) in these words, "I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey, &c. Honey is mentioned in preference to other things, because in Eastern countries it was a principal and favourite food, as appears from its having been among the presents sent to Joseph, when governor of Egypt, Gen. xlii. 11 and among those brought to David by the great men of his country, 2 Sam. xvi. 20. As honey comprehends all the royal dainties which were to be eaten, so the wine and milk mentioned comprehend all the liquors given at the feast. Bp. Patrick

2 — my undefiled ] Rather, "my perfect one," so the Hebrew word properly signifies, one possessed of all accomplishments, both of mind and body. Bp. Percy

11 His head is as the most fine gold,] Though the ancients prized golden or flaxen locks, yet this cannot be the sense here, as his hair is said to be black. The expression probably alludes to the custom which then prevailed of using a powder of a golden colour as also golden ornaments in the hair. Dr. Duell. Allusion may perhaps be made to the Eastern custom of tinging the hair and face with a vegetable substance called henna, which gives them a yellowish or golden tincture. Michaelis. Or it is only a metaphorical expression to denote consummate excellence and beauty. Sanctius

12 His eyes are as the eyes of doves &c.] In the original, "His eyes are like doves." The most common pigeon in the East is of a deep blue colour, and the meaning here seems to be, "His eyes are like blue pigeons by the foam of waters, by which the blue iris of the eye, surrounded by the white is compared to a pigeon amidst the white foam of waters. But, as if the foam of water was not sufficient to satisfy the poet, it is added "washed in milk," dipping themselves in milk, thus further contrasting the blue centre of the eye with the surrounding white. Fragments to Calvat

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices,] The word translated

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

¶ What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?

10 My beloved is white, and ruddy, † the chiefest among ten thousand

11 His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are || bushy, and black as || a raven

12 His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and † fitly set

13 His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as || sweet flowers his lips like lilies, dropping sweet smelling myrrh

14 His hands are as gold rings set with the beryl his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with sapphires

15 His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars

16 His mouth is most sweet yea, he is altogether lovely This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem

CHAP. VI

1 The church professeth her faith in Christ 4 Christ sheweth the graces of the church, 10 and his love towards her

"spices," sometimes signifies odiferous plants and flowers of the garden. Perhaps then it may here mean, "roses," and the words may convey a comparison of the pleasing ruddiness which health diffused over his cheeks to the colour of a bed of roses. Hamer

— his lips like lilies,] According to some, this comparison is made from the fineness and delicate softness of his lips but Pliny mentions lilies of a deep red colour, which he says, were much esteemed in Syria, and to this perhaps allusion is made or perhaps the comparison may be not to the colour, but to the odiferous sweetness of the lily. Dropping sweet smelling myrrh, that is, from which words flow more precious and more pleasant than the richest and most fragrant myrrh. Bp. Patrick. Allusion seems to be made to honeydrops observable in inverted-flowered lilies similar to the standing sweet dew on the crown imperial, now common among us. So I. Brown

14 His hands are as gold rings] His hands are as gold finely turned, beset with a chrysolite. Bp. Percy. Or the meaning may be, that "he had on his fingers golden rings set with a chrysolite." Bp. Patrick — bright ivory overlaid with sapphires] Perhaps, "is an ivory plate, enclosed with sapphires" meaning to express the white skin covered with a purple robe. Michaelis

15 His legs are as pillars of marble,] Alluding perhaps to the strength and firmness of his stature, or else to the colour of the garments. Bp. Patrick — his countenance is as Lebanon] Of the two celebrated mountains in Judea, Lebanon and Carmel, the former was celebrated for its height, ruggedness, and the abundance of its vast and towering cedars, the latter for its richness and fertility abounding with vineyards, olive grounds, and corn fields. Hence the former is here employed to express masculine dignity, as the latter is (chap. vii. 5) to convey an idea of female beauty. Bp. Leath

Before
CHRIST
about 1014.

WHITHER is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.

2 My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.

* Chap 2
16 & 7 10

3 I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.

4 ¶ Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.

5 Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have overcome me: thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead.

* Or,
they have guzzled me up

* Chap 4
1

6 Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.

7 As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.

8 There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number.

9 My dove, my undefiled is but one, she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her. The daughters saw her, and blessed her, yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.

10 ¶ Who is she that looketh forth as the Chap VI ver 1 — beautiful — as Tirzah,] Tirzah was a beautiful situation in the tribe of Judah, chosen by Jeroboam for the seat of his kingdom. The name implies "a delightful city." Bp Patrick — comely as Jerusalem,] Jerusalem was esteemed the most charming place in all Palestine, and is called by Jeremiah, "the perfection of beauty, I am it." Bp Percy — terrible as an army with banners,] These words may be rendered, 'dazzling as bannered hosts.' The word translated 'terrible,' properly signifies 'amazing,' exciting awe and consternation. Bp Percy. Some refer the expression to the gravity, or rather severity, of her countenance, which forbade all near approaches to so great a beauty. Bp Patrick

8 There are threescore queens, &c.] It is the common opinion that Solomon here alludes to the number of his own wives, and that he composed this song before he multiplied his wives to the prodigious extent related at 1 Kings xi. 1, &c. But it is more probable that he alludes generally to the custom of other princes in the East who besides their principal wives that were solemnly espoused and endowed, had also others who were called concubines. The terms 'threescore' and 'fourscore' are probably used for an uncertain number. Bp Patrick

10 — et tu es amara,] The meaning of this verse seems to be that the spouse, hearing such high commendations of herself, both from the bridegroom, and from the persons mentioned at ver 10 says with great humility that she was not conscious to herself of such perfection. (For so the first words appear to signify in the Hebrew, 'I did not know it, or 'I did not think so,') but is invited thereby to make the greatest speed, so as to preserve the character which he had given her, and to go along with him into his garden (which she had neglected before, ver 2,) there to give a good account of her proficiency. For which purpose she seems in a sudden to take leave of her friends, (who had charitably accompany, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners?

Before
CHRIST
about 1014.

11 I went down into the garden of nuts to see the fruits of the valley, and to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.

12 † Or ever I was aware, my soul made me like the chariots of Aimmu-nadab.

* Heb
I knew not
Or set me as the chariots of my people
Or of Ma-nassah

13 Return, return, O Shulamite, return, return, that we may look upon thee. What will ye see in the Shulamite? As it were the company of two armies.

CHAP. VII.

1 A further description of the church's graces. 10 The church professeth her faith and desire.

HOW beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.

2 Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor: thy belly is like an heap of wheat set about with lilies.

* Heb mixture

3 Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.

* Chap 4 5

4 Thy neck is as a tower of ivory, thine eyes like the fishpools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose as the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward Damascus.

companyed her to seek him,) that she might for some time enjoy his society alone, which is the ground of their calling upon her to return, in the next verse. This is the best account I can give of these two last verses. It is supposed that Aimmu-nadab was some great captain, who industriously pursued his victories or advantages with very swift chariots. Bp Patrick

Chap VII ver 1 — thy feet with shoes,] Rather perhaps, 'thy feet within thy sandals.' The Hebrew women were remarkably nice in adorning their sandals, and in having them fit so neatly as to display the fine shape of the foot. Thus Judith's sandals are mentioned, together with the bracelets and other ornaments of jewels, with which she set off her beauty when she went to captivate the heart of Holofernes, (Judith x. 4) and it is expressly said, that 'her sandals ravished his eyes, chap. xvi. 9. Bp Percy

— the joints &c,] The Greek translators render this word, 'the whole proportion,' or 'model.' The expression here seems to refer to the clothing which the bride wore, which agrees with the words which follow, 'the work of the hands of a cunning workman.' Bp Patrick

2 — an heap of wheat set about with lilies,] It was usual with the Jews, when their wheat had been threshed out and fanned to lay it in heaps, (Ruth ii. 7. Hagg ii. 16.) and a their thrashing floors were in the open air, in order to make so strebe cattle they stuck them round with thorns, (Hos. x. 7.) These, as a compliment to the spouse, are here converted into a fence of lilies. We may suppose that Solomon here alludes to a custom, which they might have in Palestine, of strutting flowers round the heaps of corn after it was winnowed. Bp Percy

4 — thine eyes like the fishpools,] These eyes are clear and serene as the pools in Heshbon by the gate of Bath-rabbim, (which was one of the gates of Heshbon) 'thy nose is finely formed as the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward Damascus.' Bp Percy

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

Or,
ramson,
† Heb
moura

5 Thine head upon thee is like || Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple, the king is † held in the galleries

6 How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights

7 This thy stature is like to a palm tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.

8 I said, I will go up to the palm tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples,

9 And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine for my beloved, that goeth down † sweetly, causing the lips || of those that are asleep to speak.

10 ¶ I am my beloved's, and his desire is toward me.

11 Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field, let us lodge in the villages

12 Let us get up early to the vineyards, let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape † appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my loves

13 The mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved

CHAP VIII

1 The love of the church to Christ 6 The vehemency of love 8 The calling of the Gentiles 14 The church prayeth for Christ's coming

5 — the hair of thine head like purple,] Meaning perhaps the colour which we call auburn. Dr Hodgson The meaning of the word translated "hair" is, not certain it may admit the sense
"hair lace" "a fillet or bandage" Bp Patrick, Dr Durell

7 — thy stature is like to a palm tree,] The palm tree is remarkable for its slenderness and height At present there are but few palms to be seen in Judea, but formerly, it is probable, they were very abundant, as they are stamped on the Roman coins which belonged to this country, and are much spoken of by Roman writers, when they treat of this country Harmer

8 I said, I will go up to the palm tree,] The comparison is made to the palm tree, because that tree rises straight as well as high, and therefore sets forth that part of comeliness which consists in stature Sir T Brown has ingeniously observed, that the expression "I will go up, and take hold of the boughs," is peculiarly appropriate, since the palm tree bears its boughs only at the upper part Some understand by the words which we translate "clusters of grapes," dates, which are the fruit of the palm. Bp Patrick The word "boughs" is rendered in the Latin translation "fructus," and, in the Greek, in the same sense, "topos," since the clusters of fruit in the palm tree really grow on the top of the stalk Parkhurst

9 — the roof of thy mouth &c,] The word literally signifies,
"thy palate," which is here figuratively put for "thy speech," which issues thence Bp Percy 13 The mandrakes give a smell,] The Hebrew word, translated "mandrakes," occurs only here and at Gen xxx 14 Conjectures about its meaning have been most various — at our gates] It has been supposed that this passage re-

0 THAT thou wert as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother: when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee; yea, I should not be despised,

2 I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate

3 His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me

4 I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, until he please

5 Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple tree: there thy mother brought thee forth: there she brought thee forth that bare thee

6 ¶ Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death, jealousy is † cruel as the grave:
the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame

7 Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned

8 ¶ We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts: what shall we do for our sister in the day when she shall be spoken for?

9 If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a door, we will inclose her with boards of cedar 10 I am a wall, and my breasts like tow-

Before
CHRIST
about 1014

† Heb they shd not despise me

Prov 9 2

Chap 2 6

Chap 2 7

† Heb why shd we stir up or awake
Chap 3 6

† Heb hard

lates to the custom of decking the gates of new-married persons with festoons of fruits and flowers Or perhaps the meaning may be, "in our hoards" As the gates in Judea were usually, large buildings, it is not improbable that the repositories for fruit were either over them, or near them Bp Percy

Chap VIII ver 2 — to drink of spiced wine] This is thought to allude to a custom of the parties drinking wine from the same cup in one part of the marriage ceremony We know that spiced wine was a great delicacy in the East It was not peculiar to the Jews, the Romans lined their vessels with odoriferous gums, to give the wine a warm bitter flavour and it is said, that the Persians and Spaniards have a similar method of giving their wines a favourite relish The word rendered "juice" by our translators, is properly new wine or must, and "the juice of the pomegranate" is either new wine made with the juice of pomegranates, which the Turks about Aleppo still mix with their dishes for this purpose, or rather wine made of the juice of pomegranates, of which, Sir J Chardin says, they still make considerable quantities in the East Harmer

6 Set me as a seal &c,] These are the words of the bride be-seaching her beloved to keep her always in mind for that was the purpose of having the name or picture of a beloved person engraven on a seal or jewel, and wearing it near the heart, to testify great esteem and a constancy of affection Bp Patrick O my as a seal, &c, that I place me so that I may never slip out of thy memory or affection this request I make out of fervent love, which is strong and irresistible as death, especially when heightened by jealousy, or a fear of losing the beloved object Bp Percy

GENERAL INTRODUCTION

TO

THE PROPHETS.

It is universally acknowledged, that the remaining books of the Old Testament, namely, the sixteen prophetical books, and the Lamentations of Jeremiah, were written by the persons whose names they bear. The Prophets profess themselves to be the respective authors of these books; and this internal testimony is confirmed both by Jewish and Christian tradition. Bp Tomline.

The Prophets were those distinguished persons, who were raised up by God among the Israelites as the ministers of His dispensations. They flourished in a continued succession for above a thousand years, (Luke 1:70,) reckoning from Moses to Malachi: all cooperating in the same designs, and concurring in one spirit to deliver the same doctrines, and to prophesy concerning the same future blessings. Moses, the first and greatest of the Prophets, having established God's first covenant, those who followed him were employed in explaining its nature, in explaining its spiritual meaning, in instructing the Jews, and in preparing them for the reception of that second dispensation which it prefigured. Their pretensions to be considered as God's appointed servants were demonstrated by the unimpeachable integrity of their characters; by the intrinsic excellence and tendency of their instructions; and by the disinterested zeal, and undaunted fortitude, with which they persevered in their great designs. These were still farther confirmed by the miraculous proofs which they displayed of Divine support, and by the immediate completion of many of the prophecies which they uttered. Such were the credentials of their exalted character, which the Prophets furnished to their contemporaries, and we, who, having lived to witness the appearance of the second dispensation, can look back to the connection which subsisted between the two covenants, have received additional evidence of the inspiration of the Prophets in the attestations of our Saviour and His Apostles, and in the retrospect of a permanent and gradually maturing scheme of prophecy, connected in all its parts, and ratified in the accomplishment of its great object, the coming of the Messiah. We have still farther incontrovertible proofs of their Divine appointment in the numerous prophecies, which in these latter days are fulfilled, and still under our own eyes continue to receive their completion. Dr Gray.

The prophetic writings present us with the worthiest and most exalted ideas of the Almighty, the justest and purest notions of piety and virtue, the most awful denunciations against wickedness of every kind, publick and private, the most affectionate expostulations, the most inviting promises, and the warmest concern for the publick good. And, besides all this, they contain a series of predictions relating to our blessed Lord, in which all the remarkable circumstances of His birth, life, ministry, miracles, doctrines, sufferings, and death, are foretold in so minute and exact a manner, (more particularly in the prophecy of Isaiah,) that it might almost be thought they were describing all these things after they had happened, if it were not known, that these prophecies were confessedly written many hundred years before Christ came into the world, and were, during all that time, in the possession of the Jews, who were the mortal enemies of Christianity, and therefore would never set themselves to forge prophecies, which most evidently prove Him to be what He professed to be, and what they denied Him to be, the Messiah, and the Son of God. It is to this part of Scripture that our Lord particularly directs our attention, when He says, "Search the Scriptures; for they are they which testify of Me." (John 5:39) No testimony can be more satisfactory and convincing than this, to any one that reads them with care and impartiality, and compares their predictions concerning our Saviour, with the history of His life given by those who constantly lived and conversed with Him. Bp Porteus.

The language of the Prophets is remarkable for its magnificence. Each writer is distinguished for peculiar beauties; but their style in general may be characterised as strong, animated, and impressive. Its ornaments are derived, not from accumulation of epithet, or laboured harmony, but from the great grandeur of its images, and the majestic force of its expressions. It is varied with striking propriety, and enlivened with quick but easy transitions. Its sudden bursts of eloquence, its earnest warmth, its affecting exhortations and appeals, afford very interesting proofs of that lively impression, and of that inspired conviction, under which the Prophets wrote, and which enabled them among a people, not distinguished for genius, to surpass in every variety of composition the most admired productions of Pagan antiquity. If the imagery employed by the sacred writers appears sometimes to partake of a coarser nature, it must be recollected, that the Eastern manners and languages required the most forcible representations, and that the masculine and undignant spirit of the Prophets led them to adopt the most energetic and descriptive expressions. No style is perhaps so highly figurative as that of the Prophets. Every object of nature and of art, which could furnish allusions, is explored with industry. Every scene of creation, and every page of sacred history, seems to have unfolded its rich varieties to the sacred writers, who, in the spirit of Eastern poetry, delight in every kind of metaphorical embellishment.

It remains to be observed, that the greatest part of the prophetical books, as well as those more especially styled poetical, were written in some kind of measure of verse. This is evident, not only from the peculiar selection of unusual expressions and phrases, but also from the artificial arrangement and regular distribution of many sentences, which run in parallel divisions, and correspond, as it were, in equal periods; but whether this resulted from the observance of certain definite numerical feet, or was regulated by the ear and the harmony of lines of similar cadence, is uncertain. The sedulous modulation however, which in consequence obtained, was so strong, as to be transmitted, and to predominate, in our translation.

The Prophets probably collected their own prophecies into their present form indisputably the prophecies were composed and published by those prophets whose names they severally bear. As their genuine productions, they were received into the Jewish canon, and were read in the Jewish synagogues after the persecution of Antiochus Epiphanes, when the reading of the law was interdicted, and they continued so to be read to the days of our Saviour, from whose time they have formed a part of the service in the Christian churches. They are, with great propriety received into our churches as illustrating the grand scheme of prophecy, and as replete with the most excellent instruction of every kind. The predictions which they contain were principally accomplished in the appearance of Christ. Some however, which referred to the dispersion and subsequent state of the Jews, as well as to the condition of other nations still continue under our own eyes to be fulfilled, and will gradually receive their final and consummate ratification in the restoration of the Jews, in the universal establishment of Christ's kingdom, and in the second advent of our Lord, to "judge the world in righteousness." Dr. Gray

GENERAL INTRODUCTION TO THE PROPHETS

Concerning the order in which all the Prophets are supposed to have flourished, see the following Table, taken from Dr. Gray's Key to the Old Testament

The Prophets in their supposed order of time, arranged according to Blair's Tables, with but little variation

	BEFORE CHRIST	KINGS OF JUDAH	KINGS OF ISRAEL
Jonah	Between 856 and 781		{ Jehu and Jehoahaz, according to Bp Lloyd, but Joash and Jeroboam the second, according to Blair
Amos,	810 and 785	Uzziah, chap 1 1	Jeroboam the second, chap. 1. 1
Hosca,	810 and 725	{ Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, the third year } of Hezekiah	Jeroboam the second, chap 1 1
Isaiah,	810 and 698	{ Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, chap 1 1 and perhaps Manasseh.
Isa.	{ 810 and 660, } or probably later	Uzziah, or possibly Manasseh.
Micah,	758 and 699	Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, ch 1 1	Pekah and Hosca.
Nehum.	720 and 698	{ Probably towards the close of Hezekiah's reign
Zephaniah,	640 and 602	In the reign of Josiah, chap 1 1
Jeremiah,	628 and 586	In the thirteenth year of Josiah
Habakkuk,	612 and 598.	Probably in the reign of Jehoiakim
Daniel,	606 and 534	During all the captivity
Obadiah,	588 and 583	{ Between the taking of Jerusalem by Nebuchadnezzar, and the destruction of the Edomites by him
Ezekiel,	595 and 536	During part of the captivity
Haggai,	About 520 to 518	After the return from Babylon.
Zechariah,	From 520 to 518, or longer
Malachi,	Between 436 and 397

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET ISAIAH.

INTRODUCTION

ISAIAH was of the tribe of Judah, and it is supposed that he was descended from a branch of the royal family. He was the greatest of the four great prophets, and entered upon his prophetic office in the 1st year of Uzziah's reign, about 758 years before Christ. It is uncertain how long he continued to prophesy: some have thought that he died in the fifteenth or sixteenth year of Hezekiah's reign; and in that case he prophesied about forty-five years. But it appears more probable that he was put to death by command of Manasseh in the first year of his reign, in which case he prophesied more than sixty-one years. It is said that he was sawn under with a wooden saw: and that mode of his death is supposed to be alluded to in the Epistle to the Hebrews chap. xi. 37. Bp Tomline

The name of Isaiah is, as Vitrings has remarked, in some measure descriptive of his character, since it signifies "the salvation of Jehovah." He has always been considered as a prophet of the highest eminence, and looked up to as the brightest luminary of the Jewish church. He has been emphatically styled, "the Evangelical Prophet," so copiously and clearly does he describe the Messiah, and characterize His kingdom, favoured, as it were, with an intimate view of the Gospel state, from the very birth of our Saviour to be "conceived of a virgin, to that glorious and triumphant period, when every Gentile nation shall bring a clean offering to the Lord, and 'all flesh shall come to worship before Him, chap. lvi. 20, 23. The author of Ecclesiasticus, in his fine and discriminating encomium on the Prophets, says of Isaiah, that "he was great and faithful in his vision," and that "in his time the spirit went backward, and he lengthened the king's life." He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last, Eccles. xlviii. 22, 25. It is certain that Isaiah, in addition to his other prophetic privileges, was invested on some particular occasions with the power of performing miracles, 2 Kings xx. 11. 2 Chron. xxxii. 31. It is remarkable, that his wife is styled a prophetess, chap. viii. 3. He himself appears to have been raised up, as a striking object of veneration among the Jews, and to have regulated his whole conduct in subservience to his sacred appointment. His sons likewise were for types and figurative pledges of God's assurances, chap. viii. 18, and their names and actions were intended to awaken a religious attention in the persons, whom they were commissioned to address, and to instruct. See chap. vii. 3, viii. 1. Dr Gray

Though Isaiah gives so copious and circumstantial an account of the promised Messiah, and His kingdom, that he has been emphatically called 'the Evangelical Prophet,' his Book is not confined to prophecies relative to our Saviour: it contains many other predictions, and likewise several historical relations. It may be considered under six general divisions. The first division consists of the first five chapters, containing a general description of the state and condition of the Jews in the several periods of their history, the promulgation of the Gospel, and the coming of Christ to judgment. The second division consists of the seven next chapters, containing in the seventh the promise to Ahaz, which was predictive of Christ, whose nature, birth, and kingdom, are distinctly described in the ninth chapter: the denunciations of punishment upon the Assyrians, in the tenth chapter: (an interruption to this glorious subject, which is resumed in the eleventh, where the Prophet breaks out into a hymn of praise, celebrating the future triumphant state of the Church.) The third division, which reaches from the thirteenth to the twenty-seventh chapter inclusive, begins with a very remarkable prophecy of the destruction of Babylon, which is considered as a type of Antichrist: it then describes the fate of the Jews, Assyrians, Moabites, Philistines, Arabians, Syrians, and Egyptians, and concludes in a manner similar to the last. The fourth division, which extends from the twenty-eighth to the thirty-fifth chapter inclusive, contains predictions relative to the then approaching invasion of Sennacherib: but it is interspersed with severe reproofs and threats against the Jews for disobedience and wilful blindness, and also with consolatory promises to those who should remain faithful in the service of God, alluding frequently to the times of the Gospel. The thirty-sixth and two following chapters, which constitute the fifth division, give an historical account of the invasion of Sennacherib, and of the prolongation of Hezekiah's life. The sixth division reaches from the thirty-ninth chapter to the end of the Book: here the Prophet generally addresses his countrymen as being actually in the captivity which he had previously foretold; he predicts the total destruction of the empire of Babylon, and the restoration of the Jews to their own land by their great deliverer (Christ), whom he represents the Almighty as calling upon by name to execute His will, about 200 years before he was born. In this latter part of the Book are principally contained the numerous prophecies already noticed, concerning the birth, ministry, death, and religion of Christ, together with a variety of circumstances, which were to precede and follow His incarnation. Bp Tomline

In some of his prophecies concerning Christ and the Christian church, Isaiah is so particular, that his discourse in certain parts looks more like a history of things past, than a prediction of that which was to come. St Jerome, who had often read him, and considered him very carefully, says, 'he deserves the name of an Evangelist rather than of a Prophet' and indeed he is more frequently quoted through the New Testament than any other of the Prophets. For this reason it is, that this Book, by ancient and immemorial custom, is appointed to be read in our churches at a particular season of the year, as being the best preparative for the advent of our Lord, the founder of the Christian Church. Evangelists and Apostles, the portraiture of the nature, person, and offices of the Messiah, and of the great things which He hath done and suffered for us. Reading

The style of Isaiah has been universally admired as the most perfect model of the sublime: it is distinguished for all the magnificent and for all the sweetness, of the Hebrew language. The variety of his images, and the animated warmth of his expressions characterize him as unequalled in point of eloquence: and if we were desirous of producing a specimen of the dignity and beauty of the Scripture language, we should immediately think of having recourse to Isaiah. St Jerome speaks of him as conversant with the exhibition in the first chapter, of the everlasting dominion of the Messiah, and the dispensation of eternity, from first to last there is one continued display of inspired wisdom, revealing its oracles and precepts for the instruction of mankind. Dr Gray

Before
CHRIST
about 760

CHAP. I.

Isaiah complaineth of Judah for her rebellion 5 He lamenteth her judgments 10 He upbraideth their whole service 16 He exhorteth to repentance, with promises and threatenings 21 Reminding their wickedness, he denounceth God's judgments 25 He promiseth grace, 28 and threateneth destruction to the wicked

THE vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah

2 Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth for the LORD hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me

3 The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider

4 Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward

5 Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will revolt more and more the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint

6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it, but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment

7 Your country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers

8 And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city

9 Except the LORD of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah

10 Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom, give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts, and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats

12 When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?

13 Bring no more vain oblations, incense is an abomination unto me, the new moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot away with, it is iniquity, even the solemn meeting

14 Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth they are a trouble unto me, I am weary to bear them

15 And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you

Before
CHRIST
about 760

Chap 5, 5.
Deut 28
51 52

† Heb. as the overthrown

† Heb. I am

Rom 9 29

Gen 19 24

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

† Heb. I am

Deut 32

Jer 8 7

† Heb. of heaviness

† Heb. alienated or separated

† Heb. increase revolt

Or, out

Chap I ver 1 The vision of Isaiah &c ] The vision or revelation of the will of God made known to Isaiah by the Holy Spirit of prophecy, related chiefly to the kingdom of Judah, and the spiritual circumstances of the Jewish church but he does incidentally also speak of the ten tribes of the Moabites, Egyptians, &c the kingdom of Judah being a good deal concerned in the good or ill that befall their neighbours and the vision does not only pertain to the Jewish church but extends to the Christian also, the New Jerusalem H Lomth, Wogan

The prophecy contained in this first chapter stands single and unconnected making an entire piece of itself It contains a severe remonstrance against the corruptions prevailing among the Jews of that time, powerful exhortations to repentance, grievous threatenings to the impenitent and gracious promises of better times when the nation shall have been reformed by the just judgments of God Bp Lowth

2 Hear O heavens &c ] God is introduced as entering upon solemn pleading, before the whole world, against His disobedient people The same scene is more fully displayed in the opening of the fiftieth Psalm Bp Lowth See Deut xxxii, 1, and the notes there

3 Why should ye be stricken any more? ] God complains here that His judgments (as he had before done, ver 2, respecting His mercy) had no effect upon His people Israel, and that nothing that He could do would bring them to consideration and make the nation better Abp Tillotson

6 From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness ] The whole frame of the Jewish church is corrupted. H Lomth

7, 8, 9. Your country is desolate, &c ] The Prophet speaks (as prophets often do) of things future as present. See the note from Bp Lowth on Deut. xxxii 15 The passage may relate immediately to the times of Ahaz and Hezekiah but it must have a farther reference to the devastations made by the Chaldeans and by the Romans Bp Newton

8 — as a cottage in a vineyard as a lodge &c ] Little temporary huts, covered with boughs, straw, turf, or the like materials for a shelter for the watchman who guarded the fruit against foxes, jackalls, &c See Cant ii 15 Fruits of the gourd kind are in great request in the Levant for their cooling quality Bp Lowth See note from Hasselquist on Num. xi 5

10 — ye rulers of Sodom, — ye people of Gomorrah ] The incidental mention of these places in the preceding verse suggested to the Prophet this spirited address to the rulers and inhabitants of Jerusalem, under the character of princes of Sodom, and people of Gomorrah Bp Lowth

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices &c ] Those hypocritical services which had no godliness, no sincerity, no true love of God in them, were not the services which God required, (ver 12,) or took delight in God would not accept of vain compliments, nor be bribed with pretended gifts, offered only to excuse from duty, to compound for sin, and to palliate unjust dealing Dr Waterland

15 — I will hide mine eyes from you — I will not hear ] Why is the reason of all this? Because they were defective in the moral duties of religion, as it follows, "your hands are full of blood, &c. No unatoned service, no positive part of religion whatsoever was ever acceptable, when moral duties were neglected nay, so far from this are they, that God rejects them with abhorrence and disdain. We see from this what was acceptable to God for itself

Before
CHRIST
about 760

† Heb multiply prayer a Chap 59

3 + Heb blood 1 1/2 3

11/10/2014

yea, when ye † make many prayers, I will not hear your hands are full of † blood.

16 ¶ Wash you, make you clean, put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes, 'cease to do evil,

17 Learn to do well, seek judgment, || relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow 18 Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow, though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land

20 But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

21 ¶ How is the faithful city become an harlot! it was full of judgment, righteousness lodged in it, but now murderers

22 Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water

23 Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards they judge

k Jer 5 28
Zech 7 10

not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them

24 Therefore saith the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, AM, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies.

25 ¶ And I will turn my hand upon thee, and I will purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin.

26 And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city.

27 Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteousness.

28 ¶ And the † destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be consumed.

29 For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen

30 For ye shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water

Infore
CHRIST
about 760.

+ Feb According to purchase.

|| Or the, that re turn of her Job 1 3 1 1 1 1 & 6 & 73
27 & 92 9
& 101 5
† Heb breakin.

and its own sake in the Jewish religion and under the Gospel our Saviour prefers a moral duty before any gift, Matt v 23, 24
Abp Tillotson

What God says here to the Jews for their overmultiplied fasts, and uncommanded sacrifices, He will say to all, who do anything that agrees not with His laws, however specious and plausible, however good and acceptable, it may seem to them. God "cannot way with" anything but the performance of His own will!

Bp. Pusey

verse, "your hands are full of blood," and alludes to the legal washing, commanded on several occasions Bp Lenth. The pardon of sin upon repentance is expressed in Scripture by cleansing and purifying, to denote that the outward cleansing of the flesh was designed to put men in mind of the inward purification from sin and unrighteousness Dr Jenkm.

10 17 — (cease to do evil, learn to do well.) The order, in which these words are placed, was evidently designed to teach us that the foundation of acting right is the avoiding of every thing wrong. Several parts of Scripture lay down the same rule in almost the same terms, (see Amos v. 15, and places there quoted in the margin,) and many express or imply the same doctrine. Scarce any words are strong enough to express how much good there cessation from doing evil would produce, and how great is the importance of the plain humble duty of an inoffensive life, in proportion as we root out hurtful inclinations, right ones will not fail to shoot up, and bring forth fruit, if in less quantity, yet such as will be accepted, but probably in plenty. Abp. Berkley

צב צהרן יבנה ויהי שם בית מדרש גדול ויהיו שם רבות תלמידי חכמים ויהיו שם רבות ספרים ויהיו שם רבות גזירות ויהיו שם רבות פסקים

And did ~~once~~ profess to have, are now utterly corrupted and depraved, false obedience, which was once sincere and pure, is now adulterated with abominable wickedness. Bp Hall adulteration of wine, with more propriety than may at first appear, if what Thevenot says of the people of the Levant of late time, was true of them formerly he says, & they never mangle water with their wine to drink, but drink by itself what water they think proper for abating the strength of the wine. Whereas the Greeks and Latins by mixed wine understood wine diluted and lowered with water, the Hebrews generally mean by it, wine made stronger by the addition of higher and more powerful ingredients. Drunkards are accordingly described, Prov xxiii 30, as "seeking mixed wine," and Isa v 22, as "mighty to mingle strong drink." Such was the "spiced wine" mentioned Cant viii 2. And hence the Psalmist took that highly poetical and sublime idea of the cup of God's wrath, (see Ps lxxxviii 8,) called by Isaiah, "the cup of trembling," chap li 17. Bp Imitat.

24 — Ah, I will eat me of mine unbersaries,] Set the morsel on Gen vi 6

25 — take away all thy tin ] A very small quantity of tin makes silver extremely brittle, and it is difficult to separate these two metals: this gives peculiar force to the expostion of the Prophet in this passage, as he had employed an allusion to silver at ver 22 Parkhurst

26 & I will restore thy judges as at the first &c This relates, at least in its primary sense, to the restoration of the Jews after the seventy years of captivity. The promise contained in the latter part of this verse, taken in its full extent, relates to more flourishing times of the Church than the world has yet seen. W
Isaiah

29 For they shall be ashamed of the oak, &c. The sacrificing in groves and shady places was an ancient rite of idolatry. This kind of worship is expressly forbidden in the law, Deut. xii. 2, 3, xvi. 21 and yet practised so much in the times of idolatrous kings, that the practice was not quite laid aside under religious princes. See 1 King. xxi. 14 xxii. 43 W. Lowth

40. — as a garden that hath no water. } To enter into the energy of this comparison, we must consider, that in the hotter parts of the Eastern countries, a constant supply of water is necessary for the cultivation and even to the existence of a garden. There are none therefore without such a certain supply, either from some neighbouring river, or reservoir collected from springs, or filled with rain-water in the proper season. The immense works made by the ancient kings of Egypt for receiving the waters of the Nile,

Before
CHRIST
about 760.
Or,
and his work

31 And the strong shall be as tow, || and he maketh of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench
them

CHAR. II.

1 Isaiah prophesieth the coming of Christ's kingdom 6 Wickedness is the cause of God's forsaking 10 He exhorteth to fear, because of the powerful effects of God's majesty

THE word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem

• Mic 4:1
Or

2 And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be || established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills, and all nations shall flow unto it

Or
prepared

3 And many people shall go and say, when it overflowed for such uses, are well known. Solomon mentions his own works of the kind, Eccles 2:5, 6. All the gardens of Aleppo, according to Dr Russell, are on the banks of the river that runs by that city, or on the sides of the hill that supplies their aqueducts. and Maundrell informs us, that at Damascus there is not a garden that has not a fine quick stream running through it.

Hæmmer, Bp Lenth

31 — and the maker of it] The marginal reading, "and his work" expresses the sense better, namely, that the idolaters and their devices shall perish together, however supported by secular power, or recommended by worldly grandeur. W Lenth

The same sense is conveyed by understanding the text in the following manner. And that mighty idol, whereto ye trust, shall be as tow and the maker and worshipper of that idol shall be as a spark, and both of them shall burn together with unquenchable fire. Bp Hall

Chap II The prophecy, contained in the second, third, and fourth chapters, makes one continued discourse. The first five verses of this chapter foretell the kingdom of Messiah the conversion of the Gentiles, and their admission into the Church. From the sixth verse to the end is foretold the punishment of the unbelieving Jews for their idolatrous practices, their confidence in their own strength, and distrust of God's protection: and moreover the destruction of idolatry in consequence of the establishment of Messiah's kingdom. The whole of the third chapter, with the first verse of the fourth, is a prophecy of the calamities of the Babylonian invasion and captivity, with a particular amplification of the distress of the proud and luxurious daughters of Zion. Chap IV 2—6, promises to the remnant, which shall have escaped this severe purgation, a future restoration to the favour and protection of God. This prophecy was probably delivered in the time of Iotham, or perhaps in that of Uzziah.
Bp Lenth

Ver 1 The word that Isaiah — saw] That is, the vision
W Lenth

2 And it shall come to pass in the last days] "The last days" signify in the Prophets, the times of the Messiah. This phrase by no means necessarily imports the speedy end of this material world: but only that, how long soever God shall suffer it to endure. He hath no subsequent dispensation in reserve, but hath fixed the Christian for that doctrine, and service, and trial, by which mankind are to express their obedience to Him, so long as there shall continue to be any state of discipline or obedience at all. W Lenth Dean Stanhope

the mountain of the Lord's house &c.] From the situation of the Jewish temple on mount Moriah, a mountain is made to stand for the Christian Church, at the exaltation of which, and its wonderful prosperity and enlargement, this passage is a prophetical promise. Bp Hurd, Jos Mede As we see the glorious

Before
CHRIST
about 760.

Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem

4 And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more

Or
youth

5 O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord

6 ¶ Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be replenished || from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they

Or more than the east

characters here set forth in part brought to pass long ago, by the enlarging of the Messiah's dominion over the many and distant countries where His doctrine hath been received, so have we reason to embrace those gradual advances of His kingdom in men's hearts, as so many earnest and undoubted pledges of that absolute and unbounded conquest, which He shall make over ignorance and error, when the season of exerting His grace more plentifully shall come, and effectually prepare, as well as proclaim the nearer approaches of His kingdom of glory. Dean Stanhope

8 — Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord] That is, Let us join ourselves to the Christian Church. The phrase alludes to the Jews going up in companies to Jerusalem at the three solemn feasts of the year. W Lenth

4 — nation shall not lift up sword against nation, &c] Throughout the Prophets, the time of the Messiah is represented as a time of universal peace and godliness, in which the natures of men should be changed, and all malice and ill-nature rooted out. He Himself is called "the Prince of Peace," chap ix 6. The spiritual sense implies Christ's being the Great Peace-maker, who should reconcile both Jews and Gentiles to God, and to each other. But if we look upon this and the like prophecies, as foretelling the outward peacefulness of the kingdom or Church of Christ, they seem to relate to some future flourishing state of the Church, when, after having subdued all His enemies, He shall give rest unto His faithful servants, 2 Thess 1:7. Dr I Burnett, W Lenth See notes on chap ix 6

6 Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people — because &c] This might more clearly be translated, "For this reason Thou hast forsaken Thy people, because," &c. W Lenth

— they be replenished from the east, and are soothsayers &c] Chaldees and Syrians, situated to the east of Judea, were famous for pretenders to divination, &c. (see chap xlvii 18, Numb xxiii 7,) as were the Philistines, who lay to the west, 1 Sam vi 2. The Jews invited and encouraged these. W Lenth Now the consulting of wizards and diviners, as was practised by the nations of Canaan, paying any regard to those pretenders to Divine knowledge or suffering such to live among them, is prohibited, Deut xviii 10—14, as also filling the land with horses, gold and silver, (ver 7,) is in direct contradiction to God's command in the law, Deut xvii 16, 17. Dr Bertram, Bp Lenth God therefore forbids His people the use of horses and chariots, Deut xx 1, 4. He promises that He will be to them instead. This law, therefore, was to be a standing trial of princes and people, whether they had confidence in God their Deliverer. He had taken the defence of Israel upon Himself, and, whenever the people took it out of His hands, they were sure to be undone. There was no moral evil in having a country full of horses: but the kings of Israel were exalted to the throne on condition that they should renounce such assistance, and depend on God for rulers: in the day of battle Joshua, the Judges, and David, observed His law, and Solomon,

Before
CHRIST
about 700

Or land with children

¶ please themselves in the children of strangers.

7 Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures; their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots.

8 Then land also is full of idols; they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made.

9 And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore forgive them not.

10 ¶ Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty.

11 The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.

12 For the day of the LORD of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up, and he shall be brought low.

13 And upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,

14 And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,

15 And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,

16 And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures.

17 And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.

18 And the idols he shall utterly abolish.

19 And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

20 In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats, 21 To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.

22 Cease ye from man, whose breath is

Before
CHRIST
about 700

† Heb pictures of deceit

† Or the idols
shall be destroyed

† Heb
the idols
shall be destroyed

† Heb
the idols
shall be destroyed

† Heb
the idols
shall be destroyed

† Heb
the idols
shall be destroyed

† Heb
the idols
shall be destroyed

for a time but in his reign things quickly changed, and his successors followed his example. Bp Sherlock. See the notes on Deut xvii 16, Josh xi 6, 1 Kings x 28, 2 Kings xxiii 29.

9 — forgive them not ] That is, Thou wilt not forgive them. The imperative is here taken for the future. See the like instances, chap. vi 10, xxiii 16, Zech xiii 7. God's judgments are sometimes foretold as imprecations: many of those in the Psalms may be understood as so many predictions. W Louth, see notes at Ps v 10 Ps cix.

10 — Enter into the rock, &c ] The remainder of the chapter is a prediction of some general judgment, ending in the utter destruction of the Jewish land and government. Such was that of the captivity: many of the expressions, however, are such as relate to the last judgment, for, all God's particular judgments being earnest of the last and general, the same expressions are common to both. Compare chap. xiii 10, xxiv 1, Joel iii 15, Matt xxiv 29, 2 Pet iii 10. W Louth.

11 — upon all the cedars of Lebanon, &c ] In many other places cedars of Lebanon, and oaks of Bashan, are used, in the way of metaphor and allegory, for kings, princes, potentates, mountains and lofty hills, for kingdoms, states, cities; towers and fortresses, for defenders and protectors, whether by strength or counsel, ships of Tarshish, and works of art and invention employed in adorning them, for merchants, men enriched by commerce and surrounding in all the luxuries and elegancies of life, such as those of Tyre and Sidon. Bp Louth. For ships of Tarshish, see notes at 1 Kings x 22, xxii 18.

18 — the idols he shall utterly abolish ] The captivity of the Jews had that good effect, that they scarce ever afterwards relapsed into idolatry; this prophecy was fulfilled in the Gentiles also upon their conversion to Christianity. Christianity is the reverse and direct opposite to idolatry; and we may observe, that whenever the Prophets speak of an entire reformation in the state of the Church, they mention the utter extirpation of idolatry out of it, as if that were out of the last enemies of God and His truth, that was to be destroyed, (see chap. xxvii 9, xxx 22, xxxi 7, xlv 16;) and the accomplishment of the prophecy accordingly will universally take place in that day, that terrible day of Christ's second advent, when He shall come to judge the world. W Louth, Wogan.

Idolatry is the reverse and direct opposite of Christianity. To destroy this was the great end of Christ's coming into the world. But, except He were God, the very and eternal God, of one substance with the Father, His religion would be so far from destroying idolatry, that it would be only a more refined and dangerous species of it. The Prophet, therefore, after describing the humbling effects it would have upon the hearts of all sincere converts, concludes all (that so he might acquit the worship of Christ from all charges of idolatry) with this positive assertion, that it would prove the most effectual means of putting an end to all false and idolatrous worship. "The idols He shall utterly abolish." The like conclusion we meet with in the first Epistle of St John, where having affirmed that Jesus Christ is 'the true God and eternal life,' he immediately subjoins, and closes all with this advice, "Little children, keep yourselves from idols." 1 John v 21. Wogan.

19 — And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, &c ] The country of Judea being mountainous and rocky is full of caverns, some natural, and some artificial and made for the sake of security. See Judg vi 2, 1 Sam xiii 6, xxii 3, Jer xli 9. Strabo, Josephus, and modern travellers, give accounts of the caverns which are to be found in the neighbouring countries. Therefore, "to enter into the rock," &c is to the Jews a very proper and familiar image to express terror and consternation. Bp Louth.

20 — to the moles and to the bats ] They shall carry their idols with them into the dark caverns, old ruins, or desolate places, to which they shall flee for refuge, and so shall give them up and relinquish them to the filthy animals that frequent such places, and have taken possession of them as their proper habitation. Many travellers speak of bats of an enormous size as inhabiting the Great Pyramid. Bp Louth, Harmer. "Casting the idols to the moles and bats" denotes the utmost detestation and abhorrence. Wogan.

22 — Cease ye from man ] That is, from valuing man. Compare Prov xiii 4. W Louth. This verse is a very apt and most proper conclusion to what is said before of the effect of Christ's coming, namely, that "the lofty looks of man shall be humbled." Happy indeed will be this effect of His first coming if our pride be thereby humbled, and our lofty looks be brought down.

Before
CHRIST
about 760

in his nostrils for wherein is he to be accounted of?

CHAP III.

The great confusion which cometh by sin 9 The impudency of the people 12 The oppression and covetousness of the rulers 16 The judgments which shall be for the pride of the women

FOR, behold, the Lord, the Lord of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,

2 The mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,

3 The captain of fifty, and † the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the † eloquent orator

4 And I will give † children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them

5 And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable

6 When a man shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand

7 In that day shall he † sweat, saying, I will not be an † healer, for in my house is neither bread nor clothing, make me not a ruler of the people

8 For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is a man eminent in countenance

† Heb
Or skilful of speech † I call to 16

† Heb lift up the hand † Heb binder up

happy, I mean, if it precede but fruitless, miserable, and vain, if it follow His second coming, when the day of grace shall be past, and judgment be begun. Let us conclude, therefore, as the Prophet warns us, to "cease from man, whose breath is in his nostrils," that is, from trusting in mere man, "for wherein is he to be accounted of?" But let us hold fast the profession of our faith in Christ, who is not a mere man, having breath in his nostrils only, but hath life in Himself, yea is Life itself, and therefore God as well as Man. Hogan

Chap III ver 1 — the whole stay of bread, &c Bread is commonly called the "staff of life," Levit. xxi 6, Ezek. xiv 13. This judgment seems to relate to the siege of Jerusalem by the Chaldeans. See Jer. xxxvii 21. Ezek. iv 16. The following verses 2, 3, are very clearly explained by the sacred historian's account of the captivity of Jehoiachin by Nebuchadnezzar, 2 Kings. v 14. W. Lowth, Bp Lowth.

4 — I will give children to be their princes. This also was fully accomplished in the succession of weak and wicked princes, from the death of Josiah to the destruction of the city and temple, and the taking of Zedekiah, the last of them. Bp Lowth.

5 — the people shall be oppressed, &c The character of a weak government where faction gets the better of authority, and every one does what is right in his own eyes. Bp Wilson.

7 — I will not be an healer. The expression seems to apply to a kingdom or state Parkhurst — in my house is neither bread nor clothing, &c He alleges that he has not wherewithal to support the dignity of the station, by such liberality and hospitality as the custom required of persons of superior rank. See 1 Kings iv 22, 23, Neh. v 17, 18. The fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the Lord, to provoke the eyes of his glory. Before CHRIST about 760

9 ¶ The shew of their countenance doth witness against them; and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves. Gen. 13 19 & 21

10 Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.

11 Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be † given him. † Heb done to him

12 ¶ As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, † they which lead thee cause thee to err, and † destroy the way of thy paths. Or, they which call thee blessed † Heb swd' up

13 The Lord standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the people

14 The Lord will enter into judgment with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have † eaten up the vineyard, the spoil of the poor is in your houses. Or, burnt

15 What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? saith the Lord God of hosts

16 ¶ Moreover the Lord saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks, and † wanton eyes, walking and † mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet. † Heb deceiving with their eyes † Or tripping nicely

Eastern treasures anciently consisted very much in large quantities of clothing, and princes and great men now are obliged to have a large stock in readiness, for presents on all occasions. Bp Lowth, Sir J Chardin

10, 11 Say ye to the righteous, &c Thus do the Scriptures represent to us the different condition of good and bad men, which is often true in this world, and, however that happen, will most certainly and remarkably be made good in the next. Abp Tillotson

12 — they which lead thee Thy weak governours, called metaphorically, (as before, ver 4,) "children, and women." The margin reads, "they which call thee blessed, which may mean, the false prophets, who soothe thee in thy sins, and for tell nothing but peace and prosperity." Compare chap. ix 15, 16. W. Lowth

15 — grind the faces The expression and the image is strong, to denote grievous oppression, but is exceeded by the proph. Micah, iii 1—3. Bp Lowth.

16 — wanton eyes. The original gives, as the margin reads, "deceiving with their eyes," or falsifying their eyes. Though the colouring of the eyes with stibium, or al-cahol, the mineral commonly used for that purpose, be not particularly here expressed, yet I suppose it to be implied. See 2 Kings ix 30, Jer. iv 30. Ezek. xlii 40. The Chaldee paraphrase explains it so. This fashion seems to have prevailed very generally among the Eastern people in ancient times, and they retain it still. Bp Lowth See the note on Jer. iv 30.

— making a tinkling Dr Hultsch explains the word thus translated to mean, "skipping, bounding, dancing along" and the same word used as a noun, (which occurs at ver 18,) to signify those ornaments of the feet, chains or rings, which the Easterns

Before
CHRIST
about 760
† Heb
make naked

17 Therefore the Lord will smite with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the Lord will discover their secret parts

18 In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their <sup>Or, neck bells</sup> cauls, and their <sup>Or, neck balls</sup> round tues like the moon,

19 The <sup>Or, pendants</sup> chains, and the bracelets, and the <sup>Or, pendants</sup> mufflers,

20 The bonnets, and the ornaments of the legs, and the headbands, and the <sup>Or, pendants</sup> tablets, and the earrings,

21 The rings, and nose jewels,

22 The changeable suits of apparel, and the mantles, and the wimples, and the crisping pins, 23 The glasses, and the fine linen, and the hoods, and the vails.

24 And it shall come to pass, that instead of sweet smell there shall be stink, and instead of a girdle a rent, and instead of a stomacher a girding of sackcloth, and burning instead of beauty.

25 Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy <sup>† Heb</sup> mighty in the war.

† Heb
might

ladies wore, and which made a tinkling sound as they moved numbly in walking. Eugene Roger, and other travellers, speaking of Arabian women, mention them Bp Louth Rauwolf tells us that the Arab women, whom he saw in going down the Liphatis, wore rings about their legs and hands, and sometimes a good many together, which in their stepping slipped up and down, and so made a great noise. Sir J Chardin says, that in Persia and Arabia they wear rings about their ankles, which are full of little bells. Children and young girls take pleasure in giving them motion, and with this view walk quick. Harmer

17 — [the Lord will discover] It was the barbarous custom of the conquerors of those times, to strip their captives naked, and to make them travel in that condition, exposed to the inclemency of the weather, and to the intolerable heat of the sun. This to the women was the height of cruelty and indignity, especially to such as are here described, who had indulged themselves in all manner of delicacies of living, and all the superfluities of ornamental dress. This is always mentioned as the hardest part of the lot of the captives. Compare chap xxi. 1, Jer xiii 22, Nah iii 5. The words which describe the ornaments in the following inventory, as one may call it, of the wardrobe of a Hebrew lady, must, from its antiquity, and from the nature of the subject, be very obscure. W Louth, Bp Louth

20. — [tablets,] In the original, as the margin gives it, "houses of the soul," mean perfume boxes. Bp Louth Which refresh the spirits, and restore life to the languid Vitranga "Houses of smell," smelling or perfume boxes, appended by the ladies, either to the necklace or girdle. Bp Stock

21 — [nose jewels,] See Sir J Chardin's note on Gen xxiv 22. His account is confirmed by other oriental travellers.

24 — [instead of sweet smell] Or, "perfume." A principal part of the delicacy of the Asiatic ladies consists in the use of baths, and of the richest oils and perfumes, an attention to which is in some degree necessary in these hot countries. See Cant iv 10.

11 Lath ii 12 Bp Louth

— [instead of a girdle a rent,] "Instead of well-girt rags." Bp Louth

— [and burning] The old English translation reads, "sup-W, by way of application, namely, they shall be exposed L II

26 And her gates shall lament and mourn, and she being <sup>† Heb</sup> desolate shall sit upon the ground

Before
CHRIST
about 760

Or
emph
† Heb cleansed

CHAP IV

In the extremity of evil, Christ's kingdom shall be a sanctuary

AND in that day seven women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel: only let us be called by thy name, <sup>† Heb</sup> to take away our reproach

2 In that day shall the branch of the Lord be <sup>† Heb</sup> beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and comely <sup>† Heb</sup> for them that are escaped of Israel

3 And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in <sup>† Heb</sup> Jerusalem

4 When the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning

5 And the Lord will create upon every to the heat of the sun, in slavery or transportation into foreign parts. W Louth "A sun-burnt skin." Bp Louth

26 — [shall sit upon the ground] This was a posture that denoted the deepest mourning and lamentation, chap xvii 1, Job ii 13, Lam ii 10. The passage seems to relate, in its most immediate view, to the destruction of the city by Nebuchadnezzar; however, Judea is thus represented on a medal coined by Vespasian after the destruction by the Romans. They might have an eye to the customs of the Jewish nation. The Psalmist describes the Jews lamenting their fortune in the same pensive posture, Ps cxxvii 1. Bp Louth, W Louth Addison

[chap IV The division of the chapters has broken off the Prophet's discourse almost in the middle of the sentence. The meaning is, 'The numbers slain in battle shall be so great, that seven women shall be left to one man.' The Prophet has described the greatness of this distress by images and adjuncts the most expressive and forcible. Bp Louth

2 — [in that day] This phrase often denotes, not the same time which was last mentioned, but an extraordinary season, remarkable for some signal events of Providence called elsewhere by way of excellence, 'the day of the Lord.' Compare chap ii 11, 12, x 20, xvii 7, xix 18 and ccii 11, 10 2 Tim i 12 18, iv 8. W Louth "In that day" the day of the blessed restoration of the Church. Bp Hall

— [the branch of the Lord] The Messiah of Jehovah, xxv the Chaldee paraphrase. The branch is an appropriated title of the Messiah, and the fruit of the earth means the same great Personage to spring from the land of Judah, or perhaps the blessings consequent upon the redemption procured by Him. Bp Louth

3 — [that is written among the living] The phrase alludes to the registers which were kept of the Jewish tribes and families. See Exa ii 59, 62. W Louth See the note on Exod xxxiii 5.

4 — [by the spirit of judgment, &c.] The phrase denotes the severe discrimination which God will make between the good and the bad, the pure silver and the dross, (see chap i 22 23) the better being purified, the worse consumed, in the furnace. See Izek. xxii 21, Mal iii 2, 3. W Louth

Before
CHRIST
about 760
* Exod 17
21
† Heb
a col. 1711

dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night. for upon all the glory shall be a defence

6 And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the daytime from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storm and from rain

CHAP V

1 Under the parable of a vineyard God excuseth his severe judgment. 8 His judgments upon contemners 11 upon lawlessness, 13 upon impiety, 20 and upon injustice 26 The executioners of God's judgments

NOW will I sing to my wellbeloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My wellbeloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill

2 And he fenced it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also made a winepress therein, and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes

3 And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem, and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard

* Jer 2 21
Matth 21
33
Mark 1 1
Luke 20 9
† Heb the horn the son of oil
† Or in side of swell about † Heb
hewed

5 — a cloud and smoke by day, &c.] This is a manifest allusion to the pillar of a cloud, and of fire, which attended the Jews in their passage out of Egypt, and to the glory that rested on the tabernacle, Exod 21 38. See Zech 11 5. Both passages mean, The visible presence of God shall protect the Church. Bp Lowth

6 And there shall be a tabernacle, &c.] And whereas the Church shall be still subject to the scorching heats and tempestuous storms of persecution, God shall erect a safe tabernacle for her, to shade her from the heat, and shelter her from those violent tempests. Bp Hall

Chap V This chapter stands single and alone, unconnected with the preceding or following. The subject of it is nearly the same with that of the first chapter. It is a general reproof of the Jews for their wickedness, but it exceeds that chapter in force, in severity in variety, in elegance, and it adds a more express declaration of vengeance, by the Babylonian invasion. Bp Lowth

Ver 1 Now will I sing to my wellbeloved.] The Prophet here speaking in the person of God the Father, directs this hymn, or parable poetically expressed, to His "wellbeloved" that is, Christ. See Matt 17, xvii 5, Col 1 13. IV Lenth, Dr Wells. Our Lord Christ in the evangelical style is called "the beloved Son of God in whom He is well pleased." The Church of those times is called here the vineyard of the Son, because, as the Father created all things by Him, so by Him He has always governed all things, and more especially His church. To this agrees that saying of St Paul that "Christ accompanied the Israelites in the wilderness," and that of St Peter that "the Spirit of Christ spake by the prophets." Indeed as the eternal Son of the Father He presides over all things, "God ble sed for ever," as St Paul speaks, Rom 16, and has always had the peculiar care and conduct of the patriarchs and chosen people of God. Reading

2 — built a tower in the midst of it, &c.] To contain all the implements necessary to the culture of the vineyard and making of the wine. To this image in the allegory the situation, the manner of building, the use and the whole service of the temple, exactly answered. Our Saviour in His parable, Matt xxi 39, Mark xii 1, has inserted the "tower, and the winepress," or

Before
CHRIST
about 760

4 What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes?

5 And now go to, I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard. I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up; and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down.

6 And I will lay it waste: it shall not be pruned, nor digged, but there shall come up briars and thorns. I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.

7 For the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression, for righteousness, but behold a cry.

8 ¶ Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth.

9 ¶ In mine ears said the Lord of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant.

† Heb for ing

† Heb plant of the plea
† Heb a scrub Mic 2

† Or This is mine ears, with the LORD, &c † Heb
if not, &c

vit, as the word should perhaps be translated here, and as St Mark has it. It means the large open place, or vessel, which by a conduit or spout, received the must from the winepress. In very hot countries it was very convenient to have this place under ground (or in a cave "hewed" out of the side of the rock for coolness (see the margin,) that the heat might not cause too great a fermentation, and sour the must. Bp Lowth

— wild grapes.] Not merely unprofitable grapes, but noxious, as, in the explication, (ver 7,) to judgment is opposed tyranny, and to righteousness oppression. Some of these were of a poisonous quality, as appears from 2 Kings 19 39—41. Bp Lowth The Prophet may here mean the hoary nightshade, which is common in Egypt, Palestine, and the East, the Arabs call it "wolf's grapes," it grows much in the vineyards, and is very pernicious to them; it likewise resembles a vine by its shrubby stalk. Hasselquist

3 Here the style of the parable is altered from the third person (ver 2,) to the first: a variation very common in Scripture, and the sense is the same, whether the words are spoken by God or by Christ, who is "one with the Father." W Lenth

3, 4 — judge, I pray you, &c.] The case was so plain, that God might refer it to themselves, although they were partly concerned. IV Lenth

Let every sinner thoroughly examine his own state and condition, what his natural powers and faculties are: what they are originally capable of, what additional means and opportunities he has had put into his hands to employ and improve them, and then let him shew where the fault lay, and who is to be charged with the evil of sin, and with the consequences of it. Dr John Fluke

8 Woe unto them, &c.] From hence to the twenty-fifth verse sundry vices are enumerated, which, as they brought temporal judgments upon the Jews, so at the bar of Christ shall condemn them from happiness, and consign all that are found guilty of them to the woes and punishments here denounced, namely, the covetous and unjust; the drunkard and voluptuary, all that wilfully neglect, or impiously despise, the knowledge of God, the slothful ignorant, the proudly wise, all that will confound the distinctions of moral good and evil. W of

His judgments upon luxury.

Before
CHRIST
about 760

Prov 23
29, 30

Or pursue them

† Heb then glory are men of famine

Chap 2
9, 11, 17

Or
the holy God
† Heb the God the holy

10 Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and the seed of an homer shall yield an ephah.

11 ¶ Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink, that continue until night, till wine inflame them.

12 And the harp, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts; but they regard not the work of the Lord, neither consider the operation of his hands.

13 ¶ Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge; and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst.

14 Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure; and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it.

15 And the mean man shall be brought down, and the mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled.

16 But the Lord of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and God that is holy shall be sanctified in righteousness.

17 Then shall the lambs feed after their manner, and the waste places of the fat ones shall strangers eat.

18 Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope.

10 — one bath, — an homer — an ephah ] “A bath and “an homer” are the same measure, about seven gallons and a half, they contain but a tenth of an “homer, Ezek xlv. 11. W. Lenth

11 — strong drink, ] See the note on chap xxiv 9

12 — the harp, and the viol, &c ] Musick universally attends Eastern feasts. Harmer. Wine, and musick, and delicate fare, are such things as God in His goodness hath given to the children of men for their comfort, and they may use them lawfully, and take comfort in them as their portion. But he that uses any of them intemperately, unseasonably, vainly, or wastefully, abuses both them and himself: therefore we often find in Scripture, both the things themselves condemned, and those that use them blamed. Bp Sanderson

13, 14 — then honourable men are famished, &c ] As verses 9, 10, have evidently reference to ver 8, so have these verses to the two preceding. As the houses of the covetous are to be left uninhabited, and the fields to become desolate, so they that indulged in feasting and drinking are to perish with hunger and thirst. Bp Lenth

14 — Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, &c ] Habakkuk uses the same image with great force, in a comparison of the ambitious and avaricious conqueror, Hab ii 5. But hell, or the grave, is here introduced to much greater advantage in person, and placed before our eyes in the form of a ravenous monster, opening wide his insatiable jaws, and swallowing his prey altogether. Bp Lenth

17 — Then shall the lambs feed, &c ] Their luxurious habitations shall become a pasture for flocks. Bp Lenth

18 — that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, &c ] That are not only drawn to sin by the allurements of the world, but are active and industrious in drawing sin to themselves, or themselves to 19 That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it.

20 ¶ Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil, that put darkness for light, and light for darkness, that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter.

21 Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight.

22 Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink.

23 Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him.

24 Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have cast away the law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.

25 Therefore is the anger of the Lord kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them, and the hills did tremble, and their carcasses were torn in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

sin “with cords of vanity, that is, with vain and deceitful arguments and pretences, who every sinners generally draw themselves to sin “with a cart rope, that is, with all their might, as beasts commonly do, that draw carts with ropes. Poole, Bp Hall. The cause is here put for the effect, “iniquity” and “sin” for the punishment which they provoke. The meaning then is, “Woe unto them who foolishly draw upon themselves the reward of iniquity: may, set their shoulders to pull it forward as a beast of burden does a cart rope! Rosenmuller, Bp Stock

20 Woe unto them that call evil good, &c ] The Prophet compares the difference of moral “good and evil” presented to human understanding with that of “light and darkness” discerned by the eye, of “bitter and sweet” tasted by the palate: that is, as a plain and undeniable truth which forceth its evidence upon a rational mind to transgress God’s commandments, His laws and statutes, delivered by His prophets, and confirmed by series of miracles, was a heinous crime, but to “call evil good and good evil,” was to advance a step further in impurity, to the profane act to the root of righteousness, to destroy all religion, natural as well as revealed, and to sink into mere atheism. Dr Jortin

22 — to mingle strong drink ] See notes on chap 1: xxiv 9

24 — so their root shall be as rottenness, &c ] So they shall utterly destroyed, and shall be as a tree, whose root is rotten, whose blossom flies away like dust. Bp Hall

25 — the hills did tremble, ] The Prophet refers probably the great earthquake in the days of Uzziah, Amos i 1. Bp Hall. But the mountains and the earth itself are said to tremble at God’s judgments, (see Jer iv 21 Mic Nah i, 5, Hab iii 10, Ps lxxviii 18, cxvii 7) which expresses

Before
CHRIST
about 760

26 And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and, behold, they shall come with speed swiftly

27 None shall be weary nor stumble among them, none shall slumber nor sleep, neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be broken.

28 Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind

29 Their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it

30 And in that day they shall roar may allude to the thunder which accompanies them to the trembling of mount Sinai when God came down upon it, Exod xix 18 or to the last general judgment. See note on chap ii 10. He says "did tremble," but the representing of a thing future, as if already accomplished, is very common with the Prophets. Bp Lenth

26 And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, &c.] The Prophets call distant countries in the popular language, as here "the end of the earth," the Babylonians may be primarily meant here (chap xxxix 1, Jer v 15) and as the Medes, with respect to Babylon, are said (chap xiii 18) "to come from a far country, from the end of heaven" but the Prophet may also look further, and the threat is probably to be extended to the desolation of Judea by the Romans, to whom the phrases used here will apply better than to the Chaldees. Vittinga

Though the Babylonians lived at no great distance from Judea, yet many that composed their army did indeed all foreigners were looked upon as living a great way off by the Jews because they maintained but little commerce with their neighbours. Bp Lenth

— and will hiss unto them.] "The metaphor is taken from the practice of those who keep bees, who draw them out of their hives into the fields, and lead them back again, by a hiss or whistle," say Cyril and Theodoret. At chap vii 18, the metaphor is more apparent by being carried further, there the hostile armies are expressed by "the fly," and "the bee." Bp Lenth

27 — neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed,] The Eastern people, wearing long and loose garments, were unfit for action, or business of any kind without girding their clothes about them: when their business was finished, they took off their girdles. A girdle therefore denotes strength and activity: to unloose the girdle, to deprive of strength, to render unfit for action: it was of course an essential part of a soldier's accoutrement. See, beside the passage quoted in the margin, 1 Kings xx 11, Is xlv 1, 5. Bp Lenth. See the note on Job xii 21

28 — their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint,] The shoeing of horses with iron plates nailed to the hoof is quite a modern practice, unknown to the ancients, as appears from the silence of Greek and Roman writers: especially those who treat of horse medicine: for this reason, the strength, firmness, and solidity of a horse's hoof was of much greater importance with them than with us: and was esteemed one of the first prizes of a fine horse. Xenophon, in his treatise on horsemanship gives particular directions for hardening a horse's hoof: for want of the artificial defence which we use, Ainos (chap vi 12,) speaks of it as a thing impracticable to make horses run upon a hard rock, as to plough up the same rock with oxen. Bp Lenth

30 — they shall roar against them like the roaring of the sea against them like the roaring of the sea and if one look unto the land, behold darkness and sorrow, and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof

Before
CHRIST
about 760

Or, distress
Or, when it is light it shall be dark in the distress as there

CHAP VI.

1 Isaiah, in a vision of the Lord in his glory, being terrified, is confirmed for his message. 9 He sheweth the obstinacy of the people unto their desolation. 13 A remnant shall be saved

IN the year that king Uzziah died I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple

about 759
John 12
41

Or
the skirts
thereof

2 Above it stood the seraphims: each one had six wings, with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly

3 And one cried unto another, and † Heb. this cried to this

&c.] What speak I of the roaring of a lion? yea, these Chaldeans, which I will bring upon them, shall come roaring in like a mighty sea in a tempest, with such terror, that all shall be filled with confusion, the earth shall be darkened with sorrow, and the heavens shall yield no glimpse of comfort to the distressed. Bp Hall. See notes on chap xiii 10, 13

I from this chapter we perceive in what a special manner God blessed His people Israel, how they abused His gifts, and turned His grace into wantonness, and how He threatened to visit them with His judgments: the issue and execution of His threatenings we well know. The proper application of all this to ourselves is briefly hinted by St Paul, "If God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest He also spare not thee." Rom xi 21. We, who succeed them in the spiritual vineyard the Church of the true God, have no reason to flatter ourselves that our bad fruits shall be more indulged than theirs. But rather the judgments, which have befallen them, will make our disobedience the more inexcusable: if we commit the same sins, and are not afraid of the same punishments. Reading

[Chap VI ver 1 In the year that king Uzziah died I saw &c.] As this vision seems to contain a solemn designation of Isaiah to the prophetic office, it is by most interpreters thought to be the first in order of the prophecies. But Isaiah is said (chap i 1,) to have prophesied in the time of Uzziah, and the phrase in the year when Uzziah died, probably means after the death of Uzziah: as the same phrase (chap vi 28) means after the death of Ahas. This might be a solemn designation, to introduce more solemnly a general declaration of the whole course of God's dispensations in regard to His people, and the fates of the nation, which are even now still depending, and will not be fully accomplished till the final restoration of Israel. Bp Lenth

— I saw — the Lord.] The Lord, whom Isaiah saw, was the Jehovah and Lord of Hosts, ver 3, 5, and St John testifies in the passage given in the margin, that it was Christ and Christ's glory, that Isaiah saw, it follows, that, in St John's account (Christ is Jehovah) Dr. Waterland — sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple.] The ideas are taken from Eastern royalty: the Prophet could not represent the ineffable presence of God by any other than sensible and earthly images. The particular scenery of it is taken from the temple. God is represented as seated on His throne above the ark in the most holy place: where the glory appeared above the cherubim, surrounded by His attendant ministers. See Jer xlvii 12, Ezek xliii 7. Bp Lenth

2 — he covered his feet.] By the "feet" the Hebrews mean all the lower parts of the body. Bp Lenth

3 — one cried unto another,] The one singing responsively to

Before
CHRIST
about 700
Rev 4 8
† Heb his glory is the fulness
of the whole earth
† Heb thresholds † Heb
in said, <sup>b</sup> Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts † the whole earth is full of his glory

4 And the posts of the † door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke

5 ¶ Then said I, Woe as me! for I am undone, because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts

6 Then flew one of the seraphims unto me, † having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar

7 And he † laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips, and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin is purged

8 Also I heard the voice of the LORD, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I, send me

9 ¶ And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not, and see ye indeed, but perceive not

10 Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes, lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed

11 Then said I, LORD, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted the other Bp Ionth After some such manner was the Divine anthem of Moses sung, Exod xv 1, 20, 21 So we read, Lxxxi in 11, at the building of the second temple did the Priests and Levites sing together by course in praising and giving thanks to the LORD and this hath been the practice of the Christian church all along, and is still continued among us, as being the most easy and proper way for all sorts of people to join together in setting forth the praises of God, and the best means of keeping our minds intent upon the great work we are about, and to excite one another in the performance of it. Bp Beveridge

— Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts ] The Christian church hath always thought that the doctrine of the blessed Trinity is implied in this repetition, it is intimated in several other parts of the Old Testament, particularly in the form of blessing, which God commanded the priests to use, Numb vi 24, 25, 26 Bp Ionth See notes on that passage

They are not content, says Origen, "to say it once or twice but take the perfect number of the Trinity, thereby to declare the manifold holiness of God, which is a repeated intercommunion of a three fold holiness, the holiness of the Father, the holiness of the † begotten Son, and of the Holy Ghost And that the Seraphim did really celebrate all the three Persons of the Godhead upon this occasion, is no conjecture, but a point capable of the clearest demonstration The Prophet tells us, ver 1, he "saw the LORD sitting upon a throne, and at ver 5, that "his eyes had seen the King the LORD of hosts Now if there be any phrase in the Bible to distinguish the true God, as thus of "the LORD of hosts That in the 2<sup>d</sup> of hosts, sitting upon His throne, there was the presence of God the FATHER, no one will deny That there was also the presence of God the SON, appears from John xii 41 These things said Jesus, when he saw His (Christ's) glory and spake of Him And that there was the presence of God the HOLY GHOST, is determined by Acts xviii 25, "Well spake the Holy Ghost by I saw the Prophet unto our fathers, saying, &c then follow the words which the prophet affirms to have been spoken by "the LORD of hosts" Jones of Nayland

The former part of that noble and sublime hymn, called the Te Deum, which is commonly used after the first lesson at morning service is an act of adoration to the ever blessed Trinity, being a paraphrase on the song of the heavenly host, recorded here by Isaiah, and by St John in the Revelation, chap iv 8 The same is likewise adopted by our Church into her office for the Communion W Aldp

— and the house was filled with smoke ] Or, a thick cloud, the sign of God's presence, which filled the temple on extraordinary occasions, W King vii 10 W Ionth

— the King the LORD of hosts ] The same Spirit, which displayed this glorious vision to Isaiah, has given the interpretation of it by the Evangelist St John St John tells us, that Christ was that Jehovah, whom the enraptured prophet saw upon His throne, whose train filled the temple, whose praises were the theme of the seraphic song, whose glory fills the universe According to the Evangelist, it was Christ's glory that Isaiah saw and to Him whose glory he saw the Prophet gives the name of Jehovah and the worshipping angels gave the name of Jehovah God of Sabaoth Bp Horsley

6 — having a live coal in his hand — from off the altar ] Signifying the gift of utterance represented by fiery tongues (Acts ii 3), and the efficacy of God's word in the mouth of the prophets, compared to fire Jer v 14, xxiii 29 The use of fire likewise is to cleanse and purify see the following verse Bp Ionth

8 — who will go for us? ] God speaks here in the plural number, as in the passage from Genesis referred to in the margin, which is justly thought to imply a plurality of Divine persons W Ionth See notes on Gen i 26

9 And he said, Go, and tell this people &c ] St Paul (Acts xxviii 26) saith expressly, that it was the Holy Ghost who said this which shews the personality of the Holy Ghost, in words as plain as can be expressed Bp Wilson

10 Make the heart of this people fat &c ] The Prophet speaks of the event, the fact as it would actually happen, not of God's purpose and act by his ministry The Prophets are in other places said to perform the thing which they only foretell Jer i 10 Ezek xliii 3 Bp Ionth Every blessing foretold is said to come from the foreteller Rosenmuller, Bp Stiel All the expressions here used signify no more than that God for former provocations and unpenitency of this people did leave them to their own hardness and blindness, so that they did not desire to understand, and make use of the means of their recovery

Thus God often punishes great and notorious offenders, by permitting them to fall into temptations, which meeting with a vicious disposition, are likely to be too hard for them, considering how by a long habit of wickedness, and wilful commission of sin they have made themselves an easy prey to every temptation and have driven the Spirit of God from them and deprived themselves of those aids and restraints of His grace which He ordinarily affords, not only to good men, but likewise to those who are not very bad Abp Tilloson

• This prophecy might relate in some measure to the state of the Jews before the Babylonish captivity, but it did not receive its full completion till the days of our Saviour and in this sense it is understood and applied by the writers of the New Testament (John xii 40 Acts xxviii 27) and by our Saviour Himself Matt xiii 14 15 Bp Newton

11 Then said I, LORD, how long? ] Namely How long shall this obstinacy and the punishment it will bring upon this people continue? Bp Ionth

— And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant &c ] And hath not the world seen all the particulars here set down exactly fulfilled? Have not the Jews laboured under a spiritual blindness and infatuation, in "hearing but not under-

Before
CHRIST
about 6

Can 1 6
† Heb Behold me

Matthew 1 11
Mark 4 12
Luke 8 10
John 1 40
Acts 28 26
Rom 11 8

Or without casion &c
† Heb hearing but not under-

Before
CHRIST
about 758

† Heb di-solat with desolation

|| Or it shall turn and hath leaves used
|| Or stock cr stem

without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate,

12 And the Lord have removed men far away, and there be a great forsaking in the midst of the land,

13 But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten as a tall tree, and as an oak, whose substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof

CHAP VII

1 Ahaz, being troubled with fear of Rezin and Pekah, is comforted by Isaiah 10 Ahaz having liberty to choose a sign, and refusing it hath for a sign, Christ promised 17 His judgment is prophesied to come by Assyria

about 742
2 Kings
16 5

AND it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of Remaliah, king of Israel, went up toward Jerusalem standing in seeing, but not perceiving the Messiah, after the accomplishment of so many prophecies, after the performance of so many miracles? And in consequence of their refusing to convert and be healed, have not their cities been wasted without inhabitant? And have they not been removed far away into the most distant parts of the earth? and hath not their removal or banishment been of now 1700 years duration? and do they not still continue deaf and blind, obstinate and unbelieving? oppressed by men and forsaken by God? Bp Newton

1 But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten &c.] The Hebrew may be translated thus, "But yet in it shall be left a tenth, after it is (or although it is) again eaten and devoured &c, implying that, notwithstanding the repeated judgments God should bring upon the Jews, still a remnant should be preserved and the nation, as a tree, sprout out and flourish again from the old stock. The Holy seed is called here a tenth in allusion probably to the tithe under the law, set apart for, and consecrated to, God's service. W Louth, Bp Louth.

— a tall tree.] Is the same with the linden or lime tree Dr Johnson's Dictionary

— so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.] So shall the remainder of the holy seed, which for the time seemed to be dead sprout forth into an abundant increase Bp Hall This verse, though somewhat obscure, has been made clear by the accomplishment of the prophecy. When Nebuchadnezzar had carried away the greater and better part of the people into captivity, there was yet a tenth remaining in the land, the poorer sort, left to be vinedressers and husbandmen under Gedaliah, 2 Kings xxv 12, 22, and the dispersed Jews gathered themselves together and returned to him, Jer xl 12 yet even these, fleeing into Egypt after the death of Gedaliah, contrary to the warning of God given by the prophet Jeremiah, miserably perished there. And in the subsequent and more remarkable completion of the prophecy in the destruction of Jerusalem, and the dissolution of the commonwealth by the Romans, when the Jews after the loss of above a million of men, had increased from the scanty residue that was left of them and had become very numerous again in their country. Hadrian provoked by their rebellious behaviour, slew above half a million more of them, and a second time almost extirpated the nation. Yet after these signal and almost universal destructions of that nation, and after so many other repeated calamities and massacres of them in different times and various occasions since we see with astonishment, that the stock still remains from which God, according to His promise frequently given by His prophets will cause the people to shoot to war against it, but could not prevail against it.

Before
CHRIST
about 742

2 And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind

† Heb resteth on Ephraim

3 Then said the Lord unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field,

|| That is, the conduit shew turn
2 Kings
18 17

4 And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet, fear not, neither be fainthearted for the two tails of these smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah

|| Or, causing † Heb let not thy heart be troubled

5 Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah, have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,

6 Let us go up against Judah, and vex

|| Or waken

forth again and to flourish Bp Louth See the notes on Deut xxx 1

Chap VII The king and royal family being in the utmost consternation on receiving intelligence of the designs of Rezin and Pekah Isaiah is sent to comfort them by assuring them, that God would make good His promises to the house of David. This makes the subject of this, the following and the beginning of the ninth chapter. Chapter vii begins with an account of the occasion of the prophecy, then follows, ver 1—16, a prediction of the ill success of the designs of the Israelites and Syrians against Judah and from thence to the end of the chapter a denunciation of the calamities to be brought upon the king and people of Judah by the Assyrians, whom they had now hired to assist them. Chapter viii has a pretty close connexion with the foregoing. It contains a confirmation of the prophecy before given of the approaching destruction of the kingdoms of Israel and Syria by the Assyrians, of the denunciation of the invasion of Judah by the same Assyrians, ver 9 10 give a repeated general assurance that all the designs of the enemies of God's people shall be in the end disappointed, and brought to nought ver 11, &c contain admonitions and threatnings, concluding with an illustrious prophecy (chap ix 1—6) of the manifestation of Messiah, the transcendent dignity of His character and the universality and eternal duration of His kingdom. Bp Louth

Ver 1 — could not prevail against it.] Yet they slew many of the people and carried away many captives out of Judea, 2 Chron xxxv 11 5. W Louth

2 — I phazim.] This being the chief of the ten tribes, is often put for the whole of them. Bp Newton

— his heart was moved.] The word translated his relates to the house of David. W Louth

3 — Shear-jashub.] His name, signifying as it is explained in the margin, may allude to the promise made, chap vi 13, it imports that God will never wholly cut off His people. W Louth

The captives taken by the king of Israel (see note on ver 1) were accordingly very speedily sent home from policy indeed more than compassion, to make friends among the Jews. Bp Chandler

— of the conduit of the upper pool.] There were two pools which supplied Jerusalem with water, the upper pool, mentioned here and chap xxxv 2, and the lower pool, chap xxii 9. W Louth

4 — for the two tails of these smoking firebrands.] Which are so far from being able to consume any thing else, that they are almost extinguished themselves. W Louth

Before
CHRIST
about 742

it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeal

7 Thus saith the Lord God, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass

8 For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin; and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken, † that it be not a people

† Heb from a peo le

Or

Do ye not believe? it is because ye are not able

† Heb And the LORD said to S

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Reimnah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established 10 ¶ Moreover the Lord spake again unto Ahaz, saying,

11 Ask thee a sign of the Lord thy 6 — the son of Tabeal ] Who this person was is no where said in Scripture. he may have been some potent and factious Jew, who had revolted from his master, the king of Judah, and stirred up this war against him. Dean Prideaux

Some have thought a Syrian, set up by Rezin, whose interest and authority was chief in this matter. Vitranga

8 9 For the head of Syria is Damascus, &c ] The purport of this prophecy was to assure Ahaz and the house of David, that the kings of Syria and Israel should remain only the heads of their respective cities: they should not prevail against Jerusalem, and within sixty and five years Israel should be broken so as to be no more a people. This prophecy, respecting the utter ruin of the ten tribes, was completed not in the first deportation by Sennacherib (2 Kings xviii 6) when the kingdom was abolished, but when the small remnant were overpowered by the numbers brought by Sennacherib from Cush, &c 2 Kings xviii 24, compared with Isaiah 2 and Ephraim, who had been broken from being a kingdom before, was then broken from being a people. Abp Usher, Bp Newton

9 — If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established ] This is. Unless ye believe this prophecy of the destruction of Israel, ye, Jews also, as well as the people of Israel, shall not remain established as a kingdom and people, ye also shall be visited with punishment at the same time. This clause is much illustrated by considering the captivity of Manasseh as happening at the same time with this predicted final ruin of Ephraim as a people. The near connexion of the two facts makes the prediction of the one naturally coherent with the prediction of the other. The views of the Prophet might also extend to the destruction of the Jews by the Romans, according to that saying of our Saviour, 'Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish,' Luke xiii 3. Dr Jubb

12 But Ahaz still I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord ] The words of Ahaz though they have a shew of piety, (see Deut vi 16 Mat iv 7) proceeded really from despair and unbelief, as appears from the Prophet's answer, ver 13 W Lenth He refused to make trial of the indulgence proffered, not because he believed without it, but because he had no confidence in it, nor value for it. Dean Stanhope Perhaps the solemn offer (ver 11,) staggered the doubting king, and even the presumptuous incredulity of Ahaz shrunk back at the thought of requiring from God Himself that extreme test of His veracity. Dr Postlethwaite To do what God commands is not to tempt Him, but Ahaz was tampering with the Assyrian for help, and depended on him and not on the Lord, and for that reason declines doing what he is bid. Bp Wilson

13 Is it a small thing for you to reject and contemn me, that am a man like yourselves, but will ye, with your hypocrisy and disobedience, provoke and abuse my God also, whose message I bear? Are ye

God, ask it either in the depth, or in the height above

Before
CHRIST
about 741

12 But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the Lord

13 And he said, Heave now, O house of David, Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign, Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel

Matthew
1 23
I ke 1 1
Or thou, O Virgin shalt call

15 Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good

16 For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land not ashamed and afraid, under a pretence of piety to refuse the gracious offer and command of God that sent me? Bp Hall 14 Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign &c ] Upon occasion of the terrible fear of the house of David, and the perverseness of Ahaz, refusing to ask a sign, though invited it pleased God to afford the greatest and most comfortable sign of His mercy to the house of David in particular and to all mankind in general a sign, (not indeed exactly in the sense of that which was offered and refused, ver 11 an emblem or proof of something to follow,) but, as the word is taken to signify in both Old and New Testaments, (Dean Stanhope,) a wonder, namely the miraculous birth of Him, in whom all God's mercies were to be summed up. The ancient promise made on the fall of man is here repeated, the Messiah is promised to come in due time of the house of David, and it is here added, that He should be born of a pure virgin, and called "Immanuel," that is, "God with us, God and Man in one person, or, a Divine Being made flesh, and dwelling among mankind. The word translated "virgin" is so rendered by the Seventy, and admits of no other signification. Bp Chandler, Dr Lightfoot

The whole passage, ver 14—16, seems to consist of two distinct parts, the fourteenth and fifteenth verses appear to contain an express and literal prediction of the birth and character of Christ, "Butter and honey shall He eat, &c, signifying that His infancy should require the same tender care as that of the frail offspring of man. The sixteenth to hold out a prophetick sign, the completion of which, so soon to take place should give full assurance to Ahaz, and the house of David that the preceding prophecy concerning the Messiah should in due time be punctually fulfilled. The Prophet plainly expresses himself in this order, Immanuel shall be born of a virgin for the consideration of the kings shall be speedily destroyed. Dr Postlethwaite

15 Butter and honey shall he eat, &c ] He shall have a true human body, and shall be sustained with that ordinary nourishment wherewith children are wont to be fed and shall grow up in experimental knowledge, as well as in stature, and shall thus enable Himself, like us, "to refuse the evil and choose the good." Bp Hall See the note from fragments to Culmet on Job xx 17 — that he may know to refuse ] Rather, till He know. W Lenth

16 For before the child shall know &c ] Some suppose the Prophet here to point to Shear-jashub, whom he is directed, ver 1 to take with him: some think 'the child' refers to Maher-shalhash-baz, (chap viii 1,) others to any child of that age. To express the shortness of the time, in which destruction should come upon the two kings is Isaiah's object here, and, as he has in the preceding verses been mentioning Immanuel, and has Him in a manner before his eyes, he may be understood to say, In so short a time as it shall take Him to reach years of distinguishing shall the kings be overthrown. Vitranga

<sup>Before CHRIST about 742</sup> that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings

17 ¶ The Lord shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah; even the king of Assyria.

18 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria

19 And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all bushes

20 In the same day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyria, the head, and the hair of the feet and it shall also consume the beard

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep,

22 And it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give that he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.

23 And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for briars and thorns

24 With arrows and with bows shall men come thither, because all the land shall become briars and thorns.

25 And on all hills that shall be digged with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briars and thorns but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of lesser cattle.

CHAP VIII

1 In Maher-shalal-hash-baz, he prophesieth that Syria and Israel shall be subdued by Assyria 5 Judah likewise for their infidelity 9 God's judgments shall be irresistible 11 Comfort shall be to them that fear God 19 Great afflictions to idolaters

MOREOVER the Lord said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen concerning Maher-shalal-hash-baz honey, the gifts of nature, and the whole land given up to the wild beasts, so that the miserable inhabitants are forced to go out armed with bows and arrows, either to defend themselves against the wild beasts, or to supply themselves with necessary food by hunting Bp Lenth

23 — a thousand silverlings,] Or shekels, as the word is translated in Jer xxxii 9, and elsewhere

25 — on all hills that shall be digged &c] The sense will run better if we translate here, "All the hills that are (or used to be) digged with a mattock, that the fear of briars and thorns may not come thither, (that is, to clear them from briars and thorns) — shall be for the sending forth of oxen, &c Ground untilled naturally turns to pasture, therefore these and similar descriptions signify great desolation Compare chap xvii 2, xxvii 10, xxxii 14 Bp Lenth

— the mattock,] Hasselquist observes, that the inhabitants of Nuzareth in Chalee had no spades, but a kind of hoe or ground-ir And Niebuhr says that instead of a spade the Arabs of Yemen make use of an iron mattock to cultivate their gardens and the lands in the mountains, which are too narrow to admit the plough Parkhurst

Chap VIII ver 1 — Take thee a great roll] The Eastern people roll their papers, and do not fold them because their paper is apt to fret Sir J Chardin The Egyptian papyrus was formerly much used the brittle nature of it made it proper to roll what they wrote, and the practice may have been continued even with materials, which might safely have been treated in another manner Hammer It is directed to be a great roll probably that the writing of the prophecy might be in large characters, obvious to all, and so most interpreters have understood the term, "a man's pen," to imply such characters as are in ordinary use Vatrin

— and write &c] The Prophet is commanded to record the prophecy of the destruction of Damascus and Samaria by the Assyrians, the subject and sum of which is here expressed with great brevity in four words, (explained in the margin,) which afterwards applied as the name of the Prophet's son who was made a sign of the speedy completion of it And, that it might be done with the greater solemnity, and to preclude all doubt of

Or comment on ble trees a 2 Kings 19 35

18 — the Lord shall hiss for the fly &c] See note from Bp Lenth, ch 1 26 Armies are often compared to flies, bees, and other insects, (Deut 1 44, Judg 1 5, Ps cxviii 12, Joel ii 25,) both for their number, and the destruction they make The Prophet joins here Egypt and Assyria, the two great oppressors of God's people Bp Lenth Sennacherib, Esar-haddon, Pharaoh-necho, and Nebuchadnezzar, one after another, desolated Judah Bp Lenth As the conquest of Egypt by Sennacherib, foretold chap xx, took place before his siege of Jerusalem, a great many Egyptians might be his auxiliaries Ibp Usher

19 And they shall come, and shall rest &c] The Prophet pursues the same metaphor and represents the foreign army as so many flies that he in shoals in lower grounds, and as bees whose custom is to get into rocks, see Deut xxxii 13, Ps lxxxi 16, implying that no place should be free from the enemy Bp Lenth

20 — shall — shave with a razor that is hired,] The Assyrian is called a "hired rascal, because God often rewards those whom He makes instruments of His vengeance upon sinners, which is expressed by giving them their wages, Ezek xxx 18—20, see also 2 Kings x 30 And Ahaz had hired the king of Assyria to assist him, 2 Kings xvi 7, 8 2 Chron xxviii 21 Bp Lenth

— by them beyond the river,] By way of eminence, the Ishmaelites See chap xxvii 12, Jer ii 18 Bp Lenth

— the head and the hair of the feet and it shall also consume the beard] The hairs of the head are those of the highest order in the state those of the feet, or lower parts, are the common people the beard the king the high priest, the very supreme in dignity and majesty The Eastern people have always held the beard in the highest veneration, and have been extremely jealous of its honour to pluck a man's beard is an instance of the greatest indignity that can be offered See 2 Sam x 4, 5 Modern travellers give instances to the same purpose, Bp Lenth

1 — a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep &c] The remainder of the chapter is an elegant and expressive description of a country depopulated and left to run wild, the vineyards and cornfields before well cultivated now over-run with briars and thorns much grass so that the few cattle that are left have their full range and abundant pasture, so as to yield milk in plenty to the scanty family of the owner, the thinly scattered people living, not on corn, wine, oil, the produce of cultivation but on milk and

Before CHRIST about 742
† Heb in the muds of the land

† Heb in making speed to the spoil he hasteneth the prey or make speed, &c

Before
CHRIST
about 742

† Heb approached unto

For
he that is before the king of Assyria shall take away the riches, &c about 711

† Heb
the fulness
of the breadth of thy land shall be the stretchings out of his wings

2 And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah

3 And I † went unto the prophetess; and she conceived, and bare a son Then said the Lord to me, Call his name Maher-shalal hash-baz.

4 For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria

5 ¶ The Lord spake also unto me again, saying,

6 Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son,

7 Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks

8 And he shall pass through Judah, he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the neck, and † the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel

9 ¶ Associate yourselves, O ye people, the real delivery of the prophecy before the event, he calls witnesses to attest the recording of it ver 2 Bp Lomth

3 — the prophetess,] The wife of Isaiah is styled a prophetess, and the Rabbies maintain that she had the gift of prophecy D. Gray

4 — the riches of Damascus &c] The completion of what is prophesied here, and above, chap vii 16, is recorded, 2 Kings xv 29, 30, xvi 9 W Lomth

6 — this people &c] Though some refer this to Judah, it may be better understood of Israel The gentle waters of Shiloah, or Shiloah, as in the text, a small fountain and brook just without Jerusalem, which supplied a pool within the city, for the use of the inhabitants, is an apt emblem of the state of the kingdom and house of David, much reduced in its apparent strength, yet supported by the blessing of God and is finely contrasted with the waters of the Tigris, great, rapid, and impetuous, the image of the vast and mighty empire, which God threatens to bring down upon all the apostates of both kingdoms, to overwhelm Israel, and to bring Judah into such imminent danger, as is represented (ver 8,) by that of a man who can but just keep his head above water The Chaldee renders "reaching to the neck," by reaching to Jerusalem Bp Lomth

8 — of thy land, O Immanuel] That is, even over that holy land, which is consecrated to thy name, O thou Saviour of Thy Church, God and Man Bp Hall A nobler difference could not have been put between Israel and Judah, than at the time that final and speedy ruin is denounced against the one, to give the other a solemn assurance of the birth of Immanuel Dian Stanhope

9 Associate yourselves, O ye people, — give ear, all ye of far countries] The Prophet insults over the confederacy of Israel and Judah against Judah he addresses perhaps all the enemies of God's people assuring them that their attempts shall be fruitless, on account of the defence of the promised Immanuel, to whom he alludes by using His name to express the signification of it (ver 10,) "for God is with us" the most distant times and countries and ye shall be broken in pieces, and give ear, all ye of far countries glid yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces; glid yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces

Before
CHRIST
about 741
Or
yet

10 Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought, speak the word, and it shall not stand for God is with us

11 ¶ For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,

† Heb
in strength
of hand

12 Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy, neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid

13 Sanctify the Lord of hosts himself, and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread

14 And he shall be for a sanctuary, but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

Chap 28
Lk
Luke 2 34
Rom 9 3
1 Pet 2 8

15 And many among them shall be stumbled, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.

Math 21
41
Luke 20
18

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples may be fitly said to be concerned in the admonitions here given the import of which is, that the kingdom of the Messiah will prosper, though all nations combine against it W Lomth, Bp Lomth

11 For the Lord spake thus to me with a strong hand,] The spirit of prophecy is expressed by the hand of the Lord being upon the Prophet, 2 Kings iii 15, Ezek iii 14, viii 1 W Lomth

— that I should not walk in the way of this people, &c] The Prophet is commanded to arm those that heard him against the prevalent fears of the confederacy of Syria and Israel, and exhorts them not to join in the popular cry in that matter, which was full of despondency and distrust of God The twelfth verse should rather be rendered, "Say ye not, A confederacy, of or concerning all them of whom this people, &c" Vitrunga

14 And he shall be for a sanctuary but for a stone of stumbling &c] God and His promises, which should be men's refuge and security, become the occasion of mischief and hurt to unbelievers W Lomth

It is the Lord of Hosts who is meant here but the prophecy is interpreted of Christ by the concurrent testimony of St Peter and St Paul (see the margin) Christ therefore is one with the Lord of Hosts Dian Stanhope, Bp Wilson

— to both the houses of Israel,] This expression is sufficient to shew, that the Prophet enlarges his views beyond Rezin and Pekah's association, the immediate object of this prophecy, for then Judah and Israel were in different interests, but this verse speaks of them as involved in the same sin and punishment W Lomth

16 Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples] The Prophets sometimes declare concerning their prophetic discourses and actions that they were dark and as yet unintelligible and should be more clearly understood about the latter times in which they were to find their completion, chap xxix 11 Dan xii 1 It would be part of the Great Prophet's office to explain the sense of the Scriptures, and to remove the obscurity that was to remain on many prophecies till His coming Bp Chandler

Before
CHRIST
about 711

17 And I will wait upon the LORD, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him

Hebr 1

18 Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.

about 11

19 ¶ And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter should not a people seek unto their God for the living to the dead?

1 Luke 16
29

20 To the law and to the testimony if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them

† Heb in morning

21 And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse their king and then God, and look upward

22 And they shall look unto the earth, and behold trouble and darkness, dimness of anguish, and they shall be driven to darkness

CHAP. IX

1 What joy shall be in the midst of afflictions, by the God's faithful servants however, who depended on His word, would lay them up carefully in their memories of this number Isaiah professes himself to be, ver 17 W Lomth, Dr Wells

18 Behold, I and the children &c. See the Introduction

Isaiah speaks here in the person of Christ as well as his own, as appears from the passage referred to in the margin Dr Wells

19 — that peep, and that mutter &c. 10 "peep" signifies to cry as young birds, (Dr Johnson.) see chap x 14, to chirp or whisper Those who pretended to familiar spirits spoke inwardly and imperfectly, as if their voice proceeded out of the caverns of the earth W Lomth See note on chap xlv 19 — for the living to the dead? That is, Should they seek for the living to the dead? By this may be meant idols, (see Ps cxv 5—8,) opposed (1 Thes 1 9) to the living God, or allusion may be made to the heathen practice of deifying their heroes, inquiring after oracles &c., see chap lxx 4 W Lomth

20 To the law and to the testimony &c. If we would really do good, such as God Himself will accept of, we must not look to our roving fancies, nor to our carnal reason, but to the precepts of God Himself This is the rule to square our actions by, this the test, whatever is suggested to us, from without or from within, to try the spirits whether they be of God or not, if any thing exalts itself against the obedience of this rule, it is no sweet impulse of the Holy Spirit of God, but a strong delusion of the lying spirit of Satan Bp Beveridge and Sanderson

Chap IX ver 1 Nevertheless the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation &c. Yet, though this calamity shall be exceeding great it shall not be utterly so extreme and disconsolate, as that corner which the land of Israel shall endure, when Tiglathpileser shall have miserably afflicted it, 2 Kings xv 29, and when it shall have been conquered and wasted by Shalmaneser Bp Hall

The people that dwell in darkness have seen a great light ] There is a comfortable promise of deliverance in this miserable captivity for behold the Messiah shall certainly come, and by His doctrine and Spirit shall enlighten those that sit in darkness and the shadow of death, beginning His blessed Gospel in those ut-kingdom and birth of Christ 8 The judgments upon Israel for their pride, 13 for their hypocrisy, 18 and for their impenitency

Before
CHRIST
about 940

NEVERTHELESS the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphthali, and afterwa'd did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, in Galilee of the nations at Jul 771

about 7

2 The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined

Or pop shows Matth 4
Eph 5 14
279

3 Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased the joy they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil

Or to m
or When thou breakest Judges 7
23

4 For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of Midian

chap 10 26
Or When the whole battle of the warrior was &c Or and it was &c † Heb meat

5 For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood, but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire

6 For unto us a child is born, unto us a most skirts of Galilee, Bp Hall The event is true and evident as these lands had the first share in the calamity from Assyrian invasion, 2 Kings xv 29, so had they a prerogative in enjoying the presence of the Messiah For Med The Prophet is particular in naming Zebulun, to which tribe Nazareth belonged and Naphthali, in which was Capernaum, situated on the sea of Tiberias, both which places were beyond Jordan Bp Kidder

3 Thou hast multiplied the nation. Namely, the true Israel, which God shall enlarge by adding daily to the Church such as believe the Gospel Dr Wells

— and not increased the joy ] The marginal reading: Thou hast increased the joy to him, or to it, seems most agreeable to the context if we keep the reading of the text, it may be translated by way of interrogation, "Wilt thou not increase the joy?" Then follows the answer, "they joy before thee, &c" This various reading originates in the Hebrew, where the particle signifi-ying not is very like, and often mistaken for, the word signifying to have W Lomth

— joy in harvest, — when they divide the spoil ] These expressions signify great rejoicing, see chap xvi 10, 1 Sam xxx 16 It is said to be before God, which denotes a religious joy Deut xii 12 W Lomth

4 — the staff of his shoulder. A staff laid across the shoulder upon the ends of which slaves carried burdens Parkhurst

5 — but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire ] The word "this" is not in the original The sense seems to be, that all instruments of warfare should be destroyed and become fuel for fire, as in Ps xli 9, where the image is employed to express complete victory and a perfect establishment of peace See also Ezek xxxix 8—10 Bp Lomth

6 For unto us a child is born, &c ] The verse may be thus paraphrased It is not for God's people to rest in their deliverance from their captivity but to erect their thoughts unto higher hopes, even the happy assurances of salvation by our Messiah, who is to come into the world For unto us that Child is born and unto us that Son of God is given, who shall take upon His shoulder the perpetual government of His Church Bp Hall

Before CHRIST
about 711
John 16
son is given, and the government shall be upon his shoulder and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace

7 Of the increase of his government and peace <sup>there shall be no end</sup>, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this

8 ¶ The LORD sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel

9 And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and stoutness of heart,

— the government shall be upon his shoulder ] That is, the ensign of government, the sceptre, the sword, the key, or the like borne upon, or hung from, the shoulder See chap xxii 22 Bp Lenth

— his name shall be called ] That is, He shall be for all this could not be the proper name of any one, the Messiah will be all this it does not infer that he shall be commonly known by such title Bp Kidder This is the prophetick method, by the imposition as it were of a name, to declare the quality Jos Mede Thus (chap i 26) it was prophesied that Jerusalem should be "called the city of righteousness" Why? because, as was promised in the words foregoing, "God would restore her judges as at the first, &c", her manners should answer that title See too, Luke i 32, 35, it might be proved by a multitude of instances W Lenth, Dean Stanhope

— Wonderful, ] In His birth, in His preservation from Herod and His other enemies, in the favour of God, in His mighty works in His resurrection, His ascension, and the sending down of His Spirit upon His apostles, enabling them also to work miracles as He had done Reading

— Counsellor, ] As knowing the mind of the Lord Bp Chandler Not unlikely called so with Dr Knight, from His being one of that great council when God said, "Let us make man in our image" Bp Wilson See Chrysostom's observations at Gen i 26

— The mighty God ] Of the same title which is given to the One Supreme God of Israel, chap x. 21 Dr Waterland This is the doctrine which the Evangelists, Apostles and ministers of Christ constantly taught of Him, that He was God from all eternity Reading

— The everlasting Father, ] Or, "Father of eternity," or "of that which is everlasting, a title very applicable to the Messiah, whether we consider Him as 'the Author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey Him,' Heb v 9, or as the Founder of the new age, or world to come, the Head and Introducer of a dispensation which is to last for ever" agreeably to this last notion, the Septuagint, Vulgate, and others render, "Father of the age to come," Istringa The phrase might also be rendered, "the Father of eternity, that is, the Owner of it, the Everlasting, according to the Eastern custom of calling the possessor of any quality the father of it Bp Stock

— The Prince of Peace ] This name does in an eminent manner belong to Christ, inasmuch as He is the sole Mediator between God and man, the end of His coming was not to procure for His followers a visible earthly peace, but peace with Heaven, the peace of God Wogan The peace and tranquillity of Christ's government is however set forth by the Prophets in very pompous and magnificent descriptions, as here follows, "of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end" and as this is partly fulfilled in the inward joy and consolation, which is dispensed at present by the secret influences of the Holy Ghost,

Before
CHRIST
about 33
10 The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones the sycomores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars

11 Therefore the LORD shall set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and shall join his enemies together,

12 The Syrians before, and the Philistines behind, and they shall devour Israel with open mouth For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still

13 ¶ For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the LORD of hosts

14 Therefore the LORD will cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush, in one day and in the conversion of many nations, that had persecuted and opposed it, this may be sufficient to confirm our hopes that it shall hereafter be more perfectly accomplished, and nothing left to disturb the peace and quietness of His reign Dr Berrian Although Christ be indeed "exalted to be a Prince and a Saviour though He have "all power in heaven and in earth already vested in the human nature united to His own Divine person and be at present "Lord of all, and of His Church in a more peculiar manner, yet is not that power so visibly and fully exerted as it shall one day be nor all those glorious effects as yet accomplished which the Prophets foretell, when describing the victorious and peaceful, the unlimited and everlasting, dominion of the Messiah He actually reigns in the hearts of men even now and by His grace subdues the enemies of our souls, but this empire is not so absolute as it shall be, when every enemy shall have been utterly destroyed What period is fixed for the perfect and ultimate accomplishment of these things, as it does not seem possible for us to determine, so neither is it material too curiously to inquire Dean Stanhope

7 — upon the throne of David ] The Messiah is said to sit upon the throne of David, because all the promises concerning the perpetuity of his family and kingdom did chiefly relate to Christ, and were fulfilled in Him Bp Lenth David was the shepherd of the natural Israel Christ is the shepherd of the true Israel, enlarged by the reception of the Gentiles into the fold

8 The Lord sent a word into Jacob, ] Here begins, and ends with chap x 4, a distinct prophecy, addressed exclusively to the kingdom of Israel, divided into four parts, each the particular punishment of some grievous offence after each is repeated a general denunciation of a further reserve of Divine wrath, used before by the Prophet, on a like occasion (see the margin) and making, as we call it, the burden of the song Bp Douth

10 The bricks are fallen down but we will build with hewn stones &c. ] The eastern bricks are only clay well moistened with water, mixed with straw and dried in the sun So I Chardin These bricks are properly opposed to hewn stone, so greatly superior in beauty and durability the sycomores, a number of little worth, are with equal propriety opposed to the cedars "with which," as Dr Shaw remarks on this passage, "they can stand in no competition at all for beauty and ornament" We meet with the same opposition of cedars to sycomores, 1 Kings x 27 By this figurative speech, the people of Israel boast that they easily shall be able to repair their present losses, (sustained perhaps by the first Assyrian invasion by Tiglath-pileser,) and to bring their affairs to a more flourishing state than ever Bp Lenth

11 — adversaries of Rezin against him, ] When the king of Assyria had subdued the Syrians, he made them join him in invading Israel W Lenth

13 For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them ] See note on chap i 5

14 — head and tail, branch and rush ] Both the noblest and the meanest

Before
CHRIST
about 738

15 The ancient and honourable, he is the head, and the prophet that teacheth his, he is the tail.

|| Or, they that call them bless'd
|| Or they that call them bless'd if thou † Heb will need
|| Or will any

16 For || the leaders of this people cause them to en, and || they that are led of them are † destroyed

17 Therefore the LORD shall have no mercy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherless and widows for every one is an hypocrite and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh || folly For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still 18 ¶ For wickedness burneth is the fire it shall devour the briars and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke

† Heb me ul

- 19 Through the wrath of the Lord of hosts is the land darkened, and the people shall be as the fuel of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.

† Heb
auf e

20 And he shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry, and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm.

21 Manasseh, Ephraim, and Ephraim, Manasseh and they together shall be against Judah For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still

CHAP X

1 The noie of tyrants      5 Assyria, the rod of hypocrites, hastest of the people, the strongest, and the weakest, and most contemptible, of that nation Bp Hall

15. — and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail] He is the most vile and despicable of all the people Bp Hall

18 — it shall devour the briars and thorns, &c.] Briers and thorns are often put generally for the wicked, as useless and unprofitable proper objects of God's wrath, to be burnt up. See chap xxxix 12, and the note on chap xxvii 4. Bp Lowth, W Lenth

20 — they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm ] Thus, and what goes before, signify that they should plunder and devour those of their own country and blood. Compare chap xlix 26 Deut xxviii 53, 2 Kings vi 28 Jeremiah in a similar passage, chap xix 9, has 'Every one shall eat the flesh of his friend.' W Lenth, Bp Lenth chap. V. ver. 3 — in the devolution which shall come from far?

From Assyria. The Assyrians were a distant people compared with the Philistines, Syrians, &c, with whom Israel was principally concerned. Idringa But see W. L. wth's note on chap
v. 26.

Without me they shall bow down under &c.] That is, Without me and they shall be taken captive (even by the captives, and subdued by the vanquished) Bp Lomth See the note on chap ix 11, others render simply among the prisoners, &c.

5 O I vizian the rod of mine anger.] Come hither then, O thou Assyrian, come and execute My just judgment upon My people for thou art the rod of Mine anger and the weapons, which are in thy hand whereby thou fightest against Judah, are for his pride shall be broken 20 A remnant of Israel shall be saved 24 Israel is comforted with promise of deliverance from Assyria

Before
CHRIST
about 713

WOE unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and || that write grievousness which they have prescribed,

¶ Or to the writers that write your ouress

2 To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the light from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless!

3 And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?

4 Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

<sup>a</sup> Chap 5 75 & 9 12

5 ¶ || O † Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, || and the staff in their hand is mine indignation

¶ Or Not to the Isyrian
† Heb Aryu
¶ Or though

6 I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and † to tread them down like the mire of the streets

† Heb to lay them a tradition

7 Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so, but it is in his heart to destroy and cut off nations not a few.

8 <sup>b</sup> For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings?

2 Kings
18 21 23
& 19 18

9) Is not Calno as Carchemish? is not wielded by Mine indignation Bp Hall Concerning the change in this verse from the second to the third person see Bp. Lowth's note on Deut xxxii 5

Here begins a denunciation of the judgments of God against the Assyrians in general, and against Sennacherib in particular. See ver 12 Bp Newton

7 Howbeit he meaneth not so,] The Assyrian's design was purely to extend his conquests and gratify his own ambition but God who bringeth good out of evil, makes the wickedness of some nations the means of correcting that of others, and the worst of men, in the worst of their crimes, the undesigned instruments of His righteous purposes W Lowth, Abp Secker

What a fine instance does the Assyrian afford us of the manner, in which Providence, using the instrumentality of man's free choice foreseen, causes all the schemes of worldly politicians to work together for the accomplishment of His designs while they are only attending to their own interests! Bp. Horne.

Who can sufficiently admire the wisdom of Almighty God, who so ordered events, that the various instruments of Satan who combined to bring about the death of our Blessed Saviour did in fact each contribute to finish the great work of man's redemption, which some of them knew not of, others opposed, and none in the least intended! Dean Stanhope

9 Is not Calno as (ychemish? &c] Have not I been certainly successful against all these places? "Calno" lay upon the Euphrates, as did "Charchemish," 2 Chron xxxv 20. I push upon the confines of the Jewish territory towards Syria, Amos vi 14, where it is spelt Hemath W Louth That Hamath and Arpad were cities of Syria, should appear from Jer xlix 28 4 utruqa.

Before
CHRIST
about 713

Hamath as Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus?

10 As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem and of Samaria, 11 Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?

12 Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks

13 For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom, for I am prudent and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man

14 And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth, and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped

15 Shall the ax boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if the rod should shake itself against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up itself, as if it were no wood

2 Kings

1 Heb

visit upon

1 Heb

shall great ness of the heart

Or

like many people

Or

as if a rod should shake them that lift it up

Or

that which is not wood

Hamath was the capital of a part of Syria, bearing the same name. It was situated on the northern frontier of the land of Israel, whence we find frequent mention of "the entrance of Hamath," Numb. xxxiv. 8, &c. Arpad is with good reason held to be the island of Aradus, in the Mediterranean sea, which is not far from the shore, and nearly opposite to Hamath. Dr. Wells, Dr. Blayney. See the note on 2 Sam. viii. 9

12 — when the Lord hath performed his whole work. When the wicked whom God makes instrumental in carrying on His designs have served the purposes of Divine providence, they are justly punished for their pride and ambition, their cruelty and injury to their neighbours, the wickedness of those acts being altogether their own, and the good ends served being beside the intention of the agents. v. 7, and ascribable only to God. W. Lowth. See note on ver. 7 of this chapter, and on chap. xlvii. 6

11 — opened the mouth or peeped. See note on chap. viii. 19. 13 — Shall the ax boast itself? Is not the Assyrian as My ax? to hew down Judah? My saw to divide it, My rod to scourge it, My staff to beat it? and shall this ax, this saw, this rod, this staff magnify itself against the hand that useth and wieldeth it? as if the instrument could do ought without or against the arm that moves it. Bp. Hall as if it were no wood. Rather render, (as the margin does, part,) "against that which is not wood," or, to keep still close to the expression of the original, "against the no-wood." The Hebrew have a peculiar way of thus joining the negative particle to a noun, to signify in a strong manner a total negation of the thing expressed by the noun. So here it means Him who is far from being an inert piece of wood, is an animated and ac-

16 Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness, and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame, and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day,

18 And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body, and they shall be as when a standard-bearer fainteth

19 And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them

20 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them, but shall stay upon the Lord, the Holy One of Israel, in truth

21 The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God

22 For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return, the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness

23 For the Lord God of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined, in the midst of all the land

24 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian, he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift

Before
CHRIST
about 713

Heb from the soul and to the flesh

Heb
man

Rom 9
27
Heb
in or amongst Chap 18

Or in Ch 28 22

Or but he shall lift up his staff for them

tive being, not an instrument, but an agent. Other instances of this form occur at chap. xxxi. 8. Iv. 2. See also Job. xxi. 2, 3, Amos. vi. 13. Bp. Lowth

16 — under his glory he shall kindle a burning. This expression denotes the stroke by which Sennacherib's army was to be destroyed. W. Lowth. See note at 2 Kings. xix. 35

20 And it shall come to pass in that day, that &c. That is, A day shall come, when, &c. Bp. Wilson. See note on chap. iv. 2 shall no more again stay upon him that smote them. As Ahaz did upon the king of Assyria, (2 Kings. xvi. 7, compared with 2 Chron. xxviii. 20,) who afterward proved the worst enemy the Jews had. W. Lowth. To purchase his powerful ally's forbearance, as he had before bought his assistance. Ahaz was forced to strip himself and his people of all the wealth he could possibly raise. Bp. Lowth 23 — the Lord God of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined &c. Such a consumption determined in the counsel of God, with the preservation of a small remnant will apply to several periods of the history of the people of God. To the subversion of the kingdom of Israel, with the destruction of a great number of Judah, (see note on chap. viii. 6) to the Babylonian captivity, to the oppression of Antiochus Epiphanes. In the prophecy received their ultimate completion and its full content was then answered, when the bulk of the Jewish nation was rejected after their rejection of their true Messiah and given up to the just judgment of God, exhibited in the desolation which the Romans brought upon them, with the preservation of the chosen and holy few, who had embraced the Gospel of Christ. T. Wright

Before CHRIST
about 719
up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt

1 xod 14 25 For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction

26 And the LORD of hosts shall stir up a scourge for him according to the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb and as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt

† Heb shall remove 27 And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden † shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing

28 He is come to Aiath, he is passed to Migron, at Michmash he hath laid up his carriages

29 They are gone over the passage they have taken up their lodging at Geba, Ramah is afraid, Gibeah of Saul is fled

† Heb Cry shall with thy voice 30 † Lift up thy voice, O daughter of Gallim cause it to be heard unto Laish, O pool Anathoth

31 Madmenah is removed, the inhabitants of Gebim gather themselves to flee

32 As yet shall he remain at Nob that day he shall shake his hand against the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem Before CHRIST

about 718

33 Behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, shall lop the bough with terror and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the haughty shall be humbled 34 And he shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

CHAP. XI

1 The peaceable kingdom of the Branch out of the root of Jesse 10 The victorious restoration of Israel, and vocation of the Gentiles

AND there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots Acts 12

2 And the spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD,

3 And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the LORD and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears † Heb scent or smell

4 But with righteousness shall he judge

21, 26 — after the manner of Egypt] As Sennacherib invested Jerusalem upon his return from his Egyptian expedition, and imitated Pharaoh and the Egyptians in threatening the people of God, so does God promise here to act over again the part He had formerly taken, and to overthrow Sennacherib in as signal a manner as He had done Pharaoh and his host in the Red sea. So both the attack and the deliverance are to be "in the way," or, "after the manner, of Egypt" Bp Lenth

The twenty-sixth verse may be thus paraphrased The Assyrian is My rod to thee, but I will have a scourge for him, that shall plague him as the Midianites were destroyed by Gideon at the rock of Oreb, (see Judg vii 25), and as I plagued the Egyptians, whom I overthrew and destroyed at the Red sea Bp Hall

27 — because of the anointing] For the sake of God's chosen people, who are called "His anointed," Ps cii 15, and especially for the sake of Christ, or the Anointed, emphatically so called, who was to descend from the tribe of Judah. Dr Wals, R<sup>e</sup> Lenth See note on chap xlv 1

28 He is come to Aiath, &c] Here follows a description of the march of Sennacherib's army, and of the perilous and confusion spreading through the several places in the neighbourhood of Jerusalem from Ai northward to Nob westward of it, expressed with great brevity, but finely diversified. Bp Lenth

32 As yet shall he remain at Nob] Hence probably he ought to have a prospect of mount Zion, and thus literally shake his hand against it, and stand in a threatening posture, as just ready to assault it. Bp Lenth, W Lenth

Chap XI The Prophet had described, in the last chapter, the destruction of the Assyrian army under the image of a mighty forest consisting of flourishing trees growing thick together and of a great height of Lebanon itself, crowned with lofty cedar but cut down, and laid level with the ground, by the ax, wielded by the hand of some powerful and illustrious agent in opposition to the image he represents the great Person, who makes the subject of this chapter, as a slender twig, shooting out from the trunk of an old tree cut down, lopped to the very root and decayed which tender plant so weak in appearance, should nevertheless become fruitful and prosper This contrast shews a connexion between this and the foregoing chapter Here we have a remarkable instance of that method so common with the Prophets, and particularly with Isaiah, of taking occasion, from the display of some great temporal deliverance, to launch out into the display of the spiritual deliverance of God's people by the Messiah Thus in the latter part of Isaiah's prophecies, the subject of the great redemption, and of the glories of Messiah's kingdom, arises out of the restoration of Judah by the deliverance from the captivity of Babylon, and is all along connected and intermixed with it Bp Lenth

Ver 1 — of Jesse,] By mentioning Jesse, who was not a king but a private person, Isaiah seems to hint at the obscure and weak condition in which Christ should appear, His birth too was fixed to be, not at Zion, which was the place and seat of government in Judah but at Bethlehem, a town where the family of David lived while they were private persons Dean Allex

2 And the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him] That is, man He shall be endued with the gifts and graces of the Holy Spirit, without measure, and at all times Dr Wells The characters here given to the Spirit which was to rest on the Messiah are the same which we find in the Old Testament applied to the Prophets Dean Allex He being the Great Prophet, foretold Deut. xvii 15, is described as most plentifully endued with these gifts than any other ever was, chap xlii 1, lxi 1, Ps xlv 7, Joh iii 34, Acts x 38 W Lenth

3 — of quick understanding in the fear of the Lord] In things pertaining unto holiness He shall lay hold of all the mortifications of promoting true piety, and advancing God's honour He answers Christ's character of Himself, Joh iv 34 W Lenth — he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears] He shall not judge after the appearance, but shall judge righteous judgment, as our Saviour speaks, Joh. vii 24 W Lenth

Before CHRIST about 713
Or argue Job 4 9 2 Thess 1
the poor, and he reprove with equity for the meek of the earth. and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.

5 And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.

6 The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid, and the calf and the young lion and the fating together, and a little child shall lead them.

7 And the cow and the bear shall feed, their young ones shall lie down together and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.

8 And the sucking child shall play on 4 — reprove with equity for the meek of the earth ] To afford protection to the poor and humble, is the constant character of Christ's kingdom, (chap xxix 19, lxi 1, Ps lxxii 2, 12,) to them the blessings of the Gospel are peculiarly promised, Matt v 1, James ii 5. W Louth

— he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, ] The earth here signifies the ungodly, called by St John, chap vii xviii 9, the "world," who make the greatest part of it, and have the greatest share in it. The "rod of His mouth" signifies the word of God, containing threats and judgments against sinners which is said to be sharper than any two-edged sword, Heb iv 12 and as such is described, Rev i 16, as proceeding "out of the mouth of Christ." St Paul, in the passage given in the margin applies this particularly to the destruction of Antichrist. See also Rev xix 2. W Louth

5 — righteousness shall be the girdle &c ] The meaning is, that a zeal for justice and truth shall make Him active and strong in executing the great work which He shall undertake. Bp Louth See note on chap v 27

— The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, &c ] The expressions here used are plainly designed to shew, in a figurative way, that there should be as great a change wrought upon the world as there would be, if the natures of the creatures here mentioned were so changed, as the figures represent them. Dr T Burnett

Men's former antipathies shall cease and they who had used to be the most fierce and ravenous shall yield to the gentle discipline of Christ and put on the humble spirit of His followers. The persecutions of the heathen world were broken off, when the princes of the earth gave in their names to Christ, and laid those sceptres at His feet, which had been formerly held out with rage and virulence against Him. and if some parts of the Church have since been overrun by barbarous crews of Saracens and other infidels, and if the world be not yet brought to the peaceable temper here foretold, or the Church yet at unity with itself, we must remember that divisions and the temporary success of Christ's enemies have been foretold, as well as His final conquest and complete tranquillity, and, being confirmed by what we see accomplished, look the more steadfastly to the accomplishment of those prophecies which are still to be fulfilled. Dr Berriman

Profane writers describe the renewal of the golden age, as it is called, much in the same metaphorical language as is here used by the Prophet: wild beasts grow tame, serpents and poisonous herbs become harmless, all is peace and harmony, plenty and justice, but the most elegant of the ancient poets fall very short of that beauty, and elegance, and variety of imagery, with which Isaiah has set forth the same ideas. Here the wolf and the leopard not only forbear to destroy the lamb and the kid but they take their abode and lie down together with them. The calf, and the young lion, and the fating, not only come together, the hole of the asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice' den. Before CHRIST about 11 9 They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.

10 And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people, to it shall the Gentiles seek and his rest shall be glorious. Rom 15 12 Heb 11

11 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea.

but are led quietly in the same band, and that by a little child. The heifer and the she-bear not only feed together but even lodge their young ones, for whom they used to be most jealously fearful, in the same place. All the serpent kind is so perfectly harmless, that the sucking infant, and the newly weaned child, puts his hand on the basilisk's den, and plays upon the hole of the asp. The lion not only abstains from preying on the weaker animals, but becomes tame and domestick, and feeds on straw like the ox. These are all beautiful circumstances, not one of which has been touched upon by the ancient poets. Bp Louth

10. — a root of Jesse, ] Christ is here called the "Root of Jesse," as being the real ground or foundation of all the favours bestowed upon the family, the ultimate end and aim to which they were referred. The "Branch growing out of the root," vii 1 because actually descended from that royal line which may explain the twofold character He gives of Himself, Rev xii 16. Dr Berriman

— which shall stand for an ensign of the people, to it shall the Gentiles seek ] This alludes to the Jewish custom of repairing to the temple at festivals, see Deut xii 5, and the note on chap ii 3. W Louth It may be remarked here, that when the descent of the Messiah was limited to the tribe of Judah, it was still foretold that to Him should the "gathering of the people (or nations) be," Gen xlix 10, and now, where it is yet more precisely limited to the house of David, His kingdom is represented to be universal. Dr Berriman

— his rest shall be glorious ] This is most commonly understood of His Church, where, as between the cherubim heretofore, God has His resting-place. Bp Wilson

What remains of this chapter foretells those glorious times of the Church, which shall be ushered in by the restoration of the Jewish nation, when they shall embrace the Gospel, and return from the several dispersions where they were scattered. This remarkable scene of Providence is plainly foretold by most of the Prophets of the Old Testament, and by St Paul, Rom xi 25, 26, 2 Cor iii 16. W Louth

11 — the Lord shall set his hand again the second time &c ] These words imply, that this shall be as great a deliverance as that out of Egypt compare Ps lxxviii 22, Mic vii 15, W Louth — from Pathros, &c ] Pathros is a country in Egypt, Jer xlv 1, Ezck xxix 11. Elam, Persia, Shinar, Babylon, Gen xi 2. W Louth

Respecting Cush, see notes on chap xviii 1, Numb xii 1 Hamath, note on chap x 9. Elam, note on chap xxi 2.

— islands of the sea ] By this expression are to be understood, in the Scriptural style not only islanders properly so called, but all who dwell on the coast, primarily, perhaps, those on the shores of the Mediterranean, all distant nations which may best appear from chap xlix 1, Jer xxxi 10 all to the west of Canaan. These last were the isles of the Gentiles, to be peopled

Before
CHRIST
about 713

† Heb
wing

12 And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four † corners of the earth

13 The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim

14 But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the west, they shall spoil † them of the east together † they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab, † and the children of Ammon shall obey them

15 And the LORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea, and with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over † dry-shod

16 And there shall be an highway for the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria, like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt

† Heb
the children of the east
† Heb Edom and Moab shall be the lay ing on of their hand
† Heb the children of Ammon their of the ence
† Heb in shoes

Exod. 11
29 by the posterity of Japhet, Gen x 5, under this title of islands they are mentioned in all passages, where the extension of the Gospel to the Gentiles is prophesied of, with a view, no doubt, to the flourishing condition of Christianity in aftertimes in Europe Vulunga

The fact is notorious, that the Gospel, from the beginning to the present times hath made the greatest progress in Europe, and in those parts of Asia which were first peopled by the posterity of Japhet Among the uncivilized descendants of Ham, and the degenerate sons of Shem, it hath not been so generally spread or hath not so deeply taken root Bp Horsley

13 — the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off ] The Hebrew might be rendered the "enmity" of Judah and what follows, "Judah shall not vex Ephraim," seems to require that it should Abp Secker

14 But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines &c ] The people mentioned in this verse were all of them borderers upon the territory of the Jews and took all occasions of shewing their spite and ill-will against them on which account in the prophetick dialect they are often used in a general sense for the enemies of God's truth and people Compare chap xxi 10, xxxiv 5, 6, Joel iii 19 Amos ix 12 W Lenth

It is the style and genius of the prophetical books, to set whole countries and kingdoms, and societies of men, to signify, not those places, and persons, and powers only, but others also who should be in after ages like them, in the same sins and circumstance Dean Stanhope

15 — the Lord shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea ] The word tongue when applied to the sea signifies a bay and is so translated, Josh xv 2, and xviii 19 W Lenth Most interpreters apply the expression here to that bay of the Red sea over which the Israelites passed Vulunga

Perhaps the tongue of the Egyptian sea may mean that part of the land of Egypt which was enclosed among the mouths of the Nile, the Nile being understood to be the Egyptian sea This has at times been described under the semblance of a pear, and as he art, and also a tongue, all these objects having some analogy in their shape Bryant

— with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river,

CHAP XII.

Before
CHRIST
about 713

A joyful thanksgiving of the faithful for the mercies of God

AND in that day thou shalt say, O LORD, I will praise thee, though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me

2 Behold, God is my salvation, I will trust, and not be afraid for the LORD JEHOVAH is my strength and my song, he also is become my salvation

3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation

4 And in that day shall ye say, Praise the LORD, || call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.

5 Sing unto the LORD, for he hath done excellent things this is known in all the earth

6 Cry out and shout, thou † inhabitant of Zion for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

Isa. 12
Ps 118

1 Ch m 16 8 18 10
|| Ab 18 10 18 10

† Heb inhabitants

CHAP XIII

1 God mustereth the armies of his wrath 6 He threateneth

&c ] This plainly alludes to the passage of the Red sea and refers to the particular circumstance mentioned Exod xiv 21 Bp Lenth Whether we understand the river here of the Nile famous for its seven mouths, or the Euphrates (see note on chap vii 20,) and suppose allusion made to Cyrus draining that river when he took Babylon, chap xiv 27 Jer l 98, the sense is the same, and imports the removing of all impediments that might hinder the return of God's people See Rev xvi 12 W Lenth

Chap XII This chapter is an hymn of praise, proper to be used in the triumphant state of the Church, described in the foregoing chapter Of the same use are chapters xxi, xxvi, and several of the Psalms W Lenth

Ver 3 Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation ] That is, from God's inexhaustible bounty, which is the fountain of all blessings in Jesus Christ see Ps xxxvi 9 Jer xl 13 Bp Wilson W Lenth

On the last day of the feast of tabernacles, the Jews fetched water in a golden pitcher from the fountain of Siloah, brought it through the watergate into the temple, and poured it, mixed with wine on the sacrifice as it lay upon the altar, with great rejoicing This custom is not ordained in the law of Moses, and seems to have been taken up in allusion to this passage of Isaiah Our Saviour applied the ceremony, and the intention of it, to Himself, and to the effusion of the Holy Ghost, promised, and to be given, by Him, John vii 37, 39 Bp Lenth

Chap XIII This chapter and the next (striking off a few of the last verses of it, which belong to a different subject) contain one entire prophecy, foretelling the destruction of Babylon by the Medes and Persians, delivered probably in the reign of Abaz, about 200 years before the completion of it The captivity itself of the Jews at Babylon, (which the Prophet does not expressly foretell, but supposes, in the spirit of prophecy, as what was actually effected,) did not fully take place till about 190 years after the delivery of this prophecy, and the Medes, who are expressly mentioned, ver 17 of this chapter, as principal agents in the overthrow of the Babylonian monarchy, by which the Jews were released from that captivity, were at this time an inconsiderable

Before
CHRIST
about 712

enth to destroy Babylon by the Medes 19 The desolation of Babylon

THE burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see

Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, shake the hind, that they may go into the gates of the nobles

I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoice in my highness

The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people, a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: the Lord of hosts mustereth the host of the battle

They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, even the Lord, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land

Howl ye, for the day of the Lord is at hand, it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty

Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt

And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them, they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another, their faces shall be as flames

On full of Heb at his n. h. u. Heb
f. u. s. f. l. flame

people having been in a state of anarchy ever since the fall of the great Assyrian empire of which they had made a part and did not become a kingdom till about the seventeenth year of Hezekiah Bp Tenth

The former part of this prophecy is one of the most beautiful examples that can be given of elegance of composition variety of imagery and sublimity of sentiment and diction in the prophetic style and the latter part consists of an ode of singular excellence Bp Tenth Our margin sets the date of this prophecy a little later than the reign of Ahaz namely, about the fifteenth year of Hezekiah

Ver 1 The burden of Babylon ] A prophecy threatening ruin, or some severe punishment Bp Wilson

The word in the original is of more general import and signification it sometimes signifies a prophecy of good as well as evil Bps Newton and Chandler

Lift ye up a banner &c ] The prophecy opens with the command of God to gather the forces which He had destined to His service against Babylon upon which the Prophet immediately bears the tumultuous noise of the different nations crowding to either to the standard he sees them advancing prepared to execute the Divine wrath ver 1-5 and proceeds to describe the dreadful consequences of this visitation, and the consternation which will seize those that are objects of it Bp Tenth

— into the gates of the nobles ] To enlist under their several commanders Bp Tenth

I have commanded my sanctified ones ] This signifies those whom God has set apart for His purpose So He calls Cyrus His anointed Isai xlv 1 and Nebuchadnezzar His servant Jer xlviii 1

— their faces shall be as flames ] Black and ghastly like smoke and flames See Joel ii 6 Nahum ii 10 Bp Wilson

— I will shake the heavens and the constellations thereof shall not be shaken ]

9 Behold, the day of the Lord cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it

For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine

And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity, and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible

I will make a man more precious than fine gold, even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir

Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the Lord of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger

And it shall be as the chased roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land

Every one that is found shall be thrust through, and every one that is joined unto them shall fall by the sword

Then children also shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes, then houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished

When the Hebrew poets represent the destruction and overthrow of kingdoms the stars are obscured the moon withdraws her light, the sun shines no more the earth quakes the heavens tremble, and all things seem tending to the original chaos See Joel ii 10, iii 1, 16, Amos viii 9 Matt xxiv 29 Bp Tenth

All these high expressions are the peculiar and even natural language of the Eastern nations, no more even at this day, would be understood to be meant by them than that Babylon should be utterly destroyed, the government ruined and the people severely treated Bp Wilson

And I will punish the world ] The Prophet suddenly transfers the speech from himself to God, and sets forth, under a variety of the most striking images the dreadful destruction of the inhabitants of Babylon which will follow ver 11—16 and the everlasting desolation to which that great city is doomed ver 17—21 See chap xxi 10 and notes there The world here signifies the Babylonish empire as it does the Roman empire, or Judea in Luke ii 1 Acts xi 28 Bp Tenth

I will make a man more precious than fine gold ] Such shall be the destruction of man fit to be a man see the like calamity described chap iv 1 Or the words may import, that the Medes should spare no man's life though he could purchase it with gold See ver 17 Bp Tenth — of Ophir ] See notes on 1 Kings ix 28

I will shake the heavens and the earth shall remove &c ] The figurative language of the Prophets is taken from the analogy between the world natural and an empire or kingdom considered as a world political The heavens and the things therein signify thrones and dignities, and those who enjoy them the earth with the things thereon, the inferior people Great earth quakes and the shaking of heaven and earth, are put for the shaking of kingdoms so as to distract and overthrow them So I Newton

Before CHAP. I about 12 17 Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver, and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.

18 Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces, and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb, their eye shall not spare children.

19 ¶ And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.

20 It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there; neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.

17 — which shall not regard silver.] That is shall not be induced by large offers of ransom to spare. It is remarkable that Xenophon makes Cyrus open a speech to his army with praising them for a similar disregard of riches. "Ye Medes, and others who now hear me I well know that you have not accompanied me in this expedition with a view of acquiring wealth." Bp Lenth

18 Their bows also.] The Persians were celebrated for their archery chap xxii 6 Jerem xlix 35 (see note on chap xxi 2) Profane writers mention the magnitude of their bows. Probably their neighbours and allies the Medes too dealt much in the same sort of arms. Bp Lenth

The Medes is a general name for both nations, and so used and applied by Greek historians, as well as sacred writers. Bp Newton

19 — Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees excellency.] After Nineveh was destroyed, Babylon became the queen of the East. Semiramis is said by some, and Belus, who is probably the same as Nimrod, (see note on Gen x 9) by others, to have founded this city. It was Nebuchadnezzar however that made it one of the wonders of the world. He enlarged and beautified it to such a degree, that he may in a manner be said to have built it as he boasts, Dan iv 30. Dan Prud'aux Bp Newton It was, according to the lowest account given of it by ancient historians a regular square forty-five miles in compass enclosed by a wall two hundred feet high, and fifty broad in which there were one hundred gates of brass. Its principal ornaments were, the temple of Belus in the middle of which was a tower of eight stories of building, upon a base of a quarter of a mile square, a most magnificent palace, and the famous hanging gardens, which were an artificial mountain raised upon arches and planted with trees of the largest as well as the most beautiful sorts. The old palace was four miles in compass, the new, built by Nebuchadnezzar was four times as large. Two canals were made by Nebuchadnezzar a hundred miles above the city one on the eastern side of the Euphrates called Naharmalcha, or the royal river, by which the Euphrates was let into the Tigris, the other on the western side called Pallucopas, or Naharagi, (the river of the pool) by which the redundant waters of the Euphrate were carried into a vast lake forty miles square, contrived not only to lessen the inundation, but for a reservoir, with sluices to water the barren country on the Arabian side. There were also prodigious banks of brick and bitumen carried a long way on each side of the river, to keep it within its channel. Bp Lenth, Dan Prud'aux

20 — It shall never be inhabited &c.] Babylon never recovered its ancient splendour after it was taken by Cyrus, but upon the removal of the seat of empire from thence by the Persians by degrees decayed till it was at last reduced to an utter solitude. Berosus in Josephus says that Cyrus ordered the outer walls to be pulled down, the Persian kings ever regarded Babylon with a jealous eye Darius Hystaspes, upon a revolt &c. by the populace the place lowered the walls, and demolished

Before CHAP. I about 12 21 But the wild beasts of the desert shall lie there, and then houses shall be full of the doleful creatures, and owls shall dwell there, and satyrs shall dance there.

22 And the wild beasts of the islands shall cry in their desolate houses, and dragons in their pleasant palaces, and her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

CHAP. XIV

1 God's merciful restoration of Israel 4 Then triumphant insurrection over Babel 24 God's purpose against Assyria 29 Palestina is threatened

FOR the LORD will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and the gates, Xerxes destroyed the temple the building of Seleucia on the Tigris exhausted Babylon by its neighbourhood as well as by the immediate loss of inhabitants taken away by Seleucus to people his new city, a king of the Parthians soon after carried away into slavery a great number, and destroyed the most beautiful parts of the city. In more modern times Jerome (who lived in the fourth century) mentions Babylon is nothing more than a chase for wild beasts to feed and breed there for the king of Persia's hunting, exactly agreeing with ver 21 and later travellers who have endeavoured to find the remains of Babylon, give but very unsatisfactory accounts some taking what ruins they saw to be those of Nebuchadnezzar's palace or the tower of Babel others supposing them the remains of some more modern building. The place thereabouts is represented as overrun with serpents, scorpions, and all sorts of venomous and unclean creatures, agreeably to ver 22. Bp Lenth, Bps Lenth and Newton

20 — neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there, neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.] This is a proper representation of complete and entire desolation for it is common in the East for shepherds to make use of remaining ruins to shelter their flocks in and it implies a great degree of solitude when it is said, that the place where great cities stood should be turned into pasture. chap xvii 2 xxvii 10 but it is predicted that the city of Babylon shall be fit for wild creatures only to resort to. Harnar, Bp Lenth

It is uncertain what creatures are meant by some Hebrew words in the following verses particularly what the word signifies which our English renders satyrs. It originally means goats, in which shape evil spirits were supposed to appear, on which account our interpreters sometimes render it devils. See note at Levit xvii 7 2 Chron vi 1 but here and chap xxxv 14, it is rendered satyrs. Desolate and forlorn place were supposed to be inhabited by evil spirits. Compare Bauch iv 5. Rev xviii 2 Bp Lenth

Chap XIV ver 1 For the Lord will have mercy on Jacob and will yet choose Israel.] However He may seem to desert them Judah, whose deliverance from captivity was the immediate consequence of the revolution foretold in the last chapter is sometimes called Israel, see Ezek xiii 16 Mal i 1, ii 11 but the name of Jacob and of Israel used apparently with design in this place, each of which names includes the twelve tribes and the other circumstances mentioned in this and the next verse which did not in any complete sense accompany the return from the captivity of Babylon, seem to intimate that this whole prophecy extends its views beyond that event. Bp Lenth And generally whenever the Prophets speak of the life to follow upon the return from the captivity it is to be understood that the beginnings of their promises are to take place in that temporary restoration of the Jewish state, but that their full and final completion is to be looked for only in the days of the Messiah. This is the key to open the meaning of all oracles on this subject. This is the true light to guide us to the interpretation of the prophetic word. Ittranga

<sup>Before</sup> CH. XI. I set them in their own land and the strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob

2 And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the Lord for servants and handmaids and they shall take them captives, † whose captives they were, and they shall rule over their oppressors

3 And it shall come to pass in the day that the Lord shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,

4 ¶ That thou shalt take up this || proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the || golden city ceased!

5 The Lord hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the scepter of the rulers

6 He who smote the people in wrath with † a continual stroke, he that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted, and none hindereth

|| Or \ I mention of each

|| Or exactness of gold

† Heb a stroke without mercy

The deliverance of Judah from captivity which is here set forth, without being much enlarged upon, or greatly amplified introduces with the greatest ease and the utmost propriety, the triumphant song on the overthrow of the Babylonian monarchy, ver 1—28. Bp Lowth This passage (ver 4—28) contains a greater assemblage of sublime ideas, of bold and daring figures, than is perhaps any where else to be met with. Dr Blau

— strangers shall be joined with them &c ] It is probable that many strangers might become proselytes to the Jewish religion during the captivity. W Lowth

1. *They indeed bear testimony to a partial completion of even the most literal sense of this prophecy, as the Jews brought back with them from Babylon some thousands of slaves, and afterwards for a time under the prosperous government of the Assyrian princes, held their neighbours and ancient enemies in subjection but we must look farther to the spiritual completion this and similar descriptions do import the conversion of whole nations and all nations to the true religion, and consequently could not be completed in the proselyting only of a few particular persons but must intend a general reduction of all people to the same obedience. See notes on chap xlv 14, xlix 23. *Fritzing, Dr Berriman

4 — thalt take up this proverb ] The word thus translated signifies not only a proverbial speech, but an acute and excellent saying, drawn up with art and adorned with rhetorical figures. W Lowth See Bp Lowth's note on Job xxvii 1, and Abp Newcome's on Numb xxiii 7

— and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! &c ] A chorus of Jews is here introduced, expressing their surprise and astonishment at the sudden downfall of Babylon, and the great reverse of fortune that had befallen the tyrant who, like his predecessors, had oppressed his own, and harassed the neighbouring kingdoms. These oppressed kingdoms, or their rulers, are represented under the image of the fir trees and cedars of Libanus frequently used to express any thing in the political or religious world that is superlatively great and majestic. the whole earth shouteth for joy the cedars of Libanus utter a severe taunt over the fallen tyrant and boast their security now he is no more. Bp Lowth

4) Hell from beneath is moved for thee &c ] See notes on Gen xxxvii 35 and Job xxvi 5 6. The scene is here changed, and a new set of persons is introduced: the regions of the dead are laid

7 The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet they break forth into singing

8 Yea, the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Libanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no taller is come up against us

9 || Hell from beneath is moved for thee || Or to meet thee at thy coming it stretcheth up the dead for thee, even all the || chief ones of the earth, it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations

10 All they shall speak and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we art thou become like unto us?

11 Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee

12 How art thou fallen from heaven, || O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!

13 For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God I will sit

B or CH. XI. I
about 1

|| Or
th. & are

† Heb leaders
|| Or at u

|| Or ut || Or
|| I / u

open, and hades is represented as rousing up the shades of the departed monarchs they rise from their thrones to meet the king of Babylon at his coming, and insult him on his being reduced to the same state of impotence and dissolution with themselves. This is one of the boldest figures that ever was attempted in poetry and is executed with astonishing brevity and perspicuity, and with that peculiar force, which in a great subject naturally results from both. This image of the state of the dead is taken from the Eastern custom of burying those at least of higher rank in large sepulchral vaults hewn in the rock. Maundrell mentions remains of sepulchres of this kind at Jerusalem, and to be the sepulchres of the kings of Judah. Travellers tell us of similar monuments in Persia, mentioned by Diodorus Siculus as sepulchres of the kings of Persia. We must form to ourselves an idea of an immense subterraneous vault, a vast gloomy cavern, all round the sides of which there are cells to receive the dead bodies, here the deceased monarchs lie, in a distinguished sort of state each on his couch with his arms beside him, and his sword at his head, see Ezek xxii 27, on which place Chardin remarks, that this is the custom in Mingrelia. These illustrious shades rise at once from their couches, as from their thrones, and advance to the entrance of the cavern to meet the king of Babylon, and to receive him with insults on his fall. Bp Lowth

12 How art thou fallen from heaven O Lucifer, ] Princes and rulers are figuratively expressed by the host of heaven and the king of Babylon, who outshone others, is here represented by the morning star. See notes on chap xiii 13. The expression likewise alludes to the fall of Satan, prince of the apostate angels, Luke x 18. W Lowth

The Jews now resume the speech they address the king of Babylon, as the morning star fallen from heaven, as the first in splendour and dignity in the political world fallen from his high state they introduce him as uttering the most extravagant vaunts of his power and ambitious designs in his former glory these are strongly contrasted in the close with his present low and abject condition. Bp Lowth

13 — I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation in the sides of the north ] This is mount Sion, or rather mount Moriah on the north side of it, on which the temple was built. It might better be rendered 'mount of the convention, so called not because the people assembled there to perform their religious cere

Before CHRIST also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north

11 I will ascend above the heights of the clouds, I will be like the most High

12 Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit

16 They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms, 17 That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof, that opened not the house of his prisoners?

18 All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house

19 But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with sword, that go down to the stones of the pit, as a carcass trodden under feet

20 Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned 21 Prepare slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers, that they do not rise, nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities

22 For I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon the name, and remnant, and son, and nephew, saith the LORD

23 I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts

24 ¶ The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass, and as I have purposed, so shall it stand

25 That I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke be put from off them, and his burden be put from off their shoulders

26 This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations

27 For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?

28 In the year that king Ahaz died was this burden

¶ Or h t e r t h t p r t s t o s h m t t

none: but because God there manifested Himself as He had before appointed to meet the people in the tabernacle. Exod. xxxix. 13. This perhaps only literally explains what was figuratively expressed in the former part of the verse: "heaven" and the "sanctuary" and God's ministers. Idem

16. They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee. Certain persons are introduced here who light upon the corpse of the king of Babylon cut out and lying naked on the bare ground covered with wounds and so disfigured that it is some time before they know him. They reproach him with the severest taunt and bitterly reproach him with his ambition and cruelty which have deservedly brought on him this ignominious treatment so different from that which those of his rank usually meet with and so full of disgrace to his posterity. Bp Lenth

18. every one in his own house. That is in his sepulchre. So the grave is called the "home," as our translation well expresses it. Idem

19. like an abominable branch. It is for nothing but to rot on the ground. Idem Or we may understand him compared to the tree on which a malefactor had been hanged. The Jews held this an object of abomination and covered it with earth together with the malefactor. Bp Lenth

21. the vengeance of those that are slain. The touching of such cloth did contravene uncleanness by the law, Numb. xix. 16. Idem

22. that they do not rise. The Persian monarchs took care to prevent Babylon recovering its former greatness: the Jews were first brought to Babylon to people and strengthen it, and the weakening and depopling of it might be one reason for their being cut back. Bp Lenth Dean Prideaux

23. For I will rise up against them, saith the Lord of hosts, &c. To complete the whole God is here introduced declaring the fate of Babylon the utter extinction of the royal family and the total dissolution of the city: the deliverance of His people and the destruction of their enemy confirming the irreversible decree by the awful sanction of His oath. Bp Lenth

— replen. The same Hebrew word is translated Gen

xxi. 2. "son's son" and so it should be here. It may mean Nebuchadnezzar (Nebuchadnezzar the great king of Babylon son) and Belshazzar. See Jer. xxv. 6, 7. Dean Prideaux Bp Lenth

23. I will also make it a possession for the bittern and pools of water. Cyrus took the city of Babylon by diverting the waters of the Euphrates which ran through the midst of it, and entering the place at night by the channel. It was two furlongs wide, but he had made it fordable by means of the lake (see note on chap. xiii. 19) and trenches which he had prepared. The river being thus turned, by the breaking down of dams and banks and no care taken afterwards to repair the breach, all the country was overflowed and drowned, and ultimately a whole province lost. Alexander who intended to have made Babylon the seat of his empire, about remedying the mischief, but difficulties arising, he soon after dying, and the work being never more thought of, this country has remained bog and marsh ever since. Bp Lenth, Dean Prideaux

25. I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot. The Assyrians and Babylonians are mentioned as the same people by profane authors and see 2 King. xxii. 29, 2 Chron. xxxiii. 11. But the circumstance of this judgment being to be executed on God's mountain is of importance: it may mean the destruction of Sennacherib's army near Jerusalem but probably has still a further view to some remarkable enemies of God's church, see note on chap. xi. 14. Bp Lenth, Dean Prideaux

27. For the Lord of hosts &c. I believe it may with truth be affirmed that there is no poem of its kind extant in any language, in which the subject is so well laid out and so happily conducted, with such a richness of invention with such variety of images, persons and distinct actions, with such rapidity and ease of transition in so small a compass, as in this ode of Isaiah. For beauty of disposition, strength of colouring, greatness of sentiment, brevity, perspicuity and force of expression it stands among all the monuments of antiquity unrivalled. Bp Lenth

28. This verse our translators refer to the former part of the chapter: many commentators suppose it to belong to the burden against Philistia that follows. Editor

1 Chron.
11. 15 at int. 712

2 Chron.
0. 6
Job. 9. 1
Lev. 1
0 Dm. 1

CHRIST
726

29 ¶ Rejoice not thou, whole Palestina, because the rod of him that smote thee is broken for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a cockatrice, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent

30 And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety, and I will kill thy root with famine, and he shall slay thy remnant

31 Howl, O gate, city, O city, thou, whole Palestina, art dissolved for there shall come from the north a smoke, and none shall be alone in his appointed times

32 What shall one then answer the messengers of the nation? That the Lord hath founded Zion, and the poor of his people shall trust in it

CHAP XV

The lamentable state of Moab

THE burden of Moab Because in the night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence, because in the night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence,

29 — whole Palestina ] All the tribe or clans of the Philistines who had five lords or heads over them See Josh xiii 3 1 Sam vi 1, 10 W Lenth

— the rod of him that smote thee is broken ] On either The rod that smote thee is broken It would be most natural and obvious to suppose Ahaz meant here whose death seems to have given rise to the rejoicing of the Philistines But is we learn from 2 Chron xxviii 15 that during his reign the Philistines rather gained ground upon the Jews, than were smitten by them we may conclude that Uzziah who had won successfully against the Philistines, is meant by the rod that smote them and the serpent from whom should spring the fiery flying serpent This list must mean Hezekiah who was great grandson to Uzziah and is thus described as a more terrible enemy than he had been See 2 Kings xviii 8 Idringa Bp Lenth Hezekiah not only regained all the cities of Judah which the Philistines had seized during the time when Pekah and Rezin distressed the land but also dispossessed them of almost all their own country Dean Prideaux

— a fiery flying serpent ] See notes on chap xxx 6 Numb xxi 6

30 — the firstborn of the poor shall feed &c ] That is the poorest This speaks of the plenty and security that should ensue under the government of Hezekiah Dr Wells

31 — there shall come from the north a smoke ] Smoke and fire are emblems of God's wrath and of great calamities See Gen xv 17 Ps xxiii 8 W Lenth

32 What shall one then answer the messengers of the nation? ] Namely that sends to congratulate the Jews upon their victories? That the Lord is their protector Bp H Lenth See 2 Chron xxxv 23 The Septuagint and Chaldee give the plural nations Bp Lenth

CHAP XV This and the following chapter taken together make an entire prophecy The time of the delivery of it and consequently of the completion, which was to be in three years from that time is uncertain But the most probable account is that it was delivered soon after the foregoing in the first year of Hezekiah and accomplished in his fourth year when Sennacherib invaded the kingdom of Israel he might probably march thron h

2 He is gone to Bapth, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep Moab shall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba on all their heads shall be baldness, and every beard cut off

3 In their streets they shall gird themselves with sackcloth on the tops of their houses, and in their streets, every one shall howl, & weeping abundantly

4 And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh their voice shall be heard even unto Jahiz therefore the armed soldiers of Moab shall cry out, his life shall be grievous unto him

5 My heart shall cry out for Moab, his fugitives shall flee unto Zoar, in a heifer of three years old for by the mounting up of Luhith with weeping shall they go it up, for in the way of Horonaim they shall rise up a city of destruction

6 For the waters of Nimrim shall be desolate for the hay is withered away, the grass fuleth, there is no green thing

7 Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away to the brook of the willows

Moab and, to secure every thing behind him possess him self of the whole country by taking their principal strong places Ar and Kirharez or Kirhureseth chap xvi 7 Bp Lenth W Lenth Jeremiah has happily introduced much of this prophecy of Isaiah into his own larger prophecy against the same people chap xlviii Bp Lenth

Ver 1 — Because in the night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence because &c ] We should rather translate

'Because in the night Ar is destroyed Moab is undone'

'Because in the night Kir is destroyed Moab is undone'

Bp Lenth
2 He is gone to Bapth and to Dibon ] He is used for the people of Moab Bapth and Dibon are in the Chaldee and Syriack versions made into the name of one place Beth Dibba Both may signify the house or temple of an idol Bp Lenth W Lenth

— on all their heads shall be baldness &c ] Tokens of great mourning see chap xxii 12 Jer vii 29 Idringa W Lenth

— on the tops of their house ] See the note on Deut xxii 8 All Pagans sacrifice on high places and terraces See J Chardin In the temple of Belus the uppermost story of all was the most sacred and where the chiefest devotions were performed Dean Prideaux

3 — his fugitives shall flee unto Zoar ] Zoar his fugitives shall cry unto Zoar an heifer &c The particle as is frequently understood see chap xvi 8 W Lenth

— an heifer of three years old ] The meaning seems to be, that the city of Moab should be continued on from city to city till the whole country resounded is with the lowing of a young cow that runs from place to place in search of her calf, that has been taken from her An image singularly expressive Dr Blayney

6 — the waters of Nimrim ] This place was famous for good pasture and meadows well watered See Numb xxxii 3 W Lenth

— for the hay is withered away ] Rather, the herbage for in those countries they make no hay and, if they did proper husbandry that hay could hardly be the mourning of the only word either here or in Prov xxvii 25 Idringa

— carry away to the brook of the willows ] That is, to Baby

Before
CHRIST
about 726

8 For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab, the howling thereof unto Bglaim, and the howling thereof unto Bechim

† Heb
the sons

9 For the waters of Dimon shall be full of blood for I will bring † more upon Dimon, lions upon him that escapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land

CHAP XVI

1 Moab is exhorted to yield obedience to Christ's kingdom 6 Moab is threatened for her pride 9 The prophet bewaileth her 12 The judgment of Moab

† Or P'na
† Heb a rock

SEND ye the lamb to the ruler of the land from † Sela to the wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion

† Or a nest for saken
† Heb bring

2 For it shall be, that, as a wandering bird † cast out of the nest, so the daughters of Moab shall be at the fords of Arnon

3 Take counsel, execute judgment, make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday, hide the outcasts, bewray not him that wandereth

† Heb twain or
† Heb the treaders of iron † Dan 7 14-7
Mic 4-7
Luke 1-13

4 Let mine outcasts dwell with thee, Moab, be thou a covert to them from the face of the spoiler for the † extortioner is at an end, the spoiler ceaseth, † the oppressors are consumed out of the land

5 And in mercy † shall the throne be lon see Ps cxxxvii 2 Dean Pridaux, Bp Lenth Or, we may read, as the margin gives it "to the valley of the Arabians, whither the Assyrians might carry the booty they took, it being the direct way from Moab to Assyria" W Lenth

9 — waters of Dimon shall be full of blood ] Jerome tells us, that Dimon is the same with Dibon ver 2 Vitringa

— for I will bring more &c ] I will bring more and more calamities and they that fly to escape the present evils shall fall into worse as if a man that fled from his enemy should meet a lion to destroy him see Jer xlviii 34, Amos v 19 W Lenth The additional calamities threatened here to fall upon Moab may perhaps relate to that which Nebuchadnezzar was to bring upon them, of which Jeremiah prophesies Vitringa

[ Chap XVI ver 1 Sena ye the lamb &c ] The Moabites were subdued by David and became his tributaries, 2 Sam viii 2 The king of Moab is said to send 100,000 lambs, 2 Kings 17 4 To something of this kind the Prophet may allude here, and exhort the Moabites to renew to the heir of David's family an acknowledgment which probably had been discontinued "Sela to the wilderness should rather be translated, Sela in the wilderness" see 2 Kings xiv 7 W Lenth

It is a custom of the East for the poor people to make presents of lamb and sheep to their lords, as an offering or tribute See I Chardin

— the daughters of Moab shall be at the fords of Arnon ] En denoting to seek their lodging in foreign parts Bp Hall

— make thy shadow as the night &c ] The Prophet speaks by way of advice to the Moabites, to shew kindness to their brethren the Jews as in reason and justice they ought in the time of their distress adding however that there should be no great occasion for their help, as God Himself would preserve them W Lenth, D Wells

4 — for the extortioner is at an end &c ] This applies perhaps to the Israelites who in Ahaz's time invaded Judah 2 Chron xxviii 5, 6 With those former times of distress is contrasted the security and flourishing state of the kingdom under Hezekiah, established and he shall sit upon it in truth in the tabernacle of David, judging, and seeking judgment, and hasting righteousness

† Heb
CHRIST
about 726
† Or
prepared

6 ¶ We have heard of the † pride of Moab, he is very proud even of his haughtiness, and his pride, and his wrath but his lies shall not be so

† Heb
29

7 Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab, every one shall howl for the foundations of Kir-hureseth shall ye † mourn, surely they are stricken

† Or mourn

8 For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah the lords of the heathen have broken down the principal plants thereof, they are come even unto Jazer, they wandered through the wilderness her branches are † stretched out, they are gone over the sea

† Or plucked &c

9 ¶ Therefore I will bewail with the weeping of Jazer the vine of Sibmah I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh for † the shouting for thy summer fruits and for thy harvest is fallen

† Or the alarm is fallen upon sc

10 And † gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field, and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither shall there be shouting the treaders shall who should govern with an equal mixture of justice and mercy and therein prefigure the Messiah Bp Lenth W Lenth

6 — but his lies shall not be so ] That is, the predictions of such as take upon them to foretell things shall not have events agreeable to their pride and wrath Dr Wells

8 — they are come even unto Jazer &c ] The plants of the celebrated "vine of Sibmah" are described as propagated over all the neighbouring country Jazer was in the north border of Moab, the wilderness of Moab lay to the east of that country (Numb xxi 23) and by the sea no other can well be understood but the Dead sea which was southwest Dr Blayney Perhaps the meaning of the words, "are gone over the sea," is that these vines were not only in great request in the country of Moab but had scions of them sent beyond sea, into foreign countries Bp Lenth

Some interpreters suppose, that by the vine of Sibmah is meant the state of Moab and its principal men by the principal plants, but these may better be taken literally The vines and the pastures (chap xv 6) formed the chief excellence of the country, and the Prophet accordingly foretells the destruction of those things, the loss of which would most affect the people Vitringa

9 — I will bewail with the weeping of Jazer &c ] That is with a general lamentation such as shall be heard from the uttermost skirts of the land Bp Hall

— for the shouting &c ] The word in the original signifies loud shouting, either as of men treading grapes, (ver 10, and Jer xxi 30,) or of soldiers encouraging one another to battle or plunder Jer li 14 And in this latter view the learned Vitringa understands the word in this place "for upon thy summer fruits and upon thy harvest the shout (that is, of plundering and destroying enemies) is fallen" Compare Jer xl vii 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100 See the marginal translation On the scene may be, according to the translation in the text, The joy and acclamation that were wont to be at the gathering of thy summer fruits and for thy plentiful harvest, are now at an end, and shall be heard no more Bp Hall

<sup>1</sup> <sup>CHRS</sup> <sup>about 711</sup> tread out no wine in their presses, I have made their vintage shouting to cease

11 Wherefore my bowels shall sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-haresh

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when it is seen that Moab is weary on the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuary to pray, but he shall not prevail

13 This is the word that the LORD hath spoken concerning Moab since that time

14 But now the LORD hath spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of an hurling, and the glory of Moab shall be condemned, with all that great multitude, and the remnant shall be very small and feeble

CHAP. XVII

1 Syria and Israel are threatened 6 A remnant shall forsake idolatry 9 The rest shall be plagued for their impiety 12 The woe of Israel's enemies

<sup>about 741</sup> <sup>710</sup> THE burden of Damascus Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap

2 The cities of Aioer are forsaken they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid

3 The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the LORD of hosts

4 And in that day it shall come to 11 — shall sound like an harp] Shall in their yearning through the vehemence of my passion make a loud noise Bp Hall

12 — when it is seen that Moab is weary on the high place, &c] meaning no relief in the petty idols of his high place he shall come to his chief sanctuary to implore the aid of Chemosh his god Bp Hall Compare Numb xxiii 1, 13, 27 W Lenth

13 — since that time] Rather a good while ago so the same article is rendered, chap xlviii 9 5 This judgment, saith the prophet was denounced against Moab in former time particularly by Amos, chap ii 1, &c It is now confirmed, and the particular time specified when it shall be accomplished, ver 14 W Lenth

14 — three years, as the years of an hurling] See Deut xi 18 W Lenth

Chap XVII ver 1 — Damascus is taken away from being a city] This prophecy is probably delivered soon after those of the seventh and eighth chapters in the beginning of the reign of Hazael and was fulfilled by Elisha taking Damascus, and carrying the people captives to Kir, 2 Kings xvi 9 Bp Lenth

2 — they shall be for flocks &c] See note on chap vii 25

3 The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim,] The burden of Damascus naturally brings the Prophet to speak of the subversion of the kingdom of Israel, in those days in alliance with the Syrians, chap vii 1, 2 and to be overthrown by the same enemy at the same time chap viii 4 Bp Horsley This chapter treats indeed more largely of the Israelites than of the Syrians and with regard to them was the prophecy more fully completed, by pass, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean <sup>1</sup> <sup>CHRS</sup> <sup>about 741</sup>

5 And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm, and it shall be as he that gathereth ears in the valley of Rephaim

6 ¶ Yet gleanings grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost fruitful branches thereof, saith the LORD God of Israel

7 At that day shall a man look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel

8 And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall respect that which his fingers have made, either the groves, or the images <sup>1</sup> <sup>Or</sup> <sup>741</sup>

9 ¶ In that day shall his strong cities be as a forsaken bough, and an uppermost branch, which they left because of the children of Israel and there shall be desolation

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength, therefore shalt thou plant pleasant plants, and shalt set it with strange slips

11 In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish but the harvest the conquest of the kingdom, and captivity of the people, effected a few years later by Shalmaneser Bp Lenth

5 — the valley of Rephaim] The valley of Rephaim near Jerusalem celebrated for its plentiful harvests, is here used poetically for any fruitful country Bp Lenth

6 — as the shaking of an olive tree] The former verse was an illustration of Israel's entire destruction from the ridding of fields in the corn harvest compare Jer li 33, Hos vi 11 Here the metaphor is taken from the gathering of the summer fruits, and the remnant compared to the few berries left on an olive tree that had been beaten by its owner to be shaken off by the poor See Deut xxiv 20 W Lenth Harmer

Agreeably to the promise here made of a remnant we find that some of the ancient inhabitants of the ten tribes were left after Shalmaneser's captivity, and even after that of Sennacherib, and some turned to serve the true God, as predicted ver 7, 8 See 2 Chron xxx 10 11, xxxv 15 W Lenth

10, 11 — therefore shalt thou plant pleasant plants, &c] The pleasant plants and shoots from a foreign soil, are allegorical expressions for strange and idolatrous worship, vicious and abominable practices connected with it, reliance on human aid, and on alliances entered into with the neighbouring countries especially Egypt, to all which the Israelites were greatly addicted, and in their expectations from which they should be grievously disappointed Bp Lenth

11 — in the morning shalt thou make] When the Hebrews would signify doing a thing speedily, with care and diligence, they often thus express it See chap i 4, and Ps xlvii 5 W Lenth

Before
CHRIST
about 741

Or removed in the day of vengeance and then hall be deadly

Or Or many

Or this it down

shall be a || heap in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow

12 ¶ Woe to the || multitude of many people, which make a noise like the noise of the seas, and to the rushing of nations, that make a rushing like the rushing of || mighty waters!

13 The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like || a rolling thing before the whirlwind.

14 And behold at eveningtide trouble, and before the morning he is not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

— [shall be heap] "Shall be removed, namely, by the Assyrians. Psalmist. See the margin.

12—14 These verses seem to relate to the formidable invasion of the Assyrians upon Judea and their sudden overthrow, ver. 11 fitly representing the condition of Sennacherib's army, which caused great consternation over night, but were all destroyed before the next morning. 2 Kings xix. 35. W. Louth

15 — [chaff of the mountains] The Jews used to thresh their corn upon hills and places exposed to the wind. See chap. xli. 1. 2 Chron. iii. 1. W. Louth

Chap. XVIII. This is one of the most obscure prophecies of Isaiah: the end and design of it, the people to whom it is addressed, the person who sends the messengers, and the nation to whom the messengers are sent, are all doubtful. Bp Louth. It has been considered as such by the whole succession of interpreters. Most have assumed, that the principal matter of the prophecy is a woe or judgment, that the object of this woe is Egypt, or some contiguous country, that the time of the execution of the judgment was at hand, when the prophecy was delivered. It appears to me that the principal matter of the prophecy is a promise of the final restoration of the Israelites, that it has no respect to Egypt or any of the contiguous countries, that the time of its completion is yet future, being indeed the seal on of the second advent of our Lord. Bp Horsley

Ver. 1. Woe to the land. The Hebrew particle here used does not necessarily imply a threat, it is sometimes an exclamation of surprise, and often simply copulative of persons at a distance. It may be rendered 'Ho! ho!', or, 'Ho to the land' &c. Bp Horsley, Iqtinga Bp Louth

— [land shadowing with wings which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia] The mention of the rivers of Ethiopia has led almost all expositors to look to Egypt as the country addressed. Some have understood by the wings of Egypt ridges of mountains running from south to north on either side of the Nile, somewhat resembling a pair of pinions: others take the wings for the sails of numerous vessels overshadowing the surface of the ocean: others, and Bp Louth among them, giving a different sense to the doubtful word rendered by our translators 'shadowing' translate 'land of the wind' or 'cymbal', which they suppose a poetical epithet for the Egyptian drum frequently used in their idolatrous rites. Our translators appear to me very judiciously to have taken the word in the sense of 'shadowing'. The shadow of wings is in usual image in the prophetic language for protection afforded by the stronger to the weak: and in this passage may be intended to denote some great people who should be famous for the aid and protection they should afford their friends and allies. The land of Cush (properly that district of Arabia where the sons of Cush first settled) is in Holy Writ taken largely for a great tract of country, comprehending much more than the proper

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God in care of his people will destroy the Ethiopians 7 An access thereby shall grow unto the church

Before
CHRIST
about 714

WOE to the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia

2 That sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of bulrushes upon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation || scattered and peeled, to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto, || to a nation meted out and trodden down, || whose land the rivers have spoiled!

3 All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, see ye, when he lifteth up an ensign on the mountains, and when he bloweth a trumpet, he is ye

Or
outspread and y<sup>e</sup> h ed
Or a nation it is t cut an traded down + High a natch of line of an l cad the under f of
Or who have the rivers
d quie

territory of the Cushites, extending east at least as far as the Tigris, and having for its western boundary the Nile: so that accordingly as we understand the Prophet to speak of the African or the Asiatick Cush, the land beyond its rivers is to be looked for to the west or to the east of Palestine. Which of these is meant it must be left for time to shew. Bp Horsley

2 — [vessels of bulrushes] It is well known that the Egyptians commonly used on the Nile a light sort of ships or boats made of the reed papyrus. Bp Louth. See notes on Exodus ii. 3, and Job ix. 26.

If Egypt is the country spoken to, vessels of bulrushes might be understood of those light skiffs, but if the country spoken to be distant from Egypt, those vessels may only be used as an apt image of quick-sailing vessels of any material. Bp Horsley — [saying Go ye swift messengers] The word saying, not in the original, or old versions. It should seem that the command is God's, issued by His prophet: and that the messenger to whom the command is given, are the very people summoned: the first verse to attend. Bp Horsley

— [to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto] The time present in prophetic vision is not the time of the delivery, but that of the fulfilment, of the prophecy. Now the people of Egypt has long ceased to be of any consideration: but the people of the Jews have been from their very beginning, are at this day, and will be to the end of time, a people venerable in religious sense, "awfully remarkable" (so the word might be rendered rather than 'terrible') on account of the special providence visibly attending them: and all the other particulars of the denunciation here given of the people, to whom messengers are sent, are accurately with the character and conduct of the Jews in the present state of dispersion. Bp Horsley

— [whose land the rivers have spoiled] This signifies conquests which long since have spoiled the land of the Jews. The inundation of rivers is a frequent image for the ravages of foreign invaders.

We have in ver. 1, 2, seen messengers summoned, a command given to them to go swiftly with the message, the people described to whom it was to be carried: it might be expected we should next have the message given to the messengers in proper terms. The scene is suddenly closed with ver. 3 before the messengers set out before even the message is given: but the objects which are immediately brought in view, evidently represent, under the usual emblems of sacred prophecy, a new part of the same entire action, and declare the purpose of the scene, the effect of the message. Ver. 3, an ensign or standard is set up on the mountains, a trumpet is blown on the hills, the standard of the cross of Christ, the trumpet of the Gospel, is resorted to the standard the effect of the summons, in the end will be universal. Bp Horsley

Before
CHRIST
about 714

On said my dwelling On rain

1 For so the LORD said unto me, I will take my rest, and I will || consider in my dwelling place like a clear heat || upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest

5 For afore the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower, he shall both cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and take away and cut down the branches

6 They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth and the fowls shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them

Or outward and polished,
&c

7 ¶ In that time shall the present be brought unto the LORD of hosts of a people || scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto, a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, the mount Zion

CHAP XIX

1 The confusion of Egypt 11 The foolishness of their

4 — [I will consider in my dwelling place] Rather read, with the margin, I will regard my set dwelling. The sentiment is, that notwithstanding a long suspension of extraordinary manifestations of God's power which is here described under the image of that stillness and stagnation of the atmosphere which takes place in extreme heats, His providence is not asleep. He is all the while keeping His eye fixed upon His prepared habitation, regarding the conduct and the fortunes of His people, and at all times directing every thing, though often by a silent and secret operation to their ultimate prosperity, and to the universal establishment of the true religion. Bp Horsley

— like a clear heat upon herbs,] The marginal reading, "after rain, seems to make better sense. W Lenth Bp Lenth

5 — afore the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower,] Rather, and the blossom is become a swelling grape. Bp Lenth

The harvest and gathering of the fruits is the constant image of that season, when God shall gather His elect from the four winds of heaven. This is to be immediately preceded by a pruning of the useless shoots and unfruitful luxurious branches. See John xv 1, 2. God in the later ages will purify His Church by such signal judgments as shall strike all nations with religious awe. Bp Horsley See note on chap xxv 1, 5

The interpretation of this confessedly obscure and very difficult chapter has been given above according to the hypothesis of Bp Horsley. The explanation of Bp Lenth supposes, that the prophecy was delivered before Sennacherib's return from his Egyptian expedition and that it was designed to give to the Jews, and perhaps likewise to the Egyptians, an intimation of God's counsels in regard to the destruction of their great and powerful enemy. He accordingly explains the "people and nation, spoken of in ver 2 to be the Egyptians" by "the scoundrel and the trumpet in ver 3, he understands the meteor, the thunder, the lightning, &c, which accompanied the destruction of Sennacherib's army, as described chap xxix 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and he states the subject of the fourth and following verses of the chapter to be, that God would comfort and support His own people, though threatened with immediate destruction by the Assyrians that Sennacherib's great designs and mighty efforts should be frustrated, that the chief part princes. 18 The calling of Egypt to the church 23 Before The covenant of Egypt Assyria, and Israel CHRIST

Vol II

about 714

THE burden of Egypt Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it

9 And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour, city against city, and kingdom against kingdom

3 And the spirit of Egypt I shall fill in the midst thereof, and I will destroy the counsel thereof and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to the wizards that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards

4 And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord, and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the LORD, the LORD of hosts

5 And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up of his army should be made a prey for the beasts of the field and the fowls of the air, ver 5, 6, and that Egypt, being delivered from his oppression, and avenged of the wrongs which she had suffered, should return thanks to God for the wonderful deliverance, both of herself and of the Jews, from this most powerful adversary. This interpretation of Bp Lenth corresponds in its outline with that proposed by Vitranga Edit

Chap XIX ver 1 The burden of Egypt] This chapter is a detail of the judgments which were to fall upon Egypt in various periods of the history of that country, from the time of the Prophet downwards. Bp Horsley After the destruction of Sennacherib's army before Jerusalem, by which the Egyptians were freed from the yoke with which they were threatened by this powerful enemy, who had been carrying on a successful warfare against them, their affairs were again thrown into confusion by intestine broils among themselves, (see ver 2,) perfect anarchy lasted for some years then followed an aristocracy of twelve princes, which ended in the sole dominion of Psammetichus, who reigned fifty-four years. Not long after that came the invasion and conquest of Egypt by Nebuchadnezzar and then that by the Persians under Cambyses, the son of Cyrus. Bp Lenth

— the idols of Egypt shall be moved] When God executes His judgments upon a heathen nation He is said to punish the idols of that people. See chap xxi 9, Exod xii 12, Jer li 44. W Lenth The same thing is foretold as to be performed by Nebuchadnezzar, Jer xlii 11, &c, Ezek xxx 13. The phrase used here of the LORD "riding upon a swift cloud" implies, that the conquest should be swift and sudden. Bp Newton This prophecy of the utter overthrow of heathen superstition is applicable also to the Gospel times, and signifies that after great desolation and confusion the Egyptians should learn to know the LORD: see ver 21. Dr Berriman

4 — a cruel lord,] Nebuchadnezzar, and afterwards the whole succession of Persian kings, who in general grievously oppressed the country, especially Cambyses and Ochus, who are branded in history as cruel tyrants, and monsters of men. Bps Lenth and Newton

5 And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up] By "the sea" here is to be understood the

7 M

Before
CHRIST
about 711

6 And they shall turn the rivers far away, and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither.

7 The paper reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks, shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.

† Heb and shall not be

8 The fishers also shall mourn, and all they that cast angle into the brooks shall lament, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.

|| Or,
white works

9 Moreover they that work in fine flax, and they that weave networks, shall be confounded.

† Heb faint things
† Heb of things shining

10 And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make sluices and ponds for fish.

11 Surely the princes of Zoan are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?

12 Where are they? where are thy wise

Nile, and the second part of the verse to be taken as no more than the Prophet's interpretation of the first. Jeremiah speaks thus of the Euphrates, chap. li. 36, and Nahum of the Nile, chap. m. 8. see also Zech. x. 10, 11. Of the Nile so described we have instances in profane authors. Vitringa. See the note on Job vii. 12, from Scripture Illustrated.

It is well known that the Nile increased in the summer, and for some months overflowed the whole country. The region about Delta particularly appeared like a vast sea, and the principal towns became so many islands, and all communication was carried on by ships and boats. Hence the river had the name of Oceanus, as Diodorus tells us. Bryant.

Some commentators suppose that this prophecy was to be literally fulfilled, and have accordingly seen its accomplishment in the reign of the twelve tyrants, when something of a failure is said to have taken place, or referred the words to a deficiency of water at some other period. History does afford instances of this, but the expression may be also understood more probably in a metaphorical sense, and denote the decay of Egyptian strength by metaphors taken from the decrease of the Nile, upon the overflowing of which all the plenty and prosperity of Egypt depended. Vitringa, W. Louth.

6 And they shall turn the rivers far away,] That is, The rivers shall be driven back, shall fail. Vitringa.

— the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up. ] This was literally done by Megabyzus, general of a Persian army, sent by Artaxerxes to reduce Egypt to obedience. Dr Wells. By making many channels he drained one of the branches of the Nile, and took possession of an island in the midst of it. Dean Prideaux.

7 The paper reeds,] The papyrus is the peculiar produce of the Nile: the streams drawn from it, and the lakes of Egypt beside the principal article made from it, paper, and the boats on the Nile (see note on chap. xviii. 2,) Pliny tells us, that the Egyptians applied it to various purposes, using the root for wood, and making, of the bark sails, ropes, clothes, &c. Vitringa.

— by the brooks by the mouth of the brooks,] What is here translated brooks is in Exod. vii. 19, (where there is a particular representation of the waters of Egypt, as here,) rendered rivers, both may signify the canals drawn from the Nile by Egyptian princes. Dr Shaw tells us, that the soil near the banks of the Nile itself is very considerably deeper than at the extremity to which the inundations reach, from whence it should seem, that men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the Lord of hosts hath purposed upon Egypt. Before CHRIST about 714.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of Noph are deceived, they have also seduced Egypt, even they that are the stay of the tribes thereof.

|| Or knows

14 The Lord hath mingled a perverse spirit in the midst thereof: and they have caused Egypt to err in every work thereof, as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.

† Heb
in † Heb a spirit of perversity

15 Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which the head or tail, branch or rush, may do.

16 In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the Lord of hosts, which he shaketh over it.

17 And the land of Judah shall be a terror unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof shall be afraid in himself, because of the counsel of the Lord of hosts, which he hath determined against it.

the land originally lay with a considerable descent to the river. To say then that things sown or cultivated near the mouths of the canals (which must have been in the lowest places, and sufficiently watered, when the higher grounds produced nothing, for want of moisture) should wither is to describe the utmost failure of water. Hamer.

8 The fishers also shall mourn, &c.] There was great plenty of fish in Egypt: see Numb. xi. 5. (see the note on Exod. xii. 21.) the lakes abounding even more than the Nile. Is Egmont, Pococke, and other travellers, tell us. Bp Louth.

As the exhaustion and misery about to take place in Egypt has been already figured out under the emblem of the drying up of the Nile, the grand source of all its wealth, so the grief of the persons who would be the first and greatest sufferers by that calamity, the fishers &c. is put to express the general despondency of all orders. Vitringa.

9 — they that weave networks,] "Networks," or rather, white-works, as in the margin, may mean wicker-work: white from the peeling of the twigs made use of. Fish may be caught by wicker-work, as well as by nets: and something of that kind appears in the Praenestine Mosaic Pavement, which Dr Shaw has given us. Hamer, Parkhurst.

13 — Zoan — Noph.] Zoan, or Tanis, was one of the most ancient cities of Egypt, see Numb. xiii. 22, Ps. lxxviii. 13. Noph is better known by the name of Memphis. W. Louth.

In verses 11—17 are recounted the immediate causes of the above-mentioned evils, the folly of the rulers, who valued themselves on their wisdom, and the cowardice and effeminacy of the people in general. Egypt would not have become a prey to so many foreign enemies, but through the excessive weakness of the Egyptians, both in counsel and in action: they had not the courage even to defend themselves, but trusted chiefly to their mercenaries, who, instead of defending, were often the first to betray them. Bp Newton.

14 The Lord hath mingled a perverse spirit, &c.] The Lord in His justice hath given them up to a spirit of giddiness and perverseness, justly punishing their pride with the seduction of their leaders, who have caused Egypt to go wrong in all their ways. Dr Hall.

17 And the land of Judah shall be a terror unto Egypt, &c.] The threatening hand of God will be held out and shaken over Egypt, from the side of Judah, through which the Assyrians will march to invade it. Bp Louth.

Before
CHRIST
about 711
f Heb
's lip
|| Or of her or of the sun

18 ¶ In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of hosts, one shall be called, The city of destruction

19 In that day shall there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the LORD

20 And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and a great one, and he shall deliver them

21 And the LORD shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation, yea, they shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and perform it

22 And the LORD shall smite Egypt he shall smite and heal it and they shall re-

18 In that day] That is, After that time Bp Newton See notes on chap iv 2 x 20

— shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan] It is a way of speaking in Scripture to use a common definite number for an indefinite See Amos i 3, 6, 9, (and the note on Job i 19) "Shall speak the language of Canaan" signifies that they shall worship God with the true Israelites W Lenth

The whole passage to the end of the chapter contains a general intimation of the future propagation of the knowledge of the true God in Egypt and Syria, under the successors of Alexander, and, in consequence of this propagation, of the early reception of the Gospel in the same countries, when it should be published to the world Bp Lenth Many Jews, after Nebuchadnezzar had taken Jerusalem, fled into Egypt and carried along with them Jeremiah, who there uttered most of his prophecies concerning the conquest of Egypt by Nebuchadnezzar From thence some knowledge of God, and some notices of the prophecies, might easily be derived to the Egyptians Alexander transplanted many of the Jews into his new city Alexandria the first Ptolemy carried more, and his successors gave great encouragement to settlers nor were the Jews less favoured by many of the Syrian kings Bp Newton

— one shall be called, The city of destruction] The margin reads, "The city of the sun," and many suppose the city Heliopolis to be meant here and that the other name is substituted for it (as being expressed in the Hebrew by a word which bears near affinity to the true name) by way of reproach and implying withal, that the idol there worshipped should be utterly destroyed Upon much the same principle Beth-el, which signifies the house of God, is called, when become the seat of idolatry, Beth-aven, that is, the house of vanity Ho iv 15 x 5 W Lenth

19 In that day shall there be an altar to the Lord &c] The altar, sacrifice, oblation, and vows, mentioned here and at ver 21, are taken for the worship and service of God in general, it being common in the prophetick style to speak of future times in the language and according to the ideas of the present of the spiritual worship God intended, by the known terms of the worship then used W Lenth Bp Chandler The pillar in the border for a witness, alludes to that erected by Jacob at Beth-el, (Gen xxviii 18) and to the altar built on the border of Jordan, Josh xxii 10 W Lenth

20 — because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour,] The conquest of Persia by Alexander might well be considered as a deliverance to Egypt upon his coming the people all cheer-turn even to the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.

Before
CHRIST
about 714

23 ¶ In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians

24 In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land

25 Whom the LORD of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance

CHAP XX

A type prefiguring the shameful captivity of Egypt and Ethiopia

IN the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod, (when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him,) and fought against Ashdod, and took it, fully submitted to him, out of hatred to the Persians, (see note on ver 4,) so that he became master of the country without opposition Bps Lenth and Newton

The words may also be fitly applied to the tyranny which the devil exercises over the pagan world, who are led captive by him at his will, from whence they can be redeemed only by the great Saviour of the world, Jesus Christ W Lenth

23—25 — a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, &c] It is predicted here that Egypt and Assyria, which used to be at great enmity with each other, shall be united in the same worship by the intermeditation of Israel The kingdom of Syria, which was established by Seleucus after the time of Alexander the Great, comprehending nearly the same countries with the ancient empire of Assyria, and in other respects resembling it, may be considered as the representative of Assyria in later times, (see note on Ashur, Numb xxiv 24) now by means of the many Jews and proselytes who were resident in Syria and Egypt, the three countries, Israel, Egypt, and Syria, were in some measure united in the same worship, see Bp Newton's note on ver 18 It was more fully accomplished when these countries became Christian, and we piously hope and believe, that it will still receive its more perfect completion in the latter days, when Mahometism shall be rooted out, and Christianity again flourish in those countries when "the fulness of the Gentiles shall come in, and all Israel be saved, Rom xi 25, 26 Pettinga, Bp Newton

Chap XX The last chapter was a general prophecy against Egypt, this foretells the conquest of it by Sennacherib, who overran Egypt and Ethiopia, which countries were the Jews confederates against him see 2 Kings xviii 21, compared with 2 Kings xix 9 They are often reproved for their vain confidence in Egypt see ver 5, and chap xxx 2 xxxi 1 With regard to the word our translation renders "Ethiopia, properly Cush, it is a great question with the learned whether Ethiopia, properly so called, be meant by it, or Arabia It is joined, chap xlii 3, with Seba W Lenth See note on chap xviii 1, and Dr Hales's note on Numb xii 1

Ver 1 — Sargon the king of Assyria sent him,] Tartan was one of Sennacherib's generals, (2 Kings xviii. 17,) and Tirhakah king of Ethiopia was in alliance with the king of Egypt against Sennacherib These circumstances make it probable that by Sargon is meant Sennacherib Bp Lenth — fought against Ashdod,] When Sennacherib's army came up against all the fenced cities of Judah, (2 Kings xviii 18) he might send a detachment against this city, belonging probably at

Before
CHRIST
about 714

† Heb by the hand of Isaiah

2 At the same time spake the LORD † by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot And he did so, walking naked and barefoot

3 And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia,

† Heb
the captivity of Egypt

4 So shall the king of Assyria lead away † the Egyptians prisoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and barefoot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the † shame of Egypt

† Heb nakedness

5 And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory

|| Or country

6 And the inhabitant of this || isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria and how shall we escape?

that time to Hezekiah's dominion 2 Kings xviii 8 Ashdod or Azotus was a strong place and afterwards held out two hundred years against Psammetichus king of Egypt W Louth, Bp Louth

2 — loose the sackcloth from off thy loins,] As it was a principal part of the prophetick office to denounce God's judgments, so the Prophets commonly wore sackcloth, the habit of mourning, is suitable to their employment, (see Rev xi 3,) of this kind was the hairy garment by which Elias and John Baptist are described, 2 Kings i 8, Matt iii 4, see also Zech xiii 4 W Louth — naked and barefoot] Those are said to be naked in the Scripture phrase, who go without their upper garment or have put off the habit proper to their station or quality See John xxi 7, 1 Sam xix 24, and note on Job xxii 6 Going barefoot was a sign of mourning, 2 Sam xv 30 Dr Waterland, W Louth

Isaiah is described here walking in this manner as a sign of the distress that awaited the Egyptians, the Prophets foreshewed things by actions as well as words, Ezek xxiv 18, Hos i 2, 3, iii 1, 2 this mode of expressing important circumstances by actions being customary and familiar among all Eastern nations The conduct of the Prophets on these occasions, considered with reflexion on the importance of their ministry and with allowance for difference of manners will appear to have been not only very striking and impressive but strictly agreeable to the design and decorum of the prophetick character W Louth Dr Gray See the note on Gen xxxii 25

3 — three years for a sign and wonder] Perhaps at intervals during that time Some think we should understand three days as then being sometimes placed in prophetick language for a day others apply the three years not to Isaiah's walking, but to the calamity fore-shown thereby to be to last three years, or to happen within three years Others consider the account as narrative of a transaction in vision or as a parable related by Isaiah Dr Gray

6 — the inhabitant of this isle] The margin gives 'country', and so the word sometimes to be taken W Louth See notes on chap xi 11, Gen x 5

• Chap XXI ver 1 — desert of the sea] Babylon, which was seated in a plain and surrounded by water The propriety of the expression consists in this not only that any large collection of waters in the oriental style is called a sea but also that the places about Babylon were said from the beginning to have been overflowed with waters, and to have been called the sea Compare

CHAP XXI

Before
CHRIST
about 71

1 The prophet, bewailing the captivity of his people, saith in a vision the fall of Babylon by the Medes and Persians 11 Edom, scornning the prophet, is moved to repentance 13 The set time of Arabia's calamity

THE burden of the desert of the sea As whirlwinds in the south pass through, so it cometh from the desert, from a terrible land

2 A † grievous vision is declared unto † Heb me, the treacherous dealer dealeth trea- hard cherously, and the spoiler spoileth Go up, O Elam besiege, O Media, all the sighing thereof have I made to cease

3 Therefore are my loins filled with pains pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth I was bowed down at the hearing of it, I was dismayed at the seeing of it

4 || My heart panted, fearfulness affright- || Or ed me the night of my pleasure hath he my mind † turned into fear unto me † Heb and re- put

5 Prepare the table, watch in the watch-ter h 13 Bp Newton It was a great barren norassy dese originally such it became after the taking of the city by Cyru (see note on chap xiv 20) and such it continues to this da

Bp Louth

The ten first verses of this chapter contain a prediction of t taking of Babylon by the Medes and Persians It opens with t Prophet's seeing at a distance the dreadful storm that is gatheri and ready to burst upon it the event is intimated in gene terms, God's orders are issued to the Medes and Persians (ver 2 to set forth on the expedition which He had given them in chug upon this the Prophet enters into the midst of the action, and the person of Babylon expresses in the strongest terms the is ishment and horror that comes her on the sudden surprise of t city, at the season dedicated to pleasure and festivity, ver 3 Bp Louth

— As whirlwinds in the south] See Job xxxviii 9, Zech 14 The most vehement storms to which Judea was subject ca from the great desert country to the south of it Bp Louth 2 — the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, &c] T words may be rather rendered passively "The plunderer is plu ded, and the destroyer is destroyed Bp Louth — Elam] By this taking the word with some latitude, may rightly understand Persia Eutanga We do not find t last term (which signifies horsemen) in the early books of Scri ture Cyrus taught his people the art of managing horses Ezek is the first who mentions them by the name of Persians bef that period, it is probable that the names Cush and Elam includ most of Persia Bochart If however by Elam we understa here the province strictly so called, it is true that this also, thou subject to Babylon, rose up against it Bp Newton

— all the sighing thereof have I made to cease] That is, t sighing caused by it, namely, of those who have been oppress by the Babylonian tyranny Compare chap xiv 5 Bp Lon W Louth

4 — the night of my pleasure hath he turned into fear] T night when I thought to have enjoyed my pleasures Job vii 13, 14 Or, some understand it of the night night when Babylon was surprised and taken favours this sense W Louth

5 — Prepare the table, &c] The prophet is here lessness of the Babylonians, and the sudden alarm of war The singular manner God orders the Prophet to set a watchman

<sup>Before CHRIST about 741</sup> tower, eat, drink arise, ye princes, and anoint the shield

6 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth

7 And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels, and he hearkened diligently with much heed

<sup>Or crud at 1</sup> 8 And he cried, A lion My lord, I stand continually upon the watchtower in the daytime, and I am set in my ward <sup>Or</sup> whole nights

9 And, behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen And he answered and said, <sup>Jer 51 8</sup> Babylon is fallen, is fallen, <sup>Rev 14 8</sup> and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground <sup>& 18 2</sup>

<sup>† Heb 207</sup> 10 O my threshing, and the corn of my floor that which I have heard of the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you

11 ¶ The burden of Dumah He calleth to me out of Scir, Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?

out and to report what he sees, and though the passage which relates what he sees, is extremely obscure (owing to the ambiguity of a word which occurs three times and may signify a chariot or the rider in it or a rider on a horse or other animal or a company of chariots or riders,) it is pretty clear, that Darius and Cyrus the Medes and the Persians, are intended to be distinguished by the two riders or two sorts of cattle Bp Lenth

<sup>5</sup> And he cried A lion The marginal reading 'as a lion' gives an easier sense, with a strong voice like a lion the particle as is frequently understood see chap xv 5 W Lenth Bp Hall

9 — answered That is, continued his discourse, for similar use of the word answer see particularly Matt xi 25, and the Gospels elsewhere W Lenth

— all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground Xerxes, on his return from Greece passing through Babylon, pillaged the temples, and pulled down all the images thus completing this and other prophecies, see Jer 1 2, li 44, 47, 52 Dian Prideaux

10 O my threshing and the corn of my floor — The application, the end and design of the prophecy are here admirably given in a short expressive address to the Jews O my people, whom I shall make subject for your punishment to the Babylonians, to try and prove you, to separate the chaff from the corn, the bad from the good among you hear this for your consolation, your slavery, and oppression will have an end in the destruction of your oppressors The Prophet abruptly breaks off, and, instead of continuing the speech in the per or of God adds in his own, thus I declare unto you from God Bp Lenth It constantly occurs in the prophecies that the persons speaking are changed, and that God's discourse is intermixed with that of the Prophet Firinga

The word threshing is used here to express the object or matter that is threshed for "corn of my floor, in the original it is, as the margin gives, son It is an idiom of the Hebrew language to call the object, the object, any thing that belongs in almost any way to either, the son of it Bp Lenth See chap v 1, and margin there

14 The burden of Dumah That this is to be understood of Edom or Idumea, may be inferred from the mention of Scir, this last being a name by which Edom is commonly denoted in Scripture Dr Wells

Watchman The Prophets are often compared to watch-

<sup>Before CHRIST about 114</sup> 12 The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night if ye will enquire, enquire ye return, come

13 ¶ The burden upon Arabia In the forest in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedan

14 The inhabitants of the land of Tema brought water to him that was thirsty, <sup>Or</sup> they prevented with their bread him that <sup>Or</sup> fled

15 For they fled from the swords, <sup>Or</sup> from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war <sup>Or</sup>

16 For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail <sup>Or</sup>

17 And the residue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be diminished for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it <sup>Or</sup>

CHAP. XXII

1 The prophet laments the invasion of Jewry by the Persians. He reproacheth their human wisdom and men, as foreseeing evils at a distance and warning the people compare chap li 8, lxxvi 6, Ezek li 17 W Lenth

This prophecy, from the uncertainty of the occasion on which it was uttered, and from the brevity of the expression, is extremely obscure The Idumites as well as the Jews, were subdued by the Babylonians They inquire of the Prophet, how long their subjection is to last he seems to intimate that the Jews should be delivered from their captivity, not so the Idumites (Bp Lenth) that a morning should arise to the one after their night of calamity, and not to the other, see note on chap xxvii 7 We may suppose this night of the Idumeans to have begun the same year that, according to Josephus, Nebuchadnezzar executed the Divine judgments against the Ammonites, Moabites, &c, the fifth after the destruction of Jerusalem Firinga

13 The burden upon Arabia This prophecy was to be fulfilled within a year of the time of its delivery, ver 16, and was probably delivered about the same time with the rest in this part of the book, soon after or before the fourteenth of Hezekiah, the year of Sennacherib's invasion In his first march into Judea or in his return from the Egyptian expedition, he might overrun the several clans of Arabians mentioned here then distress on some such occasion is the subject of the prophecy Bp Lenth

— travelling companies See the notes on Gen xvi 12, xxxvii 25, Job xli 6 Those of Dedan were the posterity of Dedan, Abraham's grandson, those of Tema and Kedar, descended from two of Ishmael's sons, Gen xxi 3, 13, 15 These people were famous for the use of the bow, (ver 17,) like their ancestor Ishmael, Gen xxi 20 W Lenth

14 — brought water &c Putting their chased neighbours they brought water to their thirsty companies, and bread to relieve their hunger, in that forced and sudden flight Bp Hall

16 — Within a year, according to the years of an hireling A common year Dr Wells This description of it seems to be used to distinguish from a prophetic year, (see Numb xiv 34 Ezek iv 6,) or from some remarkable time in general, as we read of the acceptable year of the Lord, chap lxxii 2, the year of recompences, chap xxxiv 8 W Lenth

Chap XXII This prophecy foretells the invasion by the Assyrians under Sennacherib, or by the Chaldeans under Nebuchad-

Before
CHRIST
about 712

worldly joy 15 He prophaneeth Shebna's deprivation, 20 and Eliakim, prefiguring the kingdom of Christ, his substitution

Before
CHRIST
about 712

THE burden of the valley of vision What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the housetops?

2 Thou that art full of stirs, a tumultuous city, a joyous city, thy slain men are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battle

† Heb of the bow

3 All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound † by the archers all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far

* Jer 4 19
& 9 1

† Heb I will be but in uccpeny

4 Therefore said I, † Look away from me, † I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me, because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people

5 For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity by the Lord God of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains.

† Heb made naked

6 And Elam bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kir † uncovered the shield

† Heb the choice of thy valleys

7 And it shall come to pass, that † thy choicest valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array † at the gate

‡ Or towards

8 ¶ And he discovered the covering of Judah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forest nezzar the Prophet may have had both in view. The third verse seems to relate to the flight of Zedekiah, 2 Kings xxv 4, 5, from the Chaldeans, ver 6, and ver 9—11, rather to the siege by Sennacherib Bp Lowth, Vitringa See notes on those verses

Ver 1 — valley of vision Jerusalem, according to Josephus, was built on two opposite hills. Sion and Acra separated by a valley, and it is thus called, as being the seat of Divine revelation Bp Lowth

— that thou art wholly gone up The people's running all to the top of their houses gives a lively image of a sudden general alarm Bp Lowth See the notes on chap xv 3, and Deut.
xxii 8

2 Thou that art full of stirs &c Thou, O Jerusalem, that art so full of people, and full of noise, a populous and jolly city, how is it that thy citizens are so base that they do not stand it out in fight, neither are they dead by the sword, but with fear rather? Bp Hall

6 — I am bare the quiver &c See note on chap xiii 18 The Kir mentioned here was a city of the Medes W Lowth

Both Medes and Elamites were allies or tributaries to the Assyrians at the time of Sennacherib's expedition that the Medes and men of Kir were so, is obvious from 2 Kings xvi 9, xvii 6 That these people were so to Nebuchadnezzar at the time of his besieging Jerusalem is not so apparent from history Vitringa

8 And he uncovered the covering of Judah, &c The meaning is When the enemy hath dismantled the fortified cities of Judah, they you will bethink yourselves of providing arms for your defence. The house of the forest was an armoury within the city of Jerusalem see 1 Kings x 17 It was built by Solomon, and thus called probably from the great quantity of cedar from Libanus employed in the building, 1 Kings vii 2, 3 W Lowth,
Bp Lowth

9 Ye have seen also the breaches of the city of David, that they are many and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool

10 And ye have numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall

11 Ye made also a ditch between the two walls for the water of the old pool but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth

13 And behold joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine † let us eat and drink, for to morrow we shall die

* Chap 11
1 Wisd 2 6
1 Cor 15
32

14 And it was revealed in mine ears by the Lord of hosts, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord God of hosts

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Go, get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say,

16 What hast thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre here, † as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation for himself in a rock?

‡ Or 0 he

11 Ye made also a ditch between the two walls &c This agrees with the circumstance of Hezekiah's stopping up all the waters of the fountains without the city, and bringing them into the city by a subterraneous passage cut through the rock those of the old pool to a place where he made a double wall, so that the pool was between the two walls. This great work is particularly mentioned by the sacred historians 2 Kings xx 20, 2 Chron xxxii 2, 3, 5, 30, and celebrated by the Son of Sirach, Ecclesi xlviii
17 Bp Lowth

— neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago
This is, to God, who enabled David at first and his successors, to increase and fortify this city, chose it to be the place of His temple, and promised to continue His special protection over it
Dr Wells, W Lowth

15 — get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna The relation which the following prophecy concerning Shebna has to the foregoing seems to be that it might have been delivered about the same time and Shebna might be a principal person among those whose luxury and profuseness is severely reprehended by the Prophet, ver 11—14 Shebna is also mentioned in the history of Hezekiah, chap xxxviii to have been a different person from this Shebna who was the treasurer of the household The Eliakim here mentioned is probably the person who at the time of Sennacherib's invasion was actually treasurer, the son of Hilkiah W Lowth Shebna, (for we can hardly conceive some interpreters have, with Shebna) no information, we may suppose him, from after the deprivation of his office, removed into and dying there in disgrace and ignominy

16 — that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre — note on chap. xiv 9

Before CHRIST about 712 17 Behold, || the LORD will carry thee away with a mighty captivity, and will surely cover thee

Or U LORD who covered thee with an excellent covering and clothed thee in gold and precious stones, 18 He will surely violently turn and toss thee like a ball into a large country there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory shall be the shame of thy lord's house

19 And I will drive thee from thy station, and from thy state shall he pull thee down

20 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah

21 And I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah

22 And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder, so he shall open, and none shall shut, and he shall shut, and none shall open

23 And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place, and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house

24 And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring, and the issue, all vessels of small quantity, from the vessels of cups, even to all the vessels of flagons

25 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the nail that is fastened in the sure place be removed, and be cut down, and fall, and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off for the LORD hath spoken it

CHAP XXIII

1 The miserable overthrow of Tyre 17 The burden of Tyre

THE burden of Tyre Howl, ye ships of Tarshish, for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in from the land of Chittim it is revealed to them

2 Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle, thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished

3 And by great waters the seed of Sihor, the harvest of the river, is her revenue, and she is a mart of nations

4 Be thou ashamed, O Zidon for the sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tyre

1. — will surely cover thee] Persons under disgrace or condemnation had their heads covered. See Esther vii 8, Jer xiv 3. W Louth See also note on Job ix 24

21 — strengthen him with thy girdle] See chap v 27, and Job xii 21 and the notes there

22 And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder] A key is an emblem of trust, and the expression alludes to the fashion of keys in old time, which were long and made like a hook (W Louth) such a key would lie well on the shoulder and could hardly be commodiously carried otherwise. In allusion to the image of the key is the image of power, the unlimited extent of that power is expressed with great clearness as well as force, by the sole and exclusive authority to open and shut. Our Saviour therefore has upon a similar occasion made use of a like manner of expression, (Matt. xvi 19,) and in the passage from the Revelation referred to in the margin, has applied the very words of the Prophet W Louth We must therefore to look farther than the immediate context prophecy to represent Eliakim as a type of the paternal government or ministry (ver 21,) of a glorious kingdom, when all power should be as we may suppose Shebna to represent who were over the Jewish Church, and like him sent into foreign lands, spoiled of their former glory and with a fate unworthy of themselves their nation W Louth

him as a nail &c] See Ezra ix 8 Eccles. ix 1 Where the way of life and houses are more to furnish the inside of the several apartments, or large pegs, to dispose of and hang up the things of common use. They do not drive them into the walls, which are too hard if of brick, if of clay too mouldering, but fix them in as they are building. Eliakim is considered a principal stake of this sort, for the support of all vessels sustained for common or sacred uses, that is, as the principal support of the whole civil and ecclesiastical polity the nail, mentioned ver 22, is of course to be understood of Shebna W Louth, Sir I Chardin

[Chap XXIII ver 1 The burden of Tyre] This prophecy may best be understood of Nebuchadnezzar's laying siege to Tyre, and taking it. The word "isle" is used in other texts for a maritime place, see note on chap xi 11, and ver 4 Tyre is called "the sea, the strength of the sea," because the inhabitants were strong at sea, and looked upon it as their proper element W Louth

— Howl, ye ships of Tarshish for it is laid waste] See note at 1 Kings xxii 16 The destruction of such a mart as Tyre must have been a great loss to all merchant-adventurers W Louth Concerning Chittim, see the note on Numb xxiv 24

3 — by great waters the seed of Sihor, &c] An old English translation renders this more clearly, "the seed of Nilus, growing by the abundance of waters &c W Louth The Nile is here called Sihor, (as 1 Chron xii 5, Jer ii 18,) from the blackness of its waters charged with the mud, which it brings down from Ethiopia when it overflows, see note on Gen xv 18 Egypt by its extraordinary fertility, caused by this overflowing, supplied the neighbouring nations with corn, by which branch of trade the Tyrians gained great wealth W Louth Ezekiel, as it were commenting upon these words of Isaiah, "the mart of nations," recounts (chap xxvii,) the various nations whose commodities were brought to Tyre, and were bought and sold by the Tyrians. It was, as is well known the most celebrated place in the world for its trade and navigation, the seat of commerce, and the centre of riches. W Louth

4 — the sea hath spoken — saying, I travail not, &c] Tyre is here introduced bewailing her desolate condition, that she is become as though she never had any children or inhabitants W Louth Zidon, is the mother city (see ver 12,) is supposed to be deeply afflicted with the calamity of her daughter W Louth

5 As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tyre] The destruction of Tyre here

Before
CHRIST
about 715

visit Tyre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth

And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord: it shall not be treasured nor laid up, for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the Lord, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing

Heb

CHAP XXIV

1 The doleful judgments of God upon the land 13 1 remnant shall joyfully praise him 16 God in his judgments shall advance his kingdom

about 712

BEHOOLD, the LORD maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof

Heb

Heb

Heb

Heb

Heb

Heb

Heb

2 And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest, as with the servant, so with his master, as with the maid, so with her mistress, as with the buyer, so with the seller, as with the lender, so with the borrower, as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him

The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the LORD hath spoken this word

The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish

Before
CHRIST
about 71

5 The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof, because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant

Heb
the
the
the

6 Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left

7 The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merry hearted do sigh

8 The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth

Heb
& 10
&

9 They shall not drink wine with a song, strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it

Heb
11

10 The city of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in

11 There is a crying for wine in the streets, all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone

12 In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction

13 ¶ When thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people, there shall be as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the gleaming grapes when the vintage is done

14 They shall lift up their voice; they visiting the just to make a greater stand against him than all the power of empire beside Dean Prideaux

15 And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the Lord &c] The Prophet speaks here not of what the Tyrians would do immediately on their restitution but some time after in the days of the Messiah. So that this is a prophecy concerning the conversion of the Tyrians to the true religion of the accomplishment of which something is said in Acts xxi 3 4, 5, and more in other authors. Prideaux

Tyre after its second destruction by Alexander again recovered its ancient trade and grandeur. It became early Christian with the rest of the neighbouring countries. But a cruel himself found in many Christians there. It suffered much in Diocletian's persecution. It was an archbishoprick under the patronage of Jerusalem who fourteen bishopricks under its jurisdiction. Bp Lenth

CHAP XXIV The subject of this chapter some refer to the desolation caused by the invasion of Shalmaneser others by that of Nebuchadnezzar and others to the destruction of the city and nation by the Romans. Perhaps it may have a view to all of the three great desolations of the country. The Prophet chiefly employs general images, such as set forth the greatness and universality of the ruin to be brought on involving all orders and degrees of men changing entirely the face of things, and destroying the whole polity both religious and civil. Bp Lenth The prophet speaks in many very distant views, no one prior period of time being a bound to the prospect we may extend it to the time of his delivery to the very end of the world. Every nation that is guilty of the same sins with which the Jews are threatened and in the same manner that their prophecies are called the burdens of Moab, Babylon &c. may suppose designed not to exterminate them but to reach to all who should ever after be guilty of the like crimes, a similitude of manners deriving upon all such sinners a similitude of punishment. Hogan

Ver 1 Behold, the Lord maketh the earth empty,] The same Hebrew word is in this chapter rendered either earth or land and the world, ver 4, means the same thing the Israelitish world. See note on chap xii 11 W Lenth Bp Lenth

5 The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants &c] The contagion of sin infects the very ground, and brings a curse on it, (ver 6) see Gen iii 17 Numb xxxv 33 Ps ciii 34 The everlasting covenant. See Gen xvii 7 where God so calls the covenant between Him and Abraham because it was to endure for a long succession of years, to last till the New Age that of the Messiah, should come. W Lenth See note on chap xi 2

6 — the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left] In the figurative language of the Prophets burning any thing with fire is put for the consuming thereof by war. Sir I Newton

9 — strong drink shall be bitter] The word rendered by us by this general term, is Theodor and Chrysostom both Syrians, inform us meant properly palm or date wine, which was and is still much in use in the Eastern countries. It is said here that all enjoyment shall cease the sweetest wine become bitter to their taste. Bp Lenth

13 — as the shaking of an olive tree,] See note on chap xvii 6

14 They shall lift up their voice, &c] The great distresses brought upon Israel and Judah drove the people away, and dispersed them over the neighbouring countries, they fled to Egypt Asia Minor, the islands and coasts of Greece. They had synagogues for their worship in many places, and were greatly instrumental in propagating the knowledge of the true God in these heathen nations, and preparing them for the reception of Christianity. This is what the Prophet seems to mean by the celebration of the name of Jehovah in the waters, and in the uttermost parts the term "the sea" is used by the Hebrews for the distant

Before shall sing for the majesty of the LORD, CHRIST they shall cry aloud from the sea
about 712

15 Wherefore glorify ye the LORD in the || Or, valleys, || fies, even the name of the LORD God of Israel in the isles of the sea .

16 ¶ From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the righteous. But I said, † My leanness, my leanness, woe unto me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously, yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.

17 ° Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth

18 And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit, and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken

- in the snare for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the
- earth do shake

19 The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly

20 The earth shall reel to and fro like nitions, the islands, the dwellers on the sea-coast all over the world for 'fucs, ver 15, (for which the margin gives "valleys," by the slight alteration of one letter in the original, we should probably read "isles" this is in a great degree justified by the repetition of the same word in the next member of the sentence, with the addition "of the sea," which is exactly in the manner of the Prophet Bp Louth Sec note on chap xi 11

The prophecy appears to point also to the times of the Messiah, and to describe the language of the converted Jews uttered in exultation and thanksgiving for the blessings of Christ and the Gospel. Psalm

16 — But I saul, My leanness &c] The Prophet speaks in the person of the inhabitants of the land still remaining, who should be pursued by Divine vengeance and suffer repeated distress from the inroads and depredations of their powerful enemies Ep I omth

17 Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee ] If they escape one calamity, another shall overtake them, compare Amos v. 19 the images are taken from the different methods of hunting and taking wild beasts anciently in use The "fear, (or rather "ter-18 rour,") was a line strung with feathers of all colours, which, flut-19 tering in the air, scared and frightened the wild beasts into the toils or pit prepared for them The "pit, or pit-fall, was dug deep in the ground, and covered with green boughs, turf, &c. to deceive them The "snare, or toils, a series of nets, enclosing at first a great space of ground in which the wild beasts were known to be and then drawn in by degrees into a narrower compass, till they were at last closely shut up and entangled by them In the place of Jeremiah corresponding to ver 18, it is simply "Heeth from the fear," and indeed it does not appear that the terrour was intended to scare by its noise Bp Lomih

18 — the windows from on high are open,] A plain allusion to the description of the deluge Gen vii 11 W Louth

21—23] — the Lord shall punish the host of the high ones &c.] That is the ecclesiastical and civil polity of the Jews, which shall be destroyed the nation shall continue in a state of depression and dereliction for a long time, (ver 22) the image seems to be taken from the practice of monarchies, to let their captives lie a long time disregarded in their dungeons. God shall at length revisit and restore His people in the last age, and the kingdom of God be then established in such perfection, as wholly to eclipse

a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage, and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it, and it shall fall, and not rise again

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall †punish the host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth. <sup>† Heb</sup>

22 And they shall be gathered together, ~~as~~ prisoners are gathered in the night, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days shall they be visited.

23 Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed, when the LORD of hosts shall reign in mount Zion, and in Jerusalem, and before his ancients gloriously.

CHAP XXV

1 The prophet praiseth God, for his judgments, 6 for his saving benefits, 9 and for his victorious salvation

O LORD, the Lord my God, I will ex- about 712 alt thee, I will praise thy name, for thou hast done wonderful things, thy counsels are old, yet thou art true.

dom, formerly subsisting

2, — before his ancients gloriously ] An allusion to the elders of Israel compare Rev iv 4, αιx 4, 6 W I ownth

I rom this chapter it appears, that abominable and provoking sins are the cause which moves God to make any land empty and waste, and to turn it upside down, and to scatter abroad its inhabitants. Which single consideration should persuade men to fear God and observe his covenant and ordinances, even though they had nothing to hope or fear after this life, since religion is absolutely necessary for our temporal welfare. For if we believe either the sacred Scriptures, or of other histories of undoubted credit, we must believe that the incorrigible wickedness and corruption of nations have finally ended in their utter dissolution, and brought priest and people, master and servant, maid and mistress, all upon a level, which is but a larger draught of that confusion expressed in the term "turning the earth upside down." His nation here threatened to fall very near to their cost, for to destroy this country they have lost their rest and peace, and have not obtained their honourable conquest, their tribes are scattered, and are in the greatest distress and want of provisions. Thus by the like consideration, that the present moment is almost an instant, we may be brought to the duties of religion and virtue, which is the proper end, that is desirable and sweet, and our conscience, and our Saviour, to our eternal happiness, have made this life, and of that which is to come.

Chap XXV It does not appear that the or immediate connexion with the preceding whole course of prophecies, from the fourth chapter inclusive, in which the destruction of several cities and nations, and of the land of Judah itself, yet with inter- be saved, and a restoration to be attended establishment of the kingdom of God, extensive scene of God's providence in all consequences, the Prophet may well be into this song of praise, in which his possessed with the prospect of future collection of the past. By Lenth

2 For thou hast made of a city an heap; of a defenced city a ruin a palace of strangers to be no city, it shall never be built

3 Therefore shall the strong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee

4 For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall

5 Thou shalt bring down the noise of strangers, as the heat in a dry place, even the heat with the shadow of a cloud the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low

6 ¶ And in this mountain shall the LORD of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined

7 And he will destroy in this mountain the high fort of the strong, and all people, and the vail that is spread over all nations

8 He will swallow up death in victory; and the LORD God will wipe away tears from off all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth, for the LORD hath spoken it 9 ¶ And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God, we have waited for him, and he will save us this is the LORD, we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation

10 For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and Moab shall be trodden down under him, even as straw is trodden down for the dunghill

11 And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim and he shall bring down their pride together with the spoils of their hands

12 And the fortress of the high fort of thy walls shall he bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, even to the dust

Before
CHRIST
about 1712

1 Cor 15
54
Rev 7 17
& 21 4

¶ Or threshed

¶ Or threshed in Madmenah

† Heb swallow up † Heb

temper the near the interposition of thy power, using the proud and the triumph of the formidable ¶ — unto all people a feast] This can be no other than the celebration of the establishment of Christ's kingdom, frequently represented in the Gospel under the image of a feast, Matt viii 11, Luke xiv 16, xxii 29, 30 This sense is fully confirmed by what follows in the next verses, the removing of the veil from the nations, and the abolition of death The first of which is obviously and clearly explained of the preaching of the Gospel, and the second must mean the ~~removal of~~ immortality procured for us by Christ, who hath abolished death, and through death hath destroyed him that had the power of death 2 Tim i 10, Heb ii 14 — Bp Lowth

¶ — kept long on the lees,] That is kept long on the lees, the word used to express the "lees" in the original signifies the "preservation," because they preserve the strength and flavour of the wine see Jer xlv 11 Bp Lowth

¶ And he will destroy in this mountain] At Jerusalem shall the Gospel begin by which God shall bring all nations from the ignorance to the knowledge of the true God Dr Wells

¶ — the face of the covering] Compare Job xli 19 ¶ He will swallow up death in victory &c] The passages of New Testament, to which the margin refers, shew how St Paul and St John apply this place to the general resurrection and heavenly state, now will these promises till then be made good

¶ — The sorrows and labours of the present world, and the dissolution of the body, do still take place as warnings and chastise-ments for sinners, but the sorrows are not comfortless, nor the dissolution final the dominion of death consisted in this, that it was not final and irreparable, and the devil is not to have the power of death, because, by seducing man to sin, he subjected him to that irretrievable dissolution That death should be destroyed, and men restored to happiness, by the Messiah is confessed by very eminent Jewish writers, who therefore apply to Him in the most rigorous sense these words of Isaiah Dean Stanhope

¶ And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God &c] This is the triumph of Christ's faithful servants, who have constantly maintained His honour and worship in this present life, against all the opposition of wicked men and devils when they shall see Him coming in the clouds with power and great glory, to receive them to Himself, it will transport them, as it justly may, with an ecstasy of gladness and they shall cry out before all the gazing spectators, This is our God, whom we have depended on for the salvation which He promised us Reading 10 — Moab shall be trodden down &c] Rather, "Moab shall be threshed in his place, as the straw is threshed under the wheels of the car, Bp Lowth, or by the feet of oxen The original verb does not signify to "be trodden down, but to "be threshed," as noted in the margin and straw is too valuable in the East to be trodden down for the dunghill Severe calamities inflicted on nations and people are in Scripture often compared to the oriental manner of threshing corn and straw, see 2 Kings xiii 7, Amos i 3, Hab iii 12 compare Isaiah xxi 10, xli 15, Dan ii 35 Parkhurst

In this name are intended to be included all the neighbouring states who were enemies of the Jewish nation that is, in a spiritual sense, all people who should oppose the kingdom of the Messiah Vitranga For as the Gentile world, grafted into the Church and proselyted to the true religion are comprehended in the name of "Israel," so those that continue to reject and oppose it are reasonably coupled under the title of "enemies of Israel," and what might in some respects have a literal relation to the state and circumstances of the nations bordering upon Judea, will be found to have a typical but more important view to the heathen world in general Dr Burman 11 And he shall spread forth his hands &c] There is great obscurity in this place some understand God as the agent, others Moab Bp Lowth Some understand the words of Moab doing all he can to save himself, as swimmers do when in danger of drowning, yet that "God should bring down his pride others interpret the whole verse of God, that He should stretch forth His hands and reach His enemies wherever they might be W Lowth

Before CHRIST
about 714

CHAP XXVI

1 A song inciting to confidence in God, 5 for his judgment, 12 and for his favour to his people 20 * In exhortation to wait on God

IN that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah, We have a strong city, salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the † truth may enter in 3 Thou wilt keep him in t perfect peace, whose || mind is stayed on thee because he trusteth in thee

4 Trust ye in the LORD for ever: for in the LORD JEHOVAH is † everlasting strength.

5 ¶ For he bringeth down ~~them that~~ dwell on high, the lofty city, ~~he layeth it~~ low, he layeth it low, ~~even to the ground:~~ he bringeth it ~~even to the dust~~

6 The foot shall tread at: ~~the steps of the~~ the feet of the poor: ~~and the steps of the~~ needy

7 The way of the just is upright: thou, most upright, dost weigh the path of the just

8 Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O LORD, have we waited for thee, the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee

9 With my soul have I desired thee in the night, yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness

10 Let favour be shewed to the wicked,

Chap XXVI ver 1 — We have a strong city } In opposition to the city of the enemy which God had destroyed, chap xvi or to 'the lofty city' ver 5 of this chapter, under which simi-litude are represented those who pride themselves on worldly power and greatness, and are enemies of God's truth. The Church is the city of God. Heb xii 22. Compare with this place also chap lv 18, Zech iii Bp I or th W I or th

2. Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation &c. The expression denotes the enlarging of the number of believers, and the bringing into the Church duly of such as should be saved (Compare chap. lx. 11. Rev. xxi. 2.). H. Lomax

3 Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee } Peace is then perfect when we have it with God, with our neighbours and with ourselves. This threefold peace of the even of charity of conscience, is the price and gift of Christ none is perfect and complete but that which He bestows
Wm an

6 — the feet of the poor ] The planting of the Gospel was a remarkable triumph over the power and the wisdom of men, when "God chose the foolish things of the world to confound the things which were wise and the weak things of the world to confound the things which were mighty and under every advancement of Christ's kingdom the poor and the humble, those that have despised the world and been despised by it are to have a particular share in the glory and success of it." W. Louth

yet will he not learn righteousness in the land of uprightness will he deal unjustly and will not behold the majesty of the LORD

11 LORD, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see but they shall see, and be ashamed for their envy // at the promise yea, the fire of thine enemies shall devour them

12 ¶ LORD, thou wilt ordain peace for us for thou also hast wrought all our works in us

13 O LORD our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us but by thee only will we make mention of thy name 11 They are dead, they shall not live, they are deceased, they shall not rise, therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.

15. Thou hast increased the nations; O Lebanon, thou hast increased the nations thou art girded: thou hast removed it far unto all the end of the earth.

16 I am, in the morning they visited there they poured out a prayer that they might be able to hear them.

17 THe as a woman with child, draweth near, the time of her delivery, is in pain, and crieth out in her pangs, so have we been in thy sight, O LORD

18 We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind, we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth, neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen

19 Thy dead men shall live, together with of present and past ness, and the

and the more back to the is the most also the

... and the ...
... which ...
... them ...

19. - [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

100 my dead body shall they arise Awake and ye that dwell in dust for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead

O Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee hide thyself as it were for a little until the indignation be over-

21 For, behold, the Lord cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain

CHAP XXVII

1 The care of God over his vineyard 7 His chastise-ments differ from judgments 12 The church of Jews and Gentiles

IN that day the Lord with his sore and great and strong word will punish leviathan the piercing serpent, even levi-than that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea

2 In that day shall the Lord A vineyard of red wine

3 I the Lord do keep it I will water it every moment lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day

4 Fury is not in me who would set the briers and thorns against me in battle I would go through them, I would burn them together

5 Or let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me, and he shall make peace with me

6 He shall cause them that come of Jacob to take root Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit

7 Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him?

8 In measure, when it shooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it he stayeth his rough wind in the day of the east wind

9 By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruit to take away his sin, when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are broken in sunder, the groves and images shall not stand up

10 Yet the defenced city shall be desois here thus expressed, with manifest opposition to what is said above (ver 14) of the tyrants under whom they had groaned, that they should be utterly destroyed should never be restored to their former power and glory It should appear, from the Prophets using this metaphor, that the doctrine of the resurrection of the dead was at that time a popular and common doctrine Bp Lowth The restoration of the Jews whether after the Baby-lonish captivity or after their dispersions in following times, is represented as a rising again from the dead by Ezekiel, chap xxxvii, and this place of Isaiah may in its primary sense mean no more but this was undoubtedly one of those texts upon which the ancient Jews grounded their belief of the resurrection the hope of which was founded on the law and the prophets as St Paul telleth us 1 Cor xiv 5 W Lowth The ancient Jews understood this passage so The Prophet speaks of the figurative and typical resurrection of the Jewish state and church, but the phraseology is taken from the resurrection of the last day, and the attention intended to be directed as the dew of herbs,] The force of the comparison seems to be, As the hidden dew of herbs preserves them so shall Thine Word, (compare Hos xiv 5) the power of Thy word and blessing Thy vivifying Spirit, call to life Thy dead bodies, that were of Thy faithful servants

20 Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers &c] The Prophet appears here in the person of God to confirm the hopes and expectations contained in the preceding hymn of the faithful by an exhortation to patience, and promise of support and deliverance from all the judgments and persecutions which might in aftertimes befall the people of God, or Church of Christ to terminate with those terrible but short calamities, which shall be in the days of Antichrist emphatically so called 21 — the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity] See note on chap xi 4

chap XXVII ver 1 — leviathan the piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent] These seem to be distinct animals, the former probably the crocodile, the other the common serpent or dragon to them is joined the ser-monster or whale These are used allegorically for great potentates, enemies and persecutors of the people of God, instruments and types of Satan so often called the serpent in Scripture, this first ver seems connected with the two last of the preceding chapter Bp Lowth W Lowth

2 — I vineyard of red wine] The Church is constantly compared to a vineyard, see chap v 1 and the passages there referred to in the margin W Lowth Red wine is more esteemed in the East than white See note at Prov xxiii 31 Harmer

4, 5 Fury is not in me &c] God declares that there is no anger with Him against His Church which He had termed (ver 2) a vineyard of red (that is the most precious) wine and for which He testifies (ver 3) His constant care and anxiety, that the proper objects of His anger are the thorn and briers which grow under the vine, that is, in the culture of His vine these should fall in His way, they should be burnt up and destroyed By these are represented sinners and hypocrites, unprofitable wood, (see note on chap ix 16) who are thus threatened, unless by a timely and true repentance they should make their peace with God ver 5 I turn, a 7 Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote him?] Him means Israel God never makes an utter destruction of His people (see chap i 9,) whereas He threatens His enemies with it and often puts the sentence in execution as in the case of Amalek, Exod xvii 14, Numb xxiv 20 The east wind ver 8 may allude to the shooting forth of the branches, being a dry blasting wind, at which time signifies calamities of war and waste judgments W Lowth The moderation and lenity, with which the severity of God's judgments has been tempered, are set forth and then the end and design of them, to recover the Jews from idolatry Bp Lowth

9 — when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder] This shall be done, says the Prophet to the abolishing of the very memory of idolatrous worship see note on chap ii 18 So Moses ground the golden calf to powder, Exod xxxii 20, and Asa stamped his mother's idol to pieces 2 Chron xv 16 W Lowth

10 Yet the defenced city shall be desolate, &c] The Prophet

Before
CHRIST
about 712

11 When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off the women come, and set them on fire for it is a people of no understanding therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour

12 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall beat off from the channel of the river unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great trumpet shall be blown, and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and the outcasts in the land of Egypt, and shall worship the LORD in the holy mount at Jerusalem

CHAP XXVIII

1 The prophet thirteenth Ephraim for their pride and drunkenness 5 The residue shall be advanced in the kingdom of Christ 7 He rebuketh their error 9 Their unlearnedness to learn, 14 and their security 16 Christ the sure foundation is promised 18 Their security shall be tried 23 They are incited to the consideration of God's discreet providence

about 725

W<sup>OE</sup> to the crown of pride, to the drunkaids of Ephraim, whose glori-mixes threatenings with the promises, as is usual elsewhere, and tells the Jews, that, before these happy days came, great calamities should befall them. W. Louth

— there shall the calf feed, &c] See note on chap vii 25

11 When the boughs thereof are withered,] This refers still to the vineyard. The scarcity of fuel, especially wood, in most parts of the Lst, is so great, that they supply it with every thing capable of burning, roots, parings of fruit, withered stalks of herbs and flowers, see Matt vi 28—30. Vine twigs are particularly mentioned, as used for dressing their food, by D'Arvicux. See Lxxk xv 3, 4, John xv 6. The dressing and pruning of their vines afforded a good supply of the last sort of fuel, but the Prophet says here, that the vines themselves of the beloved vineyard shall be blasted, withered, and broken, and the women shall come and gather them up, and carry them off for firing. Bp Louth

— a people of no understanding ] These calamities are owing to their own wilful blindness. Compare chap. 18, vi 10, Deut. xxxii 28. W. Lowth

12 — the stream of Egypt,] See the note on Gen xv 18 • — ye shall be gathered] We have much the same scene here as in the latter part of chap xi, and elsewhere not unfrequently in the Prophets see note on xi 11 Assyria and Egypt are mentioned in the next verse, as principal countries from whence the dispersions should return they are usually joined, as chief oppressors of Israel W Lowth

Chap XXVIII ver 1 Woe to the crown of pride, to the drums ards of I phraim,] Sebaste, the ancient Samaria is situated on long mount of an oval figure, surrounded with a rich valley, and a circle of other hills beyond it it is probable that this suggested the idea of a chaplet or wreath of flowers worn upon their heads strong man, who was very intelligent and capable of doing a great deal of work.

He was very kind and friendly to all the children, and he was very good at teaching them.

3 The crown of pine, the dronk Ephraim, shall be treated under that:

And the glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fir-tree, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer; which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.

5 ¶ In that day shall the Lord of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of the people;

6 And for a spirit of judgment to him that entereth in, and for strength to them that fight the battle to the gate.

But they also have erred through wine, and the prophets are out of the way; the priests and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine; they are out of the way through strong drink; they err in vision, they stumble in judgement.

8. All tables are full of vomit and feculence, so that there is no place clean.

• • Whom shall he teach knowledge?

on weapons of offense, approved by the great crown and Selling seven of druggists. That the custom of wearing chaplets in their heads, prevailed among the Jews, as well as among the Goths and Romans, appears from Wicl. ii. 2. 13. 14. 15. 16. 17. 18. 19. 20. 21. 22. 23. 24. 25. 26. 27. 28. 29. 30. 31. 32. 33. 34. 35. 36. 37. 38. 39. 40. 41. 42. 43. 44. 45. 46. 47. 48. 49. 50. 51. 52. 53. 54. 55. 56. 57. 58. 59. 60. 61. 62. 63. 64. 65. 66. 67. 68. 69. 70. 71. 72. 73. 74. 75. 76. 77. 78. 79. 80. 81. 82. 83. 84. 85. 86. 87. 88. 89. 90. 91. 92. 93. 94. 95. 96. 97. 98. 99. 100. 101. 102. 103. 104. 105. 106. 107. 108. 109. 110. 111. 112. 113. 114. 115. 116. 117. 118. 119. 120. 121. 122. 123. 124. 125. 126. 127. 128. 129. 130. 131. 132. 133. 134. 135. 136. 137. 138. 139. 140. 141. 142. 143. 144. 145. 146. 147. 148. 149. 150. 151. 152. 153. 154. 155. 156. 157. 158. 159. 160. 161. 162. 163. 164. 165. 166. 167. 168. 169. 170. 171. 172. 173. 174. 175. 176. 177. 178. 179. 180. 181. 182. 183. 184. 185. 186. 187. 188. 189. 190. 191. 192. 193. 194. 195. 196. 197. 198. 199. 200. 201. 202. 203. 204. 205. 206. 207. 208. 209. 210. 211. 212. 213. 214. 215. 216. 217. 218. 219. 220. 221. 222. 223. 224. 225. 226. 227. 228. 229. 230. 231. 232. 233. 234. 235. 236. 237. 238. 239. 240. 241. 242. 243. 244. 245. 246. 247. 248. 249. 250. 251. 252. 253. 254. 255. 256. 257. 258. 259. 260. 261. 262. 263. 264. 265. 266. 267. 268. 269. 270. 271. 272. 273. 274. 275. 276. 277. 278. 279. 280. 281. 282. 283. 284. 285. 286. 287. 288. 289. 290. 291. 292. 293. 294. 295. 296. 297. 298. 299. 300. 301. 302. 303. 304. 305. 306. 307. 308. 309. 310. 311. 312. 313. 314. 315. 316. 317. 318. 319. 320. 321. 322. 323. 324. 325. 326. 327. 328. 329. 330. 331. 332. 333. 334. 335. 336. 337. 338. 339. 340. 341. 342. 343. 344. 345. 346. 347. 348. 349. 350. 351. 352. 353. 354. 355. 356. 357. 358. 359. 360. 361. 362. 363. 364. 365. 366. 367. 368. 369. 370. 371. 372. 373. 374. 375. 376. 377. 378. 379. 380. 381. 382. 383. 384. 385. 386. 387. 388. 389. 390. 391. 392. 393. 394. 395. 396. 397. 398. 399. 400. 401. 402. 403. 404. 405. 406. 407. 408. 409. 410. 411. 412. 413. 414. 415. 416. 417. 418. 419. 420. 421. 422. 423. 424. 425. 426. 427. 428. 429. 430. 431. 432. 433. 434. 435. 436. 437. 438. 439. 440. 441. 442. 443. 444. 445. 446. 447. 448. 449. 450. 451. 452. 453. 454. 455. 456. 457. 458. 459. 460. 461. 462. 463. 464. 465. 466. 467. 468. 469. 470. 471. 472. 473. 474. 475. 476. 477. 478. 479. 480. 481. 482. 483. 484. 485. 486. 487. 488. 489. 490. 491. 492. 493. 494. 495. 496. 497. 498. 499. 500. 501. 502. 503. 504. 505. 506. 507. 508. 509. 510. 511. 512. 513. 514. 515. 516. 517. 518. 519. 520. 521. 522. 523. 524. 525. 526. 527. 528. 529. 530. 531. 532. 533. 534. 535. 536. 537. 538. 539. 540. 541. 542. 543. 544. 545. 546. 547. 548. 549. 550. 551. 552. 553. 554. 555. 556. 557. 558. 559. 560. 561. 562. 563. 564. 565. 566. 567. 568. 569. 570. 571. 572. 573. 574. 575. 576. 577. 578. 579. 580. 581. 582. 583. 584. 585. 586. 587. 588. 589. 590. 591. 592. 593. 594. 595. 596. 597. 598. 599. 600. 601. 602. 603. 604. 605. 606. 607. 608. 609. 610. 611. 612. 613. 614. 615. 616. 617. 618. 619. 620. 621. 622. 623. 624. 625. 626. 627. 628. 629. 630. 631. 632. 633. 634. 635. 636. 637. 638. 639. 640. 641. 642. 643. 644. 645. 646. 647. 648. 649. 650. 651. 652. 653. 654. 655. 656. 657. 658. 659. 660. 661. 662. 663. 664. 665. 666. 667. 668. 669. 670. 671. 672. 673. 674. 675. 676. 677. 678. 679. 680. 681. 682. 683. 684. 685. 686. 687. 688. 689. 690. 691. 692. 693. 694. 695. 696. 697. 698. 699. 700. 701. 702. 703. 704. 705. 706. 707. 708. 709. 710. 711. 712. 713. 714. 715. 716. 717. 718. 719. 720. 721. 722. 723. 724. 725. 726. 727. 728. 729. 730. 731. 732. 733. 734. 735. 736. 737. 738. 739. 740. 741. 742. 743. 744. 745. 746. 747. 748. 749. 750. 751. 752. 753. 754. 755. 756. 757. 758. 759. 760. 761. 762. 763. 764. 765. 766. 767. 768. 769. 770. 771. 772. 773. 774. 775. 776. 777. 778. 779. 780. 781. 782. 783. 784. 785. 786. 787. 788. 789. 790. 791. 792. 793. 794. 795. 796. 797. 798. 799. 800. 801. 802. 803. 804. 805. 806. 807. 808. 809. 810. 811. 812. 813. 814. 815. 816. 817. 818. 819. 820. 821. 822. 823. 824. 825. 826. 827. 828. 829. 830. 831. 832. 833. 834. 835. 836

3. Subject also had 4 nights out during Nov. 23. Under these circumstances the FBI is unable to determine the identity of the person who was with Subject on Nov. 23. The FBI is unable to determine the identity of the person who was with Subject on Nov. 23. The FBI is unable to determine the identity of the person who was with Subject on Nov. 23.

(S) says unto his disciples, My prayer is that I may have related to the Lord, and that I may stand before him; and if it turn to the two witnesses, I will stand before them, so continue a life of prayer, and I will stand before him. It begins with a prayer, and ends with a prayer, and a Hebrewish, but a Hebrewish.

to the [redacted] [redacted]

RECEIVED JAN 10 1964
U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
WASHINGTON, D.C.

11 For with a scourge shall I scourge them, and with rods will I chastise them: and they shall not hear.

12 To whom shall I speak, and who shall hear? to whom shall I declare, and who shall understand? Behold, they are all foolish, and there is none that shall understand: they are all brutish, and there is none that shall know.

13 But the word of the Lord was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept; line upon line, line upon line; and there was a little, and there was a little, that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and spared, and taken.

14 Wherefore hear the word of the Lord, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem.

15 Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell we have an agreement; when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves:

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste.

17 Judgment also will I lay to the line.

what they intended. Yes, says He, I shall be as fast as you say, ye shall be taught by a strange tongue and understanding: ye shall be carried into a strange country, where the language shall be unknown to you, and ye shall be obliged to learn the children: My dealings with you shall be as with strangers, and I will be as a father to the fatherless, and as a husband to the widow. The house of David shall be as a father to the fatherless, and as a husband to the widow, by His power, that shall safety and security shall be wholly on their side, and they shall receive the blessing of peace with contentment and industry. The Lord.

and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place

18 ¶ And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand, when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be † trodden down by it

19 From the time that it goeth forth it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it pass over, by day and by night and it shall be a vexation only || to understand the report

20 For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it

21 For the Lord shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work, and bring to pass his act, his strange act

22 Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord God of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth

23 ¶ Give ye ear, and hear my voice, hearken, and hear my speech

24 Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?

25 When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, human devices too short to secure us against the hand of Providence, whenever that designs to punish W Lomth

21 For the Lord shall rise up as in mount Perazim,] The destruction of the Philistines there is, in the passages referred to in the margin, compared to a 'breach of waters, much the same comparison as is here used, ver 19 The extraordinary manifestations of God's power there and at Gibeon were for the deliverance of His people, but now God will act contrary to His usual proceedings of grace and mercy W Lomth

[Give ye ear, and hear my voice] The foregoing discourse, consisting of mere reproofs and threatenings to the Jews for their vices and profane contempt of God's warnings by His messengers, the Prophet concludes with an explanation and defence of God's method of dealing with His people in a parable in which He employs a variety of images, taken from the science of agriculture. As the husbandman uses various methods in preparing his land, and adapting it to the several kinds of seed to be sown, with a due observation of times and seasons, and when he has gathered in his harvest employs methods as various in separating the corn from the straw and the chaff by different instruments, according to the nature of the different sorts of grain so God, with unerring wisdom, instructs, admonishes, and corrects His people, chastises and punishes them in various ways, as the exigence of the case requires, now more moderately, now more severely always tempering justice with mercy in order to reclaim the wicked, to improve the good, and finally to separate the one from the other Bp Lomth

25 — the fitches,] A colloquial corruption of "vetches" a small kind of pea Dr Johnson

Before CHRIST about 725

† Heb. a treading down to it

|| Or when he shall make you to understand doctrine

2 Sam 5 20
1 Chron 11 11
Josh 10 12
2 Sam 25
1 Chron 14 16

Before
CHRIST
about 725

H Or
 the wheat in the prime pal place and barly
 in the joint place
H Or, all of Heb land
H Or
 all the barly that in su hant as he cutteth each him

and scatter the cummin, and cast in || the principal wheat and the appointed barley and the || in their † place?

26 || For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him

27 For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin, but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod 28 Bread corn is bruised, because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen.

29 This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working

CHAPTER XXIX

1 God's heavy judgment upon Jerusalem 7 The unsatiable-ness of her enemies 9 The senselessness 13 and deep hypocrisy of the Jews 18 1 promise of sanctification to the godly

about 712

h Or O Arad that is, the lion of Guil v Or of the city
† Heb cut off the heads

WOE || to Ariel, to Ariel, || the city where David dwelt † add ye year to year, let them † kill sacrifices

2 Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ariel.

3 And I will camp against thee round

26 [For his God doth instruct him] "The most High hath ordained husbandry, saith the Son of Snach, Eccles vii 15 All nations have agreed in attributing agriculture, the most useful of all sciences to the invention and to the suggestions of their deities together with all the arts and helps attendant upon it. Passages to this effect are very frequent in profane writers Bp Ionth, Utrinq.

27 28 In these were four methods of threshing are mentioned by different instrument the flail, the drag, the wain, and the treading of the cattle. The staff or flail was used for the grain that was too tender to be treated in the other methods. The drag consisted of a sort of frame of strong planks, made rough at the bottom with hard stones or iron, it was drawn by horses or oxen over the corn sheaves spread on the floor, the horses or oxen treading it. The wain was much like the drag, but it was made with iron teeth or edges like a saw. The treading of the cattle was the corn by using the feet of the cattle to tread the grain.

men, for the management of their affairs, in due times and fit ways how much more shall He who is infinite in wisdom contrive His own works both of mercy and judgment, with men? Bp Hall

Chapter XXIX. This and the four following chapters have an immediate respect to Sennacherib's invasion in the beginning of this chapter the Prophet describes the distress during the siege and the enemy's sudden dis-appointment he then proceeds to upbraid the Jews for their hypocrisy and stupidity in not discerning the signs of the time as our Saviour speaks, Matt. xvi. not observing the hum of Providence evidently showing itself both in nature and judgments which circumstances are very applicable to the times of our Saviour's preaching he then foretells better times for those who are piously disposed, and concludes about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee.

4 And thou shalt be brought down, and thy speech shall be low out of the ground, and thy voice shall be, as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.

5 Moreover the multitude of the strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones ~~shall be~~ is chaff that passeth away yea, it shall be as an instant suddenly

6 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.

7 ¶ And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distress her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.

8. It shall even be as when an hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth, but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh, but he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.

with such promises of grace and favour to the meek and humble as plainly relate to the times of the Gospel. W. I. on th

Ver 1 Hoc to Ariel — the city where David dwelt ['] "Ariel signifies 'the lion of God, and was a name given to the altar (see 1 zek xliii 15 and the margin there) because it devour the sacrifices it is here put for the city of Jerusalem itself which may be considered as the seat of the fire of God which should issue from hence to consume His enemies compare chp xxxi 9 This may be seen by what follows ver 2 it shall be unto me is Ariel" In the heart of the great altar or a intimation of distant events may be seen in the obscure passage and the altar and to resemble the lion as being all on flame covered with blood and carcasses as it was to be in aftertime when taken by the gentiles and by the Romans some according to the common derivation of the word, 'the lion of God or the strong lion' suppose it to signify the place of the 1st and 2nd Temple

— add ye <sup>to year</sup> let them kill sacr
Go on year after year, keep your solemn fea God will punish you for y<sup>12</sup> <sup>critical</sup> mere form destitute of true piety. This might pe livered at the time of some great feast, when they were thi played Bp Ionth

1 And that shall be brought down and shall sp ground &c ] In prophetic language, speaking out of the dust stand, for being in a weak J Newton Huzckiah send ambassadors to the king of A Syria in ex- abusive terms (2 Sam and is much humbled by the threat of Rabsh xix 1. Is xxxvii 1 H Lomth Sp* Wilson

8 — is when an hungry man dresth, and, &c.] The Assyrians had swallowed up but God intended suffer y to disappoint the them away empty and contounded. W. Low

9 ¶ Stay yourselves, and wonder; || cry ye out, and cry they are drunken, but not with wine, they stagger, but not with strong drink

10 For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes, the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered.

11 And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee and he saith, I cannot, for it is sealed

12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee and he saith, I am not learned

13 ¶ Wherefore the Lord said, 'Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men

14 Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid

15 Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and then work are in the dark, and they say, 'Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?

16 Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter's clay for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?

17 Is it not yet a very little while, and 9 Stay yourselves, and wonder, &c. ye out, and cry they are drunken, but not with wine, &c.] The Prophet upbraids the Jews for their drunkenness and stupidity, and compares them to men who are drunk with wine, which makes them blind to the prophecies relating to the Messiah, and to themselves, and keeps them to this hour in expectation of a different Messiah from Him whom they crucified. Bp Horsley See note on chap li 21

11 And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, &c.] Italics of great antiquity and authority have observed from this text, That the knowledge of their prophecies shall be taken from them, and be lost with the Hebrew, then native language but the Messiah shall restore to them the understanding of both, and open the sealed book. Compare ver 18 with what is said ver 10, 11, &c Bp Chandler See note on chap viii 16

14 [the wisdom of their wise men shall perish,] Since this people have trusted to their own wisdom, the very wisest of them shall be blinded, they shall bring down destruction upon themselves by their very wisdom Bp Wilson

How remarkably was this verified, when the rabbies and elders of the Jews, fatally mistaking, applied to their ceremonies and traditions, and rejected the Gospel! and ever since have the same

Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest? I of the CHRIST about 713

18 ¶ And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness

19 The meek also shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel

20 For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off

21 That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob, Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale

23 But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel

24 They also that erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine I Heb shall know understanding

CHAP XXX.

1 The prophet threateneth the people for their confidence in Egypt, 8 and contempt of God's word 18 God's mercies towards his church 27 God's wrath, and the people's joy, in the destruction of Assyria

WOE to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me, and that cover with a cover-orders minded little else than fabulous stories, and vented trifles for profound mysteries W Louth

17 — Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest? A proverbial saying, expressing a great revolution of things, and explained with great probability to have its principal view, beyond the events then near at hand, to the rejection of the Jews, and the calling of the Gentiles. The first were the vineyard of God cultivated and watered by Him in vain, afterwards to be given up and become a wilderness, (see chap v 1—7) the last had been originally barren, but was by the grace of God to become fruitful See Matt. xxi 43, Rom xi 30, 31 Bp Louth.

19 The meek also shall increase their joy] See notes on chap xi 4, xxvi 6

21 — lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate,] Who plot mischief against those that sit at the city gates to distribute justice, (W Louth See notes on Gen xxiii 10, Gen ii 19,) who try to bring authority into contempt, that they may have their own ends without control Bp Wilson

Chap XXX See the introductory note to the preceding chapter

Ver 1 — that cover with a covering, &c.] This "covering

Before
CHRIST
about 712. ing, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin

2 That walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth, to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt'

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion

4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came to Hanes

5 They were all ashamed of a people that could not profit them, nor be an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.

6 The burden of the beasts of the south into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them

7 For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose therefore have I cried || concerning this, Their strength is to sit still

1 Or,
to her

† Heb the latter
day

8 ¶ Now go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for † the time to come for ever and ever

9 That this is a rebellious people, lying may mean their seeking refuge and protection from Egypt without any direction from God, (see ver 2,) or, in general, forming schemes to secure themselves, by ungodly methods, called a "covering or "hiding-place of falsehood," see chap xxviii 15, 17, xxix 15 W Lowth 4 For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came to Hanes ] These are principal cities of Egypt "Hanes" is called, Jer ii 16, xiii 7, Ezek xxx 18, "Tahapanes," Tahpanhes, and "Tehaphnehes" "Zoan is mentioned, chap xix 11, 18 W Lowth See the note on the latter place So fond were the Jews of their Egyptian allies, that even the good Hezekiah sent ambassadors to treat with them for succours against Sennacherib Thus the best of men are too apt, on the first appearance of danger or surprise, to have recourse to means not warranted by the laws of God, to seek to other aids than those which the grace of God has provided Wogan.

This confederacy might perhaps be owing to the prevalent sway of the "princes" and great men, a chief of whom was in all likelihood Shebni, against whom is denounced that severe prophecy, chap xiii 15 Dr Wells

5 They were all ashamed of a people that could not profit them, &c ] The Egyptians in alliance with the Ethiopians did assist the Jews against Sennacherib, but they were both entirely routed See chap xx 5 W Lowth

6 The burden of the beasts of the south ] The word "burden" here seems to be used in its proper sense, the load, not the oracle Dr Lowth

— from whence come — the viper and fiery flying serpent, ] The wilderness that lies between Egypt and Judea is thus, described by Moses, Deut viii 15 W Lowth This was designed to be a kind of barrier between the Israelites and Egypt, of which the Lord says, Dent xvii 16, "Ye shall henceforth return no more that way" Bp Lowth children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD.

† Heb
about 712.

10 Which say to the seers, See not, and to the prophets, Prophecy not unto us, right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophecy deceits

11 Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us

12 Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel, Because ye despise this word, and trust in || oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon

1 Or fraud

13 Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant

14 And he shall break it as the breaking of † the potters' vessel that is broke in pieces, he shall not spare so that there shall not be found in the bursting of it a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.

† Heb the potter's vessel

15 For thus saith the Lord God, the Holy One of Israel, In returning and rest shall ye be saved, in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength and ye would not 16 But ye said, No, for we will flee upon horses; therefore shall ye flee and, We will ride upon the swift, therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.

Concerning the "fiery flying serpent," see note on Numb xxi 6 Niebuhr mentions a sort of serpents, as does Pliny also, that twirl themselves by the tail to a branch of one date tree, and so spring to the branches of another, hence the modern Arabs call them "flying serpents" Person speaks of flying serpents at the island of Quibo, they "darken themselves" from the boughs of trees upon man and beasts but were without wings. Probably those mentioned by Isaiah here, and chap xiv 29, were of this species. Parkhurst They are called "flying serpents" from their springing up like a dart W Lowth

7 — Therefore have I cried concerning her, Jerusalem, in the margin, "I have cried to her, that Jerusalem, her best security will be to be quiet, and to attend salvation from God will work for them, see ver 15 W Lowth

10 — Prophecy not unto us right things, &c ] These are the very words they spake, but this was the true meaning of what they said see their behaviour to Jeremiah, Jer xx, 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, to Amos, Amos vii 16, and to Micah, Micah vi 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100 W Lowth

They conferred all their favours upon such persons, who care to say nothing that was displeasing to the rulers of the politics of the times, but represented God as approving their designs, when He was utterly against them but the true preachers, who spoke to them the word of the Lord, were despised or serve or disguise, were the objects of their hatred and contempt Reading

13 — as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant ] Buildings in Asia in general consist of little but mud-walls, see Sir J Chardin's note on chap ii 14 not says much the same of the houses in Persia obvious and expressive the image is The same, to imply sudden and utter destruction W Lowth

17 One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one, at the rebuke of five shall ye flee till ye be left as || a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.

18 ¶ And therefore will the Lord wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you. for the Lord is a God of judgment. blessed are all they that wait for him..

19 For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem thou shalt weep no more he will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry, when he shall hear it, he will answer thee

20 And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of || affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers

21 And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.

22 Ye shall defile also the covering of || thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold thou shalt || cast them away as a menstruous cloth; thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then shall he give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal, and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures.

24 The oxen likewise and the young asses that ear the ground shall eat || || clean provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan

25 And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every || high hill, rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall

26 Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the Lord bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound

27 ¶ Behold, the name of the Lord cometh from far, burning with his anger, || and the burden thereof is || heavy his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire

28 And his breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity and there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to err

29 Ye shall have a song, as in the night when a holy solemnity is kept, and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the Lord, to the || mighty One of Israel

18 — therefore will the Lord wait &c.] The seeming incoherence of the prophetick style would be avoided in many places by regarding the various sense of the Hebrew particles more carefully than interpreters have generally done. The particle rendered therefore may be more clearly here, and in some other places, translated nevertheless, (W Louth,) or, in this place perhaps, after this Dr Blayney

19. For the people shall dwell in Zion &c.] From this verse to the twenty seventh, 'How many gracious promises of safety, several of which cannot with propriety be applied to the prosperous times of Hezekiah's reign, which succeeded to the great deliverance, but we are rather to suppose the Prophet, taking a hint from them and carried on to the better days that were to be of Israel' Dr Louth

22 Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images &c.] See note on chap 11 18

24 — that ear the ground] 'Far' that is, plough See the note on Gen xlv 6 (concerning winnowing, see note at Ruth iii 2, Ps 1 4

From this passage it appears, that asses as well as oxen were anciently employed in Judea for ploughing, and so they are in the East to this day. Dr Russell says, that after the camel, the ass must be reckoned the next in importance among the Syrian beasts of burden. Large caravans of them are employed in bringing provisions from the villages they serve also for the plough. And Niebuhr tells us, that near Bagdad he twice saw an ass harnessed to a plough together with oxen. Parkhurst

25 — there shall be — rivers and streams of waters.] Rain, and dew, and living waters, are put in prophetick language for the graces and doctrines of the Spirit, and the defect of rain for spiritual barrenness Sir I Newton See ver 23

— in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.] This must refer to the great and terrible destruction of God's enemies which shall be hereafter, when the strong fortifications, or perhaps the great ones of the earth, denoted here by the towers, shall fall See Rev xiv 20, xix 21 W Louth

26 — the light of the moon &c.] The Hebrew poets to express happiness, prosperity, advancement of kingdoms, &c, make use of images taken from the most striking parts of nature, from the heavenly bodies, the sun, moon, and stars, shining with increased splendour, and never setting, new heavens and a new earth are created, and a brighter age commences calamity, the overthrow and destruction of kingdoms are represented by opposite images See notes on chap v 30, xiii 10, 13 Bp Louth

27 Behold, the name of the Lord cometh from far, burning with his anger, &c.] From hence to the end of the chapter follows a lively description of God's vengeance, devouring the Assyrian army like fire, and consuming it all at once W Louth

28 — to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity.] The sieve or van of the ancients was a large instrument somewhat like a shovel, with a long handle, with which they tossed the corn mixed with the chaff and chopped straw into the air, that the wind might separate them. 'But the van, Kimchi observes, "with which God will winnow the nations, will be the van of emptiness or perdition for nothing useful shall remain behind, but all shall come to nothing and perish. In like manner, a bridle is designed to guide the horse in the right way, but the bridle which God will here put into the jaws of the people, shall not direct them aright, but shall, in His judgment on their stubbornness, make them err, and lead them into destruction. This latter image the Prophet applies to the same subject, chap xxxvii 29 Bps Louth and Hall

29 Ye shall have a song, as in the night when a holy solemnity is kept,] The Jewish festivals were kept from even to even, Levit.

Before
CHRIST
about 713

† Heb the glory of his voice

30 And the LORD shall cause † his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the fighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hailstones

31 For through the voice of the LORD shall the Assyrian be beaten down, which smote with a rod

† Heb every pass ing, if the rod found ed

† Heb cause to rest upon him

|| Or against them

† Heb from yester day

32 And † in every place where the grounded staff shall pass, which the LORD shall † lay upon him, it shall be with tabrets and harps and in battles of shaking will he fight || with it

33 For Tophet is ordained † of old, yea, for the king it is prepared, he hath made it deep and large the pile thereof is fire and much wood, the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it

CHAP XXXI

1 The prophet sheweth the cursed folly in trusting to Egypt and forsaking of God 6 He exhorteth to conversion 8 He sheweth the fall of Assyria

about 713

WOL to them that go down to Egypt for help, and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many, and in horsemen, because they are very strong, but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the LORD!

† Heb remove

2 Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not † call back his words but xxiii 32 The feast of the Passover is chiefly alluded to here, which was kept in the evening, and the supper concluded with a hymn, Matt xxv 30 W Lomth

3 And in every place where the grounded staff shall pass, &c.] In an old English translation it is much plainer, "Whithersoever he goes, the rod shall cleave unto him, which the Lord shall lay upon him. The words translated "the grounded staff, signify such a rod or stroke as sinks deep, and makes lasting marks in the flesh W Lomth

The verse may be thus paraphrased So shall the Lord smite him again, and smite him soundly and deep, so that the prints of His staff shall be seen upon him, and, wheresoever the Lord shall lay His heavy hand upon him, the judgment shall be entertained with the joy and acclamation of all his oppressed neighbours, as a benefit to themselves and in all his terrifying battles will the Lord with His staff of vengeance, fight against him Bp Hall

— battles of shaking] "Shaking, or stretching out, the hand of the Lord See chap xix 16 Parkhurst

33 — Tophet is ordained of old, &c.] See note at 2 Kings xxiii 10

The sense of the verse may be given thus I or God from the foundations of the world hath ordained a place and state of torment for His wicked and inprobable enemies, yea, for the proud king of Assyria and all those cruel tyrants which do here oppress His church hath God prepared a woeful and inconceivably dreadful condemnation in hell fire which is poorly represented in this hideous valley of Ben-Hinnom, wherein with much shrieking and from the bodies of men are consumed in the fire but, alas, what that flame to this unquenchable one which is kindled by the breath of the Lord as with streams of brimstone, and therefore never can go out, never can be abated Bp Hall will arise against the house of the evil doers, and against the help of them that work iniquity

† Heb CH 33
about 713

3 Now the Egyptians are men, and not God, and their horses flesh, and not spirit, When the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fail together

4 For thus hath the LORD spoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abase himself for the || noise of them so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof

|| Or
multitude

5 As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem, defending also he will deliver it, and passing over he will preserve it

6 ¶ Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted

7 For in that day every man shall cast away his idols of silver, and † his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin

Chap 2
† Heb the idols of his gold

8 ¶ Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of a mighty man, and the sword, not of a mean man, shall devour him but he shall flee || from the sword, and his young men shall be || † discomfited

|| Or for t, off the sword.
|| Or tributary
† Heb for melting or tribute

(chap XXXI ver 1 — stay on horses, and trust in chariots, See note on chap ii 6, 7 Egypt is described here and elsewhere in Scripture, as abounding in horses, it has been remarked that profane writers have not much noticed this circumstance but it must be remembered, that the period they chiefly treat of was subsequent to the cutting up of the country with the multitude of canals, which would greatly alter its face, and which alone is mentioned by Herodotus leaving it unfit for horses we may add also the circumstance of the seat of government being, under the latter kings of Egypt, fixed at a place very near upon the sea Alexandria Bochart

5 As birds flying, &c.] Compare Deut xxxii 11 W Lomth — and passing over he will preserve it] Most interpreters observe in this place an allusion to the deliverance which God vouchsafed His people, when going through the land of Egypt to smite the firstborn, He "passed over" the houses of the Israelites The similitude designed in this verse seems to be, As the mother bird spreads her wings to cover her young, throws herself before them, and opposes the rapacious bird that assaults them, so shall the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem, and deliver it, and passing over he will preserve it

8 The man,] on chap the hand mon opinion, the immediate stroke of Heaven, the expression here exactly agrees with the description of the angel who smote

Before
CHRIST
about 713
† He b his rock shall pass away for ever || Or his strength

9 And † he shall pass over to || his strong hold for fear, and his princes shall be afraid of the ensign, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem

CHAP XXXII

1 The blessings of Christ's kingdom 9 Desolation is for eshew n 15 Restoration is promised to succeed

about 113

BEHOLD, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment

2 And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest, as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a † great rock in a weary land

† He b
heavy

3 And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken

† He b
hasty

4 The heart also of the † rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak || plainly

|| Or
elegantly

5 The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful

6 For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail

|| Or when he speaketh against the poor in judgment

7 The instruments also of the churl are evil he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even || when the needy speaketh right the Jews with a pestilence. Chron xxi who is there represented as standing with "a sword" in his hand, ver 16 W Lowth

9 — whose fire is right Compare Obad ver 18, Zech ii 1, xii 6 W Lowth

Chap XXXII ver 1 Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment Under the government and example of Hezekiah, inferior princes and magistrates shall execute their office with integrity and faithfulness, and this prince, ver 2, shall be a refuge to us when the storms of calamity overtake us Accordingly, the wisdom and piety of Hezekiah was a support and comfort to his subjects, but what follows, especially in ver 3, 4, relates to happier times than Hezekiah ever lived to enjoy, his reign can only be glanced at here, as an image and shadow of the great improvements in grace and holiness, which belong to the Gospel-times, under the government of Christ, and the assistance of His Spirit W Lowth

The Messiah is "the righteous King to come, by whom (as ver 2) the curse shall be removed from them that heard but understood not, and saw but perceived not Bp Chandler See notes on chap viii 16, xxix 11

The first and second verses may be thus paraphrased 1 Behold, the Messiah, the true King of His Church, shall reign in righteousness, and those, who shall have the administration thereof under Him, shall rule in due equity and moderation 2 And

8 But the liberal deviseth liberal things, and by liberal things shall || he stand

Before
CHRIST
about 71
|| Or he established

9 ¶ Rise up, ye women that are at ease, hear my voice, ye careless daughters, give ear unto my speech

10 † Many days and years shall ye be troubled, ye careless women for the vintage shall fail, the gathering shall not come

† Heb Days above a year

11 Tremble, ye women that are at ease, be troubled, ye careless ones strip you, and make you bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins

12 They shall lament for the teats, for † the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine

† Heb the fields of the vine
|| Or burning upon, &c

13 Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers, || yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city

14 Because the palaces shall be forsaken, the multitude of the city shall be left, the || forts and towers shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks,

|| Or clefts and watch towers

15 Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest

† Chap 9
17

16 Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field

17 And the work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever

18 And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places,

19 When it shall hail, coming down on the forest, || and the city shall be low in a low place

|| Or,
and the city shall be utterly abused

that man, God and man shall be a sure refuge to His elect in all their distresses and calamities and shall be a gracious refreshing to them, even as a clear river, &c Bp Hull

4 — the rash The inconsiderate Dr Waterland

— the tongue of the stammerers &c The most rude and illiterate shall discourse clearly and intelligibly of God and of their duty W Lowth

This will well apply likewise to the first followers of Christ, who by the miraculous power of the Spirit, from plain simple, illiterate men, became endued at once with such wisdom and eloquence, as none of their adversaries were able to gainsay or resist Wogan

9 Rise up, ye women that are at ease hear my voice, ye careless daughters The Prophet returns to the calamities that should befall, addressing, as some think, the careless and delicate women of his time, (as chap iii 16,) as others say, the cities of Judah, under this figurative name Tiringa

15 Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, See note on chap xxxi 6, 7

17 — the work of righteousness shall be peace, &c The "peace" which was promised at the coming of Christ, and of which He is styled Prince, is here explained to consist in assurance and confidence towards God, which is the genuine result of that righteousness which is introduced by the new dispensation Dr Berriman

19 — the city shall be low See note on chap xxv 2

Before
CHRIST
about 713

20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the ox and the ass.

CHAP XXXIII

1 God's judgments against the enemies of the church 18 The privileges of the godly

about 713

WOE to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled, and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee: when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled, and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.

2 O LORD, be gracious unto us, we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.

3 At the noise of the tumult the people fled, at the lifting up of thyself the nations were scattered.

4 And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpillar: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.

5 The LORD is exalted, for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgment and righteousness.

20 Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, &c. This sowing in watery places exactly answers the manner of planting rice, for they sow it upon the water, and before sowing, while the earth is covered with water they cause the ground to be trodden by oxen, horses and asses, and this is the way of preparing the ground for sowing. As they sow the rice on the water, they transplant it in the water. Sir J Chardin

The Prophet foresees and pronounces blessed the lot of those that should go out in the Gospel times to sow the word in all lands, when the desert of the Gentiles should be changed into a fruitful field, and the parched ground become springs of water. chap xxx 25, xxxv 7. We may suppose him to contrast with this happy prospect with his own fruitless labours in preaching to the obstinate and impenitent Jews. Vitranga

Chap XXXIII We may call this chapter a triumphant ode upon the destruction of Sennacherib's army, before Jerusalem. The Prophet sets forth the several scenes of that transaction with all the beauties of poetical description. At the beginning he addresses himself to Sennacherib, "Woe to thee that spoilest, &c," expressing the injustice of his ambitious designs, and the sudden disappointment of them. W Louth, Bp Louth

Ver 2. O Lord, be gracious unto us, &c. The Jews are here introduced offering up their earnest supplications to God in their present distressful condition, with expressions of their trust and confidence in His protection. Bp Louth

— be thou their arm. Several versions give it, "our arm or strength." Bp Louth

3 — at the lifting up of thyself the nations were scattered. It has been usual to consider God the person addressed here, and the Assyrians, ver 4. it seems better to consider the Prophet or God Himself, to be addressing Sennacherib, and threatening him, that notwithstanding the terror he had occasioned in the invaded countries (the people mentioned ver 3,) yet he should fall, and become an easy prey (ver 4) to him (that people) whom he had intended to subdue. Bp Louth

5, 6 The Lord is exalted &c. A chorus of Jews is intro-

6 And wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of † salvation the fear of the LORD is his † Heb treasure. Before CHRIST about 713.

7 Behold, their || valiant ones shall cry, || Or without the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly. † messengers

8 The highways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.

9 The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and || hewn down || Or Sharn is like a wilderness; and Bashan and Carmel shake off their fruits. † withered away

10 Now will I rise, saith the LORD, now will I be exalted, now will I lift up myself.

11 Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your bичath, as fire, shall devour you.

12 And the people shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up shall they be burned in the fire.

13 ¶ Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done, and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might.

14 The sinners in Zion are afraid, fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites: Who among us shall dwell with the devouring duced, acknowledging the mercy and power of God, who had undertaken to protect them, extolling it in position to the boasted power of their enemies, and celebrating the wisdom and pity of their king Hezekiah, who had placed his confidence in the favour of God. Bp Louth

6 — shall be the stability of thy times, — the fear of the LORD is his treasure. Such variation of persons, as we have here, and above ver 2 are not uncommon. Vitranga, W Louth. See Bp Louth's note on Deut xxxvii 15.

7—10 In these verses the Prophet describes the disappointment of Hezekiah's ambassadors, who humbly sued for peace, (which indeed had been bought, 2 K xviii 14, 15, 16, the Ch Sennacherib would not stand to the whole vent,) the damp that struck upon the spirits of the whole nation, and, ver 10, the immediate interposition of God when their † became desperate. W Louth

10 Now will I rise, saith the LORD. God Himself is again introduced, declaring that He will interpose in this critical situation of affairs and disappoint the vain designs of the enemies of His people, by discomfiting them and utterly consuming them. Bp Louth

11, 12 Ye shall conceive chaff, &c. Here follows still in the person of God, which however falls at last into that of the Prophet, a description of the dreadful apprehensions of the wicked in those times of distress and imminent danger, finely contrasted with the confidence and security of the righteous and their trust in the promises of God, that He will be their never-failing strength and protector. Bp Louth. So will the second coming of the Messiah to judge the world, which brings joy and gladness to such as look for His salvation, be dreadful and terrible to His opposers. Bp Berriman. And the exclamations of the sinners in Zion, ver 14, may be well applied to the terrors of hell torments, which, when the consciences of sinners begin to be awakened, intermingle with just apprehension of the Divine wrath. W Louth. The Chaldee Paraphrast renders "everlasting burnings," "the gheenna of everlasting fire." Bp Louth. See notes on chap xxx 33, lxxvi 24.

Before CHRIST about 715
 15 He that walketh † righteously, and speaketh † uprightly, he that despiseth the gain of † oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of † blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil,

16 He shall dwell on † high. his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks bread shall be given him, his waters shall be sure

17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty they shall behold † the land that is very far off

18 Thine heart shall meditate terror Where is the scribe? where is the † receiver? where is he that counted the towers?

19 Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of deeper speech than thou canst perceive, of a † stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand

20 Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down, not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken

17 — they shall behold the land that is very far off] Or, they shall see thine own land far extended Bp Lowth

18 Thine heart shall meditate terror &c] Shall reflect on the past terror, and every one shall be ready to exclaim in a triumphant manner, Where is the scribe or muster-master? where is the collector of the taxes? where the commander of the enemy, to survey the fortifications of the city, and take an account of the might, strength, and situation of the walls and towers? W Lowth, Bp Lowth

19 — a people of deeper speech than thou canst perceive,] The Hebrew expresses a foreign language by a "deep lip" or "speech, our translators render it, strange speech, Ezek iii 5, 6 W Lowth

22 For the Lord is of great might, &c] We must observe that in this verse, as in many other places of the Old Testament, the name of the Lord thrice repeated has been usually thought to refer to the mystery of the blessed Trinity Veneranda This passage is parallel to the form of blessing given Numb vi 24, 25, 26 Bp Kidder See notes on that place

23 Thy tacklings are loosed, &c] Having compared the Assyrian army to a naval force, ver 21, the Prophet persists in that metaphor, and describes them as in a shipwrecked condition, the spoil of the wreck to be divided among the citizens of Jerusalem, even the sick and diseased of them throwing aside their infirmities, and recovering strength enough to listen to the general plunder W Lowth, Bp Lowth

24 — the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity] The last sentence is parallel to the former, and expresses the same sense in other words, sickness being considered as a visitation from God, and punishment for sin, the forgiveness of sin is equivalent to the removal of a disease We find them thus coupled, Ps ciii 9, and our blessed Saviour reasons with the Jews on the same principle, Mark ii 9 Bp Lowth

The fulfilment of this prophecy appears from the history of the 21 But there the glorious Lord will be unto us a place † of broad rivers and streams, wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby.

22 For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our † lawgiver, the Lord is our king, he will save us

23 Thy tacklings are loosed, they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the prey of a great spoil divided, the lame take the prey

24 And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity

CHAP XXXIV

1 The judgments wherewith God revengeth his church 11 The desolation of her enemies 16 The certainty of the prophecy

COME near, ye nations, to hear; and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear, and † all that is therein, the world, and all things that come forth of it

2 For the indignation of the Lord is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter great event given by the Prophet it is plain that Hezekiah, by his treaty with Sennacherib had stripped himself of his whole treasure, 2 Kings xviii 15, 16 his "exceeding much riches," afterwards, 2 Chron xxxii 27, cannot be otherwise accounted for, than by the prodigious spoil that was taken on the destruction of the Assyrian army Bp Lowth

Chap XXXIV This chapter and the next make one distinct prophecy, an entire, regular, and beautiful poem, consisting of two parts the first, containing a denunciation of Divine vengeance against the enemies of the people or church of God, the second, describing the flourishing state of the church consequent upon the execution of those judgments The event foretold is represented as of universal concern, all nations are called upon to attend to the declaration of it, and the wrath of God is denounced against all the nations that is, against all those who had provoked to anger the Defender of the cause of Zion Among these I dom is particularly specified Accordingly, the I domites were, with the neighbouring nations, ravaged and laid waste by Nebuchadnezzar (see Jer xxi 15—26, Mal i 3, 4) and this may be the event which the Prophet has primarily in view in chap xxxiv, but this event seems by no means to come up to the terms of the prophecy, or to justify so high-wrought and so terrible a description also, that the thirty-fifth chapter has a view beyond any thing that could be the immediate consequence of this event, is plain from every part of it, and especially from ver 5, 6 It seems therefore that (Edom and Bozrah being put by a common figure for God's enemies in general) this prophecy has a farther view to events still future, to some great revolutions to be effected in later times antecedent to that more perfect state of the kingdom of God upon earth, which the Holy Scriptures warrant us to expect, and serving to introduce it Bp Lowth The second and third verses may very fitly be applied to "the battle of that great day of God Almighty," mentioned Rev xvi 14, compared with chap xvii 14, xix 19, as do several parts of this chapter correspond with several verses of Revelation, chap xvii, xviii W Lowth

Before
CHRIST
about 713

3 Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcasses, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood

Rev 11

4 And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll, and all their host shall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig tree

Rev 11

5 For my sword shall be bathed in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of my curse, to judgment

6 The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea

Or
thunder

7 And the unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls, and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness

Or drunken

Chap 65
1

8 For it is the day of the LORD's vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controversy of Zion

9 And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch

Rev 16
14 & 19

10 It shall not be quenched night nor day, the smoke thereof shall go up for

Ver 3 Their slain also shall be cast out, &c ] The Prophet, in the description of this terrible judgment, begins with the common circumstances, which attend the slaughter made by a victorious enemy, ver 4, he rises in tone and, borrowing his images from original chaos (as is usual in describing the overthrow of kingdoms, see notes on chap xiii 10, 13,) goes on to represent, as it were, the dissolution of all things presently, (ver 5, 6, 7,) a vast and splendid sacrifice is introduced, of such animals as best represent the pride, cruelty, insolence of tyrants, leaders of the nations hostile to God, next is this complete destruction represented by allusion to the overthrow of Sodom, (ver 9, 10,) and the whole concludes (ver 11 to the end) with a picture of the most gloomy solitude and frightful devastation Bp Louth

5 — My sword shall be bathed ] In the blood of these people the same word is rendered in Jer xli 10, "shall be made drunk." This is said to be done "in heaven, because it was there decreed to be done" Poole, Bp Hall

6 The sword of the Lord is filled with blood, &c ] God shall take full vengeance on His enemies: His sword, shall be, as it were, fed with the blood of His great and noted adversaries: this slaughter of His shall be like to that of an universal sacrifice, which shall be killed on the altar of the land of Edom, and all the regions of His proud opposites Bp Hall

— a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea ] Considering the original sense of these words, they may fitly be applied to a place of slaughter "Edom signifying red, as blood is" and "Bozrah a vintage, which in the prophetic idiom often denotes God's vengeance on the wicked." See particularly chap lxiii 3, in which chapter these words are again joined together W Louth Ezekiel has manifestly imitated this passage of Isaiah, chap xxxix 17, 18. The sublime author of the Revelation (chap xix 17, 18,) has taken this image from Ezekiel rather than Isaiah Bp Louth The destruction of Edom ever from generation to generation it shall lie waste, none shall pass through it for ever and ever Before

CHRIST
about 713

11 ¶ But the cormorant and the bittern shall possess it, the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it: and he shall stretch out upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptiness * Zeph 2 14
Rev 18 2
Or
pelican

12 They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing

13 And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for owls Or, scorpions, † Hob. dragons

14 ¶ The wild beasts of the desert shall also meet with the wild beasts of the island, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow; the screech owl also shall rest there, and find for herself a place of rest Or, night
monster

15 There shall the great owl make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate Or, night
monster

16 ¶ Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read: no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them: by line they shall possess it for ever, from is foretold in a strain not less bold than this of Isaiah by Jeremiah, chap xlix 7—22, by Ezekiel, chap xxxv and xlv 12 and by Obadiah Jos Mede

11 But the cormorant and the bittern shall possess it, &c ] Beside the passages referred to in the margin, with this verse and with ver 13 14 15, compare chap xiii 21, xiv 23 W Louth

— the stones of emptiness ] The Hebrew word Eben, which signifies a "stone," is sometimes taken for a "plummet" as Zech iv 10. That sense will be agreeable with this place, and makes it exactly parallel with 2 Kings xxi 13, where the instruments of building are applied to destroying W Louth The meaning is, God shall condemn to perpetual confusion and ruin, never to be either built or inhabited Bp Hall

16 Seek ye out of the book of the Lord ] God's omniscience is often described in Scripture as a register book, wherein every occurrence is exactly set down. See chap lxxv 6, Deut xxxii 34, Ps lvi 8. So this prophecy, says the text, is a register of the fate of Idumea, whosever in aftertimes will compare the event with this, will find every circumstance here foretold punctually fulfilled W Louth Such seems to be the drift of the exhortation, directed here by the Prophet to men of but little faith, who were too apt to receive his assertion with doubt and caution. Some have supposed Isaiah here to refer them to all the passages of Holy Writ which threaten Edom Viringa

— my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit hath gathered them ] Some manuscripts give, "The mouth of the Lord hath commanded, &c, with which reading the Septuagint agrees Bp Louth By "them" are intended the creatures mentioned in verses 13, 14, 15 W Louth

17 And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line ] That is, with the same exactness as He divided the Holy Land by lot among the children of Israel, Josh. xviii 8, Ps lxxviii 55 W Louth

Before generation to generation shall they dwell therein

CHAP XXXV

The joyful flourishing of Christ's kingdom & The weak are encouraged by the virtues and privileges of the Gospel about 713 THis wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them, and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose

2 It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the LORD, and the excellency of our God

3 ¶ Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees

4 Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence, he will come and save you

5 Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped

6 Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert

Chap XXXV As the judgments denounced in the last chapter belong not only to Idumea, but to later times and occurrences, so the new face of things described in this is to be applied to the flourishing state of the Church in golden age of the Gospel to commence from our Saviour's appearing and to be more fully completed when all His enemies shall be destroyed When the Divine justice is made manifest in punishing incorrigible sinners, it is usual to describe it as matter of rejoicing to the righteous See Ps lvi 10 11, Jer li 10 12 And here the Church which had before been desolate and forlorn, a wilderness and solitary place, (see Rev xii 14) is said to be about to rejoice, when these judgments shall be executed upon God's enemies and her persecutors Bp Lowth See the note on chap xxix 17

Ver 5 6 Thou shalt say of the blind shall be opened &c This prophecy very fully expresses the power of miracles, with which our Saviour was to be dignified in curing all manner of diseases, of which the Prophet here names only four, to give a specimen of the rest and it seems as if he had chosen these sorts before others, because throughout the Scriptures we do not find that any Prophet did the like Dean Allic Our Lord's appeal in His answer to the Baptist's messengers, lies not to miracles in general, but to such as were more particularly predicted of the Messiah Dean Stanhope

6 7 — in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert And the parched ground shall become a pool, &c The revivification and watering of desert and thirsty lands is so apt and constant an emblem in the language of parables, to designate the more plentiful effusion of Divine grace and spiritual gifts, that expressions of this kind hardly need explanation those that follow here are analogous, and serve only to set forth more at large, and with additional ornament, the same thing Bp Lowth See notes on chap xxx 2, xlv 3

8 — but it shall be for those &c The words here may be better translated, as the marginal rendering gives it in part, "But He

7 And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes

8 And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness, the unclean shall not pass over it, but it shall be for those the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein

9 No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there, but the redeemed shall walk there

10 And the ransomed of the LORD shall return, and come to Zion with songs, and everlasting joy upon their heads they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away

CHAP XXXVI

1 Sennacherib invadeth Judah 4 Rabshakeh, sent by Sennacherib by blasphemous persuasions soliciteth the people to revolt 22 His words are told to Hezekiah

NOW it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them

2 And the king of Assyria sent Rabsha-

(that is, God) shall go along with them in the way, and the simple shall not err therein Bp Lowth Some ancient manuscripts are favourable to this way of taking the passage, and our old English versions translate to this purpose Bp Lowth The meaning of the "wayfaring man, or the simple not erring, (as figuratively applicable to the Christian church,) is, that the duties required of us by God are so plain and evident, that he, who sets himself to the practice of them, though he be of slow understanding, cannot but know them, or, again, that the condition of the covenant required of us under Christ is not such, as that any man through weakness, ignorance, or involuntary error, should lose his part of the promise of that covenant, but only deliberate sins against grace and against knowledge are imputed to any man to his ruin Dr Hammond See note on Deut xxx 14

9 No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast We may understand to be implied by this, that men of brutish appetites, of cruel and voracious tempers shall despise Christ's preaching, neither shall any that delight in wickedness, or trust in themselves and their own reason, the haughty scorers, receive His doctrine, or embrace the Gospel, but the godly alone and humble Bps Chandler and Wilson

10 And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads The last phrase may allude to the crowns or garlands put on the heads of newly married persons, and used at other times of publick rejoicing compare 1 Thess ii 19 The former part to the expressions of joy used in going up to Jerusalem on the solemn festivals Bp Lowth

Chap XXXVI The history of the invasion of Sennacherib and of the miraculous destruction of his army, which makes the subject of so many of Isaiah's prophecies, is very properly inserted here, as affording the best light to many parts of those prophecies, and as almost necessary to introduce the prophecy in

Before
CHRIST
710 keh from Lichish to Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fullers' field.

1 Or secretary

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim, Hilkiah's son, which was over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, Asaph's son, the recorder.

4 ¶ And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?

† Heb aunt f tys
|| Or but omms an t streu th me f r the nat 1 2 ch 29
6 7

5 I say, sayest thou, (but they are but vain words) || I have counsel and strength for war: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Lo, thou trustest in the staff of this broken reed, on Egypt, whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust in him.

7 But if thou say to me, We trust in the LORD our God: is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?

|| Or Rustig

8 Now therefore give || pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?

10 And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? the LORD said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

11 ¶ Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language, for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.

12 ¶ But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?

the thirty seventh chapter, being the answer of God to Hezekiah's prayer, which could not be properly understood without it. We find the same narrative in the second book of Kings, chapters xviii xix and xx and thus and the three following chapters of Isaiah, for much the most part the account of the sickness of Hezekiah only excepted, are but a different copy of that narration. The difference of the two copies is little more than what has ma-

Before
CHRIST
710

13 Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.

14 Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us: this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, || Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me, and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the water of his own cistern.

|| Or Set my face towards you by a present † Heb make with me a covenant

17 Until I come and take you away in a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us: hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

19 Where are the gods of Hamath and Arphad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they among all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

21 But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.

22 ¶ Then came Eliakim the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah the son of Asaph, the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

CHAP XXXVII

1 Hezekiah mourning sendeth to Isaiah to pray for them. 6 Isaiah comforteth them. 8 Sennacherib, going to encounter Tirhakah, sendeth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah. 14 Hezekiah's prayer. 21 Isaiah's prophecy of the pride and destruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 36 An angel slayeth the Assyrians. 37 Sennacherib is slain at Niniveh by his own sons.

manifestly arisen from the mistakes of transcribers. Some few sentences, or members of sentences are omitted in Isaiah, which are found in the book of Kings: whether these omissions were made by design or by mistake, may be doubted. Bp Lowth. I or notes upon this chapter the reader is referred to 2 Kings xviii.

Chap. XXXVII See the notes on 2 Kings xix.

Before
CH. XLV
710

2 Kings
19 &c

AND it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD

2 And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz

3 And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy for the children: we come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth

4 It may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words of Rabshakeh: for the LORD thy God hath heard

5 So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah

6 ¶ And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me

7 Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumour, and return to his own land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish

9 And he heard, say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make war with thee: And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God, in whom thou trustest, deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria 11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by destroying them utterly, and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gozan, and Haran, and Reseph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying,

16 O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth

17 Incline thine ear, O LORD, and hear, open thine eyes, O LORD, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God

18 Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations, and their countries,

19 And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them

20 Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD, even thou only

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Wherewith thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria

22 This is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him, The virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn, the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee

23 Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed, and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Israel

24 By thy servants hast thou reproached the LORD, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots will I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon, and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and I will cut down the forest of his Carmel

25 I have digged and drunk water, and with the sole of my foot have I dried up all the rivers of the besieged places

26 Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times, that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste defended cities into ruinous heaps

27 Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded: they were as the grass of the Part

CH. XLV
710

† Heb lands

† Heb works

† Heb
By the hand of thy servants

† Heb the tallness of the cedars thereof, and the choice of the fir trees

thereof

† Or the forest and his fruitful field

† Or fenced and closed

† Or

Hast thou

not heard how I have made it long ago, and formed it of ancient times should I now bring it to pass that I will waste and defenced cities to be ruinous heaps

† Heb short of hand

Before
CHRIST
710, field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up

|| Or
tine

28 But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me

29 Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult, is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my biddle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest

30 And this shall be a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such as groweth of itself, and the second year that which springeth of the same and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof

† Heb the escaping of the house of Judah that remaineth

31 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward

† Heb
the camp by
2 Kings 11 21
chap 9 7

32 For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this

33 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it

34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the LORD

2 Kings
20 6

35 For I will defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake

2 Kings
19 35

36 Then the angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses

37 So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh

38 And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword, and they escaped into the land of Armenia and Esar-haddon his son reigned in his stead

Before
CHRIST
710

† Heb Ararat

CHAP XXXVIII

1 Hezekiah, having received a message of death, by prayer hath his life lengthened 8 The sun went ten degrees backward, for a sign of that promise 9 His song of thanksgiving

IN those days was Hezekiah sick unto death And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order for thou shalt die, and not live

2 Kings
20 1

2 Chron
32 24

† Heb Gave charge concerning the house

2 Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the LORD

3 And said, Remember now, O LORD, beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight And Hezekiah wept sore

† Heb with great mournings

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying,

5 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years

6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria and I will defend this city

7 And this shall be a sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath spoken,

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees, which is gone down in the dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down

† Heb degrees by or with the sun

9 ¶ The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness

10 I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave I am deprived of the residue of my years

[Ver 29 — therefore will I put my hook in thy nose,] Just as at this day they put a ring into the nose of the bear, the buffalo, and other wild beasts, to lead them, and to govern them when they are unruly Bp Lowth

[Chap XXXVIII See the notes on 2 Kings xx 1—11 Ver 3 And said Remember now, O Lord, &c.] See on ver 17 the note from Abp Seeke, and on 1 Kings xv 14 the note from Jos Mede

§ — I have heard thy prayer] From these words, compared with the first verse, it appears, that this sickness would have put an end to Hezekiah's life, if he had not earnestly prayed to God to spare him, and that God was moved by his prayers to reverse the sentence of death which was gone out against him, and to grant him a longer continuance on the throne of his kingdom It appears also from the preceding chapter, that Hezekiah by his prayers obtained another miraculous deliverance, namely, that from the army of the Assyrians These things are written for our admiration, to excite us to be very diligent and devout in the worship of God, since the issues of life and death, and of all human affairs, are in His hands, and He has assured us, that He is nigh unto all them that call upon Him, that He hears their prayers, and will deny them no manner of thing that is good for them Reading

• 9 The writing of Hezekiah] Here the book of Kings deserts us, the song of Hezekiah not being inserted in it Bp Lowth

Before
CHRIST
713

11 I said, I shall not see the LORD, even the LORD, in the land of the living I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world

12 Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherd's tent I have cut off like a weaver my life he will cut me off || with pining sickness from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me

13 I reckoned till morning, that, as a lion, so will he break all my bones from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me

14 Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter I did mourn as a dove mine eyes fail with looking upward O LORD, I am oppressed, || undertake for me

15 What shall I say? he hath both put me into me and himself hath done it I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul

16 O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live

17 Behold, || for peace I had great bitterness but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back

18 For the grave cannot praise thee, death can not celebrate thee they that go

|| Or on my peace came great bitterness
+ Heb thou hast loved my soul from the pit

¶ 1 I said I shall not see the Lord &c ] That is, I shall no more have the comfortable fruition of God's presence in His house amongst the men that live here on earth Bp Hall

12 — as a shepherd's tent ] Shepherds do not pitch their tents long in one place, but remove for the convenience of pasture W Louth

— I have cut off like a weaver my life ] My sins are the cause that the thread of my life is cut off, like the thread of a weaver W Louth

— from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me ] I concluded I should die before night Compare Job iv 20 W Louth

In the course of the day Thou wilt finish my web Bp Louth 13 I reckoned till morning, &c ] When night came, I reckoned I should die before the next morning, my pains were so great as if the whole frame of my body were ready to be dissolved W Louth

14 — did I chatter ] The Hebrew word means to chirp or peep in a plaintive tone, like some birds Parkhurst

15 What shall I say? &c ] The suddenness of my deliverance surprises me, so that I want words to express my thankfulness all I can say is, that no sooner did God promise to restore my health, but I immediately found the effects of His goodness The sense of the latter part of the verse, "I shall go softly &c" is more intelligible in our old translation, which renders the words thus, "I will, so long as I live, remember this bitterness of my life, that is, The remembrance of the misery I endured shall continually excite me to renew my thankfulness for this Thy mercy W Louth

16 O Lord, by these things men live, &c ] O Lord, by those words and powerful acts, that proceed from Thee, is the life of man both had and maintained and especially this life of mine, whereby my breath is still kept in me, is an immediate work of Thine Bp Hall down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth

Before
CHRIST
713

19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day the father to the children shall make known thy truth

20 The LORD was ready to save me therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the LORD

21 For Isaiah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover

22 Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?

CHAP XXXIX

1 Merodach-baladan, sending to visit Hezekiah because of the wonder, hath notice of his treasures 3 Isaiah, understanding thereof, foretelleth the Babylonian captivity

A T that time Merodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah for he had heard that he had been sick; and was recovered.

about 712
king
20 12, &c

2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his || precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his || armour, and all that was found in his treasures there was nothing

|| Or spicery
|| Or, jewels
+ Heb vessels or, instruments

17 Behold, for peace I had great bitterness ] The words may be translated, Behold, my grievous anguish is turned into ease W Louth Bp Louth

— thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back ] Hezekiah's prayer hath no confession of sin, but his thanksgiving afterwards hath a very strong one "Thou hast cast all my sins behind Thy back And therefore, when he pleaded it first, "Remember, O Lord, I beseech Thee, how I have walked before Thee with a perfect heart, and done that which is good in Thy sight ver 9, we should understand him to mean that as a king he had been zealous for God's true religion, to which consequently his life was of importance, not that as a man he had not deserved death, which all men have Abp Secker

20 The Lord was ready to save me &c ] The case of Hezekiah, a person of the highest rank in the prime of life, and the full tide of prosperity seized with a mortal disease ought strongly to remind the secret of us all, how uncertain our condition is here on earth For the goodness of God, a Prophet was sent to him, to admonish him of the preparation that his state required and the same goodness hath provided that we shall all be frequently admonished of the same thing by the ministers of His word The admonition given him was the means of prolonging his days in peace and comfort, and those given us, if received in a right manner, may, both naturally and providentially, contribute to procure us longer and happier lives in this world, and will certainly lead us to a life of eternal happiness in the next Abp Secker

Chap XXXIX See the notes on 2 Kings xx 12—19 The nature of Hezekiah's crime, and his humiliation on the message of God to him by the Prophet, is more expressly declared by the author of the book of Chronicles, 2 Chron xxvii 25, 26, 30, 31 Bp Louth

Before
CHRIST
about 712

in his house, not in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not 712

3 ¶ Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon

4 Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them

5 Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the Lord of hosts

6 Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the Lord

7 And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away, and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon

8 Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, Good is the word of the Lord which thou hast

Chap VI The course of prophecies which follow from hence to the end of the book, and which taken together constitute the most elegant part of the sacred writings of the Old Testament interspersed also with many passages of the highest sublimity, was probably delivered in the latter part of the reign of Hezekiah. The Prophet in the foregoing chapter had delivered a very explicit declaration of the impending dissolution of the kingdom, and of the captivity under the kings of Babylon. As the subject of his subsequent prophecies was to be chiefly of the consolatory kind, he opens them with giving a promise of restoration and the return of the people from that captivity, by the merciful interposition of God in their favour. But the views of the Prophet are not confined to this event: the redemption from Babylon is clearly foretold, and at the same time is employed as an image to shadow out a redemption of an infinitely higher and more important nature—the deliverance of the people of God, Gentiles as well as Jews from the captivity of sin, and the dominion of death. The Prophet connects these two events together, and hurriedly ever treats of the former without throwing in some intimations of the latter: sometimes he is so fully possessed with the glories of the future kingdom of the Messiah that he seems to leave the more immediate subject of his commission almost out of the question. Indeed this evangelical sense of the prophecy is so apparent, and stands forth in so strong a light that some interpreters cannot see that it has any other, and will not allow the prophecy to have any relation at all to the return from the captivity of Babylon. This literal sense however seems obvious and plain, and for the spiritual we have the irrefragable authority of John the Baptist, and of our blessed Saviour Himself as recorded by all the Evangelists, for applying this beginning of the prophecy to the opening of the Gospel by the preaching of John, and the introducing of the kingdom of the Messiah. Bp Lenth

[Ver 1 Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God] The Prophet declares at once God's command to His messengers, (His prophet as the Chaldee rightly explains it,) to comfort His people in captivity to impart to them the joyful tidings, that their punishment has satisfied the Divine justice, and the time of reconciliation and favour is at hand. Bp Lenth

2 — she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins] Double in proportion to God's usual severity in punishing men's spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days

Before
CHRIST
712

CHAP XL

1 The promulgation of the gospel 3 The preaching of John Baptist 9 The preaching of the apostles, 12 The prophet by the omnipotency of God 18 and his incomparableness, 26 comforteth the people

COMFORT ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God, about 712

2 Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and say unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the Lord's hand double for all her sins

3 ¶ The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight in the desert our God

4 Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places shall be plain:

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it sins see Jer xvi 18. Dan ix 12. or some take the word sins for the punishments due to sin (as it is often used,) and understand this as a promise of ample recompence for the effects of past displeasure on the reconciliation of God to His returning people. Compute chap Ix 7, Job xli 10. Bp Lenth

3 The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, &c.] The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness the Baptist applies to himself: is describing a preacher faithfully delivering the word of God in a desert and uncultivated place: that is among a people barren and unfruitful in good works. The message follows ver 5 & 6 where under the allusion of mending or levelling the roads for the progress of great princes that alteration is suggested, which should be made in the minds and dispositions of men, in order to qualify them to receive the benefit of the Gospel: the roughness of their tempers and crookedness of their wills to be rectified and made straight, in order to bring them to that meek and humble spirit which God has promised to guide in judgment, and instruct in His way, Ps xxv 9. Dr Barriman. The idea is taken from the practice of Eastern monarchs, who, whenever they entered upon an expedition, or took a journey especially through desert and unpractised countries sent harbingers before them to prepare all things for their passage, and pioneers to open the passes to level the ways, and to remove all impediments. Bp Lenth. See note at Matt iii 3, and compare Baruch v 7

our God.] This being spoken of Him, of whom John the Baptist was to be the forerunner, and the application having been afterwards expressly made by the Baptist to our Lord Jesus, (see John i 23,) it is evident that He is the Person to whom the Prophet attributes the incommunicable name of Jehovah, and styles Him "our God." Bp Lenth

5 And the glory of the Lord shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together.] Here it is most evident that the Prince, whose way is to be prepared can be no other than the Messiah: that great Prince or Potentate who is the general subject of all the Prophets: "the glory of the Lord foretold in future times to be manifested to the Gentiles, or to "all flesh" can point out nothing but His glorious days, which are elsewhere drawn out under the like stupendous characters. Bp Lenth, Dr Barriman.

Before
JAMES 1
out 712
1 John 14 2
Paul 102
11 & 102 15 James 1 10
11 et 1, 24

6 The voice said, Cry And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodness thereof is as the flower of the field

7 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth because the spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it surely the people is grass

8 The grass withereth, the flower fadeth but the word of our God shall stand for ever

9 ¶ O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain, O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength, lift it up, be not afraid, say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!

10 Behold, the Lord God will come with his reward is with him, and his work before him

11 He shall feed his flock like a shepherd he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young 12 ¶ Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance?

The Prophet then introduces a voice commanding him to make a solemn proclamation ver 6 7 8 The import of it is, that the people the flesh is of a vain temporary nature that all its glory fadeth and is soon gone but that the word of the Lord endureth for ever • What is this but a plain opposition of the flesh to the spirit of the carnal Israel to the spiritual of the temporary Mosaic economy to the eternal Christian dispensation? You may be ready to conclude, (tho' the Prophet may be supposed to say,) by the introduction to my discourse, that my commission is only to comfort you with a promise of the restoration of your religion and polity, of Jerusalem of the temple and its services and worship in all its ancient splendour, these are earthly, shadowy, fading things which shall soon pass away and be destroyed for ever these are not worthy to engage your attention in comparison of the greater blessings, the spiritual redemption the eternal inheritance, covered under the veil of the former which I have it in charge to unfold unto you This appears to be agreeable to St Peter's interpretation of this passage, quoted by him, as the margin refers Bp Lenth

9 O Zion, that bringest good tidings &c ] The marginal reading gives a much better sense compare also chap xli 27 In 7 Bp Lenth The Hebrew participle, rendered "thou that tellest" is in the feminine gender, and the office of announcing and celebrating such glad tidings, is here spoken of belonged peculiarly to women, 1 xod. 20, 21, Judg xi 34, 1 Sam xviii 6 7 Bp Lenth See note at Ps lxxviii 11

10 11 Behold the Lord God will come with strong hand, &c ] This is to be understood of Christ The word "His reward is with Him, compared with Rev xvii 12, and He shall feed His flock like a shepherd, compared with the passage of St John referred to in the margin are sufficient indications of the Person intended Dr Waterland

With ver 10 we may compare also Matt xvi 27 The expressions in ver 11 eminently belong to Christ and represent the gentleness He shall use to the weak ones of His flock, giving them in-13 Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being His counsellor hath taught him?

14 With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?

15 Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing

16 And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering

17 All nations before him are as nothing, and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity

18 ¶ To whom then will ye liken God?
or what likeness will ye compare unto him?

19 The workman melteth a graven image, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth silver chains

20 He that is so impoverished that he hath no oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot, he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to prepare a graven image, that shall not be moved

21 Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the struction as they are able to bear it, and taking all possible care to bring back stragglers to His fold as appears by the many allusions in the New Testament to this and similar passages in the Old Bp Lenth

12 Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand &c ] Here begins a lofty description of God's almighty power shew-ing that He is great above all His works, and able to do beyond what we can think or conceive the design of it is, to persuade the people to put their whole trust in Him, to rest assured, that He is able to perform who promises and willing to aim them against idolatry, ver 18, &c Bp Lenth The work of creation is the favourite topic which God is pleased to insist upon most, whenever He would distinguish His own peculiar majesty and power above and beyond all the gods of the nations, or excite in His people the highest and most suitable to His transcendent excellency see ver 26 Many texts to the same purpose might be cited from the following chapters from the Psalms, and from the Old Testament in general Dr Waterland

16 — Lebanon is not sufficient ] This image is beautiful and uncommon it is repeated, Judith xvi 16 Bp Lenth

19 The workman melteth a graven image, &c ] The passage may be translated thus "The workman overspreads the graven image, (of wood namely mentioned in the next verse,) even the refiner or goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth sheets of silver And so in chap xlii 10 "Who hath formed a god and overspread a graven image (of wood, see ver 10—17, and Jer x 3, 4) that is profitable for nothing?" The noun, rendered "molten image," strictly and properly means the "metalline case or covering spread over the carved wood Jer xlii 5 Jer x 14 The metalline case is often joined with the carved wooden image which it covered see Deut xxvii 15, Judg xviii 3, 1, xviii 14 2 Chron xxxiv 3 Solomon's cherubim were images of this kind, made of olive wood, and overlaid with gold, 1 Kings vi 23, 28 Parkhurst

Before
CHRIST
about 712

Or, from that stretcheth
Psal 104
2

Job 12-1
Psal 107
40

beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth?

22 ¶ It is he that sitteth upon the cucie of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers, that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in.

23 That bringeth the princes to nothing, he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.

24 Yea, they shall not be planted, yea, they shall not be sown, yea, their stock shall not take root in the earth, and he shall also blow upon them, and they shall wither, and the whirlwind shall take them away as stubble.

25 To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One.

26 Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power, not one faileth.

27 Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgment is passed over from my God?

28 ¶ Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding.

29 He giveth power to the faint, and to them that have no might he increaseth strength.

30 Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall.

22—stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain,] See note on Gen 1 6

31—as angels,] See note at Ps 104 5

Chap. XLI. In this and the following chapters, God is introduced as pleading His own cause against the false gods of the Heathens, and challenging the idols to show such instances of their power and goodness in protecting their votaries, as might be alleged in His behalf, with respect to His care and providence over the Jews: proper instructions to preserve that people from being drawn aside to comply with the Babylonish idolatry. They contain likewise in them a plain prediction of the calling of the Gentiles, and their turning from idols to serve the living and true God. 1 Thess 1 9. W. Lowth.

Ver 1—O islands,] See notes on chap. xl 11, xli 4.

—let the people renew their strength.] This seems to be a charge to the nations to make use of their utmost strength in defending their idolatry in the proposed debate.

2—the righteous man from the east.] Some explain this of Abraham: others of Cyrus. The character of “the righteous man” (or righteousness, as some give it) agrees best with Abraham, he was called out of the East, and his posterity (who may fairly be taken into the account) were introduced into Canaan and established there on purpose to stand as a barrier against idolatry. Cyrus, though not properly a worshipper of images, had nothing in his character to cause such an alarm among idolaters, as is mentioned ver 5—7, and the Prophet, having just 31 But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength, they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

Before
CHRIST
about 730
+ Heb chang

CHAP. XLI.

1 God expostulateth with his people, about his mercies to the church, 10 about his promises, 21 and about the vanity of idols.

KEEP silence before me, O islands, and let the people renew their strength: let them come near, then let them speak; let us come near together to judgment.

2 Who raised up the right from the east, called the nations before him: over kings? he gave the sword, and as driven st.

3 He pursued them, even by the way that he his feet.

4 Who hath wrought the generations from the LORD, the first, and with 5 The isles saw it, and feared, the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.

6 They helped every one his neighbour, and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage.

7 So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheneth with the hammer him that smote the anvil, saying, It is ready for the soldering: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.

8 But thou, Israel, art my servant, Jacob

Chap 47
10 & 41 6 & 48 12
Rev 1 11
& 22 19

+ Heb
Be strong

Or founder

Or,
the smiting
Or saying, of the solder. It is good

touched upon that circumstance, resumes Abraham and the Israelites, ver 8. Bp Lowth. On the other side it may be said that Cyrus did overthrow the Babylonians, the great supporters of idolatry, their confederates, and many nations, did in consequence liberate the people of God, and restore the true worship: the characteristics also here used are rather those of a mighty conqueror, and the similar passages which occur ver 25, and in succeeding chapters xlv 1, 13, xlv 11, (applying undoubtedly to Cyrus,) incline us to think that he may here also be intended. Lowth.

1—I the Lord, the first and with the last I am he.] That is, “I Jehovah, who by the import of My name am the “first” or original of all other beings, and shall be with the “last,” that is, am “everlasting.” Dr Wells. Comparing the passages of our Prophet referred to in the margin, we find that the phrase, “first and last,” expresses the peerless majesty of God, who is He the “true God.” His eternity, supreme power, dignity, and glory, and His creation and government of all things in the words of St John, from the Revelation, the same Divine title is given to the Son. Dr Waterland.

6, 7 They helped every one his neighbour, &c.] In these verses, the several artificers concerned in idol making are represented as assisting one another, to carry on their common interest, (see Acts xix 25,) the passage may fitly be applied to the heathen powers combining together to support their idolatry, and suppress the Christian religion. W. Lowth.

<sup>Before</sup> CHRIST whom I have <sup>about 712</sup> chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.

<sup>Deut. 7</sup> 9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 10 ¶ Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God. I will strengthen thee, yea, I will help thee, yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 11 Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and they that strive with thee shall perish

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 13 For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 14 Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel, I will help thee, saith the LORD, and thy redeemer, the Holy One of Israel

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 15 Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 16 Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, and shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel

<sup>Exod. 23</sup> 17 When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

[<sup>the</sup> ends of the earth.] This probably refers to Egypt and Chaldaea, from the latter, the Jews came as they had been from the former, from thence likewise Abraham was originally taken W Louth

14 Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel,] Or rather, "few men," as the word signifies in the original (See the margin) God defended the children of Israel, as long as they continued His people, though very few in comparison, against all the world, and commands them here not to fear, notwithstanding the smallness of their number, and weakness of their estate, He promises them all along (ver 8—16,) that He will support and uphold the seed of Abraham to the utmost, and at length give them victory over all the heathen nations, their enemies Bps Beveridge and Louth

15 — I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth] See note on chap xxviii 27, 28 Under the familiar image of a threshing-floor, the Prophet here represents the ruin and dispersion of the wicked, the enemies of Israel With the Jewish people, (and in simple times elsewhere,) the arts of husbandry formed the chief occupation of all, and even the highest did not disdain them, accordingly, we read in Scripture of kings, and other great men being thus employed, and find the poets taking their images from the same quarter Bp Louth

16 Thou shalt fan them,] See note on chap xxx 28

VOL II

18 I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys. I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water 19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree; I will set in the desert the fir tree, and the pine, and the box tree together.

20 That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it

21 † Produce your cause, saith the LORD, bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob

22 Let them bring them forth, and shew us what shall happen: let them shew the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them, or declare us things for to come 23 Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.

24 Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work is of nought: an abomination is this that chooseth you

25 I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come from the rising of the sun: he shall call upon my name, and he shall come upon princes as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that heareth your words

27 The first shall say to Zion, Behold,

17 When the poor and needy seek water, &c] To give water in the wilderness, in allusion to the miraculous supply during the passage of the Israelites through the wilderness to the Holy Land, is the emblem of unexpected relief in distress Bp Hard This and similar passages imply the large supplies of grace under the Gospel W Louth

19 I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, &c] See Baruch v 8, (W Louth), and notes on chap li 9, l 18

25 I have raised up one from the north, &c] Cyrus is represented here as coming from the north, and from the east: he was born of two different people, the Persians by his father, the Medes by his mother, and therefore called by the heathen oracle, a Mule Now Persia lay to the east of Babylon, Media northward, and Cyrus's army (of which the Medes made a considerable part) is described, Jer l 9, 41, as coming out of the north For his profession of belief in the great "God of heaven and earth," see Ezra l 2 Dean Prideaux, W Louth

The first shall say to Zion, &c] This verse is rather obscure: our translators have supplied "shall say," properly belongs to both parts, and the same may be more said thus, "I first give the word to Zion, (that is, my prophets of these events, saying,) "Behold, behold, they are at hand!" and I give to Jerusalem a message of glad tidings Bp Louth

7 Q

Before
CHRIST
about 712

behold them and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings

28 For I beheld, and there was no man, even among them, and there was no counsellor, that, when I asked of them, could answer a word.

† Heb
21:17

29 Behold, they are all vanity, their works are nothing, then molten images are wind and confusion.

CHAP XLII

1 The office of Christ, graced with meekness and constancy 5 God's promise unto him 10 An exhortation to praise God for his gospel 17 He reproveh the people of incredulity

About 712
Matt 12
18

BEHOLD my servant, whom I uphold, mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth, I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles

Matt 9
17 & 18
Ephes 1:6

2 He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street

|| Or dimly burn

3 A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth

† Heb
quen

Chap XLII The Prophet, having opened his subject with the preparation for the return from the captivity at Babylon and intimated that a much greater deliverance was covered under the veil of that event, proceeded to vindicate the power of God, as Creator and Disposer of all things, and His infinite knowledge, from His prediction of future events, and in particular of that deliverance he went still further, and pointed out the instrument by which He should effect the redemption of His people the Jews from slavery, namely, a great conqueror, whom He would call forth from the north and the east to execute His orders. In this chapter he proceeds to the greater deliverance and at once brings forth into full view, without throwing any veil of allegory over the subject the Messiah. St Matthew has applied it directly to Christ nor can it with any justice or propriety be applied to any other person or character whatever. Bp Lenth

Ver 1 — he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles ] Meaning here, the law to be published by the Messiah, the institution of the Gospel. Bp Lenth

2, 3 He shall not cry, &c ] See note on Matt xii 18. He was (as all interpreters explain the proverbial expressions here used) not to employ the least degree of force or violence in the propagation of the new law, till it finally prevailed against all opposition. Accordingly, by the mildness and pity of the followers of Christ, by the secret influence of a Divine blessing attending on their feeble efforts the doctrine of the cross insensibly gained ground, spread itself far and wide, and in the end became victorious over all the rage and power and sophistry of an unbelieving world. Bp Hurd

3 A bruised reed shall he not break, &c ] Those that are humble and contrite shall He rather relieve and comfort than add any thing to their sorrow and affliction: and those that have received but the weakest beginnings of grace shall have no discouragement from Him but shall be rather cheered up by Him. Yet so will He be gracious to the penitently dejected, that He shall not be with the obstinate sinner, but shall give severe judgment upon him according to the justice of his demerits. Bp Hall

4 — the isles shall wait for his law ] Those parts of the world, to which men are wont to travel by sea from Judea which are most difficult to come at shall attend to His doctrine, receive His institutions, and submit themselves to His authority by this phrase is particularly meant the western parts of the world. Dr Perriman See note on chap xi 11

5 — he that created the heavens, &c ] See chap xi 12, and notes there

Before
CHRIST
about 712

† Heb
broken

4 He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.

5 ¶ Thus saith God the LORD, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out, he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it, he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein

6 I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles,

Luke 2:19
Chap 49

7 To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house

Luke 2:9
Act 1:1
Chap 61

8 I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images

Luke 1:18
Heb 1:15

9 Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them

Chap 49
Chap 18
11

10 Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that

6 — give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles ] God expressly declares here, that the Messiah should mediate a covenant between God and the people, and that the fruit of this covenant should extend to the Gentiles, who should enjoy the same privileges with the Jews, and be incorporated with them, chap xlix 8, 9, lv 3, 4, lxi 8, 9. The extension of the Messiah's kingdom over the whole earth is mentioned by Isaiah so often and in so emphatical a manner, that it seems to be the main drift of all his writings. Dean Allis Indeed the general object of prophecy is the uniting of all nations in the faith of Christ, and the conversion of the Gentiles makes a standing part of all the prophecies of the Saviour of mankind. Bp Horsley

7 To open the blind eyes, &c ] The Prophet seems here to set forth the spiritual redemption, under images borrowed from the temporal deliverance. Bp Lenth

8 I am the Lord that is my name ] The import of the name Jehovah (rendered by our translators "the Lord" see note on Exod. iii 15,) is, according to the best critics, ancient and modern, eternal, immutable, necessary existence. Dr Waterland

— my glory will I not give to another ] We read, Ps lxxxiv 11, that "the Lord will give grace and glory." 2 Cor iv 17 "in exceeding and eternal weight of glory." But that divine, infinite, incomprehensible glory that belongeth to Him, as Supreme King of kings, as His peculiar prerogative, of that He is most jealous: in that will brook no sharer. Since therefore our chief aim ought to be, that in every thing God may have "the glory" due to His name, we must beware, not only that we give not the glory of religious worship to image, saint, or other creature, (as it follows, "neither My praise to graven images") but also that we do not by flattery or obsequiousness give to mortal man any part of that honour which is due to the infinite and immortal God alone, or by what is called vain-glory, leave the least part to ourselves. Bp Sanderson

9 Behold, the former things are come to pass ] The Prophet seems here to exult and say, the prophecies, which I have delivered to you concerning your redemption from the Babylonian bondage, will soon be so exactly completed, that I regard them as things past, and therefore new things do I declare, that is, since I claim your belief of other prophecies, concerning the great redemption to take place hereafter, though there be no appearance as yet of any causes tending to produce it, for "before they spring forth I tell you of them." Bp Hurd

Before
CHRIST
about 712

† Heb
the fulness
thereof

go down to the sea, and † all that is therein, the isles, and the inhabitants thereof

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains

12 Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands

13 The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war he shall cry, yea, roar, he shall † prevail against his enemies

14 I have long time holden my peace, I have been still, and refrained myself now will I cry like a travailing woman, I will destroy and † devour at once 15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs, and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools

16 And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not, I will lead them in paths that they have not known I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things † straight These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them

17 ¶ They shall be † turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye ~~are our~~ gods 18 Hear, ye deaf, and look, ye blind, that ye may see

19 Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I sent? who is blind as he that is perfect, and blind as the LORD's servant?

20 Seeing many things, but thou ob-servest not, opening the ears, but he hear-eth not

21 The LORD is well pleased for his righteousness' sake, he will magnify the law, and make † it honourable

22 But this is a people robbed and spoil-

11 Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, The most uncultivated countries, and the most rude and uncivilized people shall confess and celebrate with thanksgiving the blessing of the knowledge of God graciously imparted to them The desert and the rocky country may particularly point here to Arabia Deserta and Arabia Petraea Kedar was a clan of Arabs, (see note on chap xxi 13,) and these dwell for the most part in tents, others inhabitants of frequented cities or villages, there are others who sometimes live in deserts and sometimes in cities Bp Lenth

19 This verse may more correctly stand thus, "Who is blind, but My servant? and deaf, as he to whom I have sent My messengers? Who is blind, as he who is perfectly instructed, and deaf, as the servant of the Lord?" Bp Lenth By the "servant and messengers" here are meant the Jewish people and prophets W Lenth

21 The Lord is well pleased &c This verse might be translated more plainly thus, "The Lord took delight in this people ed; † they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses they are for a prey, and none delivereth, for † a spoil, and none saith, Restore 23 Who among you will give ear to this who will hearken and hear for the time to come?

24 Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the LORD, he against whom we have sinned for they would not walk in his ways, neither were they obedient unto his law

25 Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not, and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart

CHAP XLIII

1 The Lord comforteth the church with his promises 8 He appealeth to the people for witness of his omni-potency 14 He foretelleth them the destruction of Babylon 18 and his wonderful deliverance of his people 22 He reproveth the people as inexcusable

BUT now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine

2 When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee, and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned, neither shall the flame kindle upon thee

3 For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

4 Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy † life.

5 Fear not for I am with thee I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west, for His righteousness sake, He hath given them an excellent law, and thereby made them honourable W Lenth The Prophet seems to refer, in the first instance, to the Mosaic Law, which God had given with much splendour and solemnity, and intended as the great honour and ornament of His people, and to the care and kindness He had constantly shown them, out of regard to the promises made to their fathers, notwithstanding their constant disobedience, and also to the Law, which was to be given by the Messiah, that future mark of God's exceeding favour, which He was well aware the Jews would treat in the same manner as they had all the former, ver 22, &c Vittinga

Chap XLIII ver 3 — I gave Egypt for thy ransom Ethiopia and Seba for thee This may mean generally, that God had often saved His people at the expense of other nations, whom He had, as it were in their stead, given up to destruction Bp Lenth 5, 6 — I will bring thy seed from the east, &c See note on chap xi 11

Before
CHRIST
about 712

† Or in giving all the sons men of them

† Heb a tradition for the time

† Heb for the time

about 712

† Or person
Chap 44

Jer 30 10.
& 46 27

Before
CHRIST
about 712

6 I will say to the north, Give up, and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth,

7 Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him, yea, I have made him.

8 ¶ Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.

9 Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare thus, and shew us former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear, and say, It is truth.

10 Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.

11 I, even I, am the LORD, and beside me there is no saviour.

12 I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, that I am God.

13 Yea, before the day was I am he, and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall let it?

14 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel, For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and have brought down all their nobles, and the Chaldeans, whose cry is in the ships.

15 I am the LORD, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King.

16 Thus saith the LORD, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters;

17 Which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power, they shall lie down together, they shall not rise: they are extinct, they are quenched as tow.

18 ¶ Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old.

19 Behold, I will do a new thing, now it shall spring forth, shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.

20 The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the owls: because I gave waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen.

21 This people have I formed for myself, they shall shew forth my praise.

22 ¶ But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob, but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.

23 Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices: I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thine idols, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins.

26 Put me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.

27 Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I have profaned the princes

Before
CHRIST
about 712

Josh 2
13, 16

2 Cor 5
17
Rev 21 5

Or
ostriches
+ Heb daughters of the owl

Luke 1
74, 75

+ Heb lamb
or kids

+ Heb made me drunk or abundantly miserable

Ezek 36
22, 23

+ Heb interpreters Or holy princes

Chap 41
21

Chap 41
4 & 44
Or nothing formed of old Chap 45
1 Isa 19 4

+ Heb turn it back Job 9 12
chap 14 2

+ Heb ears

Exod. 14
16, 22

8 Bring forth the blind people that have eyes,] In ver 10, the Jews are appointed to be witnesses for God, this verse is to be understood of the Gentiles. See hom 1 20 Bp Lowth

12 — when there was no strange god among you ] Or rather, and not any strange god among you, that is, not any false or heathen god that has at any time been worshipped among you, but I have shewn events beforehand, &c. Dr Wills

14 — the Chaldeans, whose cry is in the ships ] “ Exulting in their ships. Babylon was very advantageously situated, both in respect to commerce, and as a naval power. It was open to the Persian gulf by the Lulphratus, which was navigable by large vessels and being joined to the Tigris above Babylon, by the canal called Naharmalcha, or the Royal river, supplied the city with the produce of the whole country to the north of it, as far as the Euxine and Caspian seas. Bp Lowth See note on chap xiv 23

20 The beast of the field shall honour me, &c ] We may apply this to the Gentiles, fitly compared in their unbelieving state to the beasts of the field, embracing the Gospel, with joy and thankfulness to God for the means of conversion. Dr Wills

22 But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob, &c ] The connexion is, But thou, Israel, whom I have chosen and formed for Myself, to be My witness against the false gods of the nations, even thou hast revolted from Me, hast neglected My worship, and hast been perpetually running after strange gods. The emphasis here, and in the following verses, seems to lie on the word me. The Jews were diligent in performing the external services of religion, in offering prayers, incense, sacrifices, oblations (see notes on chap 1 11) but their prayers were not offered with faith, and their oblations were more frequently made to their idols than to the “ God of their fathers.” Compare nos v 26 Bp Lowth

24 — sweet cane,] To make the incense, daily offered. Exod xxx 7, 34—36 W Lowth

28 Therefore I have profaned &c ] I have suffered the Babylonians to profane My sanctuary, to abuse the chief priests, and pollute whatsoever is sacred. And have made My people a proverb of execration and reproach to all the neighbouring nations. W Lowth.

The state of Israel and Judah in Isaiah's time was very corrupt, with respect to religion and virtue, on which account he denounces God's judgments, which were ready to fall on them for

Before CHRIST about 713 of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches

CHAP. XLIV

1 God comforteth the church with his promises 7 The vanity of idols, 8 and folly of idol makers 21 He exhorteth to praise God for his redemption and omnipotency

YET now hear, <sup>a</sup> O Jacob my servant, and Israel, whom I have chosen

2 Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee, Fear not, O Jacob, my servant, and thou, Jesurun, whom I have chosen

3 For I will <sup>b</sup> pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring

4 And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water courses

5 One shall say, I am the LORD's, and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob, and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, and surname himself by the name of Israel

6 Thus saith the LORD the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts, <sup>c</sup> I am the first, and I am the last, and beside me <sup>d</sup> there is no God

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people, and the things that are coming, and shall come, let them shew unto them

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, <sup>e</sup> there is no God, I know not any 9 ¶ They that make a graven image are all of them vanity, and their <sup>f</sup> delectable things shall not profit, and they are their own witnesses, <sup>g</sup> they see not, nor know, that they may be ashamed

10 Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed, and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up, yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together

12 <sup>h</sup> The smith <sup>i</sup> with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule, he marketh it out with a line, he setteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man, that it may remain in the house

14 He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the cypress and the oak, which he <sup>j</sup> strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth an ash, and the <sup>k</sup> juniper doth nourish it

15 Then shall it be for a man to burn for he will take thereof, and warm himself, yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread, yea, their sins, and should be inflicted by the Assyrians, Babylonians, and other hostile nations round them. And because some of his expressions might be interpreted as if all the twelve tribes were to be utterly cast away, therefore he frequently intersperses consolations as in this chapter, to assure the people, that if they were duly corrected and reformed by their captivity, God would bring them out of it, and raise them up again to be His Church and people. As God thus promised His people a restoration from their captivity, upon their true repentance and return to their duty, so will He rescue us all from the slavery of sin and Satan, if we sincerely feel the oppression and misery of it, and would prefer being employed in doing God's will, and keeping His commandments. This disposition the Jews manifested in their captivity at Babylon: they were deeply humbled for their former transgressions of God's law, and the affronts they had offered Him by worshipping idols. And doubtless the Holy Spirit of God had a regard to this happy change of their minds and sinners, when He dictated the gracious promises in this chapter: for He assures us by the same Prophet, that there is no peace to the wicked. So long as men continue in their sins, they are at enmity with God, excluded from the benefit of His promises, and liable to all His threatenings and judgments. Reading

[Chap XLIV ver 2 — that made thee, and formed thee from the womb.] He speaks of the Jewish people as of a single person, and as God hath sometimes designed certain persons for particular offices from their birth and conception, (see chap xlix 1, 5, Jer

1 5,) so He set apart the posterity of Abraham to be His people from the very original of the family. W Louth

3 For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, &c.] The waters here spoken of, according to the ordinary style of the Prophets, are the graces of God's Spirit. Dean Allix See notes on chap xxx 25, xxxv 6 7. The plentiful effusion of the Divine Spirit here predicted, Jews and Christians have ever understood to refer to the days of the Messiah. These predictions were then abundantly fulfilled, and we have moreover from our Lord and His Apostles express and clear promises of the communication of the same Spirit, to enlighten and assist the minds of Christians in every succeeding age. Bp Bradford

5 One shall say, I am the Lord's &c.] By all the expressions in ver 5 is denoted the accession of the Gentiles, the increase of the Church. Dr Wells

6 Thus saith the Lord, — I am the first, &c.] In the Revelation Jesus Christ says, "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last," Rev xxii 13. These titles of "the first" and "the last" are confined in the Prophet to Him alone "beside whom there is no God." But Jesus hath assumed these titles to Himself: therefore Jesus is that God, besides whom there is no other. Joan of Nayland

8 — have not I told thee from that time,] Rather, "from the beginning, or, "of old." W Louth See note on chap xvi 13

9 — their delectable things.] Their images, upon which they laid out all the cost they could. Compare Dan xi 38 W Louth

10 — molten a graven image.] See the note on chap xl 19

Before
CHRIST
about 712

he maketh a god, and worshippeth it, he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto

16 He burneth part thereof in the fire, with part thereof he eateth flesh, he roasteth roast, and is satisfied yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire

17 And the residuc thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me, for thou art my god

† Heb
daubed

18 They have not known nor understood for he hath † shut their eyes, that they cannot see, and their hearts, that they cannot understand

† Heb setteth to his heart

19 And none † considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire, yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof, I have roasted flesh, and eaten it and shall I make the residuc thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to † the stock of a tree?

† Heb that which exceeds of a tree?

20 He feedeth on ashes a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a he in my right hand?

21 ¶ Remember these, O Jacob and Israel, for thou art my servant I have formed thee, thou art my servant O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me

22 I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy

17 And the residuc thereof he maketh a god ] The sacred writers are generally large and eloquent upon the subject of idolatry they treat it with great severity, and set forth the absurdity of it in the strongest light But this passage of Isaiah (ver 12—20) far exceeds any thing that was ever written on the subject, in force of argument, energy of expression, and elegance of composition One or two of the Apocryphal writers have attempted to imitate the Prophet, Wisd xiii 11—19, xv 7, &c Baruch vi Bp Lowth

18 — for he hath shut their eyes, ] The Old Translation expresses the sense better, “their eyes are stopped.” W Lowth

20 He feedeth on ashes ] He feedeth on that which affordeth no nourishment. A proverbial expression for using ineffectual means, and bestowing labour to no purpose In the same sense Hosea says, “ Ephraim feedeth on wind, chap xii 1 Bp Lowth — Is there not a he ] That is, a lying vanity “in my right hand?” This was a just appeal to common sense against the abominable stupidity of worshipping idols, which, when wrought up to their highest perfection, can but resemble some great man, but can never be endued with the sense of the poorest idiot, or even of the vilest brute how much less can any thing of Divine power or knowledge be ascribed to them? The Pagans of old endeavoured to defend their worship of images by saying, that they did not terminate their worship in them, but only used them as a medium to convey their devotions to a divine invisible being And some idolatrous Christians have used the same argument for the same purpose But God, who best knows the nature of religious worship, changes these devotees with idolizing the figures sins return unto me, for I have redeemed thee

Before
CHRIST
about 712

23 Sing, O ye heavens, for the LORD hath done it shout, ye lower parts of the earth break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein for the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel

24 Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb, I am the LORD that maketh all things, that stretcheth forth the heavens alone, that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself,

25 That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad, that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish,

26 That confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers, that saith to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited, and to the cities of Judah, Ye shall be built, and I will raise up the † decayed places thereof

† Heb wastes

27 That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers

28 That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built, and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid

2 Chron.
36 22 Psa 11
chap 45 13.

CHAP XLV

1 God calleth Cyrus for his church's sake 5 By his omnipotency he challengeth obedience 20 He convinceth the idols of vanity by his saving power before which they prostrate themselves, not only in this chapter, but in various other places of His holy word Reading

23 Sing, O ye heavens &c ] The expressions here, and in parallel passages, denote the joy to be so great and universal, that even the inanimate parts of the creation are said to be affected with it, and are exhorted to bear a part in the general chorus W Lowth

24 — I am the LORD — alone, — by myself ] We are not to suppose that this is said to the exclusion of any Person of the blessed Trinity, but only in opposition to creatures or other gods, see chap ii 11, 17, xlii 11 The word God is probably in such places to be understood in a large indefinite sense, comprising the whole Trinity, where the context or other circumstances do not confine the signification and intent to one Person only Dr Waterland

27 That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers ] By the remarkable manner in which Babylon was taken did the event exactly correspond with this prophecy Jeremiah also has noted it, chap. l 38, li 36 See also on chap xiv 23 Bp Lowth

28 That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, &c ] Here does Isaiah, near 200 years beforehand, name the very person who should order the enlargement of the Jews and Jerusalem, chap xxix 10, points out the year in which it should happen Dr Berrian Thus God calleth things that are not, that have no existence, as if they were, because He has power to fulfil all His pleasure, and can, whenever He sees fit, produce those things into light, which He suffers to remain unaccomplished for many years after the first prediction. Reading

Before
CHRIST
about 712
Or strengthen
ed

THUS saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I || have holden, to subdue nations before him, and I will loose the loins of kings, to open before him the two leaved gates, and the gates shall not be shut,

2 I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I, the LORD, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel

4 For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me

5 ¶ I am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God beside me I girded thee, though thou hast not known me

6 That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me I am the LORD, and there is none else

7 I form the light, and create darkness

Chap XLV ver 1 — [the Lord to his anointed, to Cyrus,] From the custom which obtained among the Jews of separating, by the ceremony of anointing, both persons and things to particular purposes, the person who is constituted and appointed by God (as Cyrus) to some great office or employment, is said to be "the Lord's anointed" Bp Kidder

— [I will loose the loins of kings,] See note on chap v 27
— [to open before him the two leaved gates] The gates of Babylon within the city, leading down to the river were left open when Cyrus's forces entered through the channel, in the general disorder occasioned by the festival then celebrated and the gates of the palace were imprudently opened by the king's orders, to inquire the cause of the tumult without Bp Lowth

— [the gates of brass,] In every side of the great square wall which encompassed Babylon were twenty-five gates, one hundred in all, of solid brass, those which led to the river, and those which enclosed the temple of Belus, were of the same material Dean Prideaux

3 — [I will give thee the treasures of darkness, &c] The riches which Cyrus found in his conquests amounted to a prodigious value those parts of Asia abounded in wealth and luxury, Babylon had been heaping up treasures for many years, and the riches of Croesus king of Lydia, whom Cyrus conquered and took prisoner are in a manner become proverbial Bp Newton

4, 5 [though thou hast not known me] That is Shalt be bred in ignorance of Me, and remain so, till I am made known to thee by My Prophet Daniel Dr P See note at Ezra 1 1

7 [I form the light & I create darkness &c] This seems to be spoken in reference to the Persian sect of the Magians, who held the being of two first causes, Light, or the good god who was the author of all good, and Darkness, or the evil god, the author of all evil, and that of the mixture of these two, is they were in a continual struggle with each other, all things were made Dean Prideaux

8 [Drop down, ye heavens, &c] These expressions, taken from the dew and the rain descending from heaven and making the earth fruitful, and some nearly of the same kind, used Ps lxxxv 9—

I make peace, and create evil I the LORD do all these things

Before
CHRIST
about 712

8 Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together, I the LORD have created it

9 Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherd of the earth Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands

Jer 18 6
Rom 9 20

10 Woe unto him that saith unto his father, What begettest thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?

11 Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me

12 I have made the earth, and created man upon it I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded

Or make strait
2 Chron
36 22
Ezra 1 1
chap 14 8

13 I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways he shall build my city, and he shall let go my cap-

13, may perhaps be primarily understood to set forth, in a splendid manner, the happy state of God's people restored to their country, and flourishing in peace and plenty, in piety and virtue, but they must undoubtedly have a further reference to the blessings of the great redemption by the Messiah Bp Lowth In the prophetick writings the expressions often run so high as to denote events and characters too gloriously great for the thing or person next at hand, which is esteemed a certain indication of their having in prospect some other more remote, in which they are to find their just completion Dian Stanhope

9 [Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! &c] The Prophet warns the people not to be impatient, but to wait God's time for accomplishing their redemption men may contend with their equals, with those who are made of the same clay with themselves, but should not presume to inquire of God the reasons of His proceedings, or find fault with His works of creation or providence, as if not wisely contrived or well-timed W Lowth

11 — [Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, &c] These words import, that, although God be not obliged to render an account of His proceedings to His creatures, He was graciously pleased, through His prophets, to resolve any questions proposed concerning His people's future destiny W Lowth An answer to that effect seems to be contained in the following verses, and the rest of the chapter generally ver 15, 16 declaring to God's people, not only that they shall be liberated from captivity but that great happiness await them and ver 20, 22, 23, pointing to the universal call of the Gentiles, and second advent of Christ, as ver 25 is applied by St Paul in the passages referred to in the margin Isaiah

13 [I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways] This is to be immediately understood of Cyrus, whom God raised up to be the instrument of executing His justice upon the Babylonians, and fulfilling His mercy to the Jews, but in many passages, manifestly relating to the deliverance of the Jewish nation effected by Cyrus, are with good reason and upon undoubted authority to be understood of the redemption wrought for mankind by Christ W Lowth, Bp Lowth

Before
CHRIST
about 712

tives, not for price nor reward, saith the LORD of hosts

14 Thus saith the LORD, The labour of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia and of the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine they shall come after thee, in chains they shall come over, and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee, and there is none else, there is no God

15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour

16 They shall be ashamed, and also confounded, all of them they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols

17 But Israel shall be saved in the LORD with an everlasting salvation ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end

18 For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens, God himself that formed the earth and made it, he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited I am the LORD, and there is none else

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right

20 ¶ Assemble yourselves and come, draw near together, ye that are escaped of the nations. they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save

21 Tell ye, and bring them near, yea, let them take counsel together who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the LORD? and there is no God else beside me, a just God and a Saviour, there is none beside me

22 Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth for I am God, and there is none else

23 I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear

24 ¶ Surely, shall one say, in the LORD have I righteousness and strength even to him shall men come, and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed

25 In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory,

CHAP XLVI

1 The idols of Babylon could not save themselves 3 God saveth his people to the end 5 Idols are not comparable to God for power 12 or present salvation

BEL boweth down, Nebo stoopeth, then idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle your carriages are heavy loaden, they are a burden to the weary beast

Before
CHRIST
about 712

Rom 14
11 Phil 2 10
¶ Or Surely he shall say of me In the LORD is all right counsel and strength
¶ Heb re his mas-nests

about 712

14 — [The labour of Egypt &c.] All we meet with in this verse must be understood to have respect to religion predicting that in aftertimes proselytes of various nations should submit themselves to the Church of God, fittering as it were the hands that were used to be raised against her, becoming bound in spirit and prisoners in the Lord Jesus, should dedicate themselves and whatever their land produced most precious, to the service of God, which prophecy might be literally fulfilled, in a small degree, by the Jews receiving formerly proselytes from all nations, and offerings to their temple from some kings and countries yet must principally be applied to that event, which was so constantly before the eyes of the Prophets, and is so repeatedly treated of by them, the call of the Gentiles Vitranga See notes on chap xiv 1

15 Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself,] The Prophet testifies here his firm trust in future deliverance, though God may seem to neglect His people for a time, and professes withal the unpredictableness of God's ways; see chap lv 8, 9 Vitranga He turns from this solemn adoration of the secret and mysterious nature of God's counsels to a spirited denunciation of the confusion of idolaters and final destruction of idolatry, contrasted with the salvation of Israel Bp Lowth

19 I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth] In opposition to the manner in which the heathen oracles gave their answers and to their falsehood and ambiguity They were generally delivered from some deep and obscure cavern, such was the seat of the Cumean sybil mentioned in Virgil, such that of the famous oracle at Delphi The answer given to Croesus, when he marched against Cyrus (a piece of history that has some connexion with this part of Isaiah's prophecy,) is well known, "Croesus, by passing the Halys, will overthrow a great kingdom" Croesus supposed by this that he should overthrow the power of the enemy, but in reality he overthrew his own power In either event the oracle would have appeared true Bp Lowth

By such fallacious oracles did those evil spirits, from whom they proceeded, delude mankind in those days rendering their answers in such ambiguous terms, that whatever were the event, they might admit of an interpretation to agree with it Dcan Prideaux

23 — unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear] We must observe, that these words here said to be spoken by God Jehovah, are applied by St Paul to Jesus Christ Bp Wilson It is a rule laid down by St Paul, "that God swears by Himself, for this reason, "because He can swear by no greater Heb vi 13 But the words in the text, being compared with Rom xiv 10, 11, are proved to be the words of Christ Christ therefore has sworn by Himself, so that, if the Apostle's rule be applied, He must for this reason be God, and there can be no greater Jones of Nayland

Such instances constantly occur, and all of them are plain proofs of the Divinity of Christ and that the Prophets of the Old Testament hid all along an eye to the times of the New, and spoke of the Messiah as God W Lowth

[Chap XLVI ver 1 Bel boweth down,] See Dcan Prideaux's note on Gen x 9

— Bel, — Nebo] Idols worshipped in the East, it has been conjectured that the former meant the sun, the latter the moon Vitranga

— their idols were upon the beasts, &c.] The images of these deities were to be no longer carried about in solemn procession by their worshippers, but in triumph and with derision by the Persians, as was usual for conquerors to do in token of complete victory W Lowth Compare Jer xlviii 7, Dan xi 8

Before
CHILD
about 1917 Hob
the road

2 They stoop, they bow down together, they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity

3 ¶ Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb

1 And even to your old age I am he, and even to hour hairs will I carry you I have made, and I will bear, even I will carry, and will deliver you

( Map 10 )

5 ¶ 19 whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?

6 They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and have a goldsmith, and he maketh it a god they fall down, yea, they worship

7 They be u him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth, from his place shall he not remove yet, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble

8 Remember this, and shew yourselves men bring it again to mind, O ye trans-gressors

Remember the former thing, of old for I am God, and there is none else, I am God, ~~and~~ there is none like me,

1. 11
 1. 11
 1. 11
 1. 11
 1. 11

10 Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, <sup>b</sup> My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure

5 — house of Israel which are borne by me &c ] The Prophet contrasts the power of God, and His tender goodness effectually exerted towards His people, with the inability of the false gods of the heathen. He, like an indulgent father, had carried His people, "as a man doth bear his son Deut 1:31 had protected them, and delivered them from their distresses: the idols must be themselves carried about by their worshippers" (ver 7,) reined in from place to place with much labour and fatigue, nor can they answer when their votaries cry unto them Bp Lenth They were so far from being able to defend them, that they could not save themselves: and those, who were wont to be bowed to and adored, are forced themselves to bow and stoop to the will of the plundering soldier, and are removed as common lumber, ver 1, 2

Remember this and shew yourselves men ] That is, Consider well, think of it again and again. Consideration is the proper act of reasonable creatures to whom it is peculiar to propose to themselves some end and design of their actions, if ye do not this you do not shew yourselves men, but are rather like brute creatures who have no understanding, and act only by a natural instinct. Ibp Tillotson

• 11 Calluna racemosa bud] The eagle, a very proper emblem of Cuzco, as in other respects, so particularly because his ensign was a golden eagle. Bp. Lenth Conquers that overrun and have countries elsewhere compared to buds of pity, see 1 Leck xii 21 21 dias xii 11 Bp. Lenth

— from the east, the man that executeth my counsel [ ] Compare chap. vi 25, and xlv 28 xlv 11 H Ionth

~~I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass~~ ] It in all succeeding ages, from thit time to this, we attend to the great events that have happened in the world, we shall find them all con-

VOL. II

11 Calling a ravenous bird from the east, Before I the man that executeth my counsel from <sup>about 1</sup> <sup>Heb</sup> a far country yet, I have spoken it, I will <sup>the man of</sup> also bring it to pass, I have purposed it, <sup>my couns</sup> I will also do it

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness.

13 I bring nigh my righteousness, it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

CHAP XLVII

1 God's judgment upon Babylon and Chaldaea 6 for the unmercifulness, 7 pride, 10 and overboldness 11 shall be irresistible

COME down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.

2 Take the milstones, and grind meal uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers

3 I hy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seene I will take venge ance, and I will not meet thee as a man

1 As for our redeemer, the Lord of hosts, in his name, the Holy One of Israel.

5 Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.

ducted by the same sovereign and almighty hand especially if we observe, that many of these events were foretold long before they happened and have since been exactly accomplished we must conclude these to be visible and incontestable proofs of the eternal power and godhead of Him who so ' declared the end from the beginning His power effecting what His wisdom had foreseen and decreed Hereby we are not only taught the use and benefit of history in general especially of that contained in the holy Scriptures, but, by comparing events with the prophecies therein contained, we must be convinced with the utmost certainty, that the Scriptures are infallibly true that they are the word of God and not of man the word of Him alone who declares " the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done , who besides can say " What I have spoken I will also bring to pass, what I have purposed I will also do Hogan

Chap. XVII ver 1 — O virgin daughter of Babylon] The Prophet addresses Babylon by this name as having never before been taken by an enemy, as Herodotus says expressly was the case. By Newton

— sit on the ground there is no throne &c] • See the note on chap iii 26, lu, 2

2 Take the millstones, and grind meal ] See notes on Exod xi 5, xii 29

— make bare the leg, — pass over the rivers] See notes on chap. xi 17, and xxiii 7

3 — I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man
 • Thou shalt feel the most dreadful effects of My fury. I will take
 • no common and imperfect vengeance, namely as that of a man
W. Lenth

Before
CHRIST
about 712

6 ¶ I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy, upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.

7 ¶ And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.

8 Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me; I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children.

9 But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in thine perfection for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.

10 ¶ For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me.

11 ¶ Therefore shall evil come upon thee, thou shalt not know from whence it riseth, and mischief shall fall upon thee, thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.

¶ Or it may be that to turn away

† Heb the morning there † Heb
expiate

6 — I have — given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy.] God charges the Babylonians though employed by Himself to chastise His people, with cruelty in regard to them: they exceeded the bounds of justice and humanity in oppressing and destroying them: and though they were really executing the righteous decree of God, yet as far as it regarded themselves they were only indulging their own ambition and violence. Jeremiah sets this matter in the same light, chap. i. 11. see too Isaiah x. 5—12. See notes on chap. x. 7. 1.

7 And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever. &c.] Babylon is described here, and in the words full of insolence and blasphemy that follow, (ver. 8,) as fancying herself exempt from the calamities of fortune, and arrogating that self-sufficiency to herself which belongs to none but God. Mystical Babylon is in the passage of Revelation referred to in the margin described as guilty of the same pride and carnal security. W. Lenth

9 But these two things shall come to thee, — the loss of children, and widowhood.] Babylon, having for many years been mistress of the East, and dominated over the countries round about, could ill brook the subjection her people were fallen under, the removal of the seat of government to Shushin by the Persians, and consequent diminution of the grandeur, pride, and wealth, of the city. In the beginning therefore of Darius Hystaspes reign, taking advantage of the revolution and troubles of the Persian government the Babylonians broke out into open rebellion. Unable to cope with his army in the field, they turned their thoughts wholly to support themselves in the siege: and took a most desperate and barbarous resolution, by which the prophecy in this verse was signally fulfilled: for, drawing together all their women and children to make their provisions last longer, they agreed to cut off all unneccessary mouths: and each man choosing out one of his wives and a servant for domestick purposes, they strangled all the rest: wives sisters, daughters, and young children, useless for the wars. Dean Prideaux

Before
CHRIST
about 712

12 Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth; if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.

13 Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the fastidologists, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be as stubble, the fire shall burn them, they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants, from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his quarter, none shall save thee.

CHAP XLVIII

1 God to convince the people of their foreknown obstinacy revealed his prophecies. 9 He saveth them for his own sake. 12 He exhorteth them to obedience because of his power and providence. 16 He lamenteth their backwardness. 20 He powerfully denounceth his out of Babylon.

HEAR ye this, O house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the waters of Judah, which sworn by the name of the LORD, and — for the multitude of thy sorceries, &c.] By sorceries may be either meant those forbidden acts of divination mentioned more particularly ver. 13, or, in general, wicked schemes of worldly policy by which potent kingdoms are wont to undermine and oppress the weaker. W. Lenth

At Babylon (see ver. 13,) a tiology divination and the interpretation of dreams, were fashionable studies with men of rank: they carried about with them pocket astronomical tables, which they consulted as well as astrologers, on every affair of moment. Rutherfordson They are told here, that neither by their politicks, sorceries, astronomy, nor any part of their wisdom, shall they force or prevent their ruin. Bp Wilson

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants, from thy youth.] That is, Thus shall thy merchants deal with thee with whom thou hast laboured from thy youth. By merchants are meant either the dealers in the deceitful wares of divination and astrology, (ver. 12,) or generally any of those who have contributed by their traffic or counsel to maintain the grandeur of the Babylonish empire, compare Rev. xviii. 11, 12, 15, 23. W. Lenth

Chap. XLVIII The Prophet applies himself to the Jews as under the state of captivity, reproves them for their refractory temper and obstinacy, which had been the occasion of it, and exhorts them to be reformed by their afflictions, and fit themselves for the deliverance which God had promised. W. Lenth

Ver. 1 — house of Jacob, which are called by the name of Israel.] Who value yourselves for being descended from Jacob, and called after his name, but do not shew yourselves to be the true Israelites by your deeds. W. Lenth

— are come forth out of the waters of Judah,] We have in Deut. xxxiii. 28 the expression of “the fountain of Jacob,” Ps. lxxviii. 26 “from the fountain of Israel,” used, as the expression here, for their posterity. Bp Lenth

Before (HRI) 1
about 712

make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousness

2 For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves upon the God of Israel, The Lord of hosts is his name

3 I have declared the former things from the beginning; and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed them, I did them suddenly, and they came to pass

4 Because I knew that thou art + obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brass,

5 I have even from the beginning declared it to thee, before it came to pass I shewed it thee lest thou shouldest say, Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image, hath commanded them

6 Thou hast heard, see all this, and will not ye declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning, even before the day when thou heardest them not, lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I knew them

8 Yea, thou heardest not, yea, thou knewest not, yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened for I knew that thou wouldest deliver very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb

9 ¶ For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off

10 Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver, I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake, will I do it for how should my name be polluted? and I will not give my glory unto another

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called, I am he, I am the first, I also am the last

13 Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens when I call unto them, they stand up together

14 ¶ All ye, assemble yourselves, and hear, which among them hath declared these things? The Lord hath loved him, I will do his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans

15 I, even I, have spoken, yea, I have called him I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous

16 ¶ Come ye near unto me, hear ye this, I have not spoken in secret from the beginning, from the time that it was, there am I and now the Lord God, and his Spirit, hath sent me

17 Thus saith the Lord, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel, I am the Lord thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go

18 O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea

19 Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel thereof, his name should not have been cut off nor destroyed from before me

20 ¶ Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth, say ye, The Lord hath redeemed his servant Jacob

21 And they thrust not when he led them through the deserts he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out

5 [I have even from the beginning declared it to thee] God ordained a succession of Prophets to foretell the most remarkable things that should happen to the Jews, on purpose to prevent their idolatry from being confirmed. W Lenth

6 [Thou hast heard, see all this, and will not ye declare it?] And translation gives the sense of the words more perspicuously, I thou heardest it (before) and behold it is come to pass and all not yet yourselves confess the same? W Lenth

7 [They are created now, and not from the beginning.] What immediately follows should rather be translated, 'not before this ye have heard them' Dr Wells

8 [Yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened] Rather, 'nor was thine ear opened, of old, or from the beginning' W Lenth

9 [called a transgressor from the womb] That is, Thou wast devoted to idolatry from thy very infancy, from the time when thou livedst in Egypt Compare this verse and ver 9, 11, with Ezek xx 8 9 W Lenth

10 [Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver &c] Not with such a furious heat as is requisite to melt down silver for then thou wouldest have been utterly consumed Jer xxx 11, Ezek xxxi 20 I have taken this method to purify thee from thy dross, and render thee a chosen people to myself or the latter part of the verse may be rendered, I have tried & proved thee in the furnace of affliction W Lenth See note on chap iv 4

16 [and now the Lord God, and his Spirit, hath sent me] The foregoing part of the verse shews that the words are spoken by God, and since it is here affirmed, that the Lord God hath sent Him, we can understand the words of none other but the second Person of the blessed Trinity who was sent into the world by His Father and anointed to His prophetic office by the Holy Spirit See chap xi 2, xli 1, lxi 1, Zech ii 10, 11 W Lenth

21 [they thrust not when he led them through the deserts &c] Another instance of allusion to the departure from Egypt in describing the gracious care and protection, which God vouchsafed to His people in their return from Babylon W Lenth

Before CHRIST about 712
22 There is no peace, saith the LORD, unto the wicked

Chap 57

CHAP XLIX

1 Christ being sent to the Jews complaineth of them 5 He is sent to the Gentiles with gracious promises 19 God's love is perpetual to his church 21 The ample restoration of the church
24 The perpetual deliverance out of captivity

LISTEN, O isles, unto me, and hearken, ye people, from far, The LORD hath called me from the womb, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he hid me,

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified

4 Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain yet surely my judgment is with the LORD, and my work with my God

5 ¶ And now, saith the LORD that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, ¶ Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the LORD, and my God shall be my strength

6 And he said, ¶ It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth

7 Thus saith the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, ¶ to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the LORD that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee

8 Thus saith the LORD, ¶ In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages,

9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth, to them that are in dark-

22 There is no peace saith the Lord unto the wicked ] All the great promises which God has made to His Church, to His people, to the families or nations of His true worshippers are evidently to be so all along understood as that wicked persons, of whatever family nation or profession of religion they be shall be excluded from the benefit of those promises shall be cut off from God's people, and the good and righteous of all nations, from the east and from the west from the north and from the south shall be accepted in their stead Dr S Clarke See note at chap lxxii 20

Chap XLIX ver 1 Listen O isles unto me and hearken ye people from far ] See note on chap xi 11 Hitherto the subject of the prophecy has been chiefly confined to the redemption from the captivity of Babylon, with strong intimations of a more important deliverance sometimes thrown in to the refutation of idolatry and the demonstration of the infinite power, wisdom and foreknowledge of God The character and office of the Messiah was exhibited in general terms at the beginning of chap xlii, but here He is introduced in person, declaring the full extent of His commission which is not only to restore the Israelites, and reconcile them to their Lord and Father from whom they had so often revolted but to be a light to lighten the Gentiles, to call them to the knowledge and obedience of the true God and to bring them to be one church together with the Israelites and to partake with them of the same common salvation procured for all by the great Redeemer and Reconciler of man to God Bp Iont

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword, &c ] How exactly does this passage suit the Messiah, who is represented as having a sharp twoedged sword going out of His mouth, Rev 1 16 who is Himself the Word of God which "word is quick, and powerful and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart" Hebr iv 12 See note on chap xi 4 This mighty agent and instrument of God laid long up in store with Him and sealed up among His treasures, is at last revealed and produced by His power, and under His protection to execute His great and holy purposes, He is compared to a polished shaft stored in His quiver for use in His due time The polished shaft denotes the efficacious word which is before represented by the sharp word The doctrine of the Gospel pierced the hearts of its hearers bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ The metaphor of the sword and the arrow is applied to powerful speech, is bold yet just it has been employed by the most ingenious heathen writers Bp Iont

5 And said unto me Thou art my servant, O Israel in whom I will be glorified ] That by "Israel" in this place is not meant either Jacob or the people that came from him but the Messiah will be very evident from comparing what is said afterwards Bp Kidder

5 Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious &c ] If we follow the reading given here in the text of our translation the sense is that although Christ's ministry be unsuccessful in gathering the Jews into the Church, yet the preaching of His Apostles should meet with better success among the Gentiles if we follow the reading of the margin, this verse and the next import, that God hath ordained Christ to be a light to the Gentiles as well as the glory of His people Israel Bp Iont

7 — to him whom man despiseth, &c ] See notes on chap lxxii 1, 3

— kings shall see and arise princes also shall worship ] See ver 23, chap lxxii 15, Ps lxxii 10 11

8 — In an acceptable time have I heard thee &c ] These words, which are spoken to Christ in the person of God the Father, are applied by St Paul in the passage cited in the margin, to His members of the Church in Corinth, Thus says he, when the Gospel is imputed to you is your time which ye are concerned not to let slip The argument drawn from hence is, that when the grace of God is offered, we must be very diligent to lay hold of and improve it knowing, as we must, that this life is the utmost period of the day of grace, that the continuance of life is more uncertain and that we cannot be sure that God will extend to us the opportunities of grace so long as life does continue Dean Stiles

9 That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth &c ] The "prisoners" here mentioned may be perhaps more particularly applied to the Jews, referring to the "heavy burden" of the Law which they that are in darkness to the Gentiles, who are described Ephes v 8, to have been "darkness itself both ex-

Before
CHRIST
about 712

ness, Shew yourselves They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places

Rev 7 10

10 They shall not hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor sun smite them for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them

11 And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted

12 Behold, these shall come from far and, lo, these from the north and from the west, and these from the land of Sinim

13 ¶ Sing, O heavens, and be joyful, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted

14 But Zion said, The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me

† 11 b from her in compass um

15 Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands, thy walls are continually before me

17 Thy children shall make haste, thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee pressions however may well suit either, the phrase seems to be taken from the custom of liberating captives at the inauguration of kings. Those whom the Prophet has thus represented as captive rescued from bondage and darkness into the glorious light and liberty of the Gospel, he next exhibits under the emblem of a flock feeding at its leisure in secure pastures, guarded by its shepherd from the ill effects of the heat, and plentifully supplied with all necessary food, an emblem not unfrequently used (see chap xxx 24 25 xl 11) to shadow out the future situation of the Church of Christ safe under the protection and watchful care of the great Shepherd of souls, and blessed with the ample opportunities of grace which God shall afford her, the Apostle St John (as referred to in the margin) applies the passage in this manner Lyring

10 — and these from the land of Sinim ] We have the same scene here as is laid before us chap xlii 5 6, the restoration of the Jewish nation and gathering of God's elect from all parts of the world. Vulgate, instead of 'land of Sinim' renders 'the south country, which answers to the north before mentioned' W Louth By 'from far, may possibly be meant from Babylon which being to the east, would answer to the west Abp Secker See chap xxxix 3 Jer v 15

As our translation gives it "Sinim may mean Pelusium in Egypt, called Sin Ezek xxx 15, the wilderness of Sin, Exodus xvi 1 both which lay southward of Judea W Louth

13 Sing, O heavens &c ] See note on chap xlv 29

16 — I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands, thy walls are continually before me ] An allusion to some practice common among the Jews at that time of making marks on their hands or arms by punctures on the skin, with some sort of representation of the city or temple, to shew their zeal and affection for it. The pilgrims at the Holy Sepulchre, as Maundrell tells us, get themselves marked in this manner, with what they call ensigns of Jerusalem, and this art is practised by travelling Jews all over the world at this day Bp Louth See note on chap xlv 5

Before
CHRIST
about 712
chap 60

18 ¶ Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold all these gather themselves together, and come to thee As I live, saith the Lord, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee, as a bride doth

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away

20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me give place to me that I may dwell

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone, these, where had they been?

22 Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people, and they shall bring thy sons in their arms, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders

† Heb
be com

23 And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and thou shalt be queens thy nursing mothers they shall bow down to thee with their faces

† Heb nursers † Heb processes

17 — shall go forth of thee ] Shall become thy offspring, shall proceed, spring, issue from thee, as thy children The accession of the Gentiles to the Church of God is considered as an addition made to the number of the family and children of Zion, see ver 21, 22 and chap lx 4 Bp Louth As the true religion had long been professed only by the Jews, and when explained to greater perfection was to be propagated from them through the earth, the conversion of the Gentiles is very deservedly reputed an accession to the Jews, and an engriftment upon their stock Dr Berriman

18 — thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all &c ] As the Church is represented as Christ's bride, so this conversion both of Jews and Gentiles, may fitly be represented by the bride being adorned with all sorts of fine clothing or precious jewels, in order to her marriage, (Rev xiv 7, 8,) or entering upon her triumphant state Dr Wells

20, 21 The children which thou shalt have after thou hast lost the other &c ] The Church is represented as lamenting the loss of her children, and wondering at a new and numerous offspring settled in their room The greatest part of the Jewish people were to fall by a deplorable apostasy (see chap x 20) but their defection was to be abundantly supplied by the accession of the Gentiles Dr Berriman

22 — and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders ] This custom is practised in the East to a great extent Dandin, in his voyage to mount Libanus tells us, that "being on horseback they carry their young children upon their shoulders with great dexterity. These children hold by the head of him who carries them, whether he be on horseback or on foot and do not hinder him from walking, or doing what he pleases" Fragments to Calist

23 — shall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, &c ] It is well known, that expressions of submission homage, and reverence, always have been, and are still carried to a great degree of extravagance in the Eastern countries The kings of their face toward the earth, and 'look up the dust of thy feet, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me

Before CHRIST about 716.

24 Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered? 25 But thus saith the LORD, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children

26 And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob

CHAP I

- 1 Christ sheweth that the dereliction of the Jews is not to be imputed to him, by his ability to save, 5 by his obedience in that work 7 and by his confidence in that assistance 10 An exhortation to trust in God, and not in ourselves

THUS saith the LORD, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold,

Persia never admitted any one to their presence without exacting this act of adoration: for that it was the proper term for it. Bp Iowth The whole passage here imports the assistance, submission, deference, and veneration, that the Gentiles and their kings and queens should one day afford and pay to the Church of God. Estimga See notes on chap. xiv. 1. xlv. 14

24 Shall the prey be taken from the mighty? This is an objection, urging the seeming impossibility of rescuing the Jews from so powerful an enemy as the Babylonish empire. God answers it in the next verse. Bp Iowth

26 And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh, &c. Those that are allied to us, by country or kindred, or any other relation, are called our own flesh. see Judg ix 2 2 Sam v 1, Nehem v 5 So the phrase here imports that God will set these enemies of His people one against another, and make them kill and destroy each other, (see note on chap. ix 20) Cyrus conquered a great many of the allies of the Babylonians, and made them serviceable in reducing Babylon itself. Bp Iowth

Chap I ver 1 — Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, &c. Husbands, through moroseness or levity of temper, often sent bills of divorcement to their wives on slight occasions, & they were permitted to do by the Law of Moses, Deut xxiv 1 And fathers, being oppressed with debt, often sold their children, which they might do for a time till the year of release, Exod xxi 1 That this was frequently practised appears from many passages in Scripture: the persons and liberty of the children too were made able for the debts of the father, see 2 Kings iv 1, Matt xxiii 15 They pay their debts in the East with their slaves, and in many places with their children. Chardin Bp Iowth The covenant which God made with His people is commonly represented under the notion of a marriage contract, and in allusion to this, God demands of those who despised His mercy (we may compare chap. xlv. 14) to produce the bill of divorcement which He had given their mother. He, on the contrary, had ever been ready to receive her when she would return to Him from her idolatries and other iniquities, see Jer

for your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away

2 Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst

3 I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering

4 The LORD God hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned

5 ¶ The LORD God hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back

6 I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting

7 ¶ For the LORD God will help me; therefore shall I not be confounded: therein 1 He had no occasion to exercise the power of selling them: but as He tells them it was owing to their own sins that they were made slaves to other nations. Bp Iowth God indeed selleth us over to punishment, but not till we have first sold ourselves to sin: we first most unjustly sell away our souls, and then He most justly selleth away our bodies, our liberty, our peace, &c. I let us beware that, whatever we do, we charge not God wrongfully, by making Him in the least degree the author of our sins, or so much as an accessory to our follies. Bp Sanderson

4 The LORD God hath given me the tongue of the learned, &c. God the Father hath given to Me, the Messiah, His eternal Word and Son, power to express Him fully into His people: that I should be able to speak comfortibly to the weary and distressed souls. He doth not intermit to furnish me continually with His good Spirit. Bp Hall

6 — and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair. See Bp Iowth's note on chap. vii 20

— I hid not my face from shame and spitting. Another instance of the utmost contempt and detestation. It was ordered by the law of Moses, as a severe punishment, carrying with it a public disgrace, Deut xxv 9 In the year 1744, when a rebel prisoner was brought before Nadir Shah's general Mir Hanway, "the soldiers were ordered to spit in his face, in indignity of great antiquity in the East. Among the Medes it was highly offensive to spit in any one's presence, and so likewise among the Persians. Concerning modern nations, see the note on Numb xii 14 If spitting in a person's presence was such an indignity as in those countries it appears to have been, how much more spitting in his face? See Mark xiv 65, xv 19 Bp Iowth, & Whitcomb This portion of Scripture contains an exact description of the barbarous indignities our blessed Saviour suffered, and looks more like a historical narration of facts already past, than a prediction of events several hundred years before they happened. We can have no doubt that the Prophet here personates the Messiah, nor, if we compare this account with that of our Lord's passion in the New Testament, that Jesus of Nazareth was that Messiah. Dean Stanhope

Before CHRIST about 712
 8 <sup>1</sup> He is near that justifieth me, who will contend with me? let us stand together who is <sup>2</sup> mine adversary? let him come near to me

9 Behold the Lord God will help me, who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment, the moth shall eat them up

10 ¶ Who is among you that feareth the Lord, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the Lord, and stay upon his God

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled <sup>12</sup> This shall ye have of mine hand, ye shall lie down in sorrow

1 John 9
 3

CHAP. LI.

1 An exhortation, after the pattern of Abraham, to trust in Christ 3 by reason of his comfortable promises 4 of his righteous salvation 7 and man's mortality 9 Christ by his sanctified arm defendeth his from the fear of man 17 He bewaileth the afflictions of Jerusalem 21 and promiseth deliverance

HEARKEN to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the Lord look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged

7. — therefore have I set my face like a flint. Our blessed Saviour, having fixed His end, pursued it resolutely, upon all occasions bearing up against all temptation and opposition, becoming thereby to us an example of a true steady courage, and unshaken constancy of mind. Bp. Brudford Our Lord was an example of holiness and obedience set before us, and His sufferings in the pattern perfect had He lived in worldly prosperity, the poor and unfortunate would perhaps have upbraided the rich and prosperous for not following the copy, but would have thought their own hard circumstances a sufficient excuse for not attempting it. But what picture is now left for any mortal? are we more wretched than our Master? are we poor and therefore discontented? Let us look to Him who had not where to lay His head, and yet paid a cheerful obedience to His God! Bp. Sherlock

8 He is near that justifieth me My God is with Me, yea, He is in Me, and one with Me and I with Him, so that I cannot but be borne out against all that shall stubbornly contend with Me Hall

9 — that obeyeth the voice of his servant. The Septuagint and Syriack have a rendering here, (merely pointing the Hebrew a little differently,) which gives a much more elegant turn and distribution to the sentence, Who is among you that feareth the Lord? Let him obey the voice of His servant That walketh in darkness, and hath no light? Let him trust in the name of the Lord, &c. Bp. Lowth

11 Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, &c. The fire of their own passions by the light of which they walk with satisfaction, is an image designed to express, in general, human devices and more worldly policy, exclusive of faith and trust in God, which though they flatter the authors for a while with pleasing expectations, and some appearance of success, shall in the end turn to their confusion Bp. Lowth

2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

Before CHRIST about 712

3 For the Lord shall comfort Zion he will comfort all her waste places, and he will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the Lord, joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody

4 ¶ Hearken unto me, my people, and give ear unto me, O my nation for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people

5 My righteousness is near, my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the people, the isles shall wait upon me, and on mine arm shall they trust

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished

7 ¶ Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law, fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings

8 For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool but my righteousness shall be for

Chap. LI ver. 3 For the Lord shall comfort Zion &c. When the Prophets have occasion to foretell the marvellous change to be effected in the moral world under the evangelical dispensation, they frequently borrow their idea from the history of that garden, in which innocence and felicity once dwelt together and which they represent as again springing up and blooming in the wilderness such joy and gladness, such thanksgiving and melody are described as taking place at the restitution of all things as were at their first creation, when the morning stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted for joy Compare chap. xli. 19, xxxv. 1 Bp. Horne

The first completion of this prophecy was in the restoration of the Jews from their Babylonish captivity but the promise ultimately and chiefly respects the Christian church which in this world sojourns in a wilderness, as the Israelites had done before they entered their promised land But this wilderness is not without its comforts the righteous even in this world participate in that peace and joy in the Holy Ghost, which no man nor sufferings can take from them In the future world their happiness shall be perfect and unmixed then the wilderness shall be turned into Eden and this desert into the garden of the Lord Then shall we regain an happier paradise than that which we lost, all pains and tears will be succeeded by joy and gladness, and all sighing and sorrow by thanksgiving and the voice of melody Wagon

4 — I will make my judgment to rest for a light Rather, To break forth for a light, the word in the original signifying both to rest, and to break forth W. Lowth

5 My righteousness is near. By "righteousness" is here meant the faithful completion of God's promises to deliver His people W. Lowth

Before
CHRIST
about 712

ever, and my salvation from generation to generation

9 ¶ Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the Lord, awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old: but thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?

10 Art thou not it which hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep, that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to pass over?

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shall return, and come with singing unto Zion, and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou shouldst be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass?

13 And forgettest the Lord thy maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth, and hast feared continually every day because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor?

14 The captive exile hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail

9 Anale, awake, put on strength O arm of the Lord &c] The Prophet by an elegant figure addresses himself to God to stir up His strength and exert it in behalf of His oppressed people. He delivered them in former time out of Egyptian bondage.

Rahab is another name for Egypt: see note at Ps lxxxvii. The dragon stands for Pharaoh. Bp Louth

11 — the redeemed of the Lord shall return &c] See notes on chap xxxv 10

12* I even I am he that comforteth you &c] If God be for us, who is he that can harm us? The first incursions of violence and oppression may surprise, but the longest continuance of it ought not to disquiet or deject: the infirmity of our flesh may excuse all sudden fears, but a continued and incessant fear (ver 1) is an indignity to God and argue a total defect of faith. To be afraid of man is idle and vain: to distrust the power and goodness of God is impious and profane. Hogan

1 — and where is the fury of the oppressor?] It is evermore at God's disposal: who sometimes has suffered it to touch the bodies of His servants, at other times has restrained it, and forbidden it to hurt the earth, or any inhabitant thereof. At all times faith and patience easily break it, and triumph over it: therefore let us fear it not. Reading

14 The captive exile hasteneth that he may be loosed,] Will quickly be delivered. Bp Wilson. Rather render, 'He hasteneth on (hath on with speed) who cometh to set free the captive,' that is, Christ, if understood of the temporal redemption from Babylon in the literal sense the Messiah. Bp Louth. The connection of the next verse with this will better appear if we render there, 'For I am the Lord thy God, &c' H Louth

16 — I have put my words in thy mouth &c] I have made thee My oracle. This may be understood in a lower sense of Isaiah, but is chiefly meant of Christ. Compare chap lix 21, and the 15 But I am the Lord thy God, that divided the sea, whose waves roared: The Lord of hosts is his name. Before

CHRIST
about 712

16 And I have put my words in thy mouth, and I have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people. Jeri 31 3
Chap 19

17 ¶ Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the Lord the cup of his fury, thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out. Chap 3 1 18 There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth, neither is there any that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up.

19 These two things are come unto thee, who shall be sorry for thee? desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee? Chap 1 Hcb
Hagg 2 1 Hcb
breakers

20 Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as a wild bull in a net: they are full of the fury of the Lord, the rebuke of thy God.

21 ¶ Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus saith thy Lord the Lord, and thy God that pleadeth the cause, His peo-passage referred to in the margin. B Louth. See notes at those places.

'Planting' or 'stretching out the heavens, &c' read at ver 13, (Bp Louth) and laying the foundations of the earth are expressions to be understood of God's intention of building and making Israel into a state and political world. Jos Mede. See notes on chap xiii 13 xxx 26. The words imply that new state of things which is called, chap lxxv 17, 'new heavens and a new earth.' Bp Louth

17 — stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of thy Lord the cup of his fury] The bold image of God's wrath, often employed by the sacred writers (see Ps lxxxv 8 Rev xiv 10,) is nowhere handled with greater force and abun- dantly than in this passage of Isaiah. It is called 'the cup of trembling,' is causing intoxication and stupefaction: and Jerusalem is represented in person as staggering under the effects of it: destitute of that assistance which she might expect from her children (ver 18,) not one of them being able to support or to lead her. They object and amazedly look at the head of every street overwhelmed with the greatness of their distress like a wild beast entangled in a net, in vain struggling to rend it and extricate himself. This is poetry of the first order, sublimity of the highest proof. Bp Louth

19 These two things are come unto thee, — desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword] That is, Desolation by famine, and destruction by the sword, taking the terms alternately of which form of construction there are many examples. See Cant 1 5. Bp Louth

21 — drunken, but not with wine] It has been observed, that this expression means, not simply without wine, but much more than with wine. The Greek tragedian, Aeschylus, has the same expression thus translated, 'Intoxicate with passion, not with wine.' Bp Louth. See notes on chap xxix 9.

Before
CHRIST
about 712

ple, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury, thou shalt no more drink it again

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee, which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street, to them that went over

CHAP LII

1 Christ persuadeth the church to believe his free redemption, 7 to receive the ministers thereof, 9 to joy in the power thereof, 11 and to free themselves from bondage 13 Christ's kingdom shall be exalted

* Chap 51
1

AWAKE, awake, put on thy strength, O Zion, put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean

2 Shake thyself from the dust, arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion

3 For thus saith the Lord, Ye have sold yourselves for nought, and ye shall be redeemed without money

4 For thus saith the Lord God, My people went down aforetime into <sup>b</sup> Egypt to sojourn there, and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause

* Gen 46
6

5 Now therefore, what have I here, saith the Lord, that my people is taken away

23 — Bow down, that we may go over ] A very strong and expressive description of the insolent pride of Eastern conquerors which, though it may seem greatly exaggerated, yet hardly exceeds the strict truth See note on chap xlix 24, and Josh x 24 We are told, that the emperor Veleian, being taken prisoner by Sapor king of Persia, was commanded to bow himself down and offer his back, on which the Persian monarch set his foot, in order to mount his chariot, on his horse, whenever he had occasion Bp Lenth

Chap LII ver 1 Awake, awake, put on thy strength, O Zion &c ] The Prophet congratulates Jerusalem upon her restoration after her captivity, and tells her how every thing about her would put on a new face upon that joyful occasion In which description he has plainly an eye to the renovation of the Church under the Gospel and speaking on the subject very naturally introduces the sufferings and humiliation of Christ, together with the glory that should accrue to Him, and the advantages which all true believers should receive W Lenth

2 — arise, and sit down, ] The common manner of sitting in Eastern countries is upon the ground or floor To sit on high, on a chair or throne, is a posture of more than ordinary state Bp Lenth

7 How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, ] An expression highly poetical for "How welcome is his arrival how agreeable are the tidings which he brings" The watchmen discover afar off on the mountains the messengers with the much wished-for news of the deliverance from Babylon, and immediately spread the joyful tidings, ver 8 Na-

for nought? they that rule over them make them to howl, saith the Lord, and my name continually every day is blasphemed

Before
CHRIST
about 712
1 Jer 19
20 23
Rom 1

6 Therefore my people shall know my name therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that doth speak behold, it is I

7 ¶ How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace, that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation, that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth

* N h 1 15
Rom 10
1

8 Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice, with the voice together shall they sing for they shall see eye to eye, when the Lord shall bring again Zion

9 ¶ Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem for the Lord hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem

10 The Lord hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations; and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God

* Psal 98
1 Luke 3 6

11 ¶ Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing, go ye out of the midst of her, be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord

* 2 Cor 6
17 Rev 18 4

12 For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight for the Lord will go before you, and the God of Israel will be your reward

* Heb path r
up

him, who is generally supposed to have lived after Isaiah has taken from him this very pleasing image (see the margin) the imitation does not equal the beauty of the original but it may be observed, that Isaiah's subject is infinitely more interesting and more sublime Nahum denounces the destruction of the capital of the Assyrian empire the most formidable enemy of Judah Isaiah's ideas are in then full extent evangelical, and St Paul has applied the passage to the preaching of the Gospel see the margin Bp Lenth

The passage may be paraphrased thus How welcome and pleasing are the Prophets of God, who upon the mountains of Judea preach these glad tidings of peace and deliverance and how much more welcome are those evangelic teachers, that proclaim everlasting salvation to all believers Bp Lenth

10 — made bare his holy arm ] See note at Ps lxxv 11

11 Depart ye, — touch no unclean thing ] This admonition not to linger in Babylon is given chap xlviii 20, and repeated here, and by Jeremiah, chap 1 6 li 6 God's people and the priests especially, are, with allusion to the legal pollutions contracted by touching any thing unclean, commanded to keep themselves free from all manner of pollution The mystical sense of the command is extended by St Paul to all Christians and the passage applied by St John to the mystical Babylon see the margin W Lenth

12 For ye shall not go out with haste &c ] Your fathers were thrust out of Egypt in haste, Exod xii 35, but now ye shall have sufficient notice, so as to purify and prepare yourselves and God shall be your guide and defence, like the pillar of the cloud, Exod xiv 19, 20 W Lenth

Before CHRIST about 712
 || Or prosper
 15 ¶ Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high

16 As many were astonished at thee, his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men

Rom 1
 17 So shall he sprinkle many nations, the kings shall shut their mouths at him for that which had not been told them shall they see, and that which they had not heard shall they consider

CHAP LIII

1 The prophet, complaining of incredulity excuseth the scandal of the cross & by the benefit of his passion 10 and the good success thereof

1 The subject of Isaiah's prophecy from the fortieth chapter inclusive, has hitherto been in general, the deliverance of the people of God. This includes in it three distinct parts, the deliverance of the Jews from the captivity of Babylon, the deliverance of the Gentiles from their miserable state of ignorance and idolatry, the deliverance of mankind from the captivity of sin and death. These subjects, however, have a close connexion with one another, Isaiah has handled them as a Prophet and a poet he has allegorized the former and under the image of it has shadowed out the two latter he has thrown them all together, has mixed one with another, has passed from this to that with rapid transitions, and has painted the whole with the strongest and boldest imagery. Hitherto they have been handled interchangeably and alternately. Babylon has been kept pretty much in sight but here it is at once dropped, and hardly ever comes into sight again the Prophet's views are almost wholly engrossed by the superior part of his subject. Bp Lenth

18 Behold, my servant shall deal prudently,] Or, shall prosper, as the margin reads, more agreeably to what follows. W Lenth

The state of Christ's exaltation is first mentioned here but the next words shew that His suffering state was to precede in order of time and the other to follow is the recompense and reward of His abasement, ver 14 15 Dr Berriman The solemn administration of Christ's kingly office could not take place till the prophetic and priestly were discharged the one, by teaching His people and raising their afflictions and desires by the clearest revelation of happiness in a future state, the other, by making intercession for them by the atonement of bloody sacrifice the sacrifice of Himself. This is plainly told us in the ensuing chapter, the twenty-second Psalm, and other prophecies of the Old Testament, which St Paul does in effect but expound in Heb ii 10 x 42 13, Phil ii 7—11 Dean Stanhope

How gracious was it in God to forewarn the world by the spirit of prophecy of the mean appearance of their Redeemer, that their faith might be armed against the reproach and contempt which attended His poverty, and the great scandal of His cross. In human reckoning a mean condition bespeaks a mean man but here the case was otherwise, for when God had foretold the mean appearance of His Son, His poverty became a proof of His authority and the lowliness of His condition shewed the excellency of His person. Bp Sherlock

15 So shall he sprinkle many nations.] He shall purify whole nations by His blood and present them holy to God the expression allude to the legal sprinklings by which the people were sanctified compare Ezek xxxvi 25 Heb ix 13, 14, 1 Pet i 2 W Lenth

—kings shall shut their mouths at him for that which had not been told them shall they see &c.] Out of respect or fear of Him Gentile kings shall keep silence and those kings and nations shall be instructed in such heavenly truths as human reason could never be able to discover, and they to whom no Prophets

Before CHRIST about 712
 * John 12
 18
 Rom 10 6
 || Or doctrine
 † Heb 1 hearing * Chap 52
 14
 Mark 9 12
 || Or he hid as it were his face from us
 † Heb as a hiding of face from him or from us * Matth 8
 17

WHO hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?

2 For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground he hath no form nor comeliness, and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him

3 He is despised and rejected of men, a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief and he hid as it were our faces from him, he was despised, and we esteemed him not

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted were sent or promise made of a Saviour, shall consider and receive His doctrine Bp Chandler, W Lenth

Chap I III The following chapter is so full a description of our blessed Saviour's sufferings, that it looks more like in history than a prophecy, and might with more reason be suspected to be a copy drawn from His life, than not to be a description of it. But this Scripture was in being long before our Lord was born, and was in the keeping of His enemies, of those who hated and despised Him, and at last put Him to a shameful death, and were at once the preservers and the fulfillers of the prophecy. Bp Sherlock It is certain that both ancient and modern Jews interpret it of the Messiah. Dean Ilia The writers of the New Testament apply it to Christ, and the patrons of infidelity will in vain attempt to apply it to any other. Dr Berriman It is so undeniably a proof of the truth of Christianity, that the bare reading of it and comparing it with the Gospel history, has converted some unbelievers, and brought them home to the faith and religion of Jesus Christ. W Lenth, Wogan

Ver 1 Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?] Who of the Jews, when Christ comes shall believe this our report? even of them before whom the arm of the Lord, the virtue and power of God, is witnessed in His miracles? (so St John understands the phrase, in the passage referred to in the margin) the cause of so great unbelief follows, ver 2 Bp Chandler It was the poverty and humility in which He came to visit us, so contrary to their proud and carnal conceits, that induced them to reject the Saviour, whom they were all along taught by their own Scriptures to expect for this being the season of His humiliation for our sins, He grew up, as Isaiah here describes Him, small and of no reputation from a family nearly extinct, like a tender plant springing unnoticed from its root hid in a barren and dry land, out of which nothing eminent was expected. In the manner of His appearance He had no form or comeliness, none of the advantages of worldly grandeur no ornaments of state to set Him off the image He met with from the world was even more discouraging than His poor and lowly appearance. He was despised, &c ver 3 Bp Horne

3 He is despised and rejected of men a man of sorrows &c.] Many prophecies relating to our Lord regard only particular actions and circumstances of His life but this points at no single calamity that befell Him, but is a general description of His condition during His abode on earth. Bp Sherlock

—we hid as it were our faces from him,] Out of aversion or contempt W Lenth The margin reads, "He hid His face from us" mourners covered up the lower part of their face and their heads, 2 Sam xv 30, Ezek xxiv 17 Bps Lenth and Chandler

4 Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows.] The sense of these words is what St Peter expresses, "Who His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree," 1 Pet ii 24, and the Apostle to the Hebrews, "Christ was once offered

From the Blue Bible in Wag taken to the Chapel (1811)

171

THE MAN OF SORROWS

Isaiah 53:3

And in Isaiah 53:3 he is described in the Christian to the Man of Sorrows

Before
CHRIST
about 712

Or tormented
Rom 4 2,
1 Cor 15 3

1 Pet 2 21
† Heb bruise

† Heb hath made the iniquities of us all to spectum him

Matth 1
6 3 & 27 1
Mark 14
61 & 15 5

† Acts 8 12
Or He was taken away by distress and judgment

but &c † Heb was the stroke
upon him

5 But he was <sup>a</sup> wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his <sup>a</sup> stripes we are healed.

6 All we like sheep have gone astray, we have turned every one to his own way, and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all

7 He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth

8 He was taken from prison and from judgment and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living for the transgression of my people he was he stricken to bear the sins of many, Heb ix 28 St Matthew's meaning in the passage referred to in the margin, is, that Christ healed diseases in such a manner, that even in that sense also the words of Isaiah were literally verified Dr S Clarke Surely the griefs He bore, and the sorrows He carried, were not His own, but ours yet we, not considering for whom He suffered, did esteem Him the outcast of heaven and earth, stricken in judgment from above, smitten of God in His anger, and afflicted by His heavy displeasure * Bp Horne

5 — [the chastisement of our peace] By which our peace was effected Bp Lenth

6 — [hath laid on him the iniquity of us all] Alluding to the custom, in making atonement of laying hands on the head of the sacrifice Bp Wilson See this rite it once enjoined and interpreted in the law of the scape-goat, Levit xvi 21 22 Dean Stanhope

7 — [he's brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth] The liveliest portraiture of resigned innocence Bp Horne So meek and passive a behaviour must be the result of the most perfect resignation, and altogether inconsistent with any measure of complaint or murmuring. His character accurately agrees only with the blessed Jesus, who was not more a lamb for sacrifice, than for innocence meekness, patience, and resignation Dr Berriman, Bp Chandler

8 [He was taken from prison and from judgment] We do not read that imprisonment was any part of Christ's sufferings * so the marginal reading is perhaps to be preferred or we may render, "by tyrannical oppression" W Lenth "By oppressive judgment Bp Lenth

— [who shall declare his generation?] The meaning is, that He was condemned to death although He was a Person of such high and unspeakable dignity, that neither men nor angels can declare the manner of His generation Bp Horne

9 — [he made his grave with the wicked and with the rich in his death] Some render, His grave was appointed with the wicked, but His sepulchre was with the rich W Lenth Our blessed Saviour's enemies designed Him the burial of a malefactor, yet it was brought to pass by the providence of God, that His dead body was buried "with the rich, in the rich man's tomb" and His burial was done with care and cost by persons of rank and quality This fully appears from the accounts of the Evangelists Bp Kidder

10 — [his soul an offering for sin,] These words plainly refer to the Mosaic institutions, which among the several sacrifices prescribed have provided one sort, which is peculiarly styled an offering or sacrifice for sin Dr Berriman All other sin offerings were only types and shadows of Christ's that which He offered, by offering Himself, was the substance, the true and real sacrifice

9 And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death, because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth

10 Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him, he hath put him to grief when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand

11 He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many, for he shall bear their iniquities

12 Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong, because he hath poured out his soul unto death and he was numbered with the transgressors,

Before
CHRIST
about 712

† Heb death 1 1 1 2

22
1 John 3 5
Or

when his soul shall make an offering

Mark 15
29
Luke 24

Mark 15
29
Luke 24

which expiated the sins of the world indeed the chief end of all the sacrifices of the Jews was to put them in mind of that which Christ was to offer for them, and so to give them occasion to exercise their faith and put their confidence in Him for pardon and salvation Bp Beveridge

— [he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand] By His voluntary oblation of Himself He shall obtain a long race of disciples and subjects, and the whole scheme of Providence for the salvation of mankind shall be entirely committed to His management Bp Chandler

11 [He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied] He shall rejoice to find that His death and sufferings have been the means of saving so many W Lenth

— [by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many] That is Many shall be justified by the knowing of Him, which is the same thing with believing in Him, to which our justification is always ascribed in the New Testament Bp Beveridge

12 [Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, &c] Therefore the multitudes of the nations are given Him for His inheritance, and the strong and mighty kingdoms of the world, rescued from the tyranny of Satan, shall become His Bp Horne. For some render, "I will bestow mine upon Him" and, "He shall divide the spoils of the strong" W Lenth

— [he was numbered with the transgressors] — and made intercession for the transgressors] Our blessed Saviour's dying between thieves is here intimated Dean Alia (See the passages referred to in the margin) We find Him hanging upon the cross between two common robbers, groaning under the bitterest agonies of death, without pity or compassion, derided and insulted but neither the pains of the cross, nor those pangs which drew from Him that complaint, "My God, My God why hast thou forsaken Me" nor all the malice and scorn of the crucifiers, could make Him a moment forget His love and tenderness towards them with His latest breath He pleads their cause, excuses their weakness, and begs for their pardon, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do" Bp Sherlock

The prophecy contained between the thirteenth verse inclusive of the fifty second chapter, and the conclusion of this, is perhaps the clearest and the strongest of all the prophecies of the Old Testament It is an advantage which it possesses, that it is intermixed with no other subject It is entire, separate, and uninterruptedly directed to one scene of things The application of it also to the evangelical history is plain and appropriate Here is no double sense no figurative language, but what is sufficiently intelligible to every reader of every country The obscurities, by which I mean the expressions that require a knowledge of local diction, and of local allusion, are few, and not of great importance Nor have I found that varieties of reading,

Before
CHRIST
about 712.
a Luke 28 54 and he bare the sin of many, and * made intercession for the transgressors

CHAP LIV

1 The prophet, for the comfort of the Gentiles, prophesieth the amplitude of their church 4 their safety 6 their certain deliverance out of affliction, 11 their fair edification, 15 and their sure preservation

Cal 127

SING, O barren, thou that didst not bear, break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, saith the Lord

2 Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes,

3 For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left, and thy seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited

4 Fear not, for thou shalt not be ashamed neither be thou confounded, for thou shalt not be put to shame for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more

b Luke 1 82

5 For thy Maker is thine husband, the Lord of hosts is his name, and thy Re-or a different construing of the original, produce any material alteration in the sense of the prophecy Archdeacon Paley

Let us, by a frequent perusal of this wonderful chapter, recollect our thoughts, and compose our spirits, and soften our hearts, and mortify our passions, and fix our affections on Him who loved us, and for our sakes fasted, and mourned, and wept, and lived poor, and died forsaken Bp Horne

Chap LIV In the foregoing chapter, the Prophet described the sufferings of Christ, here he prophesies of the increase and glory of the Church, to commence from the time of Christ's passion, but not to be completed till His second coming, and after the restoration of the Jews to God's favour W Lenth

Vcr 1 Sing, O barren &c ] The Church of God under the Old Testament confined within the narrow bounds of the Jewish nation and still more so in respect of true believers, and which some times seemed to be deserted of God her husband, is the barren woman that did not bear, and was desolate, she is exhorted to rejoice, and express her joy in the strongest manner, on the reconciliation of her husband, (see vcr 6,) and on the accession of the Gentiles to her family See chap xlix 20, 21 Bp Lenth

2 Enlarge the place of thy tent &c ] The Prophet announces the conversion of the Gentiles, in words addressed to the Jewish church as the emblem of the Christian The allusion here is to the tabernacle, and the image presented is an enlargement of the sacred tent to contain new crowds of worshippers the stakes are to be driven deep and firm the cords lengthened and tightened, that the sides of the tent may be able to support the pressure of the multitudes within it see Gen ix 27, where Noah foretells the admission of worshippers of Japhet's stock into the tent of Shem (Bp Horsley) and see chap xxxiii 20 W Lenth

4 — for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth ] That is, the bondage of Egypt, thy widowhood, the captivity of Babylon Abp Secker deemer the Holy One of Israel, The God of the whole earth shall he be called

Before
CHRIST
about 712.

6 For the Lord hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and a wife of youth, when thou wast refused, saith thy God

7 For a small moment have I forsaken thee, but with great mercies will I gather thee

8 In a little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment, but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the Lord thy Redeemer

9 For this is as the waters of Noah Gen 9 11 unto me for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth, so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee

10 For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed, but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee

11 ¶ O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colours, and lay thy foundations with sapphires 1 Chron. 29 2

12 And I will make thy windows of agates, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of pleasant stones

5 — thy Maker is thine husband, ] Makers, Husband and Bp Wilson So it stands in the original, or, "Thy Maker is have thee in marriage See notes at Gen 11, Eccles xii The mystery of the blessed Trinity is intimated, and in this place the term is to be understood of the Son in the communion of the Father and Holy Spirit. Vitranga.

— the Holy One of Israel The God of the whole earth shall be called ] Jehovah is indeed the God of all the nations of the earth, the universal Father, whose tender mercies are over all His works but to the Jews for a time He was more peculiarly a God, inasmuch as He chose them to be the depositaries of the true religion, while the rest of mankind were sunk in the ignorance and abomination of idolatry Bp Horsley The time, it is here said is now coming, when He shall not be called the God of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles Compare Zech xiv 9 Rom iii 29 W Lenth

6 — when thou wast refused, ] After thou hast been, as it were, cast off by Him for a time Dr Wells

11 — behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colours, &c ] This verse and the following may in a qualified sense be applied to the rebuilding of the city and temple after the captivity, but most probably have a farther meaning They seem to contain general images to express beauty, magnificence, purity, strength, and solidity, agreeably to the ideas of the Eastern nations See Job xiii 16, 17, and compare Rev xxi 18—21 W Lenth, Bp Lenth

The eleventh and twelfth verses may be thus paraphrased O thou, my poor distressed Church, which now seest no cause of joy or mitigation of thy sorrow, comfort thou thyself with the expectation of what blessings I have laid up for thee for, how despised soever thou now seemest, I will exceedingly adorn and beautify thee And I will make the Evangelical Church far more glorious than that, which was under the law, there shall nothing be wanting that may set forth the beauty and majesty thereof, Bp Hall

Before
CHRIST
about 712
John 6
45

13 And all thy children shall be taught of the LORD, and great shall be the peace of thy children

14 In righteousness shalt thou be established thou shalt be far from oppression, for thou shalt not fear and from terror, for it shall not come near thee

15 Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not by me whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall for thy sake.

16 Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I have created the waster to destroy 17 No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper, and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness is of me, saith the LORD.

CHAP LV

1 The prophet, with the promises of Christ, calleth to faith, 6 and to repentance 8 The happy success of them that believe

* John 7
37

HO, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no

13 And all thy children shall be taught of the LORD, and great shall be the peace of thy children] This teaching of God refers to the more plentiful instruction to be communicated to men in the days of the Messiah, whereby they were to be taught the will of God more fully and more plainly than in times past. This prediction of the communication of a greater measure of Divine knowledge, and larger effusion of the Divine Spirit upon the members of God's Church, is to be found in several places of the Prophets Bp Bradford The words of Isaiah here our blessed Saviour expressly applies to His followers; (see the passage referred to in the margin) With respect to the peace here promised, we know that the Governour of the world will make all things work together for the good of them that love Him, will direct us in all our doubts, comfort us in all our tribulations, supply all our wants, and in a little time will finish all our labours, and receive us to everlasting rest Dr Woodward

Chap LV ver 1 Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, &c] The Prophet publishes the free offers of grace by the Gospel the metaphor used here Christ Himself expounds to this sense, in the passage from St John referred to in the margin W Lowth See notes on chap xxxv 6, 7, xlv 3

It is one of the sure mercies of Christ, that the fountain of His salvation, the means of His grace, are open to all ranks of people Poor as well as rich have access to the publick ordinances of the Church servants as well as masters have leisure once at least in seven days to attend upon them and he who is so indigent that he cannot purchase books, or so illiterate that he cannot read them, if he has but ears to hear and a heart to learn, may be fully acquainted here with the whole will of God, and obtain grace to deny all ungodliness and worldly lust, and to live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world Reading — he that hath no money,] No merits of his own Bp Wilson Who is humbled under the conscience of his own wants and unworthiness Bp Hall

2 — for that which is not bread?] Laterally, "for the no-bread Bp Lowth See notes on chap x 15 For such knowledge as will not profit you. All pretences to religious knowledge, money; come ye, buy, and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price

Before
CHRIST
about 712

2 Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness

3 Incline your ear, and come unto me hear, and your soul shall live, and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David

Acts 13

4 Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people

5 Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the LORD thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel, for he hath glorified thee.

6 ¶ Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near

7 Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him, and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon

† Heb, the man of iniquity † Heb, he will multiply to pardon

but such as proceed from God Himself, are vain and useless, they can neither instruct men in the truth, nor lead them to happiness the true knowledge of God and of happiness is afterwards denoted by "that which is good," and "fatness" W Lowth See note on chap xxv 6

3 — even the sure mercies of David] By these are meant those blessings for which Almighty God had engaged His truth, and of the full attainment of which David so often expresses his perfect confidence particularly that of an everlasting kingdom, to be continued to his posterity, which, having manifestly failed in the first and temporal sense, must have a second and more sublime one belonging to it, such as imports a spiritual and eternal kingdom accordingly the Apostle, in the passage referred to in the margin, observes, that the resurrection of Christ, with the peculiarity of returning no more to corruption, was punctually foretold in these words of Isaiah Dean Stanhope

4 Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people] Christ, the Revealer of My will in the most eminent manner Dr Wells — a leader] The word in the original is the same that is applied to the Messiah by Daniel, ch ix. 25, 26, and rendered by our translators "Prince" The author of the first book of Chronicles, chap v 2, uses the same term, and there is little doubt but he had an eye to the same Person, whom he mentions as coming of the tribe of Judah Dr Birrman

6 Seek ye the Lord while he may be found,] The command here is general, imposed not only upon the Jews or the Gentiles, but upon all mankind Bp Beveridge Here Christ invites us all to a sincere repentance, and to accept of mercy while it is to be obtained "Now is the accepted time, now is the day of salvation" Grace is freely offered to all, all are called upon to come This is an act of infinite goodness, yet the words "while He may be found, and "while He is near, carry with them no small terror, as plainly intimating to us, that there is a time when He shall not be found, a day when He shall not be near "when the wicked shall call upon Him, but He will not answer, when they shall seek Him early, but they shall not find Him, Prov i 28 Wogan. See note on chap xlix 8

Before
CHRIST
about 712

8 ¶ For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts

10 For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater

11 So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it

12 For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands

13 Instead of the thorn shall come up the fig tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the LORD for a name, for an everlasting sign that shall not be cut off

CHAP LVI

1 The prophet exhorteth to sanctification. 5 He promyseth it shall be general without respect of persons 9 He inveigheth against blind watchmen

¶ Or equity

HUS saith the LORD, Keep ye judgment, and do justice for my salva-

8 For my thoughts are not your thoughts, &c.] My purposes in revealing the Gospel carry in them such marks of goodness and condescension in forgiving sins, (see ver 7) and of truth and faithfulness in fulfilling My promises, (see ver 10 11,) that they exceed the measures of human proceedings, as far as heaven is high above the earth. W Louth

13 Instead of the thorn shall come up the fig tree, &c.] General poetical images, expressing a great and happy change for the better. The wilderness turned into a paradise: the desert of the Gentiles watered with the heavenly snow and rain, which fail not to have then due effect, and becoming fruitful in piety and righteousness: or, as the Chaldei gives the moral sense of the emblem, (see note on chap xx 18,) 'Instead of the wicked shall arise the just, and instead of sinners such as fear to sin.' Compare chap xxxv 1, 2, xl 19. Bp Louth. See note on chap li 3

— and it shall be to the LORD for a name &c.] This change shall be to the everlasting praise of God, and for a memorial of His never failing goodness to the Church. Bp Hall

Chap LVI ver 1 Thus saith the LORD, Keep ye judgment, and do justice &c.] True piety and honesty are the terms indispensably required of every one, Jew as well as Gentile, to give him a claim to enjoy the happiness of the triumphant state of the Church on earth or the eternal happiness of heaven. Dr Wells

2 — that keepeth the sabbath.] The sabbath was ordained as a sign or token of God's covenant with His people: see Exodus xxxi 13, 1zek xx 11. Accordingly the observation of it was the distinguishing character of a Jew, as a worshipper of the true God, who created heaven and earth and instituted the sabbath, as a memorial of that creator. W Louth. It is frequent in Scripture, by one religious duty to denote the whole of religion, and so the 'keeping of the sabbath' here may signify all duties relating to

tion is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed

Before
CHRIST
about 712

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it, that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 ¶ Neither let the son of the stranger, that hath joined himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus saith the LORD unto the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant,

5 Even unto them will I give in my house and within my walls a place and a name better than of sons and of daughters. I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the LORD, to serve him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant,

7 Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar, for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people

Chap 2 2
Marth 21
Mark 11
Luke 17
10

God, and, what follows, 'keeping his hand from doing any evil,' those that refer to our neighbour. Dr Wells

Neither let the son of the stranger, &c.] Two descriptions of persons are mentioned in this verse, strangers and eunuchs, who, looking to the economy of the Old Testament, (see Deut xxiii 1, 2, 3,) might expect they should have an inferior share in the kingdom of Christ. Vincent. God declares here that the Gentile should be accepted, under the Gospel dispensation, (the partition wall being broken down,) equally with the Jew, and that whereas eunuchs were formerly forbidden to 'enter into the congregation of the Lord,' the times were now coming, when those restraints should be taken off, the inward endowments of the soul be sufficient to give persons a title to the continuance of saints, and their names be written in the book of life, a more lasting remembrance than posterity could entitle them to. W Louth

7 — and make them joyful in my house of prayer.] They who truly love and fear God above all things find more joy and comfort in His house than any where else: the whole work of the place is delightful to them, the Spirit of God cooperating with them in it, and God never failing to perform His promise here made, to those who come to His house duly prepared, and keep their minds intent upon Him, and the duties there performed. Bp Beveridge

— shall be called.] See note on chap ix 6

— an house of prayer for all people.] The temple was designed for other nations as well as the Jews to say their prayers in, at the first dedication by Solomon, (see 1 Kings viii 41, 42) though the number of proselytes was not considerable till the times of the second temple: this however, and the sacrifices above mentioned, are chiefly to be understood of the Christian worship, and the spiritual sacrifices of prayer and thanksgiving proper to it. The remark, 'that the Prophet uses such expressions, with

Before
CHRIST
about 700
† Heb to his gathered

8 The Lord God which gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, Yet will I gather others to him, † beside those that are gathered unto him

9 ¶ All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest

10 His watchmen are blind they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark, † sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber

11 Yea, they are † greedy dogs which † can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand they all their own way, every one for his his quarter ye ye, say they, I will fetch wine, I fill ourselves with strong drink, morrow shall be as this day, and we are abundant

CHAP. LVII.

† blessed death of the righteous 9 God reproveth for their whorish idolatry 13 He giveth promises to the penitent

14 The righteous perisheth, and no man to heart and † merciful taken from the usages of the idioms of the proph chap xix 19

Here manifestly regarding chap promises of a transio chap

the neg-umb dogs, and hypo-

upon the na-

of their city and

Romans compare

Jer xii 7 9, where he well explains this of Isaiah The same subject is continued in the next chapter, in which the charge of apostacy and corruption becomes more general Bp Lowth

10 His watchmen are blind &c] Jerusalem is here represented to the Prophet as trodden under foot, and plundered by the hostile nations round about her † This devastation he here sets forth under a proper metaphor He represents his people as a flock of sheep their rulers, both religious and civil, as shepherds, and their dogs set to watch the flock, and their enemies, who watched for their destruction, he resembles to wild beasts ravening after their prey And seeing how wretchedly the flock was guarded he cries out in an ecstatic manner, "O all ye beasts of the field, come, come, ye beasts of the forest, and devour Not that he desired this, but he knew it would be the consequence of what follows, for, says he, "those that should watch our flock are blind This is a warning to all spiritual watchmen, to discharge their trust faithfully, not to follow their own ways, and pursue their temporal gain, and ease, and safety, above all things, not to be silent when they ought to speak, not to shut their eyes when they should see for in so doing they will lose their own souls, as well as the souls of those committed to their charge Let us then beseech the universal Shepherd and Watchman, who never slumbereth nor sleepeth, to inspire all His ministers, with a zeal for His glory, that they may constantly speak the truth, and boldly rebuke vice, after the example of our men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away † from the evil to come.

2 He shall † enter into peace they shall rest in their beds, each one walking † in his uprightness.

3 ¶ But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the whore

4 Against whom do ye sport yourselves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood,

5 Enflaming yourselves † with idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the cliffs of the rock

6 Among the smooth stones of the stream is thy portion, they, they are thy lot even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered a meat offering Should I receive comfort in these?

7 Upon a lofty and high mountain hast thou set thy bed even thither wentest thou up to offer sacrifice

8 Behind the doors also and the posts hast thou set up thy remembrance for

Before
CHRIST
about 698

Or from that which is evil
Or, go in peace
him

Or
the Kings 16 4

great Master, who kept back nothing of the Divine will from His people Reading

Chap LVII ver 1 The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart &c] The death of good Hzekiah is probably denoted Dr Wells The Prophet complains of the general neglect of people, to consider the loss of good and useful men, is a presage of evil when God in mercy taketh away such, it should be a warning to us to look for evil to come Bp Sanderson

2 He shall enter into peace] The same sense is expressed at large, Gen xv 15 I thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace Bp Lowth These words appear to be in allusion to the future state, what more natural signification have they than that expressed in the Book of Wisdom, chap iii 13, "The souls of the righteous are in the hand of God,—they are in peace" Dr S Clarke Thus is the happiness of heaven frequently described to us in Scripture, and certainly it is no small encouragement towards making us love religion, that it promiseth to us in the next life a freedom from all the evils and troubles of this Abp Tilloston

— they shall rest in their beds &c] As death is compared to sleep so is the grave to a bed See chap xiv 18 W Lowth

5 — under every green tree, &c] See note on chap 1 29

— slaying the children in the valleys] Offering them in sacrifice to Moloch, a sin severely prohibited Lev xx 2 &c, yet much practised in the times of the idolatrous kings of Judah, 2 Kings xxiii 10, 2 Chron xxviii 3 The valley of Hinnom was chiefly noted for this inhuman practice, Jer vii 31 W Lowth 6 Among the smooth stones &c] Of the worship of rude stones consecrated, there are many testimonies of the ancients They are called "smooth stones," as being made smooth by the lapse of the stream Bp Hall Or by oil poured upon them, which was a frequent practice among the heathens W Lowth

7 Upon a lofty and high mountain hast thou set thy bed even thither wentest thou up to offer sacrifice] The bed here mentioned may most fitly be understood of such an one as was used at feasts, and was prepared for the entertainment which was made with part of the oblation W Lowth There is at the same time a continued allusion to the practices of an adulteress

8 Behind the doors also and the posts hast thou set up thy remembrance] That is, the image of their tutelary gods, or something

Before
CHRIST
about 690.

Or
hewed it for thyself larger than thou s
Or thou providedst room
Or, thou respectedst the king

Or living

thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up, thou hast enlarged thy bed, and || made thee a covenant with them, thou lovedst their bed || where thou sawest st.

9 And || thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thy messengers far off, and didst debase thyself even unto hell

10 Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way, yet saidst thou not, There is no hope thou hast found the || life of thine hand, therefore thou wast not grieved

11 And of whom hast thou been afraid or feared, that thou hast lied, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of old, and thou fearest me not?

12 I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works, for they shall not profit thee.

13 ¶ When thou criest, let thy companies deliver thee, but the wind shall carry them all away, vanity shall take them but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain,

14 And shall say, "Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people

15 For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy, I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on † frowardly in the way of his heart

18 I have seen his ways, and will heal him I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners.

19 I create the fruit of the lips, Peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the LORD, and I will heal him

20 But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt

21 <sup>a</sup> There is no peace, saith my God, <sup>b</sup> to the wicked

CHAP LVIII

1 The prophet, being sent to reprove hypocrisy, 3 expresseth a counterfeit fast and a true 8 He declareth what promises are due unto godliness, 13 and to the keeping of the sabbath

CRY † aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and show my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins.

* Chap 40
3 & 62 10.

dedicated to them, in direct opposition to the law of God, which commanded them to write upon the door posts of their house, and upon their gates, the words of God's law, Deut vi 9, xi 20 If they chose for them such a situation as more private, it was in defiance of a particular curse denounced, Deut xxvii 15 Bp Lowth

9 — thou wentest to the king with ointment, &c. See chap xxx 6 They courted the king of Egypt, or of Assyria, as best served their interest W Lowth Hosea reproaches the Israelites for the same practice, chap xii 1 It is well known that in all parts of the East whoever visits a great person must carry him a present Bp Lowth See note on 1 Sam ix 7

10 Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way, &c. Thou hast tried all ways to save thyself from the evils that threaten thee with what pains didst thou court the favour of foreign princes! and to no purpose, yet thou didst not refrain "thou hast found the lift of thine hand, that is, thou hast made a shift by these methods to support thyself for the present, therefore thou hast felt no remorse W Lowth, Bp. Wilson.

11 — have not I held my peace even of old, and thou fearest me not? That is, And therefore thou fearest Me not? Sinners take encouragement to continue in sin, from God's patience and long-suffering See Ps i 21, Eccles. viii 11 W Lowth

13 — but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land. To show the great goodness of God, it is usual with the Prophets to pass from denunciations of judgment to promises of mercy The promise here made was fulfilled literally to the Jews, who returned from the Babylonish captivity, but the spiritual and more important sense is the free grace of God, offering pardon and salvation to all that repent and believe in Christ Wogan

15 — with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, &c. It is humility which brings down "the high and lofty One, that inhabiteth eternity, to dwell amongst us, and conduct us through our pilgrimages of life to the lot of our inheritance to the mount of holiness here, of joy and happiness hereafter The corruption of nature, and perverse habits of sin, are the "stumbling-blocks (ver 14) in our way if these be "taken up, and removed by repentance toward God, and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, we shall "possess the land, and inherit His holy mountain, that is, be true members of His Church upon earth, and receive the inheritance in His kingdom of heaven, which was promised us in our baptism Wogan

19 I create the fruit of the lips, The sacrifice of praise, saith St Paul, Heb xiii 15, "is the fruit of the lips God creates this fruit of the lips, by giving new subject and cause of thanksgiving by His mercies conferred on those among His people, who acknowledge and bewail their transgressions, and return to Him The great subject of thanksgiving is peace, reconciliation and pardon offered to them that are nigh, and to them that are afar off, not only to the Jew, but also to the Gentile, as St Paul more than once applies those terms, Eph ii 13, 17, see also Acts ii 39 Bp Lowth 20 — the wicked are like the troubled sea, &c. The wicked are represented here as full of uneasy and disquieting thoughts, they have no real comfort of mind from the pleasures of this world must necessarily want all effectual support under the many evils and calamities of life, and are troubled perpetually with the reproofs of conscience, and unwelcome thoughts of death Bp Pearce The impenitent and wicked are excluded from all share in the peace mentioned ver 19, that reconciliation and pardon which is promised to the penitent only The forty-eighth chapter ends with the same declaration as this, "There is no peace to the wicked" Bp Lowth See the notes there.

Before
CHRIST
about 696

2 Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice; they take delight in approaching to God.

3 ¶ Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find pleasure, and exact all your labours.

4 Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.

5 Is it such a fast that I have chosen? a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the Lord?

6 Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?

7 Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him; and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?

8 ¶ Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee; the glory of the Lord shall be thy reward.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the Lord shall answer, thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity;

10 And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul, then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noon day.

11 And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.

12 And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations, and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.

13 ¶ If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, and call the sabbath a delight,

Before
CHRIST
about 696

† Heb. shall gather thee up

† Heb. thy soul

† Heb. he or d celve
Chap 61

Or things wherewith ye fast others
† Heb griefs
Or ye fast not at this day
Isaiah 7
Ezekiel 16
24
Or,
to afflict his soul for a day?

† Heb the bundles of the yoke † Heb broken Leak 18 7
Or
afflicted

Chap. LVIII ver 2 [Yet they seek me daily,] To "seek God" is to "draw nigh" unto Him in His ordinances. IV God himself is commanded to shew the Jews especially their hypocrisy in drawing nigh to God with their bodies only. Bp Wilson

3 — wherefore have we afflicted our soul? By fasting and humiliation a phrase used particularly of the great day of expiation, Lev xvi 29, xxiii 27. W. Lowth See notes on the former of these places — in the day of your fast ye find pleasure,] It appears that, instead of producing the right effect of humility and self denial, their fasting increased their pride, and inflamed, rather than subdued, their irregular lusts and passions. Wogan Travellers inform us, that in the Eastern countries Jews and Turks, upon their stated fasts, will keep the day strictly enough, but as soon as the stars appear, they fall to their viands, and abandon themselves to a mad kind of mirth the greatest part of the night. Reading — and exact all your labours,] Meaning, the hardest labours, and most servile works. Bp Hall The intention of God, in directing His people to religious fasts, was not barely for their affliction in chastisement for their sins, but is principally intended for their amendment, not is the design of such a fast any way answered by an outward humiliation, but by an inward reformation, by the heart's being melted down, by true contrition and sincere sorrow for sin, into a right sense of religion, and softened to the impressions of humanity, good nature, and charity. See ver 6, 7. Dr Delaney.

— ye fast for strife and debate, &c.] Your fasts have the appearance of devotion; but their true design is only to promote parties and contentions, and to oppress the innocent such was the fast of Ahab, which we read of 1 Kings xxi. 10. W. Lowth

— to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? For his couch. Bp Lowth 7 — Hide not thyself from thine own flesh? From thy kindred and countryman. W. Lowth. See notes on chap. ix 20,

Vol. II.

xlix 26 Or, from thy fellow men All men are by the ordinance of God so incorporated together, that they are not only all "members of the same body," 1 Cor xii 12, (of the same civil body, as they are men, and of the same mystical body, as they are Christians,) but even "members one of another," Rom. xii. 5, Ephes. iv. 25. Bp Sanderson

8 Then shall thy light break forth as the morning,] That is, Thy low and afflicted condition shall be suddenly changed into an happy and glorious state "and thine health shall spring forth speedily," thou shalt be restored to thy former prosperity: "and thy righteousness shall go before thee," like a harbinger, to prepare the way to honour and esteem, as well as to shine before men for their example and the glory of God "and the glory of the Lord shall be thy reward," following thee in all thy ways, and, as it were, bringing up the rear, both to do thee honour, and to protect thee. W. Lowth, Wogan

9. — the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity,] The first expression alludes to some gesture they used in conversation, whether of mocking or threatening: or it may signify an attempt towards invading the right of others. See chap. lix 3, Ps cxxv 3 "Vanity" here means falsehood and deceit. W. Lowth

10 — if thou draw out thy soul &c.] The force of this expression is, to satisfy the hungry with all readiness and benevolence, agreeably to that of the Apostle, "God loveth a cheerful giver," 2 Cor. ix. 7; see also Rom. xii. 8 The Septuagint gives the sense more fully, "If thou give bread from thy soul" Pittinga A charitable temper is commonly expressed by a large soul, and the contrary disposition by a narrow one. W. Lowth.

13 If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day, &c.] If thou abstain from following thy own ways and pleasure on the sabbath, which is dedicated to My service It appears from hence, that the precept of keeping the sabbath day holy did not signify merely a bodily rest, but implied also setting the day apart for the services of religion. See Jer xvii. 21, &c. W. Lowth.

Before
CHRIST
about 698

the holy of the Lord, honourable; and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words:

* Deut 32
13

14 Then shalt thou delight thyself in the Lord; and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.

CHAP. LIX.

1 The damnable nature of sin 3 The sins of the Jews 9 Calamity is for sin 16 Salvation is only of God 20 The covenant of the Redeemer.

* Numb 11
21
chap 50 2

BEHOOLD, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save, neither is his ear heavy, that it cannot hear

2 But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear

|| Or, have made him hide
* Chap 1
15

3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity, your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness

* Job 15 35
Psal 7 14

4 None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies, they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.

|| Or
adders

5 They hatch cockatrice' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

|| Or, that which is sprinkled as as if there brake out a viper
* Job 8 14, 15

6 Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.

* Prov 1, 16 Rom's 18

7 Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; wasting and destruction are in their paths.

Before
CHRIST
about 698
+ Heb breaking
|| Or 16

8 The way of peace they know not, and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace.

9 Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity; for brightness, but we walk in darkness

10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noon day as in the night, we are in desolate places as dead men.

11 We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none; for salvation, but it is far off from us

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us; and for our iniquities, we know them;

13 In transgressing and lying against the Lord, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.

14 And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.

15 Yea, truth faileth, and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the Lord saw it, and he was displeased, because that there was no judgment.

|| Or as account mind
+ Heb it was in his eyes

16 And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto

* Chap 61
5

Chap. LIX. The last chapter more particularly reprobated the hypocrisy of the Jews in pretending to make themselves accepted with God by fasting and outward humiliation without true repentance, while they continued to oppress the poor, and indulge their own passions and vices, with great promises however of God's favour on condition of their reformation. This chapter contains a more general reproof of their wickedness, bloodshed, violence, falsehood, injustice. At ver 9, they are introduced as making an ample confession of their sins, and deploring their wretched state in consequence of them. On this act of humiliation a promise is given that God, in His mercy and zeal for His people, will rescue them from this miserable condition, that the Redeemer will come like a mighty hero to deliver them, ver 17, He will destroy His enemies; convert both Jews and Gentiles to Himself, and give them a new covenant, and a law, which shall never be abolished. Bp Lowth.

Ver 1, 2 Behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save, &c. This seems to be, as it were, an answer to the cavils of the Jews, calling God's power in question because He did not deliver them from their enemies, as formerly W. Lowth.

5 They hatch cockatrice eggs, and weave the spider's web. Figurative expressions their villainous contrivances are compared to a cockatrice's eggs, which are both poison in themselves, and when hatched produce a venomous serpent, and to a spider web, both for the artificial fineness of them, and for the purpose of ensnaring, for which they are intended. He goes on, ver 6 "Their webs shall not become garments" that is, though the contrivances are finely wrought, yet they are too thin and weak to be of any real advantage, and their works can neither cover nor defend them. W. Lowth. And so do all the devices, which we are plaud in ourselves and others, as matters of great reach, and contrived with deep policy, reasonable, agreeably to this comparison the Prophet, a spider's web; a thing of great curiosity to the eye spun of a fine and subtle thread, and in exact proportion, but no strength at all. Bp. Sanderson.

10 — in desolate places as dead men. We are banished from the world, as the dead that have no longer any portion in it. S. Ps. xlv. 10. W. Lowth.

16. And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor. See note on chap. lxiii. 3, compare ch. lvi. 7, and Eccl. x. 30. W. Lowth.

The sins of men, and even of God's own people, (as they are described in the beginning of the chapter, and there acknowledged and confessed by the penitent members of the Church, ver 1) were grown to so enormous a height, and so past all hope human means of reformation, that nothing less than the very at him, and his righteousness, it sustained him.

Before CHRIST about 600

17 For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head; and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke.

18 According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies; to the islands he will repay recompence.

19 So shall they fear the name of the Lord from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him.

20 And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the Lord.

21 As for me, thus is my covenant with them, saith the Lord; My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the Lord, from henceforth and for ever.

CHAP. LX.

1 The glory of the church in the abundant access of the of God, even His own Son, was able to apply the remedy. When He saw there was no man, no mere man, capable or qualified to risk his brother, or give to God a ransom for him, when He saw there was no intercessor, not even among the angels, to mediate or undertake for mankind, then He Himself took it upon Him to execute the great design of saving man, and delivering him out of the hand of his wickedness. Wright.

20 And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, &c. This is expounded by St Paul of that general salvation of the Jewish nation which he assures us shall come to pass in the latter times: see the passage referred to in margin, and compare Obad. 17, 21. Ver 21 is to be understood of Christ, the great Prophet and Oracle of the Church, who came from heaven to declare unto us the whole counsel of God, and whom we are to hear and obey in all things. Compare chap 16, lxi. 1 W Louth.

— and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob. Our translators have expressed the sense of the present reading of the Hebrew text; that of St. Paul, following the Septuagint, with which some other versions agree, "and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob," Rom xi. 26. By Louth.

The first coming of the great Redeemer was to Zion; His second coming will be to the world in general. He came first to His church, to the lost sheep of the house of Israel, to His own people; but "His own" received Him not, because their deeds were evil. None received Him then, but those "that turned from transgression in Jacob;" nor can any receive Him now, but such as repent of their sins. Salvation must commence in this life. Jesus will be a Saviour to none hereafter, but those whom He first saves from sin here. He is a Redeemer to them only who turn from their transgressions. With them, and them alone, He ratifies and confirms His "covenant" of grace. To them only the Father gives of the "Spirit that is upon" His Son, the Spirit of adoption and grace. Wright.

Chap. LX. The subject of this chapter is the great increase and flourishing state of the Church of God by the conversion and Gentiles, 15 and the great blessings after a short of-nation.

Before CHRIST about 600

ARISE, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee.

Or, be enlightened for thy light cometh

For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people; but the Lord shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

8 And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.

Rev 21. 24

Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee. thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

Chap 49 18

5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged, because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

Or, none of the sea shall be turned toward thee
 Or, wealth

6 The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah; all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense, and they shall shew forth the praises of the Lord.

Chap 61 6

7 All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered accession of the heathen nations to it, which is set forth in such ample and exalted terms, as plainly shew, that the full completion of this prophecy is reserved for future times. This subject is displayed in the most splendid colours, under a great variety of images highly poetical, designed to give a general idea of that perfect state of the Church, which we are taught to expect in the latter days. By Louth. It is agreeable to the custom of the times and countries in general, in which the Scriptures were written, and to the style and manner of Prophecy in particular, to abound with figurative schemes of speech: on such an occasion as the subject of this chapter presents, we are least of all to wonder at the boldest metaphors and descriptions, where the benefits spoken of are of so exalted a nature, as to make that pomp of expression the effect of necessity, which would on other occasions pass for artificial. Other benefits may be magnified above their just proportions; but no words can come up to the real dignity of these; and therefore the most magnificent descriptions, borrowed from objects familiar to our senses, do not adorn or exalt, but only speak of them in the most respectful manner that our capacities admit. Dean Stanhope.

Ver. 1. arise, shine, for thy light is come.] Light is the usual emblem of happiness, and darkness of affliction; Jerusalem is bid to arise, and give light to all about her, to communicate to others part of the honour and lustre which she had received from God, the true "Sun of Righteousness." Mal. iv. 2 W Louth.

5 Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged.] Thy joy shall break out upon thee like an overflowing river, and the sudden transports of it shall produce an astonishment like that arising from fear; the effects of one passion are ascribed to another.

— the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee,] Those foreign nations, which were converted from thee by diverse ways. By Hall.

7 All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the flocks of Nebaioth shall be with thee. Kedar and Nebaioth were sons of Ishmael. By Hall. "Ephah" was a son of

Before
CHRIST
about 698

thered together unto thee, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorify the house of my glory.

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?

Gal 4 26

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the Lord thy God, and to the Holy One of Israel, because he hath glorified thee

10 And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.

Rev 21 25

11 Therefore thy gates shall be open continually, they shall not be shut day nor night, that men may bring unto thee the forces of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought

Or, wealth

12 For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish, yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my feet glorious

Rev 9 9

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee, and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet, and

Midian Gen xxv 4 These people abounded in camels, and such beasts of burden, and their substance chiefly consisted in cattle, W Lenth What is said of the animals ministering and going up, Vitrings understands as implying, that they shall offer themselves voluntarily, which gives a very elegant and poetical turn to the image it being a general notion that prevailed with sacrificers among the heathen, that the victim's being brought without reluctance to the altar was a good omen, and the contrary a bad one Bp. Lenth

8 Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows? A flock of birds resembles a dark cloud W Lenth The Prophet speaks of men's ready submission to the Gospel, and the great number of those that should come in upon the preaching of it Abp. Pilkington He alludes to the rapidity with which doves return to their habitations, considering also the purity and innocence of this bird to what can the elect of God be better compared, or the Church, than to the dove-cote? This is the force of the word translated "window" The Holy Spirit frequently uses this emblem, see Ps lxxviii 13, Hos xi 11 Vitrings

9 Surely the isles shall wait for me, &c] By "the isles" are meant the heathen nations and their "waiting for" Christ expresses that readiness with which they entertained the Gospel when first preached to them, as if they had been long in expectation of it So Christ is said to be "the desire of all nations," Hag ii 7 Wogan

13 The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, &c] This expression denotes that all the cedars and other choice trees of Lebanon should contribute to the rebuilding and beautifying of

Before
CHRIST
about 698

they shall call thee, The city of the Lord, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob

17 For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders, but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise

19 The sun shall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee but the Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

Rev 21 21 & 22

20 Thy sun shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw itself for the Lord shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified

22 A little one shall become a thousand, -

God's temple, which implies in a spiritual sense, that every thing should tend to adorn and render perfect the Church, which is called the house and building of God, 1 Tim iii 15, 1 Cor iii 9 W Lenth

I will make the place of my feet glorious] The temple of Jerusalem was called the house of God, and the place of His rest or residence His visible symbolical appearance, called by the Jews the Shechinah, was in the most holy place, between the wings of the cherubim above the ark This was considered as the throne of God, and the ark itself as His footstool see Ps cxix 5, 1 Chron xxviii 2 Bp. Lenth

14 The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee, &c] See notes on chap xiv 14, xlix 24

17 For brass I will bring gold, &c] As it is said of Solomon's times, that gold and silver were so plentiful, that there was no use of inferior metals, 1 Kings x 21, 27, so, in pursuance of the same metaphor, the New Jerusalem is described, Rev xxi 18, as made of "pure gold." The Prophet adds here, that in those happy days, that golden age, as we say commonly, the very officers of the public revenues, and collectors of taxes, (a sort of men generally blamed as guilty of extortion and oppression, see Luke iii 13,) shall be lovers of peace, and observers of justice He goes on to describe complete security from all sort of violence, &c. and, ver 21, we read, "Thy people also shall be all righteous," such characters can belong only to the New Jerusalem. (W. Lenth) the description of which, Rev xxi 23, &c, is entirely taken from this chapter of Isaiah Jos. Mede

22 A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong

Before
CHRIST
about 698

/ and a small one a strong nation: I the Lord will hasten it in his time.

CHAP. LXI

1 The office of Christ 4 The forwardness, 7 and blessings of the faithful

18 <sup>1</sup> THE <sup>2</sup> Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, because the Lord hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek, he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound,

2 To proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn,

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness, that they might be called trees of righteousness, the nation ] The evangelical Prophet is very particular throughout this chapter in describing the sudden and mighty increase of Christianity, its triumphant progress through all nations, and its prevalence over all the other religions of the world, and thus wonderful enlargement of it he takes occasion here to represent as so much the more admirable, on account of the small appearance it should make at first, and the slender and unpromising beginnings with which it should set out Bp Atterbury It is well known, by the instrumentality of how incompetent persons, a few fishermen, of no authority, address, or education, and in how short a compass of time, this great revolution, the greatest that ever was in the religious world, was effected In about forty years the Gospel was preached in almost every region of the world then known this speedy propagation of it could never have been effected by persons so unequal to the task, had not the same Divine Spirit who foretold it, assisted them in it, according to the promise here given, "I the Lord will hasten it in his time" Bp Newton

We see the truth of this prediction in the event The Church, which was confined to a small spot, the land of Israel, is now become catholic, or universal, and in some measure hath "filled the whole earth, Dan ii. 35, so that "a little one is become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation" But still this prophecy will not receive its full completion till the coming of that glorious kingdom, which we daily pray may come, when the will of our heavenly Father shall be done upon earth, as it is now in heaven And O! let all, who look for these things, pray, that the Lord may "hasten it in his time," and with "the Spirit and the bride say, Come, and let him that heareth say, Come, and let him that is athirst come Amen Even so, come, Lord Jesus, come quickly," Rev xii 17, 20 Hogan

Chap LXI ver 1 The Spirit of the Lord God is upon me, &c ] That these words are meant of Christ, He Himself declared, when, having read them in the synagogue at Nazareth, He said to those who heard them, "This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your ears" see Luke iv 21 Bp Beveridge

— the Lord hath anointed me ] See note on chap xiv 1, "to preach good tidings unto the meek," Or, "to the poor," as the word is rendered by the Septuagint, whom the Evangelists follow W Louth See notes on chap xi 4; xlii 6

This preaching to the poor was very different from the way of the Jewish doctors and teachers, they would scarce instruct any one but for great reward, the poorer sort they had in great contempt see John vii 48, 49 Abp Tillotson

— to proclaim liberty to the captives, &c ] The proclaiming planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified

4 ¶ And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations

5 And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord men shall call you the Ministers of our God. ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves. <sup>6</sup> Chap 60

7 ¶ For your shame ye shall have double, and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion therefore in their land they shall possess the double everlasting joy shall be unto them.

8 For I the Lord love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt offering, and I will direct of liberty to them that are bound, and the year of acceptance with the Lord, is a manifest allusion to the proclaiming of the year of jubilee, Lev xxv 9, &c, the year of general release, of debts and obligations, of bond men and women, of lands and possessions, which had been sold from the families and tribes to which they belonged Our Saviour by applying this text to Himself, a text so manifestly relating to the institution above mentioned, plainly declares the typical design of that institution Bp Louth

3 — beauty for ashes, &c ] A description of the change of habit and appearance that should take place in proportion to the change of circumstances Whereas, whilst they were mourners, they used to put ashes on their heads, now they were to wear a crown or diadem, for the word rendered here "beauty," signifies an ornament proper to the head, and is so translated, Ezek xxiv 17 W Louth

— the garment of praise ] Namely, the garment wont to be used in times of thanksgiving to God Dr Wells

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord &c ] If we suppose these words contain a peculiar promise to the Jews after their conversion, they import, that God will restore to them that honourable title of being a "kingdom of priests," formerly given to them, Exod xix 6, and some conceive the Jewish church to be represented in the Revelation by the "four and twenty elders," (alluding to the four and twenty courses of the priests,) "clothed in white raiment, (as priests,) and having on their heads crowns of gold, as advanced to a regal dignity, Rev iv 4 But this privilege of being "priests to God" does in some degree belong to all Christians; see 1 Pet. ii 5; especially when they shall come to be wholly free from the bondage of sin, and continually employed in God's service, Rev v. 10, xx 6. W Louth See notes on chap lxvi 21

7 For your shame ye shall have double; ] See note on chap xl 2

8 For I the Lord love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt offering. ] To the tenor of the covenant, promised at the end of the verse, consisting of inward righteousness, (see Jer xxvi 38,) God opposes the outward ceremonial service prescribed by the former covenant, which very often had no inward devotion accompanying it W Louth See notes on chap i. 11. God will not be pleased with the offerings of such as get riches by unlawful ways see Deut xiii 18 Yet how common is this sin among Christians, who hope to sanctify their ill-gotten wealth by dedicating a part of it to some pious use! But God will not be mocked Bp Wilson

Before
CHRIST
about 698

Chap 56
12

Before
CHRIST
about 698

their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the Lord hath blessed.

10 I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.

† Heb decketh as a priest

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth, so the Lord God will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAP. LXII.

1 The fervent desire of the prophet to confirm the church in God's promises 5 The office of the ministers (unto which they are invited) in preaching the gospel, 10 and preparing the people thereto

FOR Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth

2 And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory and

9 And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, &c.] They shall be acknowledged for God's ancient people, unto whom all the promises of the Gospel were made, and principally belong see Acts iii 25, xiii 46 They shall be esteemed as the first-born or elder brethren in the Church W Lowth

10 I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, &c.] The Jewish Church is here introduced as speaking, and returning her thanks to God for these great favours, that He hath advanced her and her sons to such honour after their dispersion, and made her thereby glorious in the eyes of the world W Lowth She who was formerly described as sitting on the ground, and bewailing her condition, now comes forward with a joyful and assured heart, arrayed in all the splendour of the sanctuary Vitruga Allusion is made, as is evident from the marginal rendering, to the dress of the priesthood, of which so great was the magnificence, and so contrived and calculated were they, as Moses expresses it, "for glory and for beauty," that nothing can be imagined more striking, or to minds prepared, as those of the Jews were, to unite with this uncommon splendour the idea of the utmost sanctity, more awful, or more imposing W Lowth

[Chap LXII ver 1 For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace] Some interpreters have thought that the Prophet does not speak here in his own person, as our argument has it, but that God is the speaker, and professes His constant anxiety for His people, or that the Messiah declares that He will never cease interceding with God, till the redemption of Israel be brought to pass. Edit

2 — thou shalt be called by a new name.] To "be called" signifies, in the sacred dialect, "to be;" (see notes on chap ix. 6,) and the "new name" here promised implies a new condition, a change for the better No particular name is pointed to; several appropriate to the altered state of Jerusalem are to be met with in thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall name.

Before
CHRIST
about 698

3 Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God

4 Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken, neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate. but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land Beulah for the Lord delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married.

Hos 1 10
1 Pet 2 10

|| That is,
My delight, in her
|| That is,
Married

5 ¶ For as a young man marryeth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee

† Heb with the joy of the bridegroom

6 I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night ¶ ye that make mention of the Lord, keep not silence,

|| Or ye that are the LORD's remem-brancers
† Heb silence

7 And give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, ¶ Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies, and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured

† Heb
If I live,
&c.

9 But they that have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the Lord, and they that have brought it together shall drink it in the courts of my holiness the prophecies (see ver 4, 12 of this chapter) compare Rev ii 17, iii 12 Vitruga

5 — so shall thy sons marry thee.] The word translated "thy sons," has been wrongly pointed by the Masoretes and should rather be rendered "thy Restorer" The passage, thus corrected will stand, "As a young man marryeth a virgin, so shall thy Restorer wed thee;" which corresponds exactly with what follows "As the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee" W Lowth.

6 [I have set watchmen &c. — ye that mention of the Lord keep not silence.] The faithful, in particular the Priests and Levites, are exhorted by the Prophet to beseech God with unremitting importunity to hasten the redemption of Zion The image taken from the temple service, in which there was appointed constant watch, 1 Chron ix 33, see Ps cxxxiv W Lowth The margin gives it here, "the Lord's remembrancers," it alludes to the office of the Priests and Levites, and their daily prayers for the welfare of the Church The Scripture elsewhere speaks of God after the manner of men, as one that may be overcome by importunity, see Luke xi 8, 9, xiii 5, 6, 7 W Lowth. See note on Gen vi 6

8 The Lord hath sworn by his right hand, &c.] What assurance could be more strong or satisfactory? God, as He cannot swear by any greater, swears by Himself, (Heb. vi 13,) and His own Divine attributes: when this expression is used, some immutable decree of the Divine counsel follows, it is done in condescension to man's limited understanding, and as an assistance to the weakness of his faith. Vitruga

9. But they that have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the Lord; &c.] The expressions here allude to the ordinances of the law, which required the people to spend their firstfruits, and other hallowed things, at the temple, in grateful acknowledgment to God for His blessings W Lowth.

Before
CHRIST
about 696

Chap 40
J & 57 14

Zech 9 9
Matth 21 5
John 12 16
Chap 40

Or, compere

10 ¶ Go through, go through the gates; prepare ye the way of the people; cast up, cast up the highway, gather out the stones, lift up a standard for the people

11 Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh, behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him

12 And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called, Sought out, A city not forsaken

CHAP. LXIII

1 Christ sheweth who he is, 2 what his victory over his enemies, 7 and what his mercy towards his church 10 In his just wrath he remembereth his free mercy 15 The church in their prayer, 17 and complaint, profess their faith

WHO is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save

2 Wherefore art thou red in thine ap-

† Heb
d chad

Rev 19
11

Chap LXIII ver 1 Who is this that cometh from Edom, &c] The Prophet introduces some person, whether himself in vision or another (St Jerome fancies the angels,) wondering at an object which presents itself. This object is a Conquerour returning bloody from battle of whom by way of dialogue, and in answer to the questions, who He is, and why so habited, an account is given, it presenting a mighty victory, obtained with much blood and slaughter won by the powerful but single arm of this mighty Warrior, by which a total rout was given to His adversaries, at a time, when, if He had not interposed, no other was disposed, no other able, to have quelled the outrage and havoc which they were making. His stained garments demonstrate the sharpness of the engagement, as His mien and manner of approach denote the invincible greatness of His strength

In this description we have represented the hardships and the success of that combat with the enemies of our souls, by which Christ brought salvation to mankind, vanquishing sin and death, wresting the prey out of the hands of Satan, and, as the Apostle expresses it, "having spoiled principalities and powers, triumphing over them in His cross, Deus Stanhope It is Christ that is thus magnificently described, returning to His capital, from the land of the enemy, after His passion Ep Horne His "coming from Edom is His rising from the dead, His return "from Bozrah His coming back, having vanquished hell: Idumea standing for the kingdom of darkness and death, and Bozrah (the strong city of Edom) for the seat of the prince of darkness, agreeably to the custom, so familiar with the Prophets, of putting the sworn enemies of the commonwealth of Israel to express the mortal and immortal enemies of the souls of God's people Ep. Andrewes

Guided partly by the passage from the Revelation referred to in the margin, as well as by chap. xxiv and lxx, other commentators have expounded this prophecy of a still future deliverance of the Church from her enemies, like that foretold in Luke xxxviii, and Rev xx. Ep. Lowth inclines to this interpretation, remarking, that he knows of no event in history, to which from its importance and circumstances it can be applied, unless perhaps to the destruction of Jerusalem and the Jewish polity, which in the Gospel is called the coming of Christ, and the days of vengeance, Matth. xvi. 28, Luke. xxi. 32. And Vitrung observes, that the great Personage here introduced is described, not as a sufferer, but as an agent, sprinkled not with His own

parel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winevat

Before
CHRIST
about 698

3 I have trodden the winepress alone and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury, and then blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment

4 For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come

5 And I looked, and there was none to help, and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me, and my fury, it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth

7 ¶ I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath

Chap 31

Chap 57
16

blood, but with that of His enemies, and in the act, not of appeasing the wrath of God for the sins of His elect, but of executing it in the punishment of His enemies. The Church, however, by introducing it into her service for the Monday before Easter, appears to have considered this emblematic vision as applying to the death and passion of our blessed Saviour, whereby He trod the winepress of the Divine wrath alone, by the shedding of His own precious blood, and thus overcame the power of Satan Edm

5 — I wondered that there was none to uphold therefore mine own arm brought salvation &c] I acted as one that looked for a while to see if any one of My people could find out human means to help and deliver them from the utter ruin they were likely to fall into but after it was manifest, that no human succour was to be had, I was resolved to vindicate My own honour, and My zeal and concern for My people made Me go through with the undertaking, in spite of all opposition compare Zech. viii 2 Dr Wells, W Lowth

6 And I will tread down the people &c] Rather read with the Septuagint and Vulgate, "I have trod down, &c" and so for the following sentences in this verse W Lowth, Ep. Lowth, Vitrung — and make them drunk in my fury.] Gods judgments are often represented by a cup of intoxicating liquor, because they astonish men, and bereave them of their usual discretion. W Lowth See notes on chap h 17, Jer. xxv. 13

7 I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the Lord, &c.] The remaining part of this chapter, with the whole chapter following, contains a penitential confession and supplication of the Israelites in their present state of dispersion, in which they have so long marvellously subsisted, and still continue to subsist, as a people, cast out of their country, without any proper form of civil polity or religious worship, their temple destroyed, their city desolated and lost to them, and their whole nation scattered over the face of the earth, apparently deserted and cast off by the God of their fathers, as no longer His peculiar people. They begin with acknowledging God's great mercies and favours to their nation, and the ungrateful returns on their part, that by their disobedience they had forfeited the protection of God, and caused Him to become their adversary: the Prophet represents them, induced by the memory of the great things God had done for them, as addressing their humble supplication for the renewal

CHRIST bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses.

8 For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie so he was their Saviour.

9 In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them in his love and in his pity he redeemed them, and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old.

10 ¶ But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them

11 Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name?

13 That led them through the deep, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble?

14 As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the LORD caused him to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.

15 ¶ Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory where is thy zeal and thy strength, the sounding of thy bowels and of thy mercies toward me? are they restrained?

16 Doubtless thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not thou, O LORD, art our father, our redeemer, thy name is from everlasting

17 ¶ O LORD, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways, and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance 18 The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.

19 We are thine thou never barest rule over them, they were not called by thy name

CHAP LXIV

1 The church prayeth for the illustration of God's power 5 Celebrating God's mercy, it maketh confession of their natural corruptions 9 It complaineth of their affliction of His mercies they beseech Him to regard them in consideration of His former lovingkindness, confess their own wickedness and hardness of heart, acknowledge Him for their Father and Creator, intreat His forgiveness, and deplore their miserable condition Bp Lenth

9 — the angel of his presence saved them ] The Angel who conducted the Israelites by the pillar of cloud and of fire was no other than the Logos, or second Person of the blessed Trinity, this divine Person is sometimes called an Angel, as Exod xiv 19, but at others the incommunicable name of Jehovah is given to Him see note on Exod. xiii 21 W Lenth

Concerning the Person, here called "the Angel of God's presence," see Exod iii 2, 6, xiii 21, xiv 19, xlii 20, 21, Judges xiii 18, compared with Is ix 6, Zech xii 8, and Mal iii 1 In this last passage from Malachi it is plain, that "the Messenger, or Angel of the covenant, the covenant of grace, was no other than Christ, and as allusion is made to the same Person in all the other passages before mentioned, and in the words of Isaiah in the text, it follows that He, who appeared to Moses, He who was seen by Manoah, He who was spoken of by Zechariah, He whom Isaiah describes as saving and redeeming Israel, must also be Christ In the language of the Prophet, Christ is styled "the Angel of God's presence," but mark the authority and dignity of His person, sometimes He is called "Wonderful," sometimes the Lord, sometimes He is said to have "the name of God in Him" and sometimes He is styled "God." He, therefore, to whom such appellations are given, can be no created being He must be the eternal Son of God He must be "the Word of God," by whom God speaks to mankind, He must be the same that "was in the beginning with God, and was God," the same "by whom all things were created," the same who was made man, the same who redeemed us, the same who ever liveth to make intercession for us Bp Huntingford

— in his love and in his pity he redeemed them, and he bare them, &c ] If Isaiah found it reasonable, in terms so affectionate, to magnify the deliverance of God's people out of Egypt, and their settlement in the promised land, how insensible are they who read and hear of the release from a heavier tyranny, the destruction of the spiritual Pharaoh, the passage into the true and heavenly Canaan, opened at the expense of our Leader's own life, without impressions as grateful as human hearts can admit! And if he confess, that, after all the extraordinary appearances of Almighty God in their behalf, His people's disobedient behaviour turned Him to be their enemy, how greatly ought we to fear how carefully to avoid any unworthy returns to One who hath loved us so tenderly, which may justly alienate His affection from us, and be at once our eternal ruin and reproach" Dean Stanhope

13 — that they should not stumble? ] That is, without obstacle Bp Lenth The progress of the Israelites through the Red sea is compared here, for its freedom, to that of a course in a country where there are the fewest impediments, and the safety of which might appear an hazardous passage, and the security to which it led, to cattle going to pasture Vitringa

16 Doubtless thou art our father, &c ] However we have made ourselves by our sins unworthy to be owned by our father Abraham, yet do not Thou cast us utterly off from the benefit of the covenant, which Thou madest with him and his seed Bp Hall

17 O Lord, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways, ] The sense of this passage would have been more truly expressed, and the words as grammatically rendered, "why hast Thou suffered us to err" It is a pathetic expostulation with Almighty God, begging of Him to return to His sinful people, to convert and heal them Dr Waterland

18 The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while &c ] The Prophet says, "a little while," in comparison of God's promise, which, as the Jews commonly understood it, gave them the possession of Canaan for ever: see Gen xvii 8 If we understand what follows of the devastation made by the Romans under Titus, and by the Mahometans since, the phrase is exactly parallel to the words of Christ, Luke xxi. 24, "Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles" W Lenth

Before
CHRIST
about 693.

OH that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence,

† Heb the fire of wrath

2 As when † the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence

3 When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence.

1 Cor 2 9
Psalm 31 19
Or men (1 Cor) behold thee which do, th no for him at

4 For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him

5 Thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou art wroth, for we have sinned in those is continuance, and we shall be saved

1 Paul 90
5 6

6 But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags; and we all do fade as a leaf, and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away

7 And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast † consumed us, because of our iniquities.

† Heb
melting

Chap LXIV ver 4 — men have not heard &c.] St Paul's treating of God's extraordinary mercy in sending His Son into the world, and that wonderful manifestation of God in the flesh, by the Gospel, not to the Jews only, but to the Gentiles also, which he calls a mystery that had been hidden from the princes of the world, (ites this passage from Isaiah: see the margin.) The Apostle indeed applies the passage to the mystery of Christ's incarnation, as if it were the primary and more immediate sense of the prophecy. But as the coming of Christ in the flesh is the foundation of all God's blessings to mankind, the words, both in the Prophet and in the Apostle, are generally understood of the future and ultimate happy effects of the Divine mercy in the state of glory, and those joys and felicities of heaven, which are prepared and reserved for them that love God, and "wait for Him" Wogan

5 I thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness,] That is, I thou preventest with Thy blessings him that rejoices to work righteousness. Dr Wells

— behold, thou art wroth for we have sinned in those is continuance, and we shall be saved.] We have been guilty of great offences, but Thy mercies endure for ever, and Thy gracious promises are still the same see Mal iii 6 The pronoun those refers to God's ways, by which we may understand, not only His laws, but likewise the dispensations of His providence W Louth

6 But we are all as an unclean thing, &c.] In this confession which the holy Prophet makes of the sins of the people, we see, not only the corrupted and degenerate state of the Jewish Church at that time, but what that temper and true spirit of piety is, which rules in good men. Such likewise was the behaviour of David and other worthies in the Old Testament, and of St Paul and other good men in the New they assumed to themselves the characters, not of saints, but of sinners, they gloried not in their perfection, but confessed their sins and unworthiness. Wogan

10 Thy holy cities are a wilderness,] Some refer this expres-

VOL II

8 But now, O LORD, thou art our father, we are the clay, and thou our potter; and we, all are the work of thy hand.

Before
CHRIST
about 693.

9 ¶ Be not wroth very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.

10 Thy holy cities are a wilderness, Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned up with fire and all our pleasant things are laid waste 12 Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O LORD? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

CHAP LXV

1 The calling of the Gentiles 2 The Jews, for their incredulity, idolatry, and hypocrisy, are rejected 8 A remnant shall be saved 11 Judgments on the unclean, and blessings on the godly 17 The blessed state of the new Jerusalem

I AM sought of them that asked not for me, I am found of them that sought me not I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name

1 Rom 9
24 26 & 10 20
Ephes 2
12

2 I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts, sion to all the cities of Judah, but the metropolis only was properly and especially "the holy city" see chap li 1 This was divided into the upper and lower city see note on chap xxii 1 Vitranga, W Louth

11 Our holy and our beautiful house, — is burned up with fire.] See our Saviour's prediction of the destruction of the temple, Matt xxiv 2 W Louth

St Jerome, and several other learned men, understood this chapter as a prayer for the manifestation of the Messiah To Him indeed every part of it will, upon examination, be found very applicable, especially the fourth verse, which is applied by St Paul to the times of Christ, and which has been already verified by Him in some degree, but will be more perfectly fulfilled at His second appearing, when He shall bow the heavens, and come down in the glory of His Father with the holy angels, to judge the quick and the dead; and shall raise His servants out of the corrupt dust of the earth, and give them bodies like His own glorious body, and shall cause them to ascend with Him into those immortal joys and pleasures which we have not at present tongues to express, nor thoughts to conceive, where He now liveth and reigneth, with the Father and the Holy Ghost, God blessed for evermore Reading

Chap LXV This chapter contains a defence of God's proceedings in regard to the Jews, with reference to their complaint in the preceding chapter God is introduced declaring that He had called the Gentiles, though they had not sought Him, and had rejected His own people for their refusal to attend to His repeated call, for their obstinate disobedience, their idolatrous practices, and detestable hypocrisy that nevertheless He would not destroy them all, but would preserve a remnant, to whom He would make good His ancient promises. Severe punishments are threatened to the apostates, and great rewards are promised to the obedient, in a future flourishing state of the Church Bp. Louth

Before
CHRIST
about 698

† Heb upon breaks

|| Or pieces

|| Or anger

8 A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face; that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense † upon altars of brick;

4 Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat swine's flesh, and || broth of abominable things is in their vessels;

5 Which say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me; for I am holier than thou These are a smoke in my || nose, a fire that burneth all the day

6 Behold, it is written before me. I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom,

7 Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the LORD, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom

8 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not, for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them all

9 And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountain: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there

10 And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me. Before CHRIST

about 698.

11 ¶ But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number Or, God Or, a

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: because when I called, ye did not answer, when I spake, ye did not hear, but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not Pov 1 24 &c chup 16 4
Jer 7 13.

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed

14 Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.

15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen: for the Lord God shall slay thee, and call his servants by another name † Heb
breaking

16 That he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth, because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes Chap 66 22
2 Pet 3 13.
Rev 21 1

17 ¶ For, behold, I create new heavens

Ver 8 — that sacrificeth in gardens, &c.] Instances of heathenish superstition and idolatrous practices to which the Jews were immoderately addicted before the Babylonish captivity. See note on chap 1 29. These apostates sacrificed upon altars built of bricks, in opposition to the command of God in regard to His altar, which was to be of untempered stone, Exod xx 25. Hp Lowth

4 Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments,] For the purposes of necromancy and divination, to obtain dreams and revelations, for "monuments," we might render "caverns." Hp Lowth It was a common custom among the heathens for persons to lodge all night in the temples of their idols, (which were no better than monuments of the dead,) in order to obtain dreams that might be beneficial. W Lowth

— which eat swine's flesh,] Which was expressly forbidden by the law, (Lev xi 7,) but among the heathen was in principal request in their sacrifices and festivals. Antiochus Epiphanes compelled the Jews to eat swine's flesh as a full proof of their renouncing their religion, 2 Maccab vi 18. W Lowth

— broth of abominable things is in their vessels,] That is, they make no difference of those meats which the law hath declared unclean. Hp Hall

5 Which says, Stand by thyself, &c.] The extreme offensiveness to God of spiritual pride and hypocrisy is compared to that of smoke in the nose, and the continual provocation kindled by it to a fire that burneth all the day. Wogan. This description of a proud hypocrite agrees exactly with the temper of the Scribes and Pharisee in our Saviour's time. W Lowth

6 — into their bosom,] See note at Ps lxxix 12

7 — which have burned incense upon the mountains, &c.] See the note on Gen xx 1 2 "Upon one of the mountains"

8 — As the new wine is found in the cluster, &c.] As a few good grapes are found among a cluster of bad ones, and one speaks to another, that would pluck it from the tree, to spare it, so will I not destroy the whole nation for the sake of the few good persons which spring out from among the rest. W Lowth

10 And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor &c.] These are two of the most fertile parts of Judea, famous for their rich pastures: the former to the west, not far from Jeppa, the latter north of Jericho, near Gilgal. Hp Lowth

11 — that prepare a table for that troop, &c.] It was customary both among the Jews and Gentiles, after some part of the sacrifice had been offered upon the altar, to make a feast of the remainder. See chap lvi 7. Exod xxiii 41. We read, 1 Cor x 21, of the "table of devils" to whom the Gentiles sacrificed. W Lowth

The disquisitions and conjectures of the learned respecting the names "God" and "Meni" (see the margin) are futile and uncertain: perhaps the most probable may be, that "God" means good fortune, and "Meni" the moon. Hp Lowth

12 Therefore will I number you to the sword,] An allusion to the derivation of the word "Meni," which signifies "number" such plays upon the words are frequent in the Prophets. W Lowth

15 And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my church.] Mine elect shall look upon you as a standing monument of God's indignation, your name shall be mentioned in a common form of imprecation, God do to us, as He has done to the wicked Jews, &c. The other name mentioned here may mean, that of Christians. W Lowth But see note on chap lxi. 2

16 — the God of truth,] The God of Amen in the Hebrew, rightly translated, "the God of truth." Rev iii 14, Jesus Christ is called Amen: being the faithful and true witness, yea, the "Truth" itself, John xiv 6, and perhaps in allusion to their place. Compare 2 Cor i 20. Hp Beveridge, W Lowth

17 For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth.] That is, (in prophetic language,) will institute a "new" dispensation

Before
CHRIST
about 608

† Heb come upon the heart

Rev 21

† Heb shall multiply in continuous time or shall wear out and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

18 But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy

19 And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.

20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days for the child shall die an hundred years old, but the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed.

21 And they shall build houses, and inhabit them, and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them

22 They shall not build, and another inhabit, they shall not plant, and another eat for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.

of religion, different from that which God had given to the Jews, and subversive of it, for it follows, "the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind" Bp Hard The Prophet describes, under this character, the state of things in the days of the Messiah Dr Berriman St Peter, in his second Epistle, chap iii 13, applies this passage of Isaiah to that new and refined state which is to succeed to the dissolution of this world and in which righteousness is to dwell, agreeably to what is said chap ix, 20, 21, see also Rev xxi 1 Joh Mede, W Lenth And many have taken this for the primary and principal sense of the passage but it appears that the establishment of the Christian Church and religion is what is more obviously and primarily pointed at in the expression, 'new heavens and new earth,' (see chap li 16,) and that it is only to their more hidden, and fullest meaning that St Peter (referring to this and other passages of Isaiah) applies them as above This creation of new heavens and earth began, at the time when the Gospel of Christ began its progress, is to be completed at that other time, when it shall please God (the Creator) to render it perfect, in the consummation of all things The beginning and end are here blended together Vitruvius The two advents of Christ are for the most part not distinguished in the Old Testament Dr Berriman. See note on chap ix 5

18 — rejoice for ever in that which I create ] Rather, "rejoice in the age to come, which I create," agreeing with ver 17 Bp Chandler

20 There shall be no more thence an infant of days, &c ] There shall be no unbecoming deaths the Prophet describes this renovation of the world as a state similar to that which the Patriarchs enjoyed before the flood, the purport of the latter part of this verse is, that he that died an hundred years old might be looked on as dying in childhood, cut off in the beginning of his days, as a punishment for sin it may be more plainly rendered, "He that dies an hundred years old, shall die a child, and the sinner that dies an hundred years old, shall be accursed" W Lenth Or, "He that dies an hundred years old, shall be (esteemed) accursed as a sinner" Dr Wells

22 — as the days of a tree are the days of my people, ] It is commonly supposed that the oak, one of the most long-lived of the trees, lasts about a thousand years; the Prophet's idea, that the people should live to the age of the antediluvians, is therefore very justly expressed by the days of a tree Bp Lenth

Chap LXVI A continuation of the subject of the foregoing chapter, which the Prophet pursues with more express declaration of the new economy, and of the flourishing state of the Church

23 They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble, for they are the seed of the blessed of the Lord, and their offspring with them

24 And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer, and while they are yet speaking, I will hear

25 The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock and dust shall be the serpent's meat They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the Lord

CHAP LXVI.

1 The glorious God will be served in humble sincerity 5 He comforteth the humble with the marvellous generation, 10 and with the gracious benefits of the church 15 God's severe judgments against the wicked 19 The Gentiles shall have an holy church, 24 and see the damnation of the wicked

21 Kings 8

THUS saith the Lord, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool where is the house that ye build

7

26 Ison 6

13

Acts 7 49

17 24

under it The increase of the Church is to be sudden and astonishing They that escape of the Jews, that is, that became converts to the Christian faith, are to be employed in the Divine mission to the Gentiles, and are to act as priests in presenting the Gentiles as an offering to God See Rom xv 16 And both, now collected into one body, shall be witnesses of the final perdition of the obstinate and unrepentable These two chapters manifestly relate to the calling of the Gentiles, the establishment of the Christian dispensation, and the reprobation of the apostate Jews, and their destruction executed by the Romans Bp Lenth

Ver 1 Thus saith the Lord, The heaven is my throne, &c ] It hath pleased the Divine goodness to signify to us by this, that He lives and reigns on high infinitely above all that we can think, and that the earth is at His foot to do what He will with it, and all that is on it so that the earth is full of His glory, and the heaven of heavens is not able to contain it Yet nevertheless, as God is said to dwell in heaven, because He there unveils Himself, and shines forth in all His glory, before the pure and holy creatures that dwell there, and are capable of beholding it, so will He send to dwell upon earth, in those places where He is graciously pleased to discover any of His Divine perfections in a more particular manner than elsewhere thus were the tabernacle and afterwards the temple, called God's house, and now in the Christian church, whosoever His faithful people meet together in His name, He is there with them Bp Beveridge

A temple, in the Jewish notion, was God's habitation where He resided as a king W Lenth See note on chap ix 13 The Jews valued themselves much upon their temple, and the pompous system of services performed in it, which they thought of perpetual duration Bp Lenth God admonishes them not to rely on His temple's being among them, that the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands, that an humble and truly pious man is a living temple to Him, ver 2, (compare chap lvii 15,) and that without inward piety, "he that killeth an ox for sacrifice" is as if he slew a man, &c Dr Wells Or ver 3 may be translated more literally, "He that killeth an ox (the words as if having been supplied) killeth a man, that sacrificeth a lamb beheadeth a dog," &c and understood to express instances of extreme wickedness joined with hypocrisy; of the most flagitious crimes committed by those, who at the same time affected great strictness in the external services of religion God upbraids the Jews with the same practice, Matt xxiii 24, and the hypocrisy of the Pharisees is described as much the same, Matt xxiii 14 Bp Lenth

<sup>Before</sup> CHRIST <sup>about 698</sup> <sup>1681?</sup> unto me? and where is the place of my

2 For all those things hath mine hand made, and all those things have been, saith the LORD but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word

3 He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man, he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck, he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood, he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol Yet, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations

4 I also will choose them delusions, and will bring their fears upon them, <sup>because</sup> when I called, none did answer, when I spake, they did not hear but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not

5 Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word, Your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my name's sake, said, Let the LORD be glorified but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed

6 A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD that rendereth recompence to his enemies

7 Before she travailed, she brought forth, before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child

8 Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be born at once? for as soon as

Zion travailed, she brought forth her children

9 Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the LORD shall I cause to bring forth, and shut the womb? saith thy God

10 Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her

11 That ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations, that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory

12 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream then shall ye suck, ye shall be borne upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees

13 As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb and the hand of the LORD shall be known toward his servants, and his indignation toward his enemies

15 For, behold, the LORD will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire

16 For by fire and by his sword will the LORD plead with all flesh and the slain of the LORD shall be many

17 They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one hice in the midst, eating swine's flesh,

3, 4 — they have chosen their own ways &c ] God threatens the people, that, because they were abominable in their lives, He would abandon them, and give them over to a spirit of delusion God is said to choose those things for us which He permits us to fall into when men abandon themselves to wickedness and impiety, God withdraws His grace from them and, by His secret and just judgment, they are deprived of the faculty of discerning between truth and error, between good and evil See Rom 1 28, 2 I Hess 11 10 11, 12 Abp Tillotson See notes on chap vi 10

5 — said, Let the Lord be glorified ] Or, in derision called on God to do something extraordinary in your behalf W Lenth

7 Before she travailed, she brought forth &c ] In the prophetic language the affliction which a people suffers, or persecution in labouring to bring forth a new kingdom, is represented by the pain of a woman in labour to bring forth a man-child Sir I Newton It is intimated here, that the increase of the Christian Church should be so sudden, as to be compared to a woman's bringing forth before her pains came on her Dr Wells

12 — I will extend peace to her like a river ] Compare chap xlviii 18 W Lenth

11 — your bones shall flourish like an herb ] Ye shall be renewed as if dry bones should recover their moisture, (compare Laque xlvii 12, xlv 10) In like manner St Paul calls the receiving of the Jews into the Church, "life from the dead," Rom vi 13 The Jews from ancient times have used this text as a token over a person interred, at the same time throwing grass into the grave, to testify their belief in a resurrection W Lenth See notes on chap xlviii 19 This passage as well as that in chap xlvii, seems to be if not a direct assertion, at least an allusion, to a future resurrection of the dead when the worshippers of the true God, in all ages of the world, shall have their lot in the kingdom promised to the saints of the Most High Dr S Clarke

15 For, behold, the Lord will come with fire, &c ] See the introductory note on this chapter and the note on chap 11 10

17 — behind one tree ] The last word is supplied Some versions have the reading which is given in our margin but many learned men have supposed, that by the Hebrew Achad (signifying one) may be meant the Syrian deity Achad or Adad, which they held to be the highest and greatest of the gods, the same with Jupiter and the Sun, and which name, says Macrobius, signifies one we trace this idol in the names of the Syrian kings, Ben-hadad, Hadad ezer, &c according to this interpretation we may render, "after the hice of Achad, in the midst of those who eat swine's flesh," &c Vitrings, Bp Lenth Or, "behind (the chapel or shrine of Achad, or) the Sun, in the midst (of the garden)" W Lenth

— eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse ] See notes on chap lvi 4 The heathens used some meats by way of purification, chiefly such as were not used for common food, such were several of those meats forbidden by the law, and called "abominable" by Moses, Deut xiv 8, of this kind was probably "the mouse," which is expressly prohibited, Lev xi 29 W Lenth

Before CHRIST about 698

Or b.c.

Or brightness

Chap 49 22 & 60 4

Or one after another

Before CHRIST about 698 and the abomination, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the LORD.

18 For I know their works and their thoughts, it shall come, that I will gather all nations and tongues, and they shall come, and see my glory.

19 And I will set a sign among them, and I will send those that escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal, and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory, and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.

20 And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the LORD out of all nations upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem,

Or coaches

19 — unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, &c.] All quarters of the globe. "Pul" does not occur any where else, it is supposed to be a place, at the extremity of Egypt the Prophet's object here is to designate the most remote parts. Vatringa

21 And I will also take of them for priests &c.] Such was to be the privilege of the Gospel-times! They were not to be legal "priests and Levites," but "taken from all nations" such as might be proper ministers of the great High Priest, who was to come from the tribe of Judah, and be, not after the order of Aaron, but after the order of Melchisedek. Dr. Berriman

22 — the new heavens and the new earth, &c.] Very rationally then does the Apostle (Heb. xii. 28) call the Christian dispensation "a kingdom which cannot be moved." Dr. Berriman

23 — from one new moon to another, — shall all flesh come to worship.] The expression here is accommodated to the condition of the Church under the Old Testament, (see note on chap. xix. 19,) but we are to understand, that in the "new world" here treated of, not the Jews only, (as was the case at the time of the delivery of the prophecy,) but all nations should come before the Lord to worship, in the frequent festival of those blessed times. Jos. Mede. We are perhaps to understand the words to speak of these saints as being perpetually employed in serving and praising Him. see Rev. iv. 8, vii. 15. W. Lowth.

24 — for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched,] These words of the Prophet are applied by our saith the LORD, as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD.

21 And I will also take of them for priests, and for Levites, saith the LORD.

22 For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.

23 And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD.

24 And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcases of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

Before CHRIST about 698

Exod. 19

chap. 61

1 Pet. 2. 9

Rev. 1. 6

Chap. 67

17

2 Pet. 3. 13

Rev. 21. 1

1 Heb.

from new moon to his new moon, and from sabbath to his sabbath

Mark 9

14

blessed Saviour (in the passage from St. Mark referred to in the margin) to express the everlasting punishment of the wicked in hell, as our Lord expressed the state of the blessed by sensible images, such as Paradise, Abraham's bosom, &c., so He represents the place of torment under the image of Gehenna, and the punishment of the wicked, by the worm which there preyed on the carcases, and the fire which consumed the wretched victims (see note on chap. xxx. 39) marking however this difference strongly, that in the figurative Gehenna, the instruments of punishment shall be everlasting, the suffering without end. Bp. Lowth.

In these two concluding chapters we are made acquainted with God's reasons for rejecting His ancient people the Jews, and for calling the Gentiles into the Church and kingdom of the Messiah. His reason for rejecting the Jews was their incorrigible wickedness. His reason for calling the Gentiles was, not any merit or worthiness in them, but His own free grace and goodness towards them. Let these considerations impress upon our minds a profound sense of gratitude and love for the mercy of God to us Gentiles, and an awful apprehension of His justice towards those who refuse His grace. or, as St. Paul expresses it, let us in this extraordinary dispensation towards the Jews and Gentiles "behold the goodness and severity of God on them which kill, severity, but toward us, goodness, if we continue in His goodness, otherwise we also shall be cut off." Reading, Wogan

* The following are the chapters from Isaiah appointed for Proper Lessons, or as Portions of Scripture for Epistles, on Sundays and Holy days

CHAP. I.	1st Sunday in Advent,	Morning
II.	Ditto,	Evening
V.	2d Sunday in Advent,	Morning
VII. 10—15.	Annunciation,	For the Epistle
VII. 10—17.	Nativity of Christ,	Evening
IX. 1—8.	Ditto,	Morning
XI.	Whitsunday,	Evening
XXIV.	2d Sunday in Advent,	Evening
XXV.	3d Ditto,	Morning
XXVI.	Ditto,	Evening
XXX.	4th Ditto,	Morning
XXXII.	Ditto,	Evening
XXXVII.	1st Sunday after Christmas,	Morning
XXXVIII.	Ditto,	Evening
XL. 1—11.	St. John Baptist,	For the Epistle
XLI.	2d Sunday after Christmas,	Morning
XLIII.	Ditto,	Evening

CHAP. XLIV.	1st Sunday after Epiphany,	Morning
XLVI.	Ditto,	Evening
XLIX.	Epiphany,	Evening
L. 5—11.	Tuesday before Easter, For the Epistle
LI.	2d Sunday after Epiphany,	Morning
LIII.	Ditto,	Evening
LIII.	Good Friday,	Evening
LIV.	3d Sunday after Epiphany,	Morning
LVI.	Ditto,	Evening
LVII.	4th Sunday after Epiphany,	Morning
LVIII.	Ditto,	Evening
LIX.	5th Ditto,	Morning
LX.	Epiphany,	Morning
LXIII.	Monday before Easter, For the Epistle
LXIV.	6th Sunday after Epiphany,	Evening
LXV.	6th Ditto,	Morning
LXVI.	Ditto,	Evening

THE BOOK OF THE PROPHET JEREMIAH.

INTRODUCTION.

THE Prophet Jeremiah was of the sacerdotal race, being, as he records himself, one of the priests that dwelt at Anathoth in the land of Benjamin, a city appropriated out of that tribe to the use of the priests the sons of Aaron, (Josh. xxi. 18,) and situate, as we learn from St. Jerome, about three miles north of Jerusalem. Some have supposed his father to have been that Hilkiah the high priest, by whom the book of the law was found in the temple in the reign of Josiah, but for this there is no better ground than his having borne the same name, which was no uncommon one among the Jews, whereas had he been in reality the high priest, he would doubtless have been mentioned by that distinguishing title, and not put upon a level with priests of an ordinary and inferior class.

Jeremiah appears to have been very young when he was called to the exercise of the prophetic office, from which he modestly endeavoured to excuse himself by pleading his youth and incapacity, but being overruled by the Divine authority, he set himself to discharge the duties of his function with unremitting diligence and fidelity during a period of at least forty-two years, reckoned from the thirteenth year of Josiah's reign. In the course of his ministry he met with great difficulties and opposition from his countrymen of all degrees whose persecution and ill usage sometimes wrought so far upon his mind, as to draw from him expressions in the bitterness of his soul which many have thought hard to reconcile with his religious principles; but which, when duly weighed, may be found to demand our pity, for his unmerited sufferings, rather than our censure for any want of piety and reverence towards God. He was in truth a man of unblemished piety and conscientious integrity, a warm lover of his country, whose misery he pathetically deplores and affectionately attached to his countrymen, notwithstanding their injurious treatment of him, that he chose rather to abide with them and undergo all hardships in their company, than separately to enjoy a state of ease and plenty, which the favour of the king of Babylon would have secured to him. At length, after the destruction of Jerusalem, being carried with the remnant of the Jews into Egypt, whether they had resolved to retire, through contrary to his advice, upon the murder of Gedaliah, whom the Chaldeans had left governor in Judah, he there continued warmly to remonstrate against their idolatrous practices, foretelling the consequences that would inevitably follow. But his freedom and zeal are said to have cost him his life, for the Jews at Taphnebes, his traditor goes, took such offence thereat, that they stoned him to death, which account of the manner of his end, though not absolutely certain, is at least very probable, considering the temper and disposition of the parties concerned. Their wickedness however did not long pass without its reward, for, in a few years after, they were miserably destroyed by the Babylonian armies, which invaded Egypt according to the Prophet's prediction, chap. xlv. 27, 28.

The idolatrous apostacy, and other criminal enormities of the people of Judah, and the severe judgments which God was prepared to inflict upon them, but not without a distant prospect of future restoration and deliverance, are the principal subject matters of the following prophecies, excepting only the 45th chapter, which relates personally to Baruch, and the six succeeding chapters, which respect the fortunes of some particular heathen nations. It is observable however, that though many of these prophecies have their particular dates annexed to them, and other dates may be tolerably well conjectured from certain internal marks and circumstances, there appears much disorder in the arrangement, not easy to be accounted for on any principle of regular design, but probably the result of some accident or other, which has disturbed the original order. The best arrangement of the chapters appears to be according to the list, which will be presently subjoined: the different reigns, in which the prophecies were delivered, were most probably as follows.

The twelve first chapters seem to contain all the prophecies delivered in the reign of the good king Josiah.

During the short reign of Shattum, or Jehoshaz, his second son, who succeeded him, Jeremiah does not appear to have had any revelation.

Jehoiakim, the eldest son of Josiah, succeeded. The prophecies of this reign are continued on from the 19th to the 20th chapter inclusively, to which we must add the 22d, 23d, 25th, 26th, 35th, and 36th chapters, together with the 45th, 46th, 47th, and most probably the 48th, and as far as to verse 94 of the 49th chapter.

Jeremiah, the son of Jehoiakim, succeeded. We read of no prophecy that Jeremiah actually delivered in this king's reign; but the fate of Jeroniah, his being carried into captivity, and continuing an exile till the time of his death, were foretold early in his father's reign, as may be particularly seen in the 22d chapter.

The last king of Judah was Zedekiah, the youngest son of Josiah. The prophecies delivered in his reign are contained in the 21st and 21th chapters, the 27th to the 34th, and the 37th to the 39th inclusively, together with the six last verses of the 49th chapter, and the 40th and 51st chapters concerning the fall of Babylon.

The siege of Jerusalem in the reign of Zedekiah, and the capture of the city, are circumstantially related in the 52d chapter, and a particular account of the subsequent transactions is given in the 40th to the 54th inclusively.

The arrangement of the chapters, alluded to above, is here subjoined: 1—20, 22, 23, 25, 26, 35, 36, 45, 46, 47, 48, 29, 30, 31, 37, 28, 21, 34, 37, 32, 33, 38, 39 from the 15th to the 18th verse, 39 from the 1st to the 14th verse, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 46, and so on. Dr. Blayney.

The prophecies of Jeremiah, of which the circumstantial accomplishment is often specified in the Old and New Testament, are of a very distinguished and illustrious character. He foretold the fate of Zedekiah, chap. xxxix. 2—5 (compare with 2 Chron. xxxvi. 10) 2 Kings xxv. 5, and Jer. li. 11;) the Babylonish captivity, the precise time of its duration, and the return of the Jews. He described the destruction of Babylon, and the downfall of many nations, chap. xlv. 12, (see also chap. 40, 26, xlv. 10—25, xli. 10—18; xli. and following chapters,) in predictions, of which the gradual and successive completion kept up the confidence of the Jews for the accomplishment of those prophecies, which he delivered relative to the Messiah and His period, chap. xxiii. 5, 6, xxx. 9, xxxi. 15, xxxiii. 11—18, xxxiii. 9, 26. He foresaw the miraculous conception of Christ, chap. xxxi. 22, the virtue of His atonement, the spiritual character of His covenant, and the inward efficacy of His laws, chap xxxi 31—36, xxxiii 6 Jeremiah, contemplating those calamities which impended over his country, represented, in the most descriptive terms, and under the most expressive images, the destruction that the invading enemy should produce. He bewailed, in pathetic expostulation, the shameless adulteries which had provoked the Almighty, after long forbearance, to threaten Judah with inevitable punishment at the time that false prophets deluded the nation with the promises of "assured peace," and when the people, in unspious contempt of 'the Lord's word,' denied its accomplishment. Jeremiah intermingles with his prophecies some historical relations relative to his own conduct, and to the completion of those predictions which he had delivered. The reputation of Jeremiah had spread among foreign nations, and his prophecies were deservedly celebrated in other countries. Many heathen writers have likewise undesignedly borne testimony to the truth and accuracy of his prophetick and historical descriptions. Dr. Grotius

INTRODUCTION.

As to the style of Jeremiah, this Prophet is by no means wanting either in elegance or sublimity, although, generally speaking, inferior to Isaiah in both. His thoughts indeed are somewhat less elevated, and he is commonly more large and diffuse in his sentences, but the reason of this may be, that he is mostly taken up with the gentler passions of grief and pity, for the expression of which he has a peculiar talent. This is most evident in "the Lamentations," where those passions altogether predominate, but it is often visible also in his "Prophecies," in the former part of the book more especially, which is principally poetical, the middle parts are chiefly historical, but the last part, consisting of six chapters, is entirely poetical, and contains several oracles distinctly marked, in which this Prophet falls very little short of the lofty style of Isaiah. But of the whole Book of Jeremiah it is hardly the one half which I look upon as poetical. Dr. Lath

Before
CHRIST
about 629

CHAP. I

1 The time, & and the calling of Jeremiah 11 The propheticall visions of an almond rod and a seething pot 15 His heavy message against Judah 17 God encourageth him with his promise of assistance

THE words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin.

2 To whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign

3 It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the car-

Chap I ver 1 The words of Jeremiah] This chapter forms an entire section by itself. It contains the call of Jeremiah, and the commission given him by God, the purport of which is explained by two symbolical images. God encourages him to proceed in the execution of it by assuring him of protection and support. Dr. Blayney

— Anathoth] See the Introduction for the situation of this place

2, 3 — in the days of Josiah, — unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah] See the chapters distributed according to the reigns of the several kings in the Introduction to this book

Jeremiah prophesied forty-one years and upwards, if we take in the prophecies he uttered in Egypt after the captivity, chap xliii, xlii, which are not included between the reigns of Josiah and Zedekiah. W. Lowth

4 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,] This seems to have been a visible appearance of the Divine Majesty, made by the Son of God, or the second Person of the blessed Trinity, see note on I. vi 1 who appeared in an human shape, as a prelude to the incarnation, first to Adam, Gen iii 8, then to Abraham, Gen xvi 2, afterwards to Joshua, Josh v 13, as also to Ezekiel, chap i 26, and to Daniel, chap vii 15, 18, x 6, 10. Of the same kind was this vision represented to Jeremiah. Compare the ninth verse of this chapter with the forementioned texts of Daniel. W. Lowth

5 — I know thee,] Some persons have been designed for certain offices by a particular decree of God, from or before their coming into the world. So was John the Baptist, Luke i 15, and St. Paul, Gal i 16, and the Prophet Jeremiah here in the text. This favour is expressed by "knowing" him, or taking especial notice of him, as if a prince should single out one particular rying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month

Before
CHRIST
about 629

4 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

5 Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee, and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations. I. 49 15 16 Gal 1 16 Heb 6:11

6 Then said I, Ah, Lord God! behold, I cannot speak for I am a child. Exod. 4 10

7 ¶ But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak. Exek. 9 12 Exod 3 12 Dant. 9 12, 8

8 Be not afraid of their faces for I am with thee. Josh. 1 5 Hebr. 13 6

person, and call him by name, and appoint him to some honourable office and trust. So God expresses His peculiar favour for Moses, by saying, "I know thee by name," Exod. xxxiii 12, 17 W. Lowth. The phrase "I knew thee" may signify, "I had thee in my view," or approved thee as a fit and proper object as in Acts xv 18, "Known unto God are all His works from the beginning of the world." He contemplated the plan of them, and approved it in His mind, before He created and brought them into being. Dr. Blayney

To the same effect it is said, that God "sanctified" him, or set him apart for the prophetic office. The same phrase being applied to our Saviour Himself, whom God in an eminent manner "sanctified" or set apart for the offices of King, Priest, and Prophet, and in due time "sent Him into the world to execute the same, John x 36. W. Lowth

6 — I am a child] Not strictly within the years of childhood but he calls himself "a child," by way of extenuating his abilities. Solomon calls himself "a little child" when he was married, and at least twenty years old, 1 Kings iii 1, 7. And the word "child," or youth, is elsewhere used of those who were arrived at the first years of manhood. So Isaac is called a "lad," or youth, when he must have been twenty or thirty years old. The Romans extended their word for youth to thirty or forty years of age. W. Lowth. The same word is translated a "young man" in 2 Sam xviii 5.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee.] The style of God's communion to His prophets and messengers commonly runs in these words, "I will be with thee." see Exod. iii 12 1. 49 xxxi 8, Josh. ii 6, importing that God, who sent them, will enable them to discharge the office He has committed to them, and will give them strength proportioned to the business they undertake. W. Lowth

Before CHRIST about 629
am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD

9 Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth. And the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.

11 Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree.

12 Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething pot, and the face thereof is toward the north.

14 Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the north an evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD, and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 ¶ Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them.

18 For, behold, I have made thee this day a defence city, and an iron pillar, and brassen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.

19 And they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee; for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

CHAP II

1 God, having shewed his former kindness, expostulateth with the Jews their causeless revolt, 9 beyond any example 14 They are the causes of their own calamities 20 The sins of Judah. 31 Her confidence is rejected

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

10 — to root out, and to pull down, &c.] The Prophets are said to do things, when they declare God's purpose of doing them. See Is vi 10, Ezek xliii 3. In the same manner God here appoints Jeremiah to declare His purposes concerning the overthrow or restoration of kingdoms and nations, according as they should perist in, or repent of, their sins. compare chap xviii 7. In pursuance of these directions, some of the following prophecies foretell the destruction of the Jewish and other nations, see chap xxv 15, &c. and others predict their restoration, see chap xxx xxi xliii 47, xlix 6, 39 W Louth. See Gen xli 13.

11 — I see a rod of an almond tree.] The almond tree is supposed to have received its Hebrew name, because it is the first tree that waketh or riseth from its winter repose. Accordingly, Pliny says, that this tree flowers in January, and by March brings its fruit to maturity, (meaning in warm southern climates,) and more modern travellers attest the same fact. And the word in the next verse, rendered "hasten," signifies properly to wake or watch: so that here is at once an allusion to the property of the almond tree, and in the original an affinity of sound, which makes the allusion more striking there, than it can be in a translation. Parkhurst, Dr Blayney.

13 — toward the north.] The phrase should be rendered "from the north," or "from the face of the north," as in the margin. From the next verse it appears, that the evil was to come from the north, and therefore the steam, which was designed for an emblem of that evil, must have issued from that quarter. The pot denoted the empire of the Babylonians and Chaldeans, lying to the north of Judea, and pouring forth its multitudes, like a thick vapour to overspread the land. Dr Blayney. See the note on chap iv 6.

These comparisons had no appearance of meanness among a people accustomed to see in the temple of the Lord victims, the flesh of which was dressed in caldrons, for the use of the priests, and of the individuals who came thither to offer sacrifices. Calmet.

15 — all the families of the kingdoms of the north.] There were inferiour kings and princes, who were either allies or tributaries to the Babylonian empire. compare chap xxxiv 1, l 41, li 27. God saith, all these shall join their forces with the Chaldean army, in order to the conquest of Judea. The word "family" is equivalent to people here, and in chap viii 8, x 25 W Louth.

In wars of this sort kings of extensive empires led with them inferiour princes, their subjects or allies. We may see an instance of this in the army of Holofernes, Judith ii 7, and in that of Ben-hadad, king of Syria, who had with him as many as two and thirty kings, 1 Kings xx 1. Calmet.

— shall set every one his throne.] Each prince shall pitch his royal pavilion, with all the marks of sovereignty belonging to it, in token of having obtained a complete victory, and taken entire possession of the city. see chap xlii 10 W Louth. To "set up a throne" in or over any place, denotes taking full possession of it, and exercising authority and dominion there. Dr Blayney.

17 — gird up thy loins, &c.] See the notes on 1 Kings xviii 46. Joh xxviii 3.

18 For, behold, I have made thee this day a defence city, &c.] For, behold, I do this day confirm thee against all the opposition which shall be made unto thee, thou shalt be more surely defended from henceforth than a strongly walled city, more firm than a pillar of iron, or walls of brass. Bp Hall.

Chap II. The prophecy, begun in this chapter, is continued to the end of the fifth verse of the next chapter. In it God professes to retain the same kindness and favourable disposition towards Israel which He had manifested in their earlier days. He expostulateth with them on their ungrateful returns for His past goodness, and sheweth, that it was not want of affection in Him, but their own extreme and unparalleled wickedness and disloyalty, which had already subjected, and would still subject them to calamities and misery. He concludes with a pathetic address, exhorting them to return to Him, with an implied promise of acceptance, and laments the necessity He was under

Before CHRIST about 629

Or, break to pieces
1 Chap 6
27 & 18 20
Isai 50 7

† Heb from the face of the north † Chap 1 9
† Heb shall I open it * Chap 5 1 & 12
* 10 22

Before CHRIST
about 629
for thy sake 1 zek 16

2 Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD; I remember thee, the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.

3 Israel was holiness unto the LORD, and the firstfruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend, evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.

4 Heal ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel.

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?

6 Neither said they, Where is the LORD, that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, through a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof, but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

* Psal 78,
38 & 106
38.

through their continued obstinacy, of giving them further marks of His displeasure. This prophecy may not improbably have been delivered soon after the beginning of the Prophet's mission. Dr Blayney

V. 2 — I remember thee, the kindness of thy youth, &c. I remember My first kindness to thee, when I delivered thee out of Egypt, (compare Hos 11 15,) and espoused thee to Myself, to be My own peculiar people. The covenant which God made with the Jews at mount Sinai, commonly represented under the metaphor of a marriage contract. W. Lowth

3 Israel was holiness unto the Lord, &c. Israel was then consecrated to the Lord, and set apart for His service, as the firstfruits are wont to be consecrated and devoted to God, so that all who devour them bring evil upon themselves. Bp Hall

5 — walked after vanity. That is, after the idolatrous worship of the heathens. Idols are commonly styled "vanities," chap x 15, xiv 22, xvi 19, and "things of nought," chap xiv 14, because "an idol is nothing in the world," as St Paul speaks, 1 Cor. xiv 8. W. Lowth

6 — a land of pits. Irwin describes the wilderness, through which God led His chosen people, as presenting in various parts a wild confusion of hanging precipices, disjointed rocks, and hideous and horrid chasms, which appear very alarming and tremendous to travellers. Harmer

— the shadow of death. This image was borrowed from those dusky caverns and holes among the rocks, which the Jews ordinarily chose for their burying-places; where death seemed to hover continually, casting over them his broad shadow. Dr Blayney

8 The priests said not, Where is the Lord? &c. The priests, whose office it was to instruct others in their duty, Mal ii. 6, 7, were ignorant or regardless of it themselves. This was the principal reason of that degeneracy of manners which prevailed among the people. See Hos. iv. 6. W. Lowth

9 — I will yet plead with you. That is, I will maintain by arguments the equity of My proceedings, and the iniquity of yours. Dr Blayney

Vol II

Before CHRIST
about 62,
Rom. 20

8 The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the law knew me not: the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked, after things that do not profit.

9 ¶ Wherefore I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your children's children will I plead.

10 For pass over the isles of Chittim, and see, and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.

11 Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.

12 Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD.

13 For my people have committed two evils, they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.

14 ¶ Is Israel a servant? is he a home-born slave? why is he spoiled?

15 The young lions roared upon him,

† Heb become a spoil?

10 — the isles of Chittim. See the note on Gen x 5

"The isles of Chittim are Italy, and the adjacent provinces of Europe which lie along the Mediterranean sea. And as these were to the west of Judea, and Kedar in Arabia to the east, the plain purport of this passage is, Look about you to the west and to the east. Dr. Blayney

11. Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? Men are very tenacious of the religion of their forefathers, and with difficulty prevailed on to renounce it, though the change be never so reasonable. Whereas the Jews have changed the worship of the true God for idols and vanities. W. Lowth

12. Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, &c. See the note on Is 1 2

13 — they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, &c. God is the Author and Giver of all blessings, both spiritual and temporal, and from Him all good gifts are derived, as from an inexhaustible spring or fountain. see Ps xxxvi. 9. And wherever else men place their happiness, whether in false religions, or in the uncertain comforts of worldly blessings, they will find themselves disappointed, just as they that expect to find water at broken cisterns or conduits. W. Lowth

14 Is Israel a servant? &c. God redeemed Israel from the bondage of Egypt, and adopted him for His son, Exod iv 22 so that his present servitude, and his being made a prey to so many foreign enemies, cannot be ascribed to his birth or primitive condition, but must be imputed to his sins, of which his slavery is the consequence. Compare Is. l. 1, lu 3. W. Lowth.

15 The young lions roared upon him. In the figurative style of prophecy, "lions" denote "powerful princes and conquerors." Such were Pharaoh-necho king of Egypt, and Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon; whose successive hostilities against the kingdom of Judah seem here to be foretold.

It may be observed, that the verbs in this verse express the time past, but the context shows that they must be understood of the future. Nor is it unusual for the Prophets thus to speak of events foreseen by them, as if they had been already accomplished. W. Lowth, Dr Blayney. See the note on Deut xxxii 15

Y X

Before
CHRIST
629
† Heb gave out their voice
Or fed n thy cr un
Deut 3
I am 9 9

and † yelled, and they made his land waste his cities are burned without inhabitant 16 Also the children of Noph and Iahap-pines || have broken the crown of thy head

17 Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, when he led thee by the way?

18 And now what hast thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Si-hor? or what hast thou to do in the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the river?

19 Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord God of hosts 20 ¶ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands, and thou saidst, I will not transgress, when upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot

21 Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed how then art thou

† Isai 3 9
How 5 6
Or see
I am 57 5 7 chap 1 6
Matth 1
21 23
Mark 12 1
Luke 20 9
Exod 15
17
Psal 44
& 40 8
Isai 41 1
&c

16 Also the children of Noph &c.] This alludes to the severe blow which the nation received in a capital part, when the good king Josiah was defeated by the Egyptians and slain in battle or when afterwards upon the deposition of Jehoahaz, the glory of the monarchy was debased, by its being changed into a tributary and dependant kingdom, 2 Kings xxiii 33, &c. Noph and Iahappines were two principal cities of Egypt, otherwise called Memphis, and Daphne Pelusiaca Dr Blayney — have broken the crown of thy head.] The Prophet here pursues the metaphor of the lion, ver 15, whose custom it is "to tear the arm with the crown of the head, Deut. xxxiii 20. The margin reads, "fed upon thy crown," that is, destroy and devour the principal or best parts of the country. So the best spices are called "the head of spices" in the original, 1 Cor. xxi 23, Cant. iv 14 W Lowth

18 — to drink the waters of Sihor? At ver 18 it is said, that the people had 'forsaken Jehovah, the fountain of living waters,' by a like figure they are here reproved for proceeding, after the manner of the Egyptians and Assyrians, "to drink the waters of their rivers," that is, to have recourse for help to the gods, on whom those nations placed their dependence. Sihor is a name given to the Nile, Is. xlii 3, and the Euphrates is called "the river by way of eminence" Dr Blayney See note on Gen xv 18.

19 — it is an evil thing and bitter, &c.] This is applicable to individuals as well as to nations. Fate was not intended to be led inconsistently, one part in doing wrong, the other in being sorry for it. Uniform obedience is our Maker's demand, and whoever departs from it wilfully, though he may return, will assuredly be made to 'know and see,' one way or other, that "it is a thing evil and bitter that he hath forsaken the Lord his God." Abp Secker

22 For though thou wash thee with nitre, &c.] Though thou endeavourst to wash away thy sins by the rites of expiation prescribed by the law or practised by idolaters, though thou insistest upon thy own innocence and justification, (ver 23,) yet the "marks or stains of thy sins will always appear in the sight of God till they are cleansed by a sincere repentance and reformation B Lowth — nitre.] See note at Prov xxv 20. It is found in abundance in Egypt, and in many parts of Asia, where it is called soap earth, turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?

22 For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord God

23 How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done || thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways,

24 || A wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at her pleasure, in her occasion who can || turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves, in her month they shall find her

25 Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst but thou saidst, || There is no hope no, for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go

26 As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets,

27 Saying to a stock, Thou art my fa-because it is dissolved in water, and used like soap in washing Dr Blayney

23 — see thy way in the valley.] See how thou hast prostituted thyself, and practised the grossest idolatry in the valley, alluding to those idolatrous acts which were practised in the valley of Hinnom. See chap vii 31, Is. lvi 3 6 Dr Blayney The horrible practice of the Jewish idolaters, in burning their sons and then daughters in the fire, effectually confuted their pretences to innocence, since this way of worship had been expressly forbidden by God, Lev. xx 2, &c W Lowth

— thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways.] The impossibility of restraining one of these fleet animals, when hurried away by the impetuous call of nature, is represented as a parallel to that unbridled lust and eagerness, with which the people of Judah ran after the gratification of their passion for idolatry which is called spiritual whoredom Dr Blayney

For the dromedary, see the note on Gen. xxiv. 10, and for the wild ass, see the notes on Job xxxix 5—8 Hosea vii 9

— traversing her ways.] That is, winding or crossing her way or path running up and down in a disorderly manner Parkhurst

24 — all they that seek her will not weary themselves, &c.] The animal is described in the season of her lust, when "all they that seek her," that is, the males, "will not weary themselves," but on the contrary will find her eager to meet them Calmet

25 Withhold thy foot from being unshod, &c.] This is probably a warning to beware of the consequences of pursuing the courses they were addicted to, as if it had been said, Take care that thou dost not expose thyself by thy wicked ways to the wretched condition of going into captivity unshod, as the manner is represented, chap. xx. 4, and of serving thine enemies in hunger, and in thirst, and in want of the necessaries of life, Deut. xxviii. 48 Dr Blayney

— but thou saidst, There is no hope no, &c.] But thou continuest obstinate, and sayest secretly, There is no hope of my reclaiming no, I have taken a deep affection to the strange gods of the Gentiles, and I will go after them Be Hall They are the words of desperate sinners, who are resolved to continue in their wickedness, in spite of all the reason that can be offered to the contrary Compare chap. xxvii 12 W Lowth

Before
CHRIST
629

Job 9 30

Or O swift dromedary

Or O wild ass

† Heb taught

† Heb the desire of her heart

Or reverse

Or Is the case desperate

Before
CHRIST 689

Or begotten me
+ Heb the hinder part of the neck

Isai 26

Isai 45

20

Heb cri1

Chap 11

13

Isai 9 13

chap 5 3

Matth 23

29 &c

—

Verse 5

—

+ Heb

We have dominion

ther, and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth for they have turned †their back unto me, and not <sup>their</sup> face but in the time of their <sup>trouble</sup> they will say, Arise, and save us

28 But where <sup>are</sup> thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they <sup>can</sup> save thee in the time of thy <sup>trouble</sup> for <sup>according</sup> to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah

29 Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD

30 In vain have I <sup>smitten</sup> your children, they received no correction your own sword hath <sup>devoured</sup> your prophets, like a destroying lion

31 ¶ O generation, see ye the word of the LORD Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, †We are lords, we will come no more unto thee

32 Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number 33 Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways

34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood

28 — according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah.] The Israelites had now contracted all the habits of the Egyptians. It had been long peculiar to their superstition, for every city of that empire to have its tutelary deity, besides those which were worshipped in common. Jeremiah here tells us, that the people of Judah bore part with them in that extravagance. Bp Warburton

30 In vain have I smitten your children, &c.] The design of God's judgments is men's reformation: and where they do not attain this end, it shews that such a people are incorrigible. The people of Judea were so far from "receiving correction," and turning God's chastisements to their own improvement, that they put to death the Prophets, who in God's name reprov'd them and exhorted them to repentance. See 2 Chron xxiv 20, 21, xxxvi 16, Neh ix 26, Matt. xxiii. 30—37, Acts vii 52. W Lowth, Dr Blayney

Merely feeling the pressure of distress will do us no service, without attending properly to Him from whom it comes. On the contrary, when God saith, "In vain have I smitten your children, they received no correction," it implies that they were hardened in wickedness, whereas, when "the voice of the Lord crieth, the man of wisdom will hear the rod, and who hath appointed it," Mic vi 9. Abp. Secker

31 O generation, see ye the word of the Lord &c.] O ye unthankful generation, attend to this word of the Lord. Have I been burden of My favours to you? Have I yielded you no variety of comfortable fruits? Have I not enlightened you with the knowledge of My name and My laws? and now, when I have brought you into your promised land, and settled you there, ye are ready to say in your presumption, We are lords, and have gotten to ourselves these dominions, we will regard Thee no more. Bp. Hall

Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? The Prophet alludes, as before ver 20, to the practices of a common harlot, who decks herself, and uses all the ingenuities, arts that may recommend her. Thus has Judea tried all methods to gain the friendship of the souls of the poor innocents I have not found it by †secret search, but upon all these

Before
CHRIST
629

+ Heb digging

35 Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me. Behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned

36 Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria

37 Yea, thou shalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them

CHAP III.

1 God's great mercy in Judah's vile whoredom. 6 Judah is worse than Israel. 12 The promises of the Gospel to the penitent. 20 Israel reprov'd, and called by God maketh a solemn confession of their sins

† THEY say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers, yet return again to me, saith the LORD

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places; of foreign idolaters, who are called her lovers. See chap iii, 1, iv 30, xxii 22. W Lowth

— therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.] Thou hast by these means not only confirmed those nations in their idolatrous practices, but hast also taught them to practise new idolatries, to which they were not accustomed. W. Lowth

34 Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents.] Thou art plainly found guilty of the blood of My Prophets. Bp Hall Or, of the children offered in sacrifice to Moloch see ver 23, chap xix 4, Pa cvi 38. The guilt of that innocent blood was as evident upon them, as if they had murdered them with their own hands, and the stains of blood had been found upon their clothes. W Lowth. The "skirts" may signify both the skirts of a garment, and the outskirts or borders of a city or country, both which senses are probably here intended, the former being the metaphorical, the latter the literal sense. Dr Blayney

— I have not found it by secret search.] "I have not found it (that is, the blood) by digging, as in the margin or, according to the Greek and Latin versions, "in a digged hole or pit." Compare Ezek xxiv 7. Parkhurst

36 — thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, &c.] The people of Judah seem to have courted the assistance of foreign nations by a sinful compliance with their idolatrous customs. This measure had failed them. Ahas made himself tributary to the king of Assyria, but it turned to his disgrace and ruin see 2 Chron xxviii 21. In like manner, the Prophet says, they shall be disappointed in their expectations of succour from Egypt see chap xxxvii 5, 7, Lam iv 17, 2 Kings xxiv 7. Dr Blayney, W Lowth

37 — thine hands upon thine head.] To cover the head was a mark of great affliction. See chap. xiv, 3; 2 Sam xiii 19, xv 30. Dr. Blayney

Chap III. ver 1, — shall not that land be greatly polluted? See Deut. xxi. 9; and the note there.

<sup>Before</sup>
<sup>CHRIST</sup>
629 and see where thou hast not been lien with In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness, and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness

<sup>b</sup> Deut 28 3 Therefore the <sup>b</sup> showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain, and thou hadst a <sup>c</sup> whore's for head, thou refusedst to be ashamed

4 Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou coudest

<sup>about</sup> 612 6 ¶ The LORD said also unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel hath done?
she is <sup>d</sup> gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot

7 And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me But she returned not And her treacherous sister Judah saw it

2 — In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness,] That is, thou hast waited for opportunities of practising thine idolatries, as the Arabian waits for a prey in the wilderness Bp Hall The Arabs wait for caravans with the most violent avidity, looking about them on all sides, raising themselves up on their horses, running here and there to see if they cannot perceive any smoke, or dust, or tracks on the ground, or any other marks of people passing along Sir J Chardin

3 Therefore the showers have been withholden, &c.] The general import of this passage is, That God had begun in some degree to chastise His people, (as He threatened, Lev xxvi 19, Deut xxviii 23,) with a view to their reformation, yet His chastisement had not produced the desired effect, for they continued as abandoned as before, without shewing the least sign of shame or remorse. By "the showers" we are to understand what is otherwise called "the former or first rain, being the first that falls in autumn after a long summer's drought, which is usually terminated in Judea and the neighbouring countries by heavy showers, that last for some days Dr Blayney Concerning the rains of Judea, see the notes on Deut xi 14, xxviii 12

5 Will he reserve his anger for ever? &c.] In this and the foregoing verse God puts into the people's mouths words, whereby they might express their humiliation and their hope in His mercy, which they might still expect on their true repentance. He concludes with affirming, that His arguments had no weight with them "Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldest, they continued to do as they had said or resolved, they carried their wicked thoughts into execution, in spite of all His remonstrances and exhortations W Louth, Dr Blayney

6 The Lord said also unto me] Here begins an entire new section or distinct prophecy, which is continued to the end of the sixth chapter. The charge of hypocrisy upon Judah ver 10, points out the date of this prophecy to have been in the reign of Josiah, and some time after his eighteenth year, when the people under the influence of their good king were professedly engaged in measures of reformation, which however are here declared to have been insincere

This prophecy consists of two distinct parts. The first part contains a complaint against Judah, for having exceeded the guilt

8 And I saw, when for all the causes whereby backsliding Israel committed adultery I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce; yet her treacherous sister Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot also

9 And it came to pass through the lightness of her whoredom, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks

10 And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the LORD

11 And the LORD said unto me, The backsliding Israel hath justified herself more than treacherous Judah

12 ¶ Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the LORD, and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever

13 Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to

of her sister Israel, whom God had already cast off for her idoltrous apostasy, ver 6—12 The Prophet is hereupon sent to announce to Israel the promise of pardon upon her repentance, as the hopes of a glorious restoration in aftertimes, which are plainly marked out to be the times of the Gospel, when the Gentile themselves were to become a part of the Church, ver 12—2 The children of Israel, confessing and bewailing their sins, have the same comfortable assurances as before repeated to them, ye 22, chap iv 2

In the second part, which begins chap iv 3, and is preface with an address to the people of Judah and Jerusalem, exhorting them to prevent the Divine judgments by a timely repentance the Babylonian invasion is clearly and fully foretold, with all the miseries which would attend it, and the universal and incorrigible depravity of the people is represented at large, and pointed out as the justly provoking cause of the national ruin Dr Blayney

backsliding Israel] See the note on chap vi 24

7 — And her treacherous sister Judah saw it] The two kingdoms of Israel and Judah are described as sisters in iniquity. The same metaphor is applied to Samaria and Jerusalem, the two metropolises of those kingdoms, Ezek xxviii 4, &c. The word "treacherous" properly denotes a wife unfaithful to her husband see ver 20 W Louth

9 And it came to pass through the lightness &c.] She was no nice in her choice of objects, but eagerly fell in with all kind of idolatrous worship indiscriminately, descending so low as to images of wood and stone Dr Blayney

11 — The backsliding Israel hath justified herself] That is, hath appeared righteous in comparison with Judah. A phrase of the like sort occurs, Luke xviii 14 Dr Blayney

Israel and Judah are both shamefully wicked and yet, of the two, Judah is worse than Israel her treachery is so much more as she had more favours from Me Bp Hall She sinned against greater convictions; and would not take warning by that desolation, which God brought on the whole kingdom of Israel for the idolatries Compare Ezek xvi 51 W Louth

12 — toward the north,] Assyria and Media, whither the tribes of Israel were carried by their conquerors, lay to the north of Judea W Louth See the note on chap iv 6

<sup>Before</sup>
<sup>CHRIST</sup>
612

<sup>Or</sup> <sup>June</sup>

<sup>† Heb 11</sup> <sup>Juleshook</sup>

<sup>† Psal 8</sup> <sup>15 & 10.</sup> <sup>8 9</sup>

Before
CHRIST
about 612

the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD

14 Turn, O backsliding children, saith the LORD, for I am married unto you and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion

rev bap 22 1

15 And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding

† Heb
c m u n i o n
the heart
|| Or it be mag nified

16 And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD neither shall it † come to mind neither shall they remember it, neither shall they visit it, neither shall || that be done any more.

17 At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD, and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem neither shall they walk any more after the || imagination of their evil heart

|| Or stubbornness

|| Or, so

|| Or, caused your fathers to possess

18 In those days the house of Judah shall walk || with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have || given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

14 — I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, &c.] The word "family" here is equivalent to a country or kingdom compare chap 1 15, Zech xiv 17, 18 W Louth [his passage relates to their call into the Christian Church, into which they were brought, not all at a time, nor in a national capacity, but severally as individuals, here and there one. So it is said, "And ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel," Isaiah xxvii 12 Dr. Blayney.

16 — they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the Lord.] Here God comforts the Jews with an assurance, that, though upon their return to Him they might not find themselves in possession of exactly the same privileges as they had before, they should receive ample indemnification, so as to leave them no just cause of regret. The ark of the covenant was the visible seat of God's residence among His people, it was therefore the object of their boast, but after the destruction of the first temple, they had it no more. But to compensate this loss, they are told in the next verse, that "Jerusalem should be called the throne of the Lord," so which, not the Jews only, but "all the nations should be gathered." By Jerusalem is meant the Christian Church see Gal. iv, 26; Rev xxi 2, 3. The greater privileges of this latter would supersede all boast on account of those, which had at any time belonged to the Jewish Church Dr. Blayney.

— neither shall it come to mind neither shall they remember it,] Meaning, The Jews shall then be convinced that the ark and other parts of the Mosaic dispensation are abrogated by Christ and His Gospel, which they will then embrace Dr. Wells.

18 In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel,] Most of the prophecies, which mention the restoration of the Jews, join Judah and Israel together, as equal sharers in that blessing. See chap xxx 8, xxxi. 1, 4, 20, Is xi 13, Ezek xxxvii 16, 22, Hos. i 11, Zech x 6 W. Louth.

— 19 But I said, How shall I put thee &c.] But I said, How shall it come about, that thou, which deservedst not the name of a servant, shalt become a dear son to Me, and shalt have a pleasant and happy inheritance bequeathed to thee, even a blessed

19 But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a † pleasant land, † a goodly heritage of the hosts of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, My father, and shalt not turn away † from me

Before
CHRIST
about 612

† Heb land of desire † Heb an heritage of glory, or beauty
† Heb from after me † Heb friend

20 ¶ Surely as a wife treacherously departed from her † husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD 21 A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.

Hos 14

22 * Return, ye backsliding children, and I will heal your backslidings Behold, we come unto thee, for thou art the LORD our God.

23 Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel

24 For shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth, their flocks and their herds, then sons and their daughters

25 We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us for we have sinned room in My Church? And I answered Myself again, It is by the means of thy faithful invocation of Me, and of thy true repentance and holy obedience, that this shall be effected Bp Hall The conditions of adoption into the Christian Church, and of enjoying the privileges of the Gospel covenant, are expressly stated by Christ and His apostles to be the same as are here prescribed, namely, the profession of a true faith in God, and uniform obedience for the time to come "Thou shalt call Me, My Father, and shalt not turn away from Me Dr. Blayney 21 A voice was heard upon the high places,] The Prophet, foreseeing that the Jews will at length be touched with an hearty repentance for all their misdoings, represents them as bewailing themselves upon "the high places, the scenes of their former idolatries Compare chap xxxi 9, 14, Zech xii 10 W. Louth

22 — Behold, we come unto thee, &c.] What follows to the end of the chapter is spoken in the name of the Israelites, accepting the Divine invitation, ver 22, acknowledging the vanity of their misplaced trust, ver 23, and professing the deepest contrition and shame for their misbehaviour, ver 24, 25 Dr. Blayney

24 For shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers &c.] It is this shameful idolatry which hath undone both our late forefathers and us. Bp Hall "Shame," or "that shameful thing, meaning the idol that they worshipped, called by the same name, chap xi 13, Hos. ix 10, and with good reason, because, in return for all the expense and pains bestowed on it, it only frustrated the hopes of its votaries, and left them mortified with disappointment, and overwhelmed with disgrace W. Louth, Dr. Blayney

The Hebrews, instead of pronouncing the name of Baal, of which they had a dread, used in its place the name of "Bosheth shame, confusion." Thus instead of Mephi-baal, and Meri-baal, they said, Mephi-bosheth, and Meri-bosheth Calmet

Or it may mean in a general sense, that "shame, that is the destruction of our country, and our captivity, attended with shame, have consumed us Dr. Wells

<sup>Before CHRIST about 612</sup> against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God

CHAP IV

1 God calleth Israel by his promise 3 He exhorteth Judah to repentance by fearful judgments 19 A grievous lamentation for the miseries of Judah

<sup>10c12 12</sup> IF thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the LORD, return unto me and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove

2 And thou shalt swear, The LORD liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness, and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory <sup>2 Cor 10. 17</sup>

3 ¶ For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns

4 Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings

Chap IV The two first verses of this chapter ought not to have been separated from the foregoing, being spoken in reply to the confession of the people of Israel, and concluding that part of the prophecy which respected them Dr Blayney See the note on chap iii 6.

Ver 2 And thou shalt swear, The LORD liveth, &c] This is as much as to say, Thou shalt be of the number of those that worship the true God For an oath is one of the most solemn acts of religious invocation, and therefore God's people are expressly charged to swear by His name, and by no other Deut vi 13, x 20, Josh xxii 7 And to "swear to, or by," the Lord of Hosts, is used as synonymous with the profession of His true religion, Is xix 18 Dr Blayney

— and the nations shall bless themselves in him &c] A prediction of the Gospel times, when the heathens shall join with the true Israelites in paying all solemn acts of worship and devotion to the true God alone, see Is lxvi 16, and in ascribing all honour and glory to Him and His only Son, the Messiah, in whom all nations were to be blessed See Gen xxii 16, Gal iii 8, and compare Is xlv 25 W Lenth

1 For thus saith the Lord &c] See note on chap. iii 6
— Break up your fallow ground, &c] Hitherto, O my people your hearts have been like a rough, thorny uncultivated ground but now break up this fallow ground of yours, by an unfeigned repentance, and root up these thorns of your corruptions Bp Hall

1 Circumcise yourselves to the Lord &c] Circumcision, as well as baptism, had a moral import, and denoted the obligation of putting away all sinful lusts of the flesh, every irregular and inordinate affection and appetite Dr Blayney

— Blow ye the trumpet in the land &c] The Prophet here describes the dreadful preparations for war, such as "blowing the trumpet" and "setting up the standard," for assembling men together in order to then leaving the open country, and retiring with their families and goods "into the defended cities, both for their own safety, and that they might maintain those garrisons against the power of the invading enemy W Lenth

6 — from the north] Babylonia, Chaldea, Assyria, and Media, were instantly represented in Scripture as being to the north of Judah Probably the Prophets speak of the kings of Babylonia <sup>Before CHRIST about 612</sup> 5 Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem, and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defended cities.

6 Set up the standard toward Zion retire, stay not for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction <sup>Or strength</sup>

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way, he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate, and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant <sup>Chap 1 13 11 75 2 C 1, 2. 1 Hob bicalm</sup>

8 For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us <sup>Chap 1 26</sup>

9 And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes, and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder

10 Then said I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace, whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul and Children, not so much with a view to their geographical situation, which is rather to the east of Palestine, as to the course which they took in their expeditions against Judea. The deserts of Arabia being not practicable for an army, they commonly crossed the Euphrates at Tiphmah, or Thapsacus, and approached Judea on the north side, by way of Damascus and Syria Cal-mel

7 The lion is come up from his thicket, &c] Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, compare chap v 6, whose monarchy is represented by a lion, Dan vii 4 He is called here "the destroyer of the Gentiles, or rather nations, Judea and all the neighbouring countries being given up into his hands by God's decree See chap xxv 9, xxvii 6 W Lenth In the language of prophecy, several animals as a lion, a bear, a leopard, a goat, according to their qualities, are put for several kingdoms and bodies politic Sir Isaac Newton

10 — surely thou hast greatly deceived this people] That is, Thou hast suffered them to be greatly deceived by their false prophets see the note on Is liii 17 These pretenders to prophecy studied only to speak pleasing things to the people, and soothe them in their impendency and carnal security and thou hast in Thy just judgment given them up to follow these delusions. Compare 2 Thess ii 11, 12 W Lenth

The Prophet takes care to remove all pretence of charging God, by throwing the blame upon the people themselves see ver 18 In one place "the sword" is said to "reach unto the soul" in the other, the reason is assigned, because their "wickedness" had reached thither before The people had been desperately wicked, would accept of no sober counsel, nor bear any just reproof they loved "smooth things, they delighted in flattery and lies, they "walked after the imagination of their own hearts," chap xviii 17, and therefore God gave them up to strong delusions, and suffered them to be grossly imposed on by lying prophets of their own choosing In Scripture phrase, God is frequently said to do what He permits to be done, because all events are in His disposal, and wait His pleasure. The device may be man's, but God directs it to better purposes than man could think of, and so by taking the thing into His own hands, and governing the issue of it, He makes it in a certain sense His own Dr Waterland

Before
CHRIST
about 612

11 At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse,

12 Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me now also will I give sentence against them

13 Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind his horses are swifter than eagles Woe unto us for we are spoiled.

14 O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?

15 For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.

16 Make ye mention to the nations, behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchmen come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah

17 Keepers of a field, are they against her round about, because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD

18 Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee, this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.

19 ¶ My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart, my heart maketh a noise in me, I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.

20 Destruction upon destruction is cried, for the whole land is spoiled suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment

21 How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is foolish, they have not known me, they are sottish children, and they have none understanding they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

23 I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was without form and void; and the heavens, and they had no light.

24 I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled

26 I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof

Before
CHRIST
about 612

Isai. 2:4
chap. 9:1
Heb
the walls of my heart

Or a fuller wind than those utter judgments

Isai 1:16

Chap 8
16

Psalm 107
17
Isai 50:1

11 — A dry wind] The same with "a destroying wind, chap. li 1, an hot pestilential wind, as the Arabic translates it in that place which destroys great multitudes in a moment W Lowth (concerning the hot wind of the Arabian desert, see the notes on Numb. xi 1, 2 Kings xix 35)

In prophetick language, tempestuous winds, or the motion of clouds is put for wars Sir Isaac Newton In this place, under the metaphor of this wind, the Prophet describes the Chaldean armies invading Judea. W Lowth

12 — shall come unto me] Among commandment compare Matt. xiii 9 The winds, storms, and other meteors are said to fulfil God's word, and attend upon His commands See Ps. cxlviii 8 Job xxxvii 25 W Lowth That the calamity spoken of was of God's appointment, coming from Him for a judicial purpose, is apparent from the words that follow Dr Blayney

13 — he shall come up] That is, the person designed by "the lion, and "the destroyer of the Gentiles," ver 7, namely, the king of Babylon Compare Is. v 26—28 Dr Blayney

14 — How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?] That is, How long wilt thou delude thyself with vain hopes of escaping the judgments of God by any other way than by repentance? Notwithstanding the frequent relapses of the people into idolatry, with what patience did God expect their repentance, and the result of all the merciful messages and warnings given them from time to time by His prophets, as one that earnestly desired it, and even longed for it! Compare xiii 27, and viii 6, where God is represented, after the manner of men, waiting with great patience, as one that would have been glad to hear any penitent word drop from them, to see any sign of their repentance and return to a better mind. Abp. Tillotson

15 For a voice declareth from Dan, &c.] The rumour of the enemy's approach is heard first from Dan, which being the most northern part of Judea, was first of all invaded See chap. viii 16 And the evil tidings still increase, as the army marches forward toward Jerusalem, by the way of mount Ephraim W Lowth

16 — watchers] By "watchers" are meant besiegers, placing centinels round the city, to prevent any from coming in or going out, and keeping the place in continual alarm by shouts of war Dr Blayney

17 As keepers of a field, are they against her round about.] As in the East pulse, roots, &c. grow in open and uninclosed fields, when they begin to be fit to be gathered, guards are planted, if near a great road, more, if distant, fewer, in a round about these grounds, as is practised in Arabia Sir J Chardin

18 — this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, &c.] These are the bitter effects of thine obstinacy in wickedness, which, like a deadly wound or disease, toucheth the very heart and seat of life W Lowth

19, My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart, &c.] Oh the unspeakable sorrow and affliction that I feel for the misery of my people! My bowels yearn, and my heart arches within me, to think of this woful destruction which is approaching to Jerusalem! I cannot contain myself, but I must break forth into lamentation, because I do, as it were hear beforehand the sound of the trumpet of Nabuchadnezzar, and his alarm to this miserable war Bp Hall

20 — suddenly are my tents spoiled, &c.] That is, the cities and houses, in allusion to the ancient way of dwelling in tents Compare chap. x 20, Is. xxxiii 20, liv 2 W Lowth

23—26 I beheld the earth, &c.] The images, under which the Prophet represents the approaching desolation as foreseen by him are such as are familiar to the Hebrew poets on the like occasions But the assemblage is finely made, so as to delineate all together a most striking and interesting picture of a ruined country, and to justify what has been before observed of the author's happy talent for pathetic description The earth is brought back, as it were, to its primitive state of chaos and confusion the cheerful light of the heavens is withdrawn, and succeeded by a dismal gloom; the mountains tremble and the hills shake under dreadful apprehensions of the Almighty's displeasure, a frightful solitude reigns all around, not a vestige is to be seen of any of the human race, even the birds themselves have deserted the fields, unable to find any longer in them their usual food The face of the country in the once most fertile parts of it, now overgrown with briars and thorns, assumes the dreary wilderness of the desert The cities and villages are either thrown down and demolished by the hand of the enemy, or crumble into ruins of their own accord for want of being inhabited. Dr Blayney

Before
CHRIST
about 612

were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and by his fierce anger.

Chap 5
19

27 For thus hath the LORD said, The whole land shall be desolate, yet will I not make a full end.

28 For thus shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black, because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city shall flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen, they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair, thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.

† Heb
cycs

31 For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that bewaileth herself, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe

The Prophets often describe God's judgments upon a land or nation, as if the whole frame of nature were in a state of dissolution, because these particular judgments are an earnest of the general judgment. W Louth.

27 — yet will I not make a full end.] In the severest judgments which God brings upon a people, He still reserves a remnant, to whom He will make good His promises. see chap xxx 11, xlv 1. This sense of the words may be confirmed by 1 Sam iii 12, "When I begin, I will also make an end" that is, I will make a thorough destruction, and pursue His family with judgments, till I have utterly consumed it. On the words may be understood in this sense; Though I make the whole land desolate by sword and famine, yet still I have severer judgments in reserve, (compare chap v 10, 18,) namely, the destruction of the city and temple, and the captivity of the people that outlive the former captivities. W Louth.

28 — because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent.] God's purpose of delivering up the Jews into the hands of Nebuchadnezzar was irreversible, upon the supposition that the greatest part of them would continue impenitent, which He likewise foresaw, see ver 22, and chap vii 16, 27, 28, xiii 14, xiv 11, 12, xxv 9—11. Though elsewhere upon their repentance, to which God frequently exhorted them by His prophets, (see chap xxv 4, 5,) He promises the removal of His judgments, see ver 14 of this chapter, and chap vii 3, xii 25, xviii 11, xxii 4, xxvi 3, xxxvi 3. Herein Jeremiah's preaching was very different from that of the false prophets, who promised peace and safety to the people, without interposing the condition of repentance and reformation. see ver 10 of this chapter, and chap xiv 13, xxviii 3, 4. W Louth.

30 — though thou rentest thy face with painting,] Rather, thy "cycs," as in the margin.

This alludes to the custom of the Eastern ladies, who, esteeming large cycs beautiful, make use of stibium, a sort of black paint, which is laid upon the eyelids with a pencil, and being of an astringent quality, partly contracts the eyelids, and partly, by the contrast of colour, tends to enlarge the appearance of the white part of the eyes. The original verb properly signifies to "rend or tear," and may denote the use of this process to excess, so as it is me now! for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

Before
CHRIST
about 612

CHAP. V.

1 The judgments of God upon the Jews, for their perverseness, 7 for their adultery, 10 for their impiety, 19 for their contempt of God, 25 and for their great corruption in the civil state, 30 and ecclesiastical

RUN ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth, and I will pardon it.

2 And though they say, The Lord liveth, surely they swear falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved; thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock, they have refused to return.

Isai 9 14
chap 2 0

4 Therefore I said, Surely these are poor, they are foolish: for they know not the way of the Lord, nor the judgment of their God.

5 I will get me unto the great men, and were to tear open the eyes, by way of enlarging them. Dr Blayney.

The antiquity of this practice is undoubtedly great. Xenophon describes it as a custom among the Medes in the time of the elder Cyrus. Fragments to Cabinet.

31 — the daughter of Zion,] Or of Jerusalem, is the same with Zion or Jerusalem. see chap vi 2, 23, Lament 1 6, ii 1. So "the daughter of my people" is to be understood, ver 11 of this chapter, and the "daughter of Babylon," Ps cxxxvii 8. W Louth.

Chap V. This chapter contains a vehement expostulation with the Jews for the manifold corruption of their manners, and the disorders of both their civil and their ecclesiastical government. And as a punishment for all these enormities, God threatens the invasion of the Chaldeans. W Louth. See Dr Blayney's note on chap iii 6.

Ver 1. — the broad places thereof.] The market places, and other spacious areas in the city, where citizens used to meet for the transaction of business. Dr Blayney.

— if ye can find a man,] See the note on Isai xiii. 30. 2 And though they say, The Lord liveth; surely they swear falsely.] Though they make an outward and hypocritical profession of the name of the Lord, in worshipping Him, in swearing by Him, yet it is but in falsehood and hypocrisy. By Hall. "As the Lord liveth" was the common form of oath among the Jews, but now the only use they made of this sacred oath was to deceive and defraud. Wagon. See the note on chap. iv 2.

3 O Lord, are not thine eyes upon the truth?] The eyes, turned upon or towards an object, denote not only a diligent inspection and nice discernment of it, but also an earnest expectation or looking after it. The phrase may here be taken in both senses: that God both seeth and discerneth the truth; and also expects it from others, especially from those who call upon His name, in attestation of it. Dr. Blayney.

— thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved, &c.] See the note on Isai i 5.

4, 5. Therefore I said, Surely these are poor, &c.] I thought at first, says the Prophet, that such an unconcernedness for the duties of religion could be charged upon none but the rude and

Before
CHRIST
about 610

will speak unto them; for they have known the way of the Lord, and the judgment of their God but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.

Or
deserts

6 Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased.

† Heb
re strong,

7 ¶ How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses.

* Jerk. 22
11

8 They were as fed horses in the morning every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.

9 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the Lord and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 ¶ Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy, but make not a full end take away her battlements, for they are not the Lord's.

11 For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the Lord.

12 They have belied the Lord, and said, ignorant vulgar, who have neither leisure nor opportunity for learning their duty One might expect from men of better education a truer sense of religion W Louth

There may be some hope, even for a wicked nation, while the fear of God remains in any considerable number of the wealthy and ruling part of it but when once they come to be thoroughly corrupted, then every thing is ripe for ruin. And therefore the Prophet, after complaining very pathetically of the sinfulness and impiety of the bulk of his countrymen, still thought there was one resource left. But when he found that those of high condition were as bad or worse than the rest, he immediately gives up all, and pronounces their destruction Abp Secker.

6. — a lion, — a wolf, — a leopard.] The wild beasts here spoken of are the king of Babylon and his army See chap iv 7 Dr Blayney

The quality of watchfulness is well attributed to the leopard for it is the property of that animal to lie hid in ambush for the purpose of seizing his prey, and to dart upon it with rapidity when it approaches. Calmet.

7 How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me.] Repentance and turning to God is the only condition of pardon but they that forsake Him, thereby forsake all means of grace and possibility of salvation. Wogan.

— sworn by them that are no gods.] See the notes on chap iv 2, Josh xxiii 7

— when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery.] When I gave them My blessings in abundance, they made an ill use of My mercies, and riotously run into both bodily and spiritual adultery, and impudently trooped together to work filthiness Bp Hall

Their lewdness was sometimes the concomitant of their idolatry for many rites of the heathen religions were celebrated with drunkenness, uncleanness, and all sorts of debauchery. Rending

9 — shall not my soul be avenged &c.] God's anger and vengeance

VOL II

It is not he, neither shall evil come upon us, neither shall we see sword nor famine

Before
CHRIST
about 610

Isai 28
15

13 And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them thus shall it be done unto them

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, 'hehold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them

Chap 1 9

15 Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the Lord it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.

Deut 28
19
chap 1 1
& 6

16 Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.

17 And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds. they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.

1 Cor 21
16
Deut 28
31, 32

18 Nevertheless in those days, saith the Lord, I will not make a full end with you.

Chap 4
37

19 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, 'Wherefore doeth the Lord our

Chap 19
27 & 16 30

ance signify in Scripture the execution of His justice the effects of which are as terrible against obstinate sinners, as if they proceeded from the highest resentment. W Louth See the notes on Gen vi 6

13. And the prophets shall become wind, &c.] These words, spoken by the unbelieving Jews, mean, that, the Prophets being nothing but wind and vanity, their prophecies shall return upon their own heads, and that they shall feel themselves the judgments which they denounce on others W Louth

14. — I will make my words in thy mouth fire, &c.] The effect of those threatenings that are denounced by thy mouth shall be as speedy and certain as that of fire when applied to dry wood. To the same sense are the words of Hosea, chap. vi. 5, "I have hewed them by the Prophets" W Louth

15. — I will bring a nation upon you from far.] This was threatened in case of disobedience by Moses, Deut xxviii 49 Dr Blayney Babylon is called "a far country, Is. xxxix 3 Perhaps it is so called, in comparison of those of the Philistines, Moabites, Ammonites, and other borderers, who were the former oppressors of the Jews

The words "house of Israel" are, after the captivity of the ten tribes, applied to the two tribes which remained See chap vi 9, ix 26, x. 1, Ezek xiii 5, xvii 31 W Louth

— an ancient nation.] Babylon was built about an hundred years after the flood and soon after, Nimrod erected a kingdom there whence that country is called "the land of Nimrod," Mic v 6 W Louth

— a nation whose language thou knowest not.] The Chaldean or Syrian was a language unknown to the Jews, as appears from the history of Hezekiah, 2 Kings xviii. 26; Is. xxxvi. 11 Calmet

16. Their quiver is as an open sepulchre.] Their quiver is full of deadly arrows, that shall point many to their graves Bp Hall Their arrows scatter slaughter and carnage all around they are as insatiable as the grave, as terrible as death. Calmet

Before
CHRIST
about 612

God all these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying,

21 Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding, which have eyes, and see not, which have ears, and hear not 22 Fear ye not me? saith the LORD will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail, though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?

23 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart, they are revolted and gone

24 Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in his season he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.

25 ¶ Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you

26 For among my people are found wicked men ¶ they lay wait, as he that setteth snares, they set a trap, they catch men

27 As a cage is full of birds, so are

Isa 6 9
Matt 13 11
Acts 1 6
Rom 11 3
John 12 40
¶ Heb heart

Job 38
10 11
Psalm 104 9

Deut 11
14

¶ Or they pry as fowls lie in wait ¶ Or, coop

22 Fear ye not me? Considering God's other attributes may breed in us a high esteem and hearty love of God but the consideration of His power is that which naturally and reasonably produceth a great fear of Him He is most amiable for His goodness, and in regard to His wisdom greatly venerable, but His power arming the rest renders Him exceedingly terrible See also chap. x 6, 7, Luke xii. 5 Dr Isaac Barrow

— which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea &c] The keeping of the waters within bounds, so that they cannot overflow the earth, is often mentioned in Scripture as an immediate effect of God's overruling power and providence, Job xxxviii 10 11 Ps cxxxvii 7, civ 9, Prov. viii 29 W Lowth

We know that there are certain natural causes which produce these effects on the sea and the land. But this ought not to prevent us from regarding the all-powerful hand of the Creator, who hath created, and who preserves His creatures in their proper and natural stations. We ought to admire these surprising effects of the first cause which is His almighty will To this point the language of Scripture continually directs us, by attributing every thing to God by referring every thing to Him, by considering Him as the prime Mover of all the events, and even of the effects, which we are accustomed to refer to nature, or to chance terms confused and ambiguous, of which religion knows nothing Calmet

24 — that giveth rain, &c] That giveth seasonable rain in the autumn and spring, and reserveth a dry season for the gathering in of the harvest Bp Hall The vicissitude of seasons, of cold and heat of drought and moisture, so wisely fitted for the growth of the fruits of the earth, and other uses of human life, is such a proof of a Divine providence, as is obvious to the meanest capacity on which account it is frequently insisted upon by the sacred writers, Ps. cxlviii. 8, Matt v 45; Acts xiv. 17 W Lowth.

their houses full of deceit therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.

28 They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper, and the right of the needy do they not judge.

29 Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

30 ¶ A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land, 31 The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means, and my people love to have it so and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAP VI.

1 The enemies sent against Judah 4 encourage themselves 6 God setteth them on work because of their sins 9 The prophet lamenteth the judgments of God because of their sins 18 He proclaimeth God's wrath 26 He calleth the people to mourn for the judgment on their sins

YE children of Benjamin, gather yourselves to flee out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and set up a sign of fire in Beth haccerem, for evil appeareth out of the north, and great destruction

2 I have likened the daughter of Zion to a comely and delicate woman

3 The shepherds with their flocks shall

31 The prophets prophesy &c] The pretended prophets prophesy falsely, speaking only what they know will please the people, and the priests agree with these false prophets, and so "bear rule, or keep up their authority and interest among the people Dr Wells It is indeed "a horrible thing," and a proof of extreme corruption, when the ministers whom God has established, instead of opposing the wickedness of the people, countenance and encourage it. Oesterwald

Chap VI ver 1 O ye children of Benjamin, gather yourselves to flee &c] Jerusalem was in the lot of the tribe of Benjamin, Josh xviii 28, on which account the inhabitants are addressed by the name of "the children of Benjamin," and are directed to leave the city, which God was about to destroy, and to take refuge in the mountains Tekoa, according to St Jerome, was a little town about twelve miles from Jerusalem, and Beth-haccerem (probably so called from the vineyards round about it) another little town on the same side, but nearer Jerusalem, and both of them in the mountainous parts of Judah, south of the capital. Dr Blayney — blow the trumpet in Tekoa, &c] The design of those signals of war is to assemble men together, in order to their mutual defence, but it is in vain to attempt any such matter, and therefore the only use that can be made of them is to give notice to the people, that they should disperse themselves, and fly from the approaching enemy W. Lowth

— a sign of fire] The Prophets often speak of these signals which were raised upon the heights, to give notice to distant people of the approach and the intentions of an enemy They are particularly convenient in mountainous countries like Judaea. Calmet

3 The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her,] Mean-

Before
CHRIST
about 612

Deut. 32
15

Isa 7 23
Zech 7 10

¶ Or a punishment ment and fullness Chap 11
11 v 23
5 26
I zek 13 6
¶ Or take into their hands

about 612

¶ Or, dwelling at home

<sup>Before CHRIST about 612</sup> come unto her, they shall pitch their tents against her round about, they shall feed every one in his place

4 Prepare ye war against her, arise, and let us go up at noon Woe unto us for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out

5 Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.

<sup>Or pour out the engine of war</sup> 6 ¶ For thus hath the Lord of hosts said, How ye down trees, and I cast a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited, she is wholly oppression in the midst of her

<sup>I am 57 20</sup> 7 As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickedness violence and spoil is heard in her, before me continually is grief and wounds

<sup>† Heb. closed or, disjunct</sup> 8 Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest thy soul depart from thee, lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine turn back thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets

10 To whom shall I speak, and give ing the Chaldean generals, (for in that sense "shepherds" are sometimes understood, see chap. xxv 34,) and their armies W Louth

4 Prepare ye war against her, &c.] Then shall the eager and furious commanders say, Hasten your preparations against her, arise, let us take the day before us, the time flees away, the evening hastens on, let no minutes be lost for our assault Bp Hall

The alacrity and eagerness with which the Chaldeans undertake and execute the commission with which they were charged, is described in this and the following verse in a beautiful vein of poetry. Though it was late in the day before they received their orders they are for beginning their march immediately, and, though it was night before they got to the place, they are unwilling to put off the assault till morning Dr Blayney

6 — How ye down trees,] Which were to be employed in the siege of Jerusalem Dr Blayney See the note on chap xxxii 24

8 Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, &c.] Take warning by the many threatenings and judgments I have denounced against thee, amend thy ways and doings, lest, if thou persist in thy wickedness, My mind and affection be utterly alienated from thee, (see Ezek xxiii 17, 18; Hos ix 13,) and I cast off all bowels of compassion toward thee, and give thee up to ruin and desolation. Thus threatening God fulfilled afterwards, when He suffered the city and nation to be utterly ruined and destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar but it still received a further completion, in that final desolation brought upon them by the Romans, under Titus and Vespasian, W Louth

9 — turn back thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets.] That is, take them again into thine hand, and begin the work of gathering or gleaning anew. The address is from God to the Chaldeans, exhorting them, like a grapegatherer, to return again after the first time, and pick up those few inhabitants that were left before, like the grape-gleanings, and to carry them also into captivity. The Chaldeans did so, as may be seen, chap lvi 28, 29, 30 Dr Blayney

10 — they can be uncircumcised,] See the note on Exod vi 12 — and they cannot hearken:] While men are not duly disposed to hear the truth, they cannot give due attention to what

<sup>Before CHRIST about 612</sup> warning, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach, they have no delight in it

11 Therefore I am full of the fury of the Lord, I am weary with holding in I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days

12 And their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord

13 For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness, and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely

14 They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they

God speaks to them In the same sense Christ saith to the Jews, "How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another?" John v 44, meaning, that such a temper was an obstacle to their believing on Him, and hindered them from receiving the truth in the love of it W Louth They cannot because they will not, hear Woe be to those, who have placed themselves by their own fault out of a condition of hearkening to the voice of God! It is the remark of St Jerome upon this passage, "Inability, which proceeds from scorn and unbelief, is not exempted from punishment. Cabnet

— the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach:] The subject of their scorn and derision see chap xx 8 W Louth

11 Therefore — I will pour it out &c.] See note on chap i 10 The Prophet is here said to pour out the Divine "fury upon the children abroad, who take delight in playing in the streets see Zech viii 5 and the "young men who assemble" in meetings for diversion or conversation compare chap ix 21 W Louth

— the aged with him that is full of days.] From hence it appears, that the word here rendered "the aged" means only a man that has passed a certain time of life, which may be considered as his zenith, so as from thenceforth to be upon the decline. In contradistinction to whom is placed one, who is arrived at what is esteemed the full period of human life, in respect to which the patriarchs, Abraham, Isaac, David, and Job, are said to have died "full of years, or "days" See the same distinction made, Is lxxv 30 Dr Blayney

14 They have healed also the hurt &c.] Instead of sharp and seasonable reproofs, they have gone about to salve up the spiritual sores of My people with flattering and plausible words, Peace, peace, all shall be well, when there is nothing but fear and danger Bp Hall

15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed,] Shame is a great restraint upon sinners at first, but that soon falls off; and when men have once lost their innocence, their modesty is not like to be long troublesome to them. For impudence comes on with vice, and grows up with it. Smaller vices do not banish all shame and modesty, but great and abominable crimes harden men's foreheads, and make them shameless. When men have the heart to do a very

Before
CHRIST
about 612

blush therefore they shall fall among them that fall at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

Isai 8 20
Mal. 1 1
Luk. 16

16 Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.

Matth. 11

17 Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Hearken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.

18 ¶ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.

19 Hear, O earth, behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.

Isai 1 11
Amos 5 21
Micah 6 6 &c

20 To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them, the neighbour and his friend shall perish.

Chap. 1
15 & 16
10 22

22 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people cometh from the north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the sides of the earth.

23 They shall lay hold on bow and spear, they are cruel, and have no mercy, their bad thing, they seldom want the face to bear it out. Abp. Tillotson.

16 — Stand ye in the ways, &c.] Do like travellers, when they are at a loss which way they must go in like manner do ye inquire, what way the patriarchs of old, the judges, the kings, and prophets of former times walked in imitate their practices, wherein you will find true comfort and satisfaction, and not the late devices of your princes and prophets, whereby you have been seduced into error, and betrayed into many mischiefs. Compare chap. xviii 15. W. Lowth.

20 To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba,] See Is. lx 6. The Prophet reproves the hypocrisy of the Jews, whereby they sought to cover their inward corruption by the external shews of religion which the Prophets often declare to be of no value when they do not proceed from a devout mind see chap. vii 21, 22, Is. i 11. W. Lowth.

— the sweet cane from a far country? The calamus aromaticus is a root of a very fragrant smell, which, when cut down, dried and powdered, becomes an ingredient of the richest perfumes. We are informed by heathen writers that it came from Saba. Dr. Blayney.

26 — gird thee with sackcloth.] See the note on Gen. xxxvii 20. 27 I have set thee for a tower and a fortress.] As for thee, O my Prophet, I have set thee as in a watchtower, to decry the ways of My people, yea, I have made thee as a strong tower and fortress against all the rage of them, so that thou mayest fearlessly discover and reprove them. Rp. Hall.

28 — they are brass and iron, they are all corrupters.] They are all but falsifiers and corrupters. Rp. Hall. Brass and iron are the baser metals, used to adulterate the pure silver. Dr. Blayney.

voice roareth like the sea, and they ride upon horses, set in array as men for war against thee, O daughter of Zion. Before CHRIST about 612

24 We have heard the fame thereof our hands wax feeble anguish hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.

25 Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way, for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.

26 ¶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us. Chap. 4 8 & 26 3

27 I have set thee for a tower and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way. Chap. 1 18 & 19 21

28 They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders they are brass and iron, they are all corrupters. Luk. 2 18

29 The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire, the founder melteth in vain for the wicked are not plucked away.

30 ¶ Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them. Isai 1 1 Or, Refuse silver.

CHAP. VII.

1 Jeremiah is sent to call for true repentance, to prevent the Jews captivity. 8 He rejecteth their vain confidence, 12 by the example of Shiloh. 17 He threatneth them for their idolatry. 21 He rejecteth the sacrifices of the disobedient. 29 He exhorteth to mourn for their abominations in Gophet, 32 and the judgments for the same.

29 The bellows are burned, &c.] All the means, that can be used to purge this people of their dross, prove ineffectual if wicked are not separated from the righteous. Therefore your city shall be as one common furnace, wherein you shall be melted down all together. See Ezek. xxi 19, &c. W. Lowth.

— the lead is consumed of the fire,] Before the use of quicksilver was known, the refiners made use of lead for separating silver from the other substances mixed with it. So we learn from Pliny's Natural History. Dr. Blayney.

— the wicked are not plucked away.] Or, "the bad are not separated." By "the bad" are meant, according to the metaphor "the base ingredients," that is, the bad principles and habits which prevail so much, and adhere so closely, that all the endeavour and pains used by the refiner to purge them away and get clear of them are frustrated, and prove ineffectual. so that, as it follows in the next verse, nothing remains but to throw them aside as a metal disallowed and cried down by authority, counterfeit silver, but not capable of being brought to the sterling standard. Dr. Blayney.

30 Reprobate silver shall men call them, &c.] As base metal is refused by every one, because it cannot bear the touchstone, so shall these hypocrites and evildoers be rejected both by God and by man, for none of their actions will bear the test of His laws, or abide His severe trial. The Greek word, which is rendered "reprobate" in the New Testament, has an allusion to this place, and, in pursuance of the same metaphor, the laws and judgments of God are often compared to a refiner's fire. see Prov. xvii 3, Is. i 25, Zech. xiii 9, Mal. iii 2, 3, 1 Pet. i 7. Lowth.

Before
CHRIST
about 600

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Stand in the gate of the LORD's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship the LORD

* Chap 19
11 & 26 11

3 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.

4 Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, The temple of the LORD, The temple of the LORD, are these

5 For if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings, if ye thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour,

6 If ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt

7 Then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever

8 ¶ Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not,

10 And come and stand before me in this house, † which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? † Heb whereupon my name is called 11 Is <sup>b</sup> this house, which is called by my name, become a <sup>c</sup> den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I set my name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel

13 And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you, rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not, and I <sup>c</sup> called you, but ye answered not,

14 Therefore will I do unto this house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.

15 And I will cast you out of my sight, nificent buildings of the temple, Matt xxiv 1, 2 Dr Blayney

The triple repetition of "The temple of the Lord" denotes a remarkable earnestness, and extreme presumption in the people. The Prophet employs the same repetition afterwards, in his apostrophe to Judea, "O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the Lord, chap xxi 29 Calmet

10. — and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations? Will ye interpret the deliverances God hath formerly vouchsafed to you as so many licences to commit new abominations? Or do you think, when you offer your propitiatory sacrifices, that they will wipe away the guilt of all your past offences, and ye may securely renew your former ill practices, having such a certain and easy method of obtaining pardon? W Louth

11 Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers &c? Ye think all is well if ye present yourselves into My temple, though you bring with you the guilt of manifold sins ye come hither full of theft, of oppression, of injustice. Is My temple, think ye, for such worshippers? Is this house, which is called by My name, fit to be a den of thieves and robbers? Behold, I have well seen and noted with how wicked dispositions and hollow hearts ye come hither, saith the Lord Bp Hall

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh] Shiloh was the place, where, upon the first coming of the Israelites into Canaan, the tabernacle, in which was the ark of God's presence, was set up, by Divine appointment, no doubt, and there it continued for a space of time, until the days of Samuel. It was during this residence that the Israelites received that signal defeat from the Philistines, when the ark of God was taken, as related, 1 Sam, iv 10, 11 the pathetick description of which disaster, made by the Psalmist, Ps. lxxviii. 60—64, has caused it to be generally believed, that an allusion to it was likewise designed upon this occasion. Dr Blayney

13 — rising up early and speaking] The phrase "rising up early," signifies diligence and industry: see Is. i. 4. The same sense is elsewhere expressed in the Hebrew, by doing any thing "in the morning," which the translators render "early," 1's xlvii. 5; xc. 14. See likewise Ps. lxxviii. 5; Is. xxviii. 2. W Louth

Chap VII ver 1 The word that came to Jeremiah] A new prophecy begins with this chapter, and is continued on to the end of chap x The date is not precisely marked, but the probability is, that it was delivered not long after the preceding one, and, as it should seem, on the following occasion Besides the Prophets, who were commissioned to announce the approaching calamities of Judah and Jerusalem, there were others, who took on themselves to flatter the people with opposite predictions They taught them to look upon such threats as groundless, since God they said, would have too much regard for His own honour, to suffer His temple to be profaned, and the seat of His holiness given up into the hand of strangers Jeremiah is commanded openly to reprove the falsehood of these assertions, and to shew, by an example in point, that the sanctity of the place would afford no security for the guilty, but that God would assuredly do by His house at Jerusalem, what He had done unto Shiloh, and cast the people of Judah out of His sight, as He had already cast off the people of Israel, for their wickedness, ver 1—16. God justifies the severity of these proceedings by a representation of the people's impiety; ver 17—20 The Prophet declares their sacrifices to be of no acceptance, whilst they continue deaf to the calls of God's messengers, ver 21—28 He specifies the gross idolatries with which they were defiled; and pronounces a heavy sentence of Divine vengeance both on the dead and on the living, ver 29, chap. viii. 3 Dr Blayney

4. Trust ye not in lying words,] Uttered by your false prophets, who foretell peace, and encourage you in impenitency See chap. iv 10, xiv 18; 14. W Louth

— The temple of the Lord, are these] As much as to say, God hath placed His name here, ver 10, and hath chosen these stately buildings, as the place of His peculiar residence, and what reason is there to believe, that He will ever forsake it, and give it up to be destroyed by strangers and idolaters? Compare chap xviii 18; Mic. iii 11. W Louth

In the same manner our Saviour's disciples, immediately after their Lord had been foretelling the destruction of Jerusalem, came to Him, and with similar notions in their heads, as from our Saviour's reply may be collected, pointed out to Him the mag-

Before
CHRIST
about 600
Chap 11
Isa 63:11
Isod. 32 10.

as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me for I will not hear thee.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?

18 The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger? saith the LORD do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground, and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.

21 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh.

22 For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices:

23 But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.

24 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counsels and in the imagination of their evil heart, and I went backward, and not forward.

25 Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day I have even sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them.

26 Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but hardened their neck: they did worse than their fathers.

27 Therefore thou shalt speak all these words unto them, but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them, but they will not answer thee.

28 But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth instruction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.

29 Cut off thine hair, O Jerusalem,

Before
CHRIST
about 600

Hab concerning the man
of Deut 6
Exod 1
Lev 26 12

Or, stubborn
ness
Heb
weic

2 Chron
36 15

Chap 16
12

Or,
instruction

15 — the whole seed of Ephraim ] That is, all the ten tribes, who are often called by the name of Ephraim, that being the principal tribe among them. Their first king Jeroboam was of that tribe. See Isa vii 2 W Lowth.

16 Therefore pray not thou for this people, &c ] Nothing but an universal reformation, which God foresaw would not be effected, could deliver the Jews from that captivity and desolation, which He had threatened to bring upon them. In some cases the intercessions of good men have been so far prevalent, as to rescue sinners from the punishments they deserved, but here God declares, that nothing but a general amendment shall avert the judgments threatened. W Lowth.

18 The children gather wood, &c ] All the sort of them, of all ages and both sexes, conspire together in their idolatry: children, fathers, women, put their hands to the work, and all agree to offer cakes, in the way of sacrifice, to the sun or moon. Bp Hall.

— cakes ] Certain idolatrous cakes, artificially prepared of dough, and offered to the moon under the title of the queen of heaven. Parkhurst.

— queen of heaven, ] When we consider that the moon was at the beginning appointed to "rule the night" as well as the sun to rule the day. Gen 1 16, and that she manifestly does so, since her light is greater than that of all the planets and stars put together: and that the idolaters called the sun, or solar fire, not only Lord of heaven, but also King. There can be little doubt, but by "the queen of heaven," they meant the moon. Parkhurst.

19 Do they provoke me to anger? — do they not provoke themselves &c ] Do they think to shew their malice towards Me, as if they could hurt Me by their wickedness? Will not their sins turn at last to their own utter confusion? W Lowth.

21 — Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh ] The burnt offerings, after they were flayed, were to be consumed wholly upon the altar, Levit 1 9, whereas in the sacrifices of the peace offering, only the fat was burnt upon the altar, the remainder belonging partly to the priest, and the rest was spent in a religious entertainment. See Lev vii 9—31, Deut xii 11, 12. Here the Prophet tells the Jews, they may, if they please, (at the flesh of their burnt offerings, as well as of their peace offerings, for God will accept neither of them from their hands, (see chap vi 20,) and looks upon them only as common meats. compare Hos. viii 13 W Lowth.

22 For I spake not — concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices ] God hereby intimates, that He did not primarily intend to appoint this way of worship, and to impose it upon the Jews, as that which was most suitable to His own nature, and most agreeable to Him, but that He condescended to it, as most accommodated to their state and inclination, because of the carnality of their hearts, and the proneness of the people to idolatry. Abp. Tillotson. It is a way of speaking, usual in Scripture, to express the preference due to one thing over another, in terms which express the rejecting of that which is less worthy: and thus we may understand the text here in correspondence with the parallel passage of Hosea, "I desired mercy, and not sacrifice," chap vi 6 the words in both places implying, that God always laid a greater stress upon sincere obedience, than on external observances, and designed the latter, as so many mounds and fences to guard and preserve the former. W Lowth.

24 — and went backward, and not forward. ] The metaphor is taken from headstrong oxen, that draw back and refuse to put their necks under the yoke. see ver 26, Nehem. ix 29; Hos. iv 16. In the same sense the word "backsliding" is often applied to the Jews in this prophecy. W Lowth.

29 Cut off thine hair, &c. ] Mourn thou solemnly, O Jerusalem, and express thy sorrow by publick acts of humiliation, that the world may take knowledge of it. Bp. Hall. The cutting off of the hair was commonly practised in the time of great sorrow and mourning, chap xiv 18; xlviii 27; Is. xv 2. W Lowth.

This custom prevailed, not only amongst the Jews, but amongst Pagans also. Homer represents Achilles, as well as his soldiers, cutting off their hair at the funeral of Patroclus. Pope.

Before CHRIST about 600. and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places; for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, saith the LORD. they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to pollute it.

31 And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.

32 ¶ Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter; for they shall bury in Tophet, till there be no place.

33 And the carcasses of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth, and none shall fray them away.

34 Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride; for the land shall be desolate.

Before CHRIST about 600.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The calamity of the Jews both dead and alive. He upbraideth their foolish and shameful impiety. He sheweth their grievous judgment, 18 and bewaileth their desperate estate.

At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried; they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.

— the generation of his wrath ] That is, a race of men obnoxious to God's wrath in the same sense the Apostle speaks of the children of wrath, Eph ii 3. Dr Blayney.

30 — they have set their abominations in the house &c. ] Meaning the image and altars for idolatrous worship, which Manasseh had set up in the temple and the courts near it. See chap xxiii 15, xxxii 34, 2 Kings xxi 4, 7, xxii 4. This gave occasion for other profanations of the temple in aftertimes. See Ezek viii 5, 6, &c. W. Lowth.

31 And they have built the high places of Tophet, &c. ] Respecting "Tophet," &c. see note at 2 Kings xxiii 10.

— which I commanded them not, ] So far was God from commanding this practice, that He expressed the greatest detestation of it, and forbade it under the severest penalties, compare chap xxxii 35, and Lev xx 1—5. The words are spoken by the figure, called Meiosis, by which a great deal more is implied than expressed, see Deut. xvii 3 where the text, speaking of the worship of the host of heaven, adds, "which I have not commanded" the meaning is, I expressly forbade it. See instances of the like form of expression, Is lxi, 12, Jer ii 8, Prov xviii 5, xxviii 21, Rom i 28. W. Lowth.

32 — it shall no more be called Tophet, &c. ] So great a slaughter shall be therefore in Jerusalem, that there shall not be room enough in the valley of Tophet for the burial of the slain, and therefore that valley shall change its name, and be called, "the valley of slaughter." Bp. Hall.

King Josiah first of all "defiled" this place, as it is said in 2 Kings xxiii 10, that is, polluted it, or unconsecrated it, by burying dead bodies in it; compare ver 16 of that chapter. And afterwards, when great numbers died in the siege of Jerusalem, and the famine that followed, it became a common burying-place of the Jews, see chap xix 6, whereby was fulfilled that prophecy of Ezekiel, chap vi 5; "I will lay the dead carcasses of the children of Israel before their idols." Compare Lev. xxvi 30, Ezek vi 4, 5, 13. W. Lowth.

34 — will I cause to cease — the voice of mirth, &c. ] No more marriages shall be contracted in Jerusalem; no more shall there be heard in the cities of Judah the voice of mirth, and the songs of joy, and the noise of instruments of musick, which were wont to accompany these sorts of feasts. See chap xvi 9, xxv 10, xxxiii 11. Calmet.

There is no feast in the East without musick and dances, certainly then they are not omitted in nuptial solemnities. The noise of the musick, &c. is probably to be understood by "the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride," rather than the voices of the persons themselves. The voices of the "bridegroom" and of the "bride" appear to be distinctly mentioned, because in the East the women do not feast with the men. See note on Esth i 9. Sir J. Chardin, Harmer.

Chap VIII ver 1—3. These three verses ought not to have been separated from those of the preceding chapter. Dr Blayney.

1 At that time, saith the Lord, they shall bring out the bones &c. ] The calamity, which I will bring upon the Jews and Jerusalem, shall not rest in the living, but shall reach to the very dead for the very bones of their kings, and princes, and priests, and prophets, shall be torn up out of their graves. Bp. Hall.

2, — they shall not be gathered, nor be buried, ] The bones, thus scattered about, shall not be gathered or laid up in their sepulchres. Not to enjoy the common rites of burial is spoken of as an aggravation of man's calamities, chap xxii 19, xxxvi 30, Is xiv 19, 20, Eccles vi 3. W. Lowth.

The terrible and just vengeance of God upon the crimes and idolatries of the Jews, in destroying their city, and in causing their carcasses to be exposed in the very place where they had exercised their abominable idolatries, ought to excite our very serious attention. God, provoked with the sins of the Jews, destroyed them and their temple, and gave them up to their enemies, as He had before done the kingdom of the ten tribes. Let us grow wise by their example, as well as by the example of those Christian churches, whose candlestick, that is, the light of God's word, has been removed from them, because they abused it. Such considerations should produce in our hearts a wholesome dread of the judgments of God, and should effectually move us to regard Him with fear, and to serve Him with sincerity. Ostervald.

3. — of this evil family, ] See the note on chap i. 15.

Before
CHRIST
about 600

4 ¶ Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.

7 Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming, but my people know not the judgment of the LORD.

4 [Moreover thou shalt say unto them &c.] In that part of the prophecy which next follows, the difference of speakers requires to be attended to: the transitions being quick and sudden but full of life and energy. The Prophet at first in the name of God reproves the people's incorrigibility, he charges their wise ones with folly, and threatens them with grievous calamities, ver. 4—13. In the three next verses he seems to address his countrymen in his own person, and as one of the people who dwelt in the open towns, advising those that were in the like situation, to retire with him into some of the fortified cities, and there wait the event with patience, since there was nothing but terror abroad, and the noise of the enemy, who had already begun to ravage the country, ver. 14—16. God speaks, ver. 17 and threatens to bring foes against them that should be irresistible. The Prophet appears again in his own person, commiserating the daughter of his people, who is heard bewailing her forlorn case in a distant land, whilst the voice of God, like that of conscience, breaks in upon her complaints, and shews her that all this ruin is brought upon her by her own infidelities, ver. 18—20. The Prophet once more resumes the discourse, he regret that no remedy can be found to close up the wounds of his countrymen and pathetically weeps over the number of the slain, ver. 21 chap. ix. 1. Dr Blayney. — Shall they fall and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return? See the note on Gen. xix. 26.

The day of Jerusalem's visitation drew near: destruction was coming upon her like a whirlwind out of the north. Jeremiah appeared with a commission from above to predict as much and withal to assign the reason. It was, not that the people had sinned—more or less all have sinned—not that they had grievously sinned—all sin may be forgiven—but that they having sinned, and having grievously sinned, refused to repent, without doing which no forgiveness can be obtained, it cannot indeed be expected that had happened to Israel which often happens to others: temptations to evil had prevailed, single acts had grown into habits, and habits had grown inveterate, till they had at length lost the power and even the desire, to reform and amend. In this situation of things the Almighty is introduced expostulating with His people. Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord: Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return? In the whole circle of common life, where men are usually guided by common sense, is there any instance to be found of a similar conduct? Was it ever seen, was it ever heard, that when a man had experienced the misfortune of falling, he should not with endeavour to rise again, that when he had by mistake gone out of his way, he should not, upon better information be desirous of returning into it?—Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding, one that is never to cease, or have an end? "They hold fast deceit," and knowing it to be but deceit, for such every sinner well knows it to be, yet "they refuse to return." Bp Horne.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 ¶ The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD, and what wisdom is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.

11 For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they ashamed when they had

Before
CHRIST
about 600

Or, the false pen of the scribes worketh for falsehood. Chap. 6.

¶ On, Have they been ashamed? ed. 8c. † Heb. th. wisdom of what thing. Isa. 58. 11. chap. 6. 13.

¶ Chap. 6. 14. * I rec. 9. 10. † Chap. 3. 2. & 6. 15.

6 [I hearkened and heard, &c.] God is next pleased to speak of Himself after the manner of men, as inclining His ear, and with the affection of a parent fondly listening to catch the first accents of sorrow and contrition that should break forth from the relenting heart of his offending child. "I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? No remorse, no reflexion, no sensibility, hardened in vice, and regardless of danger, they pursued with fury and impetuosity their way to perdition: every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle." Bp Horne.

7 [Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times, &c.] This earnest expostulation and tender complaint are succeeded by a beautiful allusion to the birds of the air, that species of them styled "birds of passage." They, by instinct, return annually, at set time, to the country they had left, whereas, by all the reasoning and all the exhortation in the world, obdurate man cannot be prevailed upon to forsake his iniquity, and return to God who made him. Bp Horne.

— her appointed times, } That is, such times as 'he Creator hath appointed these animals, and hath accordingly for this end imprinted on their natures such an instinct, as excite and moveth them thus, at proper times, to fly from one place to another more convenient for them. Dr Derham.

— the judgment of the Lord } His law, or system of laws: that rule of moral conduct, which God prescribed for their observance, and which He furnished them with the means of knowing as certainly, as those birds of passage are taught by what we call natural instinct all that is convenient for them. See Is. i. 9. Dr Blayney.

8 [How do ye say, We are wise, &c.] How do ye priests and scribes say, "We are wise, and the law of the Lord is with us, when in the mean time ye live contrary to it?" Certainly, if this be to know, and make a right use of the law, the law should seem to be to small purpose, either in the making or writing of it. Bp Hall.

— the pen of the scribes is in vain } See notes at Ezra vii. 6, Matt. ii. 4. The expression in the text may relate to the answers, which those who were skilled in expounding the law gave in writing, when they were consulted in any difficult case: compare chap. xviii. 18. W. Lough.

9. [The wise men are ashamed, &c.] Those that have made this profession of wisdom have ashamed themselves by their unanswerable practice: lo, they have cast off all care of doing that which the word of God enjoins them, and how then can they challenge any true wisdom unto themselves? Bp Hall.

10. — that shall inherit them } Rather, that shall enter into possession. The Hebrew verb properly signifies to possess, that which was the property of others: and therefore implies a disposition of the former owners. Dr Blayney.

Before
CHRIST
about 600.

committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall in the time of their visitation: they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

Or Luth Iu Math
Luth
A

13 ¶ I will surely consume them, saith the LORD: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade; and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them.

14 Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the fenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD.

Cl p Luth
Or Chap 11
L

15 We looked for peace, but no good came, and for a time of health, and behold trouble!

Chap 7
L

16 The snorting of his horses was heard from Dan: the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones; for they are come, and have devoured the land, and all that is in it, the city, and those that dwell therein.

Heb
Luth
A

17 For, behold, I will send serpents, cockatrices, among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the LORD.

Luth
A

18 ¶ When I would comfort myself against sorrow, my heart is faint in me.

Heb
Luth
A

13 — there shall be no grapes on the vine, &c. These expressions appear to be metaphorical, signifying that the nation should be deprived of all their real advantages, and also of what was ornamental, by a severe dispensation of God's providence. H. Lenth, Dr. Blayney.

14 — let us be silent there. The verb, rendered "be silent," implies forbearing to act, as well as to speak. The Prophet herefore hereby seems to advise, not to take measures of resistance, as they would be ineffectually employed against what God had determined. Dr. Blayney.

— water of gall. Or, bitter water, that is, a severe judgment, which is often expressed by "the cup of God's wrath," or displeasure. See chap. xxv 15, 17, and ix 15, xxiii 15 W. Lenth.

16 — from Dan. Nabuchadnezzar, having subdued Phenicia, passed through the tribe of Dan in his way to Jerusalem. Dr. Blayney.

— strong ones. The word thus translated, signifies horses in several places: see chap. xlvii 3, Judg. i 22, and it is so understood here by the Seventy. H. Lenth.

17 — which will not be charmed. See note at Ps. lvm 4. That some persons possessed the power of rendering serpents harmless, is a well attested fact: but whether by certain herbs, or musical sounds, or by breaking out their teeth, or in what manner, is uncertain. Whatever were the methods commonly practised, the enemies of the Jews are here compared to such serpents as were not to be mollified or disarmed by any of those means. "They will bite you, saith the Lord." Dr. Blayney.

18 — Behold the voice of the cry &c. For, behold, methinks I can already the shrieks and cries of the Jews, because of the Babylonians that are come in upon them from Chaldea, and yet they are still ready to presume upon their title and interest with God, and say, Is not the Lord worshipped by us in Zion? Dr. Blayney.

19 Behold, the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people: because of them that dwell in a far country: Is not the LORD in Zion? is not her king in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their golden images, and with strange vanities?

Heb
CHRIST
about 600
Luth
A

20 The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.

21 For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt, I am black, astonishment hath taken hold on me.

22 Is there no balm in Gilead, is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

Chap 10
Heb
Luth
A

CHAP IX

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the Jews for their manifold sins, 9 and for their judgment. 12 Disobedience is the cause of their bitter calamity. 17 He exhorteth to mourn for their destruction, 23 and to trust not in themselves, but in God. 25 He threatneth both Jews and Gentiles.

Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!

about 600
Heb
Luth
A

2 Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men, that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

chap 4 10

20 — The harvest is past, &c. The harvest is past, the summer is ended, which might have given us hopes and opportunities of success, yet we hear of none from Egypt, or any other our associates: so that we have now lost all hopes of deliverance. Dr. Blayney.

21 — I am black. I look ghastly, as those who are dying compare chap. xiv 2, Joel ii 6, Nahum ii 10. H. Lenth.

22 — Is there no balm in Gilead. Further that particular balm, now distinguished by the same name, and much celebrated by various ancient writers for its costliness and its medicinal virtues, or as Bochart contends, the resin drawn from the terebinthus or turpentine tree, which was well known to have healing virtues, at least sufficient to answer the Prophet's question on this occasion, which was metaphorically to ask, if there were no salutary means within reach, or no persons that knew how to apply them, for the relief of his country from those miseries, with which it was afflicted. Dr. Blayney.

(chap. IX ver. 2 — Oh that I had &c.) The corrupt and profligate manners of the people are here set forth at large, and the denunciations of Divine vengeance are renewed against them ver. 2—16. God summons the mourning women to bewail the calamities of the nation, ver. 17—22, forbids setting any value on personal endowments, except the knowledge of God and His attributes only, ver. 23, 24, and shews the punishment of the surrounding nations, circumscribed and uncircumscribed, to be near at hand. Dr. Blayney.

— a lodging place of wayfaring men. Travellers in the East are not, nor ever were, accommodated at mansions on the road, after the manner of the European nations. In some towns indeed, but not in all, there are large public buildings provided for their reception, which they call caravanseras, but these afford merely a covering, being absolutely without furniture, Judg. xix 15. And, in passing through the desert, it is well if they can light upon a

Before
CHRIST
about 600

8 And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the Lord

Chap 12

6

Mr ~ 1,6

Or

friend

Or

much

4 Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanders

5 And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit, through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them, for how shall I do for the daughter of my people?

8 Then tongue is as an arrow shot out, it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait

Ps 12 2

& 120 3

Ps 28 3

Hab

in the midst of him

Or, wait for him

Chap 5

2, 29

Or

pastures

Or, desolate

Hab

from the fool even to, &c

9 Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the Lord: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?

10 For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none can pass through them, neither can men hear the voice of the cattle, + both the cave, or a hut, which some one before them may have erected for a temporary shelter. This is what appears to be here meant by "a lodging place," a solitary, and not very comfortable, situation, but yet preferable to the diaphragm of living continually in the society of men of profligate manners. Dr Blayney

8, Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit.] These are the words of God to the Prophet. W Louth — through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the Lord.] The knowledge of God, which is true religion, is incompatible with the habitual practice of any wickedness. And therefore it is natural enough for those, who are resolved at all events to abide in their evil courses, to endeavour, if possible, to divest themselves of all religious principles, which, if insufficient to restrain, will be sure at least to be very troublesome to them. For this cause they are ready to say unto God, Depart from us, for we desire not the knowledge of Thy ways, Job xxi 14. Dr Blayney

7 — Behold I will melt them, and try them, &c.] In the fire of affliction. Bp Hall

10 — the habitations of the wilderness.] This is more properly rendered in the margin, "the pastures of the wilderness." Compare Job i 19 n 22. "The wilderness" sometimes signifies the plain or champaign country, and is opposed to the mountains. see Isa liii 10. 1 Sam iv 19, Joel i 19. W Louth. It properly signifies a thinly inhabited country, used chiefly for sheep-walks. Dr Blayney

— neither can men hear the voice of the cattle.] There shall be heard no more, in the plains or on the mountains, either the bleating of sheep, or the lowing of oxen: there shall no animal, wild or tame, be seen any more. Culbert

11 — a den of dragons.] A place of horror and desolation. Bp Hall. The word, translated "dragons," among several other significations, is taken for a serpent, such as are usually found in fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled, they are gone.

Before
CHRIST
about 600

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons; and I will make the cities of Judah + desolate, without an inhabitant.

Chap 10

22

Hab

d u l t i o n

12 ¶ Who is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of the Lord hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burned up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?

13 And the Lord saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein, 14 But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which their fathers taught them.

Or,
stubborn
n 38

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with worm-wood, and give them water of gall to drink

Chap 9
14 & 23 1

16 I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

Iev 20
29

17 ¶ Thus saith the Lord of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come, and send for cunning women, that they may come ruins and desolate places. Compare chap li 87, Is xlii 22 xxxiv 19, Ps xlv 19. W Louth

12 Who is the wise man, &c.] In this style of interrogation the Prophet indirectly declares himself to be the person qualified by Divine inspiration to answer the question proposed in the latter part of the verse, which he accordingly does in the verses that follow. Dr Blayney

15 — I will feed them, — with wormwood, &c.] Compare this expression with Pa lxxx 5, 1 Kings xxi 27. W Louth. See the note on Deut. xxix 18

17 — the mourning women, — cunning women.] It was an ancient custom of the Hebrews, at funerals, and on other like occasions, to make use of hired mourners, whose profession it was to exhibit in publick all the signs and gestures of immoderate and frantic grief, and by their loud outcries and doleful songs to excite and stir up a real passion of sorrow in others. Women were chiefly employed in this office, and St. Jerome, in his comment upon this verse, says, that the practice was continued in Judea down to his days. As it required a degree of skill to discharge this office, for that reason these "mourning women" are likewise called "cunning," that is, skillful women. Frequent allusions to this custom are to be met with in Scripture, particularly 2 Chron xxxv 23, Eccles. xii 5, Amos vi 10, Matt. ix, 29; Mark v. 38. Nor was this practice peculiar to the Jews, as many instances of it occur in heathen writers. Dr Blayney

It is usual at funerals in Barbary to hire women, who, like the "mourning women" of old, are mistresses of the art, and indeed perform the part with such proper gestures and commotions, that they rarely fail to work up the assembly into some extraordinary pitch of thoughtfulness and sorrow. Dr Shaw. Travellers inform us, that the same practice prevails in most of the provinces of the Levant. Culmet

Before
CHRIST
about 600

18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have cast us out 20 Yet hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to out off the children from without, and the young men from the streets

22 Speak, Thus saith the LORD, Even the carcasses of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvestman, and none shall gather them.

23 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches

24 But let him that glorieth glory in

1 Cor 1, 21
2 Cor 10
17

21 For death is come up into our windows, &c.] For the Chaldeans have scaled our walls, and entered into our cities, and are now breaking upon us in our houses, to inflict a sudden and cruel death upon us, wherein they will spare no age or sex, but put all without mercy to the sword Bp Hall

22 — as the handful after the harvestman, &c.] This alludes to the manner of reaping corn in a field, where the reaper, as soon as he has cut what he can hold in his hand, lets it fall, and passes on, but is usually followed by another, who gathers what is cut, and binds it into sheaves. But here it is said, that there would be none to gather, and consequently the corn, after being cut, would be neglected and rot on the ground which renders the simile a very apt one Dr Blayney

23 — Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, &c.] Let not men value themselves for their wisdom, strength, or riches, which are things of themselves of a very uncertain continuance, and such calamities are coming, (see ver 25, 26,) in which they will stand the owners of them in very little stead. The only true valuable endowment is the knowledge of God, not as He is in Himself, which is too high an attainment for poor mortals to pretend to, but with respect to His dealings with man; to have a serious sense of His mercies to the penitent, of His judgments to the obstinate, and of His truth and integrity, in making good His promises and threatenings to both. 'Tis in the exercise of these attributes God chiefly delights, and 'tis by these He desires to make Himself known to the world, and he, that forms an apprehension of God chiefly with regard to these perfections, will always demean himself suitably towards Him. "Judgment" and "righteousness" are often equivalent terms, but if we distinguish them here, "judgment" denotes God's severity against the wicked, and "righteousness" His truth or holiness W Lenth

24 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, &c.] See these judgments denounced more at large, chap. xiv. 18, &c. The Prophet places Judah among the heathen nations, because the Jews were, in effect, that is, in a spiritual sense, uncircumcised as well as they, contenting themselves with the outward sign of circumcision, without endeavouring to procure the inward purity signified by it. W Lenth

this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the LORD which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth for in these things I delight, saith the LORD

25 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish all them which are circumcised with the uncircumcised,

26 Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that are in the utmost corners, that dwell in the wilderness for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart

CHAP. X.

1 The unequal comparison of God and idols 17 The prophet exhorteth to flee from the calamity to come 19 He lamenteth the spoil of the tabernacle by foolish pastors 23 He maketh an humble supplication

HEAR ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven, for the heathen are dismayed at them.

— all that are in the utmost corners,] If we prefer the marginal reading, "they that have the corners of their hair polled," the expression denotes those Arabians who cut their hair upon the fore part of the head round, and let the hair behind grow long, which custom of theirs Herodotus mentions, and tells us, that they did it in imitation of Bacchus. It is probable, that the precept in Lev. xix. 27, "Ye shall not round the corners of your heads, hath reference to this custom, which was a rite in several countries near Judea, whereby they devoted themselves to the worship of some false god W Lenth

Chap. X The beginning of this chapter to the end of ver 16 contains an earnest dissuasive against the practice of heathen idolatry, setting forth the vanity of idols in comparison with the true God. And this, no doubt, was designed by way of precaution to the Jews against the time of their removal out of their own land, to dwell amongst idolaters, as is predicted, ver 17, 18. Jerusalem lamenteth the completion of her ruin, ver 19, and humbly supplicateth the intervention of God's mercy, ver 23 to the end Dr Blayney

Ver 2. — be not dismayed at the signs of heaven, &c.] The word of God, far from encouraging groundless and superstitious horrors, cautions against them strongly. In all times and nations, men have been terrified with eclipses of the sun and moon, in many, with conjunctions, oppositions, and aspects of the stars, and other celestial appearances things altogether harmless. Therefore such groundless terrors the Prophet expressly condemns. But whatsoever things are real instruments of our Maker's will, we are to consider as such, and respect all that is wrought by them, as proceeding from His appointment Abp Secker

— the signs of heaven,] The Chaldeans, among whom the Jews were destined to live in captivity, were particularly addicted to astrology, and attributed to the heavenly bodies a considerable influence over human affairs. This naturally tended to beget a religious dread and awe of those objects, from whence so much good or evil was supposed to be derived. Dr Blayney

Before
CHRIST
about 600
f Heb statutes, or ordinances the vanu

3 For the †customs of the people are vain for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the ax

1 They deck it with silver and with gold, they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not

14 11 1
14 11 1

5. They are upright as the palm tree, but speak not: they must needs be <sup>b</sup>borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them, for <sup>c</sup>they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good.

Page 86
10

6 Forasmuch as there is none <sup>d</sup> like unto thee, O LORD, thou art great, and thy name is great in might

Rev 15 4

7 'Who would not feare thee, O King of nations? for || to thee doth it appertain forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee

1. If the in one or it once

8 But they are † altogether † brutish and foolish the stock is † doctrine of vanities

Jan 11 29
Feb 2 15
Mch 10 2

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from Larshush, and gold from Uphaz, the 5 They are upright as the palm tree.] This comparison agrees very well with those ancient statues which were seen in Egypt and elsewhere, before the Greeks had carried the art of sculpture to that perfection, to which it afterwards arrived. The Orientals, before the empire of the Greeks had very little taste for things of this sort. Their figures were carved in a straight line with their hands hanging down and fixed to their sides, their eyes closed, their feet joined so that they differed little from the trunks of the palm trees, to which Jeremiah here compares them.

— for to thee doth it appertain ] To Thee doth fear apper-tain Dr Dwell

— among all the wise men of the nations, &c.] The phrase "among all the wise or the wisest," of the nations, may signify either all those nations which were most distinguished for the cultivation and improvement of their rational faculties, or else those from whom better notions of God and religion might have been expected, than from the rude and illiterate vulgar. And yet the fact was, that all their boasted wisdom and knowledge had failed of leading them to an object of worship, in any degree corresponding with the infinite perfections and integrity of the Divine nature. Dr. Blayney

8. But they are altogether brutish &c.] "They that make images are like unto them," saith the Psalmist Ps. cxxv. 8, that is, they are equally stupid and unreasoning. An image is called "a teacher" Jer. x. 10. W. Iowth

9 - Tushsh - [Uphaz.] For 'Tushsh,' see the notes at 1 Kings ix 28 x 22 Bochart supposes "Uphaz" to be the same as the Ophir in India. W. Lowth. Concerning Ophir see the following note on Kings

And the blue which from many passages in Scripture we find to have been much at request was also imported from remote countries as an article of elegant and expensive luxury See 1 K. xxi. 1 Dr Blayney

— they are all the work of cunning men.] As the insignificance of idol may be argued from the vile and perishable matter out of which they are composed, (see Is. xlv. 19,) the same may be inferred from their being indebted to the art and labour of man for all their earthly ornaments.

They are all," says the Prophet, internally and externally, "the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder blue and purple is their clothing they are all the work of cunning

Before
CHRIST
about 600

mt B

10 But the LORD is the † true God, he † Heb God is the living God, and an † everlasting king of truth at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and † Heb the nations shall not be able to abide his king, of indignation eternally

11 Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens

12 He <sup>s</sup> hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 When he uttereth his voice, there is || O
a || multitude of waters in the heavens, and || n
he causeth the vapours to ascend from the || O
ends of the earth, he maketh lightnings || f || with rain, and bringeth forth the wind || Or out of his treasures || is more || brutish than to know

14 Every man is brutish in his know.

work of cunning or skilful men. And so says the prophet Hosea, "All of it the work of the craftsmen." chap. xiii. 2. Upon what ground then could the thing formed pretend to a nature more excellent than its former? Dr. Blayney

10 — at his wrath the earth shall tremble.] Jeremiah here represents the power and the greatness of God by the effects which they produce in nature. The things which strike men with most astonishment are earthquakes, thunder, lightning, the production of rain and winds, the creation of the universe. All these things are the works of the Lord. In His wrath He makes the earth tremble. When He speaks, He causes the thunder. If He makes the lightning shine, it is to cause the rain to descend from the clouds. The winds are shut up in His treasures. He confines them by His power. He draws from the ends of the earth the materials, of which He forms the clouds. Such was the notion of the Hebrews concerning the production of these effects, which strike mortals with astonishment. They referred them immediately to God as their natural cause. Cabot

11 Thus shall ye say unto them, &c.] This verse is written in Chaldeæ as if the Prophet designed to put these words in the mouths of the Jews, where with they might make a publick profession of their own faith in the true God and be able to answer the heathens that would entice them to idolatry. *W Lowth. The title, "Creator of heaven and earth, that is of the universe (see note on Gen 1. 1), is that which most especially characterizes and distinguishes the true God from all false and fictitious deities. see Ps xvi 7, 2 Kings xix 15, 19, Acts xiv 17. xvi 24. Dr Isaac Barrow — even they shall perish from the earth, &c.] The Prophet foretells, that there shall be a final period put to idolatry. See ver 15, Is ii 18, xlv: 26 Zech xiii 2. God hath already blotted out the names of many of the heathen idols, as an earnest of the utter destruction of the remainders of idolatry in His due time. W. Louth

15 When he uttereth his voice, &c.] When God signifies His will and pleasure, (compare Job xxxviii 4,) or when He sends His thunder, called in Scripture the 'voice of God,' the clouds immediately fall down in abundance of rain, and that moisture, coming upon the ground that was scorched with heat before, does not only cool and refresh it, but makes all vegetables grow and flourish in it. W. Lenth

14. Every man is bristish in his knowledge &c ] Every work-

Before
CHRIST
about 600.

ledge every founder is confounded by the graven image for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them

15 They are vanity, and the work of errors in the time of their visitation they shall perish

16 The portion of Jacob is not like them for he is the former of all things, and Israel is the God of his inheritance The Lord of hosts is his name

17 Gather up thy wares out of the land, O inhabitant of the forties

18 For thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will distress them, that they may find it so

19 Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous but I said, Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it

20 My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken my children are gone forth of me, and they are not there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains

21 For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the Lord therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered

22 Behold, the noise of the brunt is come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragons

23 O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps

24 O Lord, correct me but with judgment, not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing

25 Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate

none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains

21 They are — the work of errors ] The making of them is owing to men's erroneous notion concerning the nature of God See Act 8 W Lenth

16 The portion of Jacob is not like them ] Upon the principles of heathenism, every nation was committed to the care and superintendency of its own tutelary god, who might with propriety be styled its own portion on account of the peculiar relation that subsisted between them The portion of Jacob therefore is the same as the God of Jacob, He who had taken upon Himself the guardianship and protection of that family But He was distinguished from all the rest who is before observed were falsehood and vanity all of them having no other existence than as lifeless images the work of deluded men, whereas He was the Creator of the universe of all that exist and, that there might be no room to mistake the Being intended He is further characterized as He who made choice of Israel for the special object of His concern, had marked him out for His own possession as with a line, and to whom the name of Jehovah belonged Dr Blagney

— the rod of his inheritance ] The expression is taken from the first division of the land of Canaan when the inheritance of each tribe and family was meted out with a line or a rod B Lenth

17 Gather up thy wares out of the land &c ] The Prophet here returns to his former denunciations against Jerusalem and warns her to move her effects and prepare for her going into captivity compare Ezek xii 3 for though she thought herself secure as dwelling in a place of great strength and well fortified, yet her enemies should prevail and take it W Lenth

18 — Behold, I will sling out &c ] Behold, I will suddenly and violently cast out the inhabitants of the land, as a stone out of a sling Bp Hall

— at this once, ] Or, "at this time" This implies, that though they had been often saved by God's providence from hostile attacks they would however on this occasion find it otherwise Dr Blagney

19 Woe is me &c ] In this and the following verses, the Prophet seems by anticipation to suggest motives of patience and consolation to his country, in regard to the evils that were coming upon her These he puts into her own mouth, and makes her observe first that her affliction though great, was such as by experience she had found to be tolerable secondly that she had her reason to complain of what she suffered, as it was no other than might have been expected from the misconduct of those who had the direction of her affairs and lastly that she was not without hope in the mercy of God, who upon the humble application of His people might be moved to mitigate their chastisement, and turn His hand against the heathen that oppressed them Dr Blagney

20 My tabernacle is spoiled &c ] My cities and houses are rifled and destroyed, as if they were so many shepherds tents See the note on chap iv 20 W Lenth By the breaking of the cords, the use of which is to fasten the tent on every side to stakes in the ground and on the breaking of which the tent falls, it is implied that all the supports of city and country were gone Pool

23 O Lord, I know that the way of man is not in himself &c ] Success does not depend upon human endeavours, but upon God's good pleasure compare Ps xxxvii 27, Prov xx 24, and therefore Thou canst easily disappoint all the designs of our enemies W Lenth

24 O Lord correct me, but with judgment, &c ] O Lord correct me but in a gracious moderation, not in the extreme rigour of Thy justice, not, as we have deserved, in Thy wrath and displeasure Bp Hall

The speaker here humbly entreats Almighty God to deal out His corrections in such a moderate degree, as to shew that He aimed at the amendment and not the destruction of the offender The Hebrew word here translated "judgment" properly signifies calm and dispassionate judgment, which stands opposed to the hasty sallies of anger and furious revenge And though the latter cannot actually exist in God, it is sometimes however nominally attributed to Him, whenever the effects of His displeasure are so violent, as to stop nothing short of utter ruin, although such a proceeding may be justifiable upon the most solid principles of reason and equity As therefore to "punish with anger," implies an unrelenting rigour and severity, so to "correct with judgment," admits the use of such moderation, as is consistent with the sinner's personal safety, whilst it promotes his reformation Dr Blagney

25 Pour out thy fury upon the heathen &c ] Let Thy justice be made known, by bringing an exemplary punishment upon the Chaldeans and their allies, see chap. i 13; who do not acknowledge Thy providence, but ascribe all their successes to their own idols W Lenth

Before
CHRIST
about 600.

Chap. 1
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 2
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 3
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 4
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 5
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 6
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 7
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 8
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 9
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 10
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 11
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 12
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 13
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 14
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 15
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 16
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 17
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 18
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 19
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 20
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 21
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 22
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100

Chap. 23
1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 4

CHAP. XI.

Before
CHRIST
about 602.

1 Jeremiah proclaimeth God's covenant, 8 rebuketh the Jews disobeying thereof, 11 prophesieth evils to come upon them, 18 and upon the men of Anathoth, for conspiring to kill Jeremiah

about 108

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,

* Deut 27
26
Gal 3 10

3 And say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God

* Deut 7
12

5 That I may perform the oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as is this day Then answered I, and said, † So be it, O LORD

† Heb
Amen

6 Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.

7 For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice

Chap XI ver 1. The word that came to Jeremiah &c] The prophecy contained in this and the following chapter may not improperly be assigned to the reign of Josiah, only to the latter end of it, when the people, who in the eighteenth year of that prince had solemnly engaged to perform the obligations of the Divine covenant, may in course of time be supposed to have relapsed into their former disregard and neglect. The Prophet is therefore sent to recall them to their duty, by proclaiming anew the terms of the covenant, and rebuking them sharply for their hereditary disobedience, ver 1—8. He denounceth evil against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem for their idolatrous apostasy ver 9—17, and being informed of the conspiracy of the men of Anathoth against his life by Divine revelation, he prayeth against them, and is authorized to foretell their utter destruction Dr Blayney

— Cursed be the man &c] It is a way of speaking usual in Scripture to denounce God's judgments in the form of imprecation, so the Apostle pronounces an excommunication, by saying, "Let him be cursed, or "Anathema," Galen. 3; 1 Cor xvi 22 To the same end St. Paul saith of Alexander the copper-smith, "The Lord reward him according to his works," 2 Tim. iv. 14 Thus the imprecations we meet with in several of the Psalms are to be understood as so many predictions, or denunciations of God's judgments Accordingly St Peter, speaking of the 109th Psalm, saith, what in it the Holy Ghost "spake before (or prophesied) by the mouth of David concerning Judas, Acts 1 16. W Lenth

8 Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but they did them not

Before
CHRIST
about 602
Or
stubborn near

9 And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem

10 They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words, and they went after other gods to serve them the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers

11 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape, and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them

† Heb
to
of Prov 1 28
chap 14 1
I will
Mic 3 4

12 Then shall the cities of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble

13 For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Judah, and, according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars to that shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.

† Heb
evil
1 Sam 1 11
&c † Heb What is to my beloved on my house?

14 Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble,

15 † What hath my beloved to do in

A wholesome instruction is to be derived from the curse, which God denounces against those who keep not His covenant Let us reflect on this, and remember that God hath made a more excellent covenant with us than with the Jews, and that this covenant engages us still more strictly to hear His voice, and to do all that He hath commanded us, so that, if we break it, we shall incur a much heavier punishment. We ought further to consider that it is not only by worshipping idols that the Divine covenant is broken, but that may be done likewise by breaking the vows which we have made to God, and by withdrawing our hearts from Him and giving them to the world. Overmald

5 — Then answered I, and said, So be it, O Lord.] The Prophet confirms the words of this curse, according to the form prescribed in Deut. xxvii 26; and thereby approves the justice of it W Lenth

9 — A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, &c] The men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem have banded together and conspired wilfully in evil, and have resolved to encourage each other in wickedness. Dr Hall

11 — though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them] Their destruction was irreversible upon supposition of their continuance in their evil ways, which God foresaw they would do W Lenth

15 What hath my beloved to do in mine house, &c] What have the Jews, once My beloved people, to do in My house, saith God, seeing they have committed spiritual fornication with many idols,

Before
CHRIST
about 608.

Or when thy evil is mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? When thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest

16 The LORD called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken

17 For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Baal

18 ¶ And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it then thou shewedst me then doings

19 But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter, and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered

20 But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them for unto thee have I revealed my cause

† Heb
the stalk with his bread

1 Sam 16

7

1 Chron 28

9

Paul 7 9

chap 17 10

& 20 12

Rev 2 23

and those sacrifices, which now they pretend to offer, are not holy oblations, but profane and common flesh? Yea, O My people, thou art come to that height of impiety, as that thou rejoicest in evil

Bp Hall

— the holy flesh is passed from thee? The flesh of thy sacrifice which thou offerest up unto Me, as an atonement for thy sins will not it all profit thee, being polluted and rendered unacceptable to Me, through those many and great sins, in which thou continuest without remorse, and even takest a pride in committing them — see chap vi and compare Hag ii 12, 13, 14

16 The Lord called thy name, A green olive tree, &c] St. Paul plainly alludes to this verse, Rom. xi 17 The Jewish nation, in its flourishing state, is sometimes compared to a vine, sometimes to an olive tree chiefly because of the fruits of good works, which God might justly expect from them, after all the care and pains He had bestowed upon them, to make them thrive and flourish See Ps lvi 8

— with the noise of a great tumult] These words signify the confused murmur of the Chaldean army, coming tumultuously to desolate Jerusalem and its dependencies with fire and sword

18 And the Lord hath given me knowledge of it, &c] This relates to the evil designs of the men of Anathoth against the Prophet, which, he saith, God had revealed to him See the following verses

19 — Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, &c] Let us not only burn his prophecies, but kill the man let us despatch him from off the earth

20 — let me see thy vengeance on them &c] O God, I do not desire it in any malice to them, or thirst of revenge, but in a holy zeal for Thy glory being by Thee so directed, and committing my cause to Thee, I pray for a sight of Thy just retribution to them

23 — the year of their visitation] When I will visit their sins; upon them see chap. xvi. 21, xlviii 44, 1. 27 The

21 Therefore thus saith the LORD of the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophecy not in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand

22 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will punish them the young men shall die by the sword, their sons and their daughters shall die by famine

23 And there shall be no remnant of them for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation

CHAP. XII

1 Jeremiah complaining of the wicked's prosperity, by which he saith their ruin God admonisheth him of his brethren's treachery against him, 7 and lamenteth his heritage 14 He promiseth to the penitent return from captivity

RIGHTEOUS art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? Wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?

2 Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins words "year" and "day" often signify a set or determined time See Is lxi 2 W Louth

Chap. XII The Prophet here ventures freely, though with professions of confidence in the Divine justice, to expostulate with God concerning the prosperity of wicked men in general, whose punishment he sollicitly attests, the mischiefs that were continually brought on the land by their unrestrained wickedness, ver 1—4 In reply he is forewarned to expect, that, in proportion to the power of his enemies, his own personal grievances would naturally increase, whilst the distractions of the state, and the unkindness of his kinsfolks, precluded him all hopes of either publick or private redress, ver 5, 6 But God expressly challenges the national calamities as the result of His own special determination and judgment. He had discarded His people for their inabitious behaviour towards Him and they were therefore given up to the outrage and devastation of fierce and merciless invaders, ver 7—13 At last He promises them a restoration in future, and threatens punishment upon their heathen neighbours who had oppressed them, but with this reservation, that such of these, as would come over to His established worship, He would receive and incorporate into His Church but the unbelieving part should be utterly extirpated

Ver 1 Righteous art thou, O Lord &c] I though I doubt not of Thy justice and holiness, yet suffer me to argue with Thee concerning the prosperity of the wicked, and the afflictions of the righteous a dispensation, which hath in all ages been made an objection against Providence, and upon that account been a stumblingblock even to good men see Job xii 6, xxi 7, &c, Ps xxxvii and lxxiii

2 — thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins] The true character of hypocrites, who, according to Isaiah's description of them, "honour God with their lips, but their heart is far from Him," Isaiah xxix, 13, Mark vii 6 "The reins" in Scripture signify the thoughts and inward dispositions

Before
CHRIST
about 608

† Heb visit upon

Or let me reason the case with thee
Job 17
Psalm 17
& 7 Hab 1 4

† Heb they go on

Before CHRIST
about 604
Psal 17
+ Heb
not thee

3 But thou, O Lord, knowest me thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart I to ward thee pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter

Psal 11

1 How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds; because they said, He shall not see our last end

2 ¶ If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee then how canst thou contend with horse? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst they rewarded thee then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan?

Chap 9

6 For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee, yea, they have called a multitude after thee believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee

On
they cry after thee fully
+ Heb good thing

7 ¶ I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage, I have given I the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies

+ Heb
the love

8 Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest, it crieth out against me therefore have I hated it

On jelly
+ Heb crieth out his love

4 — because they said, He shall not see our last end ] That is, He will not correct himself about revenging or punishing us hereafter. The inference which hath upon it apt to draw from God's past forbearance, is, that he is totally ignorant of the moral conduct of mankind. Hence, promising themselves the same impunity in future, which they have hitherto experienced, they are led to a free indulgence of all their vicious inclinations. Accordingly the Psalmist, complaining, as the Prophet does here, of the prosperity of the wicked, represents their behaviour and their principles in terms exactly similar. See Ps. xlviii 5, 6, 7. Dr. Blayney

5 If thou hast run with the footmen, &c ] Here God answers the complaint of the Prophet, and applies a proverbial expression to his case. W. Lowth. The sense of the proverb seems to be, If thou art not able to encounter less dangers, how wilt thou be able to overcome greater? Poole

— in the swelling of Jordan. ] The figure of war and hostilities is often represented in Scripture under the image of a river rising rapidly above its banks, and carrying all before it. In these inundations the river Jordan was very subject. Dr.

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a speckled bird, &c ] My people are as a speckled bird, (see ver 8,) and not to be trusted, because a speckled or "coloured bird," is only fit for prey and not for food. And as all the rest of the birds flock round about it and are ready to pull it to pieces, so I have the cause of My people to weep over every side. Chap. 15. to so many birds of prey. Chap. 15, 16, 17. The word here rendered, speckled, is of uncertain signification being found but in this one place of the Bible and perhaps, 1 Sam. xlii 12, where some look upon it as a proper name. The Septuagint understands it of the hyena which sense is followed by Pockart. But if we take it in either signification, the sense is much the same. W. Lowth

9 Mine heritage is unto me as a speckled bird, the birds round about are against her, come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to devour

Before
CHRIST
about 60
On talked
On cause their
to me

10 Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness

+ Heb a part of d in

11 They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me, the whole land is made desolate, because no man hath it to hunt

12 The spoilers are come upon all high places, through the wilderness, for the sword of the Lord shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land no flesh shall have peace

13 They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit and they shall be ashamed of their revenues because of the fierce anger of the Lord

On Deut
the T

14 ¶ Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit, Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them

Deut
chap 3

15 And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them out I will return, and 10 Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, ] By 'many pastors' are meant the generals of the Chaldean army so the Chaldee paraphrase rightly explains it see ver 12, and compare chap vi 3. God calls Judah 'His vineyard and pleasant portion,' because of the care He took to cultivate and improve it and the fruit He might justly have expected from it see the note on chap vi 16. W. Lowth

12 — upon all high places through the wilderness ] Rather "upon all the plains in the wilderness," that is, the smooth plot of greenward in the waste or uncultivated country, which affords pasture to the cattle. Dr. Blayney. See note on chap ix 16

13 — they shall be ashamed of their revenues ] Or "Be ye ashamed of your increase." God's displeasure shall make all you designs abortive, they shall not bring forth the expected fruit and you shall be seized with shame and confusion to see your selves disappointed compare chap ii 36, 37. The word "revenues" or "increase," alludes to the "reaping of thorns," mentioned in the foregoing part of the verse. W. Lowth

14 Thus saith the Lord against all mine evil neighbours, &c ] This prophecy threatens chiefly the Chaldeans, Moabites, Ammonites and Philistines against whom Jeremiah prophesied, chap xlviii xlviii, and xlv, and the Egyptians, chap xxi. These are called "evil neighbours," because of the ill-will which they showed to the Jews on all occasions, at this time especially, when most of them joined with the Chaldeans and Syrians in opposing them see 2 Kings xxiv 2. Thus sin is particularly laid to their charge by the Prophets, and they are threatened with captivity chiefly on that account see chap xlv 1, 2, Ezek. xxv 2, 9, 12 13, Amos i 11, 12, Jer. xlviii 19, Zeph ii 8. W. Lowth

15 And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them out &c ] The captivity was to last 70 years and then Jerusalem seems to be rebuilt in 40 years see chap. xxi 11, xlii 7, 14, xlii 15. We may observe likewise, that after Jeremiah had threatened severe judgments on the neighbouring countries, he now

Before
CHRIST
about 608

have compassion on them, and will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land

16 And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, The LORD liveth, as they taught my people to swear by Baal, then shall they be built in the midst of my people.

11 A (1)
12

17 But if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith the LORD

CHAP. XIII

1 In the type of a linen girdle, hidden at Euphrates God prefigureth the destruction of his people 12 Under the parable of the bottles filled with wine he foretells their drunkenness in misery 15 He exhorteth to prevent their future judgments 22 He sheweth their abominations are the cause thereof

about (1)

THUS saith the LORD unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water

2 So I got a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loins

3 And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock

5 So I went, and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me girdle with a general promise of returning from their captivity in the latter days see chap xlviii 17, xlix 6, 39 Which promise relates probably to their conversion under the Gospel, called in Scripture 'the latter days' W. Lenth

16 — then shall they be built in the midst of my people I will make one Church of Jews and Gentiles, and if those nations shall frame themselves to the true worship of My name, and to the profession of the religion of My people, then will I establish them in My Church, as true and lively members thereof By Hall The acceptance of the believing Gentiles is here clearly intimated, and their union with the Church of God, the middle wall of partition being broken down See concerning the actual accomplishment of this prophecy Eph ii 13—22 Dr Blayney

17 But if they will not obey, &c] Those that will not have God and Christ to reign over them, shall in the end be punished with everlasting destruction See Is ix 12, Luke xix 27, compared with Rev xix 21 H. Lenth

It is never to be believed, that the wicked and the hypocrites shall escape unpunished, or that they are truly happy, because God spares them for a while The threatenings of the Lord have sooner or later their effect nor are they less sure, because He defers the execution of them Odmah

Chap XIII. This chapter contains a single and distinct prophecy, which, under two symbols, a linen girdle left to rot, and all vessels being filled with wine, foretells the utter destruction that was destined to fall upon the whole Jewish nation, including individuals of every rank and denomination, ver 1—21, and the cause of all the evils is assigned in the general corruption and profligacy of manners that prevailed without a prospect of amendment, ver 22 to the end The particular mention of the joint downfall of the king and queen (ver 18) seems to justify the opinion which ascribes this prophecy to the beginning of the reign

Before
CHRIST
about 602

6 And it came to pass after many days, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there

7 Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing

8 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem

10 This evil people, which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

Or
full r nes

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD, that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory but they would not hear of Jehoiakim, whose fate with that of his queen is in like manner noticed together Dr. Blayney.

12 ¶ Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?

Ver. 1 — and put it not in water] God explains at ver 11 what was meant by the symbol of the girdle or sash worn about the loins, namely, His people Israel, whom He purchased and redeemed of old, and attached to Himself by a special covenant that as a girdle serveth for an ornament to the wearer so they should be subservient to the honour and glory of His name But, it is added "they would not hear" or conform to His intentions therefore being polluted with the guilt of their disobedience, they were in that state, and on that very account, to be carried into captivity, conformably to which the Prophet was directed "not to put the girdle in water" that is, not to wash it, but to leave it in that filthiness, which it had contracted in wearings Dr. Blayney

2 — arise, go to Euphrates] God commanded the Prophet to hide the girdle by the bank of Euphrates to signify the Jews being carried captive over that river, called the waters of Babylon, P. cxxxvii 13 Most commentators are of opinion that this was performed by the Prophet only, in a vision it not being probable that God should send him on two such long journeys as are mentioned here, and ver 6, chiefly upon this errand see a like instance chap xiv. 17 Several things are related in Scripture as actually done, which yet were only transacted in a vision H. Lenth

From Jerusalem to the Euphrates is more than 150 leagues

11. — for a name, and for a praise.] That they might have the honour of being called by My name, and that I might be glorified by their shewing forth My truth and praises to the world see chap xxxiii 9. W. Lenth

12 — Every bottle shall be filled with wine &c] My people is like to an earthen bottle; and every bottle shall be filled up to

Refine
CHRIST
about 602

13 Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.

† Heb
a in a not has be th † Heb f m t str in them

14 And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the Lord. I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, but destroy them.

15 ¶ Hear ye, and give ear, be not proud: for the Lord hath spoken.

* Isa 2 22

16 Give glory to the Lord your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountain, and, while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.

* 1 Im 1 2 16 8 18

17 But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride, and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the Lord's flock is carried away captive.

18 Say unto the king and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down for your

the brim with wine. Then shall the hearers take this prophecy in and say, What wonders are these thou tellest us? As if we knew not that the use of bottles is to be filled with wine! Bp Hall

1 — Behold I will fill all the inhabitants &c.] Even thus every inhabitant of this land shall be filled up with the wine of God's wrath, and shall be, as it were, drunken therewith. Bp Hall

God's judgments are often represented under the figure of a cup full of intoxicating liquor: see this metaphor at large pursued chap xxv 15 &c. W Lenth. See Bp Lowth's note on Is li 17.

14 And I will dash them one against another.] I will confound and destroy them all as earthen vessels are broken to pieces when they are dashed one against another. The words allude to the earthen bottles, which were to be filled with wine, ver 12. Compare chap xix 10, 11, xlviii 12. W Lenth.

16 Give glory to the Lord your God, &c.] Confess your faults, (compare Josh vii 19,) and humble yourselves under His mighty hand, before He bring upon you the night of affliction. Light is the emblem of joy, and happy times are expressed by bright and pleasant days, as, on the contrary, troubles and calamities are represented by the night and darkness, when every thing looks melancholy and dismal: see chap iv 23, xv 9, Is v 20, viii 22, Jer li 10, Amos viii 9, 10. W Lenth.

— the dark mountains.] Before the time comes, when ye shall be forced to fly by night upon the mountains, for fear of your enemies. See chap xvi 16, Ps xl 1, 1 Sam vii 16, Matt xvi 16. W Lenth.

— Humble yourselves sit down.] That sitting was a posture of humiliation under circumstances of affliction and distress, see Jud xx 6, John 8 Is in 26. Dr Blayney.

19 The cities of the south shall be shut up,] Judah lying south in respect of Chanaan, which in the next verse is characterized by the name of the north, the "cities of the south" may mean the cities of Judah in general. Or, they may mean those cities in particular which lay in the southern parts of Judah, at the greatest distance from the enemy, which yet were subjected to the common calamity, as well as those which were nearer at hand. Dr Blayney.

20 — where is the flock that was given thee,] Judah seems here

|| principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory. Before CHRIST about 60

19 The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them. Judah shall be carried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive. || Or head of it

20 Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?

21 What wilt thou say when he shall punish thee? for thou hast taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee: shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?

22 ¶ And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare. Chap 11 16 19 || Or shall t

23 Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil. || Heb t au it to be addressed as a person, being asked with a sarcastic sneer what was become of all the numerous multitudes, which God had given her formerly, constituting, like flock of sheep, the national wealth and glory? Dr Blayney.

24 Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.

21 — for thou hast taught them to be captains &c.] Some have understood the alliances, contracted heretofore with the Assyrians by Ahaz, and the conduct of Hezekiah towards the ambassadors of the king of Babylon to be here alluded to as having paved or prepared the way for the future invasion of the country by the Chaldeans. But I rather think the mischievous and wicked manners of the people are principally designed, which put them out of the protection of Almighty God, and rendered them an easy conquest to any enemy that came against them. Thus they taught their enemies to oppress and to be lords over them, against whom but for their own faults, they might have maintained their security and independence. Dr Blayney.

22 — are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare.] Thine enormous crimes deserve no less punishment than that of captivity, when thou shalt be carried away unto a strange country, stripped and bare, without any covering to thy nakedness, for such was the barbarous cruelty of conquerors to their captives. See Is in 17, xx 4, xlvii 3, I am 1 8, iv 26. Nahum iii 5. W Lenth.

23 — then may ye also do good &c.] The meaning of this is that they who are accustomed to do evil will find the work of repentance and reformation to be, not indeed impossible, but extremely difficult. The genius of sublime and figurative language requires such lively expressions, and describes things which are hard to be accomplished as quite impossible. That the words are to be thus understood appears from the whole chapter, which contains terrible denunciations against the Jews, of evils which should come upon them for their impurity. These threats are mixed with exhortations to repentance, and they follow the words,

Can the Ethiopian &c., which must not therefore be taken as a declaration that they could not possibly repent for their sin. The Prophet ought not to have pleased them in the same discourse to amend their ways, and to give glory to the Lord, before He caused darkness, and before their feet stumbled, and they should fall to rise no more. Dr Jortin.

24 — the wind of the wilderness.] See Bishop Lowth's note on Is xxi 1.

Before
CHRIST
about 602

25 This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the LORD, because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood

26 Therefore will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appear 27 I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredom, and thine abominations on the hills in the fields. Woe unto thee, O Jerusalem! wilt thou not be made clean? † when shall it once be?

† Heb
at 2 m n 12

CHAP. XIV

1 The grievous famine 7 causeth Jeremiah to pray 10 The Lord will not be intreated for the people 13 Lying prophets are no excuse for them 17 Jeremiah is moved to complain for them

about 601
† Heb the words of the Lord
or trains

THE word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning † the dearth

2 Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish, they are black unto the ground, and the city of Jerusalem is gone up

3 And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters: they came to the pits, and found no water, they returned with their vessels empty, they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads

Before
CHRIST
about 601

4 Because the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads

5 Yet, the hind also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass

6 And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like dragons, their eyes did fail, because there was no grass

7 O LORD, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's sake: for our backslidings are many, we have sinned against thee.

8 O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry, for a night?

9 Why shouldest thou be as a man astounded, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and † we are called by thy name, leave us not

† Heb thy name is called up n us

2 — thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me.] Or, “of thine inheritance, as the Chaldee paraphrase explains it. The expression is taken from the division of the land of Canaan, by line or measure. W Lenth — trusted in falsehood.] In false gods, who cannot help men in their troubles. See chap x 14. W Lenth

Chap XIV It may be presumed, that this prophecy was delivered in the beginning of Jchoiakim's reign, not long after the foregoing. The six first verses of this chapter foretell great distress that should be occasioned in Judah by means of a long drought. The Prophet useth the name of the people makes a confession of sins, and supplicates the Divine mercy, ver 7—9. God declareth His resolution to punish, and will not be entreated, ver 10—12. Jeremiah complains of false prophets, who amuse the people with contrary predictions, God disclaimeth them, and threatens both them, and the people who listen to them, with sword and famine, ver 13—18. The Prophet renews his supplications in the people's name and behalf, ver 19 to the end of the chapter. Dr Blayney

Ver 1 — concerning the dearth.] Or, “the drought” so the word is rendered by the Greek Chaldee, and Syriack versions, and so it is rendered by our translators also in chap xvii 8. The Hebrew word signifies restraint; that is, “when the heaven is shut up that there is no rain” as the scriptures express it, Deut xi 17, 1 Kings viii 35. JV Lenth That drought was a calamity incident to the land of Israel, and applied as a punishment for sin may be seen from comparing Deut xi 17, xxviii 23, 1 Kings viii 35. Dr Blayney

2 — the gates thereof languish.] The gates of cities, being places of publick resort, where the courts of justice were held, and other common business transacted, seem here to be put for the persons that met there as when we say, “the court is in mourning, as are the persons that attend the court of king's palace.” So by this passage we are to understand, that all the persons who appear in publick are dejected, and put on black or mourning, on account of the national distress. Dr Blayney Or, that they look black and ghastly, and cast themselves down upon the ground out of grief and despair. Compare chap viii 21, xii 18. W Lenth

3 — their little ones.] The meaner people Bp Hall The younger members of their family, or their children. Dr Blayney

— to the pits.] Or, “to the cisterns.” Jerusalem was supplied with water by two lakes or pools, called “the upper pool” and “the lower pool,” see I vii 5, xii 9, whence the water was conveyed in cisterns for the use of the city. W Lenth

— they were ashamed and confounded.] At the disappointment. W Lenth See Job vi 20

— covered their heads.] See note on chap ii 37

4 Because the ground is chapt.] See note at Ps cxlii 6. The Prophet, by speaking of ploughmen, shews that he is speaking of the autumnal state of those countries, and if the cracks are so deep from the common dryness of their summers, what must they be when the rains are withheld, as in the present case, beyond the usual time? Sir J Chardin

5 — forsook it.] Namely, what she had just calved, (Dr Blayney) to seek for sustenance in some other place. W Lenth

6 — they snuffed up the wind like dragons.] They sucked in the air for want of water to cool their internal heat. Bochart observes that the comparison to dragons or great serpents is very just, for Elian describes these animals as standing daily for some hours with their heads erect and their mouths wide open towards the sky, and drawing in the air. Bochart adds that the eyes of the wild asses are properly noticed, as being by nature extremely sharp-sighted. But for want of nourishment these must fail and be exhausted. Dr Blayney

7 — do thou it for thy name's sake.] Deal not with us according to our deservings, but so as not to give occasion to strangers to speak evil of Thy name, to question Thy power, wisdom, or goodness. So God says, Ezek xx 9 14, 22 41, that amidst the various provocations He had received, He had still acted uniformly upon that principle. Dr Blayney

8 — why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land.] Thou that wert wont to dwell and continue among thy people why shouldest Thou now be as a stranger that passes through the land, and lodges there a night, and away? Bp Hall As one who, having no permanent interest in the land, is little concerned for its welfare. Dr Blayney

Before
CHRIST
about 601

10 ¶ Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the LORD doth not accept them, he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins

* Chap 7
16 & 11 11
Exod 22
10
* Prov 1 28 Isa 1 17
chap 11 11
Ezek 8 18
Mic 3 4

11 Then said the LORD unto me, <sup>4</sup> Play not for this people for their good

12 <sup>5</sup> When they fast, I will not hear their cry, and when they offer burnt offering and an oblation, I will not accept them but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence

13 ¶ Then said I, Ah, Lord God! be hold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine, but I will give you † assured peace in this place

† Heb peace of truth

14 Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name <sup>6</sup> I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart

* Chap 29
21 & 27 15
& 29 8, 9

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land, By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed

16 And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword, and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets &c] The ministers of the Lord ought seriously to reflect upon what is here said of the crime and punishment of those false prophets who promised peace to the Jews at the very time their ruin was approaching, that it may be a warning to them never to flatter sinners nor lull them into security, but to speak always with zeal and sincerity what God has commanded. And the people ought likewise to learn from hence to be taken diligently to those who declare the truth to them sincerely and without flattery. Ostwald

17 — the virgin daughter of my people] Those cities are called virgins which never came into a conqueror's hands. In the margin the Prophet here calls Jerusalem "a virgin, because she had been hitherto under God's immediate protection, and preserved by Him from all attempts of her enemies' conquest. Anno 2. The dissolution of a government or body politic is called a breach, by way of allusion to the breaking or dis-junction of the limbs of a human body see Chap viii 21, I am 1 15. W Lenth

18 — both the prophet and the priest go about] Or, wander into a land that they now not. The priests and prophets confirmed the people in their corruptions and impenitence, thereby seeking to advance their own interest and authority see Chap ii 8, v 31. To which sense the marginal reading renders the former part of the sentence thus "The prophet and the priest make merchandise against a land and now they receive the reward their daughters for I will pour their wickedness upon them

Before
CHRIST
about 601

17 ¶ Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them, <sup>4</sup> Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow

* Chap 13
17
I am 1 16
& 2 13

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine <sup>1</sup> yea, both the prophet and the priest go about into a land that they know not

Or male merchandise a mist a kind and man acknowledge it not
chap 1 31

19 Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul loathed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? <sup>2</sup> we looked for peace, and there is no good, and for the time of healing, and behold trouble <sup>1</sup>

chap 8 1

20 We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers for <sup>3</sup> we have sinned against thee

* Psal 106

21 Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory remember, break not thy covenant with us

Dan 9 8

22 Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee for thou hast made all these things

CHAP XV

1 The utter rejection and manifold judgments of the Jews.
10 Jeremiah, complaining of their spite, receiveth a of their prevarications, by going into captivity with those they have misled. See ver 15. W Lenth

21 — do not disgrace the throne of thy glory] Jerusalem is called the "city of God" Ps xlviii 1, lxxxvii 3 as He was in a regular manner the King of the Jews, and this was His royal city, or chief seat of His kingdom see Chap iii 17. But the words are chiefly to be understood of the temple, and the Prophet beseeches God not to give that up to be profaned by infidels the place which He had chosen for His peculiar residence where He sat between the cherubims as upon a throne see the note upon Is lvi 1. W Lenth

Chap XV To the supplication at the close of the preceding chapter God replies by declaring, that not even the intercession of His favoured servants Moses and Samuel should divert Him from executing His purpose of vengeance against Judah which is denounced in terms of great severity, ver 1—9. At ver 10 Jeremiah breaks out into a passionate exclamation, on account of the odium and persecution that was brought upon him. God reproves him for speaking slightly of the Divine and the benefit of which he had already experienced, and threatens him with the loss of his fortune, as a punishment for his sins, ver 11—14. The Prophet deprecates the ill effects of God's displeasure, representing the cheerful readiness with which he had obeyed the Divine call, and the continual uneasiness he had felt in contemplating the melancholy subject of his commission, ver 15—18. At

Before
CHRIST
about 601

promise for himself, 12 and a threatening for them 15 His prayer, 19 and receiveth a gracious promise

* Ezek. 14
14 * Exod. 42
11 12
1 Sam. 7
9

THEN said the LORD unto me, "Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth."

2 And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD,

* Chap. 4 11
Lech. 11 9

"Such as are for death, to death, and such as are for the sword, to the sword, and such as are for the famine, to the famine, and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity."

1 Lev. 26
14 † Heb.
famil.

3 And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy."

† Heb.
I will in there for a 7 m. m.
† Deut. 8
chap. 1
* 1 Kings 21 11
† Heb. wash of thy peace

4 And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem."

5 For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside to ask how thou doest?

urances of protection and security are renewed to him, on condition of obedience and fidelity on his part ver 19 to the end Dr Blayney

Ver — Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, &c.] Moses obtained pardon for the people after their sin of making the golden calf, Exod xxxii 31 and again after their despising the promise of land Numb xiv 20 Samuel's intercession prevailed for their deliverance out of the hands of the Philistines, 1 Sam vii 9 and these two persons are mentioned together, as remarkably prevalent by their prayers Psal xcix 6, 8 But here God saith that, if these very persons were alive, and in that near attendance to Him which they formerly enjoyed, (for that is the import of the phrase "to stand before Him," see ver 19, chap xviii 20 Deut x 8 1 Kings xvii 1,) yet even their prayers should not avert His judgments from His people compare Ezek xiv 11 W Lenth

2 — for death.] It is obvious from the foregoing enumeration, that death here means the pestilence See chap xiv 12 Dr Blayney

4 And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth.] Several Jews were carried captive into other countries, besides Chaldea, see note on chap xii 14 others turned voluntary exiles, to avoid the miseries they saw coming upon their country, see chap xi 11 The words here are taken out of Deut xxviii 25, where Moses threatens them with a general dispersion over the world which received its utmost completion after the destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans W Lenth

6 — I am weary with repenting.] When God suspends the execution of His judgments, He is said to "repent of the evil" He had threatened see chap xviii 8 This He had done so often, that He is represented as a man whose patience is at last quite tired out, it being to no purpose to withhold His hand any longer from striking Compare Is. xlii 24, Hos. xii 14, Mal ii 17 W Lenth

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land.] I will toss and scatter them in all the defended cities of the land, as corn is shaken and dispersed in the winnowing Bp Hall

6 Thou hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee, I am weary with repenting.

Before
CHRIST
about 601

7 And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land, I will bereave them of children, I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways

|| Or whatsoever is dear

8 Then widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noonday I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city

|| Or
and the mother of the city

9 She that hath borne seven languisheth she hath given up the ghost; her sun is gone down while it was yet day she hath been ashamed and confounded and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD

|| Or
and the mother of the city

10 ¶ Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury, yet every one of them doth curse me

|| Job 1,
chap 20 1

11 The LORD said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant, verily I will cause the

|| Or I will visit the enemy for this

8 — against the mother of the young men.] The nation in general is called "the mother of each Jew in particular, Isaiah l 1, Hosea ii 2—5, or, as Lowth thinks, Jerusalem Abp Secker

— a spoiler.] Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon is undoubtedly here designed In the margin, the preceding word is rendered "a young man" this would very properly characterize the same person For Josephus cites from Herodotus, the Chaldean historian, a passage to the following purport, "that Nabopolassar king of Babylon, hearing that the provinces of Egypt, Assyria, and Phoenice had revolted, and being himself infirm from age, sent a part of his forces under his son Nebuchadrezzar, then in the prime of youth, by whom these provinces were again reduced This was the expedition said to have been undertaken by him in the third year of Jehoiakim king of Judah in the course of which, after having defeated the Egyptian army at Carchemish, he laid siege to Jerusalem, took, and plundered it carrying away much spoil and many captives to Babylon See chap xvi 2, Dan i 1—9, 2 Kings xxiv 1 Dr Blayney

9 She that hath borne seven.] "Seven" is put for many and the multitude of the inhabitants or children of Jerusalem, the mother city, is here alluded to Dr Blayney

10 — that thou hast borne me a man of strife &c.] The Prophet here complains of the opposition he met with from his countrymen, for speaking unwelcome truths, which had occasioned him so much uneasiness, as if he had engaged in the most invidious of all occupations, and the most likely to engender strife, that of lending and borrowing upon usury Dr Blayney

The Jews were forbidden to take usury of their brethren Deut xxiii 19, especially of the poor, Exod xxii 25, which was thought so great an oppression, that it made the man who was guilty of it hated and cursed by every one The Prophet saith, this was just his own case, every body was his enemy for delivering those messages which he had received from God W Lenth

11 The Lord said Verily it shall be well with thy remnant &c.] The sense is, That the Prophet himself, his relations and family,

Before
CHRIST
about 601

enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction

12 Shall iron break the northern iron and the steel?

* Chap 1
9

13 Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the <sup>1</sup> spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders

1 Deut
32

14 And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not for a <sup>1</sup> fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you

15 ¶ O LORD, thou knowest remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors, take me not away in thy long-suffering know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke

* Ezek 1
Rev 10 9
† Heb thy name is called upon me

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them, and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart for † I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts

17 Is it not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced, I sat alone because of thy hand for thou hast filled me with indignation

* Chap 30
1

18 Why is my <sup>1</sup> pain perpetual, and my should escape the evils coming upon the Jewish nation when the residue of them should be delivered to the sword ver 9 W Lomth

12 Shall iron break the northern iron and the steel? The meaning probably is, Shall the enemy crush or overpower one whom I have made like the hardest iron or brass? alluding to what God said to the Prophet when He first engaged him in His service, chap 1 18 "Iron from the north is perhaps justly supposed to denote, in a primary sense that species of hardened iron, or steel, called in Greek Chalybs, from the Chalybes, a people bordering on the Euxine sea, and consequently lying to the north of Judea, by whom the art of tempering steel is said to have been discovered Strabo speaks of this people as being known in former times by the name of the Chalybes, but afterwards called Chaldaei and mentions their iron mines These however were a different people from the Chaldeans, who were united with the Babylonians Dr Blayney

13 — without price, That is, not making thee any compensation, but inflicting these losses upon thee as a punishment for thy sins Dr Blayney

14 — take me not away in thy long-suffering The sense may be according to our old version, 'take me not away in the continuance of Thine anger the Prophet seeming to think, that during a long course of God's anger against His people, he himself however innocent might naturally be involved in those sufferings which were intended for the punishment of the guilty Dr Blayney

16 Thy words were found, and I did eat them As soon as I received and understood Thy word, and the messages Thou didst deliver to me, I treasured them up in my memory, I meditated upon them and did inwardly digest them It was a pleasure to me to think I should be an instrument of conveying Thy command to my brethren and that I should have the honour of being called Thy prophet or messenger The receiving of God's word, by which the soul is nourished, is elsewhere compared to corporeal food see Ezek 3 1, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100 W Lomth

17 I sat not in the assembly of the mockers The word translated mockers is more properly rendered "them that make merry, chap xxx 19, xxxi 4 In the preceding verse the wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail? † H 1

Before
CHRIST
about 601
† H 1
or not sure?

19 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth let them return unto thee, but return not thou unto them

20 And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brier wall and they shall fight against thee, but † they shall not prevail against thee for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the LORD

Chap 1
1 A 6
1 Chap 20
11

21 And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible

CHAP XVI

1 The prophet under the types of abstaining from marriage from houses of mourning and feasting foretold the utter ruin of the Jews 10 because they were worse than their fathers 14 Their return from captivity shall be stranger than their deliverance out of Egypt 16 God will doubly recompense their idolatry

Prophet had declared that he had felt great satisfaction at first in being appointed to the office of God's messenger But his joy was not of long continuance the tenour of his commission was such as to affect him like St Paul and much upon the same account with "great heaviness and continual sorrow of heart Rom ix 2 so that, renouncing all cheerful society, he indulged a solitary melancholy in prospect of the dire effects of God's indignation against his unhappy country Dr Blayney

God's judgments, as they were represented to the Prophets, often raised such dreadful ideas in their mind, as to affect them in an extraordinary manner, especially if their threatenings concerned their own country, or the church of God see chap xxiii 9 Ezek iii 11 Dan vii 28 Hab iii 2, 16 W Lomth

— because of thy hand God's hand may be understood either of His judgments, which, being denounced by the Prophet, might be compared to a "hand stretched out and just ready to strike or else of the prophetic impulse, which was strong upon Jeremiah, and in a manner forced him to be the messenger of evil tidings compare 2 Kings iii 15, Is viii 11, Ezek i 3, iii 11 W Lomth

18 — wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar The words might be better translated "Wilt thou be altogether unto me as a disappointment, and as waters that fail" namely, that dry up and disappoint the thirsty traveller The Prophet means, that God had in a manner deserted him for a time and left him to tangle with difficulties unforeseen or unexpected thereby disappointing in some measure his hopes of better success Presently however, as if he had said too much he corrects himself and expresses his entire confidence in the Divine promises to support and strengthen him See ver 19—21 Dr Waterland

— as waters that fail? Compare Job vi 15 19 — If thou return, then will I bring thee again, &c If thou bethink thyself of this thine impatience, and of thy too great regard to this murmuring and disobedient people, I will soon visit thee, that they shall be forced to acknowledge thee My faithful servant, and, if thou do wisely make difference betwixt erroneous doctrines and the truth, and betwixt godly and profane persons, then will I admit thee to be My mouth unto My people, do not thou give way to them in their various courses, but let them, if it may be, come in to thee Bp Hall

Before
CHRIST
about 601

THE word of the LORD came also unto me, saying,

2 Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land,

4 They shall die of a grievous death, they shall not be lamented, neither shall they be buried, but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and then carcasses shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the LORD, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament nor bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, even lovingkindness and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead, neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days: the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

10 ¶ And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law, 12 And ye have done worse than your fathers, for, behold, ye walk every one after the imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me.

13 Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers, and there shall ye serve other gods day and night, where I will not shew you favour.

14 ¶ Therefore, behold, the day cometh, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt,

Before
CHRIST
about 601

1 Sam 21 7 & chap 10 1 & 26 13

Chap 1
1 & 11

Chap 7

Or still n 5

Deut 1
6 & 11

Chap 23
7, 8

a custom derived from the Jews, and that healths were also drunk to the survivors of the family. These latter mean, no doubt, or were taken from, "the cup of consolation." In like manner he explains (as many other commentators have also done) "the bread of men," mentioned Ezek xxiv 17, is signifying "the bread of others," the bread sent to mourners, the bread that the neighbours, friends, and relations sent. Dr Blayney

1. — there shall ye serve other gods] The opportunities of frequenting the public worship of the true God shall be taken from you, as a just judgment for your neglect of His service in your own country, and you shall be exposed to the peril of committing idolatry, and being seduced by the Chaldeans to the worship of their idols. Compare Deut iv 28, xxviii 36. 1 Sam xxvi 19. W Lenth

11 Therefore behold the days come, saith the Lord] The passage, rendered "therefore, sometimes signifies nevertheless." (W Lenth) here it seems more properly to signify "after this." Dr Blayney

God here gives the people notice of a future restoration, on purpose to guard them during their exile from falling into idolatry through despair by letting them see they had still a prospect of recovering God's wonted favour and protection. Dr Blayney

— it shall no more be said, The Lord liveth, &c.] The days come, wherein God shall not be celebrated so much by the memory of His deliverance of His people out of Egypt, which was long since done, as by the fresh remembrance of the great mercy which He hath wrought for them, in bringing them back from their captivity in Babylon, and in all those lands whither they were driven. Bp Hall

Chap XVI The prophecy which begins here, is continued to the end of the 18th verse of the next chapter. It may have been delivered as well as those of the preceding chapters, towards the beginning of Jehoiakim's evil reign.

The Prophet is forbidden to marry or beget children, because of the judgments that were about to fall upon all the inhabitants of the land both old and young ver 1—4. For the like reasons he is denied not to join with any of his neighbours either in their mourning or in their convivial mirth, ver 5—9. He shews, that their calamities were the effect of their apostacy and disobedience, for which God would drive them into exile, and give them no quarter, till He had fully requited their wickedness, ver 10—15. But their future restoration is immediately foretold, ver 11—15, as is also the conversion of the Gentiles, ver 19—21. Dr Blayney

Ver 6. — neither shall men lament for them] The thoughts of men shall be wholly taken up with bewailing themselves: their own calamities shall be so great, they shall be unconcerned for the misfortunes of others. W Lenth

— nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald] See the notes on the places referred to in the margin.

7 Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning] If this translation be correct, it is only a repetition of what went before. The translation in the margin, "neither shall men break bread for them," is much to be preferred. As to the custom alluded to see the note on 2 Sam iii 35. To this custom the writer of the book of Job refers, when, amongst other good exhortations to his son, he directs him to "pour out his bread on the burial of the just, Job iv 7. Sir J Chardin tells us, that "the oriental Christians still make banquets of the same kind, by

Before
CHRIST
about 601

15 But, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 ¶ Behold, I will send for many fishes, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

* Job 34 21
I rov 21
chap 32 19

17 For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquity, and then sin double, because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O LORD, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our

16 Behold, I will send for many fishes &c.] But in the mean time, their desolation shall be grievous and universal. I will call for the Chaldeans who shall be as so many fishers to drag them out of their good land: and as so many hunters, to chase them from their houses, and to drive them from all their refuges. Bp Hall

Iniquities and oppressions are elsewhere represented under the metaphors of "fishers and hunters" see Gen x 9 Amos iv 2, Hab i 14 15 because they use all the methods of open force and secret wiles, frequently compared to nets in order to make men their prey see Ezek xii 1 Hos v 1 These two similitudes imply, that the Chaldeans shall make an entire conquest and booty of the whole land, of its inhabitants and their riches: and what shall escape one party shall fall into the hands of another. W Lenth

18 — I will recompense their iniquity — double.] Not double of what they deserved, but double of what, that is much greater than, would have been inflicted on the heathen for the like offences. Compare Rev xviii 6 Parkhurst See the note on Is xl 2

— with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.] With the carcases of their abominable sacrifices, which they have made to their idols, and with those very shameful idols to which they have sacrificed. Bp Hall Idols are elsewhere called "unclean" not only because they are without life, but also because of their filthiness and hatredness in the eyes of God see Lev xxvi 31 Ezek xlii 7 9 W Lenth

19 O Lord — the Gentiles shall come unto thee &c.] The more fully to demonstrate the absurdity of forsaking the true God and apostatizing to idolatry, the Prophet foretells that the time will come when the Gentiles shall be ashamed of the idolatry of which they and their forefathers have been so long guilty, and will publicly confess their sin, and address themselves in all their wants to the true God, as their only refuge and protection. W Lenth

19 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?] This seems to be a reply from God, accounting for what was said before: that the heathens had no benefit from the objects in which they placed their religious confidence by asking whether it was likely that men could create gods giving them power and perfections which they had not in themselves? Dr Blayney

21 Therefore, behold, I will this once cause them to know,] The fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit

Before
CHRIST
about 601

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?

21 Therefore, behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know mine hand and my might, and they shall know that my name is The LORD

CHAP XVII

1 The captivity of Judah for her sin 5 Trust in man is cursed 7 God is blessed 9 The deceitful heart cannot deceive God 12 The salvation of God 1 The prophet complains of the noxious of his prophecy 10 He is sent to renew the covenant in hallowing the sabbath

THE sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars.

2 Whilst their children remember them, altars and then groves by the green tree upon the high hills.

3 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures to phrase, which our translation renders "this once" may be translated "at this time," as it is 2 Sam xvii 7. If we understand the verse of the Gentiles mentioned in the foregoing verse, the sense is, that God will, at the time foretold ver 19 exert His power in an extraordinary manner for their conversion: compare Isa liii 10. If we apply the words to the Jews they import that He will manifest His power in bringing upon them all the evils already threatened against them: and they should know that He is the LORD, a fulfiller of all His threatenings as well as performer of His promises. Compare Ezek vi 7 xii 20, xxiv 21 &c. Lenth See the note on Exod vi 7

Chap XVII. In this chapter the Prophet describes in the four first verses the attachment of Judah to idolatry and foretells the fatal consequences. He contrasts the wretched condition of him, who resteth his trust on man with the blessedness of one that trusteth in God: and illustrates both by apt comparisons ver 5—8. He sheweth that he the human heart ever so wily, God can detect, and will finally punish its double dealing ver 9—11. He acknowledgeth that sure salvation cometh from God and from Him only ver 12—14. And, complaining of those that scoffed at his predictions, he prayeth for the Divine countenance and support against them ver 15—18.

The remaining part of the chapter is taken up with a distinct prophecy relative to the strict observance of the sabbath day, which the Prophet was sent, most probably immediately after the delivery of the foregoing, to proclaim aloud in all the gates of Jerusalem, as a matter which concerned the conduct of every individual and the general happiness of the whole. Dr Blayney

Ver 1 — with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond.] This is spoken metaphorically, and is meant to denote that idolatry was indelibly fixed in their affections and memory, as much as if it had been engraved with instruments, capable of making the strongest and most durable impression, upon their hearts, as upon a writing tablet, and upon their altars, so as to be for ever present before their eyes. Compare Deut xi 18—20, Prov viii 17 &c. Dr Blayney

3 O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance. Rather, "O My mountain, I will give thy substance in the field." Nations and princes of great power and eminence are figuratively called "mountains" in regard to their strength and elevation see chap li 25, Isa xli 15 Zech iv 7. Judah is there

Before
CHRIST
about 601

the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.

Job
in thyself

4 And thou, even thyself, shalt discontinue to be the heritage that I gave thee, and I will cause it to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD

6 For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited

4 Pal 12
8 11 12 1 1 rov 11 0 1 sa 0 18
1 sal 1 1

7 Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is

8 For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green, and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit

fore styled God's mountain, as having been chosen by Him, and thereby raised to a degree of elevation above all other people See chap xxi 23 Dr Blayney

6 — he shall be like the heath &c.] That man shall be like the heath in a dry wilderness, that shall not partake of the sweet showeis when they fall Bp Hall

— in a salt land] Saltiness in Hebrew expresses barren ground, see Deut xxix 23 Ps cvii 34 Zeph ii 9 W Louth

The borders of the Dead sea, and of the Red sea, and part of Arabia Petraea, were barren from containing a quantity of various salts Calmet

9 ¶ The heart is deceitful above all things, &c.] The words were spoken by Jeremiah concerning his own countrymen, not all of them, probably, but the more corrupted part of the nation, who to their other vices had added a consummate hypocrisy, and of the hearts of these men he draws a most hideous picture, and describes them under three bad characters The first is fraud and treachery "the heart is deceitful above all things" The second is excessive malice it is "desperately wicked" The third is deep dissimulation and hypocrisy, expressed in the way of question, "who can know it?" A worse representation than this can hardly be made of any creature and therefore it must not be supposed that this was intended to be a description of human nature, or of the heart of man in general, but rather of the most habitual and depraved sort of sinners Dr Jortin

— who can know it?] The meaning is, that the wicked intentions of bad men are so covered over with fair appearances, that none but God can see through the disguise, as it follows in the next verse ¶ The Lord search the heart Abp Sharp

10 ¶ The Lord search the heart, I try the reins,] Signifying, the most secret thoughts and motions of the soul these God is said to "search" and "try," not as if it were a work of labour and difficulty to the Divine knowledge to penetrate the hearts of men, and to dive into their thoughts, but to signify to us the perfection and exactness of the Divine knowledge as, when men would know a thing exactly, they search into every part of it, and examine every thing narrowly On the same account He is said to "weigh the spirits" of men, Prov xvi 2, intimating that He has that perfect knowledge of the secrets of men's hearts, which men have of those things that they weigh in a balance with the greatest exactness Abp Tillotson

Before
CHRIST
about 601

9 ¶ The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked who can know it?

1 Sam 16
7 1 sal 1
chap 11
& 20 1

10 I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings

11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not, so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool

Or
gathereth riches which sh shall not be a fool

12 ¶ A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary

13 O LORD, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living waters.

h chap
13

14 Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed, save me, and I shall be saved for thou art my praise

15 ¶ Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now

1 Sam 5 14

11 As the partridge sitteth on eggs &c.] It is here said of the partridge, rather than of any other bird, that it "sitteth and hatcheth not, because, the partridge's nest being made on the ground, the eggs are frequently broken by men or other animals, and the bird is often obliged to quit them for fear of cattle dogs, or sportsmen, which chills the eggs, and makes them unfruitful Run and moisture also may spoil them Calmet, Parkhurst

— and at his end shall be a fool] In the end shall find that he hath been a fool Bp Hall So God calls the rich man, Luke xii 20 who was cut off in the midst of his life, when he promised himself the enjoyment of many years IV Tenth

12 A glorious high throne from the beginning &c.] As in the preceding verses was set forth the vain dependence of him who seeks to advance himself by indirect methods, so here we are taught the solid foundation, which he builds upon, who has recourse to the Divine blessing, and seeks to recommend himself to the favour of that Being, to whom Israel was taught to look up for support, and whose kingdom from all eternity ruleth over all Dr Blayney

13 — they that depart from me shall be written in the earth,] They that forsake My laws, saith God, and their reliance upon Me, shall not be registered among My people, nor shall their names be written in heaven, or in the book of life compare Ezek xiii 9, Ps lxxix 28, Luke x 20, Phil iv 3, Ezra ii 59, II Tenth

14 Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed, &c.] It is from Thee only that I expect comfort and relief in all my troubles and afflictions see ver 15, 16, 17 And as I acknowledge that all the blessings I enjoy come from Thee, so it is to Thee that I return all thanks and praise compare Ps cix 1 cxlviii 14 Deut x 21 The expression, "Save me, and I shall be saved," is much the same with that in chap xvi 18 "Turn Thou me, and I shall be turned," and both of them import, that it is the Divine assistance and blessing alone which can crown human endeavours with success See the note there W Louth

15 Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the Lord?] This is an objection common in the mouths of infidels and libertines, that God doth not speedily fulfil His promises and threatenings, so as to give them ocular demonstration of their certainty see Is v 19, Amos v 18, 2 Pet. iii. 4. This was objected against the truth of Jeremiah's prophecy by the unprincipled persons of the age W. Louth

Before
CHRIST
about 601
Chap 1 4, † Heb after the

16 As for me, <sup>1</sup> I have not hastened from being a pastor † to follow thee neither have I desired the woeful day, thou knowest that which came out of my lips was right before thee

17 Be not a terror unto me thou art my hope in the day of evil

† Heb
break them with a double blow each
Chap 11
20

18 Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed bring upon them the day of evil, and † destroy them with double destruction

19 ¶ Thus said the LORD unto me, Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem,

20 And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates

† Heb
17
19

21 Thus saith the LORD, Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem,

22 Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I <sup>o</sup> commanded your fathers

† Heb
20 21
22
23 24 25 26 27 28 29
30 31 32 33
34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42
43
44 45 46
47 48
49
50 51 52 53
54
55 56 57 58 59 60
61
62
63
64
65 66
67 68
69 70
71 72 73
74
75 76
77 78
79 80
81
82
83
84
85 86
87
88
89
90
91
92
93
94
95 96
97
98 99 100
101
102 103
104
105
106
107
108 109
110
111
112 113
114
115
116
117 118
119
120
121
122
123
124
125
126
127
128
129
130
131
132
133
134
135
136
137
138
139
140
141
142
143
144
145
146
147 148
149
150
151
152
153
154 155
156
157
158 159
160
161
162
163
164
165
166
167
168
169
170
171
172
173
174 175
176
177
178
179
180
181
182
183
184
185
186
187
188
189
190
191
192
193
194
195
196 197
198
199
200 201
202
203
204
205
206 207
208
209
210
211
212 213 214
215
216
217
218
219
220
221
222
223
224
225
226
227
228
229
230
231
232
233
234
235
236
237 238
239
240
241
242
243 244
245
246
247
248
249
250 251
252 253
254
255
256
257
258
259
260
261
262
263
264
265
266
267
268
269
270
271
272
273
274
275
276
277
278
279
280
281 282
283
284
285
286
287 288
289
290
291
292
293
294
295
296
297
298
299
300
301
302
303
304
305
306
307
308 309
310
311
312
313
314
315
316
317
318
319
320
321
322
323
324 325
326
327 328
329
330
331
332
333
334
335
336
337
338
339
340
341 342
343
344
345
346
347
348
349
350
351
352
353
354 355
356
357
358 359
360
361
362
363 364 365
366
367
368
369
370
371
372 373
374
375
376 377
378
379
380
381
382 383
384
385
386
387
388
389
390
391
392
393
394
395
396
397
398 399
400
401
402
403
404
405
406
407
408
409
410
411
412
413
414
415
416
417
418
419
420
421
422
423 424
425
426
427
428
429 430 431
432
433
434
435
436
437 438
439
440
441
442
443 444 445
446
447
448
449
450
451
452
453
454
455
456 457 458
459
460
461
462 463
464
465
466
467
468 469
470
471
472
473
474
475
476 477
478
479
480
481
482
483
484
485 486
487
488
489
490
491
492 493
494
495
496
497
498
499
500 501 502
503 504
505
506
507
508
509
510
511
512
513
514
515
516
517
518
519
520 521
522
523
524
525
526
527
528
529
530
531
532
533
534
535
536
537
538
539 540
541
542
543
544
545
546 547
548
549
550
551
552
553
554
555
556
557
558
559
560
561 562
563
564
565
566
567
568
569 570
571
572
573
574 575
576
577
578
579
580 581
582
583
584 585
586
587
588
589
590
591
592
593
594
595
596
597
598
599
600
601
602
603
604
605
606
607
608
609
610
611
612
613
614 615
616
617
618
619
620
621 622
623 624 625
626
627
628 629
630 631
632 633
634
635
636 637
638
639
640
641
642 643 644
645
646
647
648
649
650
651
652
653 654
655
656 657 658
659
660 661
662
663
664 665
666
667
668
669
670 671
672
673
674
675
676 677
678
679
680
681
682 683
684 685
686
687
688
689
690
691
692
693
694
695
696
697
698
699
700
701
702 703 704
705
706
707
708
709 710
711
712
713
714
715
716
717
718
719
720
721
722
723
724 725
726
727
728
729
730
731
732
733 734
735
736 737
738
739
740
741 742
743
744
745 746
747 748
749
750
751
752
753
754
755
756
757
758 759
760
761
762
763
764
765
766
767
768
769
770
771
772
773
774
775
776
777
778 779
780
781 782
783
784
785 786
787 788
789 790 791
792
793 794 795 796
797 798
799 800
801
802 803 804
805
806
807
808
809
810
811
812
813
814
815
816
817
818
819
820
821
822
823
824
825
826 827
828
829
830
831
832
833
834 835
836
837
838
839
840
841
842
843
844
845 846
847
848
849
850
851
852
853 854
855
856
857
858
859
860
861 862
863 864
865
866
867
868
869
870
871
872 873
874
875
876
877
878
879 880
881
882
883 884
885
886
887
888
889
890
891 892
893
894
895
896
897
898 899
900
901
902
903
904
905
906
907 908 909 910
911
912
913
914
915
916
917
918
919 920
921
922
923 924
925
926
927
928
929
930
931
932
933
934
935
936
937 938
939
940
941
942
943
944
945 946 947
948
949
950
951
952
953
954
955
956
957
958
959
960
961 962
963
964
965
966 967
968
969
970
971
972
973
974
975
976
977 978
979
980
981 982
983
984
985
986
987
988
989
990
991
992 993
994
995
996
997
998
999
1000

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction

24 And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein,

25 ¶ Then shall there enter into the gates of this city kings and princes upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem and this city shall remain for ever

26 And they shall come from the city of Judah, and from the places about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountain and from the south, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise, unto the house of the LORD

27 But if ye will not be taken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day, then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched

CHAP XVIII.

1 Under the type of a potter is shewed God's absolute power in disposing of nations 11 Judah's threatened to Judah for her strange revolt 18 Jeremiah propheth against his conspirators

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

2 Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words

3 Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought a work on the wheels

— riding in chariots and on horses ] This is play upon a description of a state of peace and security, compare ver 27 taken in any other sense, it must stand in contradiction to the law Deut xxv. 16, and to many other texts in Scripture Bp Shallock

26 — from the plain and from the mountains and from the south ] These divisions of the country, belonging to the tribe of Judah may be found Josh xv. 21 33 48 and these, together with the tribe of Benjamin, make up the whole kingdom of Judah, when taken separate from the kingdom of Israel, or of the ten tribes See the same enumeration, chap xxxii. 44 Dr Blayney

Chap XVIII The prophecies and transactions, contained in this and the two following chapters successively, hang together and must be referred to some part of the three first years of the reign of Jehoiakim The Prophet is shewn, first, under the type of the potter God's absolute authority over nations and kingdoms to regulate and alter their condition at His own discretion, ver 1—10 He is then directed to prophesy, to avert the evil designed them by repentance and amendment and upon their refusal to charge them with the guilt of their detested revolt and to foretell their destruction, ver 11—17 They conspire against him he protesteth against their unmerited and ungrateful persecution of him, and calleth for justice against them Dr Blayney

16 As for me, I have not hastened from being a pastor &c ] It is Thou, O Lord that hast called me, and I have not dared to beaverse from following Thee in that charge which Thou hast laid upon me, neither have I been ambitious and desirous of this sad and busy task, as Thou well knowest, and that which I have spoken is Thy true message, and no other Bp Hall

19 — the gate of the children of the people, ] This probably means the gate most frequented by the people, being that nearest the palace, where the kings of Judah held their most solemn courts of judicature Dr Blayney

20 — Hear ye the word of the Lord, ye kings of Judah, ] Compare chap xix. 3 The words are directed both to the king himself and likewise to the princes, or those of the blood royal see ver 21 The word "king," in the Hebrew language signifies any person in authority see chap xxv. 20, &c, 41, li. 28 H I onth

23 Then shall there enter into the gates of this city &c ] Compare chap xxii. 4 Hence it appears, that the judgments denounced against Jerusalem, at least as far as they threatened the city with utter destruction, were not irreversible And from the Prophet's advice to Zedekiah, chap xxxviii. 17, it may be concluded that if the king had listened to that counsel, the city would not have been destroyed and he himself might have continued a tributary king under Nebuchadnezzar It is true that in several other chapters of this prophecy God, upon foresight of the Jews' impenitence, pronounces a premeditated sentence upon them see the note on chap iv. 26 H I onth

Before
CHRIST
about 605
Or that was made as a kind of the potter
He returned and Isa 53
Wisd 15 7
Rom 9 20

4 And the vessel || that he made of clay was marred in the hand of the potter so he made it in another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it

Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

6 O house of Israel, I cannot I do with you as this potter saith the LORD Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel

7 At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it,

8 If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it,

10 If it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them

11 ¶ Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I have evil against you, and devise a device against you I return ye now every one from his evil way, and make you ways and your doings good

12 And they said, There is no hope but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart

13 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Ask ye now among the heathen, who hath heard such things the virgin of Israel hath done a very horrible thing

14 Will a man leave || the snow of Lebanon which cometh from the rock of the field or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken?

15 Because my people hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity, and they have caused them to stumble in their ways from the ancient paths, to walk in paths, in a way not cast up,

16 To make their land desolate, and perpetual hissing, every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and wag his head

17 I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy, I will shew them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity

Before
CHRIST
about 605
Or King 17 13
chap
5 5 5
3 1
Chap
25
Chap 2
10

Or 17 13
chap
5 5 5
3 1
Chap
25
Chap 2
10

Ver 6 — cannot I do with you as this potter? The comparison of a potter here proposed does not signify that God has created men to destroy them, or render them unhappy, by the mere effect of His will, but the design of it was, to teach the Jews that they were in the hands of God, and that He was able to punish them, and afterwards to restore them in the same manner as a potter, who thinking to make a good vessel and not succeeding, might break it, and make another with the same clay. Thus God Himself explains it when He says that if a nation, which He had purposed to destroy, turned from its iniquity, He would not destroy it, and on the contrary, if a nation, which He had determined to destroy, did not hearken to His voice, He would withdraw His favour from that nation. Ostervald

7 At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, &c.] God does not threaten evil, because He is resolved to inflict it, rather He threatens it that we may by our repentance prevent it, and so He may not inflict it. "He foretelleth, saith St Chrysostom, what He will bring upon us, for this very purpose, that He may not bring it upon us, and witheth before He striketh, to make us careful to avoid the stroke. God sends His servants the Prophets, to threaten vengeance against sinners, not thereby to drive them from hope of mercy, but to draw them to repentance and humiliation. For as it to be accounted among the list of God's mercies, that when He is angry in His just displeasure over whom us in the year of sin, yet He forbearth and forewarneth, and that which was threateneth us, before He punish, that, if we will, He may do better to us than He hath said, g. He may do better to us than He hath said, h. Shall we upon us what He hath threatened. Sp Sanderson says, "The consequence of the evil." See the notes on Gen vi 6. "Pharaoh will repent of the good &c." From this and the foregoing we may infer, that God's promises in Scripture, howsoever they are expressed in general terms, are yet for the most part to be understood conditionally, according as men behave themselves, especially when applied to particular persons; see Numb xiv 24. As God did justly reject those Jews who refused to embrace the Gospel notwithstanding the general promises He had made to that people, so neither can particular Christians, nor Churches, lay any claim to God's general promise of preserving His Church, any further than as they adhere to that rule of faith and manners, which He hath prescribed to them in His holy word. W Louth

11 — return ye now every one from his evil way.] See the note on chap xvii 25

14 Will a man leave the snow of Lebanon which cometh from the rock of the field? It is as strange and incredible for men to forsake the true God for idols, as it would be for a thirsty traveller to forego the cold refreshing streams that come in his way. See Prov xxv 25. Lebanon derives its name from the whiteness of the snow which, even in the heat of summer, covers its top. W Louth

By its exceeding height it proves a conservatory for abundance of snow, which thawing in the heat of summer affords supplies of water to the rivers and fountains in the valleys below. Maunderell

It appears also that the snow of mount Lebanon is used in the summer to mix with wine, for the purpose of cooling it, and it may have been employed in the same way in the time of Jeremiah. See note at Prov xxi 13. Harmer

— or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken? The passage may be translated, "Shall the running waters be forsaken for the muddy waters? and so it is parallel to chap ii 13 16. Or, the sense is much the same if translated,

Shall the running waters be forsaken for strange waters, or waters that come from another place? that is, waters conveyed in pipes or conduits. See the margin. W Louth

15 — have caused them to stumble in their ways &c.] The worship of idols hath perverted them from following the old beaten track, plainly set forth in the law of Moses, and in the examples and practice of former ages, see chap vi 16, and hath engaged them in such new and untried ways of worship, as will end in their utter ruin, ver 16. W Louth

17 I will scatter them as with an east wind.] The calamities of war and the like wasting judgments are elsewhere compared to an east wind, which is dry and blasting. See Is xxvii 8, I zek xvii 10, xix 12, Hos xiii 15. W Louth

— I will shew them the back, and not the face.] I will not so much as look upon them in their distress. Sp Hall

Before
CHRIST
about 605
Mal 2 7

18 ¶ Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah, for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

Or
the law

19 Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

Psalm 109
10 Hb pour them
out

21 Therefore I deliver up their children to the famine, and I pour out their blood by the force of the sword, and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows, and let their men be put to death, let their young men be slain by the sword in battle.

22 Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.

Hb
for death

23 Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me, to slay me: forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee, deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAP XIX

Under the type of breaking a potter's vessel is foreshewed the desolation of the Jews for their sins.

18 Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices &c.] The people to whom Jeremiah had delivered his message from God, seem to have been incensed against him on much the same ground as the Jews were in aftertimes against our Saviour and His apostles. They had persuaded themselves that God had intended for them a perpetual establishment, and would accordingly provide them with a constant succession of men in all departments to preserve and maintain the general welfare, namely, priests to direct all matters of law and religion, wise statesmen to manage their civil concerns, and Prophets to make known to them the immediate will of God on all important and extraordinary occasions. Upon this presumption they inferred, that Jeremiah, who foretold the contrary, was a false prophet, and as such they determined to punish him. Dr Blayney — let us smite him with the tongue,] Let us raise slanders and accusation against him. Bp Hall

20 — they have digged a pit for my soul.] To entrap and destroy me. Is men dig pits to ensnare wolves, bears, and other wild beasts. Calnet

21 Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, &c.] Since they are thus incorrigible, I shall not any more intercede for them, but let them be overtaken by those calamities of fire and sword, with which Thou hast threatened them. See chap. xvi 4, and the note on chap. xi 20. W Louth

Chap. XIX. Under the type of breaking a potter's vessel, Jeremiah, in the presence of the elders of the priests and people, foresheweth the ruin and desolation of Judah and Jerusalem for their sins, ver 1—13, and repeateth the like denunciations in the court of the temple, ver 14, 15 for which being beaten and

Before
CHRIST
about 605

THUS saith the LORD, Go and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the priests,

2 And go forth into the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the east gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 And say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.

4 Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents,

5 They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind.

6 Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

7 And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place, and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their carcasses

Chap
31 & 16 2

imprisoned by Pashur, captain of the temple, on his return he pronounceth a terrible sentence against Pashur and his friends, foretelling their being carried away captives with all Judah unto Babylon, where Pashur and all that belonged to him should die in exile, chap. xx 1—6. Jeremiah complaineth of the mockery of his enemies, and their malicious attempts to hurt him. But professeth his trust, that God would still defeat their purposes, and avenge his wrongs, and celebrateth his deliverance with a song of praise, ver 7—13. He bitterly lamenteth his being born to a life of so much sorrow and uneasiness, ver 14 to the end. Dr Blayney

Ver 1 — a potter's earthen bottle.] An earthen pitcher, with a narrow neck, made to drink from. H Louth

— the ancients.] The ancients of the people, the members of the great Sanhedrim compare chap. xxvi 17. Ezek viii 11. The ancients of the priests, the heads of the four and twenty courses. See 1 Chron xxiv 4. W Louth. See the note on chap. xxvi 10.

2 — which is by the entry of the east gate,] To hang together. Hinnom lay south of the temple. In the Hebrew it is first years of the sixth, which some interpret the dung gate, meaning that the potter's field was the potter's field being his own. See 1 Chron xi 19, Matt xxvii 10. W Louth

3 — his ears shall tingle.] A scriptural phrase of common astonishment. See 1 Sam iii 11, 2 Kings xxi 12.

4 — nor the kings of Judah,] The good kings of former times, such as David, Asa, Jehoshaphat, Hezekiah, and Josiah. W Louth

5 — to burn their sons — unto Baal,] See notes at Levit xviii 21, 2 Kings xxiii 10, and on chap. xxxii 35.

Before
CHRIST
about 605

Chap. 18
16 & 50 13

Ev 16
29 18 cut 2 51
Lam 4 10

will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth shall eat all flesh: this city shall be desolate, and an hissing, every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.

9 And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,

11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tophet.

13 And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, shall be defiled as the place of Tophet, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy, and he stood in the court of the LORD's house, and said to all the people,

15 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

C H A P XX

1 Pashur, smiting Jeremiah, with a new name and a fearful doom 7 Jeremiah's complaint of contempt, 10 of wretchedness, 14 and of his birth.

NOW Pashur the son of Immer the priest, who was also chief governor in the house of the LORD, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things.

2 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the LORD.

3 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Pashur, but Magor-missabib.

4 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive into Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.

5 Moreover I will deliver all the strength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah, which I have given into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon.

8. — in hissing.] "Hissing" seems to mean here an inarticulate sound expressing not so much contempt, as astonishment mixed with horror. See chap. xviii 16. Dr. Blayney.

